Brahmins. But I ask whether there is not a difference in the matter of their marriage, inheritance and customs? And have we not enacted legislation recently for Malayala Brahmins alone? So also, I ask the House to bear in mind, that there is a distinct feature about the so-called Tamil Kammalas. I claim to know about the Tamil Kammalas better. It is known to the members of the House that I come from a part of the country where the Tamil Kammalas live in large numbers. I may say that the Tamil Kammalas do not wish them (even) to be called Kammalas. They claim to be called Viswakarma. They do not even hesitate to call themselves Viswakarma Brahmins. Recently in an order of the Madras Government it is stated and accepted that there is difference between the Andra Kammalas and the Tamil Kammalas in British India and these are also distinguished from Malayala Kammalas of Malabar. The Census Reports also say that there are Malayala and Tamil Kammalas. So the distinction has been recognised not only in Travancore but also by the Madras Government. What I wish to emphasise in this connection is, that if this Tamil community wishes to claim to be called Viswakarmas as a distinct community there is ample justification for it. My friend Mr. G. Nilakantan referred to the fact that there is no proper valid marriage for Malayalam speaking Kammalas, that a Malayalam speaking Kammala woman can have more than one husband and that they can dissolve their marriages at will. In other words polygamy and polyandry are quite common. But as a matter of fact ordinarily among the Tamil Kammalas, who are called Viswakarmas in South Travancore, there is not even widow remarriage. They are governed by Hindu Law. Their manners and customs are entirely different from the Malayala Kammala so much so that there is no wonder that they want to be distinctly differentiated from the Malayalam speaking Kammalas.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the member's view that the manners and customs of the Malayalam speaking Kammalas are the same throughout the country?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): I think so.

This Bill, as the mover intends it to be, should be restricted in its application only to Malayalam speaking Kammalas and not to the so-called Tamil speaking Kammalas or as we call them, Viswakarmas.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): Are there Malayalam speaking Kammalas in South Travancore?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): Oh yes, who have migrated from North Travancore and Malabar.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Do they speak Tamil?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): They can speak broken Tamil as they do not want to speak in Malayalam among Tamilians.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether there is intermarriage in South Travancore between the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and the Tamil speaking Kammalas?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): There is absolutely no marriage between the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and the so-called Tamil speaking Kammalas.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Velu Achari wants to put a question.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ഇന്നലെ നടന്ന ലാ മെമ്പറുടെ പ്രസംഗത്തിൽ നന്നം എന്നീക്കുമ്പില സംശയങ്ങൾ ഉണ്ടായിട്ടുണ്ട്. ആ സംശയം തീർക്കേണ്ടിയിരിക്കുന്നു.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: മെമ്പർക്ക് എന്തെങ്കിലും ചോദിക്കാനുണ്ടെങ്കിൽ അതു ചോദ്യരൂപത്തിൽ മാത്രമെ പാടുള്ളൂ.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ക്ഷേത്രങ്ങളും വിഗ്രഹങ്ങളും പണി ചെയ്തവരാണ് മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്ന ആശാരിമാരോ അതല്ല തമിഴ് സ സാരിക്കുന്ന ആശാരിമാരോ എന്നറിഞ്ഞാൽ കൊള്ളാം.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): As a matter of fact I do recognise the force of the question. The Viswakarmas have built temples. I can easily discover in such places where temples have a different fashion that it might have been built by the Malayalam speaking Kammalas. And this is also a strong point to support my position. Among these two communities even the taste and architecture also differ.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): എന്റെ ചോദ്യത്തിന് മലയാളത്തിൽ ഉത്തരം പറഞ്ഞാൽ കൊള്ളാം.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): What I wish to emphasise is that they could be distinguished even by their professional attainments. In my place Nadars belonging to Hindu and Nair sections, have also taken to all the professional work as are followed by these Kammalas namely carpentry, smithery, goldsmith etc. By virtue of this fact could they be called Kammalas? Profession in life may be the same but they are different communities.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): എന്റെ ചോദ്യത്തിന് മലയാളത്തിൽ ഉത്തരം പറഞ്ഞാൽ മനസ്സിൽ അപേക്ഷിക്കുന്നു.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: മറ്റു മെമ്പർമാർ ആവശ്യപ്പെടുന്നതുപോലെയാകട്ടെ ഭാഷയിൽ ഇവിടെ സംസാരിക്കണമെന്നറിയാമല്ലോ.

The honourable member seems to be under a misapprehension. Here nobody can speak on the suggestion of another member. Mr. Sivatanu Pillai may continue.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): If my friend wants an answer I shall give it in the vernacular I am familiar with.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Questions may be answered in Malayalam.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): Let me make an attempt Sir, to speak in Malayalam.

× [Mr. M. Sivatanu Pillai].

ദ്രാവിഡക്ഷേത്രങ്ങൾ പണി ചെയ്യുന്നത് വിശ്വകർമ്മ ബ്രാഹ്മണസമുദായം എന്നു പറയുന്ന സമുദായക്കാരാണ്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : അവർ മലയാളം തമിഴും സംസാരിക്കുന്നവർ ഇല്ലേ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : അവർ മലയാളം അറിഞ്ഞുകൂട, പക്ഷെ ചിലർ സംസാരിക്കും.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : ക്ഷേത്രങ്ങളിലുള്ള വിഗ്രഹങ്ങൾ പണി ചെയ്യുന്നത് ആരാണ്?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : അതും വിശ്വകർമ്മസമുദായത്തിൽപ്പെട്ട ആശാരിമാരാണ്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : അവർ സംസാരിക്കുന്നത് മലയാളമോ തമിഴോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : അവർ മലയാളം അറിഞ്ഞുകൂട, തമിഴാണ് സംസാരിക്കുന്നത്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : വിഗ്രഹങ്ങളും ക്ഷേത്രങ്ങളും പണി ചെയ്യുന്ന എന്ന മെയർ പറയുന്ന ആശാരിമാർ വിഗ്രഹം പണി ചെയ്യുമ്പോൾ ബ്രഹ്മസംഗമിക്കുന്ന പരിവേഷമോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : വിഗ്രഹം പണി ചെയ്യുമ്പോഴുണ്ടാകുന്ന മറ്റു ചില കാര്യങ്ങൾ അവർ ബ്രഹ്മസംഗമിക്കുന്നുണ്ട്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : തിരുവിതാംകൂറിലുള്ള ഭൂമിപക്ഷം ആശാരിമാരും ഈ തരത്തിലുള്ളവരെന്നറിയാമോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : അല്ലെന്നാണ് എന്റെ വിശ്വാസം. വിശ്വകർമ്മബ്രാഹ്മണസമുദായം മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നില്ല.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : ക്ഷേത്രങ്ങളിലുള്ള വിഗ്രഹങ്ങൾ കൈകളും മറ്റുമായവ തിരുമനസ്സുകൊണ്ട് കൊടുക്കുന്ന നീട്ടുകൊണ്ടും വിഗ്രഹങ്ങളും ക്ഷേത്രങ്ങളും പണി ചെയ്യുന്നത് ഈ നാട്ടിലെ കർമ്മക്കാരാണ് എന്നു സ്ഥിതിക്ക് അതിനെ മെയർ സമ്മതിക്കുമോ?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : That question is out of order.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : May I know what conception is followed by these Kammas in constructing temples?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara) : They follow Dravidian architecture. Even now Dravidian temples are constructed by these Viswakarma Brahmins.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : May I know.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I hear some voice but I am unable to distinguish the words.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know which temple is constructed by these Viswakarma Brahmins?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): If my honourable friend will take a trip to South Travancore he will be able to find the difference between the architecture of the temples in North Travancore and in South Travancore.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ഞാൻ വിശ്വകർമ്മബ്രാഹ്മണത്തിന്റെ അഭിവൃദ്ധിക്കുവേണ്ടി പലവിധത്താലുള്ള പ്രചരണവേലകളും നടത്തിവരുന്നു എന്നു മുമ്പാകെറിയാമോ?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question is irrelevant.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): Sir, I am second to none to contribute my humble tribute to the honourable co-opted member for his public work.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I wish the honourable member will bear in mind that I have not allowed the question. You can proceed with your arguments.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ഇവിടെ പല ഭാഗങ്ങളിലുംപോയി വേണ്ട വിവരങ്ങൾ ഗ്രഹിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ട് എന്നു പറയുന്നു. എന്നാൽ ഞാൻ നമുക്കായതിന്റെ അഭിവൃദ്ധിക്കുവേണ്ടി വേല ചെയ്യുന്ന ആളാണെന്നറിയാമോ?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Order. Order. There must be a limit to the considerations which a Chair may show even to a new member. I thought at first, that Mr. Velu Achari was giving a personal explanation and he had the right to do so. Now, I find that he transgresses those limits. If Mr. Achari wants to say anything it may be done in the proper manner. If Mr. Achari wants to put a question he may do so. Mr. Sivatanu Pillai, please continue.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): Sir, I was referring to the simple aspect of the question which the House would consider. From the similarity of profession which is followed by the two sections of the community it should not be presumed that in all other things they are alike. There may be "Acharies," "Thattans," "Kollans" etc., (in more than one community.) The mover of the Bill himself has referred to the fact that there is the presence of this (Tamil) section of the community. In South Travancore, "Acharies" "Thattans" and "Kollans" are to be found even among the Nadars. So does it necessarily follow that because the Tamil speaking Kammalas and the Malayalam speaking Kammalas follow one and the same profession they must be treated as one community for the purpose of this Bill?

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): മതക്കുലം നിയമാണോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): അതെ.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ആ നിമമം അനുസരിച്ചു എത്ര ജാതിക്കാർ അതിൽ ഉൾപ്പെടുന്നുണ്ട്?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): ധാരാളംപേർ ഉൾപ്പെടുന്നുണ്ട്. അതിൽ മക്കവഴി വെള്ളാളർ, വിശ്വകർമ്മാജ്ഞാപരമൺ എന്നിങ്ങനെ ധാരാളം സ്വഭാവങ്ങളും ഉണ്ട്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): വെള്ളാള ബിൽ ഒരു നിമമം ഒന്നാ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): എന്നാണ് ഞാൻ വിചാരിക്കുന്നത്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): അതിൽ പല വർഗ്ഗക്കാരുമാണ് ഉൾപ്പെട്ടിരിക്കുന്നത്?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): വർഗ്ഗം ഒന്നേയുള്ളൂ, ആളുകൾ ധാരാളം ഉണ്ട്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): മിത്രങ്ങൾ പ്രകാരം എങ്ങനെ ധാരാളം ജാതിക്കാർ ഉൾപ്പെട്ടിരിക്കുന്നുവോ അതുപോലെ ഈ കമ്മ്യൂണിറ്റി അനുസരിച്ചും പലർക്കും ഉൾപ്പെട്ടിരിക്കാൻ പാടില്ലേ?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The member cannot make a speech. I have been giving a very great latitude to the member. But the member cannot make a speech now. I have warned the member several times. If there is any relevant question to be asked the member can very well ask it. But the law must be obeyed.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tricandrum-Itural): Sir, to make the member understand, the ruling may be given in Malayalam.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The advice is very generous but the Chair does not propose to do that now, especially because the member is understood to know English though he does not talk English.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovuala): Sir, a confusion of issues has arisen in the course of the debate with reference to the difference between the Tamil Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas. If I remember aright, in the course of the speech of Mr. Velu Achari a question was put to him asking whether he would be satisfied if it includes the Tamil speaking Kammalas also in the scope of the Bill and he answered that he would then have no objection to the Bill. Naturally the debate continued on the assumption that the difference between the Tamil speaking and the Malayalam speaking Kammalas is not fundamental. But the fact is otherwise. Assuming that there is practically no difference between them even then the mover does not want the Tamil speaking Kammalas to be brought within the scope of the Bill. In the face of this unmistakable object of the mover, to include the Tamil Kammalas now is not warrented in law or procedure.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : വെള്ളാളബില്ലിനെപ്പറ്റി അറിയാമോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala) : അറിയാം, എന്നാൽ അതു നാബിനാട്ട് വെള്ളാളർ മാത്രമാണ്. മറ്റു വെള്ളാളർ പ്രത്യേക ബില്ലു് ഇല്ല. അവരുടെ ആചാരം, ഭായക്രമം, വിവാഹം എന്നിതുകൾക്കു യാതൊരു വ്യത്യാസവുമില്ലാതെ മിക്കവാറും ബാധിക്കുന്നതാണ്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : അവരുടെ സ്ത്രീകൾ നായർ സ്ത്രീകൾക്കു ധരിക്കുന്നതുപോലുള്ള ഉടുപ്പുകളാണ് ധരിക്കുന്നതെന്നറിയാമോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala) : സ്ത്രീകൾ സംധാരണമായി ഉടുപ്പുകൾ ധരിക്കുന്ന പതിവില്ല.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : ഉത്തരീയവിതാംകൂറിലുള്ള നായർ സ്ത്രീകളുടെ വസ്ത്രധാരണരീതിയിലല്ലേ ഇവരും വസ്ത്രധാരണം ചെയ്യുന്നത്?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala) : തമിഴ്നാട് മലയാളത്തിനും തമിഴ്നാട് എല്ലാത്തിനും വ്യത്യാസമില്ലെന്നതുപോലെ തമിഴ്നാട് സംസാരിക്കുന്നവർ നിറമുള്ള ചേല ഉടുത്തുവരുന്നു. മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നവർ വെളുത്തവസ്ത്രം ധരിക്കുന്നു.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : തമിഴ്നാട്ടിനു അടുത്തു താമസിക്കുന്ന ആളുകൾ നിറമുള്ള വസ്ത്രങ്ങളും ഉത്തരീയവിതാംകൂറിൽ താമസിക്കുന്നവർ വെളുത്ത വസ്ത്രങ്ങളും ധരിക്കുന്നു എന്നുള്ളതുകൊണ്ട് രണ്ടുപേരും ഒരു ബില്ലിന്റെ പരിധിയിൽ ഉൾപ്പെട്ട കൂടാ എന്നുണ്ടോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala) : ഉൾപ്പെട്ടുകൂടാ എന്നില്ല. എന്നാൽ ഭായക്രമത്തിലും വിവാഹരീതിയിലും മറ്റും പല വ്യത്യാസങ്ങളും ഉണ്ടെന്നു ഞാൻ പറയുന്നുള്ളു. അതുകൊണ്ട് പ്രത്യേകം വസ്തുതകൾക്കു തെളിയുന്നുണ്ട്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : ഈ ബിൽ അവതരകൻതന്നെ അദ്ദേഹത്തിന്റെ മകളെതമിഴ് സംസാരിക്കുന്ന ഒരു ആശാരിക്ക് കല്യാണം കഴിച്ചു കൊടുത്തതായി അറിയാമോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torala) : അതിന്റെ ഫലം എന്റെ വാദമുഖത്തെ ബലപ്പെടുത്തുന്നു. ആകാശം അടിസ്ഥാനപ്പെടുത്തിയാണ് അങ്ങനെ പാടില്ല എന്നു ഞാൻ പറയുന്നത്. അങ്ങനെ ഒരു കല്യാണം കഴിഞ്ഞു എന്നല്ലാതെ അതു ശരിയാകാത്തതു തമ്മിൽ വളരെ വ്യത്യാസമുള്ള മലയാളത്തിനേയും തമിഴിനേയും ചേർപ്പിക്കാൻ യത്നിച്ചുകൊണ്ടാണ്.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I suppose that you have done with your speech.

MR. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted) : മിതാക്ഷര അതിൽ അറബിനെക്കുറിച്ചു ചോദ്യം ഉണ്ടോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : ധാരാളം ഉണ്ട്.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I now say that Mr. Sivatanu Pillai may continue his speech. No more questions can be allowed.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : Sir, apart from the fact that these two sections with difference in language, which I concede do form part of Kammalas, I do maintain that there are distinguishing features and difference between the Tamil speaking and Malayalam speaking Kammalas in respect of marriage, law of inheritance, manners and customs. So, what I say is that a separate Bill has to be provided for the Malayalam speaking Kammalas who do require legislation in these matters, as there is no settled law or custom having the force of law.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Is there any intermarriage among the Tamil speaking and the Malayalam speaking Kammalas?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : So far as I know, there is no such intermarriage at all.

Certain intermarriages might take place. But there is the difference in custom, manners and system of law followed by the husband and wife. That is why immediately the marriage is over they get themselves disgusted with each other and separation is effected. That is as a result of the conflict of custom, culture and law.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Is the honourable member in support of the Bill as it stands?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : I am in support of the Bill .....

MR. A. ACHYUTHAN (Kartikapalli I) : Is there any intermingling between the Viswakarma Brahmins and the Malayala Kammalas?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : The Viswakarma Kammalas do not even dine with the Vellalas. They consider themselves higher than the Vellalas and they think that they almost approach the Brahmin community.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II) : May I know whether intermarriages and intermingling are necessary between two sections of the community so that the law may be applied to both the classes?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala) : My friend misunderstands things. What I was stating is that there are certain provisions in the Bill which contemplate peculiar and loose practice followed among Malayala Kammalas which is not at all found in the particular section of the Tamil community following strict Hindu law. For example, in the Bill here it is provided that a widow can be remarried and divorce should be freely allowed. In the case of Tamil Kammalas they resent widow remarriage as they are followers of Hindu law, and they will not countenance free divorce. These things are to be attained by social reform. In short, there is settled law for Tamil Kammalas, namely Hindu Mithakshara Law, whereas the Malayala Kammalas, have no law and hence they do want legislation.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli I): May I know from the member whether there is a Brahmin Law which applies to Nambootiris, Moothathus and Elayathus alike?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): There is difference between the Malayala Brahmins and the Tamil Brahmins. They have got separate systems of inheritance and separate laws governing them.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I think Mr. Sivatanu Pillai has expressed himself in favour of the Bill. The member has expressed himself in favour of the principles of the Bill. Let us proceed.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Does the member conceive that of the two classes one is a Kammala and the other is not a Kammala?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Two years before, they were both known as Kammalas.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): I do not know how they were known. I have travelled all over British India and so far as I know, they go under the name of the Viswakarma community. Now they have gone a step further and call themselves the Viswakarma Brahmins. Why should we pull them down now so that they may be also brought along with the Malayalam speaking Kammalas?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether it is their desire that they should also be included in this Bill?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): They will never certainly be a party to be included.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): I have referred at the outset to the order of the Madras Government that these people are classified under separate communities.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): മലയാളവും തമിഴും സംസാരിക്കുന്നവർക്കു തമ്മിൽ വല്ല വ്യത്യാസവുമുണ്ടോ എന്ന് മദ്രാസ് കൗൺസിൽ ചോദ്യം പോലിച്ചതിൽ ഇല്ലെന്നു മറുപടി പറഞ്ഞതായി അറിയാമോ?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): രണ്ടു കൂട്ടരെയും ഒരുമിച്ചു ചേർത്തുകൂടാ എന്നു ഞാൻ പറയുന്നില്ല. എന്നാൽ അവരുടെ അഭിപ്രായം കൂടി അറിഞ്ഞതിനുശേഷം വേണം അങ്ങനെ ചെയ്യേണ്ടത്.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): രണ്ടു കൂട്ടരെയും ഒരു ബില്ലിന്റെ പരിധിയിൽ ഉൾപ്പെടുത്തി ഇൻറർ മാർയ്ക്കിംഗ് ഇൻറർ റെഡിനിംഗ് നടത്തണമെന്നാണോ മെമ്പർ അഭിപ്രായപ്പെടുന്നത്?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Now we must come to the close of this.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola) : I may say that I am one of those who desire that all communities should come together under one section, under one system of life. I will be the last person to put in a wedge between the so-called two communities. The Tamil speaking Kammalas are a distinct entity. The House may not consider the question of enacting legislation as applying to both the communities. That is all my point.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : I oppose the principle of this Bill. Sir, the Kammala community consists mainly of two classes, namely, the Pandi Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas. Though the Pandi Kammalas own Brahminical Gothas, and resemble the Brahmins in their marriage rites, as far as my information goes, they interline and inter-marry with the Malayala Kammala. Sir, there is remarkable similarity in the social features of these classes; they are one and the same community. Looking at the Preamble of the Bill, and the definition of the term Kammala, you may find that the Pandi Kammalas are excluded from the operation of this Bill. Sir, in that respect, the Bill is narrow in its scope and goes against the present tendency of human society. Sir, the Bill instead of trying to weld together the two sections of the community, tends to make a cleavage. This is the mischievous aspect of the Bill and it is calculated to perpetuate dismemberment of the community.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The members voice is not sufficiently audible. Please make it a little more louder.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : Sir, the Bill seeks to effect a cleavage in the community and thereby tries to perpetuate dismemberment of the community.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : Is it possible to bring the two sections under the Bill?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : It is possible and that is my point. Some of my friends who spoke yesterday supported the principle of this Bill on the condition that Pandi Kammalas should also be brought under the Bill. The speech of the learned Law Member has caused an apprehension in the minds of those who want to include the Pandi Kammalas also in this Bill. I think that it is quite impossible to include them at the Select Committee stage. There may be technical difficulty. I also think that neither the Select Committee nor this House has power to change the Preamble of the Bill and to include the Pandi Kammalas also. If the Bill is sent to the Select Committee there is every possibility of the committee proceeding with the Bill as it stands now. If so happens, we will be doing a disservice to the community. We should not undertake legislation for the purpose of disuniting various sections of a community. If at all the State and this House undertake such legislation, that should be with the motive of bringing together the various sections and should not be for the purpose of widening the gulf of difference, if any, that exists between the two sections.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tosale): Is there not a system of law governing the Pandi Kammalas?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Yes, there is a system of law governing the Pandi Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas i. e. Mithakshara Law modified by custom and usage.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Whether the same system of law is applied both to the Pandi and Tamil Kammalas?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): The same system of law is applied to the Pandi and the Malayala Kammalas at present. So my submission is that if legislation is under taken, it should apply to both the sections. There is absolutely no justification for this Bill. That is my point. So, my request is that Government and this House should not undertake legislation of this kind and my request to the mover is that he must withdraw the Bill and introduce a Bill concerning the whole community.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Does the member agree to the Bill being made optional even to the Malayalam speaking Kammalas?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): This is a matter which requires serious consideration. If it is made optional even to the Malayalam speaking Kammalas, why should they want the Bill at all?

With regard to succession, naturally every father will treat his sons and daughters alike. But the mover of this Bill.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: After saying that the Bill should be withdrawn are your observations relevant?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): My first position that the Bill should be thrown out.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: So, your present observation is without prejudice to that idea. Then alright.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): The mover of the Bill wants to exclude the daughter and perhaps he thinks that an affectionate father can give his daughter something by way of a will or gift, provided she remains obedient to him. That is wisely calculated step and the mover must be congratulated.

With regard to divorce I think, the provision in this Bill is very lenient. My submission is that the provisions regarding divorce should be made more stringent. According to the present provision it is very easy to get a divorce and it is very cheap also. In the matter of fixing the amount of compensation the grounds alleged for divorce must be taken into consideration along with the position and status of the parties.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): I support the principle of this Bill. I want to make some observations with regard to the applicability of the Bill. I may at once say, that the Bill may be made more comprehensive and applicable to all classes of Kammalas in this State. The mover of the Bill makes it applicable to the Malayalam speaking Kammalas alone. I beg to say that the mother-tongue of a people or the language of a people is not a very sure test in ascertaining to which community those people belong. The makkathayes Vellalas living in Central and North Travancore do speak Malayalam, whereas their brethren living in South Travancore speak Tamil and yet there is no distinction made in their laws relating to matrimony and inheritance.

MR. E. K. KUNJURAMAN (Nominated): മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നവരും തമിഴ് സംസാരിക്കുന്നവരുമായ കുമാളർക്കു തമ്മിൽ പല ആചാരവ്യത്യാസങ്ങളും ഉണ്ടെന്നറിയാമോ?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): അതിനെ അടിസ്ഥാനമാക്കിയല്ല നിയമം ഉണ്ടാക്കേണ്ടത്. അവരെ ഒരിക്കലും നിശ്ചയവും ഭാവുക്യവുമ്പോൾ പോലെയാക്കിത്തന്നാൽ നിയമം ഒന്നാകുന്നത് കൊണ്ടു തരക്കേടില്ല.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovale): May I know whether the member is aware that the system of law relating to marriage and inheritance of the Malayalam speaking Kammalas is entirely different from the system obtaining among the Tamil Kammalas?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): I think it is the same.

MR. M. MAHOMED HANEEF (Nominated): Are there not two forms of marriage prevalent among the Kammalas, one by presentation of cloth and the other by thalikkettu?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): I think it is one and the same. My position is that the Bill should be made applicable to all classes of Kammalas. Whether Malayalam speaking or Tamil speaking or speaking any other language, they must all be governed by one and the same law.

Of course, there are two or three sections among the Kammalas of the State each claiming superiority over the other in point of caste. But that is no ground for treating them differently in a legislation of this kind. If they are all governed by the same dayakramam, then the law that is to apply to all of them must also be one and the same. For instance, we have the recent Malayala Brahmin Regulation. We all know, Sir, that the Malayala Brahmin community consists of different sections like the Namboothiris, the Pottis, the Nambadiris, the *Elayathoo*s and the *Moothathoo*s. In fact, there is no intermarriage or intermingling between them. Still there is only one Regulation applying to all of them.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Are the Tamil Brahmins included in that Regulation referred to by the honourable member?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): No.

Therefore, Sir, it would be desirable if we have one law applying to all the sections of the Kammala community also.

The Law Member has pointed out some technical objection in applying this Bill to all the sections of the Kammala community.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : That point has already been adverted to by another member.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II) : The mover of the Bill says that the Bill applies only to Malayalam-speaking Kammalas. It has been stated that the technical objection raised by the Law Member might be removed if the Chair would permit. If it is the intention of the mover that the Bill should be made to apply to all classes of Kammalas and if that is the sense of the House also, I hope the Chair would be generous enough to give the necessary permission.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kallu'an I) : Is the member in favour of enacting a measure exclusively for Malayala Kammalas?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II) : My position is that the Bill should be made applicable to all classes of the Kammala community.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Have you finished?

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II) : I submit there is no time-limit.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : No, and I shall be the last person to curtail your freedom ; but I see that several members are anxious to speak on this Bill.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II) : Sir, in the light of my suggestion that the Bill should extend to all sections of the community, the definition of the term 'Kammala' has also to be changed. A simple definition to the effect "Kammala shall include all people known and recognised as such," may be quite sufficient.

With regard to marriage, the Bill provides that the marriage of minors will be valid only if they take place with the consent of the legal guardians of the minors. At the same time there is another provision which says that, on attaining majority, it is open to the minors to revoke the marital alliance. These provisions are inconsistent. Further, the married couple may beget children during their minority. To allow divorce at the sweet will and pleasure of one of the parties to the marriage under the above circumstance may lead to disastrous consequences. The provision is therefore objectionable.

The mover of the Bill observed that there is the practice in the community of one and the same woman having more husbands than one at the same time. That practice, if it exists, has to be put an end to.

Then a word about divorce. Some sections of the community are averse to the very idea of divorce. But there may be extreme cases in which, in the interests of all parties concerned, divorce may be necessary. Therefore, I would suggest to the community to take advantage of this opportunity which has presented itself to them and to provide for divorce with suitable restrictions.

[Mr. V. Ramakrishna Panickar.]

In regard to the provision relating to inheritance, there seems to be a misapprehension that the Kammalas are governed by the Mitakshara law of inheritance. I do not think they are governed entirely by that law. There are customs having the force of law which govern their inheritance.

The mover of the Bill referred to the kudinaippu ceremony and said that unless that ceremony is gone through, the wife would not acquire any right in her husband's family and would continue to have her rights in her mother's family. No doubt there is that custom in the community, although it is gradually dying away. The Bill may therefore disregard that practice. But some people might have acquired vested rights on account of that practice. It may therefore be necessary to have a saving clause to protect such vested rights.

With these words, I support the principle of the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Considering the prolonged discussion we have had, and also the fact that the number of honourable members who opposed the Bill was very few, I should think that I should call upon the Law Member to speak, unless there is some special, important point of view which has not yet been raised and which may well be placed before the House.

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): In the first place I want to place before the House the attitude of the Kammalas of my taluk towards this Bill. A few months back there was a conference of Kammalas which they called Viswakarmajars' Conference. I had the privilege of addressing the conference. I may inform the House that throughout the proceedings of the conference, beyond even the shadow of doubt, there was a strong feeling on the part of the community that this Bill was likely to bring about a cleavage between the two sections of the community. It is the desire of the community to weld together not only the Tamil and the Malayalam speaking sections of it but also every other section which may come under the comprehensive classification known as Viswakarmajars, such as Tamil speaking goldsmiths, blacksmiths, kallasaries and others.

RAO SAHIB MANA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is there any real difference between Tamil speaking Kammalas and Malayalam-speaking Kammalas, irrespective of the question of their mother tongues?

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): Sir, my own view is that the members of the community are really very ambitious when they want the various sections of it to be welded into one. As suggested by my friend Mr. Paramesvara Aiyar, the language that is spoken is not really the important point of difference between the various sections of the community. As has been pointed out by some of the previous speakers, even among the Malayala Kammalas some speak Tamil. That depends on their environments. So far as I know, there is marked difference between the cultures, between the manners and customs, and between the traditions of the Tamil Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas. In my taluk, the Tamil Kammalas do not intermarry, or intermingle in social functions, with the Malayala Kammalas.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): രണ്ടുകൂട്ടരും തമ്മിൽ യോജിക്കുന്നില്ല എന്തപറയുന്നു. എന്നാൽ അവർ ശങ്ങളിൽ വിവാഹം നടത്തുന്നുണ്ട് എന്നറിയാമോ?

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): ഇതല്ലെന്നാണു എന്റെ അറിവ്. There may be exceptions in this community also as there are among other communities.

Coming to the provisions of the Bill, there are serious defects in some of the provisions, for example, in the provision relating to the right of the widow on her former husband's estate.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is the member referring to the Kammla Bill which is now before the House or to the Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill which was before the House yesterday?

MR. N. K. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara I): I am sorry I committed a mistake.

Sir, as Mr. Thann Pillai pointed out, there is no justice or fairness in excluding the daughter from inheritance. That is really a serious defect; and I hope it will be rectified by the Select Committee.

I hope the Bill will receive the support of the House.

The House rose for lunch at 1 P. M. and reassembled at 2 P. M. with the Deputy President in the Chair.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, a good deal of confusion has arisen in the investigation as to who will all come under the designation 'Malayalam speaking Kammalas'. Whatever may be the exactness of the wording used in the Bill, I think that everyone of us who is acquainted with the country will realise that there are two distinct sets of people, one following the Tamil ways and the other following more the Malayalam ways and a distinction is maintained as between them. This is recognised by everyone. Considerable criticism has been levelled against the Bill because the mover has not included a particular section of people within the scope of the Bill.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): അഷ്ടാവൃത്യം സമുണ്ടായിരുന്നാലും കമ്മാളർ ഒരു സമുദായമായിട്ടാണു പറയപ്പെടുന്നത് എന്ന് മെമ്പർമാർ റിയാമോ?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): They are known as two distinct entities. I do not accept the premises contained in the question of my friend Mr. Velu Achari. He says that they are known as one. I do not admit that. They are known, recognised and admitted as two distinct sets of people.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There are many more things as language,

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Question I): Yes, language is a minor distinction according to me. This Bill became necessary, because, among one set of people who follow Mitakshara law greatly modified by local custom, great divergence and much confusion exist with regard to marriage, dissolution and intestate succession. It has been pointed out that they are following the Mitakshara law. The common adherence to the Mitakshara system has been trotted out as a great argument to show that these two distinct entities are welded together as one community and the mover of the Bill has been ascribed with a motive to drive a wedge into the community to divide it. There are so many people who say that they are following the Mitakshara system of law. There are Kuravas and Pulayas to whom the Mitakshara law is applicable, of course, modified by custom. It has been conceded that all sections of Kammalas, whether they be Tamil speaking or Malayalam speaking, follow the principles of Mitakshara law but as modified by local custom. The local custom has influenced sections of people living in different parts to act according to the customs followed by the other communities amongst whom these people happen to live so much, that their adherence to Mitakshara law is only nominal and many of the customs are entirely antagonistic to the principles of Mitakshara law. Therefore the Malayala Kammalas living and following these customs in the Malayalam speaking areas have nothing in common with these Kammalas following Tamil custom. They deviated from the Mitakshara law farther and farther in a much greater degree than the Kammalas who lived amongst communities strictly following the Mitakshara system of law. Therefore whatever may have been the origin of the Kammalas, whoever might have been their common parent or whichever might have been the common stock from which they descended it cannot but be accepted, that owing to the passage of time, they have become two distinct sections of the community on account of the different customs and manners that they follow. That there are two distinct sets of people cannot be denied. I could have understood the complaint if any section of people has been included without their consent and brought in for the application of a new system of law.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): മലയാളം സംസാരിച്ചു വരുന്ന കമ്മാളർ തമിഴ് ആവാമെന്നും സ്വീകരിക്കുകയും, മിക്കവാറും മലയാളം സംസാരിച്ചു വരുന്ന കമ്മാളർ തമിഴ് ആവാമെന്നും ചിലർക്കുണ്ടാകുന്ന മെമ്പർഷിപ്പിനുമായി?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Question I): All these questions have been answered more than once and I shall not allow myself to be diverted from the course of my argument and drawn into irrelevance. I am not making a distinction on the basis of language merely which has created a good deal of confusion. The distinction is made on the basis of solidified customs. I pointed out the attendant circumstances which should not be forgotten and which have brought into existence this distinction. The mover of the Bill has pointed out in the statement made when introducing the Bill that a vast majority of the Kammalas are the Malayala Kammalas following Malayalam customs. They form the vast bulk of the community. They number about a lakh and ninety thousand. Only about fifteen thousand or so belong to the so-called Tamil speaking Kammalas. He has with very great respect for the sentiments of the people who follow the Tamil customs, excluded them from the purview of the Bill. Such exclusion cannot be attributed to a desire to dissect the community into two. On the other hand it must be taken to be an expression of respect for the sentiment of those people. As a matter of fact, knowing as we do, the people who follow the Tamil customs more, among these artisan classes called Kammalas, it will be considered a great violation of their existing customs and usages prevalent among them to make this Bill, applicable to them. There will be real difficulty for those people to adopt the provisions of this Bill, though the mover might say that he has no objection to include them also within the scope of the Bill. Then the question will arise whether the provisions of this Bill may not have to be changed fundamentally. Then again the argument will come in that no provision against the principles of the Mitakshara law should be introduced. Then the House and the Committee will have to come to a decision on that. That will mean the majority of Kammalas having very little to do with Mitakshara law will have to accept a law on the basis of Mitakshara principles. That will mean the minority forcing its will on the majority. If that is not acceded to then the Bill will have to go. Then there will be more confusion. The opposition made out that they are against the Bill, because it excludes the Tamils. That is the thin end of the wedge. Once you include them then the cry will be raised that the principles of the law followed by a particular section are violated. Really this is only an indirect attempt to torpedo the Bill. The question that the House has to address itself is whether the vast majority of the Kammalas who follow a particular custom and who are distinct from those who follow to a greater degree the Tamil customs and the Mithakshara system of inheritance, should be separated? Should these people, the Malayala Kammalas, get a definite system of law which may be applicable to them. So far as people who follow more the Malayala customs, i.e. the Malayala Kammalas, it will be seen that this Bill will not be considered as an outrageous innovation in their customs and usages. On the other hand the Bill will be considered as very revolutionary by the Tamil Kammalas or those who follow more the customs of the Mitakshara system of law, because, they live among communities who follow that law. It may be asked why should there not be, though there is no intermarriage and interdining, a common law for these two sets of people? I ask in return why should there be a common law for these two sets of people. I ask again if so why should there not be a common law for the Tamil Brahmins and the Nambootiri Brahmins. Both are following the Mitakshara system of law. Both occupy the same position in the same order. The parallel is exact so far as the Tamil speaking and Malayalam speaking Kammalas are concerned. The parallel is exactly applicable with all force in this instance as well. Yet nobody has contended and none of these communities contended that for the sake of solidarity all the Brahmins must be grouped together under one and the same law. Why is it? Because they were sensible enough to realise the existing differences in custom. They were culturally different and it was not practicable to weld them together. So far as I am concerned, I am against the inclusion of the Tamil Kammalas, in the scope of this Bill since it will lead to interminable difficulties and endless confusion. According to me this plan is merely an attempt to torpedo this Bill and it ought to be resisted. If they say that there is absolutely no difference between the Tamil and Malayalam speaking Kammalas then why not they come in as Malayalam speaking Kammalas, because, the definition of Malayala Kammalas is so elastic enough to bring them also within the Bill.

MR. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നവരുടെ കൂട്ടത്തിൽ തമിഴ് സംസാരിക്കുന്നവർ വന്നുചേർന്നാൽ അവരുടെ ഭാഷയൽ വ്യത്യസ്തം വരുമെന്നു മെമ്പറിന് അറിയാമോ?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I am not concerned with that and my argument is not based on the distinction of language. I refuse for the third time to be drawn into that confusion which my friend has created.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : ഇപ്പോൾ പോയിട്ടു മോട്ടോർക്കുള്ള ഉത്തരം പലതവണ പല പ്രകാരത്തിൽ പറഞ്ഞു കഴിഞ്ഞു. അതിനാൽ ഇനിയും അതിലേക്കുതന്നെ പറയണമെന്നു മെമ്പർ ഇഷ്ടപ്പെടുന്നില്ല. ഈ അഭിപ്രായം ശരിയാണെന്നു എനിക്കും തോന്നുന്നു.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Therefore, there is no attempt to divide the community. It merely recognises the existing distinctions. It will be good in the interests of everybody concerned if this Bill is restricted to the Malayala Kammalas, who will be recognised as a distinct entity by everyone who has any experience of this country.

My friend Mr. Thanu Pillai pointed out certain defects with regard to the provision for inheritance. They are real defects and I think they must be considered only as omissions which could be rectified. They are such obvious errors which the mover of the Bill cannot be expected to make intentionally. Such obvious errors can easily be rectified in the course of the deliberations of the Select Committee. Therefore I think, Sir, the House should not allow things to be complicated by enhancing the scope of the Bill and inviting further confusion and difficulties. The Bill must restrict itself to the Malayala Kammalas, whatever be the wording, to facilitate clearness and to denote the clear distinction between sections of people whose difference is based not merely on language but more substantially on the customs which they follow. With these words I have very great pleasure in supporting the principle of the Bill.

Mr. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Sir, I take a different view of this Bill and wish to make a few observations on the Bill from my point of view. To me it appears that this Bill suffers from a fundamental defect which should induce us to throw it out without proceeding to consider the merits of it. I shall explain my point of view.

It is essential that every piece of legislation should define exactly its scope and the extent of its application. I am of opinion that this Bill does not define the scope and extent of its application. For this reason the Bill does not deserve to be considered at all. I shall elucidate my position. The Bill is intended to apply to Malayalam speaking Kammalas. The expression 'Malayalam speaking Kammalas' does not connote a definite idea, and is a loose expression. There is no community known as the Malayalam speaking Kammalas. Such an expression is not recognisable in law. I am definitely and emphatically of the opinion that the scope of the Bill has not been exactly defined in the Bill itself. Clause 1 (3) of the Bill which seeks to define its scope has only to be read to be condemned. The test to be applied to determine whether an individual will be subject to this law is one based on the language of the particular person. This is an illusory test. It is not a safe and reliable test. There is nothing to prevent any Malayalam speaking Kammala of today from becoming a Tamil speaking Kammala some time hence. A Malayalam speaking Kammala family of North Travancore may migrate to South Travancore, settle down there and become in course of time a Tamil speaking Kammala family. Likewise a Tamil speaking Kammala family may become a Malayalam speaking family by settling down in North Travancore. What will be the law applicable to such families? The scope of the Bill is restricted to the Malayalam speaking Kammalas. Obviously difficulties will arise in applying the provisions of the Bill. Suppose Mr. Nilakantan has a grand-son born in Madras. He will naturally be a Tamil speaking Kammala. Under the provisions of the Bill he will not come under the scope of this Bill. Will Mr. Nilakantan contend that the Bill should not be applicable to him.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): What does the member say about the subjects of the State who are both Malayalam and Tamil speaking Kammalas?

Mr. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta). I am coming to that point. That is what I am going to speak about them. The extent of the application so far as the subjects of the State are concerned is not defined. One of the fundamental principles of legislation is that the extent of its operation should be exactly defined. There may be a Kammala who may come under both categories, Malayalam speaking and Tamil speaking. So far as a particular Kammala is able to speak Malayalam, the principles of the Bill will be applicable to him and to the extent to which he is able to speak Tamil, he will not be subject to its provisions. Is this the position which Mr. Nilakantan contends for?

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkeel I) : Is it not possible to define the scope and extent of the Bill by an amendment?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : At the outset I said that the scope of the Bill must be defined by the mover of the Bill. It is not open to this House to define it or to extend or restrict its application. The House will be competent to discuss the Bill only if its scope is defined by the mover.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Toralu) : Is it the member's point that there is no distinction between the different sections of the community?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : No. The extent of the operation of the Bill, so far as the subjects are concerned is not defined. Therefore there is the possibility of a person who comes under the law today withdrawing himself from it tomorrow.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Does the member understand from the scope of the Bill that according to it a Malayalam speaking Kammala should speak no language other than Malayalam?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : I have made myself sufficiently clear on this point. There is a distinction drawn between Malayalam speaking and Tamil speaking Kammalas both in the definition and operation clause and all the difficulty is created by this artificial distinction. I am referring to this difficulty in order to emphasise it.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Toralu) : If according to the member those principles are ill defined, is it not open to him to remove the defects?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : It is the business of the mover to define the scope of the Bill and it is not open to this House to assume the role of the mover in this respect.

MR. N. VELUACHARI (Co-opted) : മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നവർ എന്തൊക്കെ തരത്തിൽ മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുകയും തമിഴ് ആധാരമുള്ളൊക്കെ തമിഴിലെയും ചെയ്യുന്നവർ കൂടി ഉൾപ്പെടും?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta) : I take very strong objection to the consideration of this Bill because the extent of the application of the Bill is not defined correctly. It is a fundamental defect which goes to the root of the Bill. It is a fatal defect, which does not leave us any choice in the matter. Since the scope of the Bill is not properly defined, there is no good in proceeding with the Bill.

There are other defects also in the Bill. The Bill is intended to apply also to 'Kammalas whether so domiciled or not, as have or shall have marital relations with Malayalam speaking Kammalas domiciled in Travancore'. Suppose a Kammala from British Malabar enters into marital relations with a Malayalam speaking Kammala in Travancore. How can the provisions of the Bill be enforced on him? Although the law may be enforceable in Travancore, it can be defied and violated by him with impunity. He can snap his fingers at your law, although in theory he will be subject to your law. Are we to make a law, with the full knowledge that it will not be obeyed and cannot be enforced? This House should not give its sanction to a piece of legislation which to its knowledge will not be obeyed. How are we to apply the law to all the Malayalam speaking Kammalas whether domiciled or not? Another point I wish to impress on this House is that we cannot legislate for people who are not domiciled in Travancore. That will be an attempt to alter the personal law of people who are not domiciled in Travancore.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Could not the principle of the Bill be applied to those who have entered into marital relationship with the people in Travancore?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): It cannot in practice be done. You can have a piece of legislation on paper, but it cannot be enforced. Take for instance, the case of a Malayalam speaking Kammala from British Malabar who entered into marital relationship with a Kammala girl in Travancore. In so far as his properties in Travancore are concerned, this law may be enforced but not in respect of his properties in British Malabar. The law applicable to these properties will be his personal law. This House should not make laws which will impinge on the personal laws of people who are not domiciled in Travancore.

RAO SAHIB MAHADEVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Are there not similar enactments in Travancore dealing with the question of personal law also?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): The Bill brought forward by the mover contains many absurdities and I am dealing with them. I am not concerned with other pieces of legislation. When they come up for discussion, I shall make my comments on them. At present I am making my comments on the Bill before the House. The Bill is lacking in fundamental requisites. Therefore it must be thrown out, without further consideration.

The Law Member said that the Government would adopt a neutral attitude over this Bill. In view of the fundamental defects I have pointed out, I trust that the Government Benches will shake off their neutral attitude and throw in their weight for the rejection of the Bill. The Bill in its present shape does not deserve to be considered at all.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Is the member aware of the distinction drawn by the Census Commissioner in respect of the Malayalam speaking and Tamil speaking Kammalas?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): There may be. But I am speaking about the absurdities inherent in this Bill. If my friend Mr. Nilakantan comes forward with a Bill free from these defects, I may be inclined to support him.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know, in which way the cure lies?

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): It is not possible to cure the Bill at this stage. It is for the mover to look into it. Anyway the defects of the Bill are not curable by this House. I appeal to the House to throw out the Bill.

Sir, in the view I have taken of this Bill, I do not think it is necessary to make any comments on the provisions of the Bill, although I have got some serious objections to certain specific provisions. I appeal to the House once again to throw out the Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Before the discussion proceeds, I shall read out a short passage from the Census Report. I find there has been a very great misunderstanding as to the position of the Kammalas. The Report of the Census Commissioner is an authoritative statement of the Government and for practical purposes it may be depended upon.

"Kammalas consist of two main classes, Pandya Kammalas and Malayala Kammalas. Each of them is further divided into five occupational castes, namely, Kannan or Musari (Brazier), Kalthacotan or Kallassari (Stone worker), Kollan (Iron worker), Thechan or Asari (Carpenter) and Thattan (Goldsmith). The different sections of Pandya Kammalas wear sored thread and intermarry with one another, but those of Malayala Kammalas do not. The Pandya Kammalas own Brahmanical Gotras and resemble Brahmins in their marriage rites. They have been agitating for being called Brahmins under the name of 'Viswa Brahmin' or 'Viswakarma'. The latter name is now being adopted by both the Pandya and Malayala Kammalas. They are all Makkathayias. Among the Malayala Kammalas there are also a few minor sub-castes besides those mentioned above, such as Vilkurups and Villassas. Vilkurups who used to make bows and arrows are the recognised priests of the Kammalas. In Mavelikkara taluk they also function as barbers to the Kammala community. Their system of inheritance is Makkathayam. Villassas are sawyers by profession and are largely found in Nedumangad taluk. They speak Malayalam and are Marumakkathayias."

I have read out this passage just to prevent unnecessary questions being put in respect of distinctions sought to be drawn between the two communities. This may be considered by the House.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): I perfectly agree with the view expressed by some of my friends on this side of the House that we shall be landing ourselves in very serious difficulties if we go on the basis of language and divide this community into Malayalam speaking Kammalas and Tamil speaking Kammalas. But although, in the Bill, my friend Mr. Nilakantan has referred to Malayalam speaking Kammalas, I understood from his speech delivered to-day that the Bill was intended to cover Malayala Kammalas as distinct from Tamil Kammalas. Proceeding on that basis there is a clear distinction between these two divisions of the Kammala community. There are well defined differences in the matter of marriage and succession and several other matters, so much so that it seems to me that there can be nothing wrong if we proceed with this Bill for the benefit of Malayala Kammalas alone. At the same time, I consider that it should be open to any person to come forward and say that he is not a Malayala Kammala and that he should be excluded from the operation of this Bill when it is passed into law. That liberty will have to be given to the members of the community who are unwilling to accede to its provisions as was done to the members of the Ezhava community who were in a similar position before the Ezhava Regulation was passed. If there is some such provision those who were conscientious objectors may get out of the ambit of this Bill, while others who are desirous of having a law for themselves, can secure it. No doubt a law is very necessary both in the interests of that community as of the other communities, because as Mr. Kuria-kose said yesterday it is very difficult to have any dealings with the community because nobody knows what the judgment of a civil court would be when a case goes up before it. All that I mean is that perfect liberty should be allowed to individual families to get out of the provisions of this Bill if they so choose, as regards the transaction entered into by members thereof. On that basis I have very great pleasure in supporting the principle of the Bill.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I appreciate the spirit with which this Bill is brought forward by the honourable member. The Kammala community, as described by him, has no uniform law throughout the country. Its customs vary from place to place and even the law as known or understood by them could not be got administered to them for want of funds. If that is so, it is absolutely necessary that there must be some uniformity in the law applicable to that community and it is better that that law is clearly laid down by means of a statute. But the present attempt does not appear to be simply to codify the existing law. The Bill also seeks to amend the law obtaining at present. For the amendment of the law it is necessary that the sense of the community must be ascertained. With regard to the Kammala Bill I find very great difficulty to adopt a definite position. A community whose law is not very clearly defined is entitled to have a legislation in the matter. But this House which is not possessed of sufficient materials to legislate upon the matter must see that it does not inflict a law upon a community without ascertaining its sense. With regard to social legislations which have been passed by this legislature, care was always taken to ascertain the general trend of opinion. There was a Marumakkathayam Commission, there was an Ezhava Commission and whenever there was a demand from any community for social legislation there was also an attempt on the part of the Government to ascertain the sense of that community. But with regard to this Bill I do not think any such attempt has been made. The mover of the Bill stated that the opinion of the Division Peishkars have been taken by the Government, and that the Division Peishkars have reported favourably on it. I am not particular about knowing the source from which the learned member got the information. But the authenticity of the same can be relied upon only when it comes from the Government Benches. The Government must, in these matters, supply sufficient materials to this House before calling upon it to exercise its vote.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Government does not call upon this House to do anything.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : The Government owes a duty to this House. It gave sanction for a legislation to be brought forward to this House and it wants this House to record its opinion. The only machinery, according to me, that can collect sufficient materials with regard to these matters is the Government.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know the position of those honourable members here who represent that community ?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The position of the honourable members of this House is so well known that I do not think Mr. Damodaran Asan need answer it.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : What I want the Government to do, is to give us materials to come to a conclusion.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : There seems to be a misunderstanding which I think I should point out. Mr. Asan probably suggests that Government do not seem to be particular as to the way in which this House should do anything because it is not an official Bill. All that the Government have done was to give permission to Mr. Nilakantan to introduce the Bill so that the burden is now on the mover of the Bill. So I say that the attitude of the Government is not so important in this as in other matters. (Mr. S. J. Nair, hear, hear.)

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Sir, one word of explanation.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : No word of explanation is required.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : With regard to a social legislation there is provision that the sanction of the Government must be obtained. The sanction of the Government is expected to be given on the basis of certain facts. I would have been in a better position to come to a conclusion on this matter if I had definite materials with regard to the same. It is not proper that a Bill brought forward for the welfare of a community should be thrown out by us and it is not proper that we must pass the Bill without knowing quite well the views of the community. That is the difficulty. With regard to the difficulty of the members themselves I can make my position clear. We have heard a number of speeches on this matter and I may not be far wrong when I say that there were as many views as there were speakers on the question relating to the customs of the Malayalam speaking Kammalas, Tamil speaking Kammalas and their relationship with one another. When that is the case how can we come to a conclusion with regard to a law that has to be enacted for the whole State? What happens is that the Kammalas follow different customs in different parts of the country. Members who are accustomed to that part of the country know that system and assert that that is the custom of the Kammalas throughout the State. It is due to that circumstance that we had one version from Mr. Sivatanu Pillai coming from South Travancore and other versions from certain other members coming from the middle and northern Travancore. So my point is that we would have been in a much better position if we had sufficient materials to legislate on this matter.

Coming to the Bill itself, while I wish to see that a law is passed for the promotion of the interests of the community, we must also see that the Bill does not bifurcate the community if there is a homogeneous community known as the Kammalas, in Travancore. Even if the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and the Tamil speaking Kammalas have different customs it is not after all very difficult to have a law which could be acceptable to both. Here we are now discussing the whole matter without having a single member representing the Tamil Kammala community.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is not Mr. Velu Achari the representative of the Tamil Kammala community?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): No. What he said was that his ancestors were Tamil speaking Kammalas and that he is now a Malayalam speaking Kammala.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know when he said so?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Yesterday.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Kuriyan must realise that there is no point in that question. The House has been alive to what the members have said and the question as to when he said is not a good question. Considering that we have a good business to do, such questions, I hope, will not be put.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I am not for excluding any section of the Kammalas from this Bill. But there should be one reservation. Sir, from the Census Report we find that there are certain Christian Kammalas. I do not know whether these Christian Kammalas would like to have this Kammala Bill. All that the Bill says is:—

"It shall apply to all Malayalam speaking Kammalas domiciled in Travancore and to such Kammalas whether so domiciled or not, as have, or shall have marital relations with Malayalam speaking Kammalas wherever domiciled in respect of their properties in Travancore".

So unless we make some reservation with regard to Christian Kammalas, I fear that there will be opposition from that section as well.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): കമ്മാളർ എത്ര തരക്കാരുണ്ടെന്ന് ഇവിടെ ഒരു സംശയം വന്നു ചോർന്നിരിക്കുന്നു.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: സംശയമുണ്ടെങ്കിൽ വെച്ചു കൊള്ളുക. പ്രസംഗിക്കാതെ ചോദ്യം വെച്ചതുമുണ്ടെങ്കിൽ ചോദിക്കാം.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): ഇവിടെ തമിഴ് സംസാരിക്കുകയും, തമിഴ് ആചാരങ്ങൾ വെച്ചുകൊണ്ടിരിക്കുകയും ചെയ്യുന്ന ഒരു കൂട്ടർ, മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുകയും മിതാക്ഷർ നിയമം ആചരിക്കുകയും ചെയ്യുന്ന ഒരു കൂട്ടർ, മലയാളം സംസാരിക്കുന്നവരും മതമക്കത്തായം അനുവർത്തിക്കുകയും ചെയ്യുന്ന ഒരു കൂട്ടർ ഇങ്ങനെ മൂന്ന് കൂട്ടരുണ്ടെന്നു മെമ്പർമാരിയായോ?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, it is attempted to group Kammalas into different sections, on different basis i. e. on the basis of speaking certain language, on the following of certain professions, on the basis of different localities which they inhabit, etc. So, taking all these things into consideration, I would like to have a Kammala Bill for the whole community.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the honourable member whether a sub-committee appointed by the Select Committee could not elicit the opinions of the members of this community with regard to the provisions of this Bill?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Well Sir, that is a matter about which I am not competent to express an opinion at present. What I am submitting is, that a Kammala Bill is absolutely necessary for the community as a whole. Let the Kammalas also have a law. But this distinction between Malayalam speaking and Tamil speaking Kammalas must be avoided because that is an uncertain distinction which can be got over at any time. My honourable friend Mr. Sivatanu Pillai was telling the House that the Tamil speaking Kammalas wanted to be called Visvakarma Brahmins. They say that they are not Kammalas. So they would not come within the scope of the Kammala Bill.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Why not we call it Visvakarma Bill?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That does not arise. It is in the womb of future.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): സെൻസസ്സ് റിപ്പോർട്ടിൽതന്നെ, "Kammalas or Visvakarmas" എന്ന പദത്തിട്ടുള്ളതായിത്തീരുന്നുമോ?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, in the marginal note of the Census Report it is stated "Kammala or Visvakarma". Whatever is said in the Census Report, is not final in the matter. So let us not make any distinction between these two. So, I again say, that it is better to have a Kammala Bill for all the Kammalas. I have no objection in agreeing to the suggestion of Mr. Paramesvara Aiyar that provision should be made to give any family exemption from the operation of this Bill but let us have the whole community brought under the operation of this Bill.

With regard to another point, it has been asked whether this House or the Select Committee is competent to enlarge the scope of the Bill to include the Tamil speaking Kammalas also within its scope. My opinion is that the Select Committee and this House have got power to do the same. Anyhow, if it is ruled at a subsequent stage that the scope of the Bill cannot be enlarged this House has got the power of throwing out the Bill at the second or third reading stage. So that need not stand in the way of the members, accepting the principle of the Bill.

MR. A. ACHYUTHAN (Kartikapalli I): Sir, I rise to support the principle of the Bill. Sir, there are so far as my knowledge goes, two distinct and separate communities in the State, the Pandi Kammalas and the Malayala Kammalas. There is no inter-dining or inter-marriage between these communities. Even in personal appearance the Pandi Kammala is different from the Malayala Kammala. So I don't think that there need be any apprehension that this Bill would bring about a cleavage between these two communities. Mr. Nilakantan Achari knowing as he does the conditions of his community.—

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There is one correction necessary. The mover of the Bill calls himself Mr. Nilakantan and not Nilakantan Achari.

MR. ACHYUTHAN (Kattikapali I): Mr. Nilakantan wanted to bring out a legislation that would systematise the conduct of Malayalam speaking Kammalas. There is a lot of discrepancy existing in the systems of marriage, devolution of property and other things. So, in order to regulate the conduct of the Malayala Kammalas the Bill is absolutely necessary.

So I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. M. K. JANARDANA KAMATH (Commerce and Industry, North): Sir, I support the Bill. I think that the principle underlying the Bill may be accepted. There is no dispute regarding the fact that the Bill will be welcomed by all sections of the Kammala community. The Kammalas form an important community in the State and they have been in the past agitating for legislation regulating their marriage, inheritance, etc. Recently, the needs of other communities such as Nairs, and Ezhavas have been satisfied by passing suitable Regulations regulating their marriage, succession, etc. As the Kammalas are also an equally important community, it is only fair and proper that their needs should also be satisfied by passing a similar Regulation. The Kammalas have held meetings in several parts of the State and have expressed beyond doubt that they would wholeheartedly welcome Mr. Nilakantan's Bill. I had occasion to attend some of their meetings, and even to take part in their deliberations regarding this Bill. I have been deeply impressed with the enthusiasm they have displayed in this matter. They are at present supposed to be governed by Hindu Law and the law of succession now obtaining among them, as observed by Mr. Nilakantan, I think, is quite vague and unsettled. Further, usage or customs prevailing in the community in regard to succession are not in strict accordance with the principles of Hindu Law. It is therefore desirable that the law governing the community in the matter of marriage and succession is settled by means of a Regulation.

With these words, I support the principle of the Bill.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I may be permitted to add to the number of speakers on this Bill and also to the versions that they have given in this House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Provided you do not repeat. (Laughter.)

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I shall not be guilty of that. It is gratifying to note that there is unanimity of opinion on this side of the House as to one principle. It is that the Kammalas do deserve a legislative enactment. On that point, there is no division of opinion. The cleavage appears to come only on one point; whether the Bill has to include in its field of operation only the Malayala Kammalas, or whether it should extend to the entire Kammala community including the Tamil Kammalas. To legislate for both under one Bill is difficult, for there is as much difference between the two as there is between Malayalam and Tamil. The Census Commissioner's Report gives us, at any rate, proof of that distinction. Our own experience with the members of this community, our own knowledge of the conditions prevailing among the members, enable us to be definite on this point.

So far as my opinion goes, in regard to the marital rights, this Bill introduces a vast but definite change. The Malayala Kammala community, so far as I know, are both polygamous and polyandrous. Sir, I have had occasions to conduct cases in which members of the Kammala community have figured as plaintiffs or defendants. The ingenuity of witnesses have very often baffled the knowledge of vakils. The idiosyncrasy of Judicial Officers has very often defeated the lawful claims of the parties and the poverty of the members of the Kammala community has very often deprived them of the lawful decisions of the highest tribunals in the State. It is under these circumstances, that the Malayala Kammala community is working itself out into social evolution in these days.

Now, Sir, in the matter of inheritance, it is always necessary that there should be some definiteness. Fathers should feel that they have got their own children whom they are bound in law to support and to provide for after their death. Now the elder brother feels that the younger brother has as much liability to look after the affairs of the family as himself. If the younger brother feels that the elder brother has got his own responsibility in the management and maintenance of the family, a tendency to make provision for the future becomes completely extinguished and that I submit, must be one of the main impediment to the progress of the average Malayala Kammala family. Even though they are the best workmen in the State, even though they have tried to enhance the reputation of the State and have contributed much to the science of architecture and many branches of industry, which keeps up the prestige and prosperity of the State, we find in the generality of cases or in a vast majority of these artisans, that poverty reigns supreme. They are generally poor, improvident and extravagant. There is no feeling among the members of this community for earning and preservation. It is therefore right that their social condition should improve. In order that such a tendency may be brought in the mind of the members of the community marriages must be regularised.

In regard to the question of marriage, there is this difficulty. So far as the Malayala Kammalas are concerned, they have been more or less following the system of marriages obtaining amongst the class of people with whom they have been freely mingling. I mean the Marumakkathayam system of the Nairs and Ezhavas before the Nair and Ezhava Regulations came into force. But the other section of the community, that is the Pandi Kammalas are following the Mithakshara system of marriage. There divorce is unknown, polygamy is recognised and polyandry is not recognised. But here, among the Malaysiam Kammalas, polygamy, polyandry and divorce, all these are present. Here the divorce is made free, but regularised. Would that be agreeable to the sense of the members of the Pandi Kammala community? There are several people here belonging to the Pandi Kammala sect whose marriage relationship is influenced from beyond the Ghats, where the Mithakshara law is being administered in all its purity and rigour. Will it be possible for them or the families of that community to agree to such a course? Those who have been looking forward to the husbands or to the families of husbands for their support, during the widowed life will not agree to it. I think the members of the Malayala Kammala community will very freely accept the provisions contained in this Bill. My submission is that so far as possible the operation of the Bill must be confined to those for whom, it is designed. We should not press upon the members of the other community a legislation which they do not require and the provisions relating to marriage and divorce should not be thrust on those who follow pure Mithakshara system of marriage and inheritance.

In regard to other matters, the system of inheritance prevalent among the Malayala Kammalas is this. Sons and unmarried daughters inherit equally their father's property. If the daughter has been married away from the house without Sthridhanam she takes a share equal to that of the son. If the daughter had been married away from the house with Sthridhanam, then she loses all the rights over the property. This is the Mithakshara type of inheritance modified by custom. But on the other hand the rights of the Pandy Kammala daughters are determined by what is obtained in the Mithakshara system alone. It is clear, therefore that there is a sharp distinction in the marriage rights and system of inheritance in the two communities. This Bill is designed for the purpose of affording benefits or regularity in the system of marriage and inheritance so far as the Malayala Kammalas are concerned, who form the vast majority here, and that fact, I submit is conceded by both the mover and his opponents. As was pointed out by some other speakers, if there are members in the Pandy Kammala community who want to adopt the beneficial provisions of this Bill, provision should be made enabling them to accept the legislation that may be passed by this House. We find similar provisions in the Ezhava Regulation. There was one section of the Ezhava community which evidently opposed individual partition. Provision was made to satisfy the demands of such people. Some such course might be adopted here, so that the community may be permitted to unite in law and to the extent to which they can. My humble submission is that some such arrangement should be made in the Bill instead of saying that this Bill must be thrown out. For myself, I am in full agreement with the principle contained in the Bill.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): I have very great pleasure in supporting the principle of the Travancore Kammala Bill. As pointed out in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the Kammalas form one of the important communities in the State. The laws relating to marriage, succession etc., obtaining among them being vague and unsettled, there has been a feeling among the members of the community, that as in the case of the other important communities, legislation should be introduced to modify and amend the personal laws of the community. This is only a reasonable demand which deserves to be heartily supported. There may possibly be differences of opinion with regard to the particular provisions of the Bill. But such defects can be cured during the Select Committee stage. We are now concerned mainly with the principle underlying the Bill, which, I for one, heartily support.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Sir, the broad principles underlying the Bill introduced by the honorable member Mr. Nilakantan are certainly acceptable and must be acceptable to every honourable member of this House. Because, for one thing it discloses a desire on the part of a very large section of the community—I dare say Mr. Nilakantan must have a very large and influential following—for an enactment like the one now before the House. The community is anxious to have its law relating to marriage, succession, guardianship, testamentary disposition of property, adoption and such other matters, codified properly. To that extent, therefore, I accept the principle underlying the Bill.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Does the member think that this Bill seeks to codify the law now obtaining in the community?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I think the Kammala community really wants its custom and rules to be codified in the form of a legislative enactment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is it codification or simplification that is now attempted? (Laughter.)

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Please avoid such light questions.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Sir, this is not the first time that we find this kind of desire on the part of important communities to codify the law governing them. I dare say the honourable members of this House are aware of the fact that even in regard to the Hindu Mitakshara Law, there was a movement in British India some years ago, led by eminent jurists like Sir H. S. Gour and others, to codify Hindu Law. (Sir H. S. Gour has published a book called "Hindu Code" which is an authoritative text book and a book of reference for lawyers and judges.) Therefore, Sir, there is nothing new in the desire now evinced by the Kammala community in Travancore to have its law codified. That is another reason why I support the general principle underlying this Bill.

A good deal has been said about the distinction between the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and the Tamil speaking Kammalas. Sir, it is seen from the Statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill that both the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and the Tamil speaking Kammalas in this State together constitute more than two lakhs of the population of Travancore. Therefore, in considering a piece of legislation which is to decide the fortunes of such an important community, we have to be very careful. Sir, language is not a safe text; so are the differences in the occupations pursued by particular individuals belonging to a community. In a social legislation like this, we should not be guided by linguistic or occupational differences. What we have to consider are the culture—I would call it sanskara—, the customs and manners now obtaining in the different sects of the community, and the traditions of the community. There is the question of territoriality, which also has to be considered according to the theory of legislation. Sir, there is no use in our treating alike, for purposes of social legislation, all people who follow the same system of inheritance. If so, in Travancore, we should have had only one Regulation governing the Nairs, the Ezhavas and the Vellalas, since all these three communities follow the Marunakka'hayam system of inheritance. Separate Regulations have been enacted for each of these three communities, in spite of the similarity in the system of inheritance, on account of the difference between them in their culture, customs, manners and traditions.

Therefore, Sir, I should think that we would not be unwise in committing this Bill for the consideration of a competent Select Committee which will be empowered to take evidence, if necessary, in the different parts of the country. I refer to this aspect because I come from Vilavankod which is a taluk where you have both the Malayalam speaking and the Tamil speaking sections of the community. In Vilavankod I find some Kammalas with front tuft side by side with others with back tuft, some with the Malayalam style of dress side by side with others dressed like the Tamilians, some speaking Malayalam side by side with others speaking Tamil. I have heard one honourable member hailing from Nagercoil speaking much about the Visvakarmas of his place; and I have also heard other honourable members belonging to other parts of the country speaking about the Malayalam speaking Kammalas. But so far as my taluk is concerned, both these sections of the community have come there and settled down there.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Do they intermarry?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): They do not; I can say that from my own personal experience (Continued laughter). I am sorry: I meant personal knowledge, Sir. (Laughter.)

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know what is it that is in common between these two sections of the community?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): They are all artisans, and they follow similar occupations in spite of various differences in their customs and manners.

With these words, I commend the general principles underlying the Bill for the acceptance of the House.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I am deeply gratified that my appeal to this House has been heard with willingness. Much has been said by the co-opted member as regards the ethnological origin of the Kammalas. But that is not relevant at all and therefore I do not propose to go into that matter.

Sir, the argument has been advanced that all those who follow Makkathayam should be treated as immigrants. We all know, Sir, that there are ever so many classes in Travancore who are Makkathayees. Still they are considered to be natives of this place and not foreigners come from outside. Sir, we have to face facts as they are. I have placed facts without any reserve whatsoever. Now, what are the facts? There is fundamental difference between Tamil Kammalas and Malayalam Kammalas. There is difference in their culture. Even in the image that they make there is difference. In the fineness of their art there is difference. In the temples that they construct there is difference. Even in the ornamentation of their works there is much difference. I do not want to discriminate between them on account of such differences. I only want to point out that the differences do exist and we cannot close our eyes against them. Sir, I have got 15 years of experience with Tamil Kammalas in South Travancore. In the pamphlet which has been published.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Which is the pamphlet that the member is referring to?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, a pamphlet was circulated here.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: So far as I could see, no pamphlet was circulated here in this House.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I have got it, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Secretary assures me that the Government did not circulate any such pamphlet as mentioned by the honourable member, and also that the Government did not permit the circulation of any such pamphlet. I therefore want to make it clear that any such stray publication which the member might have come across has nothing to do with this House.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I have been charged with hatred towards the Tamil Kammalas.

RAO SAHIB MAHADEVI S. PARAMESVARAIAHYAR (Nominated): Are we really concerned with these pamphlets and counter-pamphlets, Sir?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That was what I was saying.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, it is said, I am trying to drive a wedge between the two sections of the community. This is stupid. We are a major community and the Tamil Kammalas are very few in number. They can, if they like, merge into ours.

As regards the observation of my friend Mr. Karayalar, I am sorry that he began by hair-splitting differences in the use of words, and ended with such differences.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Does not language matter very much in legislation?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): The butler uses broken English and yet he conveys better sense.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): Are butlers legislators?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The House is not legislating for butlers.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I have framed the Bill for Malayala Kammalas. It may contain imperfections and it is left to the Select Committee to rectify such mistakes. I am not a lawyer. I only want the needs of the community to be satisfied by legislation.

Mr. Varughese stated that I have not made enquiries in the community about the necessity for the Bill. Sir, I have travelled from Pinar to Cape Comorin. I have talked with the people and ascertained their conditions and I can assure the House that there is no man better-fitted to deal with this matter than myself. (Heur, hear.) It is such a member of the community that has brought forward this Bill.

MR. N. VELU ACHARI (Co-opted): വ ശപക്രമസമുദായത്തെ പ്രതിനിധീകരിക്കാൻ മിസ്റ്റർ നീലകണ്ഠനെപ്പോലെ വേറെയും പല ബി.ഐ. അംഗങ്ങളെ ന്ന കെരുവക്കുറിയുമാ?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question does not arise. Mr. Nilakantan merely wanted to assure the House of what he thought of himself.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): One question, Sir. Is there not difference between the Visvakarma community and the Malayala Kammala community?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): What I am saying is that I am in a position to voice forth the views of the community.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I rise to a point of order. Is the member in order in making certain references to himself while the Government have purposely nominated another member also to represent the community?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There is no substance in that point of order. Mr. Kuriyan would not have raised it if he listened to the observations of the Chair. The Chair said that Mr. Nilakantan told the House of what he thought of himself.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, that is so far as my credentials are concerned. Sir, there are graduates who do not know much about the customs and manners of the community. They are like children.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I suppose you do not make the remark about the members of this House.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I am referring to graduates in my own community.

Sir, there are some people in the community who wish to reform it. They think that if they adopt the customs and manners of a particular class they can remove all the defects in the community. I shall give one instance. In Quilon a marriage was celebrated with all vedic rites in a particular house. After the ceremonies were over and before the feeding began there was some dispute as is usual between the bride's people and the bride-groom's people. And then the marriage was dissolved. On the next day another marriage was celebrated. What I say is that these rites have no binding force. Without the aid of law mere imitation of manners and customs of other people cannot profit the interests of the community.

MR. A. TANU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Rural): Has the member any objection to changes being effected in the Bill?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I have no objection. There may be defects in the Clauses and these defects may be rectified by the Select Committee. I appeal to the House to pass this Bill.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The question before the House is that the principle of this Bill be accepted.

The motion was put to vote/and carried.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I demand a poll as that will be useful in the further stages of the discussion.

A poll was taken with the following results:—

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I accept the names. The Committee will report within three months.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I believe the House agrees to that motion.

The motion by the leave of the House was carried.

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF PUBLIC INTEREST.

RESOLUTION re POMMUDI TO BE THE SUMMER QUARTERS OF GOVERNMENT.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We will now pass on to the next business, viz., resolutions. The first resolution stands in the name of Mr. S. J. Nair.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I move the following resolution:

"This Assembly recommends to the Government that Pommudi be converted into a town and be made the summer quarters of Government."

Sir, Pommudi is an important place in Travancore. It is one of the first and foremost sanatoriums in the State, and it is the nearest sanatorium to the Capital.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): In which taluk is it located?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is in the Nedumangad taluk.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There is nothing wrong in asking for information. But the location of Ponnudi is so well known that there is no necessity for such a question. Mr. Nair will proceed with the resolution.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the name Ponnudi is significant. It means 'golden crown'. That means that Ponnudi eclipses all sanatoriums in the State. It is about 38 miles north-east of Trivandrum and is being connected with the capital by a usable and useful road. It is about three thousand feet above the sea level. It commands a good, extensive and beautiful view and enchanting sight.

Mr. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Is it above fever level?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is above fever, malaria and all other levels.

All around the heights of Ponnudi are tea and coffee estates. The tea grown there is considered as the best tea produced in Travancore.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know the estimated cost of converting Ponnudi into a town?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I will come to that.

There are two sanatoriums at Ponnudi. One is known as the upper sanatorium and the other the lower sanatorium. There is an ever-flowing and sparkling spring on the top of Ponnudi very near the upper sanatorium. This water can be collected and stored up in a tank or reservoir and made use of in the matter of water supply.

Sir, in the months of Dhanu, Makaram, Kumbham and Meenam it is not possible for officers who have got headquarters in Trivandrum to work very hard.

Mr. MENATHERI N. KESAVA PANICKAR (Nominated): May I ask who feels the necessity for a sanatorium, the Government or the people?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the people are making this demand on behalf of the Government, and the officers of the Government themselves desire it.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Has the member received any representation from any head of a department?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): In the interests of efficient work the representatives of the people must see that officers are given proper convenience and opportunities to work very hard so that work may be speedily turned out.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Does the member propose that the Assembly also should meet there during the season?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Certainly. At least two sessions of the Assembly should be held there.

If Ponnudi is converted into a town and made the summer quarters of Government it will help the convenience and comfort of the people of Trivandrum in particular and of Travancore in general.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Is it the member's view that the Government officers in Trivandrum are not working properly because of the climatic condition?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): They will work harder if they go there.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know whether there are any Government buildings at Pommudi?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes, there are two buildings.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): What is the present population?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): There is no population.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is the member aware that there is a loud agitation in British India both in the provinces and in the centre against the move to hill stations?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): That is because the hill stations there are situate far away from the headquarters. But Pommudi is only 38 miles away from the capital.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is it the member's view that Government officers are not doing satisfactory work during the summer season because the Government offices are located in Trivandrum?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: He has already stated that they will do more satisfactory work. There is no necessity for repeating the question.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): There is an area of about 6 sq. miles lying waste at the top of Pommudi peak. That may be divided into small plots or bits of 15 or 20 cents and people may be invited to purchase the land for building sites according to a town planning scheme. In this way it will be easy to convert Pommudi into a town.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know from the member the approximate cost of the scheme?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It may not cost more than fifteen or twenty thousand rupees. The Government could realise a good sum by giving the land in registry. Out of that amount a town planning system could be worked out and additional Government buildings could be put up there.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether the member would advocate Pommudi being converted into a town even if the summer headquarters of Government are not shifted to that place.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes. But if the headquarters of Government are also located there it may attract a greater number of people and the place may command better convenience and it would develop into a town easily and speedily.

Sir, at the time of the former Dewans Mr. Raghaviah, Mr. Watts and Mr. V. S. Subrahmanya Aiyar, there was a proposal to convert Pommudi into a town.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the extent of level area that is available there?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Level area is not necessary for a hill station. If the member had seen other hill stations he would not have asked that question.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know if any experts were consulted in the matter of converting Ponnudi into a town?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I have brought this resolution for the consideration of the Government so that they may appoint some experts to go into the question.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it the member's view that the Secretariat alone should be transferred there or also other head offices?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): That is left to the Government. My submission is that Ponnudi should be converted into a town and made the summer quarters of Government. If that is done, it would eclipse all other sanatoriums in South India and evoke jealousy even in those who go to Ooty; because, I know as a matter of fact that Ponnudi is an excellent sanatorium in South India. It is the queen of hill stations and the peak there is the crown, the golden crown.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): The member referred to former Dewans. May I know whether the former Dewans have taken any action in the matter?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): They told me in person when I met them there that they had the idea of converting it into a town. Hence, I move this resolution for the kind acceptance of the House.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): I second it.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I am constrained to say that in case a resolution is to be seconded those who want to do so must do it in time. But some delay has taken place. Mr. Ramakrishna Panickar has seconded it before I disposed of the question. I hold that the seconding is valid and proper. The resolution is open to discussion.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): I oppose it.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): It is rather a difficult proposition of Mr. S. J. Nair when he proposes that the Government's summer quarters should be at Ponnudi. But on behalf of the Government members and myself I convey our grateful thanks to Mr. S. J. Nair for his proposal. Personally we are all for it. We thank him for his solicitude on behalf of our health. But there is something which Mr. S. J. Nair has forgotten. He wants Ponnudi to be converted into a town. But every town has at least an industry. But there is nothing that I know at Ponnudi that would attract people for purposes of trade. Mr. S. J. Nair says that in Ponnudi there is plenty of tea. But the shop keepers cannot always be selling tea to each other. They would rapidly get tired of it and there would be no profit in the transaction. Mr. Nair says that Ponnudi is above the fever level; but I very much doubt that.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether there is any particular industry at Ooty?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We are dealing with Pommudi.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The honourable member has been saying that there must be some industry.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): Yes, there are industries in Ootacamund and if the honourable member would go there he would see the industries to which I am referring. Mr. S. J. Nair said that there was a copious supply of water running down the hill opposite the sanatorium. That is not so. There is a small streamlet by which the lower sanatorium is supplied; but the only water that flows down the hill from the upper sanatorium is when there is rain. I may say that this is not a new question. It has been engaging the attention of Government for some years past and this file before me deals with a portion of it. But cost is the great thing. Buildings and houses will have to be built and an estimate of Rs. one lakh, which Mr. S. J. Nair mentioned, would not be sufficient for anything like an approach to the cost. I cannot understand why Mr. S. J. Nair has brought this proposal at the present time. The Government of Bombay has, I believe, stopped going to Mahabaleshwar during the summer months and the Government of Madras are considering the yearly move to Ootacamund. Delhi is raising some objection regarding the shifting of the headquarters to Simla and all these questions are for reasons of expense; for not only would the expense be incurred in building the town, but the considerable outlay that will have to be incurred each year in moving Government headquarters to Pommudi. If only Mr. S. J. Nair would point out where funds could be obtained, the question could be considered; but unless and until it is done it is absolutely impossible for the Government to accept such a resolution. Therefore I would ask Mr. S. J. Nair to wait until a more favourable opportunity occurs to bring forward such a resolution.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Apart from the question of making Pommudi the summer headquarters of the Government, is there any objection in Government developing suitable hill sanatoriums such as Pommudi, Muthukuzhivayal, Pallivasal and such other places?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): Now there are two buildings at Pommudi and they are used at times. The difficulty is want of water. That can be got over. But the question of fund remains. If funds can be pointed out I am sure that Government would like to move there. Speaking on behalf of myself I should be delighted to make the move.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I wish to speak one or two words on the resolution. I would not have spoken anything on the subject if the Chief Engineer had not made such a statement as he made just now. It is accepted by the Chief Engineer that this question was before the Government from very early days and that it was only the question of funds which prevented this question being carried out. Under such circumstances I want to make one suggestion. Ponnudi, as observed by Mr. S. J. Nair, is only at a short distance from Trivandrum. There has been a complaint that because the capital of the State is situated so far south, people from the northern taluks have been experiencing great hardships and difficulties. Now here is a suggestion for shifting, at least for sometime during the year, the capital to another health resort. At present there is a proposal before the Government to open a sanatorium somewhere near Pallivasal. Under such conditions I would make a suggestion whether it is not feasible to find a place somewhere near Pallivasal to remove the headquarters of Government during summer.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I rise to a point of order. The resolution relates to the shifting of the headquarters to Ponnudi. I want to know whether the member is in order in referring to Pallivasal being made the headquarters.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The member is quite in order.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): If at all Government think of shifting the headquarters from Trivandrum to any other place it must be to somewhere near Pallivasal.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): What is the height of Pallivasal?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I have not got any exact information. But there are suitable places at Pallivasal for a sanatorium, with very great facilities for that. As remarked by Mr. Truscott, Pallivasal is already a business area. There is the Munnar town and several estates close by. So I would earnestly request the Government to take into consideration this suggestion whether it is not feasible to have the headquarters somewhere near the northern extremity of the State preferably near Pallivasal or Munnar. With these words I oppose the resolution.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Since the resolution is moved and debated upon, I wish to say a word. It should not appear that the non-official members of the House advocate for the Government moving to the hills in summer as if it were a very important matter in the interests of the public. Whatever that be, I am positively against it whether it is Ponnudi, Muthukuzhivayal, Pallivasal or any other place. It is absolutely unnecessary that the Government should think of moving to anywhere. The officers of Government can very well remain in the plains and do their work and the country will not suffer for want of a shift of this kind to the hills. But there is the other question whether they advocate the opening up of the place and making it suitable as a health resort for people from other parts of the country. That is a matter for consideration. There should be facilities for the people to go to the hills in summer if possible. Now we have very little convenience for that. If Ponnudi is converted into a sanatorium people can resort to that place. That would be a very welcome thing. But apart from that, I am positively against this resolution.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): I strongly object to the resolution brought forward by Mr. S. J. Nair. Sometime ago, during the time when Mr. Raghaviah was the Dewan of this State, the question of opening up Pommudi and making it a sanatorium was taken into consideration. The idea, however, had to be given up for two reasons. The first consideration was that there would not be sufficient water. Another consideration was the actual funds that would be needed for making Pommudi a sanatorium. Money would have to be found for laying out roads and for several other matters which the Government were not in a position to meet at that time. The economic situation has considerably worsened since then, and even if it is possible for us to make money that money should be devoted to the solution of the problem of rural reconstruction which is facing us today. On that consideration it seems to me that it is not a practical proposition at present to go in for a new sanatorium at Pommudi. As for converting it into the summer headquarters of the Government, it would never be thought of by this House at all unless and until the time comes when Pommudi becomes a real golden peak so that people may convert it into gold. As for the pious wish expressed by Mr. Truscott, I may add that even if the Government come forward with a final proposition this House will strongly oppose it. In any case, I do not think that the proposal will be taken up to enable the Government to indulge in the extravagance, before Mr. Truscott retires from the State service.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I wish to speak a few words on the resolution. I am surprised that such a resolution should have been moved by a non-official member. It is absolutely not to the public interest to shift the headquarters from Trivandrum to Pommudi during the summer season, nor would it in any way help the officials to discharge their duties more conveniently, and more efficiently. As far as local and climatic conditions of Trivandrum and Pommudi are taken into consideration, I do not find that there is any need for advocating such a change. Sir, there is some reason for the Government of Madras and the Imperial Government at Delhi to shift their headquarters to Ootacamund and Simla respectively during the summer season. Here the climate is not so extreme as they obtain in those parts. Moreover, our Secretariat buildings are so situated that the officers who work there get the advantage of fine breeze during summer and we have no winter season here. Moreover there are a large number of European officers in the Imperial and Provincial Secretariats and among the heads of departments. The very location of the Secretariat at Trivandrum is attractive, fine, and enviable.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know whether even here the exodus to hills with regard to the Europeans is not due to the fact that they are not accustomed to our hot weather?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Quite so. Sir, our officers are accustomed well to the climate that obtains at Trivandrum and they do not feel the dreariness of summer as others who are used to cool climates would feel.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether Indians will not be able to do better work in cooler climates?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Ka'kulam I): They may be, but not as much as the Europeans who may find it hard to work in summer. I hold that a change as is advocated by the resolution would in no way serve to improve the work of our officers.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): May I know whether even now the Government do not consider the proposition a very expensive one as there are only a handful of Europeans?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There is no need to make any distinction to be drawn between Europeans and Indians in this matter.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Ka'kulam I): If a particular officer finds it absolutely necessary to go over to a cooler place, even now he can do so and there is nothing that would stand in his way of shifting to a hill. Some years ago when Mr. Watts was the Dewan of Travancore he used to take important papers to the White House, at Ponnudi which was his frequent and favourite resort. So the officers, I mean, the Dewan and heads of departments who particularly require change of climate to do better work can very well do so even at present. With these words, I oppose the resolution.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Some of my friends opposed my resolution basing their arguments on the futility of my proposal. The honourable member Mr. Elenkath really surprised all the other non official members who advocated such a proposition in this House. Well Sir, I am sorry to say that Mr. Elenkath has not got at least, the idea of the locality of Ponnudi. So far as these places which lie on either side of the road from Trivandrum to Ponnudi are concerned I can say, practically the people of Travancore have no idea of the places. There are vast areas, rich and fertile regions which lie idle there. If only a town is built at Ponnudi for the summer quarters of Government those places would attract the attention of the general public of Travancore. Then they will open their eyes as to the fertility of the soil and as to the possibility of developing agriculture by getting those lands registered in their names and cultivated. It is with that idea that I advocated this proposition.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is it the member's idea that in order to improve a certain locality Government headquarters should be shifted over there?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is not only to improve the locality but also to develop the agriculture of the State which is the main source of livelihood for the people of the State.

MR. M. SVATANU PILLAI (Tuvata): Cannot agriculture be developed without Ponnudi being made the headquarters of Government?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member says that it will be doubly useful.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes Sir, doubly useful and more useful. Sir, another point which was raised against this proposition is the question of water supply. Sir, there is a stream which runs right down the peak over and above the existence of a spring on the top. This will solve the water problem. Sir, I can understand the answer given by the Chief Engineer that the question has been engaging the serious attention of Government and now the question is allowed to lie over on account of the financial stringency. That shows, Sir, that Government is anxious to go into the problem and solve it. In view of this answer given on behalf of the Government I do not press the motion.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Does the House agree to allow Mr. S. J. Nair to withdraw his motion?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Pilarankod) : We object.

The question whether Mr. S. J. Nair could withdraw his motion was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The resolution was then put to the vote of the House and was lost.

CONTRACTS FOR GOVERNMENT WORKS. ✓

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Sir, I beg to move the following resolution :

"This Assembly recommends to the Government that, whenever possible, Travancoreans be engaged for working Government contracts under the P. W. D. and other departments."

Well, Sir, in point of education, ability, merit, capacity and experience in all branches of life Travancoreans stand second to none. There are able contractors, experienced contractors and monied contractors in Travancore who can do any sort of work that is given to them. But we find in the P. W. D. that an enormous amount of money is expended on original works as well as on other items of works in the State. But big works and paying works are being given to outside contractors, that is, some sort of preference is shown to outsiders in the matter of giving contracts. Even though a local contractor would quote the lowest in the tender, an outsider is preferred invariably. Generally, the work executed by outsiders is far below the average in the matter of quality than that executed by a native. Sir, I can point out instances of this. The work in connection with the Jagathy bridge at Trivandrum was given to an European contractor in spite of the fact that there were several Travancoreans prepared to take it up for lower amounts. Sir, it is just a small bridge over a small river; and it took about 8 years for completion. On a former occasion to a question put by me to the Chief Engineer, P. W. D., in connection with this, he answered that the Jagathy bridge was completed. But unfortunately even now the road is closed and the work either for the bridge or for the road on both ends of the bridge is still going on.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalayuzha II) : Is it not due to the fault of the Water Works Department?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : It may be due to the fault of either Department. But the road is closed. On the other hand, a contract to build a bridge across the Vamanapuram river was given to a Travancore contractor. It was constructed in 5 months' time; and the Chief Engineer told me that in the history of the Public Works Department that bridge stood first in the matter of speedy and beautiful execution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I wish to say that advertisement of a particular individual before this House is not permitted.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad) : I never mentioned any individual Sir. I only made mention of an instance to show the superior ability of our contractors and not to differentiate the local contractors one from another. That is not my idea, Sir. Again, Sir, I might say that much money is being expended and if the contracts are given to Travancoreans when there are able and experienced contractors in our country it will be beneficial to the interests of the State and its subjects. In this connection I may also say that in the Forest Department —

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I am not prepared to allow that. That is not relevant to the discussion.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad) : Sir, my resolution reads : " Travancoreans be engaged for working Government contracts under the P. W. D. and other departments ".

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : All right, you can refer to other departments but not in detail.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad) : Sir, in the Forest Department also for felling and selling timber, contracts are being given to outsiders, and much money is being made by outsiders from this. This is done in spite of the fact that many Travancoreans have submitted tenders quoting the lowest rates. Sir, I know at the time these tenders were opened the department purposely refused to accept the tenders so far as Travancoreans are concerned. Many persons from outside come to our country and make plenty of money due to the favour shown to them by the Head of the Forest Department. Sir, I say that is a sort of injustice so far as the interests of Travancoreans are concerned.

Travancoreans know well that these timbers if given to them on contract can be removed and sold in the proper market. But purposely, the head of the department refuses to accept their tender. He has got some petty prejudice towards the Travancore contractors and he purposely extends his unjust patronage to outside contractors.

With regard to the Excise Department, there are contracts for tobacco, salt, opium, ganja and other articles. In this department I would request Government to see that the contracts for tobacco, opium and other foreign articles are given to Travancoreans.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominatus) : Are private contracts engaged for these things ?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad) : My point is that all the articles for which contract is given, should be taken from Travancore contractors. It would be conducive to the interests of Travancore, to the progress of various industries here, to the good of the people and to the saving of a large sum of money in Travancore, if the contracts in all these departments are given to the Travancore contractors alone. This ought to be the practice, wherever Travancore contractors are coming forward. With these few words I move this resolution for the kind acceptance of this House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Anybody seconding ?

Mr. K.R.ELENKATH (Kalkulam I). In seconding the resolution, I beg to state that wherever possible it is absolutely necessary that Travancoreans should be preferred. There has been a tendency in recent times to give small contracts to outsiders even though the tenders given by Travancoreans are below that given by other contractors. In all cases Government should as far as possible prefer Travancoreans. But wherever technical knowledge may be required, where there will not be technicians from Travancore to look after a particular work and where big investments may be necessary, in such cases, Government may give the contract to some outsider.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod) : I have very great pleasure in supporting the resolution so ably moved by the honourable member Mr. S. J. Nair. I hope there will be no difficulty on the part of Government also to accept the principle underlying this resolution. Sir, recently our Government have issued a communique, regarding the stores purchases, and that goes to show that, as far as possible, Travancore goods should be given preference. Sir, it is the same principle that underlies Mr. S. J. Nair's resolution. It is a question of economics and finance also, and thereby we are only encouraging our own businessmen. Of course, there will be very little of our money flowing out and to that extent the possibility of impoverishing the country is also avoided. These are the important factors involved in this question. So, Sir, I support the resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The Government member .....

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : Sir, .....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I have already invited the Government member.

Mr. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation) : No, Sir, let him speak.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Yes. I called upon the Government member and he does not want to speak now. Therefore I evade.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : If it is left to the will and pleasure of the speaker.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : It is not a matter of will and pleasure, but it is a matter of convenience. I take an indulgent view and permitted him to speak after.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : It is a long time since this cry was made that all contracts must as far as possible be given to Travancoreans. I am not concerned with that wide question. What I am concerned with is to bring to the notice of Government the great injustice that has been done as a result of an order by the Chief Engineer and probably by some of the Executive Engineers. Sir, the manufacture of tiles is an industry which is now being carried on, on a large scale by a large number of Travancoreans. Enormous capital has been invested in the establishment and working of the tile factories. At Quilon, the manufacture of tile is a very important industry. For a very long time, Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield were preserving the monopoly of this industry. Anybody might try and enter the field of competition and he who is able to produce the best tiles will be able to command the market. At the same time the State owes a duty to the small capitalists who are trying in the best manner possible to bring up this industry.

Let us see what the P. W. Department has done. In the year 1111, I remember to have read a notice in which it is stated that there are four recognised tile manufacturers from where tiles may be purchased by P. W. D. contractors. It was also stated in the notification that Government themselves would purchase only from any one of those four manufacturers, whenever any purchase had to be made. Sir, if you take into consideration the enormous sum of money spent every year by the P. W. D. in the construction of buildings, you will find that a pretty good portion of it goes for the purchase of tiles. If there were four tile manufacturers in the year 1111, whose tiles were recognised as of proper quality which could be gone in for by Government, I do not understand why in 1112 three companies have gone out? In 1112, Government have recognised only one make of tile and that is the product of Messrs Harrisons and Crosfield. What is it that induced the Chief Engineer to decry all tiles manufactured in the other companies? If I put the question straight to him, he will say that they are all bad tiles.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): If they are not of the same quality as the tiles of the three manufacturers recognised in 1111, I can accept my statement to be incorrect. But I can produce documents before Government showing that for the purpose of unnecessarily decrying, unnecessarily putting down native industry, they have stated, "your tiles are not good. We are getting tiles of a better quality." Seeing as a matter of fact, that one type is not better than the other I submit that this is thoroughly unjustifiable. Why should Government money go into the pockets of only one concern? Are our tiles worse than the tiles manufactured by European Companies. No. Our tiles are as much in demand as the H. & C. tiles. Tile to tile they are of equal if not of better quality. Anyway it was so in 1111. What has happened to the mud that Thomas Stephen and Company, or the A. D. S. Company or the Always Company has been using? What is wrong with the clay that was purchased by them? Has anything gone wrong with the pug mill or with the grinding machine? What is it that has gone wrong in the year 1112? Why do Government now say that they want tiles manufactured by Harrisons and Crosfield alone. Thousands of tiles manufactured by our manufacturing concerns are being used for the construction of Government buildings by the Maramath Department.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Are private individuals preferring Harrisons and Crosfield tiles?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): It depends upon individual convenience. Anyway there is no preference.

I am speaking about the purchase of tiles by Government. I understand that it was ordered and published that all tiles supplied to the Public Works Department either by contractors or by Government, would be tiles belonging to Messrs Harrisons and Crosfield. In the notification it is stated that no other tile would be accepted.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the member is aware that the tiles we get from Harrisons and Crosfield for Rs. 40 is the same in quality as that which we get from other companies for Rs. 25 or 30?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Certainly. I know the Government themselves, in 1110, were ordering these tiles and were satisfied that their quality was good enough. I cannot understand how the quality could have deteriorated now. I can understand the Chief Engineer giving an opportunity to every firm in the country, and then choosing the cheapest one consistent with quality.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is the honourable member aware that not only in the matter of tiles, but in the matter of even surki, the monopoly has been given to Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Yes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr S. J. Nair is supplying information and not asking for it.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I did not want to go into details; that was why I did not advert to the facts now referred to by Mr. S. J. Nair.

Further, Sir, while the Chief Engineer has ordered that for all Government buildings only the articles manufactured by Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield can be used, the Maramat Engineer is buying tiles and other materials from Indian manufacturers. He seems to be satisfied with their quality. One cannot understand how materials which are considered quite good by one officer of the Engineering Department are not considered to be good enough by another officer of the same department.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is it not the Maramat Engineer that is in charge of the construction of even the Palaces?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Yes. Sir, there seems to be something behind all these. I admit that it may not always be possible for the Government to look into these details. The Chief Engineer is expected to treat all people alike and to bear in mind that local industry deserves as much encouragement as industries carried on by anybody else. With these words, I support the resolution.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I should like to reply Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai exactly as he concluded, namely, that the Chief Engineer has always been and is treating all people alike in the matter of tiles as in every other matter.

[Mr. G. B. E. Truscott.]

In regard to the question of tiles, over which the honourable member got hot, quotations were asked for this year as was done last year; and the firm that tendered the lowest quotation was asked to supply tiles during the year. There is no idea of any preference at all. That is the answer I have to give to Mr. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Was it not clear to the Chief Engineer that Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield had quoted an unduly low rate this year to shut out competition for all time to come?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I do not know that, and I am not concerned with that. As the head of the Department, it is my duty to get for the Government the best material for the cheapest price: and I have got it. I invited quotations, and gave the order to the firm that quoted lowest, consistent with quality. I do not see why because that firm happened to be Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield, because it happened to bear a foreign name, because it happened to be a European firm working in Quilon and employing Travancore labour, I should boycott it.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Was it not possible to distribute the order to the various factories that manufacture tile? Even if Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield or some other firm had given him the lowest tender, he could have again consulted the other firms and negotiated with them for still lower rates, as he has done in other contracts.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is not my idea of contract. I do not think I am here to go bargaining with the various firms that send me quotations.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Were tenders called for for 1111?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Yes.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Am I to understand that this year, in respect of all kinds of tiles, Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfields have quoted lowest?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): They did quote lowest. All the tenders that I have received are open to examination by everyone of the honourable members of this House. But Sir, to say that I have to go round, to every one who has furnished me with a tender, and to bargain with them is an idea which is against my ideas of transacting business, or even of fairplay.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Did the Chief Engineer for a moment consider the question why Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield, who have been, for forty years, consistently quoting by far the highest rates, have now quoted the lowest rates?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Why they have done so is not the concern of the Chief Engineer. His only concern is that the Government must get the best article at the cheapest rate. I hope the House will bear me out in that. Are there any more questions, Sir.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I submit Sir, that the member should not invite questions like that.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I would like to ask a question, Sir. Are not Travancore raw material and Travancore labour used in the manufacture of Harrisons and Crosfield tiles?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): They are.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I ask whether Travancore capital has gone in for the industry?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question does not arise since the resolution speaks only of Travancoreans and not of Travancore capital.

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): As regards contracts, Sir, wherever possible contracts are given only to Travancoreans. That is the policy of the department; and it has always been the policy. The few cases where contracts were given to outsiders were those where it was impossible or impracticable for any of the local contractors to carry out the work by reason of their not being used to such work, work which requires special technical knowledge and special experience.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is the Chief Engineer aware that, in the P. W. D. Workshop, the contract for the supply of plumbago powder was given to a foreigner although there were lower tenders from local contractors?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That has been the subject-matter of an interpellation, and has been answered fully.

Regarding the Jagadi Bridge, the mover of the resolution said that it was started years ago and has not been finished yet. The bridge was completed about the middle of last June. The work now going on there has nothing whatsoever to do with the P. W. D. or with the contractors for the building of the bridge.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is the road now open for vehicle traffic?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings, and Irrigation): I said nothing about the road. The mover of the resolution was talking about the Jagadi Bridge and said that, although the contract was given to an outside firm the work had not been completed yet; I say the work was completed and the bridge tested last June. The work now being carried on there has nothing whatsoever to do with the P. W. D.; it is the Water Works Department that is doing it.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is the construction of the road on either side of the bridge, which I find is the work now being carried on there, being carried on by the Water Works Department or by the Engineering Department?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): The Water Works Department have to lay the pipes before the road construction is taken up.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Is that the explanation why the contract was given to an outsider?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): There is no contractor in Travancore yet who has had any experience in moulding and driving reinforced concrete piles. That is the only reason why the contract was given to an outsider. Now, actually, I am having a pile-driver made in the Workshop and there is an experienced, and qualified Supervisor who has been doing nothing else for some time past but to watch the moulding and the driving of concrete piles, so that, shortly, it is hoped that we ourselves will do such kind of work, and would not have to go in for outside contractors. I may mention that there is a contract which was given to a local contractor. I am not going to mention his name or the name of the work, in which very little progress has been made although it is now many months since the contract was given. I may also say, Sir, that if you take into account the P. W. D. contracts on the whole, the proportion that goes to the outsider is really very very small. Government and the Department prefer insiders; and the nature of the works in Travancore makes that the only method practicable and convenient. I would like to point out that the construction of the Council Chamber—a big work in recent years—has been entrusted to a local contractor.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Am I to understand that, whenever reinforced concrete piles have to be driven, foreigners will have to be engaged?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): I was explaining a few minutes ago that I now have a Pile Driver, in the Workshop, and a qualified Supervisor doing nothing else but watching and studying that work, so that, hereafter, we would be able to do the work ourselves.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Do the Government accept the policy that, other things being equal, Travancoreans will be preferred in the matter of contracts?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): That is the policy of the Department.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Trivallur I): May I know whether cheapness alone will weigh with the Government in these matters?

MR. G. B. E. TRUSCOTT (Chief Engineer, Roads, Buildings and Irrigation): Consistent with quality.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) I wish to add a few words.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Before that, I want to clear the position. One honourable member referred to the purchase of tiles from Messrs. Harrisons & Crosfield, and the Chief Engineer said, in the course of his reply, that he could not be expected to accord an unfair treatment to that firm alone because they happened to be Europeans. The resolution says that in the matter of P. W. D. and other contracts Travancoreans should be preferred to outsiders; and the mover of the resolution referred to other departments also. There is therefore absolutely no question of European vs. Indian. I want to remove that misapprehension.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Sir, the mover of the resolution referred to the Excise Department as one of the departments falling within the ambit of the resolution. He referred to the contracts for the supply of tobacco, opium and ganja. As Mr. Paramesvara Aiyar stated, no contract is given by Government for the supply of tobacco, opium and ganja. Therefore my department cannot do anything in the matter.

But I may mention for the information of the member that there are some other contracts such as the transport of salt, the contract for the distillation and supply of arrack and the contract for the supply of articles of uniform. These are the only contracts given by the Excise Department and I may say that in respect of these contracts very few Travancoreans are coming forward. For the transport of salt, during all the five years that I have been the head of the department, only one Travancorean submitted a tender. His rates were accepted. Wherever possible, without detriment to Government interests, we are accepting the tenders of Travancoreans. More than that it is not possible to do. In regard to the supply of uniform articles some minor articles alone are being tendered for by Travancoreans. In respect of the manufacture and supply of arrack from our distilleries no tender has been submitted by any Travancorean so far.

That is all that my department can do. I may assure the House, that so far as the Excise Department is concerned it has been trying all along to encourage Travancoreans.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the tender for the supply of coco-brandy was advertised?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): All tenders are advertised in the Gazette as well as in the daily papers in Travancore and outside.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It is almost time and if the mover is pressing the resolution I have to put it to the vote of the House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, my idea in bringing forward this resolution.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Are you pressing it?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I may be allowed to explain my position, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The time has already expired. Are you pressing it to a division?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes, Sir.

The resolution was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Assembly adjourned at 5. 5. P. M. sine die.

P. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI,
Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly.

PROCEEDINGS
THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY.

(OFFICIAL REPORT.)

FIRST ASSEMBLY.

NINTH SESSION.

Tuesday, the 23rd February 1937/12th Kumbham 1113.

The Assembly met at Eleven-five of the Clock, in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall, the President presiding.

NEW MEMBERS SWORN IN.

The following official members took the oath and signed the Rolls.

1. Mr. C. V. Chandrasekharan.
2. Mr. K. George.
3. Dr. M. K. Gopala Pillai.
4. Rao Bahadur Rajvasevanirata Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai.
5. Mr. K. Madhava Kurup.
6. Mr. C. O. Madhavan.
7. Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.
8. Mr. R. Pitchu Aiyangar.
9. Rao Bahadur A. Rengasvami Aiyar.
10. Mr. James Simpson.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Ladies belonging to the Veluthedathu Nair Community.

268. *Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of acting female hands who have passed the Vernacular Higher Examination in the Education Department from among the Veluthedathu Nair Community;

(b) the period of their service; and

(c) whether there are permanent hands from the same community in the department (female section)?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

(a) 3.

(b) (1) 1 year and 9 months.

(2) 10 months and 20 days.

(3) 3 years, 8 months and 26 days.

(c) Yes.

G. P. T. 2525, 350.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): With reference to the answer to part (c) of the question, may I know the number of hands so far entertained?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): One.

Grant to the Muslim Associations.

269. *MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the grant allowed to the Muslim associations in Trivandrum for carrying on propaganda work and helping Muslim girls in their education during 1111:

(b) whether the amount was disbursed, and

(c) if so, when and on what basis?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Rs. 60.

(b) Yes.

(c) The grant was disbursed during the period from 20-3-1112 to 28-3-1112. The award of grant was based upon the number of girls admitted and the funds available for the purpose.

Thatched and dilapidated sheds in the Trivandrum District Court.

270. *MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any proposal to remove the thatched and dilapidated sheds from the Trivandrum District Court premises?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No; nor are the thatched sheds dilapidated.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know whether the thatched sheds are airy, ventilated and free from cracks?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I believe there is sufficient ventilation; but I cannot say whether the sheds are free from cracks.

Grant-in-aid V. P. School in Nooranad.

271. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether sanction has been given for opening B Division in Class I in Kutirakettumthadam grant-in-aid V. P. School in Nooranad in Mavelikara taluk; and

(b) the date on which this B Division was opened with the necessary sanction and whether any grant-in-aid has been given for that class till now?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Yes.

(b) 13-1-1111 M. E. No grant has been sanctioned to this division till now.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, may I know why no grant has been sanctioned to this division till now?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Want of funds.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether there are many other cases in which the grant sanctioned has not been given for want of funds?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I do not believe there are many cases.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether any principle is adopted in the distribution and withholding of grants?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir. With regard to new classes and new divisions, the award of grants is exceedingly unlikely owing to financial stringency.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether grant has not been given to any class opened subsequent to 13-1-1111?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I claim notice.

Posting of cases in Courts on Fridays.

272. *MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the circular or rule "that cases in which Muslims appear as parties or witnesses should not be posted on Fridays" is followed or enforced in any court in the State;

(b) whether the courts see that their cases are taken after 2 p. m. only; and

(c) whether this privilege is extended to Muslim vakils also?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) and (b) There is no such circular or rule. The circular in force is to the effect that Mahomedan parties and witnesses concerned in cases before the courts are exempted from appearance till 2 p. m. on Fridays.

(c) Yes, whenever required.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know whether exemptions are granted only on applications by parties and witnesses?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I know that they are exempted from appearance till 2 p. m. on Fridays. It may be on their application or not.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Is the honourable member aware of cases being dismissed for default, due to the parties' failure to appear on Fridays?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

Kadakkarapally-Thanky Church road.

273. *MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the major portion of the lands necessary for the Kadakkarapally-Thanky Church road have been surrendered by the people;

(b) whether they are aware that the cost of acquiring lands of recalcitrant owners has been deposited by the Road Committee in the Shertala Taluk Cutcherry; and

(c) whether land acquisition proceedings have been started?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) The people concerned have agreed to surrender free of cost. the major portion of the lands required for the work.

(b) The probable amount of compensation including 15 per cent solatium awardable under the rules to the recalcitrant owners, viz. Rs. 225-14-6, has been remitted into the Shertala Sub-Treasury and placed under Revenue Deposit on 27-2-1912.

(c) As no agreement has been obtained from the parties consenting to the recovery from them, under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, of any excess amount that may be required to be paid to the recalcitrant land-owners as per the awards of the Land Acquisition Officer or as per decisions of civil courts on references against such awards, the Division Peishkar, Kottayam, has been asked to arrange for such an agreement being taken from the parties concerned. On receipt of the above agreement, necessary action will be taken by Government in the matter.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know from the Government whether the Land Revenue Department has taken possession of the lands already surrendered by the people?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I am unable to say whether the department has taken possession of the lands in question.

Cattle pound in Friday Market.

274. *MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether in 1107 the ryots of Kadiyapattanam pakuthi prayed for a cattle pound at Friday Market near the Pakuthi Cutcherry;

(b) whether sanction was accorded and communicated to the party concerned;

(c) whether the party has built a suitable enclosure for the same; and

(d) whether they have enquired into the matter?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) and (b) Yes.

(c) No.

(d) Yes.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam I): May I know with reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, when the sanction was given?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The date of the sanction is not now available.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know when the sanction was communicated?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I claim notice.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): With reference to the answer to part (d) of the question may I know who made the enquiry?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The report is from the District Magistrate. The enquiry must have been made by the Tahsildar.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know the result of the enquiry?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The gentleman who offered to put up an enclosure for the cattle pound was not prepared to accept the remuneration of Rs. 5.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know whether the party was asked as to whether he would accept a remuneration of Rs. 5?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Why should he be asked? He said he was not prepared.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Without asking the party concerned how did the Government decide that he was not agreeable to run the pound on a remuneration of Rs. 5?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): He must have been asked at the beginning when the matter was sanctioned. Afterwards he was not prepared to run the pound for a remuneration of Rs. 5.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): At the time when the party was asked to put up the building, was this remuneration suggested to him?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): There is a published rule to the effect that only Rs. 5 will be granted as remuneration for a pound-keeper.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Then may I know what does the member mean by the answer "No" with reference to part (c), of the question?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): All that it says is that the party did not put up a suitable enclosure for a cattle pound. That only shows his unwillingness.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): It is stated by the Government member that the party has not put up a building as was originally agreed to by him; and the Government are not prepared to say when they communicated to the party about the putting up of the building. I am unable to reconcile these statements.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The position is this. One Mr. Nilakanta Pillai who had undertaken to put up the building was not prepared at a later stage, to accept the appointment of pound keeper on a remuneration of half the collection of the receipts of the pound subject to a maximum of Rs. 5.

Appointment of teachers from outside the waiting list.

275. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Director of Public Instruction has appointed any person as teacher in the Vernacular section of the department from outside the waiting list during the year 1111;

(b) if so, their names and qualifications;

(c) whether the Director of Public Instruction had obtained the necessary sanction from the Government, and, if so, the number and date of the G. O.; and

(d) the circumstances that necessitated such appointment?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

(a) Yes.

(b) A * statement furnishing the information is placed on the table.

(c) 1st part Yes.

2nd part. A * statement furnishing the information is placed on the table.

(d) To provide some representation to inadequately represented communities or in recognition of high academic qualifications.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, may I know to which community Srimati P. Madhavikutty Amma and P. C. Karthiyanani belong?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): P. C. Karthiyanani is presumably an Ezhava lady, and the other, I believe, is a Kammala lady.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Out of the 10 appointments, may I know how many were made for the reason that the persons belonged to the depressed classes?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): That could be easily gathered from the statement furnished. The qualifications are given in the second column and the names in the first. P. Balakrishna Sarma was obviously appointed for his high academic qualifications whereas Messrs. Mahomed Abdul Khadir Itty and Thomas were appointed because of their community.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know from the member whether the two persons, referred to just a while ago, were alone appointed on the ground that they belonged to the depressed classes, and the others on account of their higher qualifications?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I only mentioned them as instances. For example, Mr. Subramonyan Asari was appointed on account of the backwardness of his community and for his high qualification.

Original suits pending disposal in the Munsiffs' Courts.

276. *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the number of original suits pending disposal in the Munsiffs' Courts referred to below on 15-8-1111.

- (i) The Temporary Munsiff's Court, Trivandrum;
- (ii) Munsiff's Court, Tiruvalla;
- (iii) The Principal Munsiff's Court, Attingal;
- (iv) The Additional Munsiff's Court, Attingal;
- (v) Munsiff's Court, Nedumangad; and
- (vi) Munsiff's Court, Neyyattinkara?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The required † statement is laid on the table.

Original suits, small cause suits etc., in Civil Courts.

277. *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing separately the number of original suits, small cause suits, applications for execution of decrees and civil miscellaneous petitions on the files of the following courts on 18-8-1112:—

- (i) The Principal Munsiff's Court, Tiruvalla;
- (ii) Temporary Munsiff's Court, Tiruvalla;
- (iii) Principal Munsiff's Court, Vaikam;
- (iv) Temporary Munsiff's Court, Vaikam;
- (v) Munsiff's Court, Attingal;
- (vi) Principal Munsiff's Court, Neyyattinkara;
- (vii) Additional Munsiff's Court, Neyyattinkara; and
- (viii) Munsiff's Court, Nedumangad?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): A * statement furnishing the information required is laid on the table.

Improvement of irrigation tanks in the Chirayinkil taluk.

278. *MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Irrigation Engineer has received last year or this year (1111) any representation, from the inhabitants of Kizhavalam pakuthi in the Chirayinkil taluk, regarding the improvement of irrigation tanks; and

† Vide Appendix II page.

* Vide Appendix III page.

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the action taken in the matter?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) An investigation has been conducted and the estimates for two tanks, which alone are worth improving, are under preparation.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know the number of tanks that required improvement, as per the representation from the inhabitants of Kizhavalam pakuthi in the Chirayinkil taluk?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): There are thirty irrigation tanks in the pakuthi.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know why of these 30 only 2 are considered worthy of improvement?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Secretary to Government): The others are small tanks covering an area of about 6 to 30 cents. Only 2 out of six tanks investigated were found good enough to be repaired and improved.

Non-official visitors of hospitals.

279. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have nominated any non-official gentlemen as visitors to the various hospitals in the State;

(b) if so, the names of those gentlemen and the respective hospitals to which they have been so nominated; and

(c) if not, why not?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) No.

(b) In view of the answer to part (a), this does not arise.

(c) Such nomination is not considered necessary.

280. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) who the District Surgeon at Kottayam is;

(b) his qualifications;

(c) how long he has been at Kottayam; and

(d) whether the Government have received any representations for his transfer from Kottayam?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) There is no officer as District Surgeon at Kottayam. If the member means the Medical Officer in charge of the District Hospital, Kottayam, he is Deputy Surgeon Mr. D. W. Isaac;

(b) L. M. & S.

(c) He has been at Kottayam since 2-11-1107.

(d) No such representation has been received.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): May I know the period for which the predecessor of the present incumbent was in charge of the Kottayam District Hospital?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): I claim notice.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): May I know whether there is any rule fixing the period during which a Medical Officer should be in a particular place?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): There is no such rule.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether during hospital hours Medical Officers are allowed to visit patients outside the hospitals?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): They can do so in cases of emergency but must inform the Darbar Physician's office of the same.

Remuneration to Government Doctors.

281. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have put up any notice in the various hospitals in the State forbidding patients to pay any remuneration to Government doctors for attending patients in the hospitals;

(b) if so, what were the causes that led the Government or the Darbar Physician to put up such notices; and

(c) what provision Government have made to see that doctors do not abuse this direction?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) Yes.

(b) To remove a misunderstanding among the public that they have to pay for medicines and treatment in the Government medical institutions.

(c) Enquiry is being made at the time of visits to the different stations if there is any complaint regarding the matter.

282. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any rule at present preventing a doctor from seeing the patients or their relations at the doctor's house; and

(b) whether they are aware that most of the doctors refuse to treat patients in the hospitals who do not visit doctors at their residences?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) No such rule.

(b) Not aware.

283. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of Ophthalmic Hospitals in the State; and

(b) whether Kottayam has got one?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) There is only one Ophthalmic Hospital in the State.

(b) Kottayam has no Ophthalmic Hospital. One of the Sub Assistant Surgeons attached to the District Hospital has had training in the Trivandrum Ophthalmic Hospital.

NOTICES OF ADJOURNMENT MOTIONS.

PRESIDENT: I have received a certain number of notices of motions for the adjournment of the House. There is no rule specifically laying down the order in which I have to ascertain the desire of the House in regard to these motions. I have therefore taken the liberty of choosing the motion which in the nature of things is of the most urgent character. There are two notices of motions more or less on the same matter. One of the motions of Mr. Kuriakose relates to—

“the serious situation created by the recent terrorising misdeeds, such as indiscriminate lathi charges on innocent people, extortion of money, assaulting women and children etc., of a batch of reserve police stationed at Ramangalam in Muvattupuzha taluk, which has caused grave apprehensions among the innocent, peaceful and law-abiding inhabitants of Ramangalam and the surrounding places.”

The other relates to.—

“the serious unrest caused recently at the western frontier of the State, especially in the Piravom Erise Range, as a result of recent struggles between the Erise staff and the smugglers owing to the want of proper and adequate preventive measures in the frontier.”

These two relate to the same matter and I wish to ascertain the desire of the House as to whether the honourable member has the leave of the House to make the motion.

Leave was granted.

PRESIDENT. The motion will be taken up for discussion at 3.30 P. M. to-day.

REGULATIONS ASSENTED TO BY HIS HIGHNESS
THE MAHARAJA.

The Secretary reported that the following Bills have received the assent of His Highness the Maharaja.

1. The Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Bill.
2. The Travancore Rubber Control Bill.
3. The Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Bill.
4. The Travancore Life Assurance Companies Bill.

DEMANDS FOR SUPPLEMENTARY GRANTS.
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Mr. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Sir, I rise to move for a supplementary grant not exceeding Rs. 10,000 for additional wards for the General Hospital, under the P. W. D. heading. Everybody must be aware of the fact that last year a large number of patients had to be accommodated on the floor of the wards and in the verandas and great inconvenience was experienced for want of accommodation. Additional accommodation is a dire necessity. It was therefore decided then to construct four new wards at an estimated cost of Rs. 25,670. But only a sum of Rs. 15,000 was provided for the work in the current year's budget. The construction of three out of the four blocks of buildings is already in progress and is expected to be completed in about three months. Difficulties could be avoided if the fourth block also is taken up and completed with the others. This requires an additional allotment of Rs. 10,000. The amount cannot be found by diversion. Therefore, I request the House to grant this demand.

PRESIDENT : The question before the House is that a grant not exceeding Rs. 10,000 be granted under the Demand—Public Works Department.

The grant was made.

EDUCATION.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 45,000 under Demand—Education. The grant is required for payment of fee compensation to private schools in connection with the Fee Concession Scheme for backward and depressed class pupils. As the House is aware there is a very elaborate Fee Concession Scheme, and the Government have undertaken to compensate private schools, which accept the scheme, to the extent of 75 per cent. of the loss sustained by them. The allotment for this year for this purpose is Rs. 1,10,000 and it is found to be insufficient for meeting all the liabilities under this head. The fact is that owing to financial stringency in the years 1110 and 1111, the allotment under this head was only Rs. 90,000 though the average expenditure every year came to about Rs. 1,10,000. The result has been that a certain amount of arrears has accumulated for the year 1110 and especially for 1111. It is considered desirable that these arrears should be cleared and that the liability for this year is also paid up. The department has been seriously considering proposals for revising the whole Fee Concession Scheme; and, as some honourable members may be aware this scheme was subjected to an exhaustive investigation and scrutiny by the Advisory Board. Proposals have been placed before the Government and are under their serious consideration. If these proposals are accepted there will be a substantial reduction in the financial commitments of Government in future years. It is therefore considered necessary that the present liabilities should be extinguished, before the new scheme can be brought into operation next year. For this purpose a sum of Rs. 45,000 is required and I request that the House will be pleased to grant this amount.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): May I know whether this amount is intended for payment to the depressed class students of 1110 and 1111? Have not those been paid yet?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): The depressed class students had been given full fee concession by the private school Managers, and they have to be compensated to the extent of Rs. 45,000 for the loss sustained by them on that account.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know the number of managements in whose cases these amounts have not yet been paid.

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I have not got all the details with me now. The whole amount has been distributed among the Divisional Inspectors and the Inspectress of Schools, and they are making payments.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know why no provision was made in 1110?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Owing to financial stringency Government cut down the allotment to Rs. 90,000 in 1110 and 1111?

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Why was it not paid in 1111 also?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Financial stringency.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know why adequate provision was not made in the budget for the current year?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): That was why an increased allotment of Rs. 1,10,000 was provided in this year's budget. That is found insufficient.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I suppose the new scheme will begin to operate only from the next financial year?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Yes.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Does this extend to grant-in-aid schools or to all recognised schools?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): To all recognised schools.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Irrespective of the question whether they received grant-in-aid or not?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Yes.

Mr. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know the amount of arrears?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): About Rs. 45,000.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know in what month dues to the private schools under this head are ascertained?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): The process is going on throughout the year. The losses of a certain year are assessed for grants during the coming year.

PRESIDENT: The motion before the House is that Government be granted a sum of Rs. 45,000 on account of fee concession to backward and depressed class pupils in private schools.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The grant was made.

EXCISE.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I beg to move for a supplementary grant not exceeding Rs. 185. This is for the staff to be appointed for the Chowkey opened at the new Edava Railway Station. Whenever a new Railway Station is opened people travel to and fro and goods are booked to and from that station. A Chowkey then becomes necessary for customs examination. The minimum staff of a Chowkey is a Petty Officer on Rs. 18 and two peons, one on Rs. 10 and the other on Rs. 9. The total expenditure per mensem is Rs. 87.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Purur): May I know when this Chowkey was opened?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): On 1st December last. But no staff has been appointed so far. If sanction is obtained from the House the staff will be appointed. For the remaining five months of the year a sum of Rs. 185 is required.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know how the Chowkey was opened without staff?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Temporarily the minimum staff was taken from the Chirayinkil Range. Now they are doing the work.

The demand was put to vote and carried.

The grant was made.

POLICE.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I rise to move for a supplementary grant of Rs. 600 for rewards to Police officers in connection with the special work turned out by them during this year. (Cries of louder please.)

PRESIDENT: The Honourable member will please raise his voice a little.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): By special work I mean the work during the celebrations in connection with the birthday of His Highness the Maharaja and the visit of the illustrious guests, and the Dassara festivals. All these festivities synchronized this year. The Police officers had to over-work themselves. They were compelled to do over-time work. The usual budget provision for rewards is found inadequate; there is only a balance of Rs. 100. (Louder, please.)

PRESIDENT: It is not necessary to go from one extreme to the other. (Laughter.)

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): As these several festivities synchronized, the Police men had additional duties to perform, and were compelled to do over-time work and for that some special consideration has to be shown to them by way of rewards. Hence this motion for supplementary grant.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether this cannot wait till the next Budget Session?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): A special work should be rewarded at once; else it loses its effect. There will be no meaning in rewarding these people after a number of years.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know whether the amount has already been paid?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No. It is only after the grant is sanctioned by the House that the amount can be paid.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether there was any festivity in the current year other than the festivities that we had last year?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes, so many; the Governor's visit, the Temple Entry Proclamation and the situation resulting from it; these caused the Policemen extra work and necessitated anxious watching by them.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is there any allotment in the present year's budget for rewards for such special duties?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): We have got Rs. 100 left out of the budget provision, and that is too small an amount for meeting the present demand. That is the reason why I have come for an additional grant.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know what class of officers are to be rewarded?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Two District Superintendents of Police have already been rewarded with good service entry; and the other classes of officers to be rewarded are the Assistant Superintendents, the Inspectors, the Head Constables and the Constables.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I rise to oppose the demand both on principle and on the ground that such a demand is not warranted by the situation or by the reasons advanced. It is not good policy to give rewards to people for doing their duties. If this reward is given I fear it would amount to our questioning the capacity of the officers for whom these prizes are offered. It would look as though the Commissioner was surprised that these officers were able to do their work. Is it a matter for surprise; and is it as a result of such surprise that the Commissioner is now coming forward with this supplementary demand? Does he really think that these officers are incompetent that they should be given rewards in order that they should do their ordinary work? It is only their legitimate duty that they have discharged. I do not think the award of any prize will be justifiable or necessary.

Another point to be considered is whether they were able to perform their duties well by methods which are not unjust. The Commissioner has not explained that point. We do not know whether the Police Officers have used only legitimate and just means to achieve their ends.

PRESIDENT: Does the hon'ble member refer to the keeping of order during the festivities connected with the Temple Entry Proclamation?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Not at all.

My point is whether the methods by which these officers have been able to preserve order were not terrorising and threatening the people. Then, they do not at all deserve any reward. On the other hand they may even be liable for punishment. That is my view. The Commissioner has not explained that point. The fact that they have not been punished is sufficient reward for them.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Before opposing the demand, I wish to thank the Chair for interrupting the previous speaker with a question about the Temple Entry Proclamation.

PRESIDENT: Order, order; I did so because I did not follow the hon'ble member's argument.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): If it is the argument of the Police Commissioner that the Police had to do extra work in connection with the Temple Entry Proclamation, then I must enter my emphatic protest against the insinuation made by the Police Commissioner. I am here to voice the public opinion. There was absolutely no scope for any doubt that there was any unrest among the people on account of the issue of the Proclamation. As a matter of fact, all people welcomed that Proclamation with one heart. As such, there is no reason for the Police Commissioner to say that the Police had to do any extra work in connection with the Temple Entry Proclamation. That one point is quite sufficient for the House to throw out the demand, as it carries with it its own condemnation. Then with regard to rewards to be given in connection with the festivities held recently at Trivandrum, the Police Officers ought to know.....

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether there were no festivities held in connection with the Temple Entry Proclamation?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Yes, there were many.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether the Police Officers had no special responsibilities in connection with those festivities?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): They had absolutely none. They were also enjoying the festivities like the other people who had gathered; and that itself is a reward for them. The Police also equally enjoyed those festivities with the crowds. Then wherein lies the justification for rewarding them further?

[Mr. M. Sivatanu Pillai.]

Secondly, as the previous speaker said, the principle of this demand is wrong. I am not at all surprised to see the Police Commissioner making a demand of this kind before this House, because he is usually approached with petitions from his subordinates to the effect, "I have not got any black mark in my record of work and so I deserve a promotion or a reward". Sir, I am at a loss to understand why he should come forward with a demand for rewards to be given to Police Officers for doing only their legitimate duties in connection with these festivals. Sir, I can understand reward being given to a Police Officer for daring deeds under trying circumstances involving the risking of his life for instance, or in a case where an officer, by his skill, has found out undetected cases. Sir, in this connection, I may say that, in every corner of the State, there are instances of serious offences where criminals are let off and crimes remain undetected.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): On a point of order; ever so many cases have been detected, Sir.

PRESIDENT: I din't hear you.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Ever so many cases have been detected.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, only small cases involving minor offences have been detected; for instance in our place, one goldsmith has been found out while counterfeiting the copper cash, while, as is well known, the counterfeiting of coins of half rupee and currency notes is going on in a large scale in this State. If such a case is found out I will be only glad to see that the officer is rewarded. But as a rule, these serious offences go undetected as yet. Sir, in my place there was the sensational college murder case. Though a clue was secured by the Police, the culprits were let off. I understand that one of the District Officers of Police concerned with that is intended to be rewarded. Sir, it was a fountain pen that afforded the clue for the discovery of the offender; but the responsible Police Officers who were engaged in the case suppressed that fountain pen. I understand that the officer who was responsible for so suppressing the fountain pen is also in the list of officers now proposed to be rewarded.

PRESIDENT: With reference to this kind of allegation against officers I think honourable members will realise that if an allegation is to be made it ought to be made with particularity so as to enable Government and those responsible to proceed against the officers concerned. I have more than once affirmed that definite charges against officers laid on the floor of the House will be considered by Government and it is not the object of the Government to flinch from pursuing to the utmost degree the recalcitrant officers. I find allegations are made by honourable members on the floor of this House but when those honourable members are asked to substantiate those allegations we hear nothing further. I want to make it clear that if the allegations made are substantiated, Government will move immediately in the matter. (Hear, hear).

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, I offer my heartfelt thanks to the Chair for this assurance.

PRESIDENT: I trust it will not be possible in this House further to repeat vague allegations. But if the name of the officer responsible and particulars of the incidents are given I will give an undertaking on behalf of Government that proceedings will be started immediately. I cannot say whether the result will be in favour of the officer or in favour of those who made the allegations.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, I accept the challenge, coming as it does from the head of the administration.

PRESIDENT: I trust that the names of the officers and other particulars may be given on the floor of this House. And, if necessary, outside also.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Oh! yes. I hope the Chair will permit me one or two minutes more.

PRESIDENT: Yes.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, there was a murder case in Nagercoil three years back in the Scott Christian College compound. The Police were not able to find out the persons involved. Naturally, as I have some influence in the locality, I was approached with a request to help the Police to find out the offenders. I gave my hearty co-operation and help and two persons were caught. They were asked about the details of the incident and the Police got a certain clue from them.

PRESIDENT: Order, order.

I am sensible of the fact that the honourable member wishes to give particulars. But as we are now concerned with the question of the rewards to be given to police officers in connection with the recent festivities, I trust that the honourable member will give those particulars formally to Government for the purpose of enabling them to investigate and take necessary steps in the matter.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, I should be very glad to do so. Now, my point is whether that officer connected with the Nagercoil affair is included in the list of officers to whom rewards are to be given.

PRESIDENT: In justice to the officers concerned the honourable member will mention names.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, I understand that one of the rewards is to be granted to Mr. Sivasankara Pillai, District Superintendent of Police, Nagercoil.

PRESIDENT: The Police Commissioner will say if that is a fact; and if so how the information got out. (C)

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is no reward claimed here for Mr. Sivasankara Pillai.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Sir, I offer my thanks to the honourable member for the correction; but I understand that in this connection he is to be put in good services record. If so, that is also a reward though not in money.

Sir, the Police officers are expected to do their duty for which they are responsible and they could little expect any reward from Government. Rewards are intended for exceptional skill or meritorious service and not for doing one's duty. If rewards are given to those officers who were specially engaged during these festivities complaints may arise from others who were not given that chance. Rewards can be given for instance during police sports when all will have equal opportunities. Here certain officers are chosen by the department and they are asked to do a particular work. They come here.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. The Police Commissioner will say whether the officers to be rewarded are from Trivandrum or from any other place.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): They were all from Trivandrum.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): What I meant was that instead of doing their duty in their respective places, they were asked to go over to Trivandrum in connection with these festivities. So, if they are rewarded, it will create discontent in the minds of other officers. In these circumstances, I do not find myself in a position to support this demand.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I wish to make a few remarks in opposing this demand. Sir, I do not oppose this demand on the ground that reward is not necessary for work done. But I wish the Police Commissioner to make out a case for a demand of this nature. First of all, he has to satisfy the House how this demand can be considered as an emergent necessity so as to be brought in as a supplementary demand. He ought to know that a supplementary demand is brought forward only under special circumstances. This House watches with jealous care any infraction of the rules laid down for financial control. The Commissioner should satisfy the House how this demand is urgent. I suggested by way of a question that there is no occasion for any emergency with regard to this demand, and he answered that we ought not to wait for years to give rewards to the police officers concerned. Why should he not wait till the Budget Session? At the time of the Budget Session this demand can be made. Otherwise, he has to make out how it is necessary to give the rewards at once. He has also to supply details as to the kind of service or work for which the rewards are to be given and in what proportion the amount is to be distributed. If he had made these matters clear I hope Sir, there would not have been any objection in getting this demand passed. He ought to have made these points clear, and not rest content with a bold statement. "I want Rs. 600 for payment of rewards for certain kind of work done during the recent festivities at Trivandrum". We know very well, Sir, this year, in the capital there have been festivities on a phenomenal scale, and a very large number of people came here, congregated and took part in those festivities. But all passed off peacefully due to the discipline of the crowd as well as the great tact and consummate skill exercised by the police officers in handling situations. That must be admitted.

I am not at one with Mr. Sivatanu Pillai in saying that rewards can be offered only for risking one's life or for doing something heroic in the crude sense of the term. Rash men may rush into danger at the risk of their lives and fortune may favour them, and they may come out successful. It is much more difficult to control oneself and exercise restraint in exercising one's powers. That is a greater demonstration of skill and self control. That can be said in favour of our Police force as a whole. We want their disciplined strength in tackling situations tactfully. And such conduct deserves encouragement. Such a demonstration, though not ostentatious, has to be made in times like this when mobs have to be dealt with in a tactful manner. I am sensible of the fact that the Police have done splendid work in peacefully co-operating with the public in seeing that the various festivities were conducted in harmony and without any hitch, which sometimes occurs. I consider that work meritorious and worthy of a reward. But the Police Commissioner said that he is going to offer this reward for overtime work done. Then it is not reward; it is money earned. Services have to be paid for. The Police Commissioner has not made it clear whether he proposes to pay rewards or overtime allowance. I hope he will make that clear and also answer the other points I have raised. With these words I resume my seat.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know whether the member feels that the Commissioner of Police himself has had to do a lot of work.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Details have not been given. Rewards are given to subordinate officers as an incentive for future work and as an example for the outside Police force. My friend Mr. Sivatanu Pillai was stating that this reward was unnecessary because the people throughout the State could not earn it. It will not be possible for a Police officer in Trivandrum to detect a smuggling case in Muvattupuzha and earn a reward. It happens that some people get.....

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Only a question was put to the member.

PRESIDENT: It is a long answer.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): It happens in the world that some people alone get opportunities.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir, I support the demand, but with a qualification. I do not subscribe to the position that because a Police officer has done a little more work than he would do in normal times, he should be given a reward. The appreciation of Government should not be confined to any particular department. There are the Shorthand Reporters in this House. If a man talks in a very low voice or if a man talks very idiomatic English, which an ordinary shorthand writer may not follow, or if a man talks bad English, the Shorthand Reporter.....

PRESIDENT: Order, order. Without the consent of the Head of Administration an increase in grants cannot be made, for the Shorthand Reporters.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I was only pointing out a parallel case in which the Head of the Department may come forward with a supplementary Demand. One more instance is that of the Nayar Brigade who in going through the various processions have to experience heavy rain or scorching heat. I can bear witness to the fact of the soldiers falling down due to oppressive heat during the Sasthamangalam Procession last year. Now, that is suffering indeed. I do not want to minimise the importance of the work done by the Police. The rank and file of them are doing very good work. There is very great discipline and willingness to work on the part of the Police officers, high and low. What I wish to submit before this House is that Government should recognise meritorious service in all cases, whether it is done by the Police or by the Military, or by any other branch of the Administration. If a man does exceedingly good work he must be rewarded. Because a little more work was done for special reasons during a specified time, that should not entitle the Police Officer alone for a reward.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether in the case of executive officers who have to be about and available for work always, any reward should be given for overtime work?

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I know that Police Officers and Magistrates, like the Tribunes in ancient Rome, have always to be on duty so that any man would have the right to approach him for help both by day and by night. If the Police Commissioner is satisfied that a particular officer has done meritorious work, his claims for reward may be considered; but, the Commissioner will have to put his reasons before the Government and the Government may in the circumstances of the claim make up their minds that a meritorious reward should be given. But, simply because a little more work was done I am not prepared to accede to the view that a reward should be granted. With that qualification, namely, that if the Police Commissioner and Heads of other departments are satisfied through uncontested reasons, and if the Government is also satisfied on a close examination of the facts that a reward should be given, I am in favour of it.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Does the member support or oppose the demand?

PRESIDENT: I do not think the honourable member is called upon to construe his own speech.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, I was a little amused when I heard the Police Commissioner pleading for an allotment of Rs 600 for distribution of rewards among the officers. The argument advanced was that during the festivities the Police were considerably strained and that they have legitimately earned a reward. I have read the Police Regulation. I know the Police force in the State; and, in regard to the work that they have turned out during the recent festivities, I am not in a position to see anything which they have done in excess of what they are generally called upon to do. If the plea is that they have been called upon to strain themselves a bit, I would ask whether the Police Commissioner himself did not do more work. I wish to know whether the Chief Secretary himself had not a good lot of additional work to turn out in connection with the festivities as well as the clerks of the Secretariat. I wish to know, Sir, whether during the large assembling of people, the Public Health Department had not more work to do.

It was said, Sir, that the Police are entitled to some reward. When do we think of making rewards to persons who have done some work? My humble opinion is that we think of making a reward only when an officer has done something in excess of what is naturally expected of him. To preserve peace and order is the ordinary routine work of the policeman. In connection with the festivities and processions I was not able to see anything more than this. If we are going to take into account the discharge of the legitimate duties of these people as entitling them to earn a reward, my fear is that we will be thereby corrupting the Police. No Policeman is entitled to expect, for doing his legitimate and ordinary duties, a reward from Government. He is bound to preserve order. He is bound to do the work which the District Officer directs him to do. If he neglects to do it, he will be a renegade, and will be punished. As Mr. Sivatanu Pillai has pointed out, I can understand the claim for a reward if there had been a fire which broke out as a result of the festivities, and the Police had exerted themselves and extinguished the fire and saved loss of life and property. In that connection some of us would also have given our help and done something out of the way. What is it that the Police have done? They preserved order among the men who went in an orderly manner. If the Policeman asks me to keep my side, I automatically do it. If I go to Spencer's leaving my car on the road and if the Policeman says "Take away your car," I immediately do so. Why? Because I want to preserve order. I do not want to break the law and make confusion on the public road. Is the Policeman to earn the reward, or am I to earn it? We are becoming more and more educated; we love peace; we want to see everything conducted in the State on an orderly basis. We the people, are entitled to greater rewards than the Policemen. They have been posted in various places and they have been keeping the crowds in order, and for this a reward is to be earned by the A. S. P. I can go down to the Inspector. Even that is highly wrong in principle. Something may be given to the men and not to the officers.

[Mr. Pathupalli S. Krishna Pillai.]

Should not the Commissioner also be given something? The Commissioner very honourably says 'I do not come in for the reward'. If that is so, the D. S. P's. should also be induced to say that they do not want it. The A. S. P's also must be made to say that. The Inspectors should refuse to receive the reward. I can understand low paid men, like the Constables who are overworked, being given something by way of solatium for the great strain they had to undergo. But, do not make an exception in the case of the Police. They are bound to behave properly towards the public. As Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai said, there is considerable self-restraint on the part of the Police because there was no exhibition of force by them. I do not accept that sort of argument. If that argument is accepted the public also should be rewarded because they did not exhibit any force. With these few observations, I support the suggestion that the whole of this fund should not be utilised but only that portion of it which is proposed to be given to the Head constables and the Constables.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): I did not wish to intervene in this debate until I heard the Commissioner of Police speaking about the carrying out of the Temple Entry Proclamation and the strain it caused to the Police. That does not appear to be a correct statement of facts. The Temple Entry Proclamation was given effect to throughout Travancore with the hearty co-operation of the public and without any special effort on the part of the Police. It would be giving a wrong colour to the Proclamation and to its effect in Travancore if we were to say that that Proclamation was brought into operation only with the help of the Police. And so, if that is one of the reasons stressed for Policemen getting rewards, I must strongly oppose the demand.

I am at one with my friend Mr. Pathupalli S. Krishna Pillai when he said that no portion of this reward should go to the higher officers of the department. He spoke of the Constables and Head constables. I am prepared to include the Inspectors also. So far as the D. S. P's are concerned I believe the Commissioner said that they were to be given certificates and that they were not going to get any portion of this reward. I must exclude the A. S. P's also.

PRESIDENT: Order, Order. Is there any formal amendment before the House.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): No, I do not propose any amendment. I wish to hear the Commissioner of Police on this matter, and then I shall decide about my vote.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I also wish to speak a few words on this motion. The Commissioner of Police has made a demand for Rs. 600 for rewards to Police officers for additional work in connection with certain festivities in Trivandrum. Festivities in Trivandrum are not an unusual feature. Every year we find something or other requiring some exertion on the part of the Police. Sometimes we find that the Police have to exert much more than usual.

With regard to the Temple Entry Proclamation, I do not think the Commissioner of Police would lay much emphasis on that. On account of his low voice, I did not hear him fully about that. He referred to the Birthday festivities, and to the Dassara festival. The latter is a festival which takes place in Bangalore or Mysore, and not here. We have only the Poojayeduppu procession here. Sir, giving rewards for such purposes is a bad precedent. For this purpose the Police Commissioner wants a supplementary grant. We find, in the budget for 1112, two separate provisions: there is an item called special rewards amounting to Rs. 1,000, and also another item amounting to Rs. 1,200. When a supplementary grant is asked for, the Police Commissioner must say whether the amount sanctioned in the budget has already been spent. He must also give details of the way in which he proposes to spend Rs. 600. Without these details it will not be possible for us to vote for this demand. I even fear that this motion for supplementary grant will not be in order if he does not make out a case that the amount allotted is insufficient and that a need has arisen for a supplementary demand. With these words I oppose the demand.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, I wish to make one or two observations on this motion. It has been pointed out in this House that the Police, in preserving order during the various festive occasions this year, have only done their legitimate duty. It is true, Sir, that it is the duty of the Police to preserve order. But it so happened that, this year, a number of festivities almost synchronized or came one after another in close succession. The festivities connected with His Highness the Maharaja's Birthday and the Poojayeduppu do not usually come closely together; there used to be an interval between them. But, this year, all these festivities more or less synchronized. Along with these there were also the festivities connected with the Temple Entry Proclamation. The Police had naturally to exert themselves and had to subject themselves to greater strain and stress this year than in previous years. That is one point.

The second point I wish to advert to is this: The ordinary duty of preserving order in normal times is not so severe as that of preserving order on occasions when thousands of people assemble together. Honourable members are aware for instance, of the large concourse of people at the maidan in front of the railway station when Gandhiji was presented with an address, the large crowd that have assembled there when the Harijans submitted an address to His Highness the Maharaja and the still larger crowd that was present on the Parade ground when the Ezhavas presented an address to His Highness. Those were extraordinary occasions which attracted unusually large crowds. No doubt, in those crowds there might have been a large number of people like my friend Mr. Puthupalli S. Krishna Pillai who exercised great self-control. But I do not think that in a crowd of thousands of people all will be Puthupalli Krishna Pillais. There may be a number of persons who will not be able to exercise self-control. I believe it was on account of the good work done by the Police that such huge crowds were properly controlled. These were extraordinary occasions, and the Police Commissioner recommended that some reward—you may call it reward, solatium, or compensation—should be given to the Police.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether the Police department was the only department that did extra work during the festivities?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Police department was mainly concerned with the preservation of order and I believe that, of all departments, that department had to bear the brunt of the work. Those who did the work deserve encouragement at the hands of the Government.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know what part of this grant will go to the Constables and what part to the higher officers?

PRESIDENT: The Police Commissioner will elucidate that point.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether this will be included in the service rolls?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Police Commissioner will answer that question also. All that I wish to point out is that in recognition of the good work done by the Police on these extraordinary occasions Government thought that it was only proper that some reward was given to the men concerned.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know what portion of the amount allotted in the budget has already been spent?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Police Commissioner will answer that question.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, I am prepared to support the demand if the Police Commissioner will make a statement separating the grant for the Constables and Head constables, from the total grant now asked for. If he is not prepared to ask for a grant only for the purpose of rewards to the constabulary, I will not be able to support the demand.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, if the Police Commissioner will assure us that the whole amount will be spent as rewards to the Head Constables and the Constables who were doing their duties in connection with the festivities in Trivandrum, certainly this House will vote for the grant. If, on the other hand, it is the idea of the Police Commissioner to give rewards to the District Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents and Inspectors, certainly this demand will be vetoed.

In connection with the Assistant Superintendents of Police I wish to make a few observations for the information of this House and of the Government. This House must be thankful to the Government when the President assured this House that if members are prepared to make out a case against any officer with regard to corruption Government will take action immediately. A few months ago a murder case took place at Thammala in Vithura.

PRESIDENT: When I made those observations I did not make them with a view to raise a general discussion, on the conduct of Police officers, in the course of the discussion on this demand for rewards. All that I was concerned with and I repeat it emphatically once again for the information of this House and for the people outside, was that if honourable members of this House, or other responsible persons openly and definitely make an accusation against a Police officer, such accusation will be promptly and immediately attended to. That was all that I desired to say. Therefore the honourable member need not elucidate the details of the murder case just now.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Since the Police Commissioner has come forward with a demand for a reward to be given to the A. S. P's., I have to say a word about the Trivandrum A. S. P. in connection with his duty in a recent murder case at Nedumangad. I submit for the information of the House that the A. S. P. does not deserve any reward. On the other hand he deserves punishment in the light of his conduct he has exhibited in certain cases.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will no doubt give that information to the responsible quarter concerned.

The point is that the honourable members, when making allegations in this House are protected, and it will be very unfair to the officers who are not represented in this House that accusations should be made against them under cover of such protection. Therefore, if honourable members, like the other members of the public, have to make charges against officers they should do so definitely and openly in order that investigation may be proceeded with on that basis. The Government will not proceed on allegations of this kind unless the members making the allegations are willing to take full responsibility for them, since they are likely to cost the fortunes and the future of hardworking officers. In cases where punishments are called for, of course, Government are prepared to visit such officers with condign punishments. (Mr. Sivatanu Pillai: hear, hear). Nevertheless such accusations should not be made under cover of the privileges of this House (Hear, hear).

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): When I speak about the corrupt conduct of the Trivandrum A. S. P. I am definite about my statements, and I take up full responsibility for the statements I make. I had submitted a statement some time back to the President showing the facts of the corrupt conduct of the present A. S. P. at Trivandrum; and I do not know what has become of it.

PRESIDENT: That matter will be investigated.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Thank You, Sir. With regard to the grant before the House, if the Police Commissioner will say that the whole amount is to be given as special allowance to the Police constables and the Head-constables engaged in connection with the visit of Gandhiji and the Temple Entry celebrations, etc., I can give my support.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I never expected that this House would require any lengthy explanation on this subject. Having known full well what all festivities, processions and so forth Trivandrum witnessed in connection with the visit of Gandhiji and the Temple Entry celebrations, and having known what all difficult, delicate and even dangerous situations the Police had to face, I little thought there will be such a serious opposition to this small demand.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Can the Commissioner give one instance of a dangerous situation that arose during those occasions?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Honourable members must realise that the Police had to deal with all sorts of people. In a crowd, there will be gentlemen as well as criminals. There may be the law-abiding and lawless people. The Police have to exercise their discretion and sound judgment. This is indeed a very serious situation.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether there were conflicting interests?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): In almost all such occasions there are the law-abiding on the one side and the lawless on the other. Police have to deal with these two sets of people cautiously. During the festive occasions the crowd will generally be unmanageable. It is one of the many occasions when the Police have to behave honourably. During Gandhiji's visit also there were dangerous situations and the Police have behaved in a very exemplary way.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): I did not hear what the member said about Gandhiji's visit.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I do not hear the member.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): All that I want to know is what the Police Commissioner said about the behaviour of the Police during the time of Gandhiji's visit to Travancore.

PRESIDENT: All that the Police Commissioner said was that Gandhiji visited Travancore (Laughter.)

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Those occasions were one of very great and exceptional strain in the annals of Police Administration. The situations were very extraordinary. The situation had to be judiciously controlled.

So far as the Police are concerned, Gandhiji complimented our Police that they deserved comparison with the London Police, in point of efficiency, thoroughness and politeness. I have no idea of the London Police myself. Mr. Gandhi is a person who has travelled all over the world, and it is really a compliment to our Police.....

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Can the Commissioner expect a greater reward than that?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There may be greater rewards and still greater rewards in time to come. But,

I want to encourage my men by granting money rewards. If this small demand is granted it will only further improve their behaviour towards the public.

As regards the distribution of the amount, of the sum of Rs. 600, Rs. 300 goes to the Constables, Rs. 105 to the Head-constables, and the balance to 17 Inspectors and 3 A. S. P's. No D. S. P. is to get any portion of this amount.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Could not the A. S. P's, also be excluded in that manner?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The A. S. P's form the 'brain' power and the constabulary the 'limb'. What is the use of having the limb alone without the brain. For direction and control, brain is necessary. (Laughter).

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Is there not the Police Commissioner to supply brain power? He does not seem to figure in the scheme at all.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes.

So far as this amount is concerned I have already stated how much of the amount goes to the Constables and what proportion goes to the superior officers. I have already explained how the A. S. P's deserve the reward.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Were all the best men in the Police Force engaged for this purpose?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): It is not possible to depute all of them.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam): In that case, is it not depriving other able men of the opportunity to earn rewards?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): All the 2,000 officers in the Police Force cannot be concentrated in the Trivandrum town during festive occasions. We have selected the best officers in the department.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether there is any objection to call this reward as an allotment for extra work?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): This is a reward not only for meritorious work done by the Police but also for the preservation of law and order. There are virtuous qualities which are expected to be exhibited by a Police Officer and for which rewards are to be given. The grant that I have asked for is only for a particular behaviour of the Police viz., the meritorious services done by them during the visit of Gandhiji in connection with the Temple Entry celebration. No Policeman has been responsible for any offensive act during the recent festivities.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether all the Constables engaged in this work will get a portion of this reward?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes. I do not make any distinction between one policeman and another.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum Rural): Then, why not call this a payment for excess work done by them?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Over-time work is a different thing. There is difference between payment for over-time work and reward for meritorious service.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): What is the amount that is proposed to be given to a Constable?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): One rupee for each Constable; it is only as a sort of encouragement to these people. We feel hailed when we take a cup of coffee during certain occasions. It is only in that manner the Constables will take the reward. If rewards are made like this during occasions involving extra strain to the Constables, they will feel encouraged.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Then what about the A. S. P's?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Because they are superior officers they require superior food. They will not be satisfied with a cup of coffee alone.

PRESIDENT: Should we go to the ultimate destination of the one rupee affair? (Laughter).

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have nothing more to add.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know the balance available out of the budget allotment for rewards?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): For all the three Districts together the amount is inadequate; we have only Rs. 100 left.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I move an amendment? The amount to be paid as reward to the constabulary may be put to vote separately.

PRESIDENT: That was why I invited the honourable members to make amendments if they are so minded, in the beginning. But none of them came forward with any amendment.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): That was because we did not know what the Police Commissioner was going to say.

PRESIDENT: Now the discussion is not concluded. Therefore the honourable members are at liberty to propose any amendment at this stage.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): With your permission Sir, I beg to make the following amendment viz.,

"The allotment of Rs. 600 be reduced to Rs. 405 and that the grant be limited to making payments to the Constables and the Head-constables, the amount being considered as allowance for over-time work."

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): I second it.

MR. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): May I speak on the amendment, Sir.

PRESIDENT: Yes.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Honourable members will be aware that complaints come to me about the subordinate officers of the Police department, and that there is lack of direction by the superior officers of the department. It is brain power that is very important. Such officers alone can be alive to the sense of responsibility in the discharge of work. As I said, and I repeat it again, the superior officers form the brain and the subordinate officers the limb; and they are required for control and direction of the subordinate officers. In voting this demand, I request that the members will consider this aspect of the matter.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Was there not a time when the Police functioned without the A. S. P's?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes. At that time there were Circle Inspectors now, A. S. P's, have replaced them. There was the brain there, always.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pathanamthitta): Will not the brain be satisfied with good service entry records?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have considered the question carefully, and I have made the choice; good service entry will not be sufficient in the present case. I have explained to the House the importance of the case and how the supervising officers should be given money rewards.

PRESIDENT: The motion before the House made by the Police Commissioner is that this House should grant a sum of Rs. 600 for rewards to the Police Officers in connection with festivities at Trivandrum. To that motion an amendment has been moved that the sum of Rs. 600 should be reduced to Rs. 405 and the rewards, or the allowance as they may be called, should be confined to the Constables and the Head constables. I now put the amended motion to the vote of the House.

The amended motion was put to the vote of the House and carried and the grant was made.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION, EXCLUDING FINANCIAL SECRETARIAT, ACCOUNT OFFICE AND LEGISLATIVE BODIES.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, I move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 2,620 under Demand V—General Administration, excluding Financial Secretariat, Account Office and Legislative Bodies. This amount is required for payment to the staff engaged for the Revision of the State Manual. Honourable members know that the State Manual is now being revised and that a provision of Rs. 7,000 is included in the Budget for the current year for the purpose. This amount was included in the Budget at a time when Government did not decide who should be entrusted with the work, what remuneration should be pay to him and what staff should be sanctioned to him. It was only possible to include an approximate figure in the Budget. Now, we have settled all those details; the gentleman to revise the State Manual has been chosen and he has started the work.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pathanamthitta): May I know why the Government considered that a revision of the State Manual was necessary?

PRESIDENT: When was the State Manual prepared?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Some thirty years ago.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): So, is it for the incorporation of events subsequent to the publication of the Manual, or for the revision of even the facts contained in it that the revision has been arranged for?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The whole publication has to be examined. Government think it useful to have a publication more or less on the lines of the District Gazetteers of the Madras Presidency. The present State Manual is a useful publication, but it has to be compressed into reasonable proportions. It should be a book of reference on various matters of Travancore. Government therefore think it necessary not merely to add what has taken place subsequent to the publication of the present State Manual but even to revise and condense what is already there. Sadasya Tilaka T. K. Velu Pillai has been entrusted with the work and the Government have promised him an honorarium of Rs. 7,000. He cannot do this work alone; he has to be assisted by a staff. There is no provision for that in the Budget. A staff has since been entertained, consisting of a manager on Rs. 75, 8 clerks on Rs. 25 each, a stenographer on Rs. 30, a typist on Rs. 25 and 5 peons on Rs. 9 each. Besides these Mr. G. R. Pillai, Assistant Registrar of Co-operative Societies and Mr. P. N. Kunjan Pillai, Ag. Lecturer in the Arts College have also been deputed to work in collaboration with Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai. They have to be paid their ordinary salary. Besides these, Messrs T. K. Joseph, K. Sivaramakrishna Sastri, V. Venkitarama Sarma and K. Damodaran have also been asked to assist the Special Officer. These gentlemen have done some special work of historical importance in various branches and they have been asked to assist Mr. Velu Pillai during holidays and leisure hours for which they will be paid a bonus. Mr. T. K. Joseph will be paid Rs. 100 and the others Rs. 75 each. The amount required for the pay of the staff for four months comes to Rs. 2,000 and a sum of Rs. 220 for contingencies is also included in the demand.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know the special qualifications of these officers?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I think it is known to the Honourable members that Mr. T. K. Joseph has done some work of historical importance; so also the other gentlemen.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know whether any revision of the statements in regard to the historical facts is considered necessary?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It may be that new facts have been brought to light since the publication of the State Manual, and in the light of such new discoveries it may be necessary to revise the Manual.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know how the Government came to know that there were new facts discovered?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The Archaeological Department has brought to light several new facts and so also the work of scholars like Mahakavi Oolur S. Paramesvara Aiyar. These should be incorporated in the State Manual.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): May I know who is the final authority to make these corrections?

PRESIDENT: I think it would be convenient if Honourable members will say what they have to say at the end of the Chief Secretary's remarks.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): When does the period of four months begin?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai entered upon his duty on the 17th of October 1936 and the staff he has asked for has been sanctioned from the 7th of January 1937. So, the period of four months commences from the 7th January 1937, and it is hoped that during this period the work, or at least a major portion of it, will be finished, that is why provision is made only for four months.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether in the intervening period since October, any work was done by the Special Officer?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I think so. The total amount required is Rs. 2,620. Without the staff, Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai will not be able to make much head-way. I hope the House will allow the demand.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the persons who have been appointed in the place of the Officers appointed to help the Special Officer are given the same salary?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Assistant Registrar of Co-operative Societies Mr. G. R. Pillai has been appointed as an assistant to the Special Officer and the person appointed in his place gets the starting pay of the Assistant Registrar.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the place of of the Assistant Registrar is kept vacant?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether any saving has been effected by these arrangements.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): As Assistant Registrar Mr. G. R. Pillai was getting the minimum pay of the appointment, Rs. 150 and as Assistant to the Special Officer he gets the same pay there is no saving on that account.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I rise to a point of order, whether savings effected in other departments are relevant to the discussion before the House.

PRESIDENT : There is a thirst for information.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : In the place of the person selected to assist the Special Officer, another on a lower salary may be appointed; and a saving may thus be effected.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : I have explained the necessity for the grant I have asked for. It is required for the payment of salary to the staff and bonus to the officers and for contingencies. I hope the House will allow the demand.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : May I know whether the original provision did not include the pay of the staff.

1. RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : At that time it was not possible to include the amount required for the staff. Then it was not decided as to who should be entrusted with the work, what work he would have to do, what honorarium should be paid to him and what staff would have to be sanctioned. It was subsequently decided that the gentleman chosen should be given an honorarium of Rs. 7000; and that is all the amount that is provided in the budget.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : May I know whether it was in the contemplation of the Government that an additional amount would be required, besides the honorarium, for payment to the staff?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : It was not at first decided whether it should be entrusted to a non-official on payment of an honorarium; or to an officer already in service. It was subsequently decided that it should be entrusted to a non-official.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : May I know whether, when the sum of Rs. 7,000 was provided in the budget, it was in the contemplation of the Government that it should cover the whole expenditure, including the pay of the staff and the salary for the officer or the honorarium for the non-official?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : It was only an approximate figure. The exact amount could not be known then. It was thought that it would be possible to get a competent non-official for less than the honorarium now fixed.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : May I know whether the honorarium is to be paid according to the work done or the status of the person?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : According to the merits and qualifications the person.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamtilia) : May I know whether applications were invited from non-officials?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : Government considered the claims of several non-officials; and they think that the one selected is the best.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittla): May I know the names of some of the non-officials who had applied?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I am sorry, I cannot give out the names.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilsvankod): May I know whether the scheme of entrusting the work to a committee was considered?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I saw it stated in some newspapers that the work might be entrusted to a committee. But the Government thought it better to entrust it to a single individual.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittla): May I know whether any officer was thought of by Government, for this work.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): What the Government thought of or contemplated to do is confidential.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether any instructions were issued as to the period within which the work must be completed?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittla): Why was it considered by Government that no officer under Government would be competent to do this work?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I have already given the reasons why Government chose a non-official to do this work.

MISS HEPZIBHA GNANASIKAMONY (Nominated): Sir, I support the demand; but I wonder why this should be brought as a supplementary demand. The sum demanded i. e., Rs. 7,000 seems to be a fair sum. The person who should do this work, whether he be a non-official or official will need extra clerical staff; and Government ought to have foreseen this and specified everything even at the time of the framing of the general budget.

The reason why I support this demand is this. The State Manual is not available anywhere at present. We are using books which were printed once upon a time. Travancore History is now made compulsory in the VI Form and to teach History in the VI Form, the State Manual is a very useful book. Apart from the point of view of examination it is very good to have a proper record of Travancore History. Regarding the person who has been appointed to do this work, I think the Government have chosen the right person. Mr. T. K. Velu Pillai has already written a history of Travancore which is very valuable for the students in the High Schools.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, on a point of order. The motion before the House is for a supplementary grant. May I know whether a general discussion on the demand can be allowed on this occasion? The question of propriety or otherwise of the choice of the person does not arise at all.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will proceed.

MISS HEYZIBAH GNANASIKAMONY (Nominated): Sir, I have to make another suggestion also. The Chief Secretary said that the book must be compressed.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Did he say compressed?

MISS HEYZIBAH GNANASIKAMONY (Nominated): Sir, he did say "compressed". I have noted it down. If it is compressed, I do hope that portions will not be left out; the details must not be left out. In fact I want more pictures and more details to be added so that it may be a solid and full record of the history of our State. With these words I support the demand.

PRESIDENT: The motion before the House is that the House should grant a sum not exceeding Rs. 2,620 for the staff for the revision of the State Manual.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I want to raise an objection. I thought that discussion on this motion will be continued after lunch.

PRESIDENT: I looked round to see whether any honourable member intended to speak on this motion. But nobody seemed to rise. I thought of prolonging the discussion five or six minutes more because we started a little late. But I am entirely in the hands of the House. When I look round I expect honourable members to be on the alert.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittla): On a point of order, Sir. Why not we take up the discussion after lunch?

PRESIDENT: There is no point of order in that.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I must say that this method of bringing in supplementary demands must be protested against by the House. Government members should not be heard to say in this House that they did not consider properly when they put forward demands in the budget. That goes against the very fundamental principle which ought to guide Government in making allotments in the budget. We are led to suspect from the disclosures made by the Government member whether items like this have not been provided in the budget, without due consideration. If that be so, the budget is not going to be a guide of our financial position. It is a serious matter, and the Government must explain how the Budget allotment happened to be fixed at Rs. 7,000. Government ought to have considered the work involved and then made the provisions, and they ought to have chosen a suitable person for the amount allotted in the Budget. The Budget ought to have provided for the necessary staff also. Sir, it is very difficult for us to oppose when a demand is made for a necessary purpose. Our position is very delicate. The State Manual needs revision, and so we are not in a position to deny the facilities for doing it. I must say, Sir, that Government are putting us in a very difficult position by bringing in a supplementary demand under such circumstances. They have provided for this in the budget with a simple statement "Revision of the State Manual Rs 7000". By no stretch of imagination could we realise that it did not include the provision for the staff. Any reasonable man will take it that the allotment of Rs. 7000 was for the honorarium, for the pay and allowances of the staff, for the pay of the peons, for contingencies, etc. That is the only way in which it could be understood. That is my first complaint against this demand.

Also, we ought to pay particular attention to restrict the loose way in which supplementary demands are made. Sir, there are specific rules stating under which circumstances a demand for a supplementary grant can be made. Government must have been in a position to foresee this expenditure when they framed the budget. May I ask what prevented them from foreseeing the possibility of an eminent man taking up the work of revising the State Manual? Did they not know which person should be appointed and what honorarium should be given? I say that it could have been easily ascertained. If the Government had gone for a man of the lower status but one who is equally competent to do this work, they might have saved something out of the honorarium. I cannot understand why an expert on co-operation from the Co-operative Department has been chosen to do the work of revising the State Manual. I know that gentleman is the author of some books and he has got a facile pen; but, my fear is that he may be entrusted to do the whole work.

MR. A. THAMU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural) : What harm is there if, as the member says, he is competent to do it?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : That is what I am also driving at. If that gentleman is to do the whole work, where is the necessity for a sum of Rs. 7,000 as honorarium to another gentleman. It is also not clear whether all the staff asked for is necessary or not. I have also got another doubt, namely, whether the Government will not come in with another supplementary demand and for a further extension of the period.

PRESIDENT : The honorable member is rather pessimistic this morning.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Sir, I want an assurance from Government that this supplementary grant would be actually utilised only after carefully considering all the aspects of the matter, and I do hope that the Government will not come forward again with a further supplementary demand for this item.

The House adjourned for lunch at 1-11 P. M., and reassembled a 2-2 P. M. with the President in the Chair.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II) : Sir, I beg to point out that the right person had been chosen for the revision of the State Manual. He is a person who knows Tamil, Malayalam and English.

PRESIDENT : I do not think that comes within the scope of this supplementary grant.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II) : I support this motion and beg to add that a competent person has been appointed.

The motion was put to the vote of the House and carried and the grant was made.

AYURVEDA.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASENAVIRATA D.R. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, I beg to move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 3,200 under Ayurveda. This amount is intended for the payment of the rent for the buildings in which the Ayurveda College and the Pharmacy are located. There is provision in the budget for the current year's rent; but an additional amount is required to pay off the rent from Mithunam 1109 to Mithunam 1111. Provision was made in the budgets for those years but there was nobody to receive payment, and the provisions lapsed. The owner was a minor and the rent could not be paid to him. Now, he has become a major, and the arrears of rent have to be paid. The total amount required is Rs. 3,200. I hope the House will allow this demand.

The motion was put to the vote of the House and carried. The grant was made.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SANITATION.

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Sir, I beg to move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 6,500 for the continuance of the temporary hospitals and dispensaries opened in connection with the out-break of Malaria epidemic in the Neyyattinkara and Nedumangad Taluks. In connection with the outbreak of malaria in an epidemic form, in August 1935, in certain areas of the Neyyattinkara and Nedumangad taluks, Government sanctioned the opening of temporary hospitals and dispensaries for the treatment of malaria patients, meeting the expenditure from the allotment under "Prevention of Epidemics-other epidemics", in the budget of the Public Health Department. These temporary institutions and their staff were reduced from time to time according to the improvement in the situation of the disease. Their continuance till the end of Vrischikam 1112 has already been sanctioned by Government. The Director of Public Health and myself after local inspection, reported that the disease has become endemic in the above areas and that there are still numerous cases of relapses among the infected population. The continuance of these temporary institutions for a further period of six months from the 1st Dhanu 1112 has therefore been recommended. The institutions, as well as the staff, to be continued are:

Chemboor: Medical Officer, compounder, peon, warder, and part time scavenger.

Perumkadavila: Warder, part time cook, and scavenger.

Kunniathukal: Medical Officer, compounder, peon, warder, and scavenger.

Kottukal: Compounder and peon.

Maranallur: Compounder and peon.

Kallikad: Medical Officer, compounder and peon.

District Hospital, Neyyattinkara: Sub Assistant Surgeon, clerk, peon, cook, female sweeper.

Aryand: Medical Officer, compounder, peon, waterman, cook and scavenger.

Sanitary Inspectors: Three Sanitary Inspectors on Rs. 40 plus P. T. A. Rs. 8 and two Sanitary Inspectors on Rs. 25 plus P. T. A. Rs. 8.

The total expenditure for continuing them for six months comes to nearly Rs. 6,500. Government therefore propose to move for a supplementary grant of Rs. 6,500. I hope the House will allow the demand.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether the treatments given in these hospitals are standard treatment?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): They give the treatment that is considered best for Malaria.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Is it the idea of Government to make these hospitals permanent?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): That is not under the consideration of the Government.

The demand was put to vote and carried and the grant was made.

CURRENCY AND MINT.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Sir, I beg to move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 1,700 for the temporary re-opening of the Mint. There is also another demand on the same subject which may be taken together. I move for a demand for grant not exceeding Rs. 2.05 lakhs for minting silver and copper coins. We shall take the second demand first as the first is dependant upon the second.

It is several years since the coins of the State were minted. The silver coins now in circulation were minted in 1106 and 1107. No coins were minted since the accession of His Highness the present Maharaja. Copper coins such as one chuckrams, half-a-chuckrams and quarter-chuckrams were minted so long ago as 1095 i. e., about 17 years ago. Government therefore propose to arrange for the minting of the following coins. Silver coins to the face value of Rs. 2 lakhs and copper coins to the face value of Rs. 1,75,000.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know whether one-rupee coins are to be minted.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): No, Sir, only half-rupees are to be minted. It is urgent that this should be taken up now since the price of copper is rising; and, on account of the trend of international situation, silver also may rise in value. We cannot delay it for one moment.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikkara): What is the value of the coins now in circulation?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): The coins now in circulation amount to about 9 lakhs of rupees.

The fact that there are several counterfeit coins in circulation shows that there is a demand for coins in the market. Otherwise, there will be no scope for counterfeit coins.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Will the re-opening of the Mint add to the number of counterfeit coins, or reduce it?

PRESIDENT: It depends on the skill with which the new coins are manufactured?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): We have to satisfy the demand of the public for more coins. The public apparently absorb counterfeit coins, as there is a scarcity of genuine coins.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Sir, at one time our silver coins were minted outside.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Even now it is proposed to be minted outside the State, at Birmingham.

PRESIDENT: Honourable member may add that there are proposals for starting our own Mint.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): The question of re-organising our Mint and making it self contained so that it can manufacture our coins locally is under consideration, but we cannot do it this year for want of buildings, machinery and trained staff. It will take some time and hence the work is now proposed to be entrusted to the Birmingham Mint, this year.

The advance will be recouped when the coins are manufactured and included in the cash balances of the Treasuries. We hope to make a profit of Rs. 1,70,000 out of these transactions.

As regards the silver coins, we propose to entrust the work to the Birmingham Mint. As regards the copper coins, we propose to get blanks manufactured by the Birmingham Mint and do the pressing and stamping here as was being done hitherto. For that purpose, a staff is necessary. In the second demand I have asked for the necessary staff, which is to consist of:—

- 1 Clerk-Cashier on Rs. 25 + Rs. 3 L. A.
- 1 Coin-Examiner & Weigher on Rs. 20.
- 1 Nottam on Rs. 18.
- 1 Foreman-Mechanic on Rs. 18.
- 3 Coiners on Rs. 18 each
- 12 Assistant Coiners, 3 on Rs. 12.
3 on Rs. 13.
3 on Rs. 14.
and 3 on Rs. 15.

- 1 Peon on Rs. 11.
- 2 Servants and 1 Bellows-Boy—each Rs. 9.

A local allowance of Rs. 15 per mensem is also proposed to be given to the Superintendent, Stamp Manufactory for supervising the work in the Mint.

As I said already we hope to make a net gain of about Rs. 1·7 lakhs. I request the House to sanction this demand.

The question that a sum of Rs. 1,700 be granted under Currency and Mint and Rs. 2,05,000 under Debt Head-Advances for minting silver and copper coins, was then put to vote and carried and the grant was made.

SCIENTIFIC AND MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENTS.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, I move for a grant not exceeding Rs. 2,200 under Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments for the preparation of a descriptive catalogue of the manuscripts in the Palace Granthapura and the Curator's office. Sir, when the budget for the current year was under preparation, the question of reorganising the Curator's department and appointing more staff, to prepare catalogues and to do various other things came up for consideration. Mr. Sambasiva Sastri, the Curator, went on tour to Baroda, Kashmir and other places. On his return he submitted very elaborate proposals for reorganising his department. The Government considered it necessary to give him some additional staff and proposed that a sum of Rs. 3,000 might be included in the budget. This was placed before the Finance Committee and they were of the opinion that before the provision was made in the budget the Managing Committee, appointed in connection with the Oriental Conference proposed to be held in Trivandrum in December 1937 should be asked to scrutinise the proposals and submit its considered recommendations. The provision included in the budget tentatively was therefore deleted and the Committee was asked to scrutinise the proposals of the Curator and send up its own recommendations. The Committee considered the proposals and submitted its recommendations. It pointed out the urgent necessity of attending at least to this item of work, namely, the preparation of a descriptive catalogue of the manuscripts in the Palace Granthapura and in the Curator's office. This recommendation was made in view of the Oriental Conference that is going to be held in December 1937. The work is urgent, and the proposals submitted by the Curator and scrutinised by the Committee have been considered by Government and they have decided to make a provision of Rs. 2,200 for the current year. The staff proposed to be appointed consists of 12 Pandits, one clerk-typist, two attenders and three peons. For contingencies a sum of Rs. 300 is required. The total amount required for four months from the 1st Meenam is Rs. 2,200. It is hoped that the work will be finished by about the beginning of Thulam next year, that is, just before the meeting of the Oriental Conference. The provision for Karkatakam 1112 and the succeeding months of 1113 will be included in the budget for the next year, and the House will then have a chance of discussing the question once again. The present allotment is only for meeting the pay and contingencies for the current year. The work is urgent and so Government have come up with a supplementary demand.

The Demand was then put to vote and carried. The grant was made.

MISCELLANEOUS CHARGES.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATHA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, the next demand is for a sum of Rs. 2,925 under Miscellaneous Charges for the purchase of copies of a supplemental volume of the Regulations and Proclamations of Travancore proposed to be published. Honourable members are aware that so far seven volumes of the Regulations and Proclamations of Travancore have been published as well as a supplement of the seventh volume which brought up the enactments to the end of 1109. The Regulations and Proclamations and the rules published since the end of 1109 are now proposed to be published in a separate volume. The proposal is to permit a private legal practitioner, who has applied for such permission, to publish this volume more or less on the same conditions and terms as those on which the previous volumes were published. The previous volumes which contained 1,000 pages and more were purchased at Rs. 10 a copy and 800 copies of each volume were purchased. The present volume will contain approximately four hundred pages, and Rs. 4 as 8 has been tentatively fixed as the price of the volume. Government propose to purchase only 650 copies of the book. It is found that out of eight hundred copies of the previous volumes purchased more than one hundred copies still remain in stock. It will therefore be enough if 650 copies are purchased.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know the name of the gentleman to whom this work is proposed to be entrusted?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATHA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Mr. M. Chockalingam Pillai B. A., B. L., High Court Vakil, Trivandrum. Negotiations were going on between the Government and the applicant. Finally, towards the beginning of this year it was decided to accept the terms offered by him. Government propose to entrust the work to him on the conditions specified and require a sum of Rs. 2,925 to purchase 650 copies of the volume.

The demand was put to vote and carried. The grant was made.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE INCOME TAX REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

PRESIDENT: The next item of business before the House is the consideration of the Travancore Income Tax Regulation (Amendment) Bill. I understand that no amendments were received till 11 o'clock this morning. Certain elaborate amendments have reached me now. One amendment was received after 11 o'clock this morning and two others were received at 2.25 p. m. It is highly inconvenient that amendments are handed in at the last moment. This is a fiscal measure of great complexity. I therefore propose to ask the House before I take any action, whether any member objects to the moving of these amendments. When objection is made I shall deal with the matter.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I object to these amendments.

PRESIDENT: I rule that these amendments cannot be considered.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I rise to present the report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Income Tax Regulation (Amendment) Bill and beg to move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

Clauses 1 to 10.

The question that Clauses 1 to 10 do stand part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 11.

PRESIDENT: Now the question is that clause 11 stand part of the Bill.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kuntnad II): I oppose it. I oppose Clause 11, sub-clause (2) which did not find a place in the original Bill, but was an addition by the Select Committee.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): On a point of order. Mr. Sambasiva Aiyar is only opposing a particular portion of Clause 11. Therefore, in effect, it is only an amendment. He can only oppose the whole clause now.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kuntnad II): I only oppose that portion of the clause which was incorporated by the Select Committee.

PRESIDENT: The point raised by the Law Member is that, in the manner in which the honourable member has addressed his remarks it would amount to an amendment that Sub-clause (2) be deleted. That is not permissible now. It is open to the honourable member to oppose the whole clause.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kuntnad II): Then I oppose the whole clause.

Strictly speaking the clause is not quite necessary. It is open to the Income Tax Collector to get all the information he wants from banks and firms. Under this provision the banks and firms will have to disclose all their secrets to Income Tax Officers in all cases, whether there is any necessity for that or not. What is sought to be done by Clause 11 is a statutory obligation upon every company and firm that whether Income Tax Officers require the information or not, they must furnish certain specified statements containing highly confidential information to the taxing authorities every year before a certain date. The officers of companies have to say what amount of dividends they have distributed to each share-holder and the managing director of banks have to say what amount of interest has been given to each depositor. My submission is, it is not necessary to enact this particular provision in this Regulation and thus impose a statutory liability upon banks and companies.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It will be noticed that the clause really places an obligation on the principal officers of every company or firm to keep proper books of accounts and it is very easy for them to furnish this information so that there may not be any leakage of revenue in respect of income tax. In regard to assessments, if sufficient power is not given to the officer to call for such information by efficient application of the rules, it may not be easy to prevent leakage of revenue. This clause was considered by the Select Committee at length and after considering all the aspects this particular provision was introduced by the Select Committee.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kumratnad II): A word by way of reply. It is open to the Income Tax Officer to call for any information he wants from the banks or firms even now. That being so, why should a further obligation be imposed on them to furnish information which might ultimately be found to be quite unnecessary? My point is that this sort of fishing for information should not be permitted.

The question that Clause 11 do stand part of the Bill, was put to vote and carried.

The clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 12 to 34.

The question that Clauses 12 to 34 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The clauses were added to the Bill.

Schedule

The question that the Schedule do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Schedule was added to the Bill.

Preamble

The question that the Preamble stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

Title

The question that the Title of the Bill do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Title was added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that the Bill be taken up for the third reading.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): There is however a small amendment to be made in the Short Title of the Bill, which I shall move first.

Sir, I move that that the figure "2" be added at the end of the figure "111" in the Short Title.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I now move that the Bill as amended be passed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE FOREST REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I move that the Travancore Forest Regulation (Amendment) Bill be taken up for consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

PRESIDENT: I now find that an amendment has been forwarded by Anchal and has reached me at 1. 15 p. m. and the amendment is that the Bill be dropped.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I object to that amendment.

PRESIDENT: The amendment is ruled out of order.

Clauses 1 and 2.

The question that clauses 1 and 2 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The clauses were added to the Bill.

Preamble

The question that the Preamble stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I proceed to the third reading of the Bill.

Before I make the motion I have to move a small amendment to the Short Title of the Bill. I move that in Clause 1 figure "2" be added at the end of the Short Title.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I move that the Bill as amended be passed.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

The Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE IDENTIFICATION OF PRISONERS BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Identification of Prisoners' Bill, and beg to move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

PRESIDENT: There are some amendments to this Bill. They have been received by the Anchal at 1. 30. I wish to know whether any member objects to these amendments.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I object.

PRESIDENT: Objection having been taken, I rule the amendments out of order.

Clause 1

The question that Clause 1 do stand part of the Bill, was put to vote and carried. The clause was added to the bill.

Clause 2.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I move the following amendment:

"In Clause 2, (b), substitute the word "Inspector" for the word "Sub-Inspector."

My first and main objection is with regard to the conferring of the powers under this measure, upon officers below the rank of the Inspectors. There are no Sub-Inspectors now in the general Police Department. There are, I find, about 6 Sub-Inspectors in the C. I. D. Of course, there were Circle Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors before the Police Department was reorganised. In British India, there are Sub-Inspectors, and this word is used in the British Indian Act. That must be the reason why, forgetting the fact that the office of Sub-Inspectors have been abolished in this State, that word is retained here. The argument that there are some Sub-Inspectors in the C. I. D. is not sufficient justification for the retention of this word. Moreover, it is always better that such wide powers are invested only in persons of a sufficiently high rank in the Police Department. In the same sub-clause, previous to the portion that I now seek to amend, mention is made of a Police Officer making an investigation under Chapter XIV of the Criminal Procedure Code. I see no reason why we should confer the wide powers under this measure on officers of the rank of a C. I. D. Sub-Inspector. With these words, I place the amendment for the acceptance of the House.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose this amendment. Let me say at the very outset that it was not by a mistake that the word Sub-Inspector was put in. It has been deliberately put in by the mover of the Bill, and it has been examined and passed by the Select Committee. We have as a matter of fact Sub-Inspectors in the C. I. D. Therefore that objection on this account cannot stand.

In regard to the other objection that this power should not be conferred on Sub-Inspectors, the Sub-Inspectors that we have at present are in the C. I. D. The powers available under this Section will have to be used to a very great extent by the C. I. D. and Sub-Inspectors are an important class of officers in the C. I. D. It will be seen from this Clause itself that even Head constables can make use of these powers if they happen to be in charge of Police stations. So, objection cannot be raised on the ground of the status of the Sub-Inspectors. I may add that the C. I. D. officers are mainly responsible for detecting crimes: and it is for that purpose that such power is needed. It seems to me that we will be considerably restricting the scope of the Bill if we restrict the powers of the Sub-Inspectors of the C. I. D. I oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

The question that Clause 2 do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 3 to 9.

The question that Clause 3 to 9 do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The clauses were added to the Bill.

Preamble.

The question that the Preamble do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

Title

The question that the Title do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Title was added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I shall now proceed to the third reading of the Bill. I beg to move that the Bill be passed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

PRESIDENT The question before the House is that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put to the vote of the House and passed.

The Bill was passed.

THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir I beg to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Bar Council Bill and move that the Bill as reported be taken into consideration.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon J): Sir, I oppose the motion and move that the Bill be recommitted. My first reason for this motion is that the Select Committee has introduced an amendment of far-reaching effects in Clause 9, sub-clause (3) by providing that all those who are First and Second Grade Pleaders on the 1st Chingam 1113 can become advocates, and get all the privileges of advocates under this Bill by passing an examination conducted by and under the supervision of the Bar Council to be constituted. The idea of this change made by the Select Committee formed the subject matter of a Bill brought forward by my friend Mr. S. J. Nair in a previous session of the House. When that Bill was considered the Law Member stood up and hotly contested against the First and Second Grade Pleaders being allowed to practise before the High Court. Now, the Select Committee has reported allowing that, and one Honourable member alone has appended a note of dissent. I find that the Law Member has not given out any opinion. I am not able to know whether he accepts this provision, this violent change from the existing practice. I do not find any amendment either, in his name, so that I fear that a violent change must have come about in him for him to accept the view once rejected by him. We are not given the benefit of his legal knowledge, erudition, and experience regarding this matter, on the effect and repercussions of this provision. We are not given the benefit of his views. That is comparatively a minor matter.

We have to consider this Bill not from the point of view of the larger benefits that may accrue to First and Second Grade Pleaders or the deprivation of the benefits to other classes of people, but we should consider the cause from the point of view of its effect on the administration of justice. I contend that the amendment that the Committee has brought about will lead to serious consequences. The Select Committee, in my opinion, ought to have done it after consulting the High Court which is vested with the responsibility of the administration of justice, at present, and from whose hands some powers are sought to be taken away under this Bill.

PRESIDENT: I realise the importance of the point. The Law member will probably enlighten the House, and probably, the House will find that his opinion has not changed. But at the same time I should like to know exactly what the point for the recommitment is.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): The Select Committee has not taken sufficient care to ascertain the opinion of the High Court. That is very necessary for making this serious change. Before introducing this change they ought to have referred the matter to the High Court. They did not give it the serious consideration that is required. So, this Bill ought to be recommitment to a Select Committee that will realise its responsibility and will refer the matter to the High Court and get their opinion before submitting its Report, and enable the House to consider this very important matter in the light of the opinion of the High Court. Therefore it is that I say that the Committee should reconsider this matter; because, it is a matter on which the House had first of all expressed an opinion contrary to the present change made by the Select Committee. It must also be stated that the Select Committee seems to have hurried up the matter. I understand that the meeting was called together only very lately, though there was ample time before the Convenor of the Select Committee to do it earlier.

PRESIDENT: I do not want to interrupt the Honourable member at all. But I think it is my duty to point out that a recommitment means that this Assembly will have no chance of discussing the Bill. And, the Federal Court will be established in October; the Chief Justice of the Federal Court has already been appointed. Naturally, the question will arise whether the status of our Bar should not be equal to that of the British Indian Bar so that our Advocates may have the privilege and the right to practise before the Federal Court and our Judges and Advocates may rightly aspire to be appointed as Judges of the Federal Court. I hope the honourable member will keep that aspect of the matter in mind in pressing his motion for recommitment of the Bill which is sure, to delay matters.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I was not aware of those circumstances.

PRESIDENT : Obviously if our Bar is inferior to other Bars and if our Statute is not brought in a line with the Government of India Act there is no chance of the equality of the status of our Bar being recognised.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Then, I do not press the motion.

The motion that the Bar Council Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken up for consideration, was put to vote and carried.

Clause 1.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 1 (iii), omit the words "or any provision thereof specified in the notification."

In this sub-clause, what is intended is that certain sections should come into force on a definite date, and that the remaining provisions should come into force on certain other dates to be notified by the Government. Of course, I admit that all provisions cannot be brought into effect on the same date. But it is not necessary that power should be conferred upon the Government to bring the provisions into effect in as many instalments as they like. It is certainly necessary that Sections 2, 17, 18 and 20 must come into force earlier than the other provisions of the Bill, but all the remaining provisions must be brought into effect on one subsequent date to be specified in the Government Notification.

The Clause now read thus :

"This Section and Sections 2, 17, 18 and 20 shall come into force on.... and Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, direct that the other provisions of this Regulation or any provision thereof specified in the notification, shall come into force on such date thereafter as Our Government may by notification appoint".

I do not understand the necessity for the words "or any provision thereof specified in the notification". That means power may be left with the Government to bring into effect two or three sections on a subsequent date and the remaining sections on a further date. I find there is no necessity for that. I think that here also the provisions of the Indian Bar Councils Act have been blindly copied. But, there the provisions relate to different High Courts and the Act was not intended to be applied in the same form to all the High Courts. That must be the reason why an additional precautionary part of the clause was introduced there. The Law Member must explain the position.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : The purpose of the provision is this. The usual practice is to bring all clauses into operation at the same time. Here, only sections 2, 17, 18 and 20 are to come into force at once. Sections 8 to 16 and 19 shall not be brought into force at once. It will be rather inconvenient. I shall explain why. Those Sections relate to the constitution of the Bar Council, the framing of rules and the like. All these sections should not be brought into effect at the same time. For instance take Section 8. This Section provides—

"No person shall be entitled as of right to practise in the High Court or in any of the Courts subordinate thereto unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation".

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

This Section should come into operation only some time after the Bar Council is constituted and the rules are framed. If not difficulties and deadlocks may arise.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether till the Bar Council is brought into being there should be no advocates?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No. But provision is made for the constitution of the Council from among Vaksils.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I do not press the amendment.

The question that Clause do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 2 to 7.

The question that Clauses 2 to 7 do stand part of the Bill was put the vote of the House and carried.

The clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 8.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

In Clause 8 (1), first proviso, omit the words "but are not eligible for enrolment as advocates".

As the clause stands at present the right of Vaksils who are practising in Courts subordinate to the High Court, and who are not High Court Vaksils, to practice before the High Court is sought to be taken away unless they become advocates, that is to say, the rights vested in Vaksils who are not now High Court Vaksils are to be taken away unless they get themselves enrolled as advocates immediately. I do not know as to what the exact object of this clause is which deprives the Vaksils of their existing rights. In British India, there is no such provision which carries retrospective effect and deprives the members of the bar of their vested rights. In section 8, it is stated thus:

"Provided that those who are enrolled before this Section comes into force as Vaksils of any Court subordinate to the High Court but are eligible for enrolment as advocates shall be entitled to practise as Vaksils so long as their enrolment remains in force".

And so, after this Section comes into force the qualification of the advocates have to be prescribed and persons who are not High Court Vaksils before the date of coming into force of this Regulation, have to be enrolled as advocates. That means there would be a period during which Vaksils practising in District Courts will not be able to continue their practice. Here we have used originality by deviating from the Indian Bar Councils' Act. I am of opinion that it is not quite necessary to divest the members of the Bar of their vested rights. It is not evident from the clause as it stands that public interests demand such divesting of vested rights.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I oppose this amendment. Mr. Asan is quite right in saying that certain vested rights will be taken away by the insertion of the words "but are not eligible for enrolment as advocates." It is therefore necessary that I should explain this. At present besides the High Court Vakils there are the first grade and second grade Vakils. There are at present about 1200 Law Graduates or so already enrolled as High Court Vakils, and there are about 800 to 900 Law Graduates yet to be so enrolled but are now enrolled as Vakils in the District Courts only. When we are trying to set up a Bar Council we must try to bring in all those who are qualified to be advocates into the field from which the council is chosen even if that may cause some hardships to some individuals. I am however proposing to mitigate the hardship. The enrolment fee, which is a stamp duty for enrolment in the High Court, is Rs. 350. This is proposed to be reduced. I consider it very important that in any event the electorate of the Bar Council should be as large as possible so that the Council may be representative in a real sense of the first class legal practitioners. The Law Graduate legal practitioners practising in District Courts must also therefore be brought in if necessary even by compulsion. Therefore all these Law Graduates must be compelled to be enrolled as advocates. I concede that the fee of Rs. 350 may be felt as too much as in such cases, they are being called upon to pay this amount even though they may not really wish to practise in the High Court. I may mention therefore that I am moving an amendment to reduce the stamp duty to Rs. 100. The Select Committee have considered this question and they are of the view that all these people should be compulsorily brought within the purview of the Bar Council. And they have recommended that the stamp duty for those who are thus compelled must be reduced to Rs. 100. The sanction of the Dewan was not forthcoming at that time for the reduction of revenues. Subsequently the sanction of the Dewan has been obtained, and I will be bringing forward an amendment to reduce the stamp duty from Rs. 350 to Rs. 100. That will go a great way to mitigate the possible hardship which Mr. Asan has in his mind. Let me repeat that it is necessary that we must have as large an electorate to the Bar Council as possible. That is essential. In this discussion I do not bring in the clause regarding the admission of 1st grade and 2nd grade pleaders as High Court Vakils as it is a controversial matter. That class of Vakils will die naturally in course of time, since we are not now holding any 1st grade and 2nd grade pleaders' examination. This may therefore be left out of account. And entirely apart from that, it is necessary that all Law Graduates should be placed in one standard of advocates.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move the following amendment:

"In Clause 8 (1), after the first proviso, insert the following proviso namely:—"I provided also that, in the case of any person who is enrolled before this section comes into force as a vakil of any court subordinate to the High Court, the stamp duty shall, notwithstanding anything contained in Article 30 of the Schedule to the Travancore Stamp Regulation, be Rs. 100 only for his enrolment as an advocate under this Regulation, wherever such person is admitted as an advocate on application made within the three months of the date on which this Section comes into force or if he be not eligible to be admitted as advocate on such date, within three months of his becoming eligible to be so admitted."

This amendment does not now require much explanation. I have already explained it when I spoke on the last amendment.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I beg to move the following amendment:

"In clause 8 (2) (a), substitute the word "Section" for "Regulation."

There is no particular date on which the whole Regulation comes into force, as could be seen in Clause 1. This Regulation comes into force in parts. Different sections are going to take effect on different dates. Thus it is evident that there is no particular date on which the whole Regulation comes into force. It is therefore necessary to make that position clear. Secondly we will find that if we retain this word 'Regulation' there are certain difficulties to be overcome. For instance it is stated in Clause 8 (2)—"The High Court shall prepare and maintain a roll of advocates in which shall be entered the names of— (a) all persons who were entitled as of right to practise in the High Court immediately before the date on which this Regulation comes into force; and (b) all other persons who are admitted as advocates under this Regulation".

The Section, as it stands, is vague. It is not at all clear as to why this word "Regulation" was used. I think this amendment is absolutely necessary.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I accept the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I beg to move that:—

In Clause 8 (2), proviso, substitute the words "persons referred to in part (b)" for the words "such persons" and omit the portion "shall be Rs. 10 in the case of persons referred to in clause (a), and in other cases such amount as".

Here also it will be found that persons who are now practising as High Court Vakils will not be allowed to practise as High Court Vakils unless they pay Rs. 10. As I submitted before, this kind of retrospective operation divesting persons, who have already taken sanads under the laws then prevailing, of their vested rights, is not wholesome. So, the provision which lays down that a fee of Rs. 10 should be paid, should not be allowed to stand.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose this amendment. First of all, let me point out a possible misconception under which Mr. Asan has moved the amendment. The proviso says that a fee of Rs. 10 should be paid in order that a High Court Vakil who is now entitled to practise may be enrolled as an advocate. It is not a case of taking away any vested right, and it is not a case of asking any additional enrolment fee. The Bar Council must have some source of revenue. This is just one source; that is all. In regard to future advocates, they must not only pay the sum of Rs. 350 but also pay a prescribed fee to the council. The fee in the case of the present High Court Vakil is Rs 10. That is the provision to the Clause. This is exactly what is done in British India also.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, there was absolutely no misconception on my part when I moved this amendment. I am not concerned with the destination of the fee. It may go to the general revenues of the State or to the funds of the Council. My main objection is with regard to taxing a person under a new law for enjoying rights for which he had already paid.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 8 as amended do stand part of the Bill was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 9.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I beg to move that—

My object in making this motion is to delete part (c). Sub-clause (2) says "in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules shall provide for the following matters". Under this sub-clause we find that power is vested in the Council to frame rules with the previous sanction of the High Court to charge fees for enrolment. On the other hand if we examine Clause 8 part (2) (b), we find that power is vested with the Government to fix the fees and to publish the same by notification in the Government Gazette. It is stated "and in other cases such amount as may be prescribed from time to time by Our Government by Notification in Our Government Gazette". There we find that the power to fix fees payable to the Bar Council is vested in the Government; they are to fix the sum and publish it under Clause 8 (2). Now, under Clause 9 (2) (c) it is stated that the Bar Council is to be given power to charge fees payable for the enrolment. They are mutually conflicting. It is always better that power is vested in the Government to charge fees for enrolment, because it is a statutory obligation. It is not proper that power to fix any amount of fees for enrolment must be vested in the Bar Council. As has been stated by the Law Member, the Bar Council is in need of funds, and they will be anxious to have as large a fund as possible; and the persons who are to get admission into the Bar Council have no voice. It is the interested party that fixes the fees. It is only right that Government should take up the responsibility. What I am submitting is, that it is not proper that power should be vested in the Bar Council. The persons who are benefited by the taxation are given the power to tax. That is not right. In British India, we do not have any provision corresponding to that in Clause 8 (2). So there is no practical difficulty there. I submit that it is against principle.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the principle involved in this clause is that the Council should have power to make rules for charging fees in respect of enrolment. The Council is a body set up by the lawyers who form the electorate. It goes without saying that this Council should have some funds. The principle involved is therefore unobjectionable. Mr. Asan has pointed out some inconsistency with the provision in Clause 8 (2).

PRESIDENT: Order, order. It is half-past-three, and we have the adjournment motion of Mr. Kuriakose to consider.

ADJOURNMENT MOTION.

POLICE EXCESSES AT RAMANGALAM.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, there are two motions. May I deal with them together or separately?

PRESIDENT: You may deal with both the points as one motion.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know what time will be allowed?

PRESIDENT: I dare say the honourable member is certainly capable of compression.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I rise to move the adjournment of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance viz., the serious situation created by the recent terrorising misdeeds, such as indiscriminate lathi charges on innocent people, extortion of money, assaulting women and children etc., of a batch of reserve police stationed at Ramangalam in Muvattupuzha taluk, which has caused grave apprehensions among the innocent, peaceful and law-abiding inhabitants of Ramangalam and the surrounding places and also to discuss the serious unrest caused recently at the western frontier of the State, especially in the Piravam Excise range, as a result of recent struggles between the Excise staff and the smugglers owing to the want of proper and inadequate preventive measures in the frontier.

My motion contains an admission that there is a good deal of smuggling going on in the western frontier of the State, namely, in the Piravam Excise Range. There is no difference of opinion with regard to that. As a man of the locality I know that smuggling on an organised scale is going on in that locality. I am only sorry that Government have not been alive to the situation and have not put a stop to this. I shall deal with the various causes that lead to such organised smuggling resulting in heavy loss to Government and trouble to the people of the locality.

The first thing that I am going to do is to narrate the unhappy incident that took place a few days ago at and around the neighbourhood of Ramangalam. There is much disquiet and discontent among the people on account of the behaviour of a batch of the Reserve Police there. Sir, it happened like this. On Sunday evening, the 3rd of Kumbham, a batch of Reserve Police started from Ramangalam in Muvattupuzha taluk in a police van. They crossed the river and travelled up to the western frontier, namely, Vettikkal a distance of nearly nine miles. I am sorry to say that they assaulted many a man and woman that came across their way from Ramangalam right up to Vettikkal. Sir, this is an incident of which the Government as well as the department should be ashamed of. This is a matter we cannot pass over lightly.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the member whether the Police charged the smugglers or the peaceful passers-by?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I was quite clear in my statement that they charged the innocent people of the locality that came across their way.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the smugglers also were in the crowd?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I do not think so. If so they ought to have been arrested.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know where the western frontier is?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The frontier is in the taluk of Muvattupuzha. It is very near Tirppunithura or Mulanthuruthi in the Cochin State.

On the evening of 3rd Kumbham, about 150 people were subjected to lathi charges and assaults by the Reserve Police consisting of about 20 men. I hope the Police Commissioner will give the correct number.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether they were charged individually or when they were assembled together?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Many of them were charged individually, and some of them collectively at one particular place Thiruvaniocor, where there is a small market.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether they collected together to give aid to the Police or to the smugglers?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): There was no question of giving aid to either party. People walking along the road were assaulted without any cause. All that happened between Ramangalam and Vettikkal.

On the 4th of Kumbham I was attending the meeting of the Select Committee on the Kammala Bill in Trivandrum. Some people of my locality ran up to me with alarming news and I returned to my place immediately. I met the Police Commissioner on my way

[Mr. K. M. Kuriakose.]

Kottayam. He was willing enough to accompany me to to the spot. On the 5th evening we were at Muvattupuzha and on the 6th we were in the troubled area. Had it not been for the timely action taken by the Police Commissioner, much more mischief would have been done by the Reserve Police. Our thanks are due to him.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): What has the Police Commissioner done to give the member so much satisfaction?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): He went to the spot immediately, received petitions and statements from the assaulted people and gave specific instructions and warning to the Reserve Police that they should not go out of the way or do undesirable things. Hence I do not think they did all these with the sanction of the Commissioner because he expressed his regret on the spot and promised to punish the culprits.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Kural): May I know—

PRESIDENT: I see that a great deal of interest is evinced in this matter and interrogations are administered to the mover of the motion. But I am afraid that, notwithstanding the undoubted capacity of the member, these interrogations may deflect his thoughts and expressions. So, will honourable members ask questions only when absolutely necessary?

The member may proceed.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The Police Commissioner came to the spot and has taken all possible precautions. The wonder of it is that, when I came over to Trivandrum and talked about this matter to some of the members here, they were telling me that this is being done generally by the Reserve Police wherever they go. I think such statements coming from experienced and responsible members cannot be overlooked. I cannot keep quiet over the matter.

PRESIDENT: Does the honourable member propose to draw the attention of the House to the incident on the frontier or to the chronic habit of the Reserve Police?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, had it not been for the chronic habit, such an incident would not have taken place.

PRESIDENT: The chronic habit may form an apt subject for a resolution or motion on the budget, but not for an adjournment motion.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I referred to it incidentally because I wanted to submit the opinion of responsible members of this House. Anyhow I shall not dwell on that point further.

Sir, the circumstances that led to the bringing down of this batch of the Reserve Police to Ramangalam, as far as I understand, was this. A case of tobacco smuggling was detected by the Excise people in the month of Dhanu at Vettithara and in that connection, it was reported, that both sides attacked each other. It was on the 2nd of Kumbham that this batch of Reserve Police was brought down at Ramangalam. I cannot understand the immediate necessity for bringing them down there. I don't know if it is now intended to establish them permanently there. If it was to avoid a counter-attack on the Excise by the smugglers, then, I am afraid, they were too late. Not only that, the places that fell a prey to the attack of the Police were not in the immediate neighbourhood of the scene of action of the smuggling case referred to, but something like 9 or 10 miles away.

Now Sir, what are the causes of this organised smuggling? It will be seen that the chief article smuggled is tobacco. The price of a pound of ordinary tobacco in the Cochin State is about 8 as. while it is about 12 as. here.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is all that relevant to the issue before the House?

PRESIDENT: He is leading up to the motion before the House. Let there not be any misconception about the matter. The two motions raise a question relating to a matter arising out of a recent occurrence. That recent occurrence is the real subject of the motion. The two motions indicate two aspects of the same subject; and I therefore allowed them to be clubbed together. And, as was pointed out in the course of the discussion, a certain amount of narrative may be necessary to lead up to the motion. But a general discussion of Excise policy may not be quite apposite.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I was only referring to some of the causes. The Excise Department is aware of this abnormal difference in the price in the two States which is sufficiently enticing enough for any poor man to take to smuggling as a profession, in these days of depression and poverty. As a result of this, smuggling cases are on the increase, as was stated by the Excise Commissioner in answer to a question of mine on a previous occasion.

Secondly, the frontier is completely unprotected. There are not adequate preventive measures in the boundary. This matter ought to have engaged the attention of the Government early enough. If so, these unhappy incidents would not have occurred. It is only when there is the possibility of doing mischief that such things happen. Prevention is always better than cure. Therefore, I request Government to find effective means of eradicating the causes that led to such unhappy incidents.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamthitta): And the help of the Police is one of the means of eradication, I believe.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzhu II): I expect an answer from the Commissioners of Police and Excise about the necessity for bringing down the Reserve Police there.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvata I): May I know whether the member is in a position to suggest preventive methods as far as the frontier is concerned?

PRESIDENT : That is an incentive to farther irrelevance. (Laughter.)

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Sir, I may be permitted to make a few observations on that point.

PRESIDENT : That was just what I was ruling out.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : I shall strictly confine myself to the points connected with the particular incident.

PRESIDENT : Quite so.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Only those who had actually visited the locality can understand the seriousness of the situation. The effect of the attacks was disastrous, so much so, even innocent people actually fled to the Cochin frontier. The Reserve Police was brought to capture the smugglers; but the latter escaped beyond the frontier. The innocent and law-abiding people who remained in the locality were severely dealt with by the Police. It was really terrible that the Police who came to bag the smugglers, should have thrashed the most innocent people of the locality.

PRESIDENT : Is it the point of the member that the smugglers went scot free and the innocent were punished?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Yes, Sir. So far it is only that.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II) : May I know whether any real harm was done?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Only innocent people were caught by the Police men.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : May I know how the member came to the conclusion that the persons who received blows were innocent?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : I am a man of the locality. I know that many people who suffered punishment at the hands of the Police were very respectable men. Nobody could ever suspect them of any smuggling.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tricandrum—Bural) : May I know whether there is any justification for the Police beating even the smugglers? (Laughter.)

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : No. I am thankful to Mr. Thanu Pillai for having brought out that point. The Police could simply arrest the smugglers.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kunnathnad II) : Is it a fact that the innocent bankers were threatened by the Police?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Fortunately or unfortunately there are no bankers in the locality which is purely a village. But money was extorted from some private individuals. I have spoken to the Commissioner of Police about this matter.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kakulam I) : Was any England-returned man troubled in this connection?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : He was also one of the victims.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I) : Will the member be satisfied with the action taken by the Commissioner of Police in this matter?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): So far as the preventive measures are concerned, the Commissioner has done something. But if there is a repetition of the occurrence, what are we to do? Who will guarantee that the Police will not repeat atrocities? From where are we to get that assurance?

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I ask the member whether the Police Commissioner has conducted any enquiry into this matter?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): As far as I know he made certain enquiries at the spot.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether anybody was punished as a result of that?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I am not aware of that as yet.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): In such circumstances, are we not to presume that nothing wrong has taken place?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): How that follows I do not see.

PRESIDENT: However generous the latitude of cross-questioning might be, it does not admit of a full argument being supplied in the form of a question.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): As regards the atrocities done by the Police in general, I think that I need not dilate on them. The statements collected at the spot by the Commissioner will testify to them.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): How did the innocent women and children get mixed up with the guilty persons?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): It is not a question of mixing up. The Reserve Police, while travelling in the area, caught hold of whomsoever that passed the way. They did not get at the real smugglers. If so they would have arrested them.

Mr. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kummatnad II): Was it with a view to prevent the people of the locality from resorting to smuggling that the Police resorted to terrorising?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): That will be attributing motives to the action of the Police, which I am not prepared to do.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Was there any case of extortion of money?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Statements have been supplied to the Commissioner to that effect.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): By whom?

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): That is the greatest difficulty in the matter. I am not able to give out the names of particular individuals.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Do they belong to the Police force.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): There is sufficient materials available for instituting a Committee of enquiry for this purpose. That is my point.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): By whom was the extortion made?

PRESIDENT : The honourable member will remember that, unless he is willing to answer questions he need not yield his place, and unless he chooses he need not answer questions.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Toralu) : About the extortion of money, what I want to know is, whether it was by the Police or by somebody else?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : All that I can say now is that extortion of money actually took place. Whether that was by the Reserve Police, or by the Excise people, or by the local Police, that is a matter for enquiry. It was such a confusion of all elements.

PRESIDENT : Money passed, but the member cannot say 'from whom to whom'.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Either the Police or the Excise people must have done it. I am sure, it must have been done by either of the two. So, what I urge is that a committee should be appointed to thoroughly enquire into the matter of the organised smuggling and of finding ways and means of putting down corruption. Now, it is possible for any man living in the frontier being caught as an accused. Life has become so unsafe in the frontier. Innocent people are being persecuted on mere suspicion. That is the state of things obtaining in the frontier. Any man there is always at the mercy of the lowest Excise peon.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : May I ask the member whether the smugglers were the people of the locality, or outsiders?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Some are people of the locality. There are also people in the far eastern parts of the taluk where the consumption of the smuggled tobacco actually takes place. In the distant eastern parts of Muvattupuzha taluk, there are smugglers who could not even be traced.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : This is a valuable piece of information. May I take it therefore that the member is in a position to point out the persons involved in smuggling.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : As for that matter, I am prepared to offer any assistance in that direction although it may not be possible for me to give their names at present.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated) : Then, may I know, whether the member is prepared to leave the disposal of the question entirely in the hands of the Police Commissioner, who I understand, has studied the situation with the help of the member.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : No, Sir. Many important points have been raised in this discussion so far. I do not think that the Police Commissioner will be able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion by himself. That is why I suggest that the Government should go into the whole question of the prevention of smuggling as well as the defence of the frontier.

PRESIDENT : Does the member suggest a committee for that purpose?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): That is my suggestion. This committee should be empowered to enquire into the present incident also.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the aggrieved have preferred any criminal complaints with regard to these incidents?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): They have not gone to any court of law yet. That matter was also considered; but there are practical difficulties in going to a court of law especially against the Police. The names of people actually guilty have to be ascertained. Mr. Velayudhan Pillai, I hope, as a criminal vakil may well appreciate the difficulties in regard to that course.

PRESIDENT: I suppose you mean, a vakil practising in criminal courts. (Laughter).

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): It is difficult to go to a court of law in matters like this where the identity of the offenders cannot be traced.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torvala): Are the assaulted persons being treated in hospitals?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Yes, I hope the Commissioner of Police will say all about that in his speech.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether those hospitals are Government institutions or private ones?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The Commissioner of Police went to the Salvation Army Hospital at Varikoli and enquired into the matter. I know he took statements from the patients as well as from the Doctor.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Has the member any idea of the number of persons actually injured?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Of about 150 people attacked, as many as 70 people have given statements before the Police Commissioner. It is also a point for consideration how within a short time after the arrival of the Commissioner of Police, those statements were taken.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I ask, how many are in hospitals undergoing treatment?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I cannot say the exact number; some are already in-patients there while others are being treated as out-patients.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know the strength of the Reserve Police that was involved in the incident?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Twenty-two.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Under whose charge were they?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Under one Inspector.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Sheriala I): May I know whether any influential men of the locality are involved in smuggling?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I do not follow the member.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Do the people of the locality generally support these smugglers.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): No decent man will ever do that.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): What does the member mean by decent?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Exactly in the same way as the member has understood my statement.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamitta): So, the position is that the member does not know who attacked the innocent people, who extorted money and all that, and he expects the Police Commissioner to supplement his arguments.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): As I said in the beginning, I am not aware of the names of particular individuals. Let the authorities inquire. I have nothing more to add. Sir I move the motion.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir, in support of the motion, I have to say a few words. Mr. KuriaKOSE has placed certain facts before the House. They appear to be grim, and the House has to consider what the real facts are. Whatever may be the nature of the officers given by the honourable member when he was pressing his motion to the attention of the House, I may say, Sir, that the conditions in the frontier of Travancore and Cochin are far from satisfactory. I have got personal knowledge of conditions in those places. For several years I have reflected upon those matters. There is the very solid fact that Cochin appears to consume more tobacco than it can legitimately do considering its population. The reason is that the people buy more tobacco than they need and send the bulk of it down to Travancore. Everybody knows it, and ought to know it. That is an old trouble in Travancore; and some sixty or seventy years ago the Dewan himself had to take personal interest in the matter of detection of smuggling of tobacco. At that time, possibly smuggling went on unchecked. As a result Dewan Madhava Rao went there and personally conducted enquiries. Dewan Peishkar, Mr. Sankunni Menon, tried to bag these smugglers night after night.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Did he go there alone? (Laughter.)

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I am surprised at such a question because the Dewan is not a nonentity; he is a man who has got attendants. When the Dewan goes to detect cases of smuggling, being a sensible man, he will take the necessary precautions. So, that question, I consider, is unnecessary.

PRESIDENT: Is it a suggestion to the Dewan for action? If so, it may become irrelevant.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir, I think, even in putting questions, there must be some seriousness.

PRESIDENT : It is open to the member to yield his place and answer questions or to continue, as he pleases.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Tricandrum—Urban) : With your permission.

PRESIDENT : It is your right, and does not require my permission.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : Does it not ?

PRESIDENT : It is not the right of any member to have his question answered if the member in possession is not willing to answer it.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : The honourable member made an allegation that questions were not being asked in seriousness.

PRESIDENT : Considering the fact that he is holding a responsible position in this House, what he says must be charitably considered ; he only wanted the honourable members to be serious. I take it that that was his object.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : There has been a ruling that when questions are put, if one was able he must answer and not that he was not willing to yield.

PRESIDENT : There are many ways of expressing inability. The honourable member will proceed.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Urban) : If questions are put at the end of my speech, I am prepared to answer them.

Life in the frontier is very hard. These smugglers very often make common cause with some of the subordinate officers of the department. I know there have been various instances in which the Police and the Excise subordinates were pulling in opposite directions. Therefore I can very well understand the situation explained by Mr. Kuriakose. The atmosphere of smuggling provokes mischief. Tobacco is brought into Travancore in very large quantities. There are what are called the varunkailarans, persons who carry only the weapon of offence and walk, some in front and some behind the persons carrying the smuggled tobacco, as a sort of protection. There will be as many of these protectors as there are people who carry the smuggled tobacco on their head. In the frontier, and in the adjoining places, there is no security of life. (Mr. K. M. Kuriakose, hear, hear.) Many of my friends here may not be able to realise the atmosphere in the frontier especially when these serious offences are committed there. My friends who represent other constituencies are, by the blessing of God, in an atmosphere of peacefulness. In olden days the Travancore Government used to send out military men to these places. In those days there was great fear. The Excise officers who have got to protect the interests of Government, have not got enough powers to prevent these offences. They do not strike any terror, and ordinarily, the Police do not help the Excise. When there is a serious situation, the Excise and the Police naturally join together. So, a very very careful enquiry has to be made. Something must be done to protect our frontiers from the smugglers, and from unnecessary invasions of a character not in keeping with the dignity of the State so that the subjects of His Highness the Maharaja may have peace. An enquiry may be necessary.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tirandrum—Rural): What Mr. Kuriskose wants is protection from the Police.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): I realise that. I merely wanted to put forward certain facts which would enable the House to come to a conclusion. So, I consider that what I said is germane to the subject under discussion.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I rise to support the motion before the House. It is because the ways by which smuggling is detected are defective that the Police have been led to overdo. By a system of efficient C. I. D. work, smuggling can be prevented to a considerable extent. There are C. I. D. Inspectors who are specially deputed to help the Excise Department. Is it not therefore, disgraceful to that department to go in for the aid of the Police? I realise that there may be smuggling going on. My view is that we might rather let several of these smugglers go on, than suffer even a single innocent individual being punished. I have with me a letter from a person who was not only an eye witness but a victim. He is a responsible person who has spent two years in England. With your permission, I shall read just some portions of that letter.

smuggling itself. I think that is a very philanthropic attitude, and a very kindly attitude taken even towards smuggling. I think the member takes a socialistic view of the smugglers. He considers it as a disease which should not be met by any strong action by the Excise or the Police forces, but must be prevented by reducing the possibility of smuggling. Sir, human ingenuity had not found adequate means to surpass the ingenuity of persons intent upon avoiding the law and committing depredations.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha I): Is the member aware that there is absolutely no reasonable or sufficient means in the frontier to prevent smuggling?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Yes, I am aware that provisions to prevent smuggling are not adequate. But I am also aware of the fact that there are provisions in the frontier to prevent smuggling; and my honourable friend, the Deputy President, who is well versed in the ancient history of the State, referred to incidents which occurred 6 or 7 years ago. I myself had occasion to draw the attention of Government—I think it was in 1107—to leakage of revenue by smuggling. I am glad to find that the department and the Government have taken action from time to time; and at present various new devices are adopted to prevent smuggling. In the budget provisions, we find allotments for a flying squad and for installing a large force of G. I. D. men.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member may perhaps be interested to learn that we are losing Rs. 10 lakhs every year on account of this smuggling of tobacco.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I have pointed out in the case of beedi tobacco that smuggling exists at Quilon and Trivandrum Chowkeys and action has been taken in the frontier to prevent the smuggling of beedi tobacco which was regularly going on there. But it must be admitted that people living in those northern frontiers evince a sort of sympathy for the smugglers. There is a large body of people who have not the civic conscience to take a bold stand against the smugglers. It will be noticed Sir, that sometime ago, during 1109, more than 30 bundles of smuggled tobacco found shelter in a Church. The Excise Officers had to force open the Church and cause them to be taken out. What does that show?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I challenge that statement.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): This is a matter that cannot be challenged. I say this merely to show that the people lack in civic conscience so much that they are not in a position to co-operate with the Government in these matters and the officers responsible for the prevention of smuggling have to undergo a lot of difficulties. But, I don't think all these details regarding smuggling are relevant to the motion on hand. The question is whether there has been any terrorising on the part of the Police officers. Allegations have been made, and letters have been read; but I don't know whether they are all true. I have also been able to get petitions and counter-petitions with regard to this matter. One body of people say that the Reserve forces should be sent away. Another body say that, for adequate protection, they are necessary.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know from the member whether he has received any petition stating that the Reserve forces should be sent away?

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Yes, I have received petitions stating that the Reserve forces should be withdrawn. The question is whether such incidents have occurred. That ought to be enquired into. But, for that, I don't think any committee is necessary.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I did not say that a committee is necessary to enquire into this one aspect alone. But the whole problem of the frontier must be thoroughly investigated by a committee and a satisfactory solution suggested.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I beg to say that question is different from the one that has been raised by this motion. The question here is not with regard to the prevention of smuggling. Here, I am at a question regarding the irregularities attributed to the Police and the Excise officers. From the statement made by the honourable member he seems to have been satisfied with the action of the Police Commissioner and the arrangement made by him for the future. Nothing has been said by the member against the Commissioner or the Police force. There is no specific charge or complaint of any irregularity against the officers concerned, when it is alleged that so many respectable persons were assaulted. What I ask is, why not these people go and prefer complaints against these officers? That will be the best way by which they can serve the object in view. The question of smuggling and these alleged assaults have been mixed up in the course of the discussion. The only question is whether there has been any misconduct on the part of the Police. If so action must be taken; and the public must co-operate with Government to bring the culprits to book. As to the second motion, what we want is not any palliative measures the very sources of the evil of smuggling should be destroyed. If there is smuggling, the least traces of it should be ruthlessly stamped out.

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Sir, I am very glad of the opportunity afforded to me for explaining the real difficulty which my department experiences in the frontiers. As Mr. KuriaKOse said, I may frankly confessed that preventive measures on the frontier are inadequate. The first part of the motion relates to a matter with which I am not concerned. The second part of the motion by which Mr. KuriaKOse draws the attention of the House to the inadequate preventive measures in the frontier is the only subject on which I wish to speak.

[Mr. C. O. Madhavan.]

Smuggling of tobacco from Cochin to Travancore is, I may say, at least 70 years old. Till about the year 1863 the tobacco revenue system was the same both in Cochin and Travancore. Both in Cochin and Travancore, the supply and sale of tobacco was kept as a Government monopoly. There was absolutely no smuggling then. But, after 1863, that is about the time when we entered into the Interportal Trade Convention, this system was changed. Travancore adopted what is called the import duty system, and Cochin adopted the system of disposing of tobacco shops by auction. The present system in Cochin is the disposal of shops in auction for two years, at a time, just like our abkari auctions. They have got two classes of shops viz. A class and B class. The A class licensees in Cochin are entitled to bring as much tobacco as they want from outside and sell them to B class or retail shops. The rental that he has to pay to the Government is fixed at the time of the auction and that has absolutely no bearing upon the quantity of tobacco imported by him. The profits that he can make will therefore vary in direct proportion to the quantity handled by him. The more he imports, the greater will be his profit. The licensees in Cochin have therefore a great temptation for passing on to Travancore, through the smugglers as much tobacco as they can. Travancore levies a duty of Rs 120 on every candy of Coimbatore or Tinnevely tobacco. The difference in the price of a candy of Coimbatore tobacco between Travancore and Cochin may therefore be roughly estimated at Rs. 120. So a man who successfully effects the smuggling of one candy of tobacco from Cochin into Travancore makes a profit of over Rs. 100. This is the position.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Which is the better system, that prevailing in Cochin or in Travancore?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): From the revenue stand point, I may say that our system is infinitely superior. In spite of smuggling, we are getting over Rs. 20 lakhs on Tinnevely, Coimbatore and Jaffna tobacco, while Cochin with a population of nearly one-fourth is getting only between 2 and 3 lakhs.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know from the member the average consumption of tobacco per head, in Cochin and in Travancore?

PRESIDENT: I trust that the honourable member can give the figures.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The average consumption per head in Cochin may be taken to be 15 lbs., while in the Parur taluk it is only 1.5 lbs.

PRESIDENT: And in Nagercoil?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): In Nagercoil it is over 10 lbs. From that the House may form an idea of the extent to which smuggled tobacco is consumed in Travancore.

The responsibility thrown upon my department is very heavy. My men in the frontier are very few compared with the long frontier line, the difficulties in those areas and the great odds they have to face. The frontier line in the Parur Division alone is about 200 miles, and the frontier in the Piravom Division is not easily accessible. Even during day time it is difficult to walk along this frontier. Soon after I took charge of the department I wanted to see for myself all the difficulties my men had to face there. I walked along the whole frontier. I know every inch of ground in that frontier. In addition to the natural difficulties, it has to be said that the men have to work among a population mostly hostile. The people generally consider it an honest profession to cross over to the Cochin frontier and smuggle tobacco into Travancore. Some of the people sympathise with us in our difficulties; but they are afraid of helping us against the smugglers. To give any information regarding the smugglers is considered a sin; even priests have expressed that opinion to me.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether the member requisitioned the Reserve Police to be sent?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Not exactly that. There was a recent occurrence of high-handedness on the part of the smugglers in the frontier. A band of smugglers numbering over one hundred fell in with a small body of Excise men. At the first alarm the smugglers ran away leaving the bundles of smuggled tobacco. The Excise men were able to arrest one smuggler and collect 28 bundles.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Bural): What would be the cost of those bundles?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Ordinarily, a bundle may weigh about 50 lbs. The duty alone on the 28 bundles will come to about Rs. 800.

The smugglers brought torches from the neighbouring houses, watched the Excise men from a distance and found out that they were only a handful. So, they collected stones and began throwing stones at the men. The Excise men were armed with rifles and cartridges but the cartridges were soon exhausted, and they were at the mercy of the smugglers. So, taking two bundles and the arrested smuggler, they ran for shelter in a neighbouring house. That incident involved the commission of very serious offences under the Penal Code. I was duly informed of it. I knew that the Police would have taken up the matter; but as I got the information and as I saw that the matter was very serious, I wrote to the Police Commissioner to see that necessary orders are issued to his subordinates. He considered that Reserve force was necessary. It was for him to decide whether or not he should send a Reserve force.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I would like to know the names of the priests who considered it a sin to give information about the smugglers?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I do not want to give out the names here, Sir.

In the frontier, my men are faced with very many difficulties. In the first place, there is no easy means of communication along the frontier. The stations are few and far between. The number of men in each station is inadequate. All these matters have been considered and are still under the consideration of Government, and Government are taking adequate steps to meet the situation. It is all a question of money.

If the House would grant adequate funds, it is quite possible to completely stop smuggling.

I shall explain to the House the action which I have taken from time to time to check the increased activities of smugglers.

PRESIDENT: At the present moment we are concerned with a particular incident. Matters mentioned by the Excise Commissioner are of value in understanding what led to his asking for Police assistance. Now I shall call upon the Police Commissioner to offer his remarks.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Sir, some time last month, a serious case of assault on the Excise people, attended with forcible taking away of smuggled tobacco, was reported in the Mavattupuzha Station. It was a case of dacoity. The Excise Commissioner approached me. He said that the smugglers were in large numbers, and his force being quite unequal to the task of apprehending the smugglers, he wanted Police help. I then telegraphed to the Inspector there. Whether the offenders had been arrested was not known. Three weeks had passed and the Excise men were helpless in the matter.

Then only I thought of rendering substantial assistance to the local Police by sending the Reserve Police. The object with which I sent the Reserve was simply to apprehend the dacoits. A couple of days after the Reserve Police was sent I also went there. I looked into the case diaries, and had conversations with the Police and other local officers, and ascertained facts in the locality. The facts were these. To detect the smugglers a band of Excise men had gone; and they came in contact with a large number of smugglers who, seeing the smallness of the Excise party, over-awed them and seized back the smuggled tobacco. It was really a case of dacoity. Besides, the Excise Commissioner brought to my notice a list of persons who are reported to be smugglers. Sir, the fact is that the rich and influential men of the locality are really interested in this smuggling. They finance the smugglers. Their richness gives them respectability; and their respectability gives them reliability. Smuggling seems to be the chief business in the locality. I questioned a number of people of the locality. Most of the smugglers are rich people.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the persons were rich even before, or whether they grew rich by smuggling?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I am simply giving the information which I gathered as a result of careful investigation. The list of smugglers which I have got is strictly confidential and in the interests of justice the list should not be divulged at this stage. I have given orders to the subordinate officers to render assistance to the Excise authorities.

Mr. Kuriakose brought to me certain complaints. I accompanied him to the spot. A number of petitions by vakils were given to me. The petitions had already been written up. From the nature of the enquiry conducted by me, I can say that the place is full of smugglers. I asked the vakils and other petitioners who were present there, if they can tell me the names of the smugglers. They said 'no'. Then I asked them whether they could identify the persons in my list. They were terribly afraid of answering 'yes'. They were afraid of their own lives. I challenged Mr. Kuriakose himself to give me information on this point.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I may say for the information of this House that I have promised to give the Commissioner all help.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): If the Commissioner of Police is satisfied that there is a smuggler in a certain locality why should he seek the help of other people?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I know that there are ever so many smugglers. But on that knowledge I cannot go and catch them. I must catch them red-handed.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Am I to understand that the Commissioner of Police coolly admits that he is unable to deal with these smugglers?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): He has made a list of the suspects, and coolly and calmly he will deal with them later on.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know whether any cognizable case has been taken up, by the Reserve Police, against these people?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No. A complaint has been made to them.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): Is he prepared to disclose the nature of the complaint?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): It is under enquiry and I cannot disclose it.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether he is prepared to express regret for what has happened?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I am prepared to express regret if after enquiry I find that the Police were really to blame.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): May I know how many smugglers were arrested by the Police?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Two or three were arrested.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether he was convinced that many innocent people were assaulted at the spot?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No, not yet.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Am I to take it that he considers that no assault was made?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have not finished my enquiry. I grant that some thing has happened.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): What was the necessity for sending the Reserve Police? Was it because the local Police were not capable of handling the situation?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Which is the nearest Police Station?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Muvattupuzha.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know the distance between Muvattupuzha and the scene of occurrence?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): 15 miles. There is an out-post manned by four or five constables.

There is another difficulty. The charge was made against the Police and the Excise. So far as the Police is concerned I will do justice. But the difficulty is the question of identification.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): May I know whether the Policemen were in uniform or in mufti?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I cannot disclose that. Some men might have been in uniform and some in mufti.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the Police Commissioner, when he was there, enquired whether some of the Reserve Police went into a toddy shop to beat some people?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): They might have gone there in search of smugglers. The Excise people were taking the Police all over the place in order to trace the dacoits. They went to a place; they were surrounded by a crowd; and they dispersed the crowd. This seems to have been given a very serious aspect.

Unfortunately, Sir, a sort of communal colour has been given to this incident. I was told that the Excise and the Police force was composed of Nairs and that the smugglers were all Christians. The Christians of the place seem to think that this was done deliberately by the authorities of the Excise and the Police departments.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I). Who is the head of the Reserve Police?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): A very level-headed and well-conducted graduate of the Madras University, Inspector Mr. Oosman, a Mahomedan.

After enquiry, I came to the conclusion that it was very necessary for the Excise that the Police should work as auxiliaries; there must be a partnership between them so that the revenue may not go down. That is necessary till the Excise force is brought up sufficiently to depend upon itself.

The Reserve Police undoubtedly handle such situations very nicely. I had experience of that at the Alleppey riots. They came in for a lot of compliment from the people. But a more serious situation prevails now in Muvattupuzha. The place is like a bee-hive. The smugglers seem to think that the Police have come to take away the honey from their combs.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether the District Magistrate of the locality was informed of the seriousness of the position.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Not only the District Magistrate, but also the Government. I am doing all that is expected of me.

Sir, all these valkris want a punishment to be inflicted on the Excise and the Police. It is difficult for the Commissioner of Police to do that without making further enquiries.

PRESIDENT: I take it that what the honourable member means is that he has made some enquiries and that he is giving all the information he has collected.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Now the situation is very calm. That is admitted by the honourable member who moved the adjournment motion. But I have not ceased the enquiry. Investigation is still going on. If any party has a complaint, and if it is real, that shall be looked into. The wrongs that have taken place shall be set right. At present there is no danger. The danger has passed. Though the hands of the authorities are attempted to be weakened, I am bound to hear the complaints. Instructions to that effect have been issued to the officer who is going on with enquiry at the spot.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Am I to take it that the people of the locality do not want the help of the Police so that smuggling may be resumed?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The Police are a great hindrance to them. The people of the locality think that they could handle the Excise people. But, when the Police are there, perfect calm prevails. Therefore the Police are a great hindrance.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it the member's view that smuggling could not be prevented without Police help?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The Reserve Police was sent there as a tentative measure. So far as the Excise department was concerned, the Police have to work in conjunction with them.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): What I heard the Commissioner to say was that the Reserve Police were deputed to assist detection. If so, my point is whether they had the necessary authority to enter the houses of the smugglers?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is the Station House Officer. So far as cognizable cases are concerned, no warrant or authority is necessary.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Suppose the Inspector in charge of the forces was not competent to deal with such cases, what will happen?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is the local Police as well as the Reserve Police. They work together.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Was any authority given to the Inspector of the Reserve Police to enter into houses to find out cases of smuggling?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No, but the Police Officer at the spot has all power necessary for investigation.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Then am I to take it that the Reserve Police were entering into the houses without the necessary authority from the Station House Officer.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No, I said that the Reserve Police were working with the local Police.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I heard the member to say that the Police went in to a toddy shop?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): They did so when the local police officer was there by way of assistance.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Was the Government informed of the necessity for taking the Reserve Police.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The Government know all about it.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Was it after getting the orders of Government that the Reserve Police was sent to Muvattupuzha?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Was any previous notice given to the people that the Reserve Police were arriving.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No. It was not a case of opening fire. In regard to the detection of smuggling, the Police have to make surprise visits. I have nothing more to add.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I wish to offer a few remarks on the motion before the House. To me it appears that this motion has been brought up as a result of a serious misunderstanding of the situation. The matter contained in the first portion of the motion deals with lawlessness on the part of the Reserve Police. I was a little pained to hear this matter discussed now, because, in the morning it was stated that some the Policemen numbering about 800 or so should be rewarded for their behaviour. In the evening the matter appears to have undergone some change.

It is said that about 22 men of the Reserve Police committed acts of lawlessness. It is impossible for me to believe that they would be guilty of the terrible deeds alleged. But as the Police Commissioner himself has stated, there is some justification for the Reserve Police doing even such deeds. From the letter read out to the House it could be seen that the Policemen had to disperse an assemblage, of about 30 to 40 people, in defiance of Police orders. What exactly happened after the assemblage, that letter does not say. Whether there was any shouting, jeering or mocking at the Police is not known. For the attitude of the people, as disclosed to the House by the speeches of the Commissioner as well as Mr. Kuriakose the mover, what the Police had done was justified. Moreover, this is a matter affecting the people of the locality. When the Police order that the crowd should be dispersed, and if the order is disobeyed, it is open to the Police to take action. It is within their power to charge the crowd. Sir, there was in the crowd, the gentleman who had gone to England and returned. It is not clear for what purpose he went to England and why he returned. It is said that this gentleman was assaulted. Whether he took any part in setting up the smugglers, or whether he was jeering at the Police or obstructing them, the House has no definite information about. It is for the Commissioner to get at the truth in the matter. At any rate there is much difference between this gentleman and the others. Anyway, this man has been brought to the scene and trumped up as it were as a big man. So, what I gather, is that there is suppression of information on both sides. Only after investigating the whole matter we shall be in a position to say anything definite about the matter. It appears to me that it is premature, so far as this House is concerned, at this stage, to express an opinion on what is contained in the first part of the motion for adjournment.

If the Commissioner of Police and Mr. Kuriakose are prepared to place facts before us unbiased, that is to say, simple truths, we would be in a position to judge them and come to a proper conclusion. That is what ought to be done under the particular circumstances. No member of the House will allow any excess on the part of the Police officers, whether he be a Station House Officer, Reserve Police Officer, or ordinary Policeman or even the Commissioner. We would certainly condemn that. If in bringing the offenders to book, these officers armed with proper authority from the Station House Officer, entered the houses of suspects, and if they were then prevented or foiled or abused, then Sir, there is every justification on their part to resort to these methods. No one has a right to behave in an unlawful manner. Law has got to be enforced. That being so, this House has little to do with the first part of the motion.

Again, if the Government had issued a communique on the subject, after an investigation of the truth of the matter, it could be gone into by us. It is open to the House to say what the Government did was wrong, in excess of their powers and therefore improper. This House could have suggested the manner in which the enquiry was to be proceeded with. Now there are complaints and counter-complaints.

PRESIDENT : Is there any plaint now ?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : I am simply referring to the complaints, Sir. This is only a case of allegations and counter-allegations between party and party.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : May I ask the member, whether the Police Commissioner has not accepted my statement ?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : No.

The Police Commissioner, a gentleman of suave manners has a peculiar way of dealing with the honourable members of this House. In operating upon the situation, with his tactfulness, he might have said something. It is very clear from his statement that even Mr. Kuriakose was not in a position to give the names of the smugglers which the Commissioner was able to detect. I only congratulate Mr. Kuriakose on the attitude he has taken in the question at issue.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : May I know how the member concluded like that ?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May be a mistaken idea. But that is what I gather from the Police Commissioner's statement. Every man is entitled to have some protection. If there was any violation of law by resorting to unlawful means, there is absolutely no case for the Government to interfere on behalf of individuals. If it is established that there is lawlessness in a place, that smuggling was being carried on, is it not open to Government to take strong measures for the purpose of putting down lawlessness, for preserving order where there is disorder, for maintaining the dignity and prestige of the Government and their officers?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is it the member's view that lawlessness should be met by lawlessness?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Need not be. But lawlessness should be met by lawfulness. If I am assaulted, for instance, I am entitled to protect myself. There are certain occasions when you are entitled to protect yourself.

PRESIDENT: Not here at any rate.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): At any rate, by lawful methods, the situation can be met. Some times lawful methods will appear to be unlawful. Whether there was any justification for the Policemen to act in the particular manner, we shall examine. Well, this is a matter which could be decided only after a thorough investigation. As Mr. Kuriakose himself has admitted that the Commissioner has taken the full responsibility in the matter, is it not fair, in the interests of justice, that the matter should be left to be disposed of by him entirely?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Is it the idea of the member that Police excesses can be justified under any circumstances?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): As I said, Sir, if I am assaulted by anybody, I have the right to protect myself.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know how?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): I mentioned that, only as an instance. If my friend could look into the commentaries of the Indian Penal Code, there are ample safeguards. There is the protection afforded to the Police officers under the Police Regulation. I ask, when the Police see an unlawful assembly of men armed with deadly weapons, what should they do? Are they not entitled to use some force?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Was any case made out to that effect?

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): That is what I think; and I am not alone in that. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai has told us that he has received some reports contrary to what has been said by the mover. He has been addressed by very many gentlemen from that locality.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Is it not a conjecture?

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II) : No. The honourable gentlemen who have written to us do not stand on a different footing from the other gentlemen who have informed my friend. We have been called upon to give publicity to the petitions we have received. Why should we presume that the Police have committed excesses. The Police who were entrusted with the proper control of the affairs might have exercised some force which the occasion demanded. We have heard what the member has said. We have also heard what the Police Commissioner has stated. He has investigated the whole matter ; but the investigation is not complete. It may be possible for him to find out the offenders and bring them to book. So it is not necessary to appoint a Committee as suggested in the resolution.

Now I may be permitted to go to the second part of the resolution, with regard to the smuggling. Every one of us agree that some strong measures should be adopted for the purpose of preventing smuggling. In the High Court some case was brought up. Now these gentlemen may be convicted ever so many times from year to year. But they carry on the same thing as long as they want. Year after year the Excise Commissioner is complaining that bamboos were destroyed either by natural causes or by interested smugglers. He says that ditches should be dug involving very large expenditure. It appears that there are lands belonging to the Excise Department, but these people would not leave possession of the lands. They would repeatedly take the yield and then suffer to be prosecuted and convicted. The process may go on even six times a year. There may be six prosecutions against the same man in every year ; and these prosecutions go on endlessly. Sir, these cases are being held up and are not disposed of quickly. The Magistrates do not meet out the maximum punishments. The Magistracy must be efficient, the Police must be strengthened and honest Policemen must be posted there. For that no committee is necessary. This is a matter that has been engaging the attention of the Government. Remedies were suggested, but those remedies were not accepted for want of sufficient funds. Any way, if Government bestow some attention upon this matter, if they spend some money in the proper direction, and if Government issued proper instructions to the Police and to the Magistracy, I am quite sure that, with the force that is at the disposal of the Government, they will be able to restore peace and order. They will be able to enforce law and order in those places which are reported to be places of lawlessness. I submit that for this purpose no Committee is necessary. In the second place the Excise Commissioner gave out a pathetic version of what the Excise peons did. It affected me very much. Some of them were armed with rifles ; and they must have been provided with extra cartridges also. When one after another the cartridges were exhausted what happened to them ? I wonder what these Excise men did with these cartridges. I do not know what they do with cartridges. That is a vital point that has to be dealt with by the Excise Commissioner.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Is the member aware that generally rifles cast away as useless in the Military Department are given to the Excise peons.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Even if the rifles are bad, if they are meant for the purpose of keeping the decoits at bay, I think these peons must be trained to use them. If I am given a rifle, even if it is bad, I will surely keep the criminal at bay for some time. That is what appears to have happened. When the case goes to a court of law, we will then have to consider how these Excise men took to their heels, what happened to their cartridges, who robbed them, where are the tundi articles etc. To effectively deal with the decoits only men who are trained to use rifles should be appointed. The Excise Commissioner should be asked to devote at least one hour for the purpose of enquiring into these things since we stand to gain Rs. 20 lakhs every year. An hour's time daily spend on this account by the Excise Commissioner will not be a waste. If the Excise people are able to show an increase in revenue, we will be glad to offer rewards to them. All that I say is that the Excise Department should tackle this problem very seriously. With these words, I oppose the motion.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I wish to speak a few words in support of the motion before the House. It is not a single motion but two motions put together. About the second, all sides of the House are agreed that all is not well on the western frontier and that smuggling is going on, on a large scale there. To that extent the mover has succeeded and has made out a case for an enquiry. About motion No. 1 there seems to be some difference of opinion. Mr. Kottur Kunjukrishna Pillai has said that he has got two kinds of version, one version given by the mover and another very different from that. According to me that is just the case for an enquiry. Sir, if there is only one version there is no need for a fresh enquiry, while if there are two kinds of versions, only a fresh and impartial enquiry could bring out the truth. So in that case also the mover has succeeded in his object i. e., making out a case for an enquiry. Now I proceed to another aspect of the question. I am very sorry to note that many unfortunate things have been given expression to in the course of this discussion. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai has said in the course of his speech that some churches were being made use of in the act of smuggling by these smugglers. The Excise Commissioner has remarked that many of the so-called respectable people in the locality were indirectly helping the smugglers and that he knows the names of several priests who are in the know of things. The Police Commissioner has said that most of the rich people of the locality have become rich by smuggling and with the wealth obtained by smuggling they have become respectable, and that many of the vakkils in the place who could give information about the smugglers did not give such information and that all the agitation about the Reserve Police was only a clever device by the people of the locality to get the Reserve Police removed and thereby carry on the work of smuggling. Further he went on to add that there was something of a communal nature in all this agitation as most of the Police and Excise staff were Nairs while the smugglers were all Christians. Sir, these are very serious allegations. In the first place a whole locality is condemned as being the den of smugglers, a whole community condemned as smugglers and their sacred Churches and priestly order accused as helping this notorious trade. I ask the Excise Commissioner who claims to know every inch of the locality and the people helping these smugglers directly or indirectly, why he has not booked them as yet. If he does not do so there are only two possible inferences; one that he does not want to book them, the other even if he wants he is not able to book them. In either case I say that he is not fit to hold the place he is now occupying i. e., the head of the Excise Department. Sir, you have just now said that there is an annual loss of Rs. 10 lakhs by this organised smuggling on the western frontier. Who is responsible for this loss of revenue to the State? I would say, certainly the Excise Commissioner. If I were in his place I would not have allowed this sort of thing to continue long. Now, Sir, about the observations of the Police Commissioner, he says he knows most of the smugglers and the people in the know of things. I ask him why in that case he is keeping quiet. Is it not an admission of weakness or helplessness on his part? If I were the Police Commissioner, with the information he claims to possess I would have proceeded against all these people and booked the miscreants one and all. The most unfortunate part of the business was the attempt to give a communal colour to the whole incident. The Commissioner says that most of the officers in the Excise and Police Departments are Nairs and that is the reason why the people of the locality, who are Christians, complain about them. This is a very curious explanation and perhaps the unkindest cut of all. If all these officers are Nairs, whose fault is it? Did the people of the locality want it, or is it in spite of their demand for equal opportunities for all. Assuming for the moment that there is some force in the remarks of the Police Commissioner, I say that it is the strongest argument in favour of an open and impartial enquiry into the whole matter. Sir, when there is so much of communal bitterness in the country and when members of one community complain about the conduct of the members of another community, the Government cannot certainly keep quiet. An enquiry has certainly to be made and the miscreants, whether they are Christians or Nairs, Government servants or private individuals, have to be given exemplary punishment and the revenues of the State have to be safeguarded, and the majesty of the land maintained.

PRESIDENT : The House will now adjourn to meet again tomorrow at 11 'o clock.

The House adjourned at 5-30 P. M.

of
THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY.
(OFFICIAL REPORT)

FIRST ASSEMBLY.

NINTH SESSION.

Wednesday, the 24th February 1937/13th Kunbhom 1112.

The Assembly met again in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall at Eleven of the clock, with the President in the chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Tondamkulangara-Ariyad Munro Light road.

284. *MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether they have sanctioned the estimate for the construction of Tondamkulangara-Munro Light road;

(b) whether the owners (of lands adjoining the poramboke) have consented to give the required lands free of cost;

(c) whether the said owners have given separate statements of consent to the Provertinikar of Ariyad South pakuthi to the above effect;

(d) if so, under whose instructions such statements were given;

(e) when they were given;

(f) whether the fencing, trees and houses on the lands have been set back or removed after demarcating the boundary lines and, if so, by whom and under whose orders or directions;

(g) whether the owners have requested Government to take possession of the lands at the disposal of Government;

(h) whether they have taken possession of the lands, and, if not, why not;

(i) whether they are making any provision to take up the work in 1112, and, if so, when the work would be commenced; and

(j) whether they have received repeated representations from the Travancore Chamber of Commerce and the Alleppey Chamber of Commerce requesting for the early construction of the road, and, if so, with what results?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) No.

(b) & (c) Some of the owners of the adjoining lands have given statements agreeing to surrender the lands required for the road free of compensation.

(d) Under instructions from Government as well as on the requisition of the P. W. D.

(e) Statements from some of the landowners were obtained in Kanni and Tulam 1108 and from some others in Meenam and Medam 1111.

(f) The interested parties have stated that they have set back the fences and cleared the lands at their own cost and as per alignment and directions of the P. W. D.

(g) Yes, some have given written consent.

(h) No, because written consent has still to be obtained from some landowners.

(i) No.

(j) Yes. The estimate and plans for the work have been received. Government have considered the representations and orders have been issued for making provision for the purpose in the budget for 1113.

Poovanakadavu bridge at Mallappally.

285. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether any land had been acquired for Poovanakadavu bridge at Mallappally;

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the amount of money spent; and

(c) whether any estimate is prepared for that bridge?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) A sum of Rs. 1,385-16-12 has been awarded as compensation for the lands acquired.

(c) Yes an estimate for Rs. 1,17,000 has been sanctioned.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): With reference to the answer to part (c) of the question, may I know when the estimate was sanctioned?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): In 1932.

Drainage facilities in Tazhakkara paktuthi.

286. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Irrigation officers have investigated into the necessity of giving drainage facilities for the cultivation of the Vettiur, Tazhakkara, Pulimel, Patikkad and Peruvayalichal punja lands in Tazhakkara paktuthi, Mavelikara taluk; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the results of such investigation?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) &

(b) Investigation is being conducted.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know from Government how long this investigation has been conducted?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): One investigation was conducted some years ago by the Quilon Division Road Engineer and a subsequent investigation was conducted by the Irrigation Sub Division Officer. Recently, after local enquiry, investigation is being conducted by the local Sub Division Officer, since the last meeting of the Assembly.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Are these investigations anywhere near completion?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): They are being conducted, and they will surely be completed as early as possible.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): At whose instance were these investigations started?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): These investigations were started as a result of petitions from the cultivators of these punja lands.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): What I ask is, whether the position is that the investigations were started at the instance of the ryots or at the instance of the officers concerned?

PRESIDENT: Mr. Krishna Pillai's voice is particularly low to-day.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Investigations were started under the orders of Government.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): Was it on the motion of the ryots I ask?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Yes.

The Land Colonization Scheme.

287. *MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how many acres of land have been declared available for land colonization till date (10-2-1112) since the passing of the Land Colonization Scheme; and

(b) how many applications have been received up till now for the grant of land for such colonies?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) Nil.

(b) Two.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know from Government when the Land Colonization Scheme was sanctioned by Government?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): No particular Land Colonization Scheme was sanctioned by Government. There were rules in the old Puduval rules provided for such schemes.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know when those rules were framed?

Mr. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): About 1928, or so.

Mr. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Then may I know why no land was made available for colonization?

Mr. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Nobody wanted them.

Mr. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Sir, answer to part (b) of the question says that there were two applications. May I know the reasons why lands were not given to these applicants?

Mr. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):<sup>1</sup> In one case land was given i. e., for the War Service Mens' Association. In the other case the party did not take further action when he was called upon to furnish certain information. He did not take any interest in it.

288. *Mr. KAINIKKARA M. PADMANABHA PILLAI (Changanachery I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how many incomplete Primary Schools have been abolished during 1110 and 1111; and

(b) what amount have they gained in grant by abolishing them?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

|                      |     |    |
|----------------------|-----|----|
| (a) 1110             | ... | 51 |
| 1111                 | ... | 70 |
| (b) Rs. 14,420-21-0. |     |    |

V. P. School, Maneed, in Muvattupuzha taluk.

289. *Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) when the pay bills of the V. P. School, Maneed, in Muvattupuzha taluk, for each of the months beginning from Dhanu 1111 to Kanni 1112 have been sanctioned by the Inspector and sent to the Headmaster;

(b) a history of the pay bill of the same school for the month of Chingam 1112 till it was actually cashed in the treasury; and

(c) whether it is true that the Headmaster, Mr. P. C. Thomas, of the same school was fined, and, if so, the reasons for the same?

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

(a) A statement furnishing the information is placed on the table.

(b) The Headmaster, Maneed Primary School, returned the bill for Chingam 1112 to the Assistant Inspector of Schools, Muvattupuzha, on 22-2-1112 on the ground that the office stamp was not imprinted on the bill. It was received by the Assistant Inspector on 24-2-1112 and returned to the school on 25-2-1112. The bill is reported to have been cashed on 1-3-1112.

(c) Yes. For official irregularities.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, may I know who was responsible for not affixing the office stamp?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): It must have been the office staff of the Assistant Inspector.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Is the member aware that the delay in cashing these bills causes great hardship to primary school teachers?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Yes.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Is the member aware that many of the teachers are not natives of the locality so that it adds to their hardship?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I am not aware of it.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): With reference to part (c) of the answer, may I know the nature of the irregularity for which the Headmaster was punished?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): The Headmaster was punished for making baseless charges against the office staff of the Assistant Inspector.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether one of the reasons for the Headmaster being punished was his complaint that the bill was not cashed early enough?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I have given the member all the information in my possession.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The answer merely says "official irregularities". Was there any special official irregularity committed by the Headmaster?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I stated that he made baseless charges against the office staff and against the Assistant Inspector.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know the nature of such baseless charges?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I have told the honourable member that I have given him all the information in my possession.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know from the member whether he will make an enquiry to see if the punishment was meted out to the Headmaster simply for the reason that he complained that the bill was cashed late?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I shall be glad to enquire into the matter.

Irrigation tanks converted into garden lands.

200. *MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Will the Government be pleased to furnish a list of irrigation tanks or chiras in Chirayinkil taluk which have been converted into garden lands or paddy fields by private persons with such details as the survey numbers, pakuthies, the date of occupation in each case and the name of the present occupant?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): A list "containing the information required by the member is placed on the table.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): With reference to appendix II, may I know whether all the items given have been converted into garden or wet lands?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The information available is given in the table.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know, with regard to items 1 to 3 whether the tanks are now fit for irrigation purposes?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I claim notice.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know why encroachment was not removed from item 4.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): That is because on an appeal to the Division Peishkar he cancelled the order of the Tahsildar. But I have taken it up on revision.

Pallikal—Velunalloor Trace.

291. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the distance of Pallikal—Velunalloor trace in Chirayinkil taluk; and

(b) what would be the approximate cost for converting the trace into a cartable road?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) About  $4\frac{1}{2}$  miles.

(b) About Rs. 20,000.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Pallikal Velunalloor trace will be converted into a cartable road and whether Government have any idea of doing it now?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No Sir. The people have been told that, if the road is improved by them under the Ryots' Roads Rules, the P. W. D. will maintain it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are aware that it has already been improved by the people as a good road?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Chief Engineer's report—

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Government will direct the Chief Engineer to send the necessary report to Government in this matter and see whether improvements can be made on that road?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): This supplementary question will be communicated to the Chief Engineer.

292. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of students, by caste, from the backward and depressed classes other than Ezhavas and Muslims reading in the Intermediate and B. A. classes; and

(b) the number by caste from the above classes receiving scholarships and fee concessions?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): (a) & (b) A statement furnishing the information is placed on the table.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know the reason why out of the two Kurava students only one is granted fee concession?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I claim notice.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): In the case of other students belonging to depressed classes concessions have been granted to one and all alike. I wish to know whether this is due to a mistake in printing?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I claim notice. The member's suggestion is probably correct but I cannot say definitely without further enquiry.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether, the fee concession is granted irrespective of the consideration whether they are rich or poor?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): In the case of Mahomedan students half fee concession is granted irrespective of poverty. In the case of all other communities, poverty is an important consideration.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know why that distinction is made in the case of Muslims?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): The distinction is made with a view to encourage Muslim higher education in the State.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Am I to understand from the member that Government are more solicitous to the Muslim community than to other communities?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): There is a special Mahomedan G. O. to that effect.

PRESIDENT: You mean G. O. relating to Mahomedans.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Yes, Sir.

The Director of Registration.

293. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether they are aware that the actions of the late Director of Registration (Mr. E. I. Mathew) were criticised by any member of the Sri Mulam Assembly at the 1110 Budget Session ; and

(b) whether they have taken any action on the same ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : (a) and (b) Yes.

Irrigation facilities in Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara taluks.

294. *MR. M. MAHOMED HANEEF (Nominated) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether they have any scheme for the improvement of the irrigation facilities in Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara taluks ;

(b) whether the Kodayar Irrigation Project is working at a gain or loss to Government ;

(c) whether Government had the idea to include Vilavankod and a portion of Neyyattinkara taluks within Kodayar Irrigation Project by completing the Right Bank Channel ; and

(d) whether any preliminary survey was conducted to complete the Right Bank Channel and the cost, if any, the Government have incurred for the same ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : (a) None at present.

(b) Working at a profit.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes ; Rs. 1,27,753.

MR. K. MAHOMED HANEEF (Nominated) : May I know with reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, the percentage of profit during 1110 ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : 1.1 per cent.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, may I know from Government why the idea of including a part of Neyyattinkara and Vilavankod was abandoned ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : The chief reason is inadequacy of water in the reservoir and another was the prohibitive cost.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod) : With reference to the answer to part (c) of the question, may I know whether this reason i. e., inadequacy of water in the reservoir was brought to the notice of Government after the completion of the project or during the work ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : I think the Right Bank Channel also was included in the original scheme. Three miles of the channel were cut at much expense ; but later on it was found that there will be insufficiency of water in the reservoir.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether during the work in connection with Kodayar Project, this contingency of the reservoir not holding sufficient water to feed both the R. B. and L. B. channels was brought to the notice of Government?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I do not know Sir. It was brought to notice in time to prevent further expenditure on the Right Bank Channel.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether a supplemental scheme for putting up a dam across the Chittar tributary to the Kodayar, was considered by Government during the Kodayar Project work?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I am prepared to accept that information.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the Government is prepared to work up that scheme if it is found feasible?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It is under consideration.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether that scheme was submitted by an Italian Engineer?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Such a scheme is under consideration.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the date on which the preliminary survey was conducted?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I think it was before 1906, since the expenditure was incurred in that year.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Have the Government accepted the scheme.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government have abandoned it.

Wages given to artisan employees.

295. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the wages given to an adult skilled artisan employed in the P. W. or Maramath Department under daily wages system; and

(b) the wages given to an adult unskilled labourer employed under the daily wages system in the above departments?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) In the Maramath Department the daily wages given to an adult skilled artisan range from Chs. 24 to Re. 1-7-0 each according to the nature and intricacy of the work; while in the P. W. D. it ranges from Chs. 14 to Re. 1-21-0 per day.

(b) The wages of an unskilled labourer in the Maramath Department is Chs. 12 per day and in the P. W. D. it is between 10 and 14 chukkrams per day.

Vol IX. No. 13.

Widening of the Main Road from the Museum to the East Fort.

296. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any proposal to widen the Main Road from the Museum to the East Fort, Trivandrum;

(b) the probable date of the commencement and termination of the work;

(c) the estimated cost of the work; and

(d) the width of the road when finished?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) No.

(b), (c) & (d). These do not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the town-planning scheme includes the widening of the main road from the Museum to the East fort?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): When do the Government intend to take up the work?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The scheme of widening the road from the Museum to the East Fort is kept in abeyance.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Government are aware that the method of improving the roads in Trivandrum as it is being done now, is not justifiable, and may I know whether they would adopt some other better method?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The honourable member seems to be an expert in town planning. I shall refer him to the Government's Town Planning Expert.

Pay wards in hospitals.

297. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state the hospitals in the State that do contain paywards?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): There are pay wards in the institutions noted below:

1. General Hospital, Trivandrum;
2. Women and Children's Hospital, Trivandrum;
3. District Hospital, Alleppey;
4. District Hospital, Nagercoil;
5. District Hospital, Parassala; and
6. Victoria Jubilee Hospital, Quilon.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know why, when pay wards are attached to the two hospitals at Trivandrum and to the hospitals at Alleppey, Nagercoil, Kottarakara and Quilon, for a place like Kottayam which is the headquarters of the northern districts, there is no pay ward?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): There has been no demand.

Dentists in Government hospitals.

295. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of hospitals to which dentists are appointed at present; and

(b) whether the Kottayam District Hospital has any dentist attached to it?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) Dentist is appointed only in the General Hospital, Trivandrum.

(b) No.

299. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Assistant Inspector of Schools at Kottayam is a member of the Kottayam Municipal Council;

(b) whether it was not the practice to nominate Assistant Inspectors of Schools to the Kottayam Municipal Council;

(c) whether the present Assistant Inspector of Schools at Kottayam was ever a member of the Kottayam Municipal Council;

(d) if he ever was, and if he is not a councillor at present, what are the reasons for suddenly terminating his councillorship; and

(e) what were the reasons that weighed with Government to make such a sudden departure from the practice of nominating Assistant Inspectors to the Municipal Council?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) No.

(b) The Assistant Inspector of Schools was an ex-officio councillor

(c) Yes.

(d) and (e) In the absence of a Health Officer for the town, Government considered the presence of an officer of the Public Health Department in the Council was more essential in the interests of the public health of the town than that of an officer of the Education Department.

Medical officers in Municipal Councils.

300. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any municipality in Travancore where Government have nominated two medical officers to the council?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes. In the Kottayam Municipality.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know why in Kottayam alone two Medical Officers have been nominated?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The two Medical Officers belong to two different departments, one to the Medical Department and the other to the Public Health Department. The latter has been made a member of the Council very recently. Since Kottayam Municipality has no separate Health Officer, Government thought that he would be useful to the Council in giving advice on matters relating to Public Health Nomination of non-official members of Municipal Councils.

801. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the principle on which non-official gentlemen are nominated to municipal councils;

(b) whether there is any minimum qualification fixed for such members; and

(c) whether such members are expected to reside within the municipal limits?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) The principle kept in view is to give, as far as possible, fair representation to communities unrepresented by the elections.

(b) No.

(c) Yes.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, I would like to know whether, in the Municipal Council, Kottayam, there is any member who does not know how to read and write?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

Official President for the Kottayam Municipal Council.

302. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received any representations urging the appointment of an Official President for the Kottayam Municipal Council;

(b) if so, the person or persons or body or bodies that made such representation;

(c) whether Government have received any representation that the Kottayam Municipality should be superseded; and

(d) if so, the person or persons, body or bodies that made such representations?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) No.

(b) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

(c) No.

(d) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

Opening of a canal connecting the Maveli thodu with the Minachil river.

303. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they or the Engineering Department have received any representation regarding the urgent necessity for opening a canal connecting the Maveli thodu with the Minachil river;

- (b) if so, what action was taken on such representation ;
 (c) whether the Chief Engineer has visited the spot ; and
 (d) if so, when and what has come out of his visit ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : (a) Yes.

(b) An estimate received from the Chief Engineer is under the consideration of Government.

(c) Yes.

(d) He visited the spot on the 1st October 1936 and called for fresh proposals.

NOTICES OF ADJOURNMENT MOTIONS.

PRESIDENT : I told honourable members of the Assembly yesterday that I had received certain notices of adjournment motions, and I chose one for discussion yesterday. I have received the following motions. One of them relates to—

"The unsatisfactory nature of the arrangements for the conduct of election to the Legislative Bodies as disclosed by the recent publication of the preliminary electoral roll and the fixing of the polling stations."

Another relates to—

"The apprehension in the minds of agricultural debtors and the dislocation and suspension of business transactions in the country, owing to the great 'indefinite delay' taken by the Government in setting up Conciliation Boards as provided in the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation of 1112."

The third relates to—

"The anxiety caused to the public by the recent Press Note published by the Chief Engineer regarding the unsatisfactory nature of the ground and sub-soil where the present Pallivasal Power House is located and the consequent decision on the part of the Government to build a Power House on a more convenient site on the banks of the Methirampuzha River, thereby causing huge additional expenditure to the State and obvious delay in supplying power for the use of the public."

All these are in order, and I shall presently say something about them. I have also received notice of another adjournment motion relating to—

"The serious hardship and loss caused to the Valans (the fishermen) in the matter of back-water fishing by registry-holders of adjacent paddy fields resorting to what is known as paddy-field fishing."

This has been going on for several decades;

It is not a matter of urgent public importance and is therefore disallowed.

I wish to know from honourable members whether there is any objection in allowing the first motion relating to elections. (No objection was raised).

I leave it to the House to decide when they will discuss it. It is just possible that the discussion on the Bar Council Bill may not take up the time till two o'clock. There is nothing in the rule against adjournment motions being taken up earlier than 3.30. It is open to the house to take up the motion at 3.30 or as soon as the Legislative business is over. If I do not hear any dissent, I shall adopt the latter course, and take it up as soon as the Legislative business is over.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : Is the discussion to last only for two hours in that case also?

PRESIDENT : You will find that two hours is indicated as the maximum, in the rules.

In regard to the other adjournment motions, I will make the announcement tomorrow.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL, (contd.)Clause 9, (contd.)

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Last evening, I was dealing with the motion of Mr. Damodaran Asan that sub-clause (c) of Clause 9 (2) be omitted. This clause enables the Bar Council to make rules for charging fees payable to the Council in respect of enrolment. I was saying last evening that this provision was unobjectionable in-as-much as it would be recognised without any doubt that the Council should have some source of revenue, and the most readily available source of revenue would be a fee in respect of the enrolment of advocates. But Mr. Asan points out that in the previous section it is provided that fees may be prescribed by Government. I have considered the matter and I find that that these two provisions are somewhat inconsistent. If this Bill proceeds to the next stage, I intend to propose suitable amendments to clause 8 (2). That will make the provisions quite consistent.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): In view of that fact, I do not want to press my amendment.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): I beg to move that:—

Sub-clause (3) to Section 9 be deleted. Sub-clause (3) reads thus:

"Such rules shall also provide for the first and the second grade pleader enrolled as vakils of any Civil Court in Travancore before the first day of Chingom 1113 M. E. being qualified to apply for admission as advocates as the result of an examination held from time to time by or under the supervision of the Council."

It seems to me that there must be some protest outside this House against the idea contained in the amendment; but, nevertheless I shall try to make headway so as to make clear what exactly is the purport of the amendment. In the first place, I wish to observe that by this amendment it is not meant to offend the feelings of any individual or class of persons. It is only from the larger point of view, not I am sure of administrative expediency, but what I would call the requirements of the administration of justice, that I wish to move this amendment. The Vakils' Regulation has been lying in the Statute Book of the State and from 1040 and 1075 these Regulations have been working on. It was never considered or even whispered as the legitimate aspiration of the 1st and 2nd grade pleaders that they should be admitted to the rank of High Court Vakils. But now I understand that when this Bill has been introduced for the consolidation and the creation of a corporations of the Bar as a whole, there is an aspiration on the part of the pleaders who are as yet qualified or recognised to be qualified only to practise in the lower courts to be enrolled as advocates of the High Court. I might personally say that, on account of the admission of these classes of pleaders, there is not going to be any great catastrophe so far as the administration goes, except it be that this addition of new hands, which by all recognised principles of administration of justice have been considered to be unqualified for the purpose of administering higher departments of law and for carrying on judicial administration in the higher walks, will be allowed admission into those portals of justice where they have been hitherto considered unqualified. Sir, in considering this question, I think that it is not exactly the question of personal merit that is to be considered, but the question of capacity and qualification and the equipment necessary for the purpose of helping and carrying on the administration of justice. I say this because an advocate being entitled to become a judge of the High Court or a subordinate judge, it is quite possible that the pleaders might subsequently aspire even to be on the Bench of the highest court in the land. That is quite possible, and when such a contingency arises, we have to examine what would be the kind of material that would be qualified for the purpose of filling the Bench and ministering at the Bar. There was a few years ago a report by the Law's Delays Commissioner in which it was very distinctly stated that there was not even a whisper of the first and second grade pleaders being aspirants to the place of High Court Vakils or, for that matter, that there was any necessity for altering the law prescribing the qualification for enrolment as High Court Vakils. I believe that the system has been working satisfactorily. Now at a time when the Bar is sought to be made more efficient and welded into a corporate institution, and though not directly, indirectly, to raise the level and standard of the Bar as such, so as to hold its own with the Bar elsewhere and, as I understand, also to keep our heads high when the federal scheme of things comes into existence when the advocates practising in the courts of the Federated States also are allowed to practise before the Federal Court, it seems to me nothing less than ridiculous for this country to lower the standard of the Bar by the admission of such material as can never aspire to practise before the highest court in the land, with learning or efficiency. Sir, as I said, there has been a lot of encomiums showered upon the practitioners in the mofussil by the Law's Delays Commissioner. In fact, it has been found that they are best fitted for adequately carrying on the work to which they have been called. In the Munsiffs' Courts, and some times even in the District Courts it was said that those members of the Bar were able to hold their own with the best Barrister or Vakil of the High Court. That may be so. As a matter of justice, I admit that there may be individuals who might be well versed in the art of pleading and in carrying on cases from end to end. But I submit that that is no reason why the standard of the Bar as such should be lowered. In their own spheres they might have been doing their legitimate work properly. But the question is whether they have the necessary qualification and equipment to be enrolled as vakils of the High Court. It has been recognised in every civilized country that for the carrying on of these liberal institutions of service as I would call them they require a standard of general education and cultural attainment as the ground work of legal training. It is rather difficult to concede that in the system of law and jurisprudence as administered in our High Court it is possible for the ordinary matriculate to understand the principles and foundations of law which are the absolute essential requirements for the practitioners of the High Court. If they cannot understand the principles, I do not know how through a test examination they could be carried through the entrance hall of the High Court Valis' or Advocates' particular preserve. Therefore, my submission is that this provision as it stands is derogatory and retrograde. It goes back upon the established principles in this country to admit them into the High Court. I do not know what exactly the consequences will be in relation to the Bar as it would develop with the coming in of Federation. It would be a very sorry thing to see the Bar of the State looked upon by sister High Courts as inferior. I dare say that the infiltration of these first and second grade pleaders into the ranks of advocates will necessarily result in that great calamity. Therefore I leave this amendment to the sense of fairness and justice of the House.

Vol. IX No. 13.

[Mr. K. C. Abraham.]

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know whether the member is aware that in Bombay, under the Bar Councils Act, matriculates and school finals who appear and pass the Advocates' examination, can become advocates of the Bombay High Court ?

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II) : I am aware that there is a rule in Bombay enabling first and second grade pleaders to become advocates of the Bombay High Court by passing an examination. But my humble view is that such a rule should not be introduced in this country.

PRESIDENT : The honourable member might as well have added that those advocates are not entitled to practise on the original side of the Bombay High Court.

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Sir, I rise to second the amendment moved by my friend Mr. Abraham. I do so under an impelling sense of duty. A good deal of agitation has been carried on and the amendment has been the subject of a large number of protesting resolutions from various meetings convened by pleaders of the two classes. I believe that there has been a great misunderstanding on the part of these men who think that there is something against them in this amendment. I wish to disabuse their minds of that. It may be said that the people who are now practising in the High Court will be jeopardized by an influx of people who are now practising in the lower courts and who may pass the examination to be held under the supervision of the Bar Council and come and practise in the High Courts. That is not the question at all. I do not think many of the pleaders will care to appear for this examination and come up to the High Court and, even among those who appear for the examination, many may not come out successful. I am told that even in Bombay many have not availed themselves of the opportunities of practising as advocates by passing the examination. It is not therefore because of any apprehension of that kind that I stand up now to support this amendment. But Sir, as it has been pointed out we are going to become a part of the Federation. Our High Court and our Bar and our advocates will be entitled to practise before the Federal Courts.

PRESIDENT: Order, order. I think it may be useful for honourable members to know that, whether any particular State joins the Federation or not, the Federal Court will come into existence this October and the right of practising in the Federal Court will arise independently of our joining the Federation.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Therefore irrespective of the fact whether we join the Federation or not, the Federal Court will come into existence, and it will be a great and valued right for the advocates of our High Court to get the right of practising in the Federal Court. The question of their admittance to the Federal Court will depend upon qualifications we fix for advocateship in our High Court. There has not been any recommendation in recent times for lowering the qualifications of advocates. I am at a loss to find any reason for lowering the qualifications for practising in our High Court. An argument has been built up on a statement made by the Law's Delays Commissioner.

At page 813 of the report of the Law's Delays Commissioner, the following statement appears:

"This suggestion is not meant as a disparagement of the very valuable work that is being turned out by the pleaders who now practise before the subordinate courts in the land. As a rule they are the acknowledged leaders of the Bar in the mofussil, and many of them will, in point of professional skill and experience hold their own with the most successful Barrister or Graduate-in-law and their local influence as leaders of public opinion cannot also be underrated."

Sir, a good deal of argument has been built upon this laudatory sentiment expressed by the Law's Delays Commissioner. If we read the whole paragraph dealing with the congestion at the Bar, we find that this laudatory sentiment was expressed merely to say in the end that hereafter these people who are now practising in the lower courts should not be allowed to appear in courts, but should only be allowed to act as attorneys to Graduates-in-law who might be going to mofussil courts. Therefore the Law's Delays Commissioner has been definitely against the enhancement of jurisdiction if I may say so of the first and second grade pleaders. He has referred to their invaluable service and used all that sort of kindly phraseology merely to deprive them even of their present rights.

He has definitely stated:—

"The problem should be approached not so much from the standpoint of administrative expediency, as from that of efficiency in the administration of justice. Litigation has grown not only in volume but also in complexity; and a practitioner can really assist the court, only if his general education and special attainments are such as to enable him to understand and to apply intelligently the decisions on the various questions of law that crop up from day to day. These considerations lead me to the conclusion that there is no longer any need for a class of lawyers with a lower standard of education and attainments than that of the Graduates-in-law".

Thus the opinion of the Law's Delays Commissioner is definite on this point. Nobody denies the useful work of the first and second grade pleaders in the mofussil courts. But everybody admits that practising in the High Court is different from practising in the mofussil courts. Of course, there may be exceptions in every group of lawyers. There may be people who are extraordinarily able and who may shine even in the High Court. But, is it wise, in order to provide for such rare and phenomenal exceptions, to depreciate the value generally, of our Bar?

That is the question we have to consider. My friends who happened to sympathize with the first and second grade pleaders' cause should also consider this question dispassionately and not from the point of view of conferring benefits to the first and second Grade pleaders or of depriving the advocates, of some benefits. For, these questions do not arise. We have now to consider the question of efficiency and prestige of the Bar of this State. That is what I want. If we consider the question from the larger aspect and from the general point of view, I am sure, my friends who advocate the cause of the first and second grade pleaders will surely come to the conclusion that it is not wise to provide for a general lowering of the standard of the High Court Bar to provide for very rare exceptions who might be benefited by it.

Sir, it has been pointed out that in the Bombay High Court, people who are matriculates, or who have passed the School Final Examination are also allowed to appear for a general test, and, if they pass such test, are allowed to practice in the High Court. But it has been pointed out that there are certain restrictions imposed on them.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the member what is the restriction imposed in Bombay?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): It has been pointed out by the Chair that the people who pass these tests are not allowed to appear as Vakils on the original side.

PRESIDENT: As for that matter, in Bombay, only Barristers can practise on the original side.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Further granting for arguments' sake that what is adopted in Bombay should be blindly followed here, even then, I cannot understand the object of Clause 3 as introduced by the Select Committee. Why should the benefit be restricted only to people who have been fortunate enough to be enrolled as Vakils till 1st Chingam 1118. In Bombay, there is no such restriction. Anybody who passes the advocates' test is allowed to practice in the High Court. Why should the authors of Clause 3 make it a close preserve for themselves? Once they concede that there may be a lowering of the standard, I cannot understand for a moment why there should be a restriction at all? Why not all people be given the same rights? The present clause is not so comprehensive as to include people who have never practised in courts before 1113.

Sir, the Pleaders Class has already been abolished. This is merely an attempt now to provide for the existing pleaders a higher position so that they may practise in the High Courts. One other aspect has also to be considered. It has been recorded by the Laws Delays Commissioner, as well as by the Indian Bar Committee who went into the question, that an abnormal increase of practitioners leads to a deterioration of the bar as a whole and conduce to and even accentuates the delay in courts. It has also been pointed out by the Indian Bar Committee that one of the primary objects of every Bar should be to eradicate the evil of touting. Where admissions are large, touting has increased apace. It will be going against the spirit of the Bar Councils Act to provide for a rush or an abnormal increase of practitioners. The Indian Bar Committee in their Report, say—

“One of the principal causes of the existence of this evil is the serious over-crowding of the legal profession. Touting has undoubtedly increased with the increase in the numbers admitted. It would appear that in some Provinces in the near future there will not be any necessity to retain the lower grades of legal practitioners. If the profession of the law is closed to all but those who have qualifications entitling them to practise in the High Courts and the qualifications of entrants are raised, the number admitted should not be excessive and it may be possible to enforce a higher standard of discipline.

We trust that the Bar Councils will regard the suppression of touting as one of their principal concerns.”

The Bar Council that is to come into existence in Travancore will, I am sure, also be exercising themselves strenuously to stop this evil of touting. It will be the greatest impediment that we can place in their way if we provide for an abnormally large increase in the number of Advocates.

The Laws Delays Commissioner gives the figures of graduate Vakils and pleaders. There were about 700 and odd graduate Vakils at the time when the Commissioner published his report, that is in 1932. According to the rate of increase as shown by him, the figure will now be a little less than 1,000. The number of pleaders at that time was 1,008 and their number will come to about 1,200 now. Let us take it that all these people are admitted for the examination. I must say frankly, Sir, that I am not much of a believer in the conduct of examinations by this Bar Council. There is the likelihood of the examinations being very lax, and the Bar Council may be induced to be very generous. There are various reasons for that. The facts and circumstances which made it possible for this clause to find a place in the Bill at the Select Committee stage, I trust, will operate with equal effectiveness in the matter of examinations as well. We must take account of that. I do not mean any disparagement to the Bar Council that is to come into existence. I apprehend that a large number of people may come in through this door of examinations held under the supervision of this Bar Council. I am sure, that will surely deteriorate the standard of the Advocates in our State. Even if we grant for a moment that the examinations will be strict and will prove a real test, we will have to take into account outside opinion in regard to this matter; because, we are going to enact this measure at a crucial time in the history of our land. This provision will be a point for people outside to decry us: they may say that the bar here consists of a vast majority of people who have not even passed the school final examination, for even those who were not qualified S. S. L. C. holders, were being freely admitted into our Pleadership Classes, and many of them have passed the Pleadership examination and are Vakils. If general education is a test, whatever may be one's intelligence or one's success at the Bar, it cannot be denied that their lack of general education will be a great handicap to the Bar Council to which they are to form the electorate and which, under this measure, is going to have substantial control over the administration of justice in the country. According to this Bill, large powers of disciplinary control are to be transferred from the High Court to the Bar Council. Members to the Bar Council are to be elected by an electorate consisting of all these unqualified people, I mean persons who have come through the door of examination held by the Bar Council. We must also visualise the outlook of these people whatever might be the examination that may be prescribed. They will have the consciousness that they form a separate group within the Bar. It is very difficult to get rid of that consciousness. They will form a clique inside the Bar Council. That is far from the intentions of the Bar Council Act. The very object of the enactment is to build up a homogeneous Bar. That will be a psychological impossibility under this provision. It is but natural; no legislation can obviate that. They will form a clique, they may be clever at manoeuvring and they may succeed in getting control over the Bar Council and gentle men like Mr. K. C. Abraham may be victimised and they will have no place in the Council. Really eminent advocates will be excluded. On the whole the Bar Council which is to be entrusted with the discharge of the important duties which are now being discharged by the highest tribunal in the land will be left to a class of people who are, in any event, new in the field. Sir, this will have serious repercussions.

I have already pointed out, Sir, how this will create a great impediment in the way of the Council combating the evil of touting. According to expert opinion touting increases with numbers. And you are providing for increase of numbers indefinitely. The provision is not consistent with the spirit of the measure.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunungad): May I ask whether touting has not increased amongst the High Court Vakils?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): It must be admitted that there is touting. One of the reasons why the Bar Council Act is to be passed is to check the evil of touting. That evil has to be combated. I say that the admission of larger numbers of Vakils will be an impediment in the way for the eradication of the evil of touting. I hope my friend will realise that. That is the reason why I say that the admissions must not be prolific.

There is one other point I wish to state. This is a matter which requires very serious consideration. The Select Committee would have done better if they had consulted the High Court in this matter. I consider that a matter of paramount importance, because we are going to transfer certain powers from the High Court to the Bar Council; so the opinion of the High Court would have been of very great assistance. It must be admitted that this House itself on a previous occasion virtually rejected the idea of allowing First and Second Grade Pleaders becoming Advocates. The Law Member then stood up and very strongly opposed that idea. I am not in a position to understand the silence of the Law Member, as revealed by the Report of the Select Committee.

PRESIDENT: Probably the Law Member does not want to interrupt the honourable member. That is the reason for his silence.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I am referring to the Report of the Select Committee, and to the list of amendments. There is no amendment in the name of the Law Member. Probably it may be because my friend Mr. K. C. Abraham has brought forward an amendment; the Law Member may support it. That is another matter. It would have been a very valuable guidance to this House if he had noted his opinion on this important amendment and it would have been a real help to the House in carrying on the discussion. I hope he will give us the benefit of his opinion on this matter. It is very necessary for us to have it. I think the House will realise the very serious import of the clause that has been introduced by the Select Committee. That is a matter on which the House has once signified its dissent by an overwhelming majority. Unless there are overwhelming reasons, I am sure this House will not revise its decision. The Bill brought forward by my friend Mr. S. J. Nair, comprising this idea, was not allowed even to be introduced. It was rejected.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I correct the member? It was not rejected.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): If it was not rejected the member might have withdrawn it and there was very great difficulty for him even to withdraw it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It was withdrawn on the assurance given by the Law Member that the principle involved in my Bill would be taken into consideration when the Bar Council Bill is introduced. It was on that assurance that I withdrew the Bill.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I rise to oppose the amendment brought forward by Mr. K. C. Abraham. In the first place the Select Committee appointed by this House after considering the question in all its aspects have adopted in the Bill this provision which is now sought to be deleted by the present amendment. Sir, the opinion of the Select Committee on such matters is entitled to great weight and shall not be allowed to be lightly brushed aside. One of the arguments advanced in support of the amendment is that this provision, if accepted, will lower the status of the Travancore High Court and of the High Court Bar, on account of the inclusion of the First and Second Grade Pleaders in the category of the advocates. This is obviously not a valid ground for the deletion of the sub-clause under discussion. Because there is no case that the Bombay High Court is in any way inferior in status or efficiency to any other chartered High Courts in British India.

PRESIDENT: Unless honourable members are careful enough to realise the full implications of these statements it will be misleading to make them. I may mention at once that the Advocate General of the Madras High Court was not allowed to practise on the original side of the Bombay High Court after this rule was passed on the ground that he was not a Barrister and also on the ground that the High Court reserves to itself the right to allow or not to allow people to argue on the original side, which alone after all, really matters in Bombay. The Advocate General and the retired Chief Justice were not allowed to practise on the original side of the Calcutta High Court, on the same ground. Each High Court has got its own standards and rules. Merely stating that the Bombay High Court has passed rules enabling pleaders to practise before the High Court does not lead us anywhere. It is better to deal with the discussion on the merits without reference to what is taking place elsewhere; because there are many exceptions which cannot be dealt with unless the honourable member is prepared to refer to all the rules of the Bombay High Court and go into the matter in some more details.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I am in possession of the rules of the Bombay High Court. Even today under the rules of the Bombay Advocate's Examination passed under Clause (c) of Section 15 of the Indian Bar Council Act of 1926, all persons who pass the Bombay Advocate's Examination are entitled as of right to be enrolled as Advocates of the Bombay High Court. The qualification prescribed under the rules to appear for the Bombay Advocate's Examination is only School Leaving Certificate Examination and not even the Pleaders Examination or practice at the subordinate Civil Courts' Bar. Therefore the argument in support of the amendment on the score of the graduate standard of general education falls to the ground. Sub-clause (3) of Clause 9 of the Bill is only a provision for direct recognition of the right by which the First and Second Grade Pleaders can become even today the vakils of the Travancore High Court without passing the B. L. Degree Examination. Even according to the present system of law in Travancore, under rule 411 of the Civil Court Guide, First and Second Grade Pleaders of Travancore can become vakils of the High Court in Travancore if they get themselves enrolled as Advocates of the Bombay High Court after passing the Advocate's Examination. Rule 411 of the Civil Court Guide says —

"No one shall be eligible for enrolment as a Vakil of the High Court of Travancore unless he is a Barrister-at-Law or a member of the Faculty of Advocates of Scotland or a Doctor or Master of Laws of any University in British India or an enrolled Advocate, Vakil or Attorney of a Chartered British Indian High Court or a Bachelor of Laws".

Under this rule it is clear that an enrolled advocate or vakil of a Chartered British Indian High Court can become a High Court Vakil in Travancore. The First and Second Grade Pleaders in Travancore are persons who have passed the School Leaving or Matriculation Examination and who can very well appear for the Bombay Advocate's Examination. After passing the Advocate's Examination they can get themselves enrolled as vakils of the Bombay High Court and the next day they can apply for a sanad to practise before the High Court of Travancore. So, my submission is that the present provision is only a direct recognition of the existing vested right of the First and Second Grade Pleaders, and there is nothing new in it. If it is possible for a Pleader First or Second Grade, to appear for the Advocate's Examination conducted by the Bombay Bar Council and then apply for a sanad to practise in the Travancore High Court, is it not better to make some provisions here to enable those Pleaders to appear for such a similar examination in the State itself and then apply for a sanad to practise in the High Court. In this connection I am constrained to observe that the honourable member who has attached a dissenting note to the report of the Select Committee is quite ignorant of the rules of the Bombay Advocate's Examination. From the arguments advanced on the floor of the House it is clear that some of the honourable members entertain a misapprehension that when First and Second Grade Pleaders are allowed to become Advocates they may also claim a right to practise before the Federal Court or to be appointed as Judges of the Federal Court. If any member of the House entertains such a fear we are quite prepared for some specific provision being made in this Bill itself to the effect that such Advocates shall not claim such a right.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I would like to know whether it is competent for this House to make any provision regarding the qualification for a Vakil to practise before the Federal Court?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Yes, so far as the Bar Council in Travancore is concerned this House is quite competent to make any provision regarding the qualification for a Vakil to practise before the Travancore High Court and consequently before the Federal Court.

PRESIDENT: What the member means is that we can make our own rules. It does not matter whether other people recognise our rules or not.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Sir, others are also bound to recognise our rules. It is stated in the dissenting minute attached to the Report of the Select Committee—

“In Bombay, where an examination is offered for the enrolment of pleaders as Advocates, I understand that it comprehends only the absorption of graduate First Grade Pleadors; and that is intelligible.”

From the facts I have already submitted the argument based on the graduate standard of general education, falls to the ground. So, I appeal to the House for a sympathetic and generous consideration of the question and for the unanimous acceptance of the provision embodied in the Bill. Moreover a reflection is sought to be cast upon the Travancore Government or the Bar Council to be constituted in Travancore, that it may not be possible to conduct the proposed examination strictly and honestly. This may be considered as a silly argument. Because even at present, some of the Examiners for the M. L. and B. L. Examinations are members of the Travancore High Court Bar. There is no complaint as yet that they are not capable for the work entrusted to them. Considering all these aspects, I would request the House to throw out the amendment.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I oppose the amendment. The object of the Travancore Bar Council Bill is stated in the “Statement of Object and Reasons.” To quote the very words as contained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, it is “with a view to convert the members of the legal profession in Travancore into an enormous body.” With reference to the number of men who are engaged in the legal profession in Travancore, according to the Report of the Laws Delays Commissioner published in 1931, there are 835 B. Ls. in all in the whole of Travancore. Of these 286 are practising before the High Court, 478 practising before the District Courts, and 71 practising before the Mansiffs’ Courts. Against this number there are 81 First Grade Pleadors and 927 Second Grade Pleadors. In other words, on the one side there are 835 B. Ls and on the other side there are 1008 pleaders. How to make all these 1843 persons engaged in the legal profession in Travancore into an autonomous body? That was the question that the honourable members of the Select Committee had to consider when this Bill was sent up for their consideration. In order to raise the status and position of 1008 pleaders practising in several courts in Travancore, the Select Committee justly and rightly introduced an amendment as sub-clause (3) to Clause 9; and the honourable member, Mr. K. C. Abraham now wants to see that that amendment rightly and wisely introduced by the members of the Select Committee, is deleted.

Sir, sub-clause (8) of Clause 9 is not intended to raise the status and position of the pleaders in the State by any magic wand. By that clause it is intended to raise their position as a result of an examination to be held from time to time. Sir, the examination is to be held under the supervision of the Bar Council; and the members of the Bar

Council will be gentlemen just like Mr. K. C. Abraham, learned and at the same time prejudiced against the first and second grade pleaders as can be seen from the dissenting minute of the learned member. The members of the Bar Council under whose direction examinations are to be held, will be very particular in seeing that only a very few get through.

PRESIDENT : In other words, the honourable member suggests that they may give directions to the examiners.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Not exactly that, Sir. The rules have to be made by them ; the examiners will be selected by them and they will give the necessary directions to the Board of Examiners. So there need be no apprehension that all the pleaders in the State will all of a sudden would become Advocates, and that they by their cleverness would oust the.....

Mr. A. S. DANODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : If that is so, why should the member be particular in having that sub-clause ?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : In order to satisfy the object of introducing the Bar Council Bill. It has been already stated that the object of the introduction of the Bar Council Bill is to make the legal practitioners in Travancore an autonomous body. How can that be achieved if more than one thousand persons who pursue the practice of law in the State are excluded ? That object can only be served by absorbing the pleaders also to the same status as that of the Advocates. In order to see this accomplished the provision in sub-clause (3) to Clause 9 has been made by the Select Committee.

Then Sir, it is seen from the amendment that, only by passing an examination, the pleaders could enrol themselves as advocates and practise in the High Court. Well, Sir, the Bar Council will see that the pleaders should undergo a very difficult test for this. If any pleader satisfies that test what objection is there in permitting him to get himself enrolled as an advocate and practise in the High Court ? I may say, that our Bar Council Bill is more or less on the lines of the Indian Bar Councils Act. Under Section 15 (c) of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926, the Bar Council of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay have passed certain rules to hold the Advocates' examination. Those rules have been published under Section 15 (c) of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 under No. 2427 at pages 938 to 941 of the Bombay Government Gazette, dated 23rd April 1931. Under these rules, Sir, an examination known as Advocates' Examination is being held twice every year under the supervision and direction of the Bombay Bar Council, and the following persons are eligible to appear for the examination privately : " Every candidate for the examination.....

PRESIDENT : Order. Order. I indicated beforehand that it would be misleading to refer to these rules. I have myself had occasion to preside over the All India Lawyers' Conference in 1924 and we had a discussion there on this very matter. From that time I have been taking a keen interest in it. As this matter is of paramount importance

I shall state a few facts to help the present discussion. It is not true that the Bombay High Court has passed rules enabling people to become advocates entitled to practise on all sides of the Bombay High Court. It is true that certain rules have been passed, and an examination is held to enable persons to become advocates as they are called. But these advocates, under the rules referred to by my learned friend cannot practise on the original side of the High Court. Advocates who are not graduates in Arts or are not Barristers cannot practise on the original side of the Bombay High Court. Both in Bombay and in Calcutta, an advocate who is a Barrister and a Graduate in Arts and in Law can alone practise on the original side. The reason why I mention this is that, in Bombay and Calcutta, the original side is supposed to be the most important side of the High Court. Even in Madras, formerly, only Masters of Law were allowed to practise before the High Court. It was only comparatively recently that Graduates-in-Law were allowed to practise before the High Court.

Therefore the rules relied upon by the honourable member do not relate to the right to practise on the original side. The honourable member will do well to refer to paragraphs 87, 88, 29 & 40 of the Indian Bar Committee's Report.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the general qualification prescribed to appear for the Advocates' examination at Bombay are the Matriculation Examination of the Bombay University or the School Leaving Certificate Examination from the Joint Examination Board, or the School Leaving Certificate Examination from the School Leaving Examination Board of the Bombay University, or an examination recognised by the Bar Council as equivalent to or corresponding with the School Leaving Examination of the Bombay University or any examination from time to time prescribed by the Bar Council as an Examination on passing which a candidate becomes eligible for being admitted to the examination. These are the examinations prescribed, in Bombay as general qualification for admission to the Advocates' examination. Moreover, he or she should be a person of good moral character and he, or she should be a subject of the King Emperor or a subject of a Native Prince or State in India under the suzerainty of His Majesty, either by birth or naturalisation.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Why not leave it to the High Court to frame the rules for the examination?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The rule-making powers are vested with them. There is absolutely no provision in the Bill which refuses the High Court the right to make the necessary rules with regard to this examination. And the advocates who pass the Bombay Advocates' Examination are entitled to be enrolled as advocates of the Bombay High Court and can practise there on the appellate side.

PRESIDENT: Conditions in the Bombay High Court are very peculiar. They have 11 Judges and 7 of them sit on the original side. The number of cases instituted in the appellate side does not come to even half of the total number instituted in the Bombay High Court. The Bombay High Court, on the appellate side, is really considered to be a Cinderella.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the member whether there is any original jurisdiction for the Travancore High Court except on matters relating to contempt of court?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): No, there is no original side here. Why I advert to the rules at Bombay is to make the honourable members of this House understand the position of advocates in Bombay. As has been pointed out by my friend Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai, under rule 411 of the Civil Courts Guide even the S. S. L. C. advocates of Bombay are entitled as a matter of right to get sanads to practise before this High Court. If such persons who have passed only S. S. L. C. Examination can by paying Rs. 50 as examination fee to the Bar Council at Bombay and by getting through that examination practise on the appellate side of the Bombay High Court and get sanads for our High Court also, what objection is there in retaining the present provision in our Bar Council Bill.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know from the member whether there is no other way at present for the pleaders to get a High Court sanad than by passing the Bombay test?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): There is certainly another course open to the pleader. If he is in a position to waste Rs. 8,000 for going to Ireland and qualifying himself as a Barrister, he will be entitled to practise not only before the Travancore High Court, but before all High Courts in the Indian Empire, as well as in the British Dominions.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is the member aware that by taking the B. A. and the B. L. degrees they can practise in our High Court?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): No Sir, the B. Ls after passing the B. L. examination cannot practise in our High Court. They will have to practise first in the District or in the Munsiffs' Courts at least for one year. Then they will have to pass the High Court Test examination before getting a sanad to practise in the High Court, or they should have five years practice in a subordinate court. But these rules are going to be changed now under this Bill.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): What prevents the pleaders from passing the B. L. degree examination and the High Court Test?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Nothing prevents any man or any woman from passing the B. L. examination. But why should we waste our time, why should we waste our money; why should we waste our energy, and why should we waste our brains by unnecessarily passing the B. L. examination to practise in the High Court (Laughter).

Well Sir, the profession of law is an art, it is not a trade. It is a very well known fact that even today there is none to rival pleaders like the late Shencotta Ramier and Kavalam Neelakanta Pillai. The famous lawyers of our High Court like our Deputy President, the Law member, Mr. Kukilliya cannot stand comparison with them. Our present Head Sirkar Vakil was a junior under Mr. Paramesvaran Pillai, a pleader. Almost all the lawyers in Trivandrum were juniors under this famous pleader. Even today there are many B. Ls. who are undergoing training under pleaders. If we go to the office of Mr. Narayanan Nair a pleader, we can see not less than a dozen B. Ls. undergoing training in his office. I submit, therefore that since the profession of law is an art, so long as the control and guidance of the examination are to be vested in the Bar Council there can be no objection to the provision contained in sub-clause (3) of Clause 9.

Sometime back I introduced the Vakil's Regulation Amendment Bill. Leave to introduce the Bill was granted without any objection on 15-10-1109. It was formally introduced on 11-10-1110. It was taken into consideration and a heated discussion ensued. Many gentlemen like Mr. P. K. Narayana Pillai, who was one of the greatest lawyers and was also a judge of the local High Court supported the principle of the Bill. But when the discussion of the Bill was in progress the Law Member on behalf of Government assured me that the principle contained in my Bill would be considered when the Bar Council Bill is introduced. As a result of this assurance, the honourable member Mr. S. J. Nair did not press for the further consideration of the Bill. (Laughter).

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayan I): May I know whether there was this provision in the original Bill as introduced by the Law Member?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): If there was such a provision in the draft Bill, there would not have been any necessity for the honourable members of the Select Committee to make this amendment. It was as a result of the majority opinion of the honourable members of the Select Committee that the amendment to Clause 9, as sub clause (3) has been introduced.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Did the Law Member, on that occasion, give the assurance that the question of admitting the pleaders as advocates would be considered?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The Law Member assured me that the principle involved in my Bill would be reasonably considered, when the Bar Council Bill is introduced.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Will the honourable member kindly read that portion of the proceedings?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I am sure the Law Member has got a copy of the proceedings with him and he can refresh his memory and enlighten himself on the point.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether the omission of the provision in the draft Bill of the Law Member, was reasonable on his part?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It was perhaps an omission; he wanted to correct that omission by the addition of sub clause (3), (Laughter).

PRESIDENT: The honourable member will realise that he is getting into very deep waters on the psychology of the Law Member.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The question is whether sub-clause (3) of Clause 9 is justifiable under the circumstances. As already pointed out by me, in the light of the Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Bar Council Bill this provision is justifiable. Now, let us see whether there has been any move on the part of the public and the pleaders on this matter. In the 28th Session of the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly, 59 members joined together and submitted a memorial to the Dewan of Travancore, on 2-8-1107. In that memorial the prayer was "that the Government be pleased to sanction the universal demand of the pleaders in the State that the first and second grade pleaders of a fixed period of standing and practice in the Bar be permitted to appear and practise before the High Court and the District Courts." That was the principle involved in the Bill introduced by the honourable member Mr. S. J. Nair. It was that principle that was admitted as reasonable by the Law Member on behalf of Government. The principle has been considered by the Select Committee on the Bar Council Bill and sub-clause (3) has been introduced by them.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): May I know what became of the memorial to the Dewan, and what decision Government arrived at on the matter?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I am sorry I have no information about the action taken by Government.

Sir, when the pleaders of Travancore, practising in the mofussil courts as well as in the subordinate courts in Trivandrum, saw the dissenting minute by the honourable member Mr. K. C. Abraham, and the resolution passed by the High Court Bar Association and communicated to Government, they held meetings in various places. The first and second grade pleaders of Trivandrum held a meeting on 9-7-1112 and passed the following resolutions:

1. "This meeting of the First and Second Grade Pleaders of Trivandrum support the spirit of the amendment contained in Clause (3), Section 9 of the Bar Council Bill, as revised by the Select Committee, permitting the enrolment of the First and Second Grade Pleaders as advocates of the High Court."
2. "This meeting strongly condemns the resolutions of the High Court Vakils Bar Association protesting against the proposed amendment and holds that the apprehensions contained therein are groundless and unwarranted."
3. "This meeting views with grave concern the agitation set up by some persons actuated by selfish motives and narrow mindedness, through some of the news papers, and resolves that steps should be taken to counteract the effect of such malignant agitation."
4. "This meeting records its emphatic protest against the tone and language used by Mr. K. C. Abraham with reference to the pleaders of Travancore, in his dissenting note to the Select Committee."

Sir, there is a powerful Bar Association at Quilon. Even the High Court Bar Association cannot compare with it. I had the honour of being a member of that Association. (Laughter). The Members of the Quilon Bar held a meeting on 7-7-1912 and passed the following resolutions.

1. "That this meeting lends its complete support to the Bar Council Bill as revised by the Select Committee with particular reference to part (3) of Section 9 of the Bill enabling the pleaders to apply for admission as advocates as the result of an examination by or under the supervision of the Council."
2. "That this meeting expresses its regret and condemnation at the malignant tone and vilifying spirit in which Mr. K. C. Abraham, member of the Select Committee, has made reference to the pleaders of Travancore in his dissenting minute."

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Were these resolutions passed by the Bar Association at Quilon, or by the first and second grade pleaders there?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): They were passed by the first and second grade pleaders there?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the member is aware that the Quilon Bar Association has issued a notice protesting against the holding of this meeting?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I have not seen any such notice?

In Perumbavoor, the Bar Association held a meeting under the presidency of Mr. N. Ganapathy Aiyar, B. A., B. L., and passed the following resolutions. —

PRESIDENT: The honourable member need not read all the resolutions.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Pleaders of various other Bar Associations assembled and passed resolutions, congratulating the members of the Select Committee in having made this amendment to Clause 9 of the Bar Council Bill and requesting Government to oppose the proposed amendment of Mr. K. C. Abraham and protesting against the tone and spirit of his dissenting minute.

The All-Travancore Pleaders' Association met in their annual gatherings and passed resolutions requesting the authorities concerned to raise the status of the pleaders in the State. They have requested that the second grade pleaders of certain years' standing should be allowed to practise in the District Courts and District Court pleaders of certain years' standing should be allowed to practise before the High Court. The present amendment is therefore only the result of the continuous agitation of the pleaders for the last several years and the provision made by the Select Committee is only in consonance with the Bar Councils Act elsewhere.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): If the pleaders had so much feeling on the matter, why did they not take advantage of Section 411 of the Civil Courts' Guide?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The difficulty was that the Advocates' examination of the Bombay Bar Council was instituted only recently on the 3rd May 1935. The pleaders in the State had, till then, no other course except to pass the Barrister's examination in England or in Ireland.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARANPILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I ask whether Rule 411 of the Civil Courts' Guide which was passed before 1935 has no reference to the non graduate Advocates of the Bombay High Court?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I think the honourable Law Member is not quite correct. All the High Courts in the Indian Empire are established under a Charter. Under the conditions of that Charter, any lawyer practising before any High Court can get sansad to practise before any other High Court in the Indian Empire. A vakil of the Calcutta High Court can as a matter of right obtain a sansad of the Travancore High Court on payment of the prescribed fees. It is a question of right, no grace or concession, Sir.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Is the member aware that, in certain High Courts members of the Bar practising in other High Courts are not allowed as a matter of right to practise in their High Courts, for instance, in the Allahabad High Court?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I think the honourable member is also not correct.

PRESIDENT: He happens to be correct; but that does not affect the honourable member's argument (Laughter).

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Under the Charter for the establishment of the High Courts no High Court has the right or power to interfere with the rights of High Court Vakils. Certain rights and privileges have been conferred upon the lawyers of High Courts, and those rights and privileges cannot be denied according to the whims and caprices of the Judges of any High Court. As stated by the President, advocates are not allowed to practise before the original side of the Bombay High Court. But, in the Travancore High Court there is no original side. The conditions prevailing here are a little different from the conditions in Bombay.

PRESIDENT: The only reason why the Chair made the reference to Bombay was that there is differentiation in the dignity and prestige of the two grades of practitioners. That was all that the Chair was anxious to point out.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, consider for a moment the system that was obtaining in Travancore before the B. Ls alone were allowed to practise before the District Courts and the High Court. Before that time, pleaders were permitted to practise even in the High Court. Subsequently that system was changed and only those pleaders who could obtain a certain minimum of marks were allowed to practise before the District Courts. That too was since changed and there was only one grade of examination known as the Second Grade Pleaders.

examination. Recently, even the Pleaders' Class has been abolished. There is therefore no need to fear that the number of pleaders will be increasing year after year so that as a result of their inundation, the B. Ls. would get drowned as it were in the sea of pleaders.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittu): May I know the reason why that class was abolished while the B. L. examination was allowed to continue?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I should say that it was due to the shortsighted policy of the authorities concerned. Those who want to take a degree in engineering or in medicine or in other sciences, can do so even now by passing the Intermediate Examination and sometimes even the School Final. I ask, why should the profession of law alone require that only graduates can appear for the law examination.

MR. P. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI (Commerce and Industry, South): Will the pleaders be allowed to wear gowns if they become advocates?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Without the gowns the pleaders will be much happier. Our hot climate does not justify the wearing of gowns, that are black-stuffs. The pleader will be happy if he is denied the gown. But if a gown is given to the pleader he would not object to it.

PRESIDENT: What about hot weather, in that case?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, advocates' gowns that are black are unsuited to be worn in hot countries like India. Again, Sir, the pleaders have got a special advantage over the B. Ls. The Travancore courts deal with Travancore laws passed by His Highness the Maharaja of Travancore. The B. Ls. are compelled to undergo a training in British Indian laws. That is why they are asked to pass the High Court Test examination on Travancore laws, or to practise for five years in a subordinate court, before becoming High Court Vakils. That shows that B. L. examination by itself is of no value for practice before the High Court. Not so the Pleaders' examination.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether it is not on account of his B. L. degree that a graduate is allowed to practise before the District Courts even to begin with?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Generally graduates-in-law undergo training under pleaders. Graduates-in-law by themselves with their gown and degree, cannot go and conduct any case. I am sure of that. As a pleader myself, I have got knowledge about the ability of the B. Ls to practise before the Munsiffs' Courts and District Courts immediately after they take their degree. The difficulty is that they are not taught Travancore laws for the B. L. examination.

In England, those who pass the Matriculation examination are permitted to appear for the Barrister's examination. Cambridge Local or the London Matriculation is the minimum qualification for admission to the Barrister's course. The London Matriculation corresponds to our School Final. And the Barristers who come out to India can, as a matter of right, practise before any High Court in the British Empire. Then what objection is there to allow persons who have undergone two years' course in the local Law College who know Travancore laws and have practised for the last several years in Travancore to practise before the High Court as advocates after having passed an examination to be held under the supervision of the Bar Council. I am sure honourable members will not deny that just and reasonable right to the pleaders.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): What is the opinion of the present High Court Bar Council on the matter?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): At present there is no Bar Council here, Sir. (Laughter.)

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I mean, the Bar Association.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Everybody knows that. I have already explained that the High Court Bar Association, due to their innate selfishness, want to exclude the pleaders in the State who they know are far superior to them. When pleaders of merit, ability and experience are permitted to practise in the High Court these High Court Vakils will dwindle into nothing. (Laughter.) The High Court Vakils in the conduct of their cases before the High Court base all their argument on material furnished by pleaders in the efficient conduct of the case in lower courts. Therefore, if the pleaders are allowed to appear before the High Court and argue for their clients, the judges will be able to understand the cases better and administer justice better than at present. Sir, the presence of a vakil in a court is to help the judges to administer justice. For that purpose, the vakils should be qualified in the local laws. The pleaders in the State are quite fitted for the purpose. In conclusion, I beg to submit for the consideration of the honourable members of this House that if this House is going to accept the Bar Council Bill, then necessarily they must accept the principle involved in the Bill, namely, the unification of the members of the Bar in Travancore. If that principle is not accepted then there is no necessity to pass this Bill. Let it be dropped. If we want to have the unification of the members of the Bar in Travancore, I am sure Clause 9, sub-clause (3) should be retained, and the amendment moved by Mr. Abraham must be rejected. The Select Committee has wisely, justly and rightly inserted sub-clause (3) as a result of the incessant and time-laboured demand made by the pleaders in the State. Their demand is modest; it is just; it is right; it is in consonance with the times; and it must and should be respected. I appeal to the House, in all earnestness and enthusiasm to accept the demand of the pleaders in the State; and in doing so to reject the amendment moved by the honourable member Mr. K. C. Abraham to delete sub-clause (3) of Clause 9. With these few remarks, I oppose the amendment moved by Mr. Abraham.

The Assembly adjourned for lunch at 1.5 P. M. and reassembled at 1.58 P. M.

Mr. KALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I support Mr. Abraham's amendment. The principle involved in this question is whether the non-graduate pleaders may be allowed to become practitioners in the High Court of this State. That is the precise point for consideration in whatever way we may look at the amendment.

This very principle was raised on a previous occasion in 1935, when the Vakils' Regulation Amendment Bill was introduced by Mr. S. J. Nair. As it has been referred to today by more than one honourable member, I shall begin by a reference to that Bill. One of the principles in that Bill was whether the first and second grade pleaders may be allowed to be enrolled as Vakils of the High Court. That principle I opposed very strongly, and I was accused of having been even too severe on the second grade pleaders, on that occasion. I still hold the views expressed by me at that time in regard to the First and Second grade pleaders becoming High Court Vakils. Mr. S. J. Nair stated that the Bill was withdrawn, on the assurance made on behalf of Government that this aspect of the matter will be sympathetically considered. Sir, a reference to the debates of that day will show conclusively that there was nothing said then in support of the position now taken by Mr. S. J. Nair. Nay, on that occasion Mr. S. J. Nair, himself expressly conceded that he did not want any right to be conferred on the first grade pleaders to be enrolled as Vakils of the High Court. All that he then wanted was that the second grade pleaders should be allowed to be enrolled as Vakils of the District Court. The claim for enrolment as High Court Vakils was unconditionally withdrawn by him. On that, he withdrew the Bill, and the withdrawal was accepted by this House. Such being the real fact it is quite inappropriate for Mr. Nair to raise the same point again today.

Sir, I may perhaps refer in detail to the relevant portions of the debates on that occasion.

The Bill was introduced at first in 1934. I opposed it then very strongly; the debate was not however concluded. It was resumed in May 1935. On that resumed debate, Mr. S. J. Nair said:—

"While the Bill was under discussion in the last session of the Assembly, the Deputy Leader of the Liberal Party made the suggestion that, if I would permit to amend the Bill as to enable Second Grade Pleadors of ten years' standing and more to practise in the District Court, and if I would not press the grant of High Court vacat to First Grade Pleadors of some years standing in the Select Committee stage, the Bill would be acceptable to all, at least to many. I may say, Sir, that I am prepared to accept that suggestion"

So that then, he practically withdrew the claim that first and second grade pleaders should be enrolled as advocates of the High Court. What took place next was a question by me:

"MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Valiti), May I ask whether the member accepts the position that first grade pleaders need not be admitted as High Court Vakils?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): I do accept that position at present, Sir, as a sort of compromise."

Thus there was no mistaking about it. On a specific question raised, he accepted the position that first and second grade pleaders need not be enrolled as Vakils of the High Court.

When I formally rose to oppose the Bill this was what happened:

“Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I oppose this Bill. I have not forgotten the suggestion made a few minutes ago by Mr. E. V. Krishnan Pillai, namely, that Mr. Nair may withdraw his Bill if the Government would undertake to consider the question of allowing the second grade pleaders to be enrolled in the District Court when the Bar Council Bill is taken up for consideration. I can assure the House, Sir, that I am quite prepared to have the matter considered. I cannot offer more than that. I am not the entire master of the situation. The matter has to be considered in the Committee, and perhaps, by this House also afterwards. Therefore, so far as I am concerned all that I can say is that I am prepared to have this matter considered by the appropriate body when the Bar Council Bill is taken up.”

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): Is he prepared to consider it sympathetically? (Laughter)?

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, that word is rather embarrassing. I am prepared to consider it reasonably.”

The point thus narrowed down to the Second Grade pleaders being enrolled as Vakils of the District Court. The question of First grade pleaders being enrolled as Vakils of the High Court was unconditionally withdrawn that is clear from the debate that has been read out. At that time, the assurance given by the Government was that the question of the Second grade pleaders being enrolled as Vakils of the District Court, might be reasonably considered when the Bar Council Bill is taken up.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon D): Was it in this Bill?

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes. Even now I am of the same view and I may support any motion made for enabling Second grade pleaders to be enrolled as District Court Vakils. On the previous occasion, I elaborately dealt with all aspects of this controversy and I shall not repeat all that I said then. Let me however refer to recent events. Immediately after the Select Committee introduced the provision that now finds a place in the Bill protests were heard against it. The Travancore High Court Vakils' Association protested against it unanimously. I do not overlook the fact that there was counter protest from the pleaders in support of the provision. We are not concerned quite with the protests. This House is concerned mainly with the merits of the question apart from the protests. As regards the protests, perhaps the view may be taken that the High Court Vakils want to exclude a class of men who want to enter the portals of higher fields of employment. The second grade pleaders may reasonably complain against such an attitude. The High Court Bar Association may reply that they only want to exclude second class materials—that was the expression used by me in the previous debate and I may be excused for using it again. So far as this House is concerned, it is not a question of giving a field of higher employment to the pleaders or giving an exclusive monopoly to the Law Graduates, to practise in the High Court. No question of restricting or enlarging the field of employment arises as such. We have to look at the question from a higher standpoint, namely, from that of public interests,

Looked at in that manner, the first question would be, for what purpose does the establishment of the legal profession exist? It exists for assisting the judiciary of the land. The judiciary is there to do King's justice, because it is the primary duty of the Sovereign to administer justice. The cases for decision are many. The judges may not have the time to study all the cases themselves from start to finish. They have therefore to be served or assisted in their work, by a class of men, who are lawyers, who are trained men and who are men of character and capacity. On this depends what the public interest is that is involved in the question at issue. Sir, the lawyer's profession is not like that of a man going to the market and establishing a trade or business. There, it is a question of individual interest; it is purely a question of competition. Here, the function is of a higher order, namely that of assisting the judiciary created for the administration of King's justice. For that, men of character and qualification are essential. Therefore, it is in the interest of the paramount duty of the State that qualifications should be prescribed. It should not be open to any and every individual to say "I shall be the lawyer and serve whomsoever has confidence in me. Don't look at my degree or other qualifications".

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I ask whether Sir, S. Subramonia Iyer, Pandit Motilal Nehru and others of that order, were helping the administration of King's justice.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Just now I am merely enunciating the general principle that the body of lawyers exists not exactly like the traders in the field of commerce and industries, merely to make money. The lawyers form an integral part of the administration of justice, so that justice may be done properly and speedily. Therefore, the question of qualification is an important factor. Although there may be difference of opinion between myself and Mr. S. J. Nair in regard to the question as to what the qualification must be, that lawyers do require some qualification will be agreed to even by him. That is implied in the present provision itself: because even Mr. S. J. Nair does not say that everybody should be allowed to practise before the High Court. Now then the question is what should be the qualification for being allowed to act as lawyer in the High Court. Can we allow second class material to be mixed up with first class material which alone is now allowed to function in the High Court.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): As a result of filtration in the examination, is it not possible to select first class material from among the pleaders?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That is not quite possible.

I have already stated in the previous debate, that as there is ample first class material available, there is no necessity to go in for a filtration process to be applied to the second class material.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

Till 1070, i. e., till about 40 years ago, the first grade pleaders were allowed to practise in the High Court. That was a time when there were not enough law graduates i. e., enough first class material available to meet the demand. Because, the number of first class material was small, second class material was also allowed. But from about 1070, ample first class material was found to be forthcoming. So it was ruled that first grade pleaders should stop with the District Court. Now we are asked to go back 40 years; that is literally a retrograde step. Why should we go back? What is the public interest served by doing so? Is there paucity of first class material? Now there are about 1200 law graduates practising in the Courts in Travancore. The bar is overcrowded with first class material. Remember that it is not a question of affording more scope for employment for the pleaders. It may be that even now there are eminent men in the ranks of the pleaders. But we cannot make a provision for exceptions. It is not a question of doing individual justice; we have to lay down a general rule and that in the public interests and therefore the exceptions will have to suffer, even if there be exceptions.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): I wish to know whether this Bill has been introduced on grounds of public interests?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad): Is it not stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that people following the legal profession should be formed into one autonomous body?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Strictly speaking, the Bill should have entirely excluded from the legal profession these class of first and second grade pleaders; but I did not want to take away vested rights. Hence, a proviso was put in to enable pleaders to continue their present practice. That does not mean that we should cause a further damage by admitting these to a field where first class material alone is now admitted and where such material is available in plenty. So then, on the ground of public interests, there is no justification whatever to introduce second class material into the first class field.

There is another aspect of the matter which was not touched by me on the previous occasion.

With the coming of the Federation (whether we join it or not) and the institution of the Federal Court in October, this question assumes a special importance. The Chief Justice of the Federal Court has already been appointed and is already looking about for the necessary preliminaries. When that Court comes into being the Bars of the High Courts will have a definite place. We must see that the efficiency of the Bar, and its prestige are kept up in the eyes of the Federal Court. Our Bar should not be thought of as inferior to those in other places. Now, early in 1937, we are asked to go back 40 years. That will necessarily belittle the position of our Bar. Should we take a retrograde step and go back 40 years just at this critical juncture when Federation is in sight? Mr. S. J. Nair referred to the rule in Bombay. It has been pointed out that those advocates cannot practise on the original side of the Bombay High Court.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunangad). Does the member know that, in Madras, District Court Vakils of 10 years' standing can be enrolled as advocates?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Only graduates; that rule does not apply to non-graduates.

Thus then, looked at from the point of view of public interests, we will look small in the eyes of the larger world, if the pleaders are allowed to come into the fold of advocates and allowed to practise before the High Court. The Travancore Legislature will surely be looked down upon if we go back to the practice which was obtaining 40 years back.

That apart, what is the justification for going back forty years? Everybody outside will ask "What is there wrong with Travancore? Do they not have enough of B. Ls. there? Is it because the Travancore Government and the Travancore Legislature do not care for the prestige and status of High Court and the High Court Bar?" They will be inclined to take a low opinion of Travancore and of the Travancore High Court. And after all, what is the necessity for doing it? Is there any necessity, I ask. Look at the question from the point of view of public interests. There is no necessity to introduce second class material. If we do it we will suffer. We will look low in the eyes of outsiders in whose eyes we have to count for something, especially now. Therefore I am sure the House will agree that Mr. Abraham's amendment is quite proper and that we should not admit second class material into the first class.

Mr. S. J. Nair has been saying that there has been an agitation going on in the country for second and first grade pleaders being admitted to the District Courts and to the High Court. It is true. But that agitation was first heard of only when Mr. S. J. Nair became a member of the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly. (Laughter.) I am not blaming him. But still the fact remains that it began only after Mr. S. J. Nair became a member of the Popular Assembly. When I looked into my file I found that when Mr. S. J. Nair first made a representation on this matter, in 1106, the then Dewan retorted, in his characteristic way, as follows:—

"The last point that you have raised about second and first grade pleaders is very fantastic as you yourself will admit".

This is the reply that he got from the Dewan. Of course, Mr. S. J. Nair is not the gentleman to be put down by such remarks. (Laughter.) The matter was subsequently referred to the High Court. Whenever it was brought to the notice of Government by means of a resolution or motion it was referred to the High Court. On all those occasions, the High Court has said that they were not agreeable to the proposal. Even now when the Select Committee submitted its report, the High Court was again addressed : and they said that they were not prepared to relax the rule and admit first and second grade pleaders as advocates. Therefore, Government are emphatically of the opinion that first and second grade pleaders cannot be admitted as advocates entitled to practise in the High Court.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai,]

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know whether the member is aware that there are Judges in the High Court who are not graduates of any University ?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Yes, there is one who is not a graduate, but he is a Barrister. That does not affect the question at all. I am emphatically of the opinion that first and second grade pleaders should not be allowed to practise in the High Court. But let me say that Government are prepared to consider any proposition to allow first and second grade pleaders to practise in the District Courts. Perhaps, if a suitable amendment is proposed Government may support it.

SADASYA TILAKAN T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban) : I wish to say a few words on the motion before the House. My friend Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai, in the course of his speech observed that the agitation on this question was comparatively recent and that it became prominent in the public eye only when Mr. S. J. Nair became a member of the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly. Mr. Paramesvaran Pillai is partly right. But I can testify to the fact that about thirteen years ago there was a conference of second grade pleaders in Trivandrum over which I presided ; I cannot make any mistakes as to that. But as Mr. Paramesvaran Pillai pointed out the agitation assumed proportions only recently. There is considerable feeling among the second grade pleaders that they must have opportunities of doing work in the High Court. The ambition, Sir, is legitimate. But at the same time there is very considerable feeling in the country, not only among graduates-in-law but among public men and among the litigant public that the High Court Vaidis should necessarily be graduates. There is some thing attaching to a University degree which is really fascinating and encouraging. Only those men who are graduates can appreciate that to the full measure. Those who are not graduates are generous enough to recognise that a University Degree confers some easy superiority over others. I do not want to develop a long story. But this I may say that 25 years ago when I was an officer in the Travancore Government service drawing Rs. 40 per mensem, I chanced to visit the Vaikom temple. There I found a very big officer of the State, comparatively high, a Divisional Forest officer, was presiding over an assembly of persons. As soon as he saw me, there was some consideration. He felt that although I was a lowpaid man, I was a graduate ; and I know that he did not say one word as long as I was there. I am saying this, Sir, merely to show that, rightly or wrongly there is a kind of inferiority complex on the part of some of the non-graduates though I am glad to testify in this House there are non-graduate members quite as independent and as enlightened as other persons. The psychological value is important, for if a graduate feels that he has a training under distinguished professors, that he has experience of the ennobling atmosphere of colleges, he naturally feels that he will be up to any task whereas, a person who is not a graduate though in exceptional circumstances there may be men of extraordinary talent, ordinarily feels that a graduate is superior to a non-graduate. That is the reason why there is so much of difference of opinion on this point.

Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai referred to a very important circumstance when he said that we are within easy sight of Federated India. Rightly or wrongly, in all Provinces and States of India, University degree is valued; and even though intrinsically our opinions in favour of making second grade pleaders High Court Vakils may be right when we are alone, people outside will take a view that there is something wrong in the State of Travancore which has been long regarded as a model State, a State where education and enlightenment is in advance of every other State. We must not allow ourselves to be considered less important and less educated than we are. In this connection I want to read out a portion from the report of the proceedings of this House to disprove opposition. When I developed this point on a former occasion my friend, Mr. K. C. Abraham, asked me "Is it the member's view that public interests will be advanced by allowing the second grade pleaders to practise in District Courts?" Then, I answered "These people also may be allowed under certain conditions." I have been asked whether I have not been in absolute favour of getting second grade pleaders transferred as High Court Vakils. I have never said that. On the other hand, I have said that they ought to be encouraged; for, unless there is hope in their bosom they will not give their service to the litigant public in the right fashion. Therefore, Sir, I maintain that, when the Government and this Assembly are satisfied that there are large numbers of competent vakils who handled a very large number of cases and who can understand laws, if they are made District Court Vakils it will be to the advantage of all parties concerned. The difficulty has been brought to the present position by the action of the Government themselves in past years. The tuition given in the Law College was the same to the B. L. students and to the pleadership students—they sat in the same class room and the same Professor lectured to them on the same subjects, and at the same time. More than that, if persons obtained more than a certain percentage of marks—I believe it was sixty per cent—they were automatically declared to be competent to practise in the District Courts while those who got lesser marks were allowed to practise in the Munsiff's Courts. There are even instances in which persons who had no University degree were appointed as judicial officers. But that state of affairs has gone. Even in public life, as distinguished from life in courts of law, we find that the University man has got a greater chance of doing work, getting recognition, and winning laurels than a non-University man, generally so that, in this country, when there is such a large number of graduates and when in every Indian State and Province, University distinctions are valued, when the people who ask for this privilege themselves recognise the importance of academic distinction and I think, considering the aspect of the case developed by Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai that we are within sight of Federation, my friend Mr. S. J. Nair will not insist that second grade pleaders should even with some qualification be all declared advocates.

But, I appeal to the House to consider with sympathy the case of those persons who have been occupying important positions in the legal world giving sound legal advice, conducting cases efficiently and figuring prominently in public life, persons respected by the whole country and give them the chance and opportunity to practise in the District Courts. That is the position that I want to develop. I shall not be in order in referring to any detail as, I find, Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai has tabled an amendment to that effect and whether it will be allowed or not—

PRESIDENT : I may mention that I have allowed that amendment to be moved.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): The principle contained in the amendment is very important, and I hope, when the time comes it will be met with the approval of the House.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanacherry cum Peermede II): Sir, I support the amendment. I have met with certain difficulties in the matter of the language of my speech here. I am not an English scholar. Somehow or other I was forced to speak in English. I find it very difficult to express my ideas in English. If the Chair will allow me to speak in Malayalam—

PRESIDENT : Certainly, you can do so.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Question II): Sir, it was mentioned by some honourable members in this House that this clause, coming as it does with the approval of the Select Committee, has to be respected. Honourable members seem to think that there is sanctity attached to whatever is done by the Select Committee. Sir, throughout my career as a member of this House I have been advocating or trying to inculcate this idea into the minds of the honourable members that no undue sanctity should be permitted to be attached to anything and everything done by Select Committees. This, I thought, was due to a feeling peculiar to myself, a feeling engendered in my mind on account of the very rare opportunity I had of being a member of the various Select Committees. This opportunity given to me now tells me that there is something inherently defective in the manner in which things are done in the Select Committees. As a member of the Select Committee on this Bill, I had the opportunity of expressing my dissent to the proposal that was made. I do not want to mention any secrets. All that I submit is, on the first day.....

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): On a point of order, Sir. It is not at all proper that what took place in the Select Committee should be mentioned on the floor of this House, except to the extent incorporated in the Report of the Select Committee.

PRESIDENT: Generally speaking, it is expedient to follow that rule.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Question II): I shall state only what is absolutely necessary.

PRESIDENT: However necessary, it is better you do not refer to what took place in the Select Committee; because once a prominent member like you does it, others will surely follow.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Question II): Anyway I may be permitted to submit that much importance should not be attached to the Reports of Select Committees. And, I may point out that, in the case of this Bill three of us have distinctly stated, in the Select Committee Report, that we accepted the Bill only subject to the amendments we might move in this House.

Upon the question of accepting or rejecting the present amendment, I have only a word to submit. In deciding the question we are not to be moved by any personal considerations. Sir, many of the second and first grade pleaders, who are entitled to practise only in the lower courts now, are my friends. We have got the greatest respect for several of them. But that consideration should not weigh with us now. Is it in the interests of justice? Is it in the interests of public good? Is it consistent with progressive ideas and ideals? These are the matters that ought to weigh with us and not that we have got many friends among the pleaders and have great admiration for them. If these are the principles that are to guide us in this matter, I submit, Sir, that no member of this House will feel any hesitation in accepting the amendment now moved by Mr. Abraham.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Sir, I oppose the amendment moved by Mr. K. C. Abraham. We all know that he is a member of the High Court Bar and that the High Court Bar Association has passed a resolution against the amendment made by the Select Committee. It is as a result of that resolution that he has brought in the present amendment. For my part, I thought that Mr. Abraham was not serious when he moved his amendment. School Finals are allowed to sit for the advocates' examination held by the Bombay Bar Council and if they pass and become advocates of the Bombay High Court, they can immediately become advocates of the Travancore High Court also on payment of the prescribed fees. The present provision does not prohibit such members of the Bombay High Court from becoming members of the Travancore High Court Bar as advocates under this provision.

Sir, we the second grade and first grade pleaders of Travancore have studied more about Travancore Law, in our law course, than the B. L. students. Our Bar Council Bill applies only to the Travancore High Court; and we are more qualified to deal with Travancore Laws than the B. L's. We are more competent to deal with and handle medico legal cases and we know more of procedure than B. L's because we have been taught these subjects in our law course. They are taught the science of foreign laws which are of little use to us.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know who taught them those subjects, Graduates-in-law or pleaders?

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Medical Jurisprudence was not taught by Graduates-in-law, I am sure.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Who taught them procedure?

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): I lay more stress on Medical Jurisprudence.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Who taught them Medical Jurisprudence, graduates in medicine or non-graduates?

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Anyhow, they are not Graduates-in-law.

Sir, unless provision is introduced in the Bill, prohibiting the advocates of the Bombay High Court from practising in our High Court, I cannot understand the logic in Mr. Abraham's argument. By spending a few rupees more 2nd grade pleaders could become advocates here also. So, I strongly oppose the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I demand a poll;

PRESIDENT: I waited for two minutes; no demand was made. (Cries of "We do not want a poll"). MR. S. J. NAIR has demanded a poll. —MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I do not press for it, Sir.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): I move the following amendment—

In Clause 9, add as sub-clause (8) the following :

"Such rules shall also provide for the second grade pleaders enrolled as vakils in any Munsiff's Courts in Travancore before the 1st day of Chingam 1118 M. E., being qualified to apply for admission as vakils of the District Court as the result of an examination held from time to time by or under the supervision of the Council.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I rise to a point of order. Under Standing Order 25, an amendment must be relevant to and within the scope of the subject-matter of the Clause or motion to which it relates. This amendment does not deal with the qualifications of advocates at all. Clause 9 deals with the qualifications of advocates. This amendment deals with the permission that is to be granted to second grade pleaders to practise in District Courts. That has nothing to do with Clause 9. As such it cannot be an amendment to Clause 9. Clause 9 deals with advocates; this deals with non-advocates.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vaki): Sir, it seems to me that this amendment is within the scope of this Bill. This Bill deals with the class of persons who are entitled to appear in the High Court, and in the subordinate courts. Clause 8 reads—

"No person shall be entitled as of right to practise in the High Court or in any of the Courts subordinate thereto unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation."

Thus, this Bill provides for the qualifications of those persons who are entitled to appear not merely in the High Court but also in the subordinate courts. That being so, it seems to me that the Bar Council, which is the authority to fix the qualifications of persons who may appear before the High Court and those who may appear before the subordinate courts, may make rules under Clause 9 in regard to that class of persons who may appear before the subordinate courts.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, this amendment relates to Clause 9 specifically and not to Clause 8 or the whole Bill.

PRESIDENT: Clause 9, taken in conjunction with Clause 8, makes it clear that the Bill is concerned not only with advocates but with categories of persons other than advocates, and their rights, or the preservation of their rights, to practise. Viewed in that manner, although it may be said that in Clause 9 this particular matter does not come in, yet, taking Clause 8 and Clause 9 together as a code in regard to practice in courts, I think the amendment sought to be moved is admissible and within the scope and ambit of the Bill. I rule accordingly.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla II): Sir, this amendment is intended to make some provision for enabling the second grade pleaders practising in the District Munsiff's Courts in the State to plead in the District Courts. Sir, I have clearly stated in the amendment that I have absolutely no objection to prescribe an examination by the Bar Council for this purpose, to keep up the efficiency of the District

[Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai.]

Court Bar. Let us consider this question on its merits. Since the pleaders' examination has been abolished, there need not be any fear in the minds of anybody that the District Court Bar will become overcrowded as the result of this change. If the second grade pleaders are given opportunities to improve their outlook and better their fortunes, that will certainly serve the interests of the public in manifold ways; because it is just possible that at least a few of them might be persuaded to keep up their legal studies, if a chance is provided to them for admission to the District Court Bar. The Travancore High Court have recognised this principle in the past when those who were able to secure fifty per cent. of the marks in the pleaders' examination or those practising in the Munsiff's Court for five years, were permitted to practise in the District Courts without any special examination. Thus the principle underlying this amendment was accepted by the Travancore High Court. This system was stopped in the year 1911. It is clear that a vested right of the second grade pleaders was taken away from them without any compensation. So, I submit that it is only just and proper that they are given the opportunity for improving their condition.

Another point is that originally the 'pecuniary jurisdiction of the Munsiff's Courts was Rs. 500. This was raised from Rs. 500 to Rs. 2,000. It is understood that it is going to be further raised to Rs. 2,500. It is unjust to any class of people to be told that they will be allowed to deal with cases to a maximum limit of Rs. 2,000, only, and that if the value of the subject matter of the suit is more than Rs. 2,000, they will not be allowed.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urban): Is the member aware that the jurisdiction of the Devicoolam Munsiff is Rs. 5,000?

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Trivandrum III): Yes, Sir. Some of the Munsiff's Courts are even to-day having jurisdiction to try cases up to a limit of Rs. 5,000. And the second grade pleaders are allowed to practise in those courts. Moreover, the complicated nature of the questions of law and fact is not at all dependent on the value of the suit. It may be the same whether the case be of the value of Rs. 100 or Rs. 1,000 or Rs. 5,000. It is the duty of the State to see that a person following any profession in life is given opportunities to improve his outlook and better his fortune. Otherwise his head and heart will both deteriorate.

Sir, in 1101, the elected representatives of the S. M. P. A. submitted a written representation to Government to the effect that steps be taken to enable the second grade pleaders to practise before the District Courts. In the old Legislative Council, as in the present Assembly, many of the honourable members have been urging upon the attention of Government the urgent necessity for making some provision to enable the second grade pleaders to practise before the District Courts. I would appeal to the honourable members of the Assembly to sympathetically and generously consider this question and accept my amendment without any division. This is not at all against the principles of public policy or professional requirements. Sir, I fail to see the reason why the first and second grade pleaders alone should end their lives as pleaders when matriculates have become eminent Judges, when Hospital Assistants are becoming Assistant Surgeons and maistries become Assistant Engineers simply because of their ability, practice and experience.

Mr. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): ഞാൻ ഈ അമേൻഡ്മെൻറിനെ പിൻതാങ്ങുന്നു.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelthara): I support the amendment.

PRESIDENT: Honourable members may recollect that practically the subject matter of this amendment also has been discussed under the previous amendment. If honourable members have something new to say they may do so.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, something is better than nothing. Sir, since the amendment made in the Bill to Clause 9 as sub-clause (3) by the Select Committee has been vetoed it is better to have at least this. I hope that a better day will come to enable me to plead for the cause of the pleaders to practise before the High Court.

Mr. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): There is one objection to the present clause. We do not propose to repeal the Vakils' Regulation. Only such portions of the Regulation dealing with advocates who have a right to practise before the High Court are sought to be amended. The remaining sections of the Regulation will be left as they are. It is the High Court who have to frame rules for the enrolment of the first and second grade pleaders. That power is not sought to be taken away by the passing of this Bill. We have to remember that we are dealing with advocates. Members of the Bar Council have to make rules only for the enrolment of the advocates and they have nothing to do with enrolment of second grade pleaders as vakils of the District Courts. The members of the Bar Council will, under the amendment now carried, have to lay down rules for the purpose of admitting persons who are not members of the Council. In other words, you are compelling the members of the Bar Council to frame rules for the sake of persons who have nothing to do with the Bar Council and who are under the disciplinary control of the High Court. The first and second grade pleaders are under the jurisdiction of the High Court, and the Bar Council has nothing to do with them. As long as they are in possession of a sanad, they will be entitled to practise before the Munsiffs' and District Courts. This House does not want to take away that right. That idea is contained in the proviso. They are under the disciplinary control and jurisdiction of the High Court. A Munsiff can report about the misconduct of the pleaders, and the High Court will look into the matter. That matter need not go to the Bar Council at all. That being the case, why should the Bar Council be compelled to enact rules for persons who have nothing to do with the Bar Council. That is a position which I cannot understand.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I also wish to submit one word. Under Section 8, no person shall be entitled as of right to practise in the High Court or in any of the courts subordinate thereto, unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation. The first proviso says "provided that those who are enrolled before as vakils of any Court subordinate to the High Court but are not eligible for enrolment as advocates shall be entitled to practise as vakils so long as their enrolment remains in force." If Section 8 comes into effect, there can be only one kind of enrolment vis., the enrolment of advocates. If a person is already a second grade pleader, he can continue as such. Similarly in the case of first grade pleaders. And there is no provision for enrolment of any class of pleaders other than advocates. In support of this, I would draw the attention of the House to another sub-clause. By the Schedule, Clauses (b), (c), (d) & (e) (both the columns) under Article 30 of the Stamp Regulation are to be deleted. They relate to the stamp fees payable for enrolment as Munsiffs' Court Vakils and District Court Vakils. Those Clauses are no more necessary because there is provision in the Regulation only for enrolment as advocates. Therefore under Clause 8 there is a statutory prohibition against the enrolment of any person as a vakil of the District Court or as a vakil of the Munsiffs' Court. Clause 8 is definite on that point. While clause (2) in Section 9 says that the Bar Council is to prescribe the qualifications for enrolment as advocates, we have now added a sub-clause that the Bar Council may hold examinations and declare any second grade pleader as being qualified to practise in District Courts. The Bar Council may declare like that. But, Section 5 of the Vakils' Regulation is to be deleted under this Bill. Therefore the point raised by my friend Mr. Pathupalli Krishna Pillai does not arise.

Even if the Bar Council has to frame rules and to hold examinations as provided for under this sub-clause, the point is that —

PRESIDENT: Your point is that there must be an affirmative legislation regarding enrolment of pleaders as District Court Vakils?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Yes, Sir. In the absence of such a provision, this amendment which was now carried, is not going to benefit the parties concerned. It will also appear incongruous.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakils): Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai's amendment, to the effect that second grade pleaders may be allowed to be enrolled as District Court Vakils after they pass an examination to be held by the Bar

Council, is very reasonable and consistent with the assurance given on behalf of Government on the last occasion when the matter was raised by Mr. S. J. Nair. In regard to the difficulties raised by Messrs. Puthupalli Krishna Pillai and Asan, all that the amendment says is the Bar Council shall have the powers to test the eligibility of the pleaders to become vakils of the District Court. The Bar Council is an expert body, something like a University or the Council of Legal Education. They will test whether these people have the ability to practise before District Courts. Necessary consequential amendments will be made at the third reading of the Bill.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): But do they become members of the Bar Council?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Then, how can the Bar Council lay down rules for people who are not members of the Bar Council, and over whom they have no control?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It is merely provided that, by means of an examination, their eligibility to become first grade pleaders will be determined. As for disciplinary control, even now they are under the High Court; and they will continue like that. Provision may be required to provide for their enrolment as District Court Vakils. For that purpose, amendments may be moved in the subsequent clauses.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): In regard to the amendment itself, I have to make a suggestion for the consideration of the Law Member.

The amendment of Mr. Velayudhan Pillai evidently means that all vakils enrolled as such should sit for the examinations to be held. I think power should be given to the Bar Council to impose restrictions such as "only vakils of 10 years' standing or of some definite number of years' standing can sit for the examination". Therefore, I suggest to the Law Member that the following words may be added at the end of Mr. T. P. Velayudhan Pillai's amendment—

"subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by the Bar Council"

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I shall consider that also.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I move the following amendment:

In Clause 9, add the following as sub-clause (d):—

"Notwithstanding anything contained in the Section or in any other provision of this Regulation, until the first rules under this Section come into force, the High Court shall have power to admit as advocates persons who, in the opinion of the High Court, are duly qualified for the same."

[Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan.]

According to the scheme of the Bar Council Bill, it will be found that after the Bill comes into force, that is, after Clauses 8—16 are brought into effect the Bar Council will have to prescribe rules with the previous approval of the High Court and examinations have to be conducted by them. It is only after that, that advocates could be enrolled. With regard to the persons who had a right to practise in the High Court before the date on which Section 8 comes into force, they can be enrolled as advocates. But the subsequent enrolment has to wait until the Bar Council prescribes rules and after they come into force proper examinations have to be held for enrolment. Necessarily a long period will have to elapse during which time the enrolment as advocates has to be suspended. Under Clause 8 persons eligible to be enrolled as advocates but are not yet High Court Vakils, will have no right to practise even in subordinate courts until they are enrolled as advocates. In addition to the persons who want to join the profession of law, there are persons who are already in that profession, who will also be disabled under Section 8. It is not right that persons, who are desirous to become advocates, should be asked to wait until the rules under Clause 9 (1) are brought into effect. So, all that I wish to convey by this amendment is to give power to the High Court to enroll advocates, until the rules under sub-section 9 (1) are brought into effect. With these words I move the amendment for the acceptance of the House.

PRESIDENT: As the time is 3-30 we will now proceed to the discussion of the adjournment motion.

ADJOURNMENT MOTION.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS TO THE LEGISLATURE.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): Sir, I move the following motion:

"I beg leave to move the adjournment of the business of the Assembly for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely the unsatisfactory nature of the arrangements for the conduct of election to the legislative bodies as disclosed by the recent publication of the preliminary electoral roll and the fixing of the polling stations."

I may say at the outset that even though the motion I have moved is comprehensive enough to include the electoral roll in respect of the elections to both the Houses of Legislature, I shall confine myself particularly to the election and the arrangements proposed to be made with respect to the elections to the Sri Chitra State Council.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know the special reason which prompts the member to discuss that aspect of the question alone?

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): As a respectable voter to the Sri Chitra State Council and as a member of this Assembly I think even apart from the question of any special interest that I may have, I am entitled to make a motion of this kind. On a passing glance of the electoral rolls now published both for the Assembly and for the State Council elections, it will be apparent that the elections to both the Houses are to be conducted on two different days.

Sir, that is a state of affairs which is unsatisfactory both from the point of view of Government and from the point of view of the voters and the candidates. When the reformed Legislatures were constituted in 1108 the elections to both the Houses were conducted on one and the same day, and the same polling stations were fixed for both the Assembly and the Council. Now, it is proposed that elections to the Assembly and to the State Council should be conducted on different days. It is a process which is more costly to Government. If they have to appoint Polling and Presiding Officers and to make sufficient Police arrangements for the conduct of the State Council election over and above the arrangements for the Assembly elections, it will surely entail additional expense. From the point of view of the voter, the State Council voter is ipso facto an Assembly voter. By the present arrangements he is called upon to attend the polling station and record his vote on two days. I submit, this arrangement is unnecessary and an additional burden is thus cast upon the State Council voter. Then as for the candidate in the new scheme of things, the State Council constituencies have been so extended or enlarged as to include three and four taluks and some of the constituencies extend to a length of more than 100 miles. Three and even four taluks are grouped together and the voters are asked to elect one or more members. As far as I am aware no constituency is permitted to elect more than one member from the general constituency. No one candidate can be expected to possess sufficient influence in all the taluks of his constituency alike. Under these circumstances, the inducement for the voter to go to the polling station and record his vote, is very limited. Ordinarily speaking, in the absence of any political party or organisation in the country to control and organise this kind of election, the election depends more or less entirely upon the individual efforts. The candidates will have to run about, in four or more taluks during a short period, and it will be impossible to induce all the voters, by legitimate means, to record their votes. Sir, to compensate for this inconvenience I submit that sufficient and reasonable facilities should be afforded to the voters to go to the polling stations and record their votes. As for that it will be evident from the preliminary electoral rolls that four and more pataukies are grouped together and one polling station allotted to them. Voters are called upon to travel in some cases more than 16 and 18 miles to and fro to record their votes. I am submitting that from a careful study of the electoral rolls it will be apparent that more than 25 per cent. of the voters are females and a sufficiently large number of the male voters are persons who have passed their middle age. And the elections come off in the hottest part of the year somewhere during the middle of Madam. To expect these voters to walk in the hot sun a distance of more than 16 or 18 miles to record their votes is very hard. It is almost an impossible task. If necessary and sufficient facilities are not given, the percentages of voters, who vote will be very poor even though Travancore claims to be one of the most enlightened country and the people are supposed to be most alive to their civic responsibilities.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know whether the dates for the State Council election have been fixed?

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala I): I have no authoritative information as to the dates of the elections. Yesterday, I saw in some papers, that the Assembly election is to be conducted on the 16th, and the State Council election on the 21st of Madam. That is all the information I have. In order to obviate these difficulties, my proposal is that all the polling stations of the Assembly should be made the polling stations of the State Council as well. By doing so, the number of polling stations will be increased and the voters will not have the necessity of walking very great distances. And to the Government that will obviate the additional expenditure necessary for the conduct of two elections for the two legislative bodies on two different dates. Sir, there are not sufficient number of public passenger conveyances; as such the distance between the polling stations should, as far as possible, be so short that voters can conveniently go and exercise their votes. If the Assembly polling stations are used for the State Council elections also, then the distance will be minimised and no voter will be put to the necessity of walking more than 5 or 6 miles. That will be a sufficient inducement for the voter to go and record his vote. So I submit that both the elections should be conducted on one and the same date and all the Assembly polling stations should be used as polling stations for the State Council election also. In this connection, I may be permitted to say that, if my suggestion is found impracticable for any reason, my submission is that additional polling stations must be allotted for the State Council elections. By that I mean to say that at least one polling station must be established for every pakuthi. I make this request with special reference to one State Council constituency viz., the Karunagapalli Kartikapalli Ambalapuzh constituency. From a reading of the voters' list it appears that these lists are prepared without any reference to any principle whatsoever. Kartikapalli is a taluk just as big as Karunagapalli, and the number of voters slightly bigger than that of Karunagapalli. In Karunagapalli taluk there are 12 polling stations one for each pakuthi whereas in the Kartikapalli taluk, there are only 5 polling stations to serve 754 voters and 17 pakuthies. In some of the polling stations in the Karunagapalli taluk the number of voters is below 50 and in one case it is below twenty whereas in the Kartikapalli taluk, no polling station serves less than 100 voters. The difficulty of travelling in both the taluks is the same. There is only one central road connecting both the taluks. There is no public passenger conveyance in all parts of the taluks. The polling arrangements in Kartikapalli is highly inadequate and unsatisfactory.

Coming to my own taluk Shertala, which is well known to be the most ill-served taluk in the State in the matter of means of communication, with the loose burning sand, for 15 pakuthies there are only 8 polling stations. The area to be served is almost the same if not slightly more than that of Karunagapalli. For a voter to go from Panavally to Arukutty he has to walk 18 miles, and more than 25 per cent. of the voters are women. To expect them to walk great distances is nothing but an impossibility. So, I submit that the matter may be looked into carefully by the Government and sufficient number of polling stations established to conduct the State Council election. Even though it may entail a certain amount of additional expenditure and a little delay in republishing the list, it will be to the advantage of the voters. I request that this matter should not be brushed aside simply because it has once been disposed of by the Government. In one instance, a certain portion of Alleppey pakuthi, being beyond the jurisdiction of the Municipality, the voters are asked to pass along two polling stations on the way and to go to a distance of 6 miles. They might as well have been included in the polling stations within the Municipality, or a separate polling station might have been provided for them. This matter requires urgent looking into, and I earnestly appeal to the Government to bestow their serious consideration. With these words, I commend the motion to the acceptance of the House.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam I): May I know whether it is the member's view that the polling for the Assembly and the Council should be conducted on the very same day?

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): That was exactly what I said even at the beginning.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I rise to support the motion. The main consideration in fixing the date of election ought to be the convenience of the public, economy to the State, and also to the voters and the candidates. I do not find what it was that led the Government to take this different course of action from the election of 1108. I very well remember that the election on that occasion went very smoothly and that both the voters and the candidates found it convenient to take part in the election. Unless the experience of the previous election has made it necessary for the Government to make an alteration in the way in which they have now thought it fit, I do not see why they should have decided to change from that course of action. In a State like Travancore where waste of money in such elections is so much, considering the economic condition of the people, I think Government should be very keen in seeing that the least amount of money is spent from the pockets either of the candidates or the voters, especially because there is no common fund from which the candidates can draw for their election expenses. The other point which Mr. Panickar stressed very well was that convenience should be given to voters as far as possible. And if the best facilities are given to the voters, generally the constituency will be able to return the best man.

[Mr. K. R. Elenkath.]

The success of the candidate elected depends upon the proportion of the votes polled. So, as far as possible, Government should give convenience to get recorded as many votes as possible, and for that a greater number of polling stations should be established. The greater the number of polling stations the more will be the number of voters attracted, to the polling stations. One point ought to be borne in mind. All the voters of the State Council are voters of the Assembly as well. That is a fact which Government ought to consider. Is it not very hard to ask a voter to go to the polling station twice risking all his professional duties and wasting his time. If the polling is to take place on the same day for both the Houses of Legislature that inconvenience can be minimised. With these words, I strongly support the motion.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): I also rise to support the motion. I am doing so not for all the reasons advanced by Mr. Krishna Panickar. He said that the constituencies had been arranged in a slipshod manner.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Sherala II): I never said any such thing about the constituencies. What I said was about the polling stations.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): In regard to polling stations, so far as I know, a certain plan has been followed in fixing them. I do not want to speak for or against any particular officer; but in this instance, Sir, I may say that the Electoral officer is one who knows the country thoroughly, especially the Ambalapuzha, Shertala, and Kartikapalli taluks. I want to stress this point because there is considerable force in the merits of the question. Taking into consideration the fact that only a very few voters are likely to go to the polling stations unless proper facilities are afforded to them, there is force in the contention of Mr. Panickar that as far as possible these voters must not be put to any serious inconvenience, especially because about 25 per cent of the total number of voters to the Council are women. In this country, Sir, women are highly patriotic and though they may be ready at the risk of personal inconvenience, to go to distant polling stations, our habit of chivalry should not tolerate that. It is very hard to expect women to walk long distances in these sandy places like Pallippuram and the adjoining localities in the whole of the Shertala taluk, in the hot days of the month of Medam, to record their votes. Further, if the voter takes the trouble to vote at the elections to the Assembly, that, after three or four days he or she should be expected to go again to the polling booth in order to send representatives to the Council is very hard on them. Sir, I do not want to draw any invidious distinction between the Assembly and the Council; but it is a fact that the number of voters to the Assembly is much larger than the number of voters to the Council. Therefore I think it will be very feasible to conduct both the elections on the same day and in the same polling stations, the same officer managing both the elections in the same polling station. Sir, Mr. Panickar said that, in this country communications are scanty. I think Sir, I must take exception to that statement. I can tell him and the House that there is no other Indian State which has a greater length of roads and canals than our State has, considering the total extent of the country. At the same time, the conveniences now asked for, for the voters, are very necessary. With these words, I support the motion.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I support the motion. If the elections to the Council and to the Assembly were to take place on the same day it will add much to the convenience of the voters. I take this opportunity to request the Government that the date to be fixed for the election should not fall on religious days, for instance during the Passion Weeks. There are two Passion Weeks. One is important for the Anglicans and the other for the Jacobites.

PRESIDENT : Does the member know the dates ?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): No, Sir. I would also suggest that what was done in British India viz., the provision of separate boxes for the various candidates with a view to simplify the work of the voter may be followed here also.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shenotta): Sir, I rise to support the motion before the House. Mr. Panickar referred to certain inconveniences and difficulties in the way of the electors coming from distant places to the polling stations. I wish to make one or two observations in that matter. It should be made possible for any elector to reach a polling station by travelling not more than five miles. This was the principle followed in British India during the recent elections in fixing polling stations. Mr. Panickar also suggested that a polling station should be established in every pakulhi. That need not necessarily be done; because it may be possible to group together a few pakulhis for one polling station without the voters being obliged to walk or travel more than 5 miles to reach the polling stations. Another suggestion I would like to make is that wherever there are a sufficient number of women voters, women Polling Officers should be appointed to record the votes of women voters.

A third suggestion which I want to make is that in no circumstance, a Polling Officer should be called upon to handle more than 600 or 700 voters. That is the maximum that one can handle. With these observations, I support the motion.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): In supporting the motion, I wish to emphasise the point referred to by Mr. Karayalar, viz., that adequate facilities should be provided for having separate polling booths to enable women voters to come and record their votes and that women Polling Officers should be appointed. If that is done, it will be possible for a larger number of women to freely exercise their franchise. The other day I read in a newspaper that, in Malabar out of 23 polling stations 9 were entirely set apart for women voters.

[Mr. M. Abdur Rahiman Sahib].

This fact has been repeatedly urged here, and the need has been emphasised more than once that there must be sufficient facility to enable all women including purdah ladies to come and record their votes.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Masikikara): May I know whether if separate polling stations are established for women, they would walk long distances to record their votes?

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): As far as possible, every possible arrangement should be made to cut short the distance to the polling booths, so that a larger number of voters can come and record their votes.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether Muslim ladies would come and record their votes if lady Polling Officers are appointed?

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Yes, I think so.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Sheriala I): Some of the members of this House who are experts in wooing the electorate feel helpless to approach the newly constituted constituencies. They are so unwieldy in extent that the most optimistic of us feel helpless. Taluks and localities which have nothing in common have been grouped together; and votes that one candidate has to canvass have been increased to such an extent that one cannot think of any election work except the announcement of his candidature. One of my friends humorously remarked that by the time the candidate finishes canvassing for one election he would have to begin canvassing for the next election. He was not wrong. My friend Mr. Panickar has already said that the present arrangements for polling are very inadequate. I will just bring to the notice of this House one instance. The taluks of Kartikapalli, Karunagapalli, Ampalapuzha and Sheriala are grouped together as a single constituency for the State Council election and Ambalapuzha and Sheriala as one constituency for the Assembly. In the Ambalapuzha taluk though there are 15 pabuthies, there are only 4 polling stations for the State Council. It is a matter of common knowledge that the major portion of the Ambalapuzha taluk consists of water-logged areas and that if a person wants to visit his next door neighbour, he will have to go in a small canoe. Travelling in these parts is extremely difficult, and it is strange that the Electoral Special Officer who himself belongs to the Ambalapuzha taluk has given to this taluk only 4 polling stations. That is practically denying polling facilities to the majority of the State Council voters in the Ambalapuzha taluk. The distance to be covered between the various polling stations is, in many cases more than 15 miles. That is one of the reasons which will induce most of the voters to keep away from the polling booth. Facilities should be given to attract the maximum number of voters to exercise their franchise.

The other aspect put forward by Mr. Panickar is the advisability of conducting the elections for both the Houses simultaneously. But there is some difficulty in regard to that, owing to the grouping of the constituencies. It may not be possible to conduct the elections to the State Council and to the Assembly on the same day, throughout the State. But I think there is nothing to prevent Government from making arrangements to have the votes recorded for the State Council also, in those places where the Assembly elections are held as was done in the past in the case of the Commerce and Industry constituency.

MISS HEPZIBAH GNANASIKAMONY (Nominated): Sir, I support the motion before the House. I am for election on the same date, but I am not for separate election for ladies. That is not necessary in our State. Further it will be very expensive. Just now it had been pointed out through the answer to a question that even Muslim ladies are prepared to vote. That being the desire of Muslim ladies, I request Government to appoint lady Polling Officers in stations where a large number of Muslim ladies have to record their votes and also in stations where ladies are not forward and need such a help. Sir, this is done in British India and I hope it can be done here as well.

Another thing; more privacy should be provided for Muslim ladies in the polling halls so that they may be able to record their votes without being seen by men.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): At the very outset I may say that the dates for polling have not yet been definitely fixed. The Special Officer has sent up his recommendation, but Government have not yet passed final orders. I believe, in making the recommendation, the Special Officer has taken into consideration the objection raised by Mr. Kuriyan. He has suggested three dates, 14th and 16th of Medam for election to the Assembly, and the 21st Medam for election to the State Council. Originally, his idea was to have elections on other dates but owing to the Easter falling on those days he has changed them. Government will examine the dates now recommended in the light of what Mr. Kuriyan has stated.

It has been suggested that the pollings may take place on the same dates, both for the Assembly and for the Council. I am sorry to say that it is an impracticable proposition. In 1108 the polling for both the Houses took place on the same dates. At that time, the number of voters for the Assembly was only about 1,50,000. Now, with the widening of the franchise, the number of voters stands at 5,10,000. At the last election, there were, on the whole, 399 polling stations for the Assembly and the Council. The maximum number of votes for each polling station is fixed at 800 for the ensuing elections. For the last election it was 600 and this figure would have been adopted for the elections if it had been possible to do so.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Kural): Is it the average number of voters for each polling station?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): 600 is the average number and 800 is the maximum.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): What was the maximum fixed last time?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It was somewhere about 600.

With 800 voters for each polling station, there must be 799 or nearly 800 polling stations for the Assembly against 400 at the last election. If you are going to have both the elections on the same day, there will be 800 polling stations for the Assembly and the Council. The difficulty here is, first of all, to find an adequate number of suitable persons to serve as Polling Officers and Presiding Officers. Last time for nearly 400 polling stations Government had to engage about 1,600 officers. Besides these, there were special Presiding and Polling Officers for the special constituencies. For each polling station there were four officers, two Polling Officers and two Presiding Officers. There was considerable difficulty in finding a sufficient number of these officers on the last occasion. Government had to appoint officers on Rs 50 and even lower grade clerks drawing Rs 20 and Rs. 25 as Polling and Presiding Officers. That was in 1108, when the number of officers required was only 1,600.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Cannot one and the same officer act for both the Assembly and the Council by providing two boxes, one for the Assembly and the other for the Council?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): But the box for the Assembly is different from the box for the Council. There must be one officer for each box. There will be practical difficulties if one officer was put in charge of both the boxes. Government do not want to inconvenience the public. They have considered all aspects very carefully; and as it is not possible to find a sufficient number of officers to serve as Polling and Presiding Officers, it has been decided not to have the elections to both the Houses on the same dates.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Travancore Urban): Is there any rule that only officers should be appointed as Polling Officers?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The difficulty will be greater to find suitable non-officials. Even in 1108, there was difficulty in finding sufficient number of Polling and Presiding officers. Now we require double that number; and if the elections to both the Houses were to take place on the same day.....

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkeil I): In British India, non-officials are appointed as Polling Officers.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, we have no objection to appoint non-officials, if we can find competent non-officials. There is the practical difficulty of finding a sufficient number of hands to conduct the polling for both the Assembly and the Council on the same day, as suggested by Mr. Panickar and some others.

Then, Sir, honourable members seem to think that, by the present arrangement, Government have to incur large expenditure. I am afraid it is the other way. Take the cost of the boxes alone. If the elections were to take place on the same day about 3,200 boxes would be required. But in 1108 the polling was managed with 1568 boxes; 800 boxes for the Assembly and 768 boxes for the Council. The Special Officer calculates the price of each box at Rs. 4. The saving that can be effected is, therefore, nearly Rs. 6,500. This is a considerable amount which need not be wasted.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Sherfala II): May I know whether the size of the boxes should be uniform in all cases and whether they could not be made smaller, and therefore cheaper?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The size of the boxes has not been considered. The Special Officer says that the cost of one box will be Rs. 4. Besides this saving, honourable members may also consider the practical difficulty of finding enough men to serve as Polling and Presiding Officers.

Regarding the special request made by Mr. Panickar, whether the polling is to take place on the same day or not, the difficulties of his own constituency may be considered and something may be done to minimise them, Sir, I know Sherfala well. It is a sandy place where walking long distances in the hot sun is an ordeal. This time Government issued instructions as was done on the last occasion that the distance from one polling station to another should not be more than six miles. No voter will have to walk more than six miles to record his vote. That was the instruction issued in 1108 also. The Special Officer has so arranged the stations that a voter will not have to cover a longer distance than six miles. Mr. Krishna Panickar says that in some places, the voter has to walk about eighteen miles for recording his vote. I do not know which place it is. Here is the statement of the Special Officer that the polling stations have been so arranged that no elector will be obliged to walk more than six miles.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether the Government will be pleased to consider representations for the shifting of polling stations?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I am coming to that.

Regarding the request of Mr. Panickar that the polling stations for his constituency may be increased, I may say that there are eight stations for the Sherfala constituency. I do not think that I can give an undertaking, without looking into the matter, that the number will be increased. The rules have been published, the stations have been fixed and the notifications have appeared in the Gazette. I am told that a certain period is allowed for filing objections before the Returning officers. It is the Returning officer that has to hear objections and reallocate polling booths or increase their number.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNAPANICKAR (Sheriala II): The Returning officer has to hear objections only with regard to the voters' list. He has nothing to do with the polling booths.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): That is not my information. There is the Returning officer and also the Registration officer. The latter fixes the polling area and the Returning officer fixes the polling stations and objections about polling stations have to be filed before him. I do not know whether under the rules we can go back upon the notifications already published. If there is any possibility by which that can be done, the complaint raised by Mr. Krishna Panickar will be looked into. But I cannot give an undertaking until the matter has been examined by the Law Officers.

In regard to the dates of polling, I can say positively that it is impossible to have the polling on the same day for both the Assembly and the Council.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): What about reducing the number of votes for each polling station as suggested by Mr. Karayalar?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): We have fixed 800 as the maximum and 600 as the average for each polling station. If it is further reduced we would require more polling stations.

MR. S. CHATTANATHA KARAYALAR (Shencotta): May I know whether it will be possible for 800 voters to vote in one station the same day?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It may be possible.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether it will be possible to allot separate boxes for each candidate as in British India?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not think it is possible to do so.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHMAN SAHIB (Nominated): What about the giving of facilities for women voters?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I do not know whether my friend wants separate polling stations for women, all over the country or only in places where there may be a large number of purdha women. If he wants separate polling stations for women all over the State, I may say that it is impossible. In regard to the second point, if it is possible to have separate polling stations for women in particular localities, it will be considered.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I wish to say a word or two on this motion. The voting has to take place within ten hours. Ten hours mean 600 minutes. Anyone who has experience of the time usually taken for recording a vote will admit that not less than one and a half or two minutes will be required to record a single vote.

Some of us who have experience of voting can assert that we have very often experienced difficulties in getting votes recorded within the time allotted. The maximum number of voters fixed on the last occasion was 600. Now it has been raised to 800. I sympathize with the difficulties of Government in finding sufficient number of officers to conduct the elections. But the Government are expected to give necessary facilities to the voters to go and record their votes. When difficulties were experienced even when the average was 600 the Government can more or less imagine the difficulties that will be experienced when the average is raised to 800. Government can know from the Returning Officers who served at the previous elections the difficulties experienced by the voters in recording their votes within the time allotted. On previous occasions in certain centres there were demands for increasing the number of Polling Officers. In certain cases the Returning Officers complied with the request. So, I would suggest that it is absolutely necessary that the maximum number of voters in a polling station be brought down. The voters have to be identified, and if they are illiterate their votes will have to be recorded by the Presiding Officers. All these will necessarily take time. There will be no good complaining against the Polling Officers, on that day. We cannot get the defects rectified on the spot. There is no good in finding fault with the Polling Officers for not doing the whole work in time. I would also suggest that in fixing the polling stations the convenience of the voters must be ascertained. I have seen in a number of places that two portions of the same building are chosen for two polling stations. That should not be done. The polling stations should be in the centre of the polling area. The stations should be fixed so as to suit the convenience of the voters concerned. With these words, I support the motion.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II) : Sir, I was very patiently hearing what the Chief Secretary said. He said that there were practical difficulties in conducting the elections on one and the same day. With regard to the statement of the Chief Secretary that polling stations once fixed cannot be changed, I may say that there are instances in which polling stations once fixed have been changed. My request once again is that this matter may be sympathetically and reasonably looked into and sufficient number of polling stations given.

I may say at the outset that the distance of six miles fixed, is not adhered to in practice. The distance between Poochakkal thodu the southern boundary of Panavallil pakuthi and Arukutty is not less than eight miles. The distance from the Thrikunnapuzha beach to Karuvatta English School the present polling station is very much more than 6 miles. I regret very much to note the unsympathetic attitude taken by the Government in the matter of even increasing the number of polling stations. Unless I have more sympathetic response and an assurance that all that could be done will be done I am afraid I will have to press the motion to a division.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): May I add a word, Sir. I have stated definitely that if the rules permit it Government will look into the complaints. If it is found that the polling area in a particular locality is far too much, and if under the rules the number of polling stations can be increased Government will have no objection to consider it. I have specifically stated in regard to the Shertala taluk that it is a very difficult place and that Government will look into the possibility of increasing the number of polling stations there.

MR. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II): On the assurance now given by the Chief Secretary I withdraw the motion.

The motion was, by leave, withdrawn.

The House adjourned at 4.28 P. M.

of
THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY.

(OFFICIAL REPORT.)

FIRST ASSEMBLY.

NINTH SESSION.

Wednesday, the 25th February 1937/14th Kumbham 1112.

The Assembly met again in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall at Eleven of the Clock, with the President in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Construction of the Kuriathu bund.

304. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether it has been decided to recover one-half of the cost of the construction of Kuriathu bund in Pavookkara muri, Kurattisseri pakuthi, Tiruvalla taluk, under the Irrigation Regulation, from the owners of 169 acres of land adjacent to the above;

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether the restoration of the bund was necessitated by the breach that occurred in the floods of 1939 and the time at which the work was commenced;

(c) the extent of garden lands, Viruppu lands, and punja lands comprising the 169 acres sought to be taxed;

(d) the area of the lands that would get any additional facilities for irrigation and drainage by the construction of the bund above referred to;

(e) whether notification under the Irrigation Regulation was published in the Government Gazette inviting objections to the recovery of the cost of the bund, and, if so, the date of such notification, the extent of land about which notification was published and the date of commencement of the work;

(f) whether objections have been put in by the owners of lands to the notification referred to in part (e), and, if so, the number of persons that have objected to the same; and

(g) whether representation has been made to the Government that the recovery of the cost is illegal, irregular and inequitable, and if so, the steps taken on such representation?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes; but subsequently Government have ordered to stop all proceedings towards the realisation of half contribution.

(b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g). These do not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

Registry of Cardamom lands.

305. *MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of applications received by the Commissioner Devicolum till the end of Karkatakam 1111 for the registry of Cardamom lands in the Pallivasal pakuthi;

(b) the names of applicants and the area covered by each application;

(c) the amount received as advance from the applicants;

(d) whether any registry has been effected till now;

(e) if so, the number and the area under each item; and

(f) if no registry has been effected, the reasons for the delay?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) 193.

(b) & (c) A *statement showing the particulars is laid on the table.

(d) No.

(e) This does not arise in view of answer to part (d).

(f) Proceedings are in progress. A statement showing the various stages of pendency of the applications is laid on the table.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): With reference to the answer to part (d) of the question, may I know the reasons for such a long delay in effecting registry?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The chief reason is that the trees have to be numbered; and the Survey Superintendent has been asked to arrange for it.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): Will the applicants be permitted to enter upon the lands and carry on cardamom cultivation before the numbering is effected?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): In the case of areas the survey of which has been completed, the applicants will be permitted to carry on cultivation. They can apply to the Devicolum Commissioner; he is competent to sanction the entry.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): If they are allowed to cultivate, may I know whether they will have to pay the unpaid balance of the first instalment? Out of the first instalment of Rs. 10, they have paid the advance of Rs. 5.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): That question has not been considered, nor has the Devicolum Commissioner referred it to Government yet.

**Vide* Appendix I pages 948-953.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): Will the Government be pleased to take early steps to effect the registry?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Government are pushing on in the matter.

306. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the statement of mine at the time of the general discussion of the budget for 1112 M. E., published at page 40 Vol. VIII, No. 2 of the printed Proceedings of the Assembly, about the dereliction of duty on the part of the P. W. D. Section Officer, Nedumangad, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what action has been taken about the conduct of the P.W.D. Section Officer in question; and

(b) whether they are aware that he is not attending even now to the maintenance works of the branch roads in the taluk?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) The Chief Engineer has reported that no action has been taken as none was found necessary.

(b) No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know why no action was found necessary against the P. W. D. section officer, at Nedumangad?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Chief Engineer found on enquiry that the allegations made were groundless.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Chief Engineer has at any time inspected the roads and by-roads in the Nedumangad taluk, after he assumed charge?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I do not know. But in reply to another question the member had been told that the Chief Engineer, the Division Officer and the Sub-division Officer have visited the locality.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): My question is whether the Chief Engineer, at any time, inspected the roads in the Nedumangad taluk?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): He has.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether Government will be pleased to consult the Tahsildar of Nedumangad as well as the other executive officers in the place, and ascertain from them whether the roads in the Nedumangad taluk are being properly maintained?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Chief Engineer is satisfied that the roads are maintained in as good a condition as possible with the grant available.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Is it by an astrological calculation or by actual experience after inspection of the roads that he is so satisfied?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): He has got the reports of the Division Officer and the Sub-Division Officer. He knows the length of the roads. In regard to the question of ascertaining the condition of the roads from the other executive officers of the locality, I may at once tell the member that the Government are not prepared to do any such thing.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government will be prepared to make the necessary investigation on the statements that I have made, and I do make now also, that the roads in the taluk are not at all maintained by the Section Officer there?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The matter has already been enquired into.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the Government are aware that the Division Officer and the Sub-Division Officer are actually supporting the P. W. D. Section Officer there for reasons that are unholy?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I understand that the Sub-Division Officer wrote to the member asking him to be present for a joint inspection of the roads with the Section Officer, but the member did not send a reply for about three weeks. The Sub-Division Officer again wrote to the member suggesting three dates for the joint inspection. None of them was convenient for the member. So, it was thought that the member was not in a mood to conduct any joint inspection. So, the Sub-Division Officer made the inspection himself.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Does the honourable member know that, when the Sub-Division Officer wrote to me fixing a date for joint inspection, I was engaged in Assembly work?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The dates suggested by the honourable member himself were days on which the Section Officer was on casual leave.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Are the Government aware that the honourable member for Nedumangad suggested various dates to the Sub-Division Officer, to the Division Officer and to the Chief Engineer to convince them that the roads were not properly maintained?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I am not aware of that.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Are the Government aware that the honourable member for Nedumangad has addressed a letter to the Government, as well as to the Chief Engineer, pointing out the suspicious conduct of the Sub-Division Officer and of the Section Officer in not having accepted my challenge?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Government have received those letters.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know what action has been taken on them?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It was upon those letters that an enquiry was made.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Are the Government aware that the Chief Engineer has not made any personal inspection of the roads even after such complaint?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : He asked the Division Officer to make enquiries.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know the reason why the Chief Engineer is not prepared to satisfy himself by a personal inspection of these roads?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : Evidently because the complaint relates to the maintenance of a few cart roads in the Nedumangad taluk, the Chief Engineer did not consider it necessary that he should himself go to the spot.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Are the Government aware that the amount allotted for the maintenance of the roads in the Nedumangad taluk is being divided among the P. W. D. officers there, such as the Section Officer and the Sub-Division Officer, without utilising it for the purpose for which it is intended?

PRESIDENT : I presume the honourable member has made the allegation in his representation to Government on this matter?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : Yes, Sir.

PRESIDENT : Then, that will be enquired into.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : One question more. May I know how the Government are going to satisfy themselves that the Section Officer is not utilising the funds for the purpose for which they are intended?

PRESIDENT : Question No. 307.

Pay-ward in the Kottayam District Hospital.

307. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether there is a pay-ward at present in the Kottayam District Hospital; and

(b) whether the Government have at any time received any representation from the public of Kottayam regarding the need for a pay-ward being attached to the District Hospital at Kottayam?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician) : (a) No.

(b) No such representation was received. The Municipal Council at Kottayam had an idea of constructing a pay-ward in the premises of the District Hospital, Kottayam, for the use of well-to-do patients and Government have sanctioned the construction of the same, subject to certain conditions.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I) : With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question, may I know whether pay-wards were attached to other hospitals only after the people demanded them?

MR. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician) : Generally, that is the case.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I have an instance of a place where a pay-ward was constructed because there was demand made for it?

Mr. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): Tiruvalla is a place where a maternity ward was established on the lines of the pay-ward as a result of demands made for it. In the case of Kottayam, as far back as 1930, the Municipality expressed their desire to put up a pay-ward in the Hospital compound itself. Government sanctioned this, subject to certain conditions. Since October 1930, the Municipality have done nothing about it.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): May I know whether the establishment of pay-wards has resulted in loss or gain to Government?

Mr. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): They are certainly not reproductive.

Women and Children's Hospital at Kottayam.

308. *Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of Women and Children's Hospitals in the State;

(b) whether Kottayam has got a Women and Children's Hospital;

(c) the number of women patients and children patients in the Kottayam District Hospital for the years 1105, 1106, 1107, 1108, 1109, 1110, 1111 and 1112 (till 8-6-1112); and

(d) whether the Government have received any representation regarding the necessity for a separate Women and Children's Hospital at Kottayam?

Mr. JAMES SIMPSON (Darbar Physician): (a) There are only two hospitals in the State set apart exclusively for women i.e., the Women and Children's Hospital at Trivandrum and the Victoria Jubilee Hospital at Quilon.

(b) No.

(c) The number of women and children patients are as follows:—

| Year.                   | Number of patients. |
|-------------------------|---------------------|
| 1105                    | 27,563              |
| 1106                    | 32,563              |
| 1107                    | 29,765              |
| 1108                    | 34,406              |
| 1109                    | 33,495              |
| 1110                    | 31,595              |
| 1111                    | 36,876              |
| 1112 (for five months): | 13,898              |

(d) Such a representation is not forthcoming.

Election of President of the Kottayam Municipal Council.

309. *Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received any complaints about the way in which any municipal councillor at Kottayam exercised his vote in the last Municipal President's election at Kottayam;

(b) the number of Government officers who were members of the council who participated in the President's election;

(c) whether any official councillor absented himself from the meeting held for the election of a President; and

(d) if so, the reasons for the same?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) No.

(b) three.

(c) Yes; the Medical Officer, Kottayam, was absent.

(d) Government are not aware of the reasons for his absence.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Are the Government aware that the District Surgeon, Mr. Isaac, wilfully absented himself on the day of the election, in order to avoid participating in the election?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government are not aware.

Mr. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): Is there any rule that official members of municipal councils should vote in the election of Presidents of Municipal Councils even in spite of their unwillingness or inability?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There is no rule compelling the official members to vote, nor is there any rule that a particular member should vote for a particular candidate.

Water-supply scheme at Kottayam.

310. *Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received any representation regarding the urgent necessity for a water-supply scheme at Kottayam;

(b) if so, what action they have taken thus far;

(c) whether the Water Works Engineer has submitted any report to them regarding the same; and

(d) if so, will they be pleased to place a copy of the report on the table?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes. From the President, Municipal Council, Kottayam.

(b) The Water Works and Drainage Engineer has been asked to send up a report devising measures for the supply of good drinking water to the town in consultation with the Municipal Council. The Water Works and Drainage Engineer visited the town in Kanni 1112, discussed matters with the Council in an informal meeting and has since been in correspondence with the President answering the latter's questions and asking for necessary information from the President.

[Mr. K. Madhava Kurup.]

bearing on the scope of the scheme the Municipal Council has decided upon.

(c) No. He can submit a report to Government only after he receives the reply of the President whom he has reminded.

(d) Does not arise in view of the answer to (c).

Dust in roads.

311. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware of the dust problem in the various roads in the State; and

(b) whether they have received any offer from anybody suggesting a contrivance to absorb the dust?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) No.

Fee concession in College classes.

312. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state the communities that receive fee concession in college classes in the State?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Students of the Mahomedan community alone are eligible for fee concession in departmental colleges.

Opening of Rural Libraries.

313. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether new rural libraries are to be opened from the beginning of the next school year in any of the Vernacular schools;

(b) whether the Director of Public Instruction has received any application for opening a rural library in Pallickal V. P. Girls' School in Mavelikara taluk; and

(c) if the answer to part (b) is in the affirmative, the step taken on the same?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

(a) The matter is under consideration.

(b) No.

(c) This does not arise in view of answer to part (b).

The A. V. M. Canal.

314. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether they contemplate resuming the work of completing the A. V. M. Canal as originally proposed?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No.

MR. A. ESWARA PILLI (Kalkulam II): May I know how far the A. V. M. Canal is navigable now?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): About 2½ miles.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the approximate cost that would be required for completing the work?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): About Rs. 5 or 6 lakhs.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Will the Government take up this canal also, complete it and make it navigable, in the course of their general scheme of the improvement of the water-ways in the State?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The development of water-ways generally is under consideration.

815. *MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the estimate for the new railway station at Veli is sanctioned; and

(b) at what stage the scheme is at present?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): (a) No. A revised estimate has been called for from the Railway Administration and it is awaited.

(b) In view of the answer to part (a), the question does not arise.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): May I know the estimated amount as per the original estimate?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): There was a rough estimate for about Rs. 50,000.

Valans qualified to vote for the Sri Mulam Assembly.

816. *MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Valans qualified as voters to the Sri Mulam Assembly under the new Electoral Rules?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The information can be gathered only by taking an individual census of Vala electors. This work involves a good deal of time and labour which, Government consider, will be out of proportion to its possible utility.

NOTICE OF ADJOURNMENT MOTIONS.

PRESIDENT: As I said yesterday, there are two adjournment motions yet to be disposed of. One of them is from Mr. N. E. Varughese. It reads as follows:—

"I beg leave to move that the business of the House be adjourned to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance viz., the apprehension in the minds of agricultural debtors and the dislocation and suspension of business transactions in the country, owing to the great and indefinite delay taken by the Government in setting up the Conciliation Boards as provided in the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation of 1112."

If the honourable member wishes to go on with this motion it will be taken up at 3-30 P. M. today.

There is another adjournment motion in the name of Mr. Elenkath. It reads thus:—

"I beg leave to move that the business of the House be now adjourned to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance namely the anxiety caused to the public by the recent press note published by the Chief Engineer regarding the unsatisfactory nature of the ground and sub-soil where the present Pattavai Power House is located and the consequent decision on the part of the Government to build a power house on a more convenient site on the banks of the Mathirampuzha river thereby causing huge additional expenditure to the State and obvious delay in supplying power for the use of the public."

This motion will be taken up at 3-30 p. m. tomorrow.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL.—(contd.)

Clause 9.—(contd.)

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): The amendment that was moved yesterday reads thus:

In Clause 9, add the following as sub-clause (4):

"Notwithstanding anything contained in this Section or in any other provision of this Regulation, until the first rules under this Section come into force, the High Court shall have power to admit as advocates persons who, in the opinion of the High Court, are duly qualified for the same."

The idea underlying this amendment is that until it becomes possible to admit advocates by the instrumentality of the Bar Council, it should be possible for the High Court to admit advocates so that there may not be any interregnum as it were during which it may not be possible under the Bill as it is, for the Bar Council or for the High Court, to admit practitioners. I may say Sir, that there is no room for any such apprehension, having regard to the provisions of the present Bill. Even though some amendments to the Vakils' Regulation of 1075 are proposed in the present Bill, those amendments will come into operation only after sometime; and until then the High Court will continue to enrol High Court Vakils under the provisions of the existing Vakils' Regulation. The amendments to the Vakils' Regulation proposed by the Bill, if given effect to, will not permit the High Court to enrol any vakil to practise in the High Court but those amendments will come into operation only after some time. Clause 20 says:—

[MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI.]

When Sections 8 to 16 come into force, the enactments mentioned in the first column of the Schedule shall be amended to the extent and in the manner specified in the second column of the Schedule".

So, the amendments to the Vakils' Regulation will come into operation only when Clauses 8 to 16 come into force. Clause 8 says:—

"No person shall be entitled as of right to practice in the High Court or in any of the Courts subordinate thereto unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation".

It is only after this Bill comes into operation, and when Clauses 8 to 16 are brought into operation that the High Court will cease to have power to enrol any person as vakil either in the High Court or in the subordinate courts. In other words, until the provisions of the Bar Council Bill become fully operative, the High Court will retain the power to enrol vakils. Therefore there is no need for any apprehension that for some time there would be no authority to admit qualified persons as practitioners. In this view, the proposed amendment is not necessary.

Let me also say that the amendment as it stands proposes to give the High Court power to enrol that class of persons known as "advocates," who will come into existence only when Clause 8 and other Clauses come into operation. It will not be possible either for the High Court or for any authority to enrol any advocate until the provisions of this Bill come into operation. In this view the amendment is also objectionable.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether the rules to be framed under Clause 9 (2) are to come into effect on the date on which Clauses 8 to 16 are to come into effect?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sarkar Vaid): That is how the matter will be arranged, if found necessary to do so. On a previous occasion, when Mr. Asan moved another amendment I said that it will not be possible to bring all these provisions into operation together. We will see that the rules are put into operation only when Clause 8 is put into operation. The amendments to the Vakils' Regulation would come into operation only when Clauses 8 to 16 are brought into operation. Until then, the High Court will retain the power to enrol vakils.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Morchhara): I do not press my amendment.

The question that Clause 9 do form part of the Bill was put to the vote of the House and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 10 to 20.

The question that Clauses 10 to 20 do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Schedule.

The question that the Schedule do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Schedule was added to the Bill.

Preamble.

The question that the Preamble do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

Title.

The question that the Title do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Title was added to the Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I may now proceed to the third reading of the Bill. But I have some amendments to move. The amendments are being type written so that honourable members may have each a copy. The amendments are purely formal. But it may require some attention as regards the wording. Perhaps you may adjourn the House for an hour, Sir.

PRESIDENT: It is rather unlike the usual alertness of the Law Member. The better plan would be to take them up after lunch.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Mr. Varughese may move his adjournment motion now.

PRESIDENT: It is for Mr. Varughese and the House to decide. I am entirely in the hands of the House. I am prepared to adjourn the House and meet at 1 O' Clock and then finish the discussion on the Bar Council Bill; or, in the alternative, Mr. Varughese can start his motion now.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): I suppose he will move the motion now.

PRESIDENT: Presumably, it is for Mr. Varughese to say that, (Laughter.)

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): If the motion for adjournment of the House is carried, what shall we do?

PRESIDENT: The House will adjourn.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): We shall not meet again.

PRESIDENT: I know that.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I shall move it only at 3-30 P. M., Sir.

PRESIDENT: We shall now adjourn and meet again at half-past one. It will give us sufficient time to go on with the adjournment motion.

The House adjourned at 11-24 A. M., and met again at 1-30 P. M. with the President in the Chair.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): In proceeding to the third reading of the Travancore Bar Council Bill, I shall move the following amendments which are purely formal.

I beg to move that:—

In Clause 1, sub-clause (iii) line 1, after the word "on", the expression "the 1st day of Chingam 1113 M. E." is inserted.

This is intended to fix the date on which the Regulation or rather the Sections referred to therein should come into force.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I second it.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know why the learned Law Member has put "M. E." in this Regulation alone?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): To make it quite clear to show that it is the Malayalam Era, that is intended.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know why it is not put in any other Regulation?

PRESIDENT: Is there any objection on the ground of want of uniformity, Law Member?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): No serious objection, Sir.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I also have no objection, Sir.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that:—

In clause 8, sub-clause (1) after the first proviso the following be inserted as the second proviso:—

"Provided further that any person who is enrolled as a vakil of any District Court under the provisions of any rules made under Section 9, sub-section (3), shall be entitled to practise as vakil as if he had been admitted as a vakil of that court under the Vakils Regulation 1075 and shall be subject to the provisions of that Regulation."

Sub-section (1) of this Section lays down that:—

"No person shall be entitled as of right to practise in the High Court or in any of the courts subordinate thereto unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation."

These advocates alone can practise in the High Court and in the subordinate courts. This amendment proposes that first grade pleaders also may practise subject to certain restrictions.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move that:—

In Clause 8, sub-clause (2), Proviso, lines 4 and 5, the words "from time to time by Our Government by Notification in Our Government Gazette" be omitted."

During the second reading of the Bill, it was pointed out that the rules proposed to be made under this measure will be published by the Bar Council and not by Government. Somehow or other by a slip, these words now sought to be omitted crept in there; and I now move for their omission.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I beg to move the following amendment:

In Clause 9, sub-clause (3), substitute the following for sub-clause (3):

"Such Rules shall, notwithstanding anything contained above in this Section, provide also for those second grade pleaders who are vakils of any District Munsiff's Court in Travancore on the 1st day of Chingam 1118 M. E. and continue to be such being qualified to apply for enrolment as vakil of any District Court as the result of an examination held from time to time (for which a fee may be charged) by or under the supervision of the Council and for the persons so qualified being enrolled as vakil of any District Court, and certificates of enrolment granted, by the High Court, on payment of the stamp duty, if any, chargeable under the Travancore Stamp Regulation.

Provided that nothing in the rules shall limit or in any way affect the powers of the High Court to refuse enrolment to any person at its discretion".

This amendment is intended to carry out fully and with formal correctness, the provision, adopted yesterday, to enable second grade pleaders to be enrolled as District Court Vakils, after examination by the Bar Council. The main change brought in here is that in order that a person may be examined by the Bar Council, he must be a vakil on 1-1-1118. He must not have ceased to be a vakil before that date; he must also continue to be a vakil after that date. If he happens to be dismissed or debarred, he should not be entitled to sit for the examination for the reason that he was a vakil on 1-1-1118. Secondly, he is to be enrolled only by the High Court; the Bar Council will only examine him and recommend his name to the High Court. There is provision also for a certificate of enrolment being granted by the High Court and for the realisation of the prescribed stamp duty.

Clause 9 (1) says—

"The Council may with the previous sanction of the High Court make rules to regulate the admission of persons as advocates provided that such rules shall not limit or in any way affect the powers of the High Court to refuse admission to any person at its discretion".

That power of the High Court which is recognised in the case of advocates, is also sought to be extended to the enrolment of vakils under this provision.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunungudi): With regard to the last sentence of the proviso i. e., "provided that nothing in the rules shall limit or in any way affect the powers of the High Court to refuse enrolment to any person at its discretion", I have objection for including it.

PRESIDENT: In other words, the jurisdiction that the High Court has with regard to advocates, the honourable member is objecting to in the case of the second grade pleaders.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): By the former amendment it is admitted that enrolment shall be granted by the High Court. That the High Court has jurisdiction over the second grade pleaders is very well recognised by the amendment, even without this proviso. By this I do not mean that the High Court's jurisdiction or control over the pleaders shall be negatived. On the other hand, what I submit is that this proviso is only superfluous and unnecessary, because it is evident from the former portion of this amendment that the second grade pleaders, who get qualified (by passing the examination) to be enrolled as District Court Vakils, will be granted certificates of enrolment only by the High Court, so much so, the power of the High Court, to grant these certificates of enrolment is recognised. Such being the case, there is no necessity for this proviso.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Is the member suggesting that words to the effect "for the persons so qualified being enrolled as vakils of any District Court, by the High Court at their discretion" may be put in?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): That is not necessary. The Law Member has just now pointed out that, in Clause 9, with reference to the enrolment of advocates, there is jurisdiction vested in the High Court. Such jurisdiction is necessary since the advocates are to practise before the High Court. But, the pleaders are not permitted to appear before the High Court. They are permitted to practise only in the District Courts. So, why should the High Court be vested with the power of granting or refusing certificates to the pleaders?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Has the member any objection for the words "District Courts" being substituted for the words "High Court"?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The District Courts are under the High Court.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Mr. S. J. Nair stated before the House that, while he was prepared to recognise certain powers of discretion being vested with the High Court with regard to the enrolment of advocates, since they were to practise before the High Court, for the reason that pleaders even after passing the proposed examination, are to appear only before District Courts, he was not prepared to give the same powers to the High Court with regard to pleaders. I am sorry, that militates against the point which I want to raise. Therefore I shall rest my case independently of Mr. S. J. Nair's reasoning. With regard to the advocates who practise in the High Court, and with regard to the admission of pleaders to practise in the District Courts, there is this point of difference. It is nobody's case that the High Court has refused to recognise the competence of advocates, and there has been no suggestion at any time by the High Court that their numbers should be restricted. On the other hand, for years, the High Court has been setting its face against these second grade pleaders. The class in the Law College for them has been abolished. The High Court has been expressing themselves very forcibly on that question. Therefore when this provision finds a place in the statute, it will surely set a premium on the inclination of the High Court, an inclination which has been made manifest by them. No doubt, the provision only says that nothing in the rules shall limit or in any way affect the powers of the High Court to refuse enrolment to any person at its discretion. From "any person" it may in due time change to "any class of persons".

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is it the opinion of the member that the High Court may go against the clear statutory provisions made in this Regulation?

SADASYA TELAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum Urban): What the High Court is going to do, I do not know. But it is our business to see that the benefit that the second grade pleaders are now getting should not be whittled down by any kind of restriction. If for any proper reason the High Court declines to give sauad to a District Court Vakil, we must recognise their right to do so. But here it is broadly stated as a further proviso that nothing shall affect the powers of the High Court. Considering the attitude evinced by the High Court and considering the opinion expressed in certain quarters, in spite of the statutory provision in favour of the second grade pleaders, this proviso may prove detrimental to their interests. That is my fear. With these words, I support the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I wish to say a few words on the motion before the House. I am surprised that the Deputy President has taken the view that the High Court will go against the clear provisions of the statute on account of their alleged inclinations against the pleaders. Sir, for my part, I am not able to reconcile myself to the opinion of the Deputy President that the High Court has any such prejudice against any such persons or class of persons. The only thing that is provided in this amendment is that the High Court should have the power, which they have in regard to the advocates, in respect of these pleaders also. I do not think that there can be any objection to that. Mr. S. J. Nair's contention is that the particular court in which a pleader practises should alone exercise disciplinary control over him. That suggestion is preposterous. The High Court has got disciplinary jurisdiction over all the subordinate courts. Under these circumstances, I am not in sympathy with this objection raised against the amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESWARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move that:

In the list of the amendments to the Travancore Stamp Regulation (Regulation IV of 1930) shown in the Schedule, in line 1: the brackets and figure '1' be omitted.

This is only to correct a clerical error.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Ho. d. Sirkar Vakil): Sir, I beg to move that:

In the said list of amendments, lines 7 to 13, for clauses (ii) and (iii) substitute the following namely:—

"(ii) for the words "High Court" occurring in Clause (a) in the first column the words "As advocate under the Travancore Bar Council Regulation" shall be substituted and for the words "District Court" occurring in Clause (b) in the first column, the words "As Vakil of any District Court under the Travancore Bar Council Regulation" shall be substituted and

"(iii) Clauses (c), (d) and (e) (both the columns) shall be deleted".

Sir, the amendments relate to Article 30 of the Stamp Regulations. Under that Article, the Stamp Duty for enrolment of the four classes of vakils, namely the High Court Vakils, the District Court Vakils, the Munsiffs' Court Vakils and the Magistrates' Courts Vakils, is laid down. When this Bill was originally drafted it was the idea to abolish all classes of vakils except advocates. By reason of the Clause adopted yesterday, hereafter there may be District Court Vakils also to be enrolled. When such enrolment takes place, there must be some stamp duty. It is for this purpose, that these amendments are proposed.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

The motion that the Bill as amended be passed was then made and put to the vote of the House and carried.

ADJOURNMENT MOTION.

DELAY IN SETTING UP DEBT CONCILIATION BOARDS.

PRESIDENT: The rule says that, ordinarily, adjournment motions should be taken up for consideration at 3-30 p. m. But if the honourable members prefer not to wait till then, I think there is no objection to consider the motion. I should like to know what Mr. Varughese has to say.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruralla I): Sir, I wish it to be immediately taken up.

Before I move the motion I wish to make a statement. I have been authoritatively informed.....

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to a point of order. Yesterday, Mr. Varughese wanted special permission to speak in Malayalam. I think the member should talk in one language, Malayalam or English.

PRESIDENT: The rule says that "The business of the Legislature shall be transacted in English, provided that the President may permit any member to address the Chamber in Malayalam or Tamil." The rule as it is worded, enables permission ad hoc to be given; for instance a person may feel diffidence on a particular occasion about his getting the particular type of eloquence he would like to have then, and may prefer to change the language of his speech; and the President can permit it. Mr. Varughese may therefore proceed in any language that suits his convenience for the time being.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): Sir, I have been authoritatively informed that early action is contemplated by Government in setting up the Boards and that the delay is due to the negotiations that are being carried on with certain Banks for the purpose of financing the Land Mortgage Bank which is expected to help the debtors to discharge the conciliated debts.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I rise on a point of order, Sir. The honourable member is reading.

PRESIDENT: The honourable member is refreshing his memory by referring to his notes. (Laughter.)

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): As I think that an open discussion of the motion may prejudice the progress of the negotiations, I do not wish to make the motion.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): When is it expected that the Boards will be set up, according to the member's information?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I am assured that early action is contemplated and I am satisfied with that.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Is there any assurance that the Boards will be set up?

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): I am most authoritatively informed that steps are being taken to set up the Boards as early as possible.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I wish to know whether there is any objection in the Government spokesman making a statement.

PRESIDENT: I suppose it is not the suggestion on the part of any honourable member that the Government want to circumvent a Statute enacted by the Legislature.

THE PALLIVASAL POWER HOUSE.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Sir, may I suggest the desirability of taking up the other adjournment motion also today, so that we may have more time for nonofficial business?

PRESIDENT: Honourable members are anxious to do some business. What does Mr. Elenkath say?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I am willing to have it taken up to day.

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): Can it be taken up in the absence of Mr. K. P. Padmanabha Menon, the Electrical Engineer, and the Chief Engineer?

PRESIDENT: I leave it to the House.

SADASYATILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir several members on this side of the House are also not here. They were told that this motion will be taken up only tomorrow. They may be interested in the discussion.

As the majority seemed to have no objection, the motion was taken up for discussion.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, before making the motion I should like to say that there is very serious apprehension at the circumstances that necessitated Government to shift the site of the Pallivasal Power House. I should think that the Government have considered it seriously and that they have, after weighing the question, decided that it will be advantageous, in the interests of the State as well as the utility to the public, to do so. I have been informed from a very responsible source.....

MR. E. V. KRISHNA PILLAI (Pattanamittai): On a point of order. Sir, we have not been supplied with a copy of the adjournment motion.

PRESIDENT: I read it out this morning; I will read it again.

"I beg leave to move that the business of the House be now adjourned to discuss definite matter of urgent public importance, namely the anxiety caused to the public by the recent Press Note published by the Chief Engineer regarding the unsatisfactory nature of the ground and sub-soil where the present Pallivasal Power House is located and the consequent decision on the part of the Government to build a Power House on a more convenient site on the banks of the Muthirampuzha river, thereby causing huge additional expenditure to the State and obvious delay in supplying power for the use of the public."

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): On consultation with the authorities, I am convinced of the wisdom of the step taken by Government, and of the fact that, though additional expenditure will have to be incurred now, in the long run, it will enable the public to get the power at the earliest opportunity. I do not, therefore, propose to make the motion.

PRESIDENT: Let me be permitted just to mention a few matters relating to this motion; and as this is a subject of paramount importance, I do not wish to take advantage of the technical rules of debate. The honourable member has not made his motion, and it is open to me to say that no further discussion is possible. I wish to make certain things clear, because I believe that is necessary from the point of view of the paramount interests of the State and the great ventures which are dependent upon this project. It would be correct to state that there were certain unexpected features that developed with regard to the Power House after it was designed and constructed. Near the site of the Power House there is a hill on one side and a hill on the other, and there is a kind of ledge in between. The events of last year disclosed that, below the site of the Power House, there was evidently some material which was not absolutely solid rock but what may be termed a kind of jelly-like conglomerate composed of rock and some semi-liquid matter. This could not be foreseen by ordinary means, because all round it is rock; and borings up to a depth of about 60 feet in the region near the Muthirapuzha river disclosed that there was solid rock all round near the new site. Curiously enough, perhaps owing to some kind of "fault" in the formation of the rock, underneath the Power House site, there seems to be this semi-solid sub-soil. The result is that the experience of the last monsoon made evident very minute cracks, visible not far from the actual location of the Power House. It was at that time not considered that this would very seriously prejudice the work. But further cracks have appeared in the last few weeks and opinion has been taken on this matter. Expert opinion is to the effect that with the expenditure of a considerable sum of money nearly equal to or perhaps even exceeding the amount necessary for the construction of a new Power House, we may be able to render more secure the foundation, by such processes as grouting but even this scheme was not regarded as 100 per cent. efficacious. After most careful and anxious consideration Government arrived at the following conclusion. The amount involved in this whole scheme exceeds a crore of rupees. A considerable portion of that amount had been either spent or will shortly be spent on the various sub-stations, transmission lines, electrical apparatus, pen-stock, generating sets and so forth. The Power House is after all a comparatively insignificant factor from the point of view of cost, though an important one from other points of view. The Power House is merely a shed. But in that shed is located very heavy machinery, machinery weighing tons upon tons. The shed itself is of very little value. But the foundations have to be laid in order to bear the whole of the weight of the machinery which has to encounter many stresses and strains, and has therefore to be quite stable on its base. If the foundations are laid on shifting sub-soil the machinery will crack; the subterranean forces may become so great that no machinery can stand the strain. In fact, the very weight of the machinery will add to the danger. Therefore it will be a policy characterisable as penny-wise and pound-foolish if, in order to save extra expenditure on a new Power House, we insist on keeping the whole of the generating plant there. It may be that next year the process of cracking may not happen. But the year after it may happen, and the machinery may crack. Then Government will have to purchase fresh machinery costing 30 or 40 lakhs of rupees. Therefore Government came to the conclusion that the Power House should be located in a site about which there can be no possible suspicion as they do not desire to take any chances. Such a site is fortunately available very near at hand.

There is another aspect. Suppose there is no difficulty immediately, and we go on. Suppose various ventures are started and are promised power. If, in the course of the working of the scheme, any crack develops, we may have to stop the working of the whole machinery. That means that we shall not be able to supply power to the various concerns; and the Sassoons or some other concern will say that they lose so much every day for want of power and that we must pay damages. We may have to pay heavy compensation. In order to avoid all these risks it has been considered essential and expedient that a site should be chosen where the foundations will be so secure that nothing short of a cataclysm—if there is an earthquake nobody can help it—will produce an interruption in the supply of power. For that purpose borings have been taken so that the foundations may be laid on solid rock fifty or sixty feet deep underneath the Power House. Fortunately we are getting a suitable site within about 120 yards of the present house on the banks of the river. It is part of the rocky formation on the bank of the river.

I want to take this House into full confidence. This is not a small matter. The name of His Highness is on the Power House. But the reasons for shifting the location of the Power House are so great that we came to the conclusion notwithstanding this circumstance. It may be that in the result we may have to lose two or three lakhs of rupees. It is certainly not more but it is much better to spend two or three lakhs now rather than incur terrible responsibility in the future and incur much greater loss later in all probability.

I may say in addition that while no doubt on the one side Government may have to sustain this loss on the Power House, on account of the very prudent advice for which I cannot sufficiently praise the Electrical Engineer we are gainers on account of our contract for the purchase of copper. Orders for copper on a large scale were placed when it was selling at Rs. 40, so that when the price of copper has risen up now on account of the war scare, we are making fifty per cent. profit on every ounce we have ordered. We have gained over three lakhs of rupees on account of the wise advice of the Electrical Engineer. Thus in apportioning blame we must remember that while officers may commit some mistakes under circumstances beyond their contemplation, they are doing their best for Government according to their lights. Government will stand by their officers so long as they are loyal and straight and put forth their best efforts. At the same time they cannot afford to take risks. Government have entered into arrangements with various industrial concerns, and they are bound and are prepared, to carry them out somehow. Even if we have to work for twenty-four hours a day in order to see that power is supplied in proper time so as not to jeopardise our industrial schemes, Government will arrange for this being done and will see that power is supplied according to contract. I do not wish to say any thing more but wish to assure the House that Government are acting in this matter with a full sense of their great responsibility. (Cheers.)

The House adjourned at 2-7 P. M.

P. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI,
Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly.

THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY.

(OFFICIAL REPORT)

FIRST ASSEMBLY.
NINTH SESSION.

Friday the 26th February 1937/15th Kumbham 1112.

The Assembly met again in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall at Eleven of the Clock, with the President in the Chair.

NEW MEMBERS SWORN IN.

The following members took the oath and signed the rolls.

1. Mr. C. Kumara Das.
2. Mr. K. R. Narayana Aiyar.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Registry of land to Depressed Classes.

817. * MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) the number of acres of land registered to depressed classes in the whole State in 1111; and
- (b) when such lands have been registered?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

- (a) 50.73 acres.
- (b) A * statement furnishing the information is laid on the table.

Sewing Mistress for the Sirkar Primary School at Mezhuveli.

818. * MR. E. K. KUNJURAMAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) whether they have received any petition from the inhabitants of Mezhuveli concerning the supreme necessity of appointing a sewing mistress in the Sirkar Primary School there;

(b) if so, the date of the petition or petitions and the action they have taken thereon, and the stage in which the question is now; and

(c) whether they will be pleased to place on the table a statement showing the number of girl pupils, along with the total number of pupils of either sexes who have been studying in that school in each of the years from 1107-1112?

* Vide Appendix I—page. 976.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction).

(a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) *A statement furnishing the information is placed on the table.

MR. E. K. KUNJURAMAN (Nominated): മെഴുവേലി സക്കാർ പ്രൈമറി സ്കൂളിലേയും ഒരു സ്കാൾട്ടിസ്റ്റിനെ അനുവദിച്ചു തരുവാൻ ഗവണ്മെന്റിന് അനുമതിയുണ്ടാകുമോ?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): It is entirely a matter of funds. One of the chronic afflictions of the Education Department has been want of funds. When funds are available, the matter will be considered.

Elective Lecturers in the Law College.

319. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether service as an Elective Lecturer in His Highness the Maharaja's College of Law is pensionable;

(b) whether it is added on to the pensionable service of one who gets into pensionable service after the period of his lecturership;

(c) the number of cases, if any, in which the period of lecturership in the Law College was added on to one's pensionable service at the time when pension was allowed; and

(d) the number of cases, if any, in which the period of lecturership in the Law College was not added on to one's pensionable service at the time when pension was allowed?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) and (b) No.

(c) and (d) Government do not propose to call for the information as the time and labour involved in the preparation of the answer is out of all proportion to its possible utility.

Preparation of the Electoral Rolls.

320. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have issued any G. O. to the effect that all the Pokkuvaravu cases should be completed and made up-to-date, for the preparation of voters' list for the coming elections so that all the persons who pay rupee one and above as tax in their name be included in the voters' list;

(b) with reference to Nedumangad and Chirayinkil taluks, will they be pleased to state the number of partition deeds executed between 1101 and 1111 M. E., respectively;

(c) whether under all the above partition deeds Pokkuvaravu was conducted; and

(d) whether they are aware that several cases of Pokkuvaravu from 1101 to 1111 were struck off the file of the Taluk Cutocherries between 1101 and 1111 and those cases are not refiled and disposed of legally and properly under the present G. O.?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Government have ordered that all Pokkuvaravu cases arising out of transfer of property registered on or before the last day of Karkatakam 1111 and all cases arising out of transfers of immovable property due to succession under Rule 11 of the Pokkuvaravu Rules on account of the death of the thandaper holders taking place before the end of Karkatakam 1111 should be disposed of and taken into account for the preparation of the voters' list.

(b) 12,712.

(c) Information is not available.

(d) The G. O. does not contemplate the refileing of all cases that were struck off the file from the years 1101 to 1111.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from Government whether, out of the cases of partition deeds referred to in question (b), there are cases in which pokkuvaravu has not been conducted?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The instructions are that pokkuvaravu cases taken on the file must all be disposed of before Thulam 1112 and I believe all such cases have been disposed of.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Then may I know why it is answered, to part (c) of the question, that the information is not available?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There may be some cases which have not been taken up on the file.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether among cases taken on the file there are instances in which pokkuvaravu has not been conducted?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There may be instances in which cases taken on the file might have been disposed of without conducting Pokkuvaravu owing to defects in the applications or other causes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know how many cases there are under that category?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

Uzhamalakal Pakuthi Cutocherry in Nedumangad taluk.

831. * MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they are aware that the Uzhamalakal Pakuthi Cutocherry in Nedumangad taluk is situated not in the centre of the pakuthi but by the side of the Vellanadu pakuthi and very near the Arianadu Pakuthi Cutocherry;

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

(b) whether there was any proposal to shift the Pakuthi Cutcherry from its present site;

(c) whether any site has been selected for the purpose;

(d) when was the site selected;

(e) whether any building has been constructed there; and

(f) what is the delay for shifting the Pakuthi Cutcherry?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) No.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to the answer to part (a) of the question may I know whether the people of Uzhamalakkal pakuthy find it difficult to pay taxes due to the distance of the Pakuthy Cutcherry from their place?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): It is true that there is some distance.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the people of the locality have given a representation to Government requesting them to shift the Pakuthy Cutcherry to Vidura side?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): I am not aware.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I know that the people have submitted a representation to that effect to Government. Will the member be pleased to look into the matter and see that the request of the people is given effect to?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): The matter will be considered.

The Rubber Factory.

922. *MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kunnathnad I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the value of goods produced in the Rubber Factory up to 1-2-1112; and

(b) the value of goods sold out till 1-2-1112?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): (a) Rs. 22,400.

(b) Rs. 15,500.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kaikkulam I): May I know the proportion of the goods produced in the Rubber Factory to that sold outside the State?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): The major portion was sold outside the State.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kaikkulam I): Was there great demand for the same?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Yes, Sir.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know whether the contract entered into with the South Indian Corporation has been fulfilled by Government?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): It is being fulfilled.
MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know the period of the contract?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): One year from June last.

Payment of Excise Revenue to the Edapalli and other Chiefs.

323. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether any amount is being paid per annum to the Chiefs of Edapalli, Poonjar and Kilimanoor by way of or in substitution for excise revenue, and the amount, if any, so paid to each; and

(b) the principle underlying in or the reason for such payment?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): (a) A statement giving the required information is laid on the table.

(b) The payments are made purely as a matter of grace.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know from the Government the reasons that weighed with them for making these payments to the respective chiefs, as against the practice in previous years?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No special reason can be assigned for that; it was done purely as a matter of grace.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know why the Government have departed from the practice followed in the previous years?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I have already answered that question. The territories belong to them. It is done purely as a matter of grace.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know why such payments are not made to the Vanjipuzha Chief in respect of tobacco and customs revenue?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I claim notice.

MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): When were these amounts fixed?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Several years ago. I find a reference dated 1908; and it was reconsidered in that year. So, the payment seems to have been made even before 1908.

Dispensing with the services of a Police Officer.

324. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Commissioner of Police has recommended to Government that the services of any Police Officer should be dispensed with immediately;

(b) if so, the name and the grade of such officer; and

(c) the reasons which the Commissioner of Police has given for such recommendations?

*Vide Appendix III—page. 978.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): (a) No.

(b) and (c) These do not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether the services of any officer or officers of the department whose services were recommended to be dispensed with on a previous occasion, were dispensed with recently by Government?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the name of that officer?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): One Mr. Vaidyanatha Aiyar.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know for what reasons his services were dispensed with?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Habitual misconduct and misbehaviour.

Police officers.

325. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state the number and names of Police officers whose conduct is being investigated by Government at present?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The information required cannot be divulged in the public interests.

Unfit officers in the Police Department.

326. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any officer in the Police Department who is physically and mentally unfit for the place he holds;

(b) whether it is a fact that a very responsible officer in the department has defective vision and memory; and

(c) whether it is a fact that a very responsible officer in the department does not possess the minimum physical dimensions necessary for service in the department?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) One District Superintendent of Police is a little short of stature.

Police officer who is a religious head.

327. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any officer in the Police Department who is the head of any religious organisation either in Travancore or outside?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No.

The Indian Rubber Licensing Committee.

328. *MR. R. SIVARAMAN NAIR (Tiruvalla II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of members constituting the Indian Rubber Licensing Committee;

(b) the number of them nominated by the Travancore Government; and

(c) the names of those nominated by the Travancore Government?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Five.

(b) Two.

(c) Mr. K. I. Thomas

Mr. K. V. Mathew.

Nominations to Village Panchayat and Bench Magistrates' Courts.

329. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the principle on which nominations to Panchayat Courts are made; and

(b) whether there is any minimum qualification fixed for Bench Magistrates and Panchayat Court Judges?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Government take into consideration the educational qualifications, the social position and the character of the persons nominated.

(b) No.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): With reference to the answer to part (a) of the question, may I know whether these considerations weighed with the Government when nominations were made to the Village Panchayat Court at Kottayam?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): If so, may I know, what are the educational qualifications, social position, and the character of one Mr. Bava who has been nominated Judge of that Court?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

Allowing insolvents to practise as Vakils.

330. *MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether insolvents are allowed to practise as vakils in the civil courts of Travancore; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the negative, whether the Government are aware that Messrs. M. K. Govinda Pillai and V. Subrahmanya Aiyar practising in the Munsiff's Court at Vaikam are insolvents?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): (a) There is no rule that an insolvent should not be allowed to enrol or practise as a vakil in any court of Travancore.

(b) In view of answer to (a), this does not arise.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): May I know from Government whether vakils have not got to handle the money of the litigant public?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That will depend upon the nature of their profession,

The Titaghur Paper Mills.

331. * MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Farmer): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the quantity of reeds supplied to the Titaghur Paper Mills, free of cost, for experimenting with a view to manufacture paper out of them;

(b) the additional expenditure the Government had to incur in order to induce them to conduct the needed experiment;

(c) whether they have received any samples of paper manufactured out of the reeds by the above company;

(d) whether they will be pleased to acquaint the members with the report submitted to them by the Titaghur Paper Mills Company as a result of their investigations into the problem of paper manufacture out of reeds; and

(e) the special reasons that prompt the Government to consider Alwaye as the site for founding a Paper Mill?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) 34 tons and 17 cwts of eetta.

The expenditure on account of the transport of the above quantity of eetta amounted to S. Rs. 2,143-12-10 of which the shipping freight of S. Rs. 540-27-12 was paid by the Company.

(b) Nil.

(c) Yes.

(d) The report submitted by the company is a long one. The result of the experiment is reported to be satisfactory and the paper produced is of good quality. The proposal of starting a Paper Mill at Alwaye by the Company has now been given up, and other schemes are being investigated.

(e) Alwaye is considered a suitable site for starting a Paper Mill for the following reasons:—

(1) Abundant supply of raw materials easily accessible and capable of meeting the demands of a mill for a number of years.

(2) Easy transport facilities from the forest by water to the place.

(3) Abundant supply of fuel for running the mill.

(4) Abundant supply of clear water.

(5) Labour facilities.

(6) Proximity to the Cochin Harbour and Railway Station.

Recommendations of the Protector for the uplift of the Depressed Classes.

332. * MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether any special recommendations have been made by the Protector of the Depressed Classes detailing the concessions to be granted by Government towards the uplift of the depressed classes?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): അധികൃതസംരക്ഷകൻ എങ്ങനെത്തന്നെ ശുപാർശകളാണ് നടത്തിയുള്ളതെന്നു പറയാമോ?

RAD BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): അവർക്കു കോളനികൾ സ്ഥാപിച്ചുകൊടുക്കുക, ഭൂമി പതിച്ചുകൊടുക്കുക, പ്രാഥമിക വിദ്യാലയങ്ങൾ തുറക്കുക, ഉയർന്ന വിദ്യാഭ്യാസത്തിന്നു മേന്മയെന്ന നൽകുക, ഫോസ്ഫേറ്റിനു ഗ്രാന്റുകൊടുക്കുക, ശുശ്രൂഷാസ്ഥലങ്ങൾ ഉണ്ടാക്കിക്കൊടുക്കുക, കിണറുകൾ കഴിച്ച് കുടിപ്പണത്തിന്നു ചെലവു മുണ്ടാക്കിക്കൊടുക്കുക, പൊതുസ്ഥാപനത്തിന്നു കെട്ടിടങ്ങളുണ്ടാക്കിക്കൊടുക്കുക. അധികൃതവിദ്യാർത്ഥികൾക്ക് ഉച്ചഭക്ഷണം, പൂസ്തകങ്ങൾ മുതലായവ സൗജന്യമായി കൊടുക്കുക ഇങ്ങനെ പലതും ശുപാർശ ചെയ്തിട്ടുണ്ട്.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): ഈ ശുപാർശകൾക്കു കോളനികൾ എവിടെയെങ്കിലും ഉണ്ടാക്കിയിട്ടുണ്ടോ?

RAD BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): ഉണ്ട്.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): എവിടെയെല്ലാമാണത്?

THE TRAVANCORE HINDU WIDOWS' REMARRIAGE BILL.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Sir, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill and move that the Bill as reported be taken up for consideration.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalladom I): I second it.

PRESIDENT: Moved and seconded that the Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill be taken into consideration.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

Clause 1.

The question that Clause 1 do stand part of the Bill, was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 2.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Neelunangad): Sir, I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 2, line 3, add the words 'man or' between the words 'the' and 'woman.'"

If this amendment is accepted Clause 2 would read thus:—

"Notwithstanding any custom and any interpretation of Hindu Law to the contrary, no marriage contracted between Hindus shall be invalid, and the issue of no such marriage shall be illegitimate, by reason of the man or woman having been previously married or betrothed to any other person who was dead at the time of such marriage."

The object of this Bill is to promote widow remarriage. If my amendment is accepted it would promote widow remarriage to a greater extent.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Is this Widows' Remarriage or Widowers' Remarriage Bill.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): This is Widows' Remarriage Bill and we want to legalise the issues of such marriages. Suppose A who has already married B is prepared to remarry a widow also with the consent of his first wife. In such a case, the marriage should be legalised and the children born to such remarried widow should be protected. They should not suffer. I am sure if this amendment is accepted widow remarriage will be promoted to a very great extent.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilankud): Will the member please read out the Clause as sought to be amended by him.

PRESIDENT: He has done it.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I object to this amendment. A mere hearing of Mr. S. J. Nair's grounds in support of his amendment is sufficient to carry with it its own condemnation.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

The question that Clause 2 do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clauses 3 & 4.

The question that Clauses 3 and 4 do form part of the Bill was then put to vote and carried.

The Clauses were added to the Bill.

Clause 5.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I move the following amendment:—

"In Clause 5, line 4 omit the words that occur after the words 'conferring upon her' and add the words 'shall remain in force'."

If the amendment is accepted, the Clause would read thus:—

"No right or interest which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance or by inheritance to her husband or to his legal successors, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her shall remain in force."

[Mr. S. J. Nair.]

The object of this amendment is to give equal status to widows who remarry with other ladies (non-widows) who marry and to give such widows the same property qualifications as the non-widow wives. No man earns property for the sake of strangers. The object of one's earning is to see that his wife and children enjoy them and not any distant relative. So, the rights over the property of the deceased husband must necessarily vest with the wife and her children. On the simple ground that a lady, after the death of her husband, marries another man, we shall not disqualify her from getting the property that was earned for her sake, as well as for her children.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): May I point out to Mr. S. J. Nair that the Clause as amended is defective in its wording "Conferring upon" will have no object.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): I submit for the consideration of the President that my two amendments must come together under Clause 5. The short title of the Clause should read:—

"Rights of widow not to cease on her remarriage".

PRESIDENT: The trouble is not with regard to the short title but with regard to the Clause itself.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): That can be suitably amended by the Law Member, Sir. (Laughter.)

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torava): Does the member think of a case of a widow who remarries or of a widow who never remarries?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): My idea is this. For the mere reason that a widow remarries, her rights over the property of her deceased husband shall not be taken away.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Torava): The amended Clause as made out by the member does not make any mention of a widow remarrying.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): It is not necessary, because the Clause reads thus:—

"No right or interest which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance or by inheritance to her husband or to his lineal ascendants, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her shall remain in force".

This Bill is intended to help the remarriage of widows. We are dealing with widows who go in for remarriage. So, even without making any specific mention of that idea, it speaks for itself.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): I second the spirit of the amendment.

PRESIDENT: Technically, I cannot allow members seconding the spirit of the amendment.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): What is meant by the member is that a widow, after re-marriage, should not be dispossessed of the property which was intended for her maintenance. It may be very incongruous that a widow, after she has ceased to be the widow of the person from whose estate she claims maintenance should continue to enjoy the properties of her deceased husband, even after she has got a person to protect and maintain her. But, there are very hard cases in which young girls of 15 or 17, in the very bloom of their life, although poor, purely on account of their beauty and charm, might have been married by rich and influential men and may lose their husbands. Of course, their marriage value has got considerably diminished by their first marriage. So, should she not get at least the advantage of getting her deceased husband's estate which may prove an attraction for some young man to marry her? I do admit that in the case of widows who follow the Mitakshara law, for whom this Bill is intended, there is the fact that, soon after marriage she changes her family and becomes a member of her husband's family. Her remarriage leads to complications such as in the performance of religious rites. But, these are sentimental things which no law need take serious note of when the measure is for the public good. In some communities, absolute right over property is enjoyed by women. In the case of the Nair community, the woman inherits the property of the husband, and gets absolute right over it, and when she gets remarried she does not get divested of the property. She gets absolute right. Why should we deny that right to the women belonging to other communities?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Corala): Does a Hindu widow, following Mitakshara law, get absolute right over her husband's property?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kulakulam I): No. It is very hard that a woman who had sacrificed everything for her husband should be divested of her right over her husband's estate. In the Select Committee, it was decided that if the husband expresses his desire that she might remarry, that might be allowed, and she might get the property of the husband. But, can we expect any woman, when her husband is in his death-bed, to request her husband to give his express consent for her remarriage? Will any woman, who has a heart, go to her husband in his death-bed and ask his permission for her remarriage? And, in case the husband and the wife had no love lost between them, of course, the husband will dispose of his property by a will; and the wife may not get it. We are here considering the case of good women who have led chaste lives. In the case of a woman who, after the death of her husband, has been leading an adulterous life, she does not cease to enjoy her right of the property of her late husband; but a woman who wants to live a chaste life and to take a second husband, her right over property is divested. I therefore think that this amendment should be given due consideration. I submit that there are many points in favour of the amendment.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment. I oppose it not because I am not in sympathy with its object, but because, by the amendments introduced by the Select Committee we are going back practically to the British Indian Enactment of 1856 by enacting all the provisions contained in that Act. The difficulty was pointed out by the Law Member when this matter was discussed. This amendment, it was argued, was in contravention of the spirit of the Mitakshara Law, and however reasonable we might be, to accept it, there might be the necessity for collecting evidence, with regard to this matter, from the communities affected by this Legislation. I think, Sir, if this motion is pressed, there might be some such difficulty, and what little is sought to be gained by this Bill may also have to wait indefinitely. On that ground and that ground only, I oppose the amendment proposed by Mr. S. J. Nair, apart from its other defects which it will be very difficult to rectify at present. Under these circumstances, I appeal to Mr. S. J. Nair to withdraw this amendment on account of its obvious defects.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I want to say a word in reply.

The object of the Bill is to promote the remarriage of widows.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is it to permit, or to promote?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): To permit remarriage with a view to promote it. (Laughter). If that is the idea of this legislation, then the property of the deceased husband must devolve upon the widow unless and until that right is waived by the widow. No rich widow will care to go in for a remarriage and no man, widower or bachelor, will care to marry a poor widow if the widow would be divested of her properties consequent on remarriage. Consequently, this legislation if it is passed as it is will merely adorn our statute book, and will be practically a dead letter. So, in order to help as well as to promote remarriages of widows, it is highly essential that the right over the property of the deceased husband must necessarily rest and vest with the widow even after remarriage. I appeal to this House to seriously consider this question and to support my amendment. Then another objection that has been raised by my friend Mr. Kottur Kunjukrishna Pillai is that it is in contravention of the spirit of Mitakshara Law. Well, Sir, this is a special legislation; in the Mitakshara Law the widows are not at all allowed to remarry. We are making a new legislation in order to promote a new spirit that is prevalent in this country. I appeal to the House to accept my amendment.

The amendment was put to the vote of the House and lost.

The question that Clause 5 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

Clause 5 was added to the Bill.

Clause 6.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I be permitted to move my two amendments together, as their object is the same.

PRESIDENT: Please do.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I beg to move the following amendments to Clause 6.

"In Clause 6 line 1, omit the words 'neither the widow nor any' and add the word 'no': and omit the whole portion, including the proviso, that occur from line 3, after the words 'of his children' and add the words 'the widow shall be the guardian of the children'."

If this amendment is accepted the Clause will read like this:—

"On the remarriage of a Hindu widow, if no other person has been expressly constituted by the will or testamentary disposition of the deceased husband as the guardian of his children, the widow shall be the guardian of the children."

Sir, my object is to empower the widow to be the legal guardian of the children, even after her remarriage. Sir, it is the natural right of a mother to be the legal guardian of her children. To divest her of this right is not only cruel but inhuman also. If the guardianship over the minor children is taken away from the mother, after the death of the father, there will be none to look after the interests of the children. So, in the interests of the children, who are to be the future citizens of the State the guardianship over minor children should vest with their mothers, who can never be replaced by anybody else. Whether she is a widow who has gone in for remarriage or whether she continues to remain a widow, the right of guardianship over her children shall not be divested of her.

There is another reason also for this amendment. In the face of this provision, no widow will care to remarry. Sir, the love and affection of a woman towards her children is more sacred than her love towards any man. Well, Sir, a woman would be prepared even to divorce her husband, but for no reason under the sun would a woman be prepared to desert her children. What I submit is that it is a natural right of a mother to be the guardian of her children. Sir, we do not see even in the case of wild animals, the mother deserting its young ones. Sir, that right to protect one's children is inborn, instinctive, and God-given; and no one can justify any legislation which is only man-made—to take away that right from a woman.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Will not these children be an encumbrance to the new husband of the widow?

MR. S. J. HAIR (Nedumangudi): No Sir; because the man goes in for the widow with open eyes, knowing full well that she has children by her first husband. If it had been an encumbrance on the part of the deceased husband, it would be an encumbrance on the new husband as well. But, Sir, this legislation is not intended for the interest of the new husbands of widows, but in the interest of the widows and in the interests of the coming generation. For that, the mother must be given the guardianship over her minor children. There is also another aspect of this question. When a widower marries he does not lose the right of the guardianship over his minor children by his deceased wife. So there must be equality of status so far as the widower and the widow are concerned, in the matter of the guardianship over minor children. With these words I appeal to this House, in consideration of humanity at large, to accept this amendment.

MR. K. P. KRISHNA MENON (Parur): I second it.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I wish I had not to intervene in this debate since it relates to a social measure. But, I may perhaps explain the real position arising out of this amendment. Under the Hindu Law, the widow is not ordinarily the legal guardian of the children upon the death of her husband. The Hindu Law lays down a list of persons who in order will be the guardians of the children after the death of the children's father; in that list, the widow comes only very far below—after the father's father, father's brother, and so on. If, however, in a particular case the widow happens to be the guardian of her children, that guardianship should not be divested by the mere reason of her remarriage. What is proposed by the Clause in the Bill is that the widow shall not claim to be the guardian of her late husband's children merely by reason of her remarriage. What Mr. S. J. Nair wants is that even a widow who would not have been a guardian before her remarriage, must be made the guardian immediately after her remarriage. That cannot be accepted.

There is an important reason in support of this Clause in the Bill as it is. The Clause is on a line with the corresponding Clause in the British Indian Act. It should be our endeavour to bring our enactment into a line with the British Indian Act, since this measure would apply to that class of people who follow the Mithakshara Law. By far the bulk, a large proportion, of such people live in British India. There is therefore no meaning in putting their brothers and sisters here, who form a small minority, under a different law. If we make any change, there must be some paramount reason for that. There is no such reason now.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nadunavayal): Sir, the argument advanced against my motion is not at all convincing. Let me take the first argument, viz., that this provision does not occur in the British Indian Acts. Well Sir, under Hindu Law, the remarriage of widows is not contemplated at all. So, we are not to accept the principles of Hindu Law. We are going to deviate. But the deviations must be in the interests of the parties concerned, and not against their interests. So, the argument that it goes against the spirit of the Hindu Law is no argument.

Another argument advanced by the Law Member is that, if we pass this amendment, we would become the minority in following a different law from those Hindus in British India who follow the Mithakshara Law. Well, Sir, on various things and on various occasions we have been the model to be followed by other Indian States, and British India as well. Take the case of the temple entry. The solution of that problem by His Gracious Highness Our Maharaja has set our State in the first rank, though we form only a minority. Our State has become now the cynosure of all the world. In this respect also, we must set a model by adopting this provision in this new legislation. With these words, I appeal to the House to accept my amendment.

The amendment was put to vote and lost.

The question that Clause 6 do form part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 7.

Mr. S. J. NAJR (Nedumangad): Sir, I move the following amendment.

In Clause 7, omit the words "Except as is provided in the preceding section, a widow shall not, by reason of her re-marriage, forfeit any property or any right to which she would otherwise be entitled; and", that occur in lines 1 to 3.

By deleting this portion the Clause would read like this,

"Every widow who has remarried shall have the same rights of inheritance as she would have had, had such marriage been her first marriage."

Sir, my amendment speaks for itself. It intends to give equal right for the widow who has gone in for remarriage, as the widow who has not gone in for remarriage.

The amendment fell through for want of seconding.

The question that Clause 7 do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Clause was added to the Bill.

Preamble.

The question that the Preamble do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Preamble was added to the Bill.

Title.

The question that the Title do stand part of the Bill was put to vote and carried.

The Title was added to the Bill.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): So, before the Bill proceeds to the third reading I wish to make an amendment. Clause 1 (i) says "this Regulation may be called The Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Regulation, 111." It is not known when this Regulation will come into force whether in 1112 or 1113. I would propose that the figures "111" be omitted,

Mr. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): I second it.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Sir, I move that the Bill be now passed.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I second it.

The motion that the Bill be passed was put to vote and carried.

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

ABOLITION OF THE OFFICE OF ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENTS OF POLICE.

Mr. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): Sir, I move the following resolution:—

"This Assembly recommends to Government the abolition of the offices of Assistant Superintendents of Police."

[Mr. V. Ramakrishna Panickar.]

It is not without any expectation of opposition that I venture to move this resolution. I do so under the honest belief that the offices of the Assistant Superintendents of Police do not serve much useful purpose. There are on the whole six A. S. P's. in the State. There are also three District Superintendents of Police, each in charge of a District. Each of these District Superintendents has a couple of Assistant Superintendents under him. What the work of those A. S. P's is cannot be ascertained from the Administration Reports of the Police Department. All that can be gathered from the statement given on page 58 of the Administration Report for 1910, is that each of these A. S. P's has inspected all the stations and out-posts under him once a year, and has gone to camp on an average on 250 days in the year. But, the very same statement says that the D. S. P's also have inspected all the Stations and all the out posts under them once in the year, and have been in camp for a greater number of days than the A. S. P's, themselves. It will be seen that the work transacted by the D. S. P's. is double the work done by the A. S. P's. There are, on the whole, only 61 stations and 104 out-posts in the State, and each of these A. S. P's. has not more than 10 stations and 17 out-posts, on an average under him. The inspection work of the A. S. P. is therefore very light. Inspection of 61 stations and 104 out-posts is not too heavy for three D. S. P's. The inspection may conveniently be done by them without any sacrifice of efficiency.

There is no knowing whether these A. S. P's. are attending to any other work than the inspection of stations. They are not, I may submit, attending to the investigation of cases, nor are they conducting any criminal prosecution. There is a certain class of Inspectors known as Prosecuting Inspectors for conducting criminal prosecutions. There is no crime register kept by the A. S. P's and therefore no investigation can possibly be done by them. All these kinds of work are being attended to by other officers of the department. Therefore, what I beg to submit is that the work that an A. S. P. has to attend to is very little. These intermediate officers now transmit the papers between the Inspectors and the District Superintendents. This practice, I must say causes delay in the disposal of cases, because, often papers are being delayed with the A. S. P's. Such delay can also be avoided if the offices of the A. S. P's. are abolished.

In this connection, I beg to submit that the post of the A. S. P. is one of a recent creation. We had formerly only two District Superintendents. At one time we had Circle Inspectors. Finding that they served no useful purpose, those posts were abolished. It may be said that the population of the State is gradually increasing, and therefore there is the necessity of an increase in the Police Force also. But there is gigantic increase in the Inspectorate and the Constabulary. We have 81 Inspectors now, while we were managing with half the number formerly. The number of Constables has also increased two-fold Again, so far as controlling work is concerned, there are Traffic Inspectors and C. I. D. Inspectors, so that the work of the D. S. P. in the matter of control is very much mitigated. Therefore, the A. S. P's. are superfluous.

The cost of maintaining these officers is also considerable. The salary of an A. S. P. per mensem is Rs. 250; so then the aggregate cost on account of six A. S. P's. is about Rs. 18,000. This amount may with advantage be saved. Therefore, I commend the resolution for the acceptance of the House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I second the resolution and in doing so, I submit that the existence of the A. S. P's is nothing but superfluous. The A. S. P's at present do not, in any way, help the prevention of crimes at all. On the other hand they to a very great extent prevent able and honest Police Inspectors from discharging their legitimate duties. There are various instances in which the A. S. P's. have gone and obstructed the natural and legitimate duties of Police Inspectors in bringing the culprits to book. As has been stated by the honorable member who moved the resolution, there is no necessity for these A. S. P's when there are D. S. P's. As far as the inspection of Police Stations is concerned the D. S. P's. can very well do that. As for control over the subordinate Police Officers, the D. S. P's. will be able effectively to control their subordinates. As for detection of crimes there is a section of the Police Department, known as the C. I. D., who will very well detect the crimes that could not be detected by the ordinary Police. Therefore, it is an unnecessary waste of public funds to retain the posts of A. S. P's. For these reasons, I support the resolution.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I oppose the resolution. The posts of A. S. P's. have been created with two objects. Firstly, to investigate graver crimes. Secondly to exercise constant supervision over the Inspector's work in the investigation of crimes. It is found by experience that it is safer and more effective that an officer of the status of an A. S. P. should be held responsible for the investigation of grave crimes relating to life and property.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Liruvallis I): May I know from the member whether there is any circular or departmental order on the subject?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I think there is.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether he is aware that, under the existing law in Travancore, the Police Inspectors are entitled to investigate any sort of crime, i. e. cognisable offences?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): They are, under the law, entitled to investigate all crimes. But from experience, it is learnt that it is not always safe to entrust the investigation of all crimes to Inspectors.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I know from the member what his experience was in the matter of investigating criminal cases?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That presupposes that Mr. Nilakantan must have been a Police Officer.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): This subject was discussed on the floor of the House previously, and the Commissioner then placed before the House the number of cases investigated by A. S. P's. I think, Sir, the abolition of the posts of A. S. P's. will create a great void between the D. S. P's. and the Inspectors. There is great difference in status between the D. S. P's. and the Inspectors so that there is the likelihood of an Inspector becoming a creature of the D. S. P.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know whether the District Superintendent is not an intermediary, at present, between the Commissioner of Police and the Inspectors?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): I will come to that. The result will be that the Police Inspector will be completely in the hands of the D. S. P. Experience has shown that this will prejudice the administration of the department.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): Whenever a case is investigated by the A. S. P., as suggested by the member, does he do so independently of the Inspector in whose jurisdiction the case has cropped up?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): He can take up a case independently, or jointly with the Inspector.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Kartikapalli II): Does the A. S. P. keep any crime register?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): That is not necessary. The crime register is in the Police station, and he can make the necessary entries.

Again, Sir, the D. S. P. has considerable work in connection with the supervision of the subordinates. He has no time to investigate crimes. Therefore, an officer of the status of the A. S. P. is absolutely necessary for the investigation of graver crimes.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): What is the difference between the work of the A. S. P. and the D. S. P.?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question need not be answered. Every member of the House is presumed to understand the difference.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): In olden times, there were the Police Commissioner, the Assistant Superintendent and the Inspector. There were no D. S. P's. It was found that, under that system, proper control was not exercised over the Inspectors. Therefore, the department was reorganised and the District Superintendents were introduced instead of A. S. P's. If one link in the present system is removed, I think the whole department will be dislocated. For the proper conduct of Police work, all these officers are absolutely necessary. With these remarks, I oppose the resolution.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Sir, I oppose the resolution. These A. S. P's. are an unfortunate set of officers who have from the time of the very creation of this office been glanced with an eye of decision and detestation by some of the non-official members of the Legislature. On three prior occasions the question of the abolition of this office was considered on the floor of the Legislature and even though on one occasion the motion was carried the two later attempts failed owing presumably to the convincing arguments and staunch advocacy of the then Commissioners of Police.

The one argument advanced in favour of the abolition of this post is that these A. S. P's. existing as they do side by side with the D. S. P's., are superfluous since both of them are called upon to do more or less the same work, namely, detection, prevention and investigation of crimes. I think, till lately, these A. S. P's. were enjoying a happy-go-lucky life, not because they had no responsible duties but because they were allowed to do so by the officers who held sway over them. Sir, recently that has changed. Recruitment to the Police Force on considerations other than efficiency has, I am constrained to say, deteriorated the efficiency of the department. I may also add that no other departmental subordinates have such a profusion of opportunities to go astray from the path of virtue as the Police, and no amount of control over these subordinates can be considered superfluous. An efficient, well-disciplined Police Force is undoubtedly the country's pride and the greatest boon the Government can confer but, Sir, an inefficient and unmoral Police is the greatest pest and peril to society. It would indeed, be a supreme task for a single District officer as the D. S. P. with his heavy routine work, to attend to all his executive duties of detection, prevention, and investigation of crimes satisfactorily and at the same time control the army of Inspectors, Head Constables and the Constabulary under him efficiently and well. There is no gain saying the fact that there is ample scope for good and useful work for these classes of intermediary officers, and the whole evil lies in the fact that they have erected a tradition for indolence and inactivity and are being suffered to keep up that tradition. Now, fortunately, in the person of the present Police Commissioner we have an officer of very great experience in the department and no wonder visible changes in the improvement of the tone and the efficiency of the department are seen day by day. And any amount spent for bettering the discipline and efficiency of the department can never be considered a waste. I am strongly of opinion that such a set of intermediary officers between the D. S. P. and the Inspector are indispensable for keeping satisfactory disciplinary control over the subordinate officers of the Police Force and so I strongly oppose the resolution.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): I support the resolution. I understand as a fact that the double controlling agencies of the department, which cause a heavy drain on the public exchequer, are of little service to the country. This system of double controlling agencies known as D. S. P's. and A. S. P's. is rather a source of evil. There was a time in the history of the Police administration in Travancore when it was controlled by a single solitary officer known as the Superintendent of Police assisted by three Assistant Superintendents and when crimes were prevented or detected as efficiently and ably as in the present day, if not more.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilarankod): May I ask whether the Commissioner of Police is still a member of the House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question does not seem to be relevant. The Commissioner of Police may choose to be present in the House as the occasion requires. I do not think there is any legitimate ground for an enquiry as the one made by Mr. Pacode Narayana Pillai.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): The tax payer is not benefited in the least by the case diary being transmitted through two agencies or four.

The main duties of the Police are, detection and prevention of crime. Let us see how far the D. S. P's. and A. S. P's. are contributing towards the realisation of these objects. This part of the Police work is left entirely to the Station House Officers. Though there may be a number of highly paid A. S. P's. and D. S. P's., prevention and detection of crimes are left to the Station House Officers. Primarily this important duty of the Police is left to the Station House Officers.

There is a circular order in the department that grave crimes should be investigated by the A. S. P's. or D. S. P's. Does any of them pay heed to it? Does the head of the department enforce that order? Will you, Sir, ascertain how many cases in the line of detection or prevention were investigated and charge sheeted by the D. S. P's. or the A. S. P's. during last year? This is a question that I want to ask.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT. The member can put the question to the Police Commissioner when he replies.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): The real test for ascertaining whether a Police Officer has actually investigated a case is to see if he cites himself as a prosecution witness in the charge-sheet. By applying this test we will find that most of the A. S. P's. and D. S. P's. will fall far short of our expectations.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: May I ask the member how long he was an officer of the Police Department?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Thirty years.

It is well-known that no A. S. P. or D. S. P. will come forward as a prosecution witness in the charge-sheet. There is a circular order that the investigating officer must be cited as a prosecution witness in the charge-sheet. Now, this order is honoured more in the breach than in the observance. It is not without reason that he evades this order. He does not want to cut a sorry figure in the witness box, exposing himself to a severe cross-examination from the defence side.

I may bring to the notice of the House that this House—I mean its predecessor—the Legislative Council—on a former occasion when it had no control over these officers passed a resolution practically dispensing with the services of this set of officers. The House then refused to sanction the expenditure of the establishment of the staff of the A. S. P's. office.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Is the member aware that the successor of that Council voted for the continuance of these appointments?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Yes. I only said that at one time the Council voted against the grant. It is commonly known that the work of the high paid executive officers is confined to the desk. We often notice that when an Inspector goes wrong in the investigation of a case or when a case is spoiled by malpractice or otherwise, instead of the case being taken up by the A. S. P. or D. S. P. it is left to another Inspector and the head of the department connives at it.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): As an officer who has had sufficient experience in the department, and as an officer who served in the department also when there were no A. S. P's. is it the opinion of the member that in investigation and inspection work, the department fared better after the appointment of the A. S. P's. than before?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): I doubt very much.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Am I to understand from the member that according to his opinion, the posts of A. S. P's. are unnecessary?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): I am of opinion that there should be only one set of controlling officers between the Commissioner and the Station House Officers. It is unnecessary to have double controlling agencies.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Is there any harm in retaining the services of the A. S. P's.?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Why should there be a superfluous number of officers? That is my question.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): May I ask the member whether Inspectors are necessary?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Yes.

Let us examine the amount of work that is being turned out by the D. S. P's. and the A. S. P's.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Has there been greater or lesser number of complaints against the Inspectors when there were no A. S. P's. than now?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): I cannot say for certain. I think there will be a less number of complaints when there is only one set of intermediary officers between the Commissioner and the Station House Officers. That is my opinion.

When the public exchequer is full to brim, we might have the luxury of having half-a-dozen D. S. P's. and a dozen A. S. P's. But the time has changed. The economic depression has come to stay. It is our sacred duty to reduce expenditure and go to the rescue of the poor taxpayer. Now, here is a department where you can make considerable reduction in expenditure.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the member be pleased to state the highest place he held in the Police Department?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: At this stage, that question does not seem to be relevant. If the member is prepared to answer, I have no objection.

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): I am not prepared to answer that question.

Here is a department where we can make a considerable reduction in expenditure and that without sacrificing the efficiency of the department. I will suggest to the House that only seven D. S. P's, or seven A. S. P's, are necessary. We may call them A. S. P's, or D. S. P's, or Assistant Commissioners, or Deputy Superintendents. Is there any district in British India which can boast of the luxury of 11 supervising officers between the S. H. O. and the D. S. P.? Travancore is a law-abiding country, and—

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether there is any intermediary officer between the D. S. P. and the Inspector-General of Police, in Madras?

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): There is the Deputy Inspector-General.

Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Are there A. S. P's, in British India?

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): The Gazette will give the information. (Laughter)

Travancore is only as large as a British Indian District. The loyalty of the Travancoreans to the Sovereign is proverbial. Luckily we have no criminal tribes, no marauding Maravas, nor terrorists as in British India. That being the case, where is the necessity or justification for having so many controlling officers between the Commissioner and the Station House Officers?

Mr. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Is the member aware that, frequently, marauding tribes from suburban regions of British India, come to Travancore and commit crimes?

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Such instances are very rare.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Was there not the notorious Jambulingom who used to visit Travancore also?

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Only once he visited Travancore.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Was the Travancore Police able to catch him? Is the member aware of the feverish attempts on the part of the Travancore Police to get at him?

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): He might have passed through once, on his way.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Did not the Travancore Government spend a substantial amount to apprehend him.

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): I have already said that it was only a rare instance.

[Mr. V. T. Chacko].

What is the necessity or justification for having a separate D. S.<sup>2</sup> P. for the Traffic Department when the department is under the personal supervision of the Commissioner of Police? The Traffic Superintendent has simply to carry out the orders of the Commissioner. Could not Traffic Inspectors be placed under the orders of the three D. S. P's?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): On a point of order. The resolution deals with the abolition of A. S. P's. It has nothing to do with the D. S. P. who is in charge of the Traffic Section of the department.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I rule out the point of order of Mr. S. J. Nair; because, in discussing the question as to the necessity of retaining A. S. P's., reference has necessarily to be made to the work of D. S. P's.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Could not the Traffic Inspectors be placed under the orders of the D. S. P. or A. S. P. as the case may be? That is the point?

The C. I. D. Superintendent is another luxury. The C. I. D. is only in its embryo. Could not an experienced British Indian Officer be got down to train the Travancore Police in C. I. D. work?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: We are now concerned only with the A. S. P's.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Yes, Sir; but these unnecessary appointments can be avoided.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: So is it the honourable member's idea that these unnecessary appointments can be avoided if a proper man is got down from British India?

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Two agencies are unnecessary. Either one or the other is sufficient. That is my view. Without the seven A. S. P's. and the three D. S. P's. between the Commissioner and the Inspectors the work of the Department could be very well carried on. Therefore I am of opinion that these two grades of controlling agencies are unnecessary.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): Sir, I beg to support this resolution. The mover of this resolution, as well as another member who spoke in support of it and who had more than 30 years' experience in the department have pointed out how these A. S. P's. posts are superfluous. I have often heard persons in the department tell me that these posts are superfluous. They cause inordinate delay in the discharge of their duties, for, all papers have to pass through these officers before they go to the D. S. P's. These posts are unnecessary both to the department and to the public, and there is a good deal of waste of money on account of these unnecessary posts in the Police Department. Therefore, I support the resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. P. C. Kuriyan.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kutikulam I): Before proceeding with the discussion, I would point out one point for the consideration of the Chair. We would very much wish to hear what the Commissioner has to say about these officers.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I have no objection to accept the suggestion made by Mr. Elunkath, because it is open to the Chair to call upon any particular member to speak; and I propose to call the Police Commissioner just a little afterwards. I have already asked Mr. Kuriyan to speak. I do not want to countermand that order. Secondly, I do not know if it is proper to ask any officer to give a detailed explanation as to the functions of a particular officer. It is open to the member to do that.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I wish to support the motion, though in theory, I am for having A. S. P's; because, I know, as a matter of fact, that the A. S. P. system, if it is worked well, can do much good to the department and to the public. Unfortunately, by their conduct, steps had to be taken against a few A. S. P's recently. One A. S. P. has been compelled to retire and another A. S. P. has been punished for standing in the way of the Commissioner exercising proper control over the subordinate officers.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is it due to the defect in the office of A. S. P's, or in the personnel?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I believe, the defect lies in the persons.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: In that case, you are on the verge of being irrelevant.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Though the office is good, the incumbents are not satisfactory. The office by itself is good.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovara): Are the A. S. P's alone bad, or other officers also?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): The matter under discussion is about A. S. P's.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I rise to a point of order, whether, in opposing the institution of A. S. P's, the member can refer to personalities.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: After all, it is not always possible to keep the ideas of the persons and the offices they hold in strictly water-tight compartments. I am keeping a vigilant watch, and if it strikes me that Mr. Kuriyan is irrelevant, I will take suitable steps.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I shall assure the House that in theory the system is all right. But, in actual practice, A. S. P's are doing more harm than good. I know cases in which A. S. P's have stood in the way of and made it difficult for the orders of the Commissioner of Police being carried out.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Tripundrum-Rural): Does the honourable member wish to abolish all grades of officers in the Police Department or is it confined only to A. S. P's?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is it not a very remote idea?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): For the information of the member I may assure him that even in the case of the A. S. P's, I am prepared to revise my views after hearing the Commissioner.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know which was the order that the Commissioner found it difficult to carry out due to the intervention of the A. S. P.?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): In Kottayam, proceedings were instituted against some rowdies. When the Commissioner called for the records, the A. S. P., in a hurry, submitted a report that the whole case had been hushed up. I know it personally.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Will the member please clear the position?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I prohibit Mr. Kuriyan from continuing in that strain, because we are not concerned with any particular case. The question before the House is whether the post of the A. S. P's. should be retained or not. If a particular A. S. P. is guilty of any misconduct, it will be time for the Government to take steps when it is brought before them in due form.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know how the case was hushed up by sending up a report?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Already one A. S. P. has been asked to retire. I am coming to another A. S. P.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member cannot refer to any particular A. S. P. or D. S. P.; only, the general question is before the House.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): If it is purely an academic discussion, I cannot go on.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I thought the honourable member understood the difference between the discussion of a general principle and a purely academic discussion. Here is a concrete fact before the House; only Mr. Kuriyan will not bring in the names of particular officers. Unless I am satisfied that the facts mentioned are relevant, I consider this trend to be unnecessary.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I have said at the outset that I personally support the institution of A. S. P's. But, in actual experience, I find that they are doing more harm than good; and hence I fear that all the present A. S. P's., as has been done in the case of one, should be asked to go.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Sir, the Police Department was organised for the first time some 56 years ago, by Mr. Bensley who was then head of the department. He was in charge of the department for a period of 28 years. During his time, the official hierarchy was like this. The officer in charge of the station was the S. H. O. or the Head Constable. Above him, having supervisory control, was the Inspector. In certain cases, that Inspector had control over two stations. Ordinarily only one station was under an S. H. O. Above the Inspector was the A. S. P. in charge of the District. That was the nomenclature by which the District Officer was then called. Over the A. S. P's. there was the Superintendent of Police, the head of the Police administration. So, we could see that between the officers in charge of the station and the Head of the administration, there were two intermediary officers, viz. the Inspector and the A. S. P. Mr. Bensley left and Mr. George succeeded him. Some five years afterwards in 1088, there was a reorganisation in the department. As a result of that reorganisation there was a revision of salary and the S. H. O. was named Sub-Inspector. Above him there were the Circle Inspectors and the D. S. P's. and then the Commissioner of Police. So, then also, between the Commissioner and the S. H. O. there were two grades of intermediary officers, viz. the Circle Inspectors and D. S. P's. Then during the days of Mr. Pitt, the department was re-organised for the third time; the S. H. O. became the Inspector, and the Circle Inspector became the A. S. P. That is the present system. It can thus be seen that ever since the formation of this department, there were two intervening officers between the S. H. O. and the head of the department.

Now, let us for a moment consider what is obtaining in other States, in the sister State of Cochin and in British India, for instance. In the sister State of Cochin, till very recently there was no A. S. P's. at all. Now because of the expansion of trade and the increase of population, it is found impossible to go on without the institution of A. S. P's.; and so, recently they have introduced it. There also they have two intermediaries between the S. H. O. and the head of the Department. Let us go to British India. If we take the District as a unit, we have the D. S. P., A. S. P., Deputy S. P., C. I., S. I. and the S. H. O. If we take the Presidency as the unit there are the S. H. O. the S. I. the C. I., the A. S. P. the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Deputy I. G. and I. G. There are four or five intervening officers. So that what we are having here is the minimum. Well, go to Mysore, Baroda or Hyderabad. In all these places you are having six more intermediary officers than in Travancore. Well, for a country to prosper we must have general peace. That peace can be maintained only by the reign of law. For the reign of law you should have a powerful, strong, well-disciplined and well-organised Police force. For the Police force to be well-organised and to serve its purpose efficiently we must have officers to discharge different functions. Some doubts were expressed by the honourable members that the A. S. P's have no work commensurate with their pay. Now Sir, the A. S. P. has to inspect stations. It means in the course of the year each station will be inspected by two controlling officers. I insist upon the inspection of the station as many times as possible to correct the Inspector's wrongs and to punish his misbehaviour then and there, as a stitch in time saves nine. Otherwise it becomes too late to find out the mistakes to rectify them and to punish officers. As soon as we get any information of any misbehaviour on the part of an Inspector, immediately the higher officer visits the station. For that an officer of the status of an A. S. P. is needed.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): What is the minimum number of times which an A. S. P. has to visit a particular station?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The minimum number is one.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In one year?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes, in one year.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKER (Kartikappalli II): May I know the number of stations to be inspected by an A. S. P?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): About 6 stations to be inspected on an average. Sometimes they will have to inspect 8, 9, and even 10 stations.

Now what about the usefulness of the Institution? The A. S. P. is to inspect stations, investigate crimes, and enquire into the complaints against Departmental Officers. He has to maintain discipline among his subordinates. The D. S. P.'s time will be mostly taken up by hearing complaints. There are ever so many complaints made by the honourable members like Mr. S. J. Nair and others against the local Inspectors.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nelunanga): I have not made any complaint against any local Inspector.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: After all, that does not matter much. Mr. Pitchu Aiyangar made only a passing reference.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Mr. S. J. Nair himself has approached me on several occasions with complaints.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I am sorry to observe that there is a dispute, between two honourable members, one asserting that no such complaints were made and the other denying that. I hope such things will not recur.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Who conduct the original investigation of cases, the A. S. P.'s or the D. S. P.'s.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The D. S. P.'s. They are controlling and supervising officers. They supervise all investigations and as the officers responsible for Criminal administration in the Districts, they have to see that everything goes on well. Now a days investigation of crime is done more expeditiously and expeditiously than before.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovnia): Is there any overlapping of work between the A. S. P. and the D. S. P?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is no overlapping. Well, there are ever so many complaints against the Inspectors. The A. S. P. makes investigations. When there are complaints against the A. S. P. himself, regarding his investigation, the D. S. P. intervenes. I do not think there is any overlapping leading to any friction. These officers have been moving rather harmoniously with one another.

Mr. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): Is there any real differentiation in their functions?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There may not be. But the D. S. P. has control over the whole district. He has disciplinary control over the A. S. P. also.

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Nominated): When A. S. P's. investigate cases, in how many cases have they come forward as prosecution witnesses?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): They have done so in ever so many cases. Evidently, there was no occasion for the honourable member to appear as a prosecution witness, when he was an A. S. P.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member's question was as to how things were done now.

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Much better than it was in the days when the honourable member was in service.

Mr. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): May I know in how many cases the A. S. P's. and D. S. P's were cited as witnesses?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): In ever so many cases. In all the graver crimes which they have to investigate, the A. S. P. countersigns the charge sheet.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Is it a fact that now a days even the Inspectors, the counterpart of the old S. H. Os, fight shy of being cited as prosecution witnesses?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is no question of shyness. If they are summoned by the court, they must appear.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Is it not necessary that the investigating Officer should sign the charge sheet?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes, that is the rule.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether that rule is followed in all the cases?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Yes, in all cases, without any exception.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovata): Is there any circular issued that the investigating officer should figure as a witness?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Necessarily, the investigating officer who is in possession of the salient points in the case should be cited as a witness. He is always found as a witness in the charge sheet. If the court finds it necessary to summon him, he appears as a witness.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovata): Will the honourable member say definitely that there is a circular issued to the effect that all the investigating officers should figure as prosecution witnesses?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There is.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovata): Where was the necessity for issuing such a circular, if all the investigating officers were being cited as prosecution witnesses?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): These circulars were not issued now; they were issued in the past.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Does the member know that the High Court have passed strictures against the investigating police officers for not appearing as prosecution witnesses?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): That does not call for any strictures because it is no offence.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): The question is whether the honourable member is aware of the fact that the High Court has passed strictures against police officers in this matter?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is the honourable member giving information, or asking for it?

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I am eliciting information.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Then the question should be put in a different way.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the honourable member is aware of the strictures?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I am not aware of any strictures passed by the High Court for the investigating officers not being cited as witnesses.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Is he aware of any observations made by the High Court about the Police?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): There have been observations about indifferent and bad investigation. But, the Police officers have got unstinted praises also.

Mr. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I): The S. H. O. or Inspector is investigating cases; and the A. S. P. supervises the work of the Inspector. May I ask whether the D. S. P. has anything to do?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): As an officer who is in charge of criminal investigation in the District, the power of supervising and controlling his subordinate officers, who investigate cases, is vested with him. Moreover he has the power to ask the A. S. P. to withdraw investigations. That too is happening; I do not dispute that.

Now, what about the present-day Police force? Well it has been praised from all quarters.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Have the A. S. P's been anywhere specifically praised?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): They are included in the Police force.

Mr. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Which is the unexpected quarter from where the Police were praised?

Mr. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Gandhiji, for instance.

RAO SANIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know whether Gandhiji has ever expressed his displeasure about anybody?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I rule that the praise or blame showered by anybody upon the police is not at all relevant to the discussion in general.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The whole Police force can be considered as a single structure, an edifice and within that edifice you have the institution of A. S. P's. So far as the A. S. P's. are not specifically condemned, and the police are praised in general the A. S. P's. also are entitled to a portion of the praise.

(Dialogue between the Law Member and the Police Commissioner):

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Is the member in order to take instructions from the Law Member?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I am keeping a vigilant watch over the debate. I did not find Mr. Pitchu Aiyangar taking any instructions from the Law Member. How much time will the honourable member require to finish?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I may take half an hour more.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I am sorry to say that I cannot allow half an hour. Anyhow the House will now rise for lunch to meet again at two o'clock.

The House adjourned for lunch at 12-59 p. m. and reassembled after lunch at 2 p. m. with the Deputy President in the Chair.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Sir, the Police force is the strong whip of the law. If this force is not kept strong you are crippling the limb. I want to emphasise that the institution of A. S. P's. which seems to be thought of as one of recent origin is not a new introduction into the constitution. It was one which was in the constitution ever since the commencement of this department. It was there as one of the limbs which grew as the constitution grew. Now, there is a tendency and an attempt to pull it down. If you do so, I think, the whole edifice will come down, because the A. S. P. is part and parcel of the whole structure. It will be a fatal experiment, because this has been in the constitution ever since the department began to function. If, at this stage, there is an attempt to pull it down, what will be the result? Because of the extreme necessity for the continuance of this institution, it has been allowed to go on. Sir, let us now take up the hypothetical case in which this institution has been removed from the constitution? What is the lot of the District Superintendents? They will have too much work to do. With too much of inspection and control work they will have no time for anything, with the result that all these offices will become absolutely useless.

Secondly, let us consider what will be the result if there is no intermediate office between the D. S. P's and the Inspectors. The A. S. P's institution is the training field for the Inspectors to become District Superintendents. If all on a sudden an Inspector is made a District Superintendent, the position will be very awkward. Then there are several graduates in Arts and in Law who have got some good hope to become A. S. P's. and D. S. P's. The incentive for those Inspectors who want to be honest and to do good work and to create favourable public opinion, is that they may have opportunity to serve as superior officers. It is not all the Inspectors that become A. S. P's. or all A. S. P's. that become D. S. P's. or all D. S. P's. that become the Commissioner. It is only those who have got approved merit as Inspectors that can become an A. S. P. and so forth. Such is the case with the different offices of the department. That is how the efficiency of the force has been maintained, and the efficiency of the Travancore Police has been admitted on all hands. Now when the administration is able to secure favourable opinion from responsible public men, from honourable members of this House and the upper House, from the Government and from various distinguished guests, wherein lies the necessity to disturb the present arrangement? Unless the present administration proves inefficient, and unless it is considered that the institution of A. S. P's is an unnecessary burden to the taxpayer, I do not think there is any necessity.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, the member was saying that the efficiency of this department was admitted on all hands as a special feature of that department. Is there anything peculiar about that department in point of efficiency? I wish to know what the member means by repeating that statement.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: He did not say that other departments are not efficient. I heard him say that the efficiency of his department was admitted on all hands.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): On what basis does he make that statement? I question that statement.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It is quite open to the honourable member to question the statement if he chooses. But the Police Commissioner cannot be asked to give documentary or oral proof as to the facts that he has got in his mind. He expresses his opinion on behalf of the Government. He cannot be cross examined with regard to that.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, what I wish to know is this. Here is a statement that the efficiency of his department is admitted on all hands. I wish to know on what basis he makes that statement.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I have not got any documentary evidence. But a few members of this House, the Government and the public organs of the State and Gandhiji himself have expressed appreciation of the work of the Police.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I wish the Police Commissioner be left there. He has made a statement that his department is certified to be efficient, by men who in his opinion are good enough to express that opinion.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): When there is so much responsible public opinion, I ask whether there is any necessity to consider the institution as useless or superfluous? Is it not necessary to leave the structure intact so that it may carry on its function as efficiently as it began? Will it not be suicidal policy to attempt a change which may bring down the whole edifice. Will it not be like trying an experiment by starving a man to see how long it will take for him to die of starvation? Then, again, Sir, I request the House to consider the lot of the poor Inspectors. It is because of the superior offices which they can aspire to, that they are having an incentive to do honest and efficient work.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether these matters are relevant?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Yes, they are relevant. The Police Commissioner's point is this. Unless there is a sufficient number of higher appointments in the department, there will be no incentive for people who are in the inferior grade to work with interest and efficiency. That is his view.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): When the other States are progressive, I do not see why we should be retrogressive. When they are building up I do not see why we should pull down the existing structure. In Cochin, they have recently introduced the institution of A. S. P's. I emphasise that it will be extremely prejudicial to the maintenance of public peace, if this important offices of the A. S. Ps. are abolished. They are doing good work as inspecting and investigating officers. Without them there would be no time for the D. S. Ps. to do their work. I would again emphasise that the abolition will be highly detrimental to the department.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): What has the Commissioner to say to the suggestion that the number of districts may be increased and each district placed in charge of one officer?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): It is high time for the re-organisation of the department, because 12 years have elapsed since the last re-organisation. We were having a re-organisation once in 5 years. But anyhow the present structure, which has been there ever since the Police Department began to function should not be disturbed.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I wish to know whether the functions of the A. S. P's of the present day are the same as those of the Inspectors in Bensley's time.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): It is much more. They have to exercise supervision on a number of Inspectors. When there is a complaint against an Inspector, the A. S. P. has to enquire and satisfy the public. The D. S. P's alone will not be able to manage; the Inspectors will not be properly controlled and will be let loose.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Sir, I wish to add a few words in opposing the resolution. It has been argued by the commissioner of Police that unless there is an effective controlling agency everything will not go well with the Police Force. I am at one with him in that statement. That statement will be amply supported by the personal experience of the members of this House. It has been a general complaint that everything does not go well with the ordinary constable in the usual course of life. Sir, who is a Police Constable? Is he not the symbol of peace and safety to the public? But how often we come across misbehaviour on the part of these Constables? What is it due to? I do not think they misbehave on instructions from superior officers. I think it is due to want of proper control over them. This is a resolution to cut down one of the means of that control. And as such I hope, every member of this house will oppose it. The Commissioner, as a responsible officer and as the Head of the Department, has laid before the House that the present system is working well.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Am I to understand from the honourable member that he is satisfied with the present Police Force?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I am dissatisfied with the Force but not with the system. My point is that if any member of the controlling agency is reduced, the effect will be disastrous to the public of Travancore.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): May I know from the member whether the abolition of the A. S. P's. would add to the smuggling of tobacco in the frontier, or would lessen it?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Police are not the persons to prevent smuggling. There is the Excise for that.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): They do it in co-operation with the Excise.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I do not think it worth while to answer that question.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is the member satisfied with the Police Force?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I am not at all satisfied? MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the A. S. P. was of any use in preventing the recent unfortunate incidents at Ramangalam?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): My view is that if an A. S. P. had been there no such unfortunate incident would have taken place. It was the absence of an effective controlling officer of a superior grade that brought about such an unhappy circumstance. No responsible officer would have allowed such excesses on the part of his subordinates.

MR. R. RAWAN PILLAI (Channarayana cum Perumade II): ഇക്കാര്യം പറ്റാത്തതുകൊണ്ട് ഇതുവരെ ഒരു മാർഗ്ഗം ഉണ്ടാകുമോ?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): The resolution before the House does not cover that. It urges only for the abolition of A. S. P's. When a resolution to increase the controlling agency is brought forward I shall consider that question.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is there an A. S. P. for the Reserve Police?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I do not know. I think the Reserve Police are under the direct supervision of the Commissioner. My point is that we should not stand in the way of the present system of control as long as it is satisfactory to the Commissioner of Police. When mistakes occur again the Commissioner may tell us that we did not vote for the necessary controlling agency. We should not give room for such complaint. The more controlling agency there is the less the mischief by the subordinates especially in these days when things go from bad to worse.

Many of the members who supported the resolution had complaints only with regard to the personnel of the A. S. P's. They also said that the work of the A. S. P's. and D. S. P's. was similar and that therefore there was no necessity for this duplicate controlling agency. Perhaps some of the officers may not be able to do their work properly and there may be collision. That does not mean that the system is bad. If there is any misbehaviour on the part of any A. S. P. or D. S. P. if there is any conflict between them there is the Head of the Department to come to the rescue. No case has been brought out that the abolition of the A. S. P's. will conduce to the good working of the department. On the other hand, in my opinion, the abolition of A. S. P's. will detrimentally affect the working of the department, especially considering the fact, that the subordinate officers and constables often misbehave even with the present system of control.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam II): Does the member refer to ordinary Constables or reserve Constables?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Murattupuzha II): Both. I was told by one responsible authority of the Police Department that one cannot expect much good behaviour from the ordinary constable, because, the stratum of society from which he is selected at present is such that one cannot expect good behaviour from him always.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanacherry cum Peernada II): കാൺ നഗരബിരുദമാരുടെ കൂട്ടത്തിൽ ബി. എ. ക്ലാസ് ഉണ്ടെന്നറിയുമോ?

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Murattupuzha II): I was going to say that. In these days you can get people with education and intelligence in the open market in plenty. It is therefore high time that the department is reorganised with better staff. Whenever it is found that a Police man or any Police Officer is unfit, he should be dismissed forthwith, and a proper man should be put instead. On these grounds I am of opinion that the post of A. S. P's. should not be abolished. On the other hand we should try to encourage the system of controlling agencies in the Police Department.

MR. R. MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Karthikapalli II): I wish to add a few words by way of reply. The Police Commissioner stated that by the maintenance of such officers it would give an incentive to some of the lower officers in the department to do good work and to aspire for higher places. What I wish to say is that the taxpayers' money should not be expended for creating incentive. So, that argument cannot hold good. Then many of the honourable members here have made several other suggestions also. One of them is that the places of A. S. P.'s may be abolished and that the whole State may be divided into several districts, each district being put in the charge of a D. S. P. Since the Commissioner is not agreeable to that course I would press the resolution to a division.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): May I add one word?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Yes.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The A. S. P. is under the direct control of the D. S. P., so that he is only a subordinate officer. It is rather very strange to hear the members saying that there is conflict of control between these two sets of officers.

MR. V. RAMAKRISHNA PANICKAR (Karikapalli II): So far as the work is concerned, is the A. S. P. a subordinate officer of the D. S. P.?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The A. S. P. is completely a subordinate officer of the D. S. P.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Has the Commissioner come across any case in which he could not control an A. S. P.?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That question does not arise.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know whether he has come across any instance of conflict between the A. S. P. and the D. S. P.?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): No. The whole trouble is due to the fact that a certain A. S. P. acted differently from the suggestion of the honourable member in a certain case (Laughter). I am certainly sorry that the honourable member is bringing into this Assembly a case of individual interest.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: But he did not mention the case.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether the Commissioner is aware of that individual case?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I shall even give the number of the case for the information of the House.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Let me explain. The honourable member who put the question may or may not have any particular fact in his possession. If Mr. Kuriyan attempted to put that fact before the House at this stage I should not have allowed it. What he has done is merely to put a question; it is possible that the Commissioner may or may not know of the particular case. The question being a general one, a general answer may be given.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): My question was more definite.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I was referring to Mr. Kuriyan's question.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): My question was whether the Commissioner is aware of that case.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: No individual case was mentioned in this House and therefore I disallow the question.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): The Commissioner referred to one individual case. Therefore I wanted to know about the case.

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I referred to two cases, a case and a counter-case in which the honourable member, Mr. Kuriyan was very badly involved.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tocota): On a point of order Sir. When Mr. Kuriyan put a general question to the Commissioner, was the Commissioner in order in saying that one honourable member of the House has brought individual cases and so forth? The plain question put by Mr. Kuriyan was whether the Commissioner had come across any instance of conflict of duty between the A. S. P. and the D. S. P. Is it appropriate on the part of the Commissioner to say that it was a personal matter and that the member was involved in a case, and so on?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: It struck me that that line of argument need not be pursued. I pointed out that for the attention of the House.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tocota): Was the Commissioner in order, Sir?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That point has been disposed of already.

The resolution was put to vote and lost.

MR. V. T. CHACKO (Muvattupuzha I): Sir, I demand a poll.

A poll was taken and the House divided as follows:—

desirable that that prohibition was removed and that facilities were given for the cultivation of tobacco. With that view the Government enacted Regulation I of 1937, i.e., the Tobacco Regulation. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons of that Regulation it is stated —

"The chief point on which the Bill departs from the previous Regulations is a provision permitting the cultivation of indigenous tobacco under necessary safeguards. No explanation can now be seriously required for opening a fresh and profitable industry to the people, without seriously telling upon the revenue of the State. In more than one Session of the Sri Nilam Popular Assembly, representations have been brought forward, requesting permission for the cultivation of tobacco. It is desirable to afford the people reasonable facilities for the cultivation of the article, providing at the same time, whatever precautions may be necessary in the interest of revenue".

With that object Regulation I of 1937 was passed twenty-five years ago. In Section 4 of that Regulation it is stated:—

"Except as permitted by this Regulation, or by any other enactment relating to tobacco for the time being in force, or by the Rules published under this Regulation or under any such enactment, no one shall

(a) cultivate, (b) manufacture, (c) possess, (d) transport (e) import, (f) export, or (g) sell tobacco."

So, if no rules have been framed during all these 25 years the effect has been that no person shall cultivate tobacco. So it is absolute prohibition. In 1937, Government said that much argument was not needed to open up a new field for carrying on a new industry like tobacco cultivation. After this the necessity for removing the ban on tobacco cultivation was brought to the notice of Government by a resolution in the Legislative Council in December 1927. At that time when the discussion was proceeding the then Director of Agriculture and the present Chief Secretary to Government said that by cultivation of tobacco, in one acre of land a profit of Rs. 400 could be derived. (Mr. G. Nilakantan: I question that). This is what I find in the official proceedings. Sir, I cannot find a better authority than Dr. Kanjan Pillai on this subject and his opinion is found in the published proceedings.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: You need not give heed to what is being said behind you.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): But that is causing some interruption to my speech.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Unless that member of the House has got anything definite to say in the proper way it requires that you need not notice it.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): This is what is stated in page 204 of the proceedings:—

"DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Director of Agriculture and Fisheries): I am told that in places where they cultivate tobacco they invest about Rs. 100 for farm-yard manure and about 40 to 50 rupees for chemical manures and the total cost of cultivation will be about Rs. 400 per acre. In this respect tobacco is like sugarcane crop. If a person invests about Rs. 400 per acre, he is sure to get about Rs. 800 income so that he will get a net profit of about Rs. 400...."

"MR. A. SIVARAMA PANICKAR (Sheela): May I know the amount of tobacco that can be produced in one acre of land?"

[ Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan- ]

"Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Director of Agriculture and Fisheries): That depends upon the conditions of the soil and climate. The average may be taken as 1,000 lbs per acre, or even more provided the soil is fertile and is heavily manured."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Did he say that there is plenty of land in Travancore for that?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): He said that that requires investigation. Further on, he says:

"I have not tried tobacco cultivation myself. As a matter of fact, I only say what I have read in books and heard from other people. This question of tobacco cultivation was brought up in the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly. Then Government wanted to make an experiment and I suggested that somebody might be deputed to Jaffna to study the conditions obtaining there in regard to cultivation of tobacco. Subsequently, the proposal was dropped."

That is what happened then.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovola): May I inform the member that, even before 1087, tobacco was being cultivated in South Travancore near Aramboly?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): That is what my friend said in the course of discussion on that occasion.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar-Vakil): Does the estimated profit of Rs. 400 per acre include the duty charged on tobacco?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I do not know. Duty has to be fixed only after we begin cultivation. There is no excise duty on tobacco cultivation at present.

And, the Excise Commissioner has replied as follows: On page 229 it is stated thus:—

"In view of the strong feeling that exists in the House, the Director of Agriculture will be asked by Government to make experiments in tobacco cultivation. If they produce promising results and if applicants for license thereafter come forward the question of framing rules under Section 31 of the Tobacco Regulation will be considered".

On that promise we relied. That promise was made in 1927, and now we are in 1937. It is clear that Government themselves admitted that it was a matter on which earnest attention would be paid and it would be their endeavour to ascertain whether tobacco could be successfully cultivated, and if so in which parts of the state it could be done. We were assured that after both these questions were decided, rules would be framed under Section 31 of the Tobacco Regulation.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar-Vakil): Does the member suggest that every body should be given the right to cultivate tobacco without any control?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, in the programme that I have stated I do not want to make any proposal which would bring down Government revenue. My main object is bringing forward this resolution is to see that we are enabled to carry on an industry, which it is possible to carry on in this country both for the purpose of minimising the drain on our revenue, due to the importing of tobacco, as well as to make our State self-sufficient as far as this product is concerned. We are now importing tobacco from Jaffna, Coimbatore and other places; and as a matter of fact we heard two days back how much leakage of revenue there was in tobacco revenue and how much advantage was being taken, by unscrupulous adventures on the frontier. There we are not able to collect any revenue on that head. Our State is getting Rs. 20 lakhs every year as revenue from tobacco. If, in our State, sufficient lands are available for its cultivation it would be possible for us not only to have enough tobacco for our use but we can export it as well. Now we mainly depend on Jaffna and Ceylon for tobacco; and we know that we are in competition with Ceylon with regard to our cocoanut products. The need for tobacco is so keenly felt that those who use it could not give up that practice. We have delayed too long in solving this emergent problem and the Government can have absolutely no excuse to offer for not framing the necessary rules to enable the people to carry on tobacco cultivation. Moreover, when this question was raised in the Public Accounts Committee last year, the members representing this House were told by the Government that "the rules regarding tobacco cultivation were being considered, and after they were passed applications for cultivation of tobacco will be considered". That promise was made out 8 months back; and we have heard nothing further. Under these circumstances I submit that Government should readily accept the spirit of my resolution and avoid further delay in this matter.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I have great pleasure in seconding the resolution moved by my friend Mr. Asan. I do not think there is any necessity to bring in further arguments to make this resolution acceptable to this House. Nor do I think that the Government will have any satisfactory explanation to offer for the delay caused in framing rules. But I wish to point out one thing at this juncture. When the Public Accounts Committee meets and raises questions and the Government gives satisfactory answers, we drop those questions on those assurances in the belief that the Government would be true to their words. But, Sir, we are now so pessimistic that I even doubt whether the rules have been framed at all. I was told at the sittings of the Public Accounts Committee that the Government were considering the rules. I am given to understand that the rules have not yet been framed. Whatever that be, I wish to point out the paramount necessity of investigating this question thoroughly for making it possible for us to experiment on this cultivation. We must ascertain also how many acres of land will be available for this cultivation. Sir, the Mysore Budget for this year reveals the potentialities of tobacco revenue, provided, the cultivation can be carried on successfully in the State. We find from their report that the Government of Mysore has found it possible to cultivate the best kind of Virginian tobacco in their State. They have also found out that about 1,00,000 acres of land are suitable for the cultivation in Mysore. They are investing very large sums of money on the scheme; and it has been found from the budget speech that the Government of Mysore places very high hopes on the possibilities of the success of tobacco cultivation in that State. Sir, there is absolutely no reason for this delay except the sloth of departments directly connected with this business and the lethargy of Government in this matter in spite of the repeated attempts on the part of the non-official side to bring to their attention this matter. Apart from the question of direct gain to the people and to the Government there is also the question of retaliating Ceylon for what she has done and is doing in regard to our cocoanut products. This is the only possible way of hitting her, however lightly it may be. Sir, the question of Government revenue has also to be considered in a matter like this. I do not think there will be any objection if Government propose by particular ways leasing out land or allowing cultivation of tobacco under a system of licenses. Those are all matters of detail. The Government have not yet moved in the matter. They have not yet worked out even the preliminaries. So, it is now too premature for us to discuss on those details. Firstly we must find out whether there are enough lands available for cultivation. Secondly, we must find out the possibilities of cultivating useful tobacco, for, the Excise Commissioner has often said that the people would not like the tobacco that we are to grow here, and that it would be impossible to get the taste of Jaffna tobacco as they adopt a special curing process. Sir, there is nothing like impossibility in this matter. It has been found possible by the Mysore Government to so cure tobacco that it could well compete with the flavour of pure Virginian type. I think, the Government will look into this question seriously and try to work out a practical scheme with a view to make it possible for the people and the Government to make a substantial gain from this new and profitable industry. In Mysore it has been proved to be a profitable industry. In some places in that State, I am told other crops are being displaced by tobacco. I do not know whether there is enough lands in our State suitable for tobacco cultivation. At any rate it requires serious consideration. With these words, I second the resolution moved by my friend Mr. Asan.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: In considering this resolution I hope honourable members will keep in view the fact that the Government have more than once promised to do whatever necessary to enable tobacco to be cultivated in Travancore. I say this because in the light of that fact discussions of a certain character may not be necessary. So, I propose to call upon the Excise Commissioner to make his statement.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): To begin with, I concede that as stated by Mr. Asan, the ban on the cultivation of tobacco in our State still continues, for all practical purposes. Mr. Asan has taken us through the early history of the proposal for permitting people to cultivate tobacco in the State and the action taken by Government from time to time in that direction. There is no use now in covering the same ground, or in narrating the various stages of the progress made towards the fulfilment of that objective. I would content myself with saying that the rules are very near being finally passed. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, in his speech was inclined even to disbelieve this, and to throw the blame at the Government that they are not true to the statement which they made before the Public Accounts Committee that they were considering the rules. I do not know on what authority Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai said that the rules had not been even framed.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The expression "considering the rules" bears two interpretations, (1) considering the rules before they are actually framed, and (2) considering the rules after they are made. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai expressed himself in good faith.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : What Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai specifically said was that according to his information the rules had not been framed. I may tell him and the other members of the House, that the rules were framed and published in the Government Gazette more than a year ago. I did not expect such a remark from a responsible member of the House.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : May I know the date of the Gazette in which the rules were published?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : I did not note down the date as I did not anticipate this question.

The draft rules were published with a view to invite objections or criticisms from the public as they relate to a very important matter, the cultivation of tobacco. If the cultivation of tobacco is not properly supervised and controlled the Government as well as the people will lose heavily. As I said two days ago, in reply to an interpellation, Government get over Rs. 21 lakhs as revenue from ordinary tobacco alone.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated) : Do the rules relate to the cultivation of Coimbatore tobacco alone or include Jaffna tobacco also?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : The rules relate to the cultivation of all kinds of tobacco. As a matter of fact, the difference between Coimbatore and Jaffna tobacco lies only in the method of curing.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Bural) : When it is cultivated will it not be Travancore tobacco?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : It is left to the people to grow whatever kind of tobacco they like.

As I said the rules were published with a view to invite criticisms. The Government waited, and nobody offered any new suggestion or criticisms. None of the honourable members who seem to be eager to see that the Government remove the ban, cared to go through the rules. To my knowledge, not a single criticism or observation has been received after the rules were published in the Government Gazette.

Mr. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know where was the difficulty for Government to finally pass the rules?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I am coming to that.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether any time limit was fixed for offering criticisms?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No. The draft rules were simply published inviting criticism.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I may intervene at this stage for a very definite purpose. Although the Excise Commissioner is not able to give the date, he knows that it has been published and the House will take his words as authoritative. But unless it is stated in the Gazette that the rules be confirmed and accepted only after a certain number of persons signified their assent there would be no good served in making any particular defence. The fact that nobody has objected means probably that the rules were drawn by very intelligent hands leaving nothing to be desired.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): How long is it since the rules were published?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): More than a year ago.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Why were the rules not finally adopted?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The rules were published, and the Government awaited criticism. No criticism was forthcoming. The rules as drafted were then referred to the Law Officers; they examined the rules and suggested certain modifications. The rules were then sent back to me. I have finally revised the rules and submitted them to Government. I think in the course of a few weeks the rules will be finally passed and published in the Gazette.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know whether the Department of Agriculture has been consulted at any stage before or after the framing of the rules?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The Department of Agriculture has expressed the opinion as to the suitability of the land for cultivation.

Before giving the power to cultivate tobacco Government wanted to know how far people will be able to take advantage of the privilege. But it was thought that that would delay matters further. So, it was decided to leave it to the people to select suitable places to start cultivation.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether the Commissioner had any idea as to the availability of suitable land in Travancore, at the time when he framed the draft rules?

Mr. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): I am not entirely devoid of all ideas in the matter.

Mr. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): If so, may I know the approximate extent of land available for cultivation in Travancore?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): That is a question for the people interested in the matter.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know ...

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: He said that he was not devoid of all information. That is to say, he knew that there were lands and he would leave it to the people to investigate and select suitable lands.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know whether he kept in his mind, when he drafted the rules, the question of availability of lands?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Rules are framed under the impression that there is land available for cultivation. That was the opinion of the then Director of Agriculture, read out by Mr. Damodaran Asan. There was no necessity for further investigation. We were more interested in passing the rules than in ascertaining the accurate extent of lands.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I wish to know whether, in pursuance of what the Excise Commissioner said in 1927 that Government will ask the Agricultural Director to carry on experiments, anything has been done?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): When the question was taken up by me it was considered whether we should have, before framing the rules, an experimental cultivation or whether we would frame the rules straight away and permit people to cultivate tobacco. Government decided that they would better pass the rules and leave the responsibility to the people. The rules will be passed in the course of a few weeks.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Honourable members fear that unless proper experiments are made, the producers may lose, as they have no experience in the matter.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know whether excise revenue is not going to be realised once the cultivation is started.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Even on tobacco grown in Travancore, excise duty will be levied; otherwise Government will lose their tobacco revenue.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): In that case how can free cultivation be allowed anywhere and every where?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Nobody said free cultivation will be allowed.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: In the light of what the Excise Commissioner has stated, that he considered the point of view of his department more than the agricultural possibility, and the opinion of the Director of Agriculture formerly as referred to by Mr. Damodaran Asan, he need not advert further to it.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): In the light of the statement, may I be permitted to say that the house is very anxious to know what the Director of Agriculture has to say on the matter?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Order, Order. I should certainly have allowed that question, if the Excise Commissioner had not stated that all those questions were considered by him. He has definitely said that he was only at the stage of framing the rules and he sent a draft to Government. In the light of what he has stated the point need not be urged.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod) : Sir, I would respectfully point out the desirability of this House knowing the opinion of the Director of Agriculture.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The House has to take its chance. There is no use of pursuing that question.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated) : May I know whether the Excise Commissioner is aware that tobacco grows in every part of Travancore?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : I am not aware of it, Sir.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated) : Is he aware of the fact that in every taluk, his subordinates are destroying tobacco every year?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : I am not aware of it either, Sir.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : May I know what are the restrictions that are imposed upon tobacco cultivation according to the rules?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : For the cultivation and curing of tobacco licenses will have to be taken.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Order, order. The resolution reads like this. "This Assembly recommends to the Government that the prohibition against the cultivation of tobacco be removed".

That is the sole question before the House. The rules may be good or bad. But all those discussions do not come in at this stage.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Sir, may I know whether the rules after they have been amended by the Law Member and scrutinised by the Excise Commissioner, were published in the Gazette?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : No, Sir.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : May I take it that that will be the final form?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : Yes.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : May I know whether it will be published for public criticism?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner) : Not likely.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Mr. S. J. Nair, I find an identical Resolution in your name. Do you propose to move that.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I do not move that. I support the resolution before the House.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Sir, the resolution before the House requires that the prohibition against the cultivation of tobacco be removed. The Excise Commissioner has pointed out that rules for the removal of the prohibition have been framed, and examined by the Law Officers and the Government and have almost taken the final shape. In the course of a week or two the rules will be finally passed and published in the Gazette. With the publication of the rules, the prohibition that now exists against the cultivation of tobacco will disappear. My friend Mr. Damodaran Asan will then have gained the object he has in view in moving this resolution. As far as the resolution is concerned it will be admitted therefore that the result is going to be satisfactory.

In the course of the discussion several other points have been raised, such as the suitability of the soils in Travancore for the cultivation of tobacco, the extent of land available for such cultivation, and the profit that may be derived from it. The promise made by the then Director of Agriculture and the then Excise Commissioner in 1927 that experiments on the cultivation of tobacco would be conducted and the results published for the information of the public, was also referred to. Sir, this question has been before the Government for the last several years. Much earlier than 1927 the question of cultivation of tobacco in Travancore used to be brought up at the sessions of the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly. The attitude of Government was that before full freedom was granted to the ryots for the cultivation of tobacco some experiments should be conducted to find out whether tobacco which was ordinarily consumed in Travancore could be produced here. The tobacco which is highly appreciated in Travancore is the Jaffna variety. No doubt, in South Travancore the so-called Tinnevely tobacco is being consumed. And in certain parts of Central and North Travancore the Coimbatore variety is consumed. But it will be admitted on all hands that the one variety that is most appreciated by a large section of the people in Travancore is the Jaffna variety. The question has been asked whether it will be possible to cultivate the Jaffna variety in Travancore. Mr. Sivathanu Pillai asked the Excise Commissioner whether he was aware of the cultivation of tobacco in Aramboly in former times. I am aware that tobacco was cultivated in Aramboly and it is now being cultivated beyond Aramboly, in the Tinnevely District. I admit that the variety that is being cultivated in Tinnevely could be cultivated on this side of Aramboly also. Though a certain amount of Tinnevely tobacco is being consumed in Travancore the variety that is largely in demand and highly appreciated is the Jaffna variety. Next to Jaffna, people prefer Coimbatore tobacco even to the Tinnevely variety. Whether these two varieties, Jaffna and Coimbatore which are largely in demand in Travancore could be cultivated is the point for consideration.

In 1927 I made the candid admission that I myself was not familiar with the process of cultivating and curing tobacco. I also pointed out that it was necessary to conduct experiments. The Excise Commissioner then agreed with me, and, on behalf of Government, he made a statement in the Council that the Director of Agriculture would be asked to conduct experiments. The matter remained there, and subsequently, Government thought that the demand for the cultivation of tobacco could be met by making rules granting permission to the people to cultivate it. The demand of the people was only for such permission. They thought that they could themselves cultivate tobacco without any experiment being conducted by Government and so they only asked for the removal of the ban on cultivation. Government therefore decided that they need not saddle the Department of Agriculture with the responsibility to conduct experiments.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Do the Government now propose to help the public by asking the Department of Agriculture to conduct experiments?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): If, after the rules are passed, gentlemen like Mr. Sivathanu Pillai who say that tobacco can be easily grown at Aramboly do not take to its cultivation, then the Department of Agriculture will have to be asked to conduct experiments and advise the people. In a couple of weeks the prohibition will be removed by the publication of the necessary rules.

Mr. G. Nilakantan asked whether tobacco was not being cultivated from Cape Comorin to Parur. He was an Assistant Excise Commissioner; he must have had occasion to pull out tobacco plants which he found growing in some places. Because he found a few such plants here and there, he says that tobacco can be cultivated from Cape Comorin to Parur. Tobacco plants may be growing luxuriantly near houses, but that does not mean that tobacco of the varieties required can be produced on a large scale.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Does the member know that in Coimbatore different varieties are now cultivated which did not exist previously?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Chief Secretary was speaking only of the tobacco grown in Travancore.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Coimbatore was growing only one variety formerly. Now there are one hundred varieties.

RAO BAHADUR RAJASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): That is no news to me. I know it as much as Mr. Nilakantan himself.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai has stated that Mysore is producing tobacco which is as good as Virginia. If by experiments it is found that the organisms necessary for curing will thrive in Travancore, Virginian variety of tobacco can be produced here also. All that I said in 1927, probably I had repeated it later on also, was this. The method of curing has to be studied if any variety of tobacco has to be cultivated here. It is not like the hill-men growing a plant or two near their huts.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Without an opportunity to cultivate how can we develop the industry?

RAO BAHADUR RAJASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There is no point of difference between Mr. Nilakantan and myself. Tobacco may grow—I do not hazard an opinion—anywhere in Travancore. Whether it will be possible to grow and produce the varieties that are in demand has to be experimented upon.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vellavankod): May I know whether Government, along with the promulgation of new rules, are prepared to open an experimental tobacco farm somewhere in South Travancore?

RAO BAHADUR RAJASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): In connection with the framing of the rules that question was not considered. After the rules have been passed and after some ryots have started cultivation, if they really find that they cannot get on without experiments being conducted by proper experts, Government may probably consider the question then. At present there is no such idea. All that Government have now been asked to do is to remove the ban on tobacco cultivation and that is proposed to be done by the publication of the rules.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): Should not Government teach cultivation to people who are willing to cultivate tobacco?

RAO BAHADUR RAJASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Government will do it if necessary. The present move is only for the removal of the ban on cultivation.

Now Sir, with regard to the profits, in 1927 I had supplied certain statistics and those figures hold good even now. Tobacco is a very exhausting crop. It cannot be cultivated in places where talpoca or cashew grows. It wants a deep loamy soil of good quality. In virgin forests where there is plenty of vegetable mould it will grow well. But in ordinary soils of barren laterite hill slopes, I am afraid, it will not grow successfully. In Aramboly and Nagercoil, one can grow tobacco, but the area available for the cultivation is limited. All the available dry lands there have been converted into wet lands. Unless one is prepared to give up paddy cultivation or cultivate tobacco in rotation with paddy on wet lands one cannot think of tobacco cultivation in South Travancore on a large scale. I am afraid the extent of lands available for tobacco cultivation in South Travancore is very limited.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Without undergoing all these troubles can we in Central Travancore grow tobacco?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The hills there are not fit for tobacco cultivation. My friend Mr. Krishna Pillai need not think of it for Karunagapally. It is full of coconut gardens and paddy fields and there is hardly any vacant land. If Mr. Krishna Pillai wants to make Rs. 400 per acre, I am afraid he has no chance.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Is it not possible to grow tobacco on the foot of coconut trees?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): It will not grow at the foot of any tree.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Does it require sunshine?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes. It wants a free open soil unimpeded by any other crop. If the land is good and is heavily manured, there is the possibility of getting a good crop. As I said in 1927, if you spend Rs. 400 on cultivation you may make a profit of Rs. 400 per acre.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tonala): Was Rs. 400 profit arrived at as a result of any experiment?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, from the experiments conducted elsewhere.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Was it, in relation to Travancore soil and Travancore conditions?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No. You can expect a profit of Rs. 400 per acre from tobacco cultivation if it is cultivated properly on suitable land.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): May I know whether, with Travancore soil and Travancore conditions, tobacco cultivation can promise to be a paying concern?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I said in 1927 that experiments must be conducted. We are now where we were in 1927. All that the Government propose to do in response to the persistent agitation of the people, is to remove the ban on the cultivation of tobacco. Even though the ban is going to be removed, there will be some restrictions to safeguard the Government revenue. As the Excise Commissioner pointed out Government now are getting a revenue of about Rs. 20 lakhs from tobacco. They cannot afford to lose it. Government are not going to allow tobacco cultivation from Cape Comorin to Parur. Blocks of suitable lands will have to be selected, licenses for cultivation issued and the cultivation conducted under the supervision of the Excise staff. These restrictions will be found in the rules. If later on any necessity for conducting experiments arises, the question will then be considered.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tiruvu): With these restrictions, do Government think that a large number of cultivators will be forthcoming?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I cannot say that. From the representations made on the floor of this House and at the sessions of the Sri Mulam Popular Assembly one should expect that a large number of people will rush in for licenses. Rules were published a year ago and criticisms were invited. No single individual has come forward so far with criticisms. It may either be that the rules are entirely satisfactory or that the people do not take interest in tobacco cultivation. But, if they do rush in, in spite of the restrictions in the rules, Government will have no objection to grant licenses.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalsulam II): May I know whether there are tobacco cultivation experts in Travancore?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: On the general question of the cultivation of tobacco there does not seem to be any difference of opinion between the Government and the non-official members. Some points were pressed on the attention of the House in the course of the discussion particularly the necessity of making experiments. The Government propose to pass the rules shortly, leaving it to the people to begin cultivation and perhaps burn their fingers. I heard a suggestion made that the Government will do well to authorise some experiments being conducted by Government experts. That is the only difference of opinion which I have heard.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): My resolution as it stands has been stated to be so simple that the Chief Secretary stated that it is going to be carried out within a week or two. It appears from what he said that he or the Government are not concerned with regard to the conducting of experiments and ascertaining whether the cultivation of tobacco will be successful. Sir, I sent this resolution in continuation of the discussion that took place in 1927. I claim to have done like that. What was stated then reads thus:

"In view of the strong feeling that exists in the House, the Director of Agriculture will be asked by Government to make experiments in tobacco cultivation. If they produce promising results and if applicants for license thereafter come forward the question of framing rules under Section 81 of the Tobacco Regulation will be considered."

So, when I brought forward this resolution I expected the Government to say that they have conducted experiments and that they have found the results to be satisfactory and that they were going to frame rules or that the experiments failed. Therefore if I just bring forward a resolution relating to the rules to remove the ban I think that question naturally will have to be answered according to the assurance given by the Government in 1927. Government are not prepared to conduct this experiment. They are prepared to have cocoanut demonstration and experimental farms in places where cocoanut trees will grow in plenty, paddy cultivation and demonstration farms where paddy cultivation is a proved success. If we want to have a new cultivation in our country which would naturally add to our national prosperity, the Government come forward and say that they will remove the ban and that the people may try at their own cost and waste money on experiments.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Will the member please refer to the undertaking of Government in 1927?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : It reads thus :

"In view of the strong feeling that exists in the House, the Director of Agriculture will be asked by Government to make experiments in tobacco cultivation. If they produce promising results and if applicants for license thereafter come forward the question of framing rules under Section 31 of the Tobacco Regulation will be considered."

This was the statement. So, I think even under my present resolution the Government are bound to tell us as to whether experiments were conducted, and, if not, why and as to how they are going to hold us in cultivating tobacco. It is really a big risk, and the Government are bound to put us on the way. They can conduct experiments. Here we have to take license, begin cultivation in a sufficiently extensive area so as to induce Government to have a special staff—controlling Excise staff. All that means a big investment. The Agricultural Department has to justify its existence and Government should see that their undertaking is carried out by conducting experiments. Therefore it is not a satisfactory answer to tell us at this stage that the ban for the cultivation of tobacco will alone be removed.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakil) : Therefore does the member suggest that the prohibition should continue even now because Government did not conduct experiments?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : I want the prohibition to be removed. Also I want Government to take necessary steps which would enable us to be benefitted by such removal.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Fakil) : So, until then, is it the member's opinion that prohibition should not be removed?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : No. That is not my point.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural) : Is it the member's point that the Government by issuing the rules or by proposing to issue the rules, are putting the cart before the horse? Does the member say that the Government have begun at the wrong end?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara) : My friend Mr. Thanu Pillai is quite correct, in his inference, now the Government have chosen to begin with the rules instead of beginning with experiments. There is absolutely no difficulty in having the rules framed and carrying on experiments. It would have been better if they had carried out the experiments and then framed the rules subsequently. There is absolutely no inconsistency or difficulty in the framing of rules after conducting experiments as in that case the rules could have been so framed in the light of the results of the experiment. I would be satisfied, though there has been such a delay of more than 25 years, after the Tobacco Regulation was passed, if the Government would, at least now, undertake to do all that is necessary to start successful tobacco cultivation in the State and assure us that the present undertaking would not be like that of 1927.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Without proper experiments being conducted, would not the ban still continue in effect, even though the rules are passed?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): May I know from the member whether the manufacture of salt, or the rules therefor, came first?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The member has sat down.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): What the resolution contemplates is the removal of the prohibition against the cultivation of tobacco. The resolution, as it stands, is accepted by Government. This is the resolution.

"This Assembly recommends to the Government that the prohibition against the cultivation of tobacco be removed".

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Apart from the technicalities of it, there is the further question regarding the experiments for the cultivation of tobacco. That is a separate question which the Government have to consider.

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The prohibition against the cultivation of tobacco will be removed subject to the rules to be passed and published within a week or two. The other question is not contained in this resolution.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know from the official member whether Government will think of helping the people in the cultivation of tobacco by starting experiments and trying to find out whether it is possible to do it.

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): May I say, Sir, that it will be considered.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I suppose Mr. Asan will be satisfied with that. The Chief Secretary on behalf of Government has stated that this question also will be considered.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I am not satisfied with mere consideration. Even definite promises of action, do not seem to be dependable.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: All that Mr. Asan can do is to press the motion to a division. I think there is a real difficulty. A division is not necessary because the Excise Commissioner, on behalf of Government, has accepted the resolution.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAM ASAN (Mavelikkara): He has not accepted the spirit of the resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The word "prohibition" may mean legal prohibition or practical prohibition. That is the sense in which Mr. Asan, as I understood him, used the word in the course of his speech. Certain members have raised the point as to the cultivation being profitable. The necessity of Government conducting experiments was also mentioned. I thought, whatever be the technicality, it would be good that Government gave an encouraging answer. It was therefore that I gave a second chance to Government. Technically all that Mr. Asan can do is to press the motion to a division. But when a resolution, as it stands, has been accepted by Government can it be put to vote?

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I may be permitted to move the resolution standing against my name, along with the present resolution so that the whole difficulty will be removed. Both resolutions can be put together.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAM ASAN (Mavelikkara): It was suggested by the Chair to Mr. S. J. Nair that he might move his resolution along with this.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: But he did not take advantage of the suggestion offered by the Chair.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I took advantage of it. I supported the resolution on the ground that there was a resolution standing against my name. That is the reason why I submit for the kind consideration of the Chair that this resolution may be put along with my resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I cannot accept that suggestion in the light of what has transpired. I gave Mr. S. J. Nair a chance. But Mr. S. J. Nair did not take advantage of it. If he had done that he could have persuaded the House to adopt it, by adding one or two words. I called pointed attention to Mr. S. J. Nair's resolution. All that Mr. S. J. Nair did then was to stand up and say that he supported this resolution. For that reason, I hold that the present request made by Mr. S. J. Nair cannot be allowed.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): That resolution can be taken up only in the order in which it comes.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Can we take up Mr. S. J. Nair's resolution now.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Honourable members are expected to listen to what falls from the Chair.

Mr. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I want to clear my doubt.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: There is no prospect of the doubt being cleared just now. The point on which I wish to get advice is this vis., whether, when a resolution which has been moved and seconded is accepted by Government without any amendment, it is necessary for the Chair to put it to vote? Is there any rule or ruling relating to that question?

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vaki): Technically the resolution has to be put to vote. There may be members who may vote against it.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, I press the motion.

The resolution was put to vote and carried.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vaki): Sir, I demand a poll.

A poll was taken and the House divided as follows:—

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. S. J. Nair wishes to move resolution No. 26 standing against his name. But I cannot permit him unless the House authorises me to pass over the other resolutions and come to that.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): By passing over to resolution No. 26 the other resolutions must not be lost sight of.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I request that resolution No. 26 may be taken up now.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Sir, the proposal is out of order. The order of resolutions is decided by ballot and they must be taken up in the order fixed by the ballot. It can otherwise be done if at all only with the unanimous consent of the House. It is not open to any member to change the order. Of course, the opinion of the House may be ascertained. There should not be a single dissentient.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to a point of order. The Chair suggested that if any member proposes, this may be taken up; the Chair has left the matter to be decided by the House, so that no question of unanimity arises. It is therefore not open to the Law Member to rule out what the Chair has said and say that there must be unanimity.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Let me see the rules.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Mr. S. J. Nair will please point out the rule or Standing Order upon which he relies.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Varelikara): I will just draw the attention of the House to Standing Order 8, Paragraph 24 on page 16 of the Manual.

Paragraph 24, clause (6) of the Assembly Manual says:

"The relative precedence of notices of resolutions given by the non-official members shall be determined by ballot to be held in accordance with the procedure set out in Schedule I.

Provided that the President may, from time to time make such variations in the said procedure as he may consider necessary or convenient."

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: "President" used there does not mean the person presiding here. It refers to the President.

Mr. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): What that rule says is that ordinarily precedence is determined by ballot; but, the President may order any other procedure to determine the order. But here the procedure of ballot has already been adopted. The rule quoted does not apply to the precedence already fixed by following any procedure.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Where is the rule authorising for any motion to be moved in advance. It is for Mr. S. J. Nair to satisfy the House with regard to this right by showing the relevant rule.

Mr. S. J. Nair:—On the suggestion of the Chair I made this motion; and I attach much importance and value to the orders of the Chair, Sir. (Laughter).

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: When the Chair said that, it only means, reasonably, ie, if the rules warrant, of such a procedure, attention may be drawn to it. I did so for the luxury of doing a kindly office to Mr. S. J. Nair. Because the Chair raised that suggestion it does not mean that all rules of procedure are to be abrogated. If Mr. S. J. Nair had called my attention to the rule which justified his position I should have considered such a procedure.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE MINOR IRRIGATION COMMITTEE.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I beg to move the following resolution:

"This Assembly recommends to the Government that all the recommendations of the Minor Irrigation Committee be accepted and immediate steps be taken to carry them out."

Sir, the question of improving and giving facilities for paddy cultivation, by the construction and carrying out of irrigation works, has been brought to the notice of Government on a number of occasions, and, in January 1930, an adjournment motion was moved by my friend Mr. N. K. Krishna Pillai, in the Legislative Council, on this matter, and the Government promised to appoint a Committee to enquire into this problem of minor irrigation. The Minor Irrigation Committee was constituted accordingly, and that Committee has submitted its report to the Government; and the Government order on that report was passed on the 7th December 1931, that is, more than 5 years back. One or two recommendations of the Committee have been partly accepted and acted upon by the Government. But such partial execution of those recommendations has not in any way improved the conditions of the working of the Irrigation Department. The main difficulty that was experienced with regard to the reconstruction and repair of the irrigation works was that the provisions contained in the Irrigation Regulation of 1972 were being strictly adhered to by the Government for the purpose of levying irrigation cess and for the recovery of the cost of irrigation works. As a result of that much delay was caused in the carrying out of the execution of irrigation works. That was the main difficulty that was experienced. Another difficulty was that the Government was not allotting sufficiently large amounts for the carrying out of irrigation works; and there was no special branch of the P. W. D. to promptly carry out the works for which funds have been allotted. So the Committee recommended that a special irrigation fund must be constituted and that every year Rs. 5 lakhs must be earmarked for that fund. It was also stated by the Committee that the provisions for the levy of the irrigation cess prescribed in the Irrigation Regulation must be suspended, and that the recoveries of the cost must be also suspended until all the necessary irrigation works are carried out. The recommendation for the constitution of a separate Irrigation Division in the P. W. D. has been carried out and an Irrigation Fund has also been constituted with an initial allotment of 5 lakhs of rupees. But both these steps will in no way advance the work of the Irrigation Department so long as the provisions in the Regulation are not amended. It would be found that the Irrigation Regulation of 1972 makes certain provisions for the carrying out of petty and minor irrigation works. For these works to be done, such as the repair or construction of canals or tanks, people have to apply to the Government and on the receipt of those applications the Division Peishkar is to publish that an application has been received for the carrying out of a work, that such and such lands would be benefited if these irrigation works are carried out, and that it is open to parties interested to raise objections if any, to the execution of such works. After such publication, if no objections are received, the people who are to be benefited by the works are asked to consent in writings to the execution of such works. Then the plans and estimates for such works are prepared and sent to Government. After that the work is carried out and the lands benefited by the works will be charged, i.e. the owners of such lands will have to repay to Government the whole or part of the cost or the Government will be entitled to realise from the ryots a cess at six per cent on the amount spent by the Government. All this procedure necessarily takes a long time; and we would find that though this Irrigation Department has been formed years ago, they have not carried out any appreciable number of irrigation works on account of this cumbersome procedure. This fact has been admitted by the Government as well. I will only draw the attention of this House to two statements made by Government when the adjournment motion of Mr. N. K. Krishna Pillai was considered in the Legislative Council. Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai, who was the Director of Agriculture then stated in the course of the discussion on the motion thus:

"I do not blame the Council. The Government are responsible for spending the money allotted to the Engineering Department. While they are engaged in other important works minor irrigation is probably neglected. Mr. Vipen has pointed out the defects in the Irrigation Regulation. The old Regulation of 1922 requires modification. Under the Regulation when a minor irrigation tank has to be repaired the people of the locality have to agree to contribute half the cost of the restoration and the Dewan Peishkar should enquire and satisfy himself about the necessity of repairing the tank. Then the P. W. D. should prepare an estimate that should go to the Government and notification should appear in the Gazette. Then the estimate should go back to the P. W. D. for the execution of the work. It takes a long time to go through all these processes and that is why the execution of works is being delayed."

The Minor Irrigation Committee so early as 1930 made this recommendation:

"... We strongly recommend that in order to give a fillip to the development of Irrigation and to restore as much as possible the prosperity of the Agricultural population, Government should waive their rights to the recovery of a contribution towards the cost, or of a cess based on the cost of the work until further notice."

I will draw the attention of the House to another important statement contained in another official record, namely, the proceedings of the first meeting of the Board of Agriculture in Travancore on the 6th Edavam 1111:

"The entire cost of constructing and maintaining all the minor and petty irrigation works has to be met by the Government discontinuing the present practice of recovering a share from the ryots benefited by the work."

Sir, I refer to these official documents to show that even those official documents do not carry much weight. When the matter of carrying out the recommendations had seriously to be taken up, this Irrigation Committee was constituted. A large amount of public revenue was spent on it. About half of the members of the Committee were Heads of Departments and they had made this recommendation more than five years ago. That recommendation, particularly with reference to the main defect in the carrying out of irrigation works, has not been carried out by them. The Board of Agriculture from which much was promised but only little expected by some of us has also made a similar recommendation.

The first step that appears to have been taken by Government to amend the Irrigation Regulation was the publication of the Irrigation Regulation Amendment Bill on 23rd November 1936, that is to say, after these resolutions were sent to Government. Nothing further was done. I want to lay emphasis upon this aspect because that part is the most important matter connected with the execution of irrigation work and the present provisions really stand in the way of the progress of these works. I would also draw the attention of this House to another important fact. When this Irrigation Regulation of 1912 was discussed in the Council, it was definitely assured that though there are these provisions for the levying of cess and recovery of cost they were not seriously intended to be applied as a source of revenue for Government. This is what was stated by the member in charge of the Bill at that time :—

"There appears to be an impression that the main object of this Bill is to throw upon the shoulders of the ryots more responsibilities in regard to the construction, restoration and maintenance of irrigation works than ever before. Some of the apparently coercive provisions of the Bill may have led to this view ; but as a matter of fact, the effect of the Bill is to considerably widen the sphere of the State's obligation and circumscribe the well-understood, if largely neglected, duties of the ryots."

So it was assumed that though these provisions are there, they will not be enforced so as to increase the burden of the ryots. Even then, the Irrigation Regulation Amendment Bill does not in any way advance the cause of irrigations. All that the Amendment Bill provides is that the Petty Irrigations would hereafter be called Minor Irrigation and the maintenance of these irrigation would also be taken up by Government. What I beg to submit is that in view of all these circumstances it is high time that the Government should suspend the procedure contained in the Irrigation Regulation and see that these works are carried out as if they are P. W. D. works. That is what was suggested by the Irrigation Committee also. They say,

"Until further notice, the procedure to be adopted for the construction and restoration of Minor Irrigation Works outside Kuttanad and the area covered by the Kodayar Project shall be the same as for ordinary works coming under the head P. W. Proper."

[Mr. A. S. Damodaran Asan.]

If anybody looks into the Government Records, he will find that, even for the improvement of a canal costing Rs. 100 or Rs. 200 this procedure is being followed, with the object of recovering one half of the cost of the execution of the works from the ryots, or with the object of levying cess at the rate of 6 per cent. on the amount spent by Government. The main point to which I wish to draw the attention of Government is that the provisions in the Irrigation Regulation referred to above must be suspended. Otherwise, the separate staff for irrigation costing about Rs. 60,000 annually on it, is going to be a waste. With these words, I move the resolution.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Sir, I second the motion. The two main recommendations in the Minor Irrigation Committee Report are that a separate P. W. D. Irrigation Division should be established and that an Irrigation Fund should be created. Sir, these recommendations were made with a view to expedite the execution of minor irrigation works. It will be seen that, though these recommendations have been acted upon, the minor irrigation works, chiefly the restoration and improvement of irrigation tanks, have not been executed. There is a large number of irrigation tanks all over the State, and especially in Trivandrum Division, in the taluks of Chirayinkil and Nedumangad. There is a large number of irrigation tanks in Chirayinkil. There are about 120 irrigation tanks. Not a single tank has hitherto been improved. So is the case with Nedumangad also. Though the taluks of Chirayinkil and Nedumangad belong to the Trivandrum Division, only the taluks of Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara have been attended to by the Department. I do not say that those taluks should be neglected. I only say that the other two taluks also belong to this Division; but they have been neglected by the Minor Irrigation Department.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod I): Is it not because, from the standpoint of irrigation, these taluks are not so very important?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): It is not so, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Minor Irrigation Committee was appointed because specific representations were made, in the old Assembly, from these taluks.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Representations have been made from Chirayinkil and Nedumangad also. It will mean the neglect of paddy cultivation. Without improving these irrigation tanks, people cannot irrigate and cultivate their fields, and get sufficient yield. So, my submission is that proper attention should be paid in the immediate future to these taluks also.

Another question I have to refer to in this connection is with regard to the Remission Rules. It was recommended by this committee that Government should see that those rules are made applicable to all parts of the State.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: How does it come under Minor Irrigation?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): That is one of the recommendations of the committee. That recommendation has not been taken up yet. There was the real necessity for that.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is the member aware that a resolution was passed in the Assembly to that effect?

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): Yes. Still Government are neglecting that. With these words, I second the resolution.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I also rise to support the resolution. I wish to draw pointed attention to one fact. The Minor Irrigation Committee was appointed by Government mainly for the purpose of considering the problem of minor irrigation and also to make proposals for the amendment of the Regulation of 1972. It is stated in the terms of reference:

"To submit proposals to amend the existing Irrigation Regulation III of 1972 and the Rules thereunder in order to facilitate the progress of Irrigation Works."

The difficulty of the working of the Irrigation Department was pointed out by the Chief Engineer, and he pointed out the existing defect in the Irrigation Regulation and Rules. Therefore, I consider that the change or the suitable amendment of the Irrigation Regulation, is the most important matter that ought to have received the earnest attention of Government. On the submission of the proposals by the Committee, Government have been pleased to convey their cordial thanks to the chairman and members of the committee for their valuable work. Government have considered the work of the Irrigation Committee valuable. I wish to know what stood in their way in moving an amendment of the Irrigation Regulation as suggested by the Committee. Whether Government propose to constitute a separate Irrigation Division, whether they decide to undertake the whole expenditure or whether they decide to do ever so many other things for the ryots—nothing could be achieved easily without an amendment to the Regulation. Sir, we are now able only to make a recommendation by this resolution. This resolution is really a condemnation of the lethargy of Government. We require an explanation why Government did not take action.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: May I just give you a piece of information? The Trivandrum Irrigation Committee also recommended the same thing long before the recent committee.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I think on the whole Government ought to satisfy this House why there was an inordinate delay for such a necessary work for which proposals have been made. I demand an explanation from the Government on the matter.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Viluvankod): Sir, even six years after the Minor Irrigation Committee reported, we still find that many of the important and urgent recommendations of that committee remain unattended. That does not speak to the credit of any Government worth its name.

[Mr. Pacode A. Narayana Pillai.]

One of the most important recommendations of the Committee is that in order to relieve the ryots from the very heavy burden they were labouring under, liberal remissions should be allowed to them. Sir, whatever might have been the historical reasons which led to the differential treatment of different parts of the State, no justification exists at present to continue such a differentiation. I refer to the treatment that is meted out to the southermost portion of the State, that is Nanjinad, which is served by the Kodayar Project. Compare the treatment meted out to Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara with that of Shencotta. We find from the Minor Irrigation Committee report that the tank restoration scheme for Shencotta was taken up on condition that the ryots need not pay for the benefits conferred upon them. On the other hand for the tank restoration scheme that was started for Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara, the condition was that the people benefited should contribute half the cost of the works. Then again, in the commanded area, there is no minor irrigation work. People have been generally benefited by the Kodayar Project. They need not make any half contribution. But the Government have introduced water cess. I quite realise that in the olden days there was what was called the Kulam Maramat Department working in Tovala, Agastisvaram, Kalkulam and partly in Kramol. But after the Kodayar Project came into force in the place of this department, we find that the people were still making the contribution to the State. This is a historical accident. Such a treatment should not at all obtain any longer. In the taluks of Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara, the promise made by the Government in the pre-project days was that the question of tax will be considered by the Government after the right bank channel was completed. That was the definite promise of Government. We find such an undertaking even in the pattas granted to the ryots. Even after such a long period we find that the interests of these two taluks have been completely neglected by Government. I ask what the Government have done to these two taluks to solve their irrigation problem.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I ask whether the right bank channel has been completed?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): Even the man who runs can see it. It was not even begun. The question arose whether there was sufficient water in the reservoir for both channels. So the scheme was dropped.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Is the right bank channel relevant to the question of minor irrigation tanks?

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): When we consider the question of minor irrigation in these two taluks we cannot but refer to the neglect on the part of Government in not opening the right bank channel. The Engineering authorities were suggesting an alternative scheme even during the project days.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether there is any recommendation by the Minor Irrigation Committee regarding the right bank channel?

MR. PACODE A. MARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): I do not think I need labour much to establish the affinity between the two topics. The Minor Irrigation Committee reported about facilities for ryots having open lands. The major works that were contemplated for Neyyattinkara and Vilavankod could not be taken up by the committee. The problem of Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara is essentially a minor irrigation problem. Government should not lose any more time in tackling this all important problem of irrigation for the two taluks of Vilavankod and Neyyattinkara.

Sir, in the place of the sympathy which the Government are legally as well as morally bound to show what do we find? Under the tank restoration scheme started by Government, Government are realising half-contribution from the ryots.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Is the member aware that in Appendix C of the report, it has been stated that the area commanded by the Kodayar Project is outside the scope of the Committee?

MR. PACODE A. MARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): That is also my contention. We are now at minor irrigation and not the Kodayar Project. The levying of half contribution from the ryots for the tanks restored or maintained by Government, works very great hardship on the ryots of these two taluks. Sir, in these days of economic depression when the ryots do not get enough even to pay the taxes, we find that Government are not willing to make any remission of the contribution. Government are rigorously levying the contribution to the very last pie. When there was drought in 1110 and 1111, Government were trying to realise half contribution from the ryots. This is a matter that ought to engage the attention of Government at a very early date and something tangible should be done in the interests of the agriculturists of these two taluks.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I support the resolution. Four different systems of paddy cultivation are in vogue in Travancore. One is the panja cultivation, for which there is no question of irrigation.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: That is so well known. You need not state that.

The House will now adjourn and meet again at 11 O'Clock tomorrow.

The House adjourned at 5 P.M.

P. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI,
Secretary to the Sri Mulam Assembly.

of
THE TRAVANCORE SRI MULAM ASSEMBLY.

(OFFICIAL REPORT)

FIRST ASSEMBLY,

NINTH SESSION.

Friday, the 27th February 1937/16th Kumbham 1112

The Assembly met again in the Victoria Jubilee Town Hall at Eleven of the Clock, with the President in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Amendment to the Remission Rules.

334. *Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have considered the recommendation of the Minor Irrigation Committee, in para 83 of their report, for amending the Remission Rules so as to be applicable to all parts of the State; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the date on which the report was received and the result of the consideration?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) 4-10-31. Government have sanctioned the extension of seasonal remissions with certain modifications to Kayal areas in the State when crops are destroyed by the breaching of bunds. Modification of the Remission Rules now in force is not considered necessary by Government.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know from the Government whether the recommendation contained in para 83 of the Minor Irrigation Committee Report namely, that the necessity for making these rules sufficiently elastic so as to be applicable under the varying conditions throughout the State may be referred to the Land Revenue Commissioner for full examination and report, was acted upon?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dr. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir. It was referred to the Commissioner. His reply was that there was no necessity to relax the rules and to make them applicable throughout the State. In regard to Kayal areas he said that there was necessity to make provision for remission when the cultivation failed on account of the breaching of the bunds; and necessary provision for that has been made in the rules. Regarding the application of the rules throughout the State the necessity was not felt and therefore it was not done.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Muvattupuzha): Is it the opinion of the Government, or of the Revenue Commissioner that where there is a complete failure of crops for causes beyond the control of the ryots no remission need be granted under the rules framed by them?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There is no necessity to make general rules for that purpose. If there is complete failure of crops under exceptional circumstances each application will be considered on its merits and necessary remission granted.

Revenue and expenditure in the Ambalapuzha taluk.

335. MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the approximate amount of revenue from various sources that is being collected annually from the Ambalapuzha taluk; and

(b) the amount spent on public works in the taluk for the last five years?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) A taluk-war statement showing the revenue (including all items of revenue) and expenditure is not available.

(b) Rs. 1,00,334 for 1107 M. E.

„ 1,40,542 „ 1109 „

„ 85,852 „ 1111 „

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question may I know the nature of the public works done in the taluk?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Improvement of roads and irrigation canals and other public works.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Was any new work started?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): In view of the interest displayed by several members on this side of the House, may I know whether Government feel the necessity of getting a taluk-war statement of accounts of the various items of revenue?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): There is practical difficulty in keeping taluk-war statements for all items of revenue. If it is a question of land revenue accounts the statements are already there. In regard to revenues under Excise, Customs, Stamps, Registration fees etc., it is impossible to keep taluk-war accounts.

Copyists in the Magistrates' Courts.

336. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) how many qualified copyists there are in the Magistrates' Courts in the State;

(b) how many clerks were confirmed in the Revenue Department in the State in the years 1110, 1111 and 1112 M. E., (till 15-3-1112);

(c) how many qualified copyists who had acting clerks' service were included in the list of those clerks who have been confirmed in the years 1110, 1111 and 1112 (till 15-3-1112);

(d) if the answer to part (c) is in the negative, the reason or reasons for not confirming the copyists who have acted as clerks;

(e) how many acting clerks in the lowest grade there were on 1-2-1112;

(f) how many of those acting places were given to the duly qualified permanent copyists;

(g) if the answer to part (f) is in the negative, the reason or reasons for not giving the permanent copyists promotion as acting clerks; and

(h) whether the claims of permanent qualified copyists who have acted as clerks have been considered in filling up the vacancies of clerks?

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner):

(a) 54.

(b) 31 in the grade of Rs. 20-25.

(c) 5.

(d) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (c).

(e) 73.

(f) 8.

(g) This does not arise in view of the answer to part (f).

(h) Yes.

337. *MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state whether there are still arrears of kudivila of teak trees to be paid from 1088 onwards?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Yes. But the arrears are being considerably reduced year after year, and there were only 719 claims actually pending settlement towards the close of 1111 M. E. Most of these claims relate to the fellings made after 1100 and are pending under various stages of investigation and settlement, and for the production of records, etc. by the parties. In the majority of cases the pendency is due to the parties.

338. *MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have accorded administrative sanction to cut open the Pattanamad Cross Canal;

[Mr. Edavanatt S. Padmanabha Menon]

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, whether any action has been taken by the Public Works Department to take up the work immediately;

(c) whether they are aware of an offer made by the Pattanam Canal Committee to undertake the digging of this canal at one third of its estimated cost provided the Government acquire the sites necessary for the same; and

(d) whether any action has been taken on this representation?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes,

(b) No, for want of funds.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes, an undertaking was taken to that effect and necessary detailed estimate has been prepared and sanctioned.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): What is the estimated cost for the acquisition of the necessary site for the canal?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The total cost is altogether Rs. 18,900 including the cost of acquisition. Separate figures regarding cost of acquisition are not readily available.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know whether administrative sanction for the scheme was given in 1111 or 1112?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It was given in September 1936.

Maintenance of the Alleppey-Aroor Road.

339. *MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the amount spent by the Public Works Department for the maintenance of the Alleppey-Aroor road in 1110 and 1111;

(b) the maintenance amount spent in 1111 per mile for the main central road and for a mile of the Alleppey-Aroor road; and

(c) whether they are aware of the very bad condition of the Alleppey-Aroor road?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Rs. 12,481 in 1110 and Rs. 12,941 in 1111

(b) Rs. 421 per mile for the main central road and Rs. 454 per mile for Alleppey-Aroor road.

(c) The road is getting worn out on account of traffic and steps have been taken to get the damaged portions repaired.

Improvement of canals in Shertala.

340. *MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Will the Government be pleased to state;

(a) whether they have received any representation urging the necessity of deepening and improving Thankey canal, Ariparambu canal and Pallitodu canal in Shertala; and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, what action has been taken in the matter?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government):

(a) Yes, regarding Aripambur canal and Pallitodu but no representation about Thanky canal.

(b) Preliminary investigations regarding the two todus have been conducted.

Railway freight on cocoanuts.

341. *MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kannad I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the freight realised by the railway authorities from Quilon and Kundara Railway Stations in 1110 and 1111 for taking cocoanuts to Madras;

(b) whether any concession in freight was allowed by the railway authorities for the same, if so, what; and

(c) who made negotiations with the railway authorities to secure this concession in freight for the cocoanuts exported from these stations?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) There was no export of cocoanuts direct to Madras from Quilon or Kundara in 1110. The total amount of freight realised in 1111 on cocoanuts exported to Madras from Quilon Railway Station was Bh. Rs. 5958-8-3, and that realised in the Kundara Station was Bh. Rs. 14742-12-0.

(b) During the year 1111, the normal freight of Bh. Rs. 1-9-6 per maund of cocoanuts exported from Quilon to Madras was reduced as a concession to annas 12 per maund. The Railway freight has been reduced from Bh. Rs. 1-4-4 to annas 12 per maund for cocoanuts booked in waggon loads from Kundara direct to Madras.

(c) Government have not been informed by the Railway Company.

MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kannad I): May I know, with reference to the answer to part (c), of the question whether Government tried to ascertain who made the negotiation?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): No, Sir.

Road from Kumarapuram market to Tamanam on Cochin Frontier.

342. *MR. T. K. ALEXANDER (Kannad I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) what action has been taken on the representation made for opening a road from Kumarapuram market in the Kannad taluk to Tamanam on the Cochin frontier; and

(b) what would be the cost for opening the same?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) A preliminary investigation was conducted and it was found that the road proposed would cost a heavy sum. As there are other more urgent roads to be opened in the taluk, no further action has been taken in the matter.

(b) Rs. 75,000 approximately.

Foot-bridge on the Todupuzha-Kanjiramattam road.

343. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) whether the foot-bridge across the stream in the Todupuzha - Kanjiramattam road was washed off during the last monsoon;
- (b) if so, what is the loss they have sustained; and
- (c) whether a suitable bridge was sanctioned there?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) About Rs. 75.

(c) No.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): May I know whether any bridge was constructed in the place?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): An estimate is being sanctioned.

Anchal Master of the Kanakappalam Anchal Office.

344. *MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Permade II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) the name of the Anchal Master of the Kanakappalam Anchal Office (ordered to be shifted to Erumeli Petah);
- (b) the date of his appointment as Anchal Master;
- (c) whether he had any other work or employment and, if so, the distance between the Kanakappalam Office and the place of his other employment at first;
- (d) whether he has any other employment at present;
- (e) if the answer to part (d) is in the affirmative, the place and the name of the institution in which he is now employed and the distance between the Kanakappalam Anchal Office and the place of his present employment; and
- (f) the time fixed for the receipt and despatch of Anchal bags from and to the other offices before and at present?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) K. C. Cheriyan

(b) 1.11.1102.

(c) He was employed as acting Head Master in the V. P. School, Erumeli. The distance to the School from the original Kanakappalam Anchal Office is about 1 1/2 miles.

(d) Yes.

(e) Head Master V. P. School, Erumeli. The distance between the school and the Kanakappalam Anchal Office now located at Erumeli is about one furlong.

(f) Former Time Table.

|              | Arrival.    | Despatch. |
|--------------|-------------|-----------|
| Kanakappalam | ...         | 8 A. M.   |
| Kanakappalam | ... 4 P. M. |           |

Present Time Table.

|                            | Arrival         | Despatch   |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------|
| Kanakkappalam(Erumeli) | ...             | 7-30 A. M. |
| Kanakappalam(Erumeli)  | ... 12-35 P. M. |            |

345. * MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any illiterate member nominated to the Kottayam Municipal Council; and

(b) whether they have received any complaint regarding any member of that council from the President at any time?

RAO BHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) No.

(b) No.

Nagampadam Bridge at Kottayam.

346. * MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the date on which the Nagampadam Bridge at Kottayam was constructed;

(b) the length of the bridge;

(c) the width of the bridge actually available for traffic;

(d) the width of the bridge from girder to girder;

(e) the reason why a portion is left useless;

(f) whether originally the whole width was used;

(g) if so, what made Government to reduce the width;

(h) whether there is a foot-path for this bridge;

(i) whether it is safe for pedestrians to walk along this foot-path;

(j) whether any plank is missing on the foot-path;

(k) whether the bridge has a concrete platform or wooden platform; and

(l) whether the bridge is broad enough for vehicles to pass each other on it?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) About 60 years ago.

(b) 312 ft.

(c) 7 ft. 6 inches for wheeled traffic and 4 ft. 4 inches for pedestrian traffic.

(d) 10 ft.

(e) As the iron girders are not safe for taking the full load.

(f) Yes.

(g) Vide answer to part (e).

(h) Yes.

(i) Yes.

[Mr. K. Madhava Kurup]

- (j) No.
- (k) Wooden plat-form.
- (l) No. It is intended only for one line traffic.

The South Indian Railway Advisory Board.

347. *MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): (1) Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) when was the last sitting of the South Indian Railway Advisory Board;
- (b) the subjects discussed;
- (c) whether the Travancore Government nominee made any particular representation; and
- (d) if so, what it was?

(2) Will the Government be pleased to place a copy of the proceedings of the Advisory Board, or at any rate the portion of it dealing with Travancore questions, on the table?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMY AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government):

(1) (a) On 30th January 1937.

(b) (v) and (z) The member is referred to the answer to part (2) infra.

(2) An *extract from the minutes of the meeting relating to questions moved by the Travancore Member is placed on the table.

Trans. of salt from Tamarakulam.

348. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) the distance between Tamarakulam group of salt factories and Trivandrum by land route;
- (b) the cost of transporting by existing land route one bag containing two maunds of salt from Tamarakulam salt factory to Trivandrum; and
- (c) the cost of transporting the same quantity of salt by canal or backwaters for an equal distance?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner):

(a) 50 miles.

(b) It is reported that the rate for one bag may come to about 8 annas.

(c) The rate may not exceed two annas per bag.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): May I know the cost of transporting one bag of two maunds of salt, by sea?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): It varies from year to year and will depend on the rates quoted by the tenderers. Ordinarily, it may be taken to be Rs. 4 per bag.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): If it can be transported for 4 as. by sea may I know why merchants transport by land routes at a cost of 8 as?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): Government have nothing to do with that. That is for the merchants to look into.

Laying of water pipes along the Brigade Lane Road, Kunnukuzhi.

349. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the time taken to lay the water pipes along the Brigade Lane Road, Kunnukuzhi;

(b) the date on which the above work was started; and

(c) the number of water taps erected in the lane and the time taken to put them up?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) One month and eleven days for laying the water pipes and a further period of one month and thirteen days for testing, backfilling and restoring the road.

(b) 9-4-1111.

(c) Three. Of these two are in service now. The erection of fountains was taken up in 4/12 and completed in 5/12 except for the platform of one of them.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): May I know the expenditure incurred for this work?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I claim notice.

Improved Main Central Road.

350. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether they contemplate having an improved main central road from Cape Comorin to Ernakulam via Quilon and Mavelikara, and paving the same with cement concrete?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No.

Smuggling on the Northern Frontier.

351. *MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the present condition of the Illikkotta reserve on the northern frontier;

(b) how far it serves as a barrier against smugglers; and

(c) whether there is any proposal to protect the northern frontier with barbed wire fencing, to check smuggling?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): (a) The bamboos in the Illikkotta reserve flowered and perished in 1102. Though attempts have been made to replant the area with fresh bamboo plants, they do not thrive.

[Mr. C. O. Madhavan].

(b) Now it does not serve as an effective barrier against smugglers.

(c) The proposal is under consideration.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): May I know the amount spent for re-planting bamboo in the Illikkotta Reserve on the northern frontier, in the year 1102?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): The Illikkotta or bamboo fortress, as it is called flowered in 1102; and thereafter there is no fortress there. Since then, Government have been trying to replant and spend some money for the purpose. Watchers were engaged, but not solely for replanting bamboos; they had to guard the frontier and also to replant bamboos.

MR. PAGODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know whether the Government tried to plant as they did in the eastern frontier?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): That was not attempted.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know whether bamboo fencing is an effective barrier against smugglers?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): It was an effective barrier when it was in existence.

Piece-work schedule of the Government Press.

352. * MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): (1) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the Piece-work Schedule of the Government Press current when Government order R. Dis. No. 1130 of 25 Judicial, dated 6th/9th May 1925 was given; and

(2) will they be pleased to state:

(a) whether any alterations have been made in it since then;

(b) what those alterations, if any, are and

(c) whether, when, and by what order those alterations were sanctioned by Government?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (1) A copy of the Piece-work Schedule brought up to-date is placed on the Secretary's table;

(2) (a) Yes.

(b) and (c). The member is referred to the Schedule.

Particulars re : the piece-work done by employees of the Government Press.

353. * MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing for each of the months of Karkatakam 1111 and Chingam and Kanni 1112:

(a) the number of lines set up by the piece-workers;

(b) the number of hours of authors' correction done by them;

(c) the number of formes imposed by them;

- (d) the number of lines in standing pages altered by them ;
 (e) the charges computed by the Press for each of the above items ;
 (f) the amounts objected by the Account Office in each of those items ;
 (g) the total monthly bill from the Press for the piece-workers for all their work ; and
 (h) the amounts actually received by them in those months ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : (a), (c) and (d). The number of lines set the number of formes imposed and the number of lines in standing pages altered all combined reduced to standard pages of foolscap folio came to—

Appointments in the Government Press.

354. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicblam) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether the selection for the recruitment of the piece-workers of the Government Press comes within the purview of the Public Service Commissioner ; and

(b) whether the Superintendent of the Government Press has appointed fresh men as computers and proof-readers without reference to the Public Service Commissioner ?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government) : (a) No.

(b) No.

Work tickets of the piece-work employees of the Government Press.

355. *MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Tolupuzha cum Devicolum): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) whether all the work tickets of the piece-workers of the Government Press are duly entered without exception;
- (b) whether any of them are destroyed; and
- (c) the reasons for which any work ticket is destroyed?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) There are no work tickets kept for the piece-workers of the Government Press.

(b) and (c). In view of the answer to part (a) these do not arise.

Work done by the Protector of the Depressed Classes.

356. *MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (No rivalled): Will the Government be pleased to state the work done by the Protector of the Depressed Classes, from the month of Chingam to the month of Makaram 1112, by way of protection of the depressed classes?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Besides office work relating to various aspects of ameliorative measures, he has done out-door work, the more important of which, are noted below:—

(1) Inspection of lands for assignment in the Neilamad pakuthi in the Nedumangad taluk, Pandalam Vadakkokara pakuthi in the Tiruvalla taluk, Vazhupally, and Kanjirapally pakuthies in the Changanacherry taluk, Kondoor pakuthi in the Minachil taluk, Kolachel and Eraniel pakuthies in the Kalkulam taluk, and Pallichal in the Neyyattinkara taluk.

(2) Inspection of all the earmarked lands in Adoor, Kunnathur, Poruvazhy, Pallikkal, Kodumou and Enadimangalam pakuthies in the Kunnathur taluk.

(3) Establishment of colonies in Nariculam and Meenankulam.

Grant-in-aid Reading Rooms.

357. * MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state the names of grant-in-aid reading rooms in Travancore and the amount of grant given to each?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):

A statement * containing the information asked for by the Member is placed on the table.

Grant to stud-bulls.

358. * MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether any grant is being given to the owners of stud bulls;

(b) if so, the number of stud bulls for which grants have been allowed during the years 1111 and 1112; and

(c) the names of the owners of such stud bulls?

MR. K. R. NARAYANA AIYAR (Director of Agriculture and Fisheries):

(a) Yes.

(b) 15, each year.

(c) The information required is contained in the notices published in the Agricultural Department sheets of the Government Gazette dated 11th February 1936 and 12th January 1937.

Disafforestation and registry of the Karikulam Reserve.

359. * MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): Will the Government be pleased to state whether they have decided to disafforest and assign on registry the Karikulam reserve in Ranni pakuthi Pattanamitta taluk?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): കാരികുളം റിസർവിൽ നിന്നും ഗണ്യമായ ആദായം ഗവണ്മെന്റിനു ലഭിക്കുന്നില്ലെന്നുള്ള വവരും ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്റെ ഭരണത്തിൽ പെട്ടിട്ടുണ്ടോ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): ആദായം എത്രയുണ്ടെന്നു നിശ്ചയമില്ല. എങ്കിലും വനസംരക്ഷണത്തിനു അതു റിസർവിൽനിന്നും ഏതാക്കാരതിരിവുണ്ടെന്നുവശ്യമാണ്.

MR. T. T. KESAVAN SASTRI (Nominated): ഈ സ്ഥലം പാക്കൽ സ്ഥലമില്ലാത്തവർക്ക് പതിച്ചു കിട്ടണമെന്ന ഗവണ്മെന്റിനു തീരുമാനം എടുത്ത് സമർപ്പിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ടെന്നുള്ള വിചാരം ഗവണ്മെന്റിനറിയാമോ?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): അങ്ങനെയുള്ള അപേക്ഷകൾ കിട്ടിയിട്ടുണ്ട്; അത് പതിച്ചുകൊടുക്കാനിടയില്ല എന്നു മറുപടിയും കൊടുത്തിട്ടുണ്ട്.

Conversion of the Kesavapuram Market trace into a cart road.

360. * MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received any representation from the public urging the necessity for converting the Kesavapuram market trace into a cart road and

(b) if so, what action has been taken on the representation?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) An estimate has been sanctioned and the work will be taken up when funds become available and the lands are surrendered free by the interested people.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): With reference to the answer to part (b) of the question may I know whether the public have expressed their willingness to surrender lands free of cost, for the construction of the road?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir.
MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Then what is the delay in working out the estimate?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Funds have to be provided.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In view of the large revenue by way of market tolls, derived from the trace leading to the Kesavapuram market, will the Government take up the question of converting it into a road immediately?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The interested parties have not given written undertaking to surrender the lands in question. That has first to be done.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): May I know the income derived from the market?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I claim notice. I do not think that it has anything to do with the question of converting the trace into a road.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovala): I want to know whether the Government are in possession of information regarding the yearly income derived from this market to which there is a road?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I have already claimed notice.

Quantity of salt imported and stocked in 1111.

361. * MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

- (a) the quantity of salt stocked in the factories and Government depots as it stood at the end of 1111;
- (b) the quantity of foreign salt and home salt out of the same; and
- (c) the quantity of foreign salt imported in 1111 and till the end of Dhanu 1112?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner):

|     |                   |                                         |

| (b) | Foreign salt ...  | 58,269 maunds,                          |
|     | Local salt ...    | 20,18,898 maunds.                       |
| (c) | In 1111 ...       | 87,488 maunds 33 seers and 5 5/9 tolas. |

Up to the end of Dhanu 1112 ... 17,818 maunds 5 1/8 seers.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): In view of the large excess of salt, may I know what prompted the Government to get down a large quantity of foreign salt?

MR. C. O. MADHAVAN (Excise Commissioner): No large quantity of foreign salt is being imported now. For special reasons, some foreign salt is being imported. The people of North Travancore have a partiality for Bombay salt. Sir, the Government do not want to discontinue the supply of Bombay salt all at once in those places. But, it has been decided now by Government not to import any Bombay salt hereafter. About 13,000 to 14,000 mds. of salt is brought to Shencotta from Tuticorin. That is on account of the facility with which salt can be transported from Tuticorin to Shencottah. If it is to be sent from our factories, the cost of transport will be prohibitive. Government are considering the question whether the salt from our factories can be transported to Shencottah also. If it is found to be worthwhile, that will be done.

Memorial from the Valans of Shertala regarding the catching of prawns.

562. * Mr. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received a memorial from the Valans of Shertala regarding their grievances in the catching of prawns and

(b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the date of the same and whether any action has been taken on the same?

Mr. K. R. NARAYANA AIYAR (Director of Agriculture and Fisheries):

(a) Yes.

(b) 27th January 1937. The matter is under consideration.

N. D. Anchal Office at Kanakappalam.

563. * Mr. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have or the Anchal Superintendent has ordered to shift the N. D. Anchal Office from Kanakappalam to Erumeli Pettah;

(b) the date of the establishment of the said office at Kanakappalam;

(c) at whose instance it was established;

(d) whether the applicants for the establishment of it were asked to deposit any amount as security to meet the loss, if any, that may be incurred in the working of the said office;

(e) whether any of the said applicants deposited such security;

(f) the amount so deposited;

(g) whether the amount was returned to the depositor, and, if so, the date of the return of the same;

(h) the annual income from and the annual expenditure towards the working of the said office from its inception to the end of 1911 M. E.; and

(i) the reasons for the shifting of the said office to Erumeli Pettah?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government). (a) Yes.

(b) 1-11-1102.

(c) It was opened at the request of the inhabitants of Erumeli, Kanakappalam, Vettukallanniravay, Poriyannala, Vazhakala, Manipuzhavaloo, Peroothode, Kutukavalli, Chempakapara, etc.

(d) Yes.

(e) Yes.

(f) 300.

(g) Yes : refunded on 17-2-1106.

(h) A statement showing the income and expenditure is placed on the table.

(i) Erumeli is a more central place, while Kanakappalam is at the extremity of the delivery area of the office.

MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II) : എപ്പോഴാണ് കനകപ്പാലം അഞ്ചലാപ്പീസ് എസ്റ്റേബ്ലിഷ്മെന്റ് തുറന്നത് ?

The Alapra road in the Tiruvalla taluk.

364. MR. R. RAMAN PILLAI (Changanachery cum Peermade II) : Will the Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether the Government or the Chief Engineer has got application from the inhabitants of Manimala pakuthi in the Changanachery taluk requesting the Government to take charge of the Alapra road cut open by the people of the locality and connecting the Bastow road in the Tiruvalla taluk with the Manimala-Ranni road at the fourth mile ;

(b) the dates of the several applications ; and

(c) the action taken by the Government on those applications ?

* Vide Appendix III,—page 1068.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) No.
(b) & (c) These do not arise in view of the answer to part (a).

Grant-in-aid to Vernacular Schools.

365. * MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of classes in the Vernacular Schools for which grant-in-aid has not been given in the month of Karkatakam 1111 on account of want of funds; and

(b) the amount that is required for giving grant-in-aid to all deserving cases in which such aid is not given at present?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
(a) 100.

(b) Rs. 787-0-0 per mensem.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether grants have been given subsequently?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
I do not think so.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is the member sure about it?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
I am not sure.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether directions are given to give grants to these classes subsequent to Karkatakam 1111?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
That depends upon the funds available.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I wish to know whether the member has issued directions for giving the grant to those schools that have not been given grant?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
The total amount allotted for grants has been distributed among the Inspectors; if they have funds they will certainly give grants to those classes.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether the Director has issued directions to the Inspectors to see that these schools are given grants?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
I have issued instructions that to the full extent of the funds available grants should be distributed.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Has he received any reports from the Inspectors that they have not been able to distribute grants to those schools for want of funds?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction):
I received reports in connection with this interpellation.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Uvvelikara): May I know what is the information that he got from those reports with regard to the classes that are even now not getting grants?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): Want of funds.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Uvvelikara): What is the number of classes that are still not getting grants?

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Director of Public Instruction): That is given in the answer, 100.

Trivandrum Town Planning.

366. *MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): With reference to question No. 1, at the 8th Session of the Assembly answered on the 27th July 1936, will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) in connection with the acquisition of buildings for the Trivandrum Town Planning, how many buildings were acquired, and how many buildings valued by the Assistant Engineer, who was a Special Officer for the purposes of acquisition;

(b) what has become of the buildings that were acquired;

(c) whether compensation has been actually given for all the buildings that were acquired;

(d) if the answer to part (c) is in the affirmative, what is the total amount paid;

(e) whether the whole land in Thampanoor valley was acquired for the purpose of Town Planning;

(f) if the answer to part (e) is in the affirmative, how many acres of land were acquired;

(g) if the answer to part (e) is in the negative, why the whole land was not acquired, in spite of the appointment of a Special Land Acquisition Officer for the purpose.

(h) what is the amount that has been expended till 30th Kanni 1112 M. S. for the purpose of Town Planning;

(i) what are the items of expenditure incurred and their separate amounts;

(j) whether the work of Town Planning continues or is discontinued; and

(k) if discontinued, why?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) 86 buildings were acquired in connection with the Trivandrum Town Planning. The Special Assistant Engineer valued 64 buildings in connection with the improvements to the Vallayambalam-Maseot Hotel road and 660 buildings in Thampanoor valley.

(b) The kutcha and dilapidated buildings were sold in public auction. In the remaining ones some of the Government offices in Trivandrum which were held in private buildings till now are accommodated, while a few others have been let out on rent to private persons.

[Rao Bahadur Rajyasevanirata Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai.]

(c) Compensation has either been actually paid to the parties or deposited in the Treasury for all the buildings that were acquired.

(f) Out of a total amount of Rs. 70,819-7-9 awarded, a sum of Rs. 64,696-7-9 was actually paid to the parties and the balance viz., (Rs. 6,123) placed under Revenue Deposit.

(e) No land was acquired in the Thampanoor valley for the purpose of Town Planning.

(f) This does not arise.

(g) the work in connection with the acquisition of lands in Thampanoor valley has been ordered to be suspended until further orders.

(h) The expenditure on Town Planning works in Trivandrum to the end of Kanni 1112 is Rs. 6,36,624.

(i) A statement containing the information is placed on the table.

(j) and (k) The proposals for the current year 1112 M. E. have not been settled yet. There is a provision of 10 lakhs of rupees in the current year's budget.

Irrigation Works.

367. *MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Murelikara): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the amount actually spent for the execution of irrigation works from the date on which a Special Irrigation Section was formed in the P. W. D. until now (30-2-1112) and the number of works now completed and the number now under execution;

(b) the number of works for which estimates have been sanctioned and the reason for the delay in the execution of the same;

(c) whether it has been realised by the Irrigation Department or the Government that the delay is due to the preliminary steps that are now taken under the Irrigation Regulation for getting the consent of the land-owners for paying cess or contribution;

(d) whether the Government have considered the advisability of suspending their rights under those provisions of the Irrigation Regulation until the ryots are restored to normal conditions;

(e) whether the recommendations of the Minor Irrigation Committee to suspend the rights under the above provisions and to amend the Irrigation Regulation have been yet considered by the Government; and

(f) the additional amount spent till now on account of the separation of the Irrigation Division?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) The amount spent for the works until 30-2-1112 is Rs. 2,95,503. The number of works completed is 99 and those under execution 69.

(b) 157. The delay is mostly due to non-acquisition of lands and in some cases due to objection from the ryots and in certain others due to unfavourable weather conditions.

(c) Yes; the preliminary steps referred to cause delay in getting estimates sanctioned.

(d) & (e) These are under the consideration of Government.

(f) It is not possible to furnish the information as the period is not specified.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAY (Muvilikara): With reference to answer to part (f), may I know the additional amount spent till now, i. e., 30-2-1112 as is clear from part (a) of the question, on account of the separation of the Irrigation Division?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The expenditure on account of the establishment in 1110 was Rs. 27 thousand and odd and, in 1111 Rs. 33,435.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Tilurankot): With reference to the work referred to in part (a) of the question, may I know whether those works are protective or re-productive?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): All irrigation works are included in the list.

Health Unit at Shertala.

368. *MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether representations were made to start a Health Unit at Shertala; and

(b) if so, when and with what result?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dn. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) In 1934, 1935 and 1936. After duly considering the representations Government gave up the idea of a Health Unit and sanctioned the extension of filariasis control work which was the main public health problem at Shertala.

MR. K. M. KRISHNAN (Ambalapuzha II): May I know, the reason why the idea of starting a Health Unit at Shertala was abandoned?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA Dn. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): The original idea was to reduce the staff of the Health Unit at Neyyattinkara and transfer that staff to Shertala and start a new Unit there. The matter was referred to the authorities of the Rockefeller Foundation but they were not prepared to continue the grant to Neyyattinkara Unit if Government made any reduction in the staff there. So, the idea of transferring a portion of the staff from Neyyattinkara to Shertala had to be given up and as there were not sufficient funds to start a new Health Unit at Shertala with the necessary equipment, it was decided only to extend the filariasis control work there.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know whether the Rockefeller Foundation consented to finance the Travancore Darbar in case.....

PRESIDENT: We have given up the use of the word 'Darbar'.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): May I know whether the Rockefeller Foundation consented to finance the Travancore Government in case the Government would establish a Health Unit at Shertala?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): Yes, Sir, a financial contribution was promised by the Rockefeller Foundation for a Health Unit at Shertala. But when the question was placed before the Finance Committee at the meeting in August 1935 they were of opinion that the staff of the Health Unit at Neyyattinkara should be reduced and sent to Shertala and with the financial help promised by the Rockefeller Foundation a Health Unit should be started at Shertala. But the Rockefeller Foundation was not prepared to continue their financial help to the Neyyattinkara Health Unit if the staff there was reduced. That institution has been working there for some years, and Government did not want to abolish it. Government preferred to continue the Health Unit at Neyyattinkara and to extend the filariasis control work at Shertala.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the proportion of the contribution?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): I believe the Rockefeller Foundation offered 50 per cent of the expenditure in the first year, one-third in the second year and one-fourth in the third year, and thereafter nothing.

Bus service on the Quilon-Alleppey road.

869. *MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether the then Chief Engineer has, in his letter No. 750 dated 13-5-1933, permitted one and a half ton buses to ply for hire on the Quilon-Alleppey road;

(b) the total number of one and a half ton buses plying for hire on the Quilon-Alleppey road in 1110 and in 1111 respectively; and

(c) the period during which these one and a half ton buses have been or were plying for hire on the Quilon-Alleppey road?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): (a) Yes.

(b) In 1110—1.

In 1111—2.

(c) T. V. R. 3143—from 12-11-109, and

T. V. R. 3246 from 4-5-1111, up to date.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know the total number of one-and-a half ton buses running between Quilon and Alleppey?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): Two.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether they are the very same buses referred to in the answer to part (c) of the question?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The Postal and Anchal buses. But I am not sure of their T. V. R. numbers.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): May I know whether the two buses referred to are now plying for hire in the line?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): I claim notice.

Grievances of lorry owners.

370. * Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether they have received any representation regarding the grievances of the lorry owners at Kottayam;

(b) whether the Commissioner of Police has addressed the Chief Engineer on the subject;

(c) the amount of load the Motor Transport Company at Kottayam is allowed to carry in their lorries along the K. K. road;

(d) whether they have fixed any limit to the load the Transport Company is allowed to carry on their vehicles;

(e) the amount of load the Motor Transport Company is carrying in their vehicles usually; and

(f) whether the rules in this matter are the same for the Motor Transport Company, Ltd., and other firms at Kottayam?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): (a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) The lorries of the Motor Transport Company were registered for private use some years back. It was not the practice then to note in the registration certificate the amount of load to be carried, as there was no column therefor.

(d) No.

(e) It is reported that 4 tons of load are carried in Dodge six wheelers and two tons in Saurer lorries.

(f) Yes, in respect of similar types of vehicles irrespective of the company or individual who owns them.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): With reference to answer to part (d) of the question may I know whether the Motor Transport Company at Kottayam is at liberty to carry any amount of load they please?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): The matter is under correspondence.

Water-supply schemes.

371. * Mr. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of water-supply schemes they are going to start in the near future;

(b) the places where the schemes are to be worked; and

(c) whether Kottayam compares favourably with such places in the investigations?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): (a) If, by 'start in the near future' the member means the starting of the construction of the Water Supply Schemes after completing the necessary investigations, the number of such schemes is three.

(b) Alleppey, Shencotta and Nagercoil.

(c) The question whether Kottayam compares favourably with such places in the investigations does not arise since Government have not yet ordered the Water Works and Drainage Engineer to take up detailed investigation. A report has been called for from him. For preparing the report, he is under correspondence with the President, Municipal Council, Kottayam.

Traffic on the Nagampadam Bridge.

372. * MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of bridges on the M. C. road with a wooden platform;

(b) the number of buses and cars that pass through the Nagampadam bridge on any single day; and

(c) whether there is any bridge in the State which has got greater traffic than the bridge at Nagampadam?

MR. R. PITCHU AIYANGAR (Commissioner of Police): (a) Three.

(b) No census of the traffic is available but it is reported that on a casual reckoning a bus or a car passes the bridge every 15 minutes.

(c) Yes.

Sinking of a well by the side of the Eraniel-Rajakkamangalam road.

373. * MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kattkulam II): Will the Government be pleased to state:

(a) whether a public well is being sunk near Kurundancodu by the side of the Eraniel-Rajakkamangalam road;

(b) whether the work is being stopped and for what reasons; and

(c) whether the work could be finished this year 1112?

RAO BAHADUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): (a) Yes.

(b) The work has been stopped temporarily owing to the failure of the contractors.

(c) Yes.

Vide Answer to Question No. 347.

Extract from the minutes of the meeting of the South Indian Railway Advisory Board.

By Mr. Janardanan Pillai.

1. To open a flag station at the place where the Railway line crosses the Main Central Road near Kottarakara station.

The Chairman explained that the site suggested was on a gradient on which it was not practicable to construct a station. He added that the existence of a bridge nearby further accentuated the difficulty of locating a station there. He, however, stated that a station might be considered at a point about a mile and a half east of Kottarakara but that it would be too close to the Kottarakara station and that traffic at this station would suffer if a new station were opened at the site. The Committee desired that a flag station be opened at the latter site, as an experimental measure, for about six months. The Chairman agreed to arrange for a temporary halt of the trains at this point.

2. To open, as early as possible, an Indian Refreshment Room at Shencottah under the management of the Railway Company.

The Committee were informed that the construction of the Indian Refreshment Room at Shencottah would be taken in hand in 1937-38 and that it would, probably, be managed by the Railway itself.

3. To arrange for the delivery of the parcels booked to Alleppey within 36 hours from the time of their receipt at Ernakulam.

It was not clear whether the delay was due, actually, to customs examination being made at Arukutty instead of at Alleppey as was stated by the Madura Company, or as it was alleged by the Travancore Member, to the fact, that the Madura Company transported the parcels by country "Vallams", instead of by steam launches and that after waiting for days for a full boat load. The Chairman promised to go further into the matter and bring the subject again for consideration.

4. To provide more latrine accommodation in all third class compartments.

The Chairman stated that in all new coaches, one latrine for every 16 passengers was being provided, against one for every 30 passengers, specified by the rules on the subject. In the old carriages, however, the provision of latrines is not on so liberal a scale but the heavy cost of the alterations puts out of the question any such step being considered.

5. To construct a foot bridge across the station yard at Alwaye as the necessity for such a bridge is felt by the citizens of Alwaye.

Appendix I—(contd.)

The Chairman outlined the history of this case and pointed out that there were two overbridges at either end of the station and that a third foot bridge in between was not essential at all. Further, on a representation from the Travancore Government the site was inspected jointly by the State Executive Engineer and a Railway Engineer, when it was agreed that a foot bridge across the track was not justified. The Chairman concluded that the Railway Administration was not prepared to consider the provision of a bridge at its cost. The Committee, with the exception of Mr. Janardanan Pillai, considered that from the Railway point of view, the bridge was not required.

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF GENERAL
PUBLIC INTEREST.

Recommendations of the Minor Irrigation Committee - (contd.).

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I support the resolution. I was pointing out yesterday that there are four systems of paddy cultivation in vogue in the State; the Nanjinad system, the Punja system, the Nilamkrishi system and the Malankrishi system. As for the Nanjinad system since the starting of Kodayar Irrigation it is no more in need of water. For the Malankrishi system it depends upon the southwest monsoon. As for the Nilamkrishi system that needs the help of the Minor Irrigation works. This system is very often found in the eastern and central taluks in the State such as Kottarakara, Nedumangad, Chirayinkil, Neyyattinkara and Trivandrum. Of all these taluks, the most neglected in the matter of providing water for paddy cultivation are the taluks of Nedumangad and Chirayinkil. In recent times not a single chirus, todus or anas has been improved in Nedumangad taluk in order to promote paddy cultivation in the taluk, so much so the people are often found converting excellent paddy lands into garden lands with a view to plant tapioca, plantain, coconuts, and areca nut trees. It is a sad spectacle to see the excellent paddy fields being converted into garden lands simply because the Irrigation Department does not bestow any attention to provide water to help and promote paddy cultivation in the Nedumangad taluk. The representatives of the two taluks, Nedumangad and Chirayinkil, have been representing and crying loud to see that in these two taluks, the chirus, todus and anas are improved for the purpose of paddy cultivation. But the department has not bestowed any attention at all for the purpose.

MR. PACODE A. KARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankod): May I know from the member whether these two taluks are grouped together for the coming election?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Yes, they are. Even apart from the election question, there is only one road separating these two taluks. What the people of Nedumangad taluk require are the construction of more and more roads to help means of communication and the improvement of more and more anas and chirus for the purpose of paddy cultivation, and the starting up of more and more schools for the purpose of educating the children. These three things are not at all properly attended to by the authorities concerned. Travancore has been importing paddy in an enormous measure. It is essential that the production of rice must be made self-sufficient; the State should be made self-supporting so far as the production of paddy is concerned. Recommendation No. 3 of the Minor Irrigation Committee reads thus:—

"The necessary investigation should be conducted in order to explore all possible means of extending paddy cultivation in the State."

So far as this recommendation is concerned, I may submit for the information of the House that it has not yet been carried out; and it is essential that this recommendation is explored to its fullest extent and brought to effect. With these words, I support the resolution so ably moved by Mr. Asan.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha ID): Sir, I have the greatest pleasure in supporting this resolution. The question of Minor Irrigation has been engaging the attention of various members on this side of the House and I myself have invited the attention of the House to this matter on several occasions. The difficulty in working out the Regulation of 1972 has been explained by the mover himself on account of the cumbersome nature of the rules and proceedings as laid down in the Regulation. I may say it is almost impracticable. Although the Regulation was passed so early as 1972 no appreciable work has so far been done towards the cause of Minor Irrigation. As a result of continued agitation on the part of the public, Government appointed a Committee in 1930. The terms of reference were mainly three: viz., to investigate facilities and possibilities for Minor Irrigation, to find out whether a separate agency is required to carry out this work, and to submit proposals for amending the Regulation of 1972 as it was found unworkable.

The Committee did full justice to the work entrusted to them, and submitted their valuable report containing their recommendations which are under discussion now. It is very regrettable that the Government, after receiving the report of the committee, did not pay any heed to the serious recommendations of the committee. This attitude of Government is manifested not only in this case but in the cases of the recommendations of several other committees also. Well in this case, Government at least partly accepted some of the recommendations, but there again I have to point out that the Government accepted those that ought to have come subsequently. As has been rightly remarked by Mr. Thanu Pillai during the course of another discussion yesterday, the Government were putting the cart before the horse. The main recommendation of the committee was to make immediately the necessary changes in the Regulation of 1972. Instead of doing that they accepted the recommendation of separating the Irrigation Department from the P. W. D., with the result that the Irrigation Department had to keep quiet as of old without doing any work, because of the cumbersome provisions in the Regulation. I hope that the Government will pay heed to the spirit of this resolution at least now and do the needful as early as possible, as the question is a vital one.

With regard to the special claims of my constituency, I may bring to the attention of this House, certain very important facts. As has been remarked by my friend Mr. S. J. Nair with regard to his constituency, I may also say that no where else is the necessity for minor irrigation works keenly felt as in the taluks of Kunnathad and Muvattupuzha. The taluk of Kunnathad alone comprises 61,000 and odd acres of paddy fields. In Muvattupuzha there are 46,000 and odd acres of paddy fields. These two taluks stand first and third in order of rice producing taluks. Hence the magnitude of the problem is most keenly felt in these areas. The people there are using a very primitive system of irrigation. The seriousness of the problem has reached a climax in these taluks on account of the law of individual partition existing amongst the ryots there. The majority of the population are Christians. The system of individual partition was in vogue among them even before the advent of the Nair Regulation. The source of irrigation continues to be one while the holdings are now disintegrated and owned by many. The improvement of the common source of irrigation would be thought of only if the several holders join together which is almost impracticable. That is a very difficult problem and unless the Government come to the rescue of the ryots it is very difficult for the paddy cultivators to join together and improve the common source of irrigation. That is a very serious state of affairs. Mr. S. J. Nair said that many acres of paddy land were left uncultivated because of the want of proper irrigation facilities; and were being converted into garden land. This is a very alarming state of affairs, as Travancore has to import a considerable quantity of rice every year for the food of its people.

Now Sir, in this connection, I wish to submit, for the serious attention of the Government, that in order to solve this question of Minor Irrigation, as well as some other very necessary local questions which the Government find it difficult to solve, Village Panchayats must be established. That was also a point discussed by the committee. Though the Village Panchayat Regulation was passed very long ago the Village Panchayat system has had the least encouragement from the Government. Look at the sister State of Cochin. The Village Panchayat system there is worked very properly and with very good results. There, works such as the construction and improvement of village roads, canals, tanks and chirias are all done by these Panchayats. As the institution is one most beneficial to the people it is up to Government to encourage it. I sincerely hope that this problem will be solved by the institution of the Village Panchayat system alone, and that Government will pay their early attention to adopt effective measures to encourage the establishments of Village Panchayats in all taluks immediately and subsequently in all pakshies. With these words I support the resolution.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural). I wish to say a few words on this resolution. The committee submitted its report in October 1931. Two of their main recommendations have already been given effect to by Government. One relates to the formation of a separate Irrigation Division, and the other the formation of a separate Irrigation Fund. The other main recommendations of the committee, which to me appear to be substantial recommendations have not been given effect to. Those two recommendations are only subsidiary in the sense that they are required only to give effect to the other main recommendations. The Government made a serious mistake in not giving effect to the substantial recommendations before forming a separate Irrigation Division. What is the result of forming a separate Division? In 1109 when the new Division was formed, it was able to spend Rs. 81,000 and odd on protective irrigation. In 1110 a sum of Rs. 2,45,000 was allotted for new works, of which the department was able to spend only Rs. 1,02,000. In 1111, a sum of Rs. 2,77,000 was allotted for original works such as the restoration of tanks and channels.

Of this they were able to spend only Rs. 1,50,000. I should submit that it is disgraceful on the part of the department not to spend even these small amounts that were allotted. Now, to spend 1½ lakhs of rupees in 1111, there were 1 Executive Engineer, 2 or 3 Assistant Engineers and a number of Supervisors. Their pay itself consumes a large amount of money. I do not know what substantial work they have done. I think there is something radically wrong in the whole system. As for the fund that the committee recommended I wish to say a few words. The fund is allowed to accumulate and very little is actually spent every year. Now Sir, what is the cause for this state of affairs. This question has been discussed on the floor of this House very many times. At least half a dozen times in a year this matter happens to be discussed. Still the Government do not seem to grasp the real significance of the discussion or the real importance of the subject.

Sir, what I want to say at this juncture is that the Government will do well to realise that the solution of this irrigation problem by adequate means, though the work may seem to be unostentatious, will be a very very substantial means of improving the conditions of the ryots of the State.

In very many taluks, irrigation tanks form the real mainstay, I may say, of cultivation. The Land Revenue Department might be perhaps aware that during the last few years crops were almost continuously failing in 5 or 6 places. What was it due to? That was due mainly because of the fact that these irrigation tanks were not kept in good repair. The taluks of Chirayinkil, Nedumangad, Trivandram, Neyyattinkara and Vilavankod, especially, suffer very much. There are remission rules which are not really helpful to the cultivators. The restoration of these tanks is a matter of very great importance. Of course, I speak on this motion not because I have anything new to say on it, which has not already been placed before Government, or which the other members of this House or Government themselves do not know. But because Government themselves attach very great importance to the question of minor irrigation. There is one particular recommendation of the committee which is noteworthy. On page 33 of the report there is a recommendation which runs as follows:—

"It shall be the duty of the Irrigation Officer to consult the interested ryots as to the nature of the works to be done and get completion certificates in respect of the minor irrigation works, signed by the representatives of the ryots."

That seems to me to be a very important recommendation. There is a wide-spread complaint that these irrigation works, especially in connection with tanks, are not at all done satisfactorily, and very little supervision is exercised, with the result that no sooner a work is said to be complete than it becomes useless and lapses into its old condition of disrepair. The absence of supervision is due to these tanks being situated, more often, about two or three miles from the main roads so that it becomes impossible for the highly paid Engineers to go to those places in their motor cars: they can be approached only after walking

[Mr. A. Thanu Pillai.]

3 or 4 miles. The real interest that an officer of the department takes on the welfare of the ryots can certainly be assessed by his readiness to go to these places to inspect the works. I doubt whether the Executive Engineers or the Assistant Engineers really take the trouble to do so. They leave this item of their duty to their subordinates. I do not know whether Government have issued any instructions in the matter. Works are done very unsatisfactorily. The ryots are not benefited at all. Sir, there is absolutely no exaggeration in saying that the ryots think that the irrigation tank that is repaired by the department becomes more useless after repair than it was before. This is true in the case of most of these tanks. It was last year, I think, that I took the Chief Engineer to one of those tanks. I myself went to the tank and I was satisfied. Then I took the Chief Engineer to the place. He told me something by way of accusing the subordinate officers. I do not know what more he did. This is true not only of this tank but of all tanks. The whole work is neglected. This is one of the most important and helpful things that Government can do under existing conditions. Officers must be made to do their work; and whoever is found to neglect his duty should be seriously dealt with. There is no other way.

Government should also see that sufficient funds are allotted, and that whatever is allotted is spent. What is the meaning of maintaining a large staff if no work is done? Government published a Bill about 6 years after the recommendations of the committee were received. Let us deal with it as early as possible and see that something useful to the ryots is done by Government. With these words, I support this resolution.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban): Sir I also support the resolution before the House. A good many facts have been stated by honourable members of this House in the course of the discussion. I propose to confine my remarks to a certain aspect of the matter which has not been adverted to. I was a member of the Trivandrum Minor Irrigation Committee about twelve or 15 years ago, and along with other members I took the trouble of visiting various places. Recently I have had an occasion to travel the whole country, and I can endorse the opinion expressed by Mr. Kuriakose and others that there is necessity for protecting Minor Irrigation Works, in Trivandrum, Nedumangad and other taluks. There is equal necessity for protective works in the northern taluks as well, though they did not press their claims as was done by the people in some other parts. Minor irrigation tanks were being cared for by the Government long ago, and large sums were being allotted for their maintenance. At that time the Dewan Peishkar was the officer who had to look after the interests of the cultivators. The division of Governmental activities among the various Departments did not then prevail. At present, as is well known there is the Dewan Peishkar to look after the collection of revenue; the Director of Agriculture performs experiments and tries to make some demonstrations, the Public Works Department is in charge of construction, maintenance and so forth. This divided authority makes it impossible for anybody to take a general interest in the question of minor irrigation. When matters are placed before Government, they always try to help the cultivators by giving directions to these authorities. There has been a policy of drift. What do we see? We see that almost all irrigation tanks have been filled up. It is not the neglect of the ryots alone; it is not the indifference of the Government Officers alone; but there are certain natural causes which has made these tanks useless. During the last 80 or 40 years, so much new lands has been brought under the plough and spade. The earth and debris washed down by the rivers at the time of flood find their way into the level country, and the earth so brought down has filled up many of the tanks. Even in the plains there is so much extension of cultivation that we find practically an avalanche of earth coming down. That is the real thing, so far as I am aware, that has to be combated. The trouble, however, is not peculiar to Travancore. In the Punjab also, we find that there is this trouble. But there is no reason why we shall not do something to combat the evil. Spend as much as you like; but, if protective works of a proper character are not maintained, the money spent on these tanks would be lost. More than that, there is an attitude of mind on the part of the people themselves to take advantage of the indifference of the Government by encroaching upon poramboke lands. I cannot but point out that for 50 or 60 years Revenue Officers have not taken sufficient interest in safeguarding and conserving the resources of the State. I do not want to talk at length on this motion, but always, in the history of the world, anybody who meddled with irrigation tanks received the highest penalty under the law. The filling of tanks was severely punished. That was what was being done even about 3,000 years ago. In the years 1045 to 1050, the Travancore Government felt the necessity for protecting these tanks; but in spite of that, they have been neglected. I do find that Government are anxious to take prompt action in everything that will help the cultivator. I take advantage of this renaissance on the part of the Government to place before them this serious question viz., that the tanks are all in very miserable condition, that, even if they are deepened, they would prove useless unless proper measures are devised to prevent earth and debris from falling in and filling them. With these words, I support the resolution.

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I wish to make a few observations on this resolution. The main difficulty is due to the want of powers for the P. W. D. officers to summarily deal with cases of encroachment, and for the Revenue officers to prohibit the registry of tanks, and also due to the present rules relating to the remission of taxes. It has been a very serious complaint that the channels and tanks that are the main sources of irrigation are sometimes destroyed and have even ceased to exist as a result of encroachment made by the adjoining owners. This has been observed by the Committee. They say:—

[Mr. K. R. Elenkath.

"The majority of these useful works have been continually neglected with the result that many of them are silted up and encroached in varying degrees ranging from partial to absolute deterioration, so far as their usefulness as irrigation works is concerned".

It is a very serious question; and for no fault of the owners of the fields for whose benefit these tanks and channels exist, the owners of land just adjoining these sources of irrigation, owing to their indiscriminate action and selfish interest, their greed to earn properties by unfair means, make encroachments on these useful poramboke and put the interested ryots to great trouble. I have personal experience in the matter with regard to some lands in South Travancore, where even when it was proved that owing to rains the banks of certain fields had to yield, Government could not take any action on this ground. When I placed this matter, on behalf of some of the ryots, before the Chief Engineer, what he told me was that these breaches occurred in the previous year and that they were well guarded and well rebuilt with hard stones so that they would not yield unless interfered with by the adjoining cultivators for interests of their own; he said that, unless power was vested with the P. W. Department to deal with such cases, there would be no protection. Some ryots without caring for the interests of their own brethren, are even prepared to demolish the banks of channels for their own ends. When there is a huge flood, the owner very near the current breaks open the bank and diverts the current through another man's field, for fear that in the long run, it might lead to a breach which might result in his own field being filled with water. This even leads to some riots among the ryots; because it is a life and death question for the ordinary cultivator who, when he is deliberately ruined by the neighbour, is prepared even to risk his life and resort to violence. It is not a small matter.

In regard to the remission rules, the Irrigation Committee made strong recommendations, and in this Assembly that motion about their recommendations was passed almost unanimously by the non-official members. It was said by the official benches that Government have the power and they do generally relieve agriculturists by remission of tax whenever it is found that they really deserve it. But, Sir, it is left to the grace of the Government. My point is that the remission rules should be so framed that the agriculturists could claim remission as a right.

It is a very important matter. The departmental authorities can proceed under the rules and get it sanctioned. In some parts of South Travancore there is no provision for the remission of tax even where the ryots were not able to cultivate the lands on account of reasons beyond their control. In some cases Government themselves were aware that the lands had not been cultivated, because they themselves have given notice that water was not available. Yet remission was not given. My request is that the rules should be so amended that the ryots will get remission when they do not cultivate the lands. With these words, I support the resolution.

MR. EDAVANATT S. PADMANABHA MENON (Shertala I): Sir, I support the resolution. I wish to make one or two observations with reference to Ambalapuzha and Shertala. In these two taluks panja cultivation and nila nkrishi are in vogue. Tanks are not necessary there. It is drainage of water that is needed. The Minor Irrigation Committee has classified the systems of paddy cultivation into four groups and the nilamkrishi comes under the third group. In paragraph 80 the Committee say:—

"Canals form the backbone of cultivation and in addition to their usual functions of drainage and irrigation are also the means by which the silt, which is the principal and, in most cases, the only manure the fields get is conveyed to the land when the rivers are in flood. The canals again form the only means of communication in this area".

The Committee rightly emphasise the proper preservation of the drainage system by conserving the para nboke canals. Recently, after the beginning of the fourth stage of the Cochin Harbour Scheme, the matter has assumed great importance. Because of the Cochin Harbour works there is not enough scope for rain water to flow out. Hence seasonal floods are doing greater havoc to paddy cultivation in Shertala, Ambalapuzha and other places. Government say that an Irrigation Department has been separately constituted to which generous allotments have been made. In actual practice we find a lot of unnecessary delay even in taking up the preliminary investigation of a scheme. A year ago I made representations to Government about the preservation of two or three canals in the Shertala taluk. Even during this session I had put an interpellation, to which the usual answer was given, namely, that the matter is at the stage of preliminary investigation. Sir, preservation of the irrigational system is one of the few occasions where Government can come into intimate touch with the agricultural population who form the backbone of the State. The poor ryots cannot appreciate the high policies of State. What they want are irrigational facilities. In these northern taluks the successful cultivation of paddy mainly depends upon seasonal rains. If the para nboke canals and drainage system are not kept up properly the agriculturists will not be able to do their cultivation. If water is not allowed to flow out, the seedlings will die out and the seasonal crop will be a failure. In these circumstances I would earnestly request the Government to give greater irrigational facilities.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, I wish to refer to one aspect of the question. Once I happened to be in a committee of Supervisors. One of them was an Irrigation Supervisor and the other a Roads Supervisor. The Roads Supervisor said that the work of the Irrigation Supervisor was useless. He said that the Irrigation Supervisor does not know how to do his work. The other man protested. The result was that the Irrigation Supervisor broke down. I refer to this fact to show that an examination of the works of the department is necessary. There appears to be something wrong in the irrigation works. I was interested only as a contractor doing irrigation works.

[ Mr. G. Nilakantan ]

One other incident also I wish to refer to. When the late Mr. V. P. Madhava Rao went to Shencotta on tour, the ryots told him that on account of want of repairs to tanks, irrigation suffered very much. He turned round and asked them why then they paid their tax.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The Dewan might not have said that seriously.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Urban) : May I ask whether the member has direct knowledge of that incident ?

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated) : Yes, I have direct knowledge.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government) : The resolution recommends that all the recommendations of the Minor Irrigation Committee be accepted and immediate steps be taken to carry them out. In the course of the debate, several other points have been raised, particularly in regard to the delay that has occurred in giving effect to the recommendations of the committee. Mr. Thanu Pillai said that it is now six years since the report was submitted. I think it is necessary, before explaining the action taken on the recommendations of the committee to justify the delay that has occurred in this matter. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai stated yesterday that an explanation was due from Government for the inordinate delay.

Sir, if Government have been expediting the disposal of the recommendations of any committee, it was of this. The committee submitted its report in October 1931, and, in December, Government issued orders on the report, appreciating the work of the committee. The report is a valuable document and is accompanied by a complete list of irrigation channels and tanks throughout the State covering about 150 pages of foolscap matter. Incidentally it was observed by a member yesterday that very heavy expenditure was incurred by Government on the committee. The expenditure, as may be seen from the report itself, did not exceed Rs. 10,000. That, however, is a digression.

Government obtained the proposals of the Chief Engineer for the creation of an Irrigation Officer in the latter half of 1933. It was considered that the creation of such an office was not only indispensable but should have precedence over all other items. Therefore a supplementary demand for Rs. 15,000 was moved in this House and orders were issued for appointing the necessary staff. In February 1934 orders were issued for the creation of a separate fund for the restoration of tanks and other irrigational facilities. As a result of representations made here and elsewhere Government wanted to amend the Irrigation Regulation. That was also recommended by the Minor Irrigation Committee. In October 1933, a conference was held by the Dewan and the question was discussed. It was decided that it would be expedient to revise the Bill in the light of the experience that would be gained by the separate Irrigation officers after one or two years of their appointment. That is partly responsible for the delay to bring forward an amending Bill.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Jural): Do the Government consider that the Irrigation Officers are really gaining experience? Are they doing substantial work?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government wanted to amend the Regulation after the officers had an opportunity of gaining experience.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Was there any requisitions from the officers of the department that the amendment should be delayed?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government considered that the officers will be able to comment upon the Bill only after gaining some experience.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): What were the points on which Government wanted the experience of these officers?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): These officers were working the Irrigation Regulation and the defects might be known to them.

The reports of the Division Officer and the Chief Engineer were received in July 1936 and Government were able to publish the Bill only in November last.

It has not been possible unfortunately to introduce the Bill in this House, but I am sure it will be introduced in the new Assembly.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Was the Bill, that has been published, framed on the basis of the recommendations of the officers of the Irrigation Division based on their experience?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government had the benefit of criticism of these officers on the draft Bill.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): What I want to know is, whether these are the only amendments suggested by the officers after their experience of a few years in the Irrigation Department.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I did not say that the Bill was revised as a result of the opinions expressed by the Irrigation Officers.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud): May I know whether the published Bill is before the House now?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It was published under Rule 51 of the Travancore Legislative Rules.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether the officers of the Irrigation Division have anything to say as to how or why they allowed a major portion of the small amount allotted in the Budget to lapse at the end of the last two years, 1110 and 1111? Have Government anything to say in regard to that?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I will come to that.

The main recommendations of the Irrigation Committee are thirteen in number. The number "thirteen" is rather inauspicious. (Laughter.)

The first is—

"Agriculturists and planters should be warned against the evils resulting from the cultivation of grass and other forest lands adjoining canals of irrigation and instructed in the most scientific ways of carrying on such cultivation when it is considered inevitable."

The Government have issued orders to the Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner and the Director of Agriculture and Fisheries to take the necessary steps in the matter.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Nair): May I know whether the Government have received any report from these officers as to the steps they have taken?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The Land Revenue Commissioner would surely have communicated this matter to his subordinate officers.

The second is—

"Irrigation officers should be given summary powers to deal with encroachments on irrigation works in their charge."

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Thiruvalla): There is no answer for Mr. Thanu Pillai's question from the Government member.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I heard the answer being given. But if the member wants to put a question, he may do it.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): In regard to the grant of summary powers for Irrigation Officers provision has been made in Clause 11 (b) of the Irrigation Regulation Amendment Bill.

The third is

"The necessary investigation should be conducted in order to explore all possible means of extending paddy cultivation in the State."

An investigation for conducting lift irrigation in the taluks of Kunnathad and Parur by electric current from the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric Scheme is being arranged for by the Division Officer, Irrigation, and the Electrical Engineer to Government.

The fourth is—

"Remission Rules should be made sufficiently elastic so as to be applicable under the varying conditions throughout the State."

This morning there was a discussion upon the applicability of the remission rules and to make it more elastic. The Government have sanctioned the extension of seasonal remissions of land tax in Kayal areas where there have been breaching of bunds.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Martholara): Is there any question of irrigation in Kayal area?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The recommendation was that the rule should be made more elastic. In regard to the general question of remission, I believe the House has already been told that, in fixing assessments, parallels from elsewhere would not hold good.

The fifth is—

“Government should waive their right to the recovery of a contribution or of a cess under the Regulation until further notice.”

This has not been taken up by Government. Section 16 of the Irrigation Regulation is deemed sufficient for the present; Government have now got power to remit in whole or in part the cost of the work.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Have they exercised that power?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): In several cases where it has been proved that breaches have been caused by flood damages or any other natural causes, Government have done so.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Is it not a general “waiver” that the committee has recommended?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I believe Mr. Asan is coming forward with a resolution on this particular subject.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): If the member satisfies me now with an assurance, I am not particular of moving that resolution at all.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Considering limitations of time, the honourable member will do well to state the particular action taken by Government. If a series of recommendations are tackled on there will be no time.

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I was under the impression that I was doing so. There are 13 resolutions and I am dealing with them one after another.

Mr. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Sir, my point is this. If these can be dealt with in this resolution, why should I take the time of the House by moving another resolution? In my speech I laid much emphasis on this aspect.

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): As I said, Government consider that Section 16 of the Irrigation Regulation is adequate for the purpose. Recently the Government have amended the rules so as to make the pro rata recoveries in 15 years time instead of 10. According to the estimates prepared by the Minor Irrigation Committee, the total cost of irrigation works has been estimated at about 85 lakhs. I do not know whether, on the strength of this committee report, Government would be justified in spending all that all at once and in foregoing their claim to Rs. 17½ lakhs. After all, the lands that require irrigation works are particular wet lands in specified areas in the State. It requires further examination to say that such a concession in favour of specified wet lands is justifiable.

[Mr. K. Madhava Kurup.]

The sixth is—

"There should be a separate Irrigation Fund which should be cumulative as regards excess of (a)ly allotment over expenditure and a sum of not less than Rs. 5 lakhs per annum allotted until the necessary works are completed."

A separate Irrigation Fund has been created, and any balance left unexpended at the end of each year is added on to the fund and there will be no budget lapses. Since the formation of the fund in 1110, one lakh of rupees is being added on every year. It has not been possible for financial reasons, to allot five lakhs of rupees every year.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): May I know the total amount of the fund at the end of 1111?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Rs. 6 lakhs.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is this one lakh added on to irrigation fund taken from the unexpended allotment in the previous year, or from the general revenues?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Rs. 2 lakhs is taken from the general revenues. Last year Rs. 77,000 was added on to the fund.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether the unexpended portion of the allotment for irrigation works is being added on to the general revenues?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): No, only to the Irrigation fund.

The seventh is—

"Government should provisionally be in charge of the maintenance of all irrigation works and a uniform cess of 4 chs. per acre be imposed after preservation of the relative irrigation works, except in certain specified areas."

Provision has been made in Clause 5 of the Irrigation Regulation Amendment Bill to give effect to this.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know when the amendment Bill was published?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): November 1936.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know the reason why it was not brought up earlier?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Unfortunately, the member was not here when I explained why some time had to be taken to publish the Amendment Bill.

The next recommendation deals with the formation of a separate P. W. D. Irrigation Division. That has been done.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Has the formation of a separate division given the desired results?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): From the answers given this morning about the number of works completed during the last two years, the member should have been able to form a favourable impression.

About the precise cause of the periodic floods in Central and North Travancore being investigated and remedial proposals drawn up as stated in the ninth recommendation, the construction of a spill-way at Thottappally which will greatly remedy the periodic floods in Central Travancore is under consideration and will be taken up when funds become available.

In regard to all "petty" irrigation works being brought under the head "minor" and the necessary amendments being made in the Irrigation Regulation, provision has been made in the Irrigation Regulation Amendment Bill. Clauses 2,3,4,6 and 11 (a) of the Bill are intended for this purpose. This disposes of the tenth recommendation.

The eleventh recommendation is—

"The necessary rules under the appropriate provisions of the Regulation as proposed should be brought into force to avoid the delay involved in following the existing rules and regulations regarding the construction and restoration of minor irrigation works."

Steps are in progress to devolve larger administrative powers on the Irrigation Executive Engineer. It is not considered necessary to make these powers statutory all at once. In regard to the main point raised in the debate about the cumbersome procedure, there is no provision in the Amendment Bill.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether any step has been taken to avoid this cumbersome procedure now prescribed under the Regulation which causes delay?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): The delay is inevitable, because first of all the consent of the owners of lands has to be obtained, as the question of contribution comes up.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Is it not owing to the present provisions of the Regulation that the delay is unavoidable?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): As I said, the new Bill will come up before the Assembly at a future date and then it will be time enough to consider all the aspects of the question in detail. If these provisions are considered unsatisfactory it is open to the members to revise them both in the Select Committee and in this House by moving suitable amendments.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Does the member guarantee that these amendments will not be ruled out on the ground that they will affect the revenues of the State?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): I cannot give any such guarantee.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether when Government drafted the new Bill, the question of avoiding the cumbersome procedure was adverted to, and whether they found it impossible to find out a less cumbersome procedure?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government themselves have more than once admitted that the procedure is cumbersome. It is hoped that the provisions in the Bill will minimise delay.

Then the twelfth recommendation is as follows:—

“New provision based on the Madras Irrigation Act should be added to the Irrigation Regulation so as to give Irrigation Officers the power to enter private lands for depositing or obtaining materials for irrigation works.”

For that, provision has been made in Clause 9 of the Bill.

Then in regard to the last recommendation namely the total prohibition of registry of irrigation sources, it has been the practice not to register them unless the Irrigation Division Officer finds such registry not at all objectionable.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know in how many years, approximately, Government hope to get all work done; works costing Rs. 30 to 35 lakhs.

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government have not laid out any definite programme of work spread over a specified term.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): The Committee has said that the work would cost Rs. 30 to 35 lakhs. May I know how many years approximately would be required to complete the works costing so much amount?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): That will depend upon the funds available from year to year.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I wish to know in how many years Government expect to get these works done. Because it is irrigation, we cannot wait indefinitely.

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Government have not laid out any programme.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): What is the experience of the Irrigation Division Officers. If funds are available, in how many years can they get these works done? Can they do it in two or three years, or will they take a century? Are the Government earnest in the matter?

Mr. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): It will not be a century. The expenditure incurred year before last was Rs. 2 lakhs and odd and last year Rs. 3 lakhs and odd. It may be found possible to spend more money in the coming years.

Mr. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): May I know whether Government are satisfied that the Irrigation Division is doing the maximum amount of work possible, or do they expect them to do much more work after the rules are revised? I wish to know whether Government are satisfied that the Irrigation Officers are doing the maximum amount of work that can be expected of them with the funds available?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): As a matter of fact, during the last one or two years they were mostly engaged in investigation work under Section 10. When the works are actually taken up there will be greater expedition.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum - Rural): I wish to know whether Government have thought over the matter and come to any conclusion as to the approximate period within which these works will be done?

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): Not in regard to the period.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): The Government Member has been saying that this report has received better attention than the report of any other committee appointed by the Government. Then I pity all the other reports. The report was submitted in 1931, and after six years when we come and move a resolution that that may be acted upon, the Government Member says that no other report has received such favourable treatment at the hands of Government as this report.

I will take recommendation No. 4, i. e., that the "Remission rules should be made sufficiently elastic so as to be applicable under the varying conditions throughout the State." It will be borne in mind that this is the report of a committee in which the Chief Engineer, the Land Revenue Commissioner, the Financial Secretary, the Additional Head Sirkar Vakil and the Director of Agriculture were members. None of these officers has appended a dissenting minute to this recommendation in the report. After receipt of this report, Government forwarded it for the report of the Land Revenue Commissioner and he says that no change is needed in the rules except with regard to the kayat lands. Is this justifiable? To ask the Land Revenue Commissioner to sit in revision over the report of a committee in which himself and four other eminent officers took part, is a procedure which I cannot understand. And what is it that the Government say? They say that the Revenue Commissioner's opinion is acceptable and they decide accordingly? It is this Commissioner's predecessor together with other officers that sat in this Committee. In answer to a question of mine this morning the Government Member said that individual cases will be decided on their own merits. When an application for remission of tax on sufficient grounds is made to the Government, there is no obligation cast upon either the Government or this officer to conduct an enquiry in the matter and come to a correct decision. If there are rules, an obligation will be cast upon the departmental officers to enquire into the matter and submit their reports. But now if an application is presented, that can be disposed of in whatever manner they like. I would draw the attention of this House only to one illustration. About eight years ago, I brought to the attention of the Government the complete failure of crops in certain areas. The Land Revenue Commissioner accompanied me to the place and was convinced that there was real failure of crops. He reported to the Government that remission was necessary. The Government then asked for a report from the Division Peishkar, Quilon; and he said that these were usual complaints and therefore no remission need be granted. Government passed orders according to the recommendation of the Peishkar who had not seen the land, as against the recommendation of the Land Revenue Commissioner who went to the spot and satisfied himself about the failure of the crops. Why I draw the attention of this House to this particular incident is to show that when there are remission rules they have to be administered properly and if there are no such rules no relief is usually obtained. So I am of opinion that the single ground that the Government have decided not to make the remission rules elastic is sufficiently strong for me to press this motion to a division to show that the representatives of the people cannot countenance such an attitude on the part of the Government.

Another point which I wish to refer to is about Section 16. What is the answer to that? The Government Member has been stating that Section 16 which has been in existence from 1872 is an ample safeguard. Safeguard for whom? Safeguard for the Government, and not for the people who want protection and they are not prepared to effect any change in regard to that. So, my view is that the present procedure is very cumbersome and that it is not possible to carry out the works without delay. In answer to another question of mine this morning the Government Member answered thus:—

“Q: Whether it has been realised by the Irrigation Department or the Government that the delay is due to the preliminary steps that are now taken under the Irrigation Regulation for getting the consent of the land-owners for paying cess or contribution?

A: Yes; the preliminary steps referred to cause delay in getting estimates sanctioned.”

There is that answer and even then he is now saying that there is no necessity to change that procedure.

MR. K. MADHAVA KURUP (Ag. Secretary to Government): May I correct the member? Does the answer say that preliminary steps are not necessary?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): That does not say so. Even if the Government Member is going to say like that I am not going to accept it. The Regulation says otherwise. That is the most important matter. I want the Government to see that they do not adopt this heartless attitude in the matter of spending even a few hundred rupees on irrigation works which will materially advance the prosperity of the country. There is absolutely no justification for saying that unless the Government get 6 per cent. interest—an interest much higher than payable by any Government or Debenture bonds—or the people return the amount within a period of 15 years, the work shall not be carried on; and that for that purpose if the parties do not agree in writing, the whole scheme may be dropped. This should not find a place in any Irrigation Scheme. These are two important points on which steps should have been taken. On the other hand they tell us that they appointed a large number of officers even three years back. Probably that would help the persons who were appointed. It does not help the poor ryots. So unless the Government undertake to effect the necessary changes in the Irrigation Regulation and also agree to make the remission rules sufficiently elastic so as to extend the benefits of the same throughout the State, I would be compelled to press this resolution to a division.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : So, unless there is an undertaking to do all these three things, you want to press it?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): Yes.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I demand a poll.

A poll was taken and the House divided as follows:

AYES—86.

NEUTRALS—Nil.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud) : There are two members present in the House who do not come under any of those categories.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : The counting is done by me assisted by the Secretary and the staff. It is quite open to any member to vote as he likes. I do not find anything has happened as the honourable member has said. Therefore, I do not propose to throw my protection over those who did not care to be included in any of the three categories.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikud) : Sir, on a point of order. Is it not the duty of every member to stand up under one or other of the three categories?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Unless specific facts are placed before me, I cannot proceed with the matter. Is there any member who did not stand up at all?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Kural) : Is it not the rule that a member who is neither for nor against is neutral?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : I do not think the matter is so important as to necessitate a ruling. If instead of giving vague statements Mr. Narayana Pillai would name the persons who did not get up at all under any of the three classes,.....

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud) : I submit, Sir, two honourable members, Messrs. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai and N. E. Varughese did not stand up under any of the classes.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I) : The member is uttering falsehood, Sir; I stood up in favour of the resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : As a matter of policy, honourable members should give their vote for or against, or should declare that they are neutral and stand up when requested to do so. It is a matter of combined duty and courtesy. But if any member does not do it, it is not such a serious matter for the Chair to take notice of.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnathur cum Pattanapuram) : My name has also been mentioned. Sir, I request you to go through the list and see whether I have not voted for the resolution.

MR. N. E. VARUGHESE (Tiruvalla I) : Similarly for me also, Sir.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : At the fag end of the session, I do not ordinarily like to make any remarks unless they are absolutely necessary. When the matter was referred to me, I said that getting up was a matter of combined duty and courtesy. Since then, here is the word spoken in open Assembly by Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai that he did vote according to his light and that his name has appeared in the voting paper. That statement is absolutely reliable and must be scrupulously respected. That being the case we shall leave the matter there and I wish to say that honourable members should not raise such points unless they are sure of their facts.

MR. CHANGANACHERY K. PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Kunnathur cum Pattanapuram) : Sir, I would like the matter to be finally decided by referring to the voting list.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The matter has been decided that Mr. Changanachery Paramesvaran Pillai did vote, and that his vote was taken into consideration and the same remark applies to Mr. Varughese as well.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): In that case, I would request that, consistent with the dignity of the House the Chair should direct the honourable member to withdraw his statement that two honourable members did not take part in the voting.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: From the manner in which I have made the observation from the Chair, I suppose the House will be satisfied of the decision of the matter. It did not occur to me that it was the result of a design by the honourable member; it might have been only a slip. Anyhow, the mistake has been rectified; I hope the House will be satisfied with that.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Whether it was designed or was only a slip, the statement is there. In either case, it is open to you Sir, to ask the member to withdraw.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Exercising my judgment, I think the matter may be left there, unless the House as a body wants serious action to be taken. I am quite sure the member who made that statement regrets for it. It is for the Chair to see that. But there are certain matters to be presumed.

APPOINTMENT OF TRADE AGENTS IN EUROPE.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the resolution which I beg to move is as follows:—

"This Assembly recommends to Government that Trade Agents be appointed in European Countries".

Sir, this resolution is an important one considering the poverty of the people here, the absence of scope for immediate development of industries in the land, and the lack of knowledge of suitable markets in foreign countries to export our products. Travancore is mainly an agricultural country. The population of Travancore is increasing day by day. But the extent of lands suitable for cultivation remains as it was. The agriculturist is immersed in an ocean of debts. The average agricultural income per person is Rs. 40 per year. Out of this, Rs. 75 is to be paid for his debts. How to save the people and the State from this poverty stricken condition. That is the question that confronts this House and the people of the country. As a solution for this serious problem, the Government should find out means to increase the land available for cultivation. Firstly, we must look into the question whether more lands could be made available in Travancore for cultivation purposes.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The availability of land for cultivation in Travancore has very little to do with the appointment of Trade Agents,

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I will come to that presently Sir. If you look to the reserve forests in the State we find there are thousands and thousands of acres of wet lands that are useless for the preservation of forests but will be very useful to promote paddy cultivation.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member cannot hang that question on this peg.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): By disafforesting those lands...

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I prohibit that sort of argument. Mr. Nair is at liberty to say anything which would lead to the discussion of the appointment of Trade Agents.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Even in the reserve forests there are various products to be collected, and they are very very valuable for our use as well as for exporting. Those products can very well be collected out of our forest and with the help of the Trade Agents outside (i. e. in Europe) suitable markets can be found out. Again Sir....

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): What are those forest products which can be exported?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): One of them is "Kalmatham" (a. 1200) (Laughter).

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): For what is it used?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Then, there is another product known as "Nuxvomica" and also other equally valuable products which can be collected from the reserves. If I am going to give a list of all these.....

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The honourable member will not be allowed to do that.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, the economic safety and security of the State and the people depends upon the industrialisation of the country.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): May I know the quantities of such products which have been already collected and is waiting for sale in European countries?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is for that purpose that we have to appoint Trade Agents in the European countries, to find our markets for these products.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): What is the use of "Kalmatham".

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): It is used as a tonic for rejuvenation. (Laughter).

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Order, order.

Now that the humour has had its play let me say that the properties of "Kalmatham" do not require any detailed statement in this House. For the purpose of the resolution contemplating the appointment of Trade Agents, the statement that "Kalmatham" is of some use is enough.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, it is a rare product. Except in Travancore this product is not to be found anywhere else. It has got great medicinal value.

The idea of our Government is definitely towards the industrialisation of the State. For that purpose the State has undertaken the Hydro Electric Scheme, the Cottage Industries Scheme, the Motor Transport Scheme, and the scheme for the development of factories. There is no use for this large scale industrialisation unless and until the products of our factories and cottages could find suitable markets outside. For that purpose I submit that it is essential that proper and efficient Trade Agents must be appointed in European countries. Sir, the development of industries as well as agriculture goes side by side; and so the appointment of Trade Agents in European countries may be conducive to the speedy sale of our industrial and agricultural products. If you look into the system prevailing in the European countries and in Japan we find that the Trade Agents of Japan, Russia, England, France, America and Germany are representing their respective countries in India. Their Trade Agents are holding their offices here. They have been deputed by their respective countries. They have studied the conditions of our market: and what all raw products they can obtain from here are being exported from here and their finished goods imported here.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether Mr. Nair would like to have the same sort of a Trade Agent as the one we now have in Bombay.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Far from it. I do not at all wish to have one like that.

(The House rose for lunch at 1 p. m. and met again at 2 p. m.)

Sir, so far as the industrialisation of the State is concerned, there is great scope for improving our sugar factory, for starting one or two tapioca flour factories and for the mining of plumbago. I may say, in this connection, that for years together, in the Nedumangad Taluk, the mining of plumbago was resorted to by a German Firm. It was only just before the war that this was discontinued. Then there is the possibility of mining mica and iron. For this purpose also, Sir, there is good scope in the Kottarakara and the Nedumangad taluks. I am told by elderly persons that there was a time when iron was produced at Aryand in the Nedumangad taluk. In regard to the possibility of improving the mica industry in the State, we have only to go and see the Palace at Padmanabhapuram. It will be found that instead of glass, mica is used in the window panel there.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: The Chair is forced to tell the honourable member that he is making out a case for an Industrial Survey of the State.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I am making out a case for the need for appointing Trade Agents in Europe. Sir, instead of glass that are generally used for window panel we see mica being used for the windows of the Padmanabhapuram Palace.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Is it the member's suggestion that the Palace windows may be sold in Europe? (Laughter).

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Even the palaces which are not now occupied are being maintained as very sacred institutions, and as ancient monuments. Hence, I am unable to see very much of relevancy in the question of the honourable member.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I was just pointing out these facts in order to satisfy honourable members that there is possibility and great scope for work in outside countries, if we appoint Trade Agents. Then there is the possibility of starting gold mines.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I shall be forced to ask the honourable member to sit down.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): What I submit is this. There is no use in simply developing our industries. We must find out methods to find out suitable markets in foreign countries, along with the industrialisation. The duty of the State is to find out fresh, suitable and profitable markets in European countries to export our goods.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Does the member know whether, at any time in the past, the Government had any idea of appointing a Trade Agent in Europe?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I shall explain presently how the Government have accepted the principle contained in my resolution.

When I referred to the products of the State, I referred to one rare medicine called "Kulmatham". There are other articles to be collected from the forests and exported outside, Mattippal for instance. We must find out suitable markets for these valuable products.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): What is the qualification which the member would prescribe for the proposed Trade Agent?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Energy, activity, general knowledge, patriotism, wide knowledge of our country and its products, and pluck and push. (Laughter.)

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether such persons are available in Travancore?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): There are such persons, including the honourable member himself.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: I do not think such compliments may be paid.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): In 1108 or 1109, as a Member of the old Popular Assembly, I brought this question to the attention of Government, and I am glad to submit for the information of this House that it was then accepted by the Government; and in that year's budget an allotment of Rs. 30,000 was made for the appointment of a Trade Agent in England. So the principle of my resolution has already been accepted by the Government. There is no use in appointing commercial ambassadors in England, Germany, France, Italy and in half-a-dozen other countries. What we want are Trade Agents for canvassing and advertising our products, finding out suitable markets for promoting and developing trade with foreign countries and enriching our State and thus to help the solution of poverty and unemployment problems that confront the State today. With these words I request the House to accept the resolution.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): I second it.

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Sir, the appointment of Trade Agents has been engaging the attention of Government for some time as a result of the representation made in this Assembly and in the old Legislative Council. Government are very keenly alive to the need for the appointment of Trade Agents wherever possible. As the honourable mover of the resolution has stated, in the year 1108 an amount of Rs. 30,000 was provided for the appointment of a Trade Agent in London. Investigations were made to see how far the appointment of a Trade Agent would be useful and would be in the interests of the State. It was found that the Indian market, in many respects, was a wide field which had not been tapped. Therefore, it was decided to begin with British India; and accordingly a Trade Agent was appointed, with his headquarters at Bombay.

It is very necessary, of course, that, for the purpose of advertisement and also for doing propaganda work outside the State in order to make people outside aware of the possibilities and resources of the State, Trade Agents should be appointed. Government are well aware of that. Why they have not done so is on account of the apprehension that the expenditure that may be incurred may not be proportionate to the profits that may be derived. Still, the question has not been given up. Government would certainly encourage any idea of private agencies like Chambers of Commerce taking up this matter. If they will appoint their own men who are interested in the trade of this country, and ask Government for some help, Government would be glad to consider the question.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know whether Trade Agents' work is being delegated to private agencies, so far as European countries or Baroda or Mysore are concerned?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): Different countries follow different methods. I know a very respectable firm in Bombay who act as agents for Germany. Therefore, it is not an entirely novel idea to entrust this kind of work to private organisations. One advantage will be that it will be possible for us, with the co-operation of commercial organizations, to bring in, probably, more profits to the State than by the Government themselves doing it.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangal): May I know whether the Trade Agents of Mysore and Baroda are Government servants or representatives of private agencies?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): As far as I know the Trade Agent of Mysore is a Government servant. I do not know about Baroda.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know the terms on which Germany has appointed their agent in Bombay?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): I have no information. The agent when he came here told me that he was the agent for Germany.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunagad): May I know whether he was a canvassing agent?

MR. C. KUMARA DAS (Director of Industries): A trade agent has to canvas orders. His business is not only to find out markets for his country's products but he has also to find out the best market for purchasing stores for his country's Government. With a view to assist the Government in the purchase of their requirements they have recently appointed a Stores Purchase Committee which has already begun to function. It could therefore be seen that Government are quite alive to the necessity for advertising their goods and resources and purchasing their stores in the manner most favourable to the State's interests, only no Trade Agent as such has so far been appointed. The resolution says that Trade Agents should be appointed in European countries. I am not quite sure whether the results that may accrue will be commensurate with the expenditure incurred. The question is always in the mind of the Government and whenever there is need, Trade Agents will be appointed.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedunagad): Sir, on behalf of Government the honourable member has just now admitted that the idea of the appointment of Trade Agents in Europe has been engaging the attention of Government during the last few years and that in the matter of purchasing stores also Trade Agents would be of much use. In the light of the statements he has made, hoping that Government would find their way to appoint Trade Agents in European countries as early as possible, I withdraw the resolution.

The resolution was by leave withdrawn.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE IN TALUKS.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): Sir, I beg to move the following resolution:—

"This Assembly recommends to the Government that fifty per cent. of the revenue of each taluk be spent in that taluk for its development."

The object of my resolution is to bring to the notice of Government that now local needs are not being attended to.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Sir, I rise to a point of order.

Can a resolution be moved in the form of a token motion to bring to the notice of Government the general question of attending to local needs? The resolution has to be on a specific matter, and the member has to be within the confines of the resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Mr. Narayana Pillai probably wants to fill it with flesh and blood by bringing in certain instances.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): Yes, Sir, some taluks of the State are developing considerably at the expense of other taluks. While people in certain taluks do not even get the bare necessities of life, people in certain other taluks enjoy several luxuries. My opinion is that all taluks must be developed simultaneously. Otherwise, it will not reflect credit to the Government. The old Sri Mulam Popular Assembly members were allowed to make representations about local needs. But here there is no scope for that. If this resolution is accepted 50 per cent. of the revenue of each taluk will be set apart for the development of that taluk. The necessities of that taluk can be supplied by that money, and the people will not have any reason to complain.

According to the present system of accounting, it is not possible to know the amount of revenue derived from each taluk. I asked an interpellation, and that was the answer given to me. It is therefore not possible even to know what amount is being derived from each taluk, nor whether all the revenue is being spent on that taluk.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): What are the items of revenue that the member contemplates?

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): I include all items of revenue from all sources, Excise Revenue, Customs Revenue and Land Revenue.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): What about the Customs Revenue collected at Alleppey?

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): I have no objection to 50 per cent of the Customs Revenue from Alleppey being spent on that taluk itself.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know whether the member considers that the Customs Revenue collected at the Alleppey Port is the Revenue of the Ambalapuzha taluk?

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): I do not wish to answer that. When I forwarded the resolution my idea was to include only land revenue.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Vilavankud): May I ask whether the member suggests that a pro-rata share of each taluk in Customs Revenue also should be spent in that taluk?

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): I have explained that; what is contributed by the people of each taluk should be spent for them, at least 50 per cent of it.

I do not wish to give a detailed catalogue of the needs of each taluk. My only point is that there must be some consideration for the people of each taluk. I have very often stated here that even the necessities of some taluks are neglected. If this resolution is accepted all the taluks will be developed simultaneously. That is what we want. I do not say that no taluks should be developed at a greater speed than the rest; for instance, the capital may be developed more than other places.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkeezh I): May I know whether the honourable member has made any attempt to find out the revenue derived from the various taluks and the proportion of such revenue now spent on the various taluks?

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicolum): The land revenue can be ascertained. I put a specific question about this; but the Financial Secretary told me in answer to that interpellation that separate accounts for the various taluks were not being maintained. This resolution does not seek to benefit my taluk alone. I therefore hope that it will carry weight with all the members of the House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I support the resolution. In doing so I wish to submit that, at present, the income from each of the various taluks is not being utilised for its development. On the other hand, the tax payers in most of the taluks are being deprived of the benefit of the contribution they make to Government by way of taxes. This is a very hard case and the complaint is a just one. So far as the Nedumangad taluk is concerned, we know that we are contributing a good share. In return we get very little benefit. Of course, it may be answered that we are given the benefit of police, magistrate and civil administration and so forth. That is true.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Does the taluk of Kottarakkottam get much more than Nedumangad?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I do not know.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Does Pattanamapuram get much more?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I do not know.

So far as my personal knowledge goes, the Nedumangad taluk is being deprived of the benefit that it can expect for the amount of taxes it contributes.

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Tovai): Is there any specific reason for such neglect of the Nedumangad taluk?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): There was a specific reason. The Nedumangad taluk had no opportunity to send its own representative to the Legislative Council since it was clubbed together with another taluk.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: All that does not arise.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinkil I): May I know whether conditions have improved after Nedumangad has been able to send its own representative?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The representative of the Nedumangad taluk is now trying his level best to improve the condition; but he cannot say that he has succeeded fully.

MR. T. P. VELAYUDHAN PILLAI (Tiruvalla III): What is the amount of land revenue derived from Nedumangad in 1911?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I claim notice. (Laughter.)

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Will the taluk continue to be represented by the same member hereafter also?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Order, order. We have been doing business properly until this moment; and I am sure we will continue like that. I consider this question not quite necessary for the discussion.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I hope so; and the people wish for it.

My suggestion is that at least fifty per cent of land revenue derived from each taluk should be set apart for the development of the taluk such as the improvement of roads, the improvement of irrigation tanks, the promotion of education and sanitation etc.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): May I know whether the member is in a position to state that fifty per cent is not being spent in each taluk at present?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Not spent.

What I say is that fifty per cent of the revenue, excluding the expenditure for collection, should be set apart for expenditure in that taluk. The remaining portion may be utilised for the development of Hydro-electric Scheme, etc. With these words, I support the resolution.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II): I wish to add a word in support of the resolution. The principle underlying the resolution may, at first sight, seem to be a very narrow one, and such demands from members may, I fear, be condemned as being parochial. But we cannot help moving such resolutions. The resolution is moved by the member representing my neighbouring constituency and I cannot but support it. It has been often told that the rural parts of the State are being completely neglected by Government when they prepare the Budget. The needs of the rural areas are rather simple and necessary but most vital to the nation. Nevertheless Government take only a step-motherly attitude at present and almost seem to forget them. Hence it is that the necessity for moving such resolutions is forced upon us.

The resolution, as it is worded, may evoke several objections from the Government side, and even from members on this side as well. We are aware of all that; still we cannot help it. I will illustrate the point by one single instance. It is the duty of the State to attend to the primary necessities of the life of the ordinary citizen such as facility for free primary education, Anchal service etc. Now suppose from an out of the way place, the people come and apply for the institution of an Anchal Office in their village which is one of the primary needs of the human society at present. The rules laid down in the Anchal Regulation say that unless and until the office there is self-supporting or somebody is coming forward with a deposit, to guarantee the income, that need will not be attended to. Is it possible for any man in Travancore to be completely in out of communication with the rest of the world? Yet how many villages are there where the Anchal peon is a rare commodity? That is the state of affairs. My contention is that when such demands are brought forward, the Government should see that these needs are attended to immediately, viewing it as a State problem and not as a local problem which ought to be self-sufficient. Government have to be alive to this matter. The resolution, as I am sure, will not be carried. But, as has been rightly stated by Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai, this is more or less in the nature of a token motion. I do not think Mr. Narayana Pillai himself will be serious enough to press the resolution.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devisolam): I am very serious, Sir, in pressing the resolution.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Let me ask Mr. Kuriakose whether he is supporting the resolution or not.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : I am supporting the resolution although I am sure of its adverse fate.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know whether the honourable friend is supporting the resolution in earnest (Laughter), and seriously?

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Everything that takes place in this House is earnest and serious except humour sometimes displayed during the course of discussion.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Sir, if the Anchal Department is self supporting and is being worked with a profit, where is the meaning in saying that a particular Anchal office should be self-supporting? Instances of this kind can be multiplied. I hope Government would understand the spirit of the resolution and find out remedies. With these words I support the resolution.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : Sir, as the resolution stands at present, I am sorry, I cannot support it. But with the permission of the Chair, I will move that "50 per cent" be substituted by "20 per cent".

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : Mr. Elenkath will please speak on the resolution as it is. But arguments may be advanced in support of that position.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : With the permission of the Chair I move an amendment; and the object of it is that Government should as far as possible, when framing the budget, should have in view the revenue contributed by the different localities in the State. The resolution, as it is worded, is not acceptable inasmuch as more than 50 per cent of the revenue contributed by the various taluks may be needed for the general purposes, for exigencies of service, for the Government to run on proper and efficient lines. Therefore I move the amendment in order that Government may follow a definite policy so that there may not be any neglect of particular areas.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT : So, you are formally moving the amendment. Instead of "80 per cent" you want "20 per cent" to be substituted?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : Yes, Sir. By doing so, 80 per cent of the revenue can be utilised for the purpose of the general interests of the State and 20 per cent alone for particular areas.

MR. K. M. KURIAKOSE (Muvattupuzha II) : Why does the member fix even twenty per cent?

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : I am sure that 2 or 3 or even 10 per cent may not serve any purpose at all. So, it must be a considerable proportion. At the same time Government should be enabled to run on proper lines. Administration has to be carried on efficiently. So, 20 per cent is a very reasonable and modest demand and, if properly utilised, is sufficient to meet the obligations in particular areas. Sir, it is very deplorable that Government did not pay heed to the demands of people from whom a considerable amount of revenue is derived. For example, in the matter of tolls, I find that roads from which the largest amount of tolls is being collected are utterly neglected.

Mr. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad) : May I know whether tolls are being collected on the roads or on the vehicles ? (Laughter.)

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : On the roads through which vehicles pass.

Mr. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : May I know whether there are any taluks in which 20 per cent. of the revenue from tolls is not spent ?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : Yes, there are.

Mr. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II) : Will the member please name them ?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : Kalkulam for instance ; Villavankod is another.

Mr. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II) : What is the revenue from the Kalkulam taluk ?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : I have made only a rough calculation. Salaries and establishment charges should be totally excluded. If you include the salaries of officers, there will be no taluk which does not get 20 per cent. for its development.

Mr. POTTAYIL S. KRISHNA PANICKAR (Shertala II) : Is it the member's opinion that the 20 per cent. should be of the net revenues or of the total revenues ?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : After deducting for salaries etc. 20 per cent. must be set apart for local needs.

Mr. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II) : May I know whether the member has any objection in spending 75 per cent. of the balance after deducting the expenditure in each taluk ?

Mr. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I) : I have very great objection. The State has to meet very important items of expenditure which do not concern particular areas at all. We cannot expect that a large portion derived from each taluk should be spent on it. It may not be in the general interests and welfare of the country. Therefore, I fix it at 20 per cent. and as for the balance, Government should take steps to utilise that income to the best advantage and for the best interests of the country.

Mr. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I) : Sir, I rise to oppose the resolution. I can very well appreciate the object with which this resolution has been brought forward. I know, Sir, that there is cause for legitimate complaint on the part of the inhabitants of certain taluks which are comparatively neglected with regard to the common amenities of life. But, I do not think Sir, that is because of any prejudice or due to any design on the part of Government to neglect any particular taluk or area. I attribute that circumstance to the fact that Government have no definite scheme of work for the provision of amenities to the various parts of the State. One can understand if a motion is made urging the Government to make definite scheme for the provision of amenities. But this resolution appears to me, Sir, to be very preposterous and I do not think any Government will be able to accept it. I do not think for one moment that this will enure to the benefit of the taluks on whose behalf it is supposed that this plea is made. The needs of a taluk do not at all depend upon the revenue it contributes. A taluk may be poor in its revenue contribution; all the same it is the paramount duty of the Government to give to the people of that taluk also their bare necessities and amenities which are the right of every citizen. I will take one example. There may be a taluk along the coastal areas where there will be no good drinking water, or a place where there may be a necessity for putting up a high concrete wall to prevent erosion from the sea. If the revenue of each taluk is divided compartmentally as proposed by this resolution it will be impossible for Government to concentrate their attention on such obvious necessities and spend money. It will be making the position of Government absolutely difficult. The proper financing of necessary expenditure will become impossible. It will be making the financial administration of the State antediluvian. It will be making it absolutely impossible for particular areas, irrespective of their contribution to the general coffers to get their bare necessities of life. This fact has not been recognised by the mover of the resolution.

Another point also may be urged. It is merely stated "revenue". My friend, the mover at last admitted that he does not intend to include indirect sources of revenue when he used the word "revenue" and that he intended to include only land tax. If we are to take into account land tax alone, there will be other difficulties. Whether the expenditure should be 20 per cent of the total revenue collected or whether it should be 20 per cent. of the other revenues, will have to be considered. I will take one instance. It has been stated that there is a large amount of smuggling going on in certain taluks. The Government have to take preventive measures with regard to them. Those measures may require large sums of money. Is it not necessary, I ask? Yes. It will be in the interests of the State as a whole as well as of the taluks. It is necessary to safeguard the life and property of the people living there as well as the revenues of the State. Will it be possible for the Government to spend the required sum of money to maintain their prestige and power, if we were to allot compartmentally and rigidly just 50 per cent. of the revenue derived from the place, irrespective of such important local needs, irrespective of the special circumstances?

MR. M. SIVATANU PILLAI (Touala): May I know whether the member has not heard of punitive police being established in such cases?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): That is not a question which legitimately arises now.

That does not touch the argument that I have advanced. So the rigid compartmentalisation of expenditure is, according to me, a wrong idea.

DEPUTY PRESIDENT: Your idea is that canons of public revenue and expenditure cannot be influenced by the boundaries of taluks?

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): Even if it were possible, it should not be allowed. The whole State has to be taken as a unit. Government should meet the absolute necessities of each Taluk irrespective of its income. That is my plea. Government should not be heard to say that because a taluk gives only so much by way of revenue, that taluk should be given only so much. That will be a primitive form of Government. That form of Government will not be justified in these times. I could have understood it if this motion merely wanted to draw the attention of the House to the necessity of a more equitable distribution of funds for the purposes necessary for each locality. That is a very different matter from asking or recommending to the Government that every taluk must get only 50 per cent. or any definite percentage of the revenue it contributes. That should not be done. I do not think any Government will be able to accept that we should not make recommendations which, on the face of them, are unacceptable. I am not saying this because of any parochial feeling or because my taluk is well provided for or that I want to deprive other taluks of what they really need. I am speaking on behalf of those taluks which make only small contribution but legitimately need large expenditure. This principle of this resolution if accepted, would be ruinous to them and it should not be accepted.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): May I know.....

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I do not yield. All taluks cannot be satisfied with a bare 50 per cent. of their revenue contributions. Some may need cent. per cent. or even more. The expenditure should not be restricted like that. I very strongly oppose the recommendation now made to the Government. At the same time I am in sympathy with the spirit of the recommendation, namely, that there should be a more equitable distribution of funds for the amenities of backward taluks in the State. With these words I oppose the resolution.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Sir, I support the resolution. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai was saying that, if this resolution is accepted, the poor taluks will suffer. I do not know how that will happen. After all, what the resolution says is that only 50 per cent. need be spent for each taluk. There is the remaining 50 per cent. That can be used for national purposes. There are, as a matter of fact, taluks which suffer by the present allotment of funds. It is not due to any partiality on the part of the Government. It is due to geographical and other causes. It always happens that a taluk away in the High Ranges does not attract the attention of the Government and of the public, as the taluks near the capital.

RAO SAMBIA MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is the member prepared to accept the view that 50 per cent. of the income of each pukuthi should be set apart for the pukuthi?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I do not object to that principle. Even if it is for a kara, I am prepared to accept that position.

MR. R. SAMBASIVA AIYAR (Kummadnad II): Is the member of opinion that in the case of persons who pay income tax, fifty percent. of the amount of tax that they pay, should be spent for their wants.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): I do not want to go to that question now. The resolution is not about that. With these words, I support the resolution.

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): Sir, I oppose the resolution. The honourable member who moved the motion was not clear whether he referred to Land Revenue alone. If he refers to the Land Revenue of each taluk, the total revenue of the State according to the last Budget is Rs. 38 lakhs, out of which we have to pay a contribution of Rs. 16 lakhs to the Devaswoms. If we allot Rs. 19 lakhs for the various taluks, we get only Rs. 3 lakhs for general purposes. So if he refers to Land Revenue alone the resolution cannot be considered at all. On the other hand, if he refers to the total revenue of each taluk, then the proposal amounts to the grant of partial financial autonomy for each taluk.

RAO SAHIB MAHA KAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Is the member aware of such a system in any States in India?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): No, Sir, that is what I am coming to. It will involve a radical change in our administrative and financial policy, I may call it, even a revolutionary change. One of the chief aims of Government is to supply a uniform standard of administration to all the parts of the State. The Government does not view differently a taluk which has got a deficit budget from another with a surplus budget. That is the principle underlying the present system of administration. If the member wants that all the 40 units should be treated as separate for financial purposes I have only to state it, to draw the attention of the House to the absurdity of such a proposition. If he means, on the other hand, that 50 per cent of the land revenue alone should be set apart for each taluk, the proposition is found to be quite unsound politically, administratively and financially. There will not be sufficient residue to meet the general charges of the State. I do not think that it requires many words to show that the proposition is not a sound one.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Is there any objection to spend a proportion of the revenue, apart from land revenue, derived from each taluk, in that taluk itself?

RAO BAHADUR A. RENGASVAMI AIYAR (Financial Secretary to Government): It means keeping of separate accounts. We don't keep separate accounts for each taluk. Take customs, for instance. If all the revenue derived from Alleppey under customs were to be spent for Ambalapuzha taluk, then, what about other taluks which do not have such resources. We can't have such compartmental system in the matter of allotting money for nation building activities. We have got to take into account all the resources of the State for such matters. If the House votes the expenditure for a particular need in a particular taluk, then the matter is different. With these words I oppose the resolution.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): In the nature of the reply given I don't wish to press the motion.

The resolution was, by leave, with drawn.

MALAYALES IN CEYLON.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I beg to move the following resolution:—

"This Assembly recommends to Government that, in view of the anti-Indian agitation especially directed against the Malayalees in Ceylon, the Government of India be requested not to enter into any trade agreement with Ceylon, till all the disabilities of the Malayalees and other Indians in Ceylon are done away with".

Sir, I wish to point out to this House and to bring to the attention of Government the necessity for taking prompt action to make our demands to the Government of India with a view to rectify many disabilities that the Malayalees in general and Travancoreans living in these parts suffer in Ceylon. Sir, it has been engaging the attention of the people all over India that in Ceylon a particular section, the Indian people especially Malayalees, are looked upon with prejudice. They have contributed substantially for the development of that Island. It is seen from figures that among the many people engaged in various trades and occupations in that country, the Malayalees form a considerable majority. And there are very many people from Travancore who are in Ceylon and who are subject to these disabilities.

Sometime ago, irrespective of party feelings, a considerable section of the members of the Indian Legislative Assembly published a statement protesting against the policy of discrimination, and the agitation against Malayalees. Sir, a Commissioner was appointed by the Ceylon Government to enquire into this matter and his report has been submitted and it is found from that report that they make certain discriminations with regard to certain species of labour who go from India to Ceylon. It is seen also that certain prohibitions are made in regard to certain kinds of labourers while certain other kinds of labourers are permitted to go to Ceylon to earn their livelihood. The only thing that our Government should do in this matter is that they should take prompt and effective steps to safeguard the interests of Indians in Ceylon. Sir, we must bear in mind the fact that Ceylon is carrying on unfair competition in regard to the sale of our money crop, the coconut. It is also a fact that the Ceylon Government has been imposing various duties on the import of our products such as eggs, tea, vegetable, oil, fish and other things. I myself have brought that matter to the attention of the House, by way of an adjournment motion; that Government should take adequate steps to ventilate their grievances to the Government of India and take prompt measures to redress those grievances. The object of this resolution is to draw the attention of Government to the necessity of safeguarding the interests of the Malayalees and Travancoreans residing in Ceylon. Sir, the time is opportune to approach the Government of India with this request as they are now negotiating with the Government of Ceylon with regard to some new trade agreements. It is to show to this House the necessity to redress the grievances of our people in Ceylon and to press this matter upon the attention of the Government of India, that I move this resolution.

[At this stage the President took the Chair.]

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know the meaning of the word Malayalee?

MR. K. KUNJAKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): By "Malayalee", I meant not the people who speak Malayalam but all those who belong to the Malabar country including Travancore, Cochin and Malabar.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): I second the resolution.

RAO BANAHUR RAJYASEVANIRATA DR. N. KUNJAN PILLAI (Chief Secretary to Government): This question has already engaged the attention of Government. They are fully aware of the hardships and difficulties that the Malayalees in Ceylon are subjected to. Probably the honourable member may be aware that Ceylon is not the only country where Indian immigrants are put to such hardships. Even in the F. M. S., Burma, and East and South Africa the Indians experience very many disabilities. Government realise that such grievances require redress; and I may inform the House that the Government have taken necessary action in the matter. They have addressed the Agent to the Governor-General to bring to the notice of the Government of India the pitiable condition of the Malayalees in Ceylon and received a reply from the Government of India that our view-point has been communicated to the Agent to the Governor-General in Ceylon and that he has been specially instructed to give all facilities to the Malayalees including Travancoreans to prepare a Memorandum of their case for submission to the Immigration Commissioner who is now enquiring into the question. Whatever possible, has been done; but whether it is possible or advisable to tell the Government of India that they shall not enter into any trade agreement with Ceylon until and unless all disabilities suffered by the Indians especially Malayalees, are removed, I really cannot say. The agitation on the part of a section of the Ceylonese against Indians has been clearly brought to the notice of the Government of India; and honourable members may rest assured that the Government of India have considered the question and are doing all that is necessary. If anything further is to be done, I can assure the House, that this Government will not fail to do it. The Government feel as much as the honourable members on the importance and seriousness of the question; and I may assure this House that the Government will not leave undone anything which could be done to mitigate the hardships of our people in Ceylon or, in any other country.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): The resolution is: "Government will be requested not to enter into any trade agreement with Ceylon". As I understand the resolution, I think we are setting a tall order on the Government of India.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): May I know from the member whether he understands the meaning of the word "request"?

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): What I suggest is that to request the Government of India not to enter into any agreement with Ceylon, I think, is going too far. I fear if this resolution is carried, we may forfeit the favours, necessary for our well-being, which we now derive from the Government of India. Moreover their not entering into any trade agreement with Ceylon will not remove our disabilities in Ceylon. But if the mover wants only to bring to the notice of Government, I am certainly prepared to support his resolution.

MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon I): I am satisfied with the assurance given on behalf of Government by the Leader of the House. I only wanted to urge on the attention of Government the necessity for bringing this matter prominently before the Government of India and was suggesting a method to make the Ceylon Government yield to our reasonable request.

Resolutions are only recommendations made to Government and they need not be construed and interpreted as statutory enactments. Regarding this matter, I am satisfied, that Government will do all that they possibly could. I do not for a moment accept the elucidation of constitutional proprieties given by my honourable friend Mr. Kuriyan. But I am satisfied with the assurance given by the Chief Secretary and I withdraw the resolution.

The resolution was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

RECRUITMENT OF MAGISTRATES FROM THE BAR.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Sir, I beg to move the following resolution:—

"This Assembly recommends to Government that in future fifty per cent of the Magistrates' vacancies be filled by direct recruitment from the Bar."

[Mr. T. Krishna Pillai.]

Sir, the principle of this resolution, it is eminently gratifying to note, has already been accepted by Government as is evident from the recent recruitments from the Bar to fill up certain vacancies in the Magistracy. In spite of the laudable move on the part of Government to improve the efficiency of Magistracy, I move this resolution to impress upon Government that they should not rest content with such stray recruitments, but should in future adopt it as their definite policy that at least fifty per cent. of Magistrates' vacancies should be filled up by direct recruitment from the Bar.

Sir, as for the advantage in adopting this policy, I do not think there is any necessity to expatiate. Undoubtedly, lawyers of experience are better qualified and better fitted to fill the place of presiding officers of the Criminal Courts. Executive Officers are selected on the basis of their general qualification. It is rather too much to demand of them any special skill. Their knowledge of law is of only secondary concern to them but to a judge, the scientific and thorough knowledge of law is the primary concern. His experience in the legal procedure and his experience in the legal atmosphere of the law courts makes a lawyer more efficient to be a judge than an executive officer who has never before visited a law court, but has been confined within the four walls of his office. Comparisons are odious, and I do not want to pursue that further. But there is no gainsaying the fact that a lawyer of experience is by far fitted to fill the place of a Magistrate rather than an executive officer of Government, Government have already begun to recognise this; and what I stress is that, in future, better encouragement should be given to lawyers, and the practice of recruitments from the Bar should be adopted as a policy by Government.

MR. S. NILAKANTA PILLAI (Chirayinkil II): May I know whether the term "Magistrates" includes District and First Class Magistrates also?

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Certainly.

MR. A. EASWARA PILLAI (Kalkulam II): May I know how these vacancies are filled up now.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): By promotion from the executive.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Muvattikara): Is it the member's suggestion that 50 per cent. of the District Magistrates also should be recruited from the Bar?

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): I mean the First and Second Class Magistrates, i. e., the subordinate magistracy as a whole. With these few words I move the resolution for the unanimous acceptance of the House.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kalkulam I): Sir, I would like to make a few observations on the resolution. The principle has been accepted that some percentage of the members of the Bar should be recruited. If that principle is accepted in the case of appointments in the Civil Courts, I do not find any reason why the principle cannot be extended to the Criminal Courts as well.

It is seen very often that Magistrates who are directly recruited from the clerical staff do not find themselves well-versed in procedure and in the legal aspects they have to administer; and it is only proper that at least a percentage is directly recruited from the Bar. In the case of direct recruitment as District Magistrates, this principle may not very often be helpful and workable. Though it is done in the case of High Court Judges, I do not think that it is advisable to follow that principle in the case of criminal justice by making the resolution applicable to original appointments of District Magistrates. With these words, I second the resolution.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, I support the resolution. The policy generally adopted by the Government, at present, in the matter of recruitment of Second Class Magistrates is by granting promotion to clerks in the Secretariat, Land Revenue Department and the Account Office. As a lawyer, I can speak out my personal experience and knowledge; and I assert that this system has been a failure. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, I can assure this House and Government that the Magistrates recruited from the clerks, have been a failure. The reason is this. It is not due to the absence of intelligence or the absence of knowledge on their part but it is due to the absence of experience, of human knowledge, of human nature and the absence of intimate contact with the people of the country.

MR. K. PADMANABHAN (Chirayinil I): May I know whether second grade pleaders also should be recruited as Magistrates?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): I can assure this House and the Government that if second grade pleaders are appointed as Stationary Magistrates, they will be the most successful Magistrates. They have got practical knowledge of the law to be administered and the ways and means. ....

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Is the Magistracy at present suffering due to the absence of recruitment from the Bar?

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): The efficiency can be enhanced by appointing practising lawyers as Magistrates. With these few words I support the resolution.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkuar Vaki): Sir, I oppose this resolution. I am glad, however, that Mr. Krishna Pillai has recognised that Government have recently appointed as Magistrates certain members of the Bar. This question of directly recruiting members of the Bar as Magistrates has come up on many previous occasions for debate in this House. Government, while recognising the general principle, that members of the Bar may be recruited as Magistrates, have given no undertaking that any specific percentage of the Magistracy would be recruited from the Bar. They have always taken the view that the members of the Bar also may be treated as eligible candidates for the post of Magistrates. I am glad that Mr. Krishna Pillai has frankly admitted that Government did recently recognise, as it were, the claims of the members of the Bar for some places of the Magistracy. But I must definitely say that it is quite inexpedient and unfair to reserve a definite percentage of Magistrates' posts for the Bar.

[Mr. Kayalam Paramesvaran Pillai.]

It has been argued as though the Magistrates are purely judicial officers. I think I must remind the House that the Magistrates are not purely judicial officers. In dealing with the resolution, you must take the law as it is and the constitution and system of Government of the country as they are. If you do that, it will be seen that Magistrates are not purely judicial officers. They are to a considerable extent executive officers also. It will be seen from the Criminal Procedure Code that amongst the duties of the Magistrates are the duty to disperse unlawful assemblies— if necessary by the use of Civil Force and Military Force; to hold inquests in cases of suspicious deaths and necessarily to hold so in the case of death of any person while in police custody; to disinter corpses; to arrest and take cognizance of cases on suspicion and information to arrest persons committing offences in his presence or persons for whose arrest he has to issue a warrant. etc.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): May I know whether lawyers recruited as Magistrates will be inefficient to do these duties.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I am coming to that. The House cannot deny my statement that Magistrates are executive officers also. It should be noted that the promotions of Magistrates are in the executive line. They are promoted as Tahsildars in the first instance, and later on as Peishkars. In fact they have to look for their promotions in the executive line. What is the particular significance then in pointing out that a certain percentage of these judicial officers must be given to the Bar?

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know why the Law Member says that lawyers are not fit to discharge the duties of Tahsildars and Peishkars?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I have not yet said that, yet I may say it later on however.

I was just now saying that the argument has been advanced that lawyers, because they are handling the machinery for administration of justice, therefore they will be good in administering law as Magistrates. In reply, I am pointing out to the House that that is a misconception. The Magistrates are not mere judicial officers, either on account of their function or in the light of their line of promotions, which is in the executive line as Tahsildars and Peishkars. The recommendation in the resolution is that fifty per cent. or a substantial percentage, of the Magistrates may be recruited from the Bar. We must recognise the existing state of affairs.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Why not the entire percentage be given to them?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I am not at all sure if that portion will be taken unless my friend will say also that the entire percentage of Munsiffs and Judges must also be recruited from the Bar.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kakkulam I): May I know which function is more onerous—executive or judicial?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Both are equally onerous. For example, the Magistrate has primarily the responsibility for the condition of the District as regards repressible crime. Is it not an onerous function? To some extent, it may be considered as even more onerous than that of a Judge sitting in his Chair and adjudicating between party and party.

We cannot forget the fact that Magistrates are to a large extent also executive officers. Having regard to the system obtaining here, Magistrates have to look for promotion only in the executive line. I could have understood an argument that lawyers are better than clerks for all work and therefore fifty per cent. should be given to them. But Mr. Krishna Pillai was not saying that. He said that lawyers were accustomed to judicial work and therefore they should be recruited as Magistrates. I am contesting that proposition.

MR. P. C. KURIYAN (Kottayam I): Have not Munsiffs and Second Judges been appointed as Division Assistants and District Magistrates?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes, be it so.

MR. K. R. ELENKATH (Kakkulam I): May I know whether they have been found lacking in capacity?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): That must be answered by putting another question, viz., whether the present Magistrates have been found lacking in capacity?

In every case of recruitment, Government will consider the merits of all the candidates, both from the Bar and from the service, and will appoint the best person. If the House says that fifty per cent. should be reserved for the Bar, it will be tying the hands of Government.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Todupuzha cum Devicoolam): May I know whether in the case of the two or three recruitments recently made, Government considered the merits of all the candidates whose applications were received?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Government selected the best of the candidates available.

I am not asserting that any person should be appointed as Magistrate merely because he is a clerk of the Account Office or of the Secretariat. The claims of every candidate will be considered and the best man will be chosen. If the House says that fifty per cent. of the appointments in the Magistracy should go to the Bar, it is as good as saying that fifty per cent. of the posts in the Revenue Department should also be reserved for the Bar.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I wish to know whether all the Tahsildars, Secretaries and other officers are promoted from among the Magistrates.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Yes, generally. What else is the line of promotion for Magistrates? Will the honourable member say that a Magistrate should be appointed as a Second Judge or a District Judge? At present the Magistrate can move up only in the executive line. He may be appointed as an Excise Inspector, or a Tahsildar, or he may become an Assistant Secretary. He moves up only in the executive line, and not in the judicial line.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Under the existing system, what are the special qualifications of the officers appointed as Tahsildars?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Their aptitude to do that work, and their experience in executive work.

MR. A. S. DAMODARAN ASAN (Mavelikara): May I know whether a man is tested before he is considered fit for a Tahsildar's place?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Government do consider his fitness before appointing him. As for tests, there is the Account Test, and other Departmental tests. I grant that there is no Tahsildar examination. But I ask what is the particular merit of a lawyer to be a Tahsildar.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): I ask what is the particular merit of a clerk to be a revenue officer.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I ask what is the particular merit of a lawyer to be a revenue officer. Both the clerk and the lawyer are fit and both are unfit. It must also be noted that the clerks of the Secretariat are taken from the same material as the lawyer, in that both are products of the same University.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Is it seriously contested that members of the Bar are generally inferior to clerks of the Secretariat, for revenue or other executive work?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): It may be quite correct to say that in some cases. But that apart, the question may be asked, if the lawyer is better fitted for administration of justice because he has been working in that field, why not it follow that a clerk who has been in the executive line, is better fitted for executive offices. Having regard to the system of administration here, you cannot separate the Magistrate from his executive work, and argue that he is a purely judicial officer. It may be pointed out that fifty per cent. of the Munsifs are appointed from the Bar. But, would it be a correct proposition to say that fifty per cent. of the Magistrates shall be appointed from the Bar? As I was saying, all are products of the same University education. One goes into the Bar and the other into the Secretariat. Why should we say that fifty per cent. should be reserved for a particular line alone? That will also be impairing the efficiency of the Magistracy because Government may not be able to get the best men for all the vacancies that may arise. It will also reduce the chances of promotion for men already in service. The best course will be to lay down that the best candidate should be recruited, from service or from the Bar.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Does the member mean to say that Government will recruit more than fifty per cent. from the Bar?

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Possibly. The only rule that Government can lay down is that the claims of all possible candidates will be considered. It seems to me that it will be unfair if the House lays down any other rule, as it will be doing injustice to those products of the University who have taken a different line of work from that of the lawyers.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Sir, I rise to support the motion. I am induced to do so more by the faulty reasons of the Law Member than the conclusion he has arrived at. The Law Member seems to presume that generally people who are not lawyers are better fitted to do revenue or other kind of non-judicial work. Clearly, there is fallacy in that argument. For my part, I maintain and I think everybody acquainted with the Bar will agree with me that a lawyer is better fitted to do any kind of work.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): Is the lawyer better fitted to support this resolution? (Laughter.)

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): Yes. But often he advances arguments not maintainable at all. All that apart, my position is that the lawyer is generally better fitted to do any kind of work that does not require special skill or technical training. The nature of his work is such that he comes in contact with all classes of society and gains a kind of experience which enables him to shine in all kinds of work.

MR. K. GEORGE (Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner): Then, why confine the resolution to the Magistracy? There are Police, Excise etc.

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Rural): By all means do it. Here, the resolution deals only with Magistracy. Therefore I support it. I would say that Government would do very well to recruit largely from among the members of the Bar for vacancies in the Police, Excise, and Land Revenue Departments as well. I do not think that the Land Revenue Commissioner will have to regret if he recruits any number from among the Bar. How far that is expedient is doubtful. Any way, we are not considering that question now. But, the Magistrates can certainly be recruited from the Bar. The Law Member's main point is that because a Second Class Magistrate has to be promoted as Tahsildar or as Assistant Secretary, it is not expedient that 50 per cent of the appointments should be given to the vakils. I, for my part, do not see the force of that argument. I think, whatever restrictions we may impose, we have got a sufficiently large number of vakils in the State to provide for all the vacancies in the Magistracy or in the Revenue Departments. There is absolutely no point in saying that these promotions as revenue officers should be given only to the clerks. How is it that, when a clerk of the Secretariat or of the Account Office would be fit to become a Tahsildar, a Magistrate who has been recruited from the Bar would alone not generally be fit to become a Tahsildar? That is difficult to understand. There is absolutely no force in that contention. Now the recommendation is that, in future, fifty per cent. of the Magistrates' vacancies shall be filled by direct recruitments from the Bar. There is a large body of vakils in the State who really would like to get avenues of work elsewhere than in their own profession, because of existing conditions. That is a fact. And it is also a fact that the Bar will supply better material for official work than the body of clerks in the Government offices.

MR. K. A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Totupuzha cum Devicoolam): Is a graduate-in-law a first class material?

MR. A. THANU PILLAI (Trivandrum—Rural): Certainly. He is good material whether he is a vakil or a clerk. That is why the posts have to be shared equally. So, the resolution has to be supported. There is nothing absurd or wrong about it. The Law Member has said that the Government have really an idea of recruitment from among the members of the Bar, for Magistracy. Then I ask, why not fix a definite percentage? It will be helpful to the Bar as well as to Government. Whenever there are two vacancies, give one to the Bar and another to the clerks in regular service. I do not think that there is anything wrong about it, seeing that the vakils will do very well not only as judicial but as revenue officers also. For instance, we have had vakils recruited as Munsiffs; and they were soon drafted on to other departments, purely as executive officers. They have proved quite successful. They have not been found wanting. Considering the present situation in the Bar, the exigencies of the service and the question of the lack of facilities for educated men, I very strongly support this resolution.

MR. T. KRISHNA PILLAI (Neyyattinkara II): Sir, I am really sorry the honourable Law Member, who is himself an ornament to the legal profession, has taken such a pessimistic view about the abilities of the lawyer to do executive duties. When the President called upon the Law Member to speak about this resolution, I was rather optimistic and hoped that I would get full support from him. Sir, if the ability of a lawyer for executive functions is proved, I do not think there is any difficulty to convince the House about a resolution of this kind. One instance will be quite sufficient. Now-a-days, Travancore Government is going in for the help of eminent lawyers from outside, to steer clear the affairs of the State. From the experience we have had, it is quite clear what the ability of the lawyer as executive officer is. No other instance, therefore, seems necessary. Anyhow the Government have already accepted the principle of this resolution by recent appointments. Only, the resolution urges that it should be adopted as the definite policy of Government that a certain specific proportion should be recruited from lawyers, whenever vacancies arise in the Magistracy. No financial commitment is involved in accepting this resolution. So I press the motion.

The resolution was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil): I demand a poll.

A poll was taken and the House divided as follows:—

FAREWELL SPEECHES.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): With your permission, Sir, may I suggest that owing to certain engagements fixed up for the evening by the non-officials and the necessity for making certain references before the House adjourns, it is our unanimous wish that business of the day may be closed and that you may be pleased to order accordingly.

PRESIDENT: This is a non-official day and I am not disposed to go on if the honourable members would not consider that I would be depriving them of an hour's business. It is suggested that, for certain purposes which probably may be known to most members of the House, the business should be stopped. I do not know what the sense of the House is.

The House unanimously gave its consent.

PRESIDENT: It was suggested to me that, before adjourning this House, as this is likely to be the last occasion on which the House, as at present constituted, would meet for the transaction of business, an opportunity may be given to the President to address a few remarks, and for certain members to offer some observations. This desire was conveyed to me this morning, and I gladly acceded. In the first place, it is my gratifying duty to place on record the sense of deep obligation which the Government owe to this House and I personally owe to this House for many courtesies and much help. The Legislature in Travancore is in a real sense in partnership with the Government. Increasingly that feeling has grown and I trust it will grow to such an extent that on both sides the realisation becomes clearer and clearer with the progress of time that to the extent to which Government take this House and the sister House into confidence in regard to their policies, to the extent to which they follow, as far as possible, the desires and the recommendations of this House, to that extent Government will not only be lightening its work but performing its duty towards the inhabitants of this great and historic State. Equally must it, I think, be made clear, and become increasingly clear, to the members of the Legislature that they as limbs of Government are performing very responsible and onerous functions in the discharge of which they should bring to bear upon that task all those qualities, firstly, of enthusiasm for work, secondly, of disciplined restraint and thirdly, of fearlessness in the discharge of the duties which devolve upon them as would enable them to perform that sacred obligation with which they were charged by their constituencies.

I said something about the Government taking this House into full confidence. I made some remarks with regard to this matter on an earlier occasion and I wish to repeat and re-emphasise those remarks. It is the avowed object and it will be the constant pre-occupation of the Government of Travancore that, so long as any matter is in the confidential stage, these confidences will have to be respected and strict reticence must be observed. In the enunciation and formulation of policies, in the carrying out of important projects, in coming to a determination on economic and political affairs of a nation-building character, Government will always take and endeavour to take this House and the sister House into the fullest possible confidence. Let me illustrate both sides of the question. When the Government of Travancore arrived at the decision to embark on a particular scheme with reference to the all-important question of transport, the public and this House were taken into confidence because Government felt that they had every thing to gain and nothing to lose by the fullest possible ventilation of views and by the expression of those views in the freest possible manner. Similarly Government have been taking and will take this House into confidence in such matters as Federation or other paramount matters, though not before the proper time. It may be asked why we have not done so already. The reason is clear; and I think I must state it here and now. Very recently a Committee of special representatives of His Excellency the Viceroy came to Travancore and had debates and discussions with the representatives of this Government on the question of reservations to be made and the conditions and limitations subject to which accession to Federation can take place. Those debates and discussions were definitely regarded as confidential at that stage. We were put on our honour, and whatever the temporary unpopularity may be, when we were so put on our honour, I have taken the line that no word must escape our lips so long as that compact holds. But the Government of India have been asked to allow the Government of Travancore to give facilities for taking the Legislature into confidence, and when and if that permission is granted, the necessary materials for a decision will be placed before this House. That I may assure you. There is another aspect to which I would refer in this connection. There were certain discussions with regard to the Cochin Harbour. We were put on our honour, and the Travancore Government was asked not to divulge anything. They did not, until certain details were published. Even now some of those details are in the confidential stage. Mr. Nanavathi, Deputy Governor of the Reserve Bank and Mr. Stocker, the Deputy Managing Director of the Imperial Bank are here negotiating with us in regard to a banking scheme. In regard to these matters, as soon as possible, this House and the public will be taken into confidence but naturally in the earlier and preliminary stages complete reticence is essential for the proper conduct of the business. It is expected, and confidently expected, that this House and the sister House will assist the Government not in the spirit of carping critics but in the spirit of collaborators and partners; and I hope that the Legislature of Travancore will, in future as in the past, act in that spirit of partnership with the Government of Travancore.

[President.]

Before I proceed further I think I must point out to you the work that has been transacted by this House. Nine Sessions of the Assembly have been held during which the House sat for 97 days. Of these, 18 days have been utilised for transacting non-official business.

Fifteen official Bills and two non-official Bills, have been passed by the Assembly and they have become law after receiving the concurrence of the Council and the assent of His Highness the Maharaja. Those items of legislation are, some of them, very important. I need not remind members of those various items. But the Edavaga Regulation, the Travancore Provident Insurance Societies Regulation, the Travancore Village Panchayat Regulation, the Travancore Hindu Law

Inheritance Regulation, the Travancore Rubber Control Regulation, the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Regulation, the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation and the Travancore Life Assurance Companies Regulation; these are amongst the most important achievements of this House. And in this session we have passed, what I consider to be a very useful piece of legislation, namely the Income Tax Regulation. In course of time it is perfectly clear that Income Tax and super tax will have increasingly to take the place of other modes of taxing. It is obvious that sooner or later in this State as well as in other parts of India the method of deriving land taxes and dealing with agricultural incomes will have to be reviewed and perhaps reconsidered in the light of modern ideas. In the course of this session we have also passed what I consider to be a very important piece of legislation viz., the Bar Councils Regulation. During the progress of the Bar Council debates I was not able to intervene. But I hold the view very strongly that the Travancore Bar yields to no other Indian Bar either in acumen or advocacy. I have been a member of this Bar myself and I know its attainments and potentialities. But in order to enable other people to realise this and to act upon that realisation and belief, we must keep high the ideals of our Bar. Our Bar Councils must keep high their standards and get all-India recognition. We have also passed a piece of social legislation. The Hindu Widows Remarriage Bill is indicative of the progressive character of this House. Altogether 2,620 questions have been answered in the House, the average number of questions answered on a day being 27 and a number of resolutions have been passed. These resolutions have been or being given effect to by Government so far as circumstances and the finances of the State would permit. The resolution passed in 1108 recommending that 25 per cent. of the tax for 1109 should be remitted, etc., was accepted and given effect to by Government with the modification that only 12½ per cent. of the tax on all wet lands was remitted. The resolution passed in 1109 recommending the abolition of export duty on copra and other cocoanut products, was also accepted by Government with modifications, that is to say, the tariff values of cocoanuts and of the principal cocoanut products copra, cocoanut oil, and prunac, were reduced for levy of export duty thereon with effect from the 1st Chingam 1110. The Budgets of 1109 to 1112 have been discussed and passed by the Assembly subject to a total reduction of Rs. 21,840. It can surely be stated that the Government have always given the best consideration to the views expressed by the members and have invariably acceded to the wishes of the House in the matter of these reductions, as for instance, in regard to the abolition of the posts of Income Tax Inspectors, of the Personal Assistant to the Inspectress of Girls' Schools, of Deputy Darbar Physician, and of the Tanning Expert. Taxes have been remitted or their payment postponed in really deserving cases, though not up to the extent recommended by the Assembly on the several occasions. Only in two cases of reduction made in the budget for 1112, viz., in respect of the abolition of the post of Game Warden and the reduction of the pay of the present Director of Registration to the standardisation scale, it became impossible for Government to accept the proposals of the House owing to the difficulties involved therein. The Assembly discussed four important reports of Committees appointed by Government, viz., the Education Reforms Committee, the Public Service Recruitment Committee, the Co-operative Enquiry Committee and the Agricultural Debt Redemption Committee. The views expressed in the House have always been of great assistance to Government in arriving at important decisions in regard to those subjects. That, in a very bare form, is a chronicle of the achievements of this House.

Before I conclude, I wish to say that this House has done fine work, useful work, formative work. I congratulate the members of this House, and to such of them as are likely to undergo the ordeal of the forthcoming election, I convey my best wishes. Your successors will meet under a different constitution, under a widely extended franchise. I do not mean any disparagement to those who are to succeed you. But I will say that they will do very well indeed if they follow your footsteps and keep up your standards, and sense of dignity, and the business-like character which has marked your debates and your deliberations.

I do not think I shall be acting fairly if I do not refer to the future of this State, of the country, under the constitutional developments that are proceeding apace. I have already told you that it is not possible for me to give you the exact details of the claims put forward or the case presented as to Federation by the Travancore Government before the Government of India and the British Government. I cannot give details until and unless I get permission to do so. But I may assure this House of the outstanding fact that the Government of Travancore feel very very strongly indeed that their nation-building policies are of such wide and comprehensive character, and their needs are so great and so insistent, that they cannot afford to lose any portion of their present income or revenues. Not only so but it is incumbent upon them, and it will be their paramount obligation, without oppressive burdens upon the inhabitants of the State, to see to it that they augment their resources in such a manner that their schemes can come to fruition. Remember what those schemes mean. Those schemes, according to the commands of His Highness the Maharaja, than whom as I have always said there is no greater patriot in the land, those schemes involve the transformation of an essentially agricultural State into a State at least partly industrial. Those schemes involve the re-orientation of education and the remodelling of our systems of training in such a manner that our men and women may be fitted to play a part in that industrial and economic regeneration without which we shall be hard put to it; and for that purpose they comprise the inauguration of a new University, not designed merely to multiply the existing facilities but designed for the specific object of enabling people to play their part in economic rehabilitation.

They also include the diffusion of power and of light, the diffusion of facilities for easy transport by reorganising and improving the motor-bus and trolley system and the canal system so as to make it easy for the products of our manufactories and our fields to reach their markets. These are our basic necessities. Remember that in an area of practically 6,000 square miles - because the rest of it is forest or backwaters-- you have a population double that of Baroda and more than 150 per cent. of the population of Kashmir which is almost ten times the size of Travancore; and that population growing almost visibly day after day and year after year. Unless therefore new means of wealth, new means of wealth production are soon acquired our case would be very hard indeed. Therefore we require all the resources at our command. We require the co-operation of every body. We require conjoint effort, and we require economic thinking and economic planning. Therefore it is not possible for the State to diminish any of its resources, to make financial sacrifices of a substantial character. It is not intended, moreover, that this State will enter the Federation except as an equal amongst equals in every possible sense. These two requisites, it will be the preoccupation of the State, ever to keep in mind. At the same time His Highness' Government feel that Federation on the right lines is inevitable and essential. Without Federation some of the great problems of India cannot be faced; because vis-a-vis the rest of the world India has certain characteristic problems sui generis in nature. Its economic planning, and its industrial advancement, demand that the Indian States and British India stand together and work in close collaboration.

The task of reconciliation, of reorientation of ideals, of making it possible for all those entities to come together without jeopardizing their respective interests is a matter engaging the earnest, and anxious attention of His Highness' Government. When the time comes the public of this country and the Legislatures of this country will be given fuller details and the chance afforded for the expression of various points of view. Federation, it may be remarked in passing, under Section 5 of the Government of India Act is a Federation of Indian States and the Indian Provinces. Eleven selfgoverning provinces have to enter into a Federation with 600 and odd Indian States. Of the eleven self-governing provinces of the future if one can dogmatize from what has been happening within the last few days, the majority of the provinces will be under the guidance and direction of a very well organised body of politicians who have expressed fairly definite views regarding the Indian States, who think that the Indian States form a sort of fifth wheel in the coach and that the coach will run very well without the fifth wheel, and who have announced their intention to see that the Government of India Act is not implemented, and in any case that Federation does not emerge into being. It will be the task of the <sup>representative</sup> who preside over the destinies of the British Empire and it will be the task of that eminent statesman who is at the head of the Indian Government today, and whose most conscientious desire to help India is beyond controversy to see to it that these difficult problems are grappled with and solved and that we are not unwelcome guests in a banquet that we are not gate crashers—an expression which has recently come into vogue to describe people joining in a function without invitation (Laughter)—but that British India and Indian India in a spirit of real comradeship, in a spirit of real give and take enter into a political compact, tending to the glory of both the component parts, to the maintenance of the self-respect of both parties, tending to the enhancement of the feeling that all India is one, tending at the same time to the preservation of the feeling that each of these State has an independent, equal and honourable part to play in the Federation of the future. This is the problem to be solved. We shall all watch that solution with the greatest possible anxiety and interest as well as with the greatest possible hope. This generation has a peculiarly heavy and difficult task before it. In the discharge of that task, the present Legislature of Travancore has played a worthy part, and the future Legislature, I doubt not, will also play a great part.

Ladies and Gentlemen, I wish you all prosperity and wish you Godspeed.

SADASYA TILAKA T. K. VELU PILLAI (Trivandrum-Urian): The House is extremely thankful to you for the very kind sentiment you have expressed regarding its work during the last four years. This praise, coming as it does from a statesman of the Empire, will be encouraging not only to us but also to those members of the Legislature who will win their seats in the next election, or get nominated as the case may be. At the time when this House was first inaugurated, His Highness the Gracious Maharaja was pleased to issue a message wherein it is stated thus:—

“These two legislative bodies have been designed to carry forward the policy initiated by my illustrious predecessors of enabling the people of the State to take part in the legislative, financial, and other measures concerning Travancore and to bring to the notice of my Government the needs and aspirations of the people. Very large powers of legislation, financial scrutiny and interpellation have been vested in them and I hope and trust that, in a spirit of mutual co-operation and good feeling, these powers will be exercised for the good of Travancore and in such manner as to help Travancore to take an adequate and honourable part in achieving the destiny of India.”

I think, Sir, these hopes have been fulfilled. Travancoreans can congratulate themselves that those sentiments expressed by the great patriotic Maharaja have been justified in considerable measure by the work which the Legislative Chambers have been privileged to do.

I may say, Sir, that the sentiments graciously expressed by His Highness vis.

“I am glad to inform you that the constitutional experiment that has been started in Travancore is being watched with sympathy and interest by many outside the State as is evident from the speech recently made by the Rt. Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India and I am confident that with the co-operation of all the members and the valued friendship of the Paramount Power and of His Majesty's representative in India the State will play its appropriate role in the India of the future.”

[Sadasya Tilaka T. K. Velu Pillai.]

It will be the endeavour of all the subjects of His Highness to remember these words, these eloquent, these beautiful, these patriotic sentiments in every one of their actions.

Sir, as you have been pleased to point out, this House has done a good deal of business. I am now talking from my seat as a member not forgetting the fact that it was my privilege to occupy the Chair for the greater portion of the time. I have worked with three Presidents in succession. I have had nothing but amicable relationships with them all. Particularly to you, Sir, it is my duty, my sacred duty to express that the telegram you sent, congratulating me on my election as Deputy President, the day you returned from England to Bombay was to me an encouraging inspiration, a benediction, and a blessing. I do not want to say more than this with regard to the encouragement I have been receiving from you as President of this House. Your advice is valuable to all of us. On this occasion I wish to pay a tribute to the honourable members of this House, both non-official and official, for the very great assistance that they have given me, and to congratulate them upon their excellent good sense and kindness of spirit, for their readiness for team work, which have been manifested in this House. The Chair would have been unable to do its duty properly but for the help given by all the enlightened members of this House. The Chair should be a combination of firmness and conciliation. That was possible because the honourable members of this House respected the law and the rules and the conventions in such a degree that the work of the Chair has been nothing but smooth sailing. I am quite sure that anybody from outside, or from inside, who goes through the reports of the proceedings of this House will feel happy that, in Travancore, where the experiment of representative Government was begun much earlier than in other States, the people are quite fit for these privileges. I consider it my duty to thank the honourable members of this House, all of them, jointly and severally, for showing such friendly consideration to me. I wish to pay them this tribute that the work done has been creditable whether it is from the point of view of liberal policy or eloquent or forcible language, or a spirit of courtesy or a spirit of give and take. I have been doing my duty whatever may be its worth, in perfect good faith.

If at any time there has been any sternness, I am quite sure, my friends would excuse me for that. So far as I can remember, I have not been unnecessarily stiff. My friends sent me to my office of Deputy President with a large majority. I had no occasion to thank them at that time. Now I thank them. I have been doing my duty to my satisfaction, because I had always with me three assets, firstly my faith in God, secondly my fervent loyalty to my Gracious Sovereign and thirdly a spirit of obedience to my conscience. I thank the honourable members of this House once again.

MR. K. C. ABRAHAM (Kottayam II): Sir, I wish to add my own quota of acknowledgment on behalf of this Assembly. This Assembly which forms a greater part of the newly inaugurated constitution has been a part of the most momentous reform since the accession of His Highness the Maharaja to the throne. I need hardly say that this aspect of the constitution or reform will be gratefully acknowledged and remembered by His devoted subjects. Sir, this Assembly was formed, as I am well aware, and constituted, under certain exceptional circumstances. It was first presided over by Mr. T. Austin and subsequent to him, it passed through the persuasive hands of Sir Mohanmad Habibullah, who was always so tactful as to keep the House in good humour; and then, Sir, to you, whose handiwork the whole scheme of constitution is, it came down and under your fostering care it has, I believe, grown from strength to strength. Your courteous and generous acknowledgment and your aptitude to be sympathetic to the aspirations and points of view of the non-official members have always evoked in us a genuine admiration for your statesmanship which hardly needs applause at my hands. Now that the Assembly is waning to a close, I wish to place on record our grateful remembrance of your work in connection with the constitution and also of your guiding hand in the final stages of its career for the betterment of the ideals and ideas of this country.

I also wish to place on record our appreciation of the work that has been done by the Deputy President when he was guiding this House. Of course, in spite of all that the Deputy President has been good enough to say, I may mention that we have very gratefully acknowledged his sincere and suave manners in putting us all in good cheer. Acknowledgment is also due to the leader of this House, the Chief Secretary, who has always been sympathetic and has always furnished us with all necessary and available information. I also wish to particularly mention the Law Member of the House, who with his clarity and logical precision, and to a certain extent his stern adherence to certain broad points of view, has been leading us all in legislative business. I do not wish to elaborate. But, I wish to place on record the fact that we appreciate the services of the Assembly staff.

I thank you, Sir, for giving us this opportunity to express our feelings.

MR. PACODE A. NARAYANA PILLAI (Pilavankod): Sir, the time of parting is a painful one. We are almost reaching the closing stages of this Assembly. Today is the last day of the ninth Session of the first Assembly. We may or may not meet again, as we are now constituted. Whatever it is, at this time, when we are reaching the closing stages of our labours, I wish to express a few words of appreciation of those honourable gentlemen under whom we had the privilege to transact the business of this House.

At the very outset, Sir, I may be permitted to refer to the gracious message of His Highness the Maharaja, a message of hope and reassurance, cabled out to us from London, a message which was read to us in this very House, on the inauguration day by the then Dewan Mr. T. Austin. That message is still ringing in our ears and we have been trying our level best to come up to the standard held out to us by His Gracious Highness in that memorable message.

Next, Sir, I refer to those hon'ble gentlemen who are privileged to preside over the deliberations of this Assembly. First, Mr. T Austin, a Senior Officer of the Indian Civil Service, an Englishman with an innate sense of justice was for a very long time guiding the deliberations of this House and safeguarding the privileges and liberties of the House. Next, we were fortunate to have Nawab Sir Mohammed Habibullah, an experienced British Indian Statesman with humility, experience and suavity of manners and he has for a pretty long time benefitting us with the riches gathered during his long experience. Lastly, I am glad to refer to the fact that towards the closing stages of the sessions of this House, we were particularly fortunate in having a President in you, Sir, who is rightly styled a shining ornament in the new British Indian liberalism and a keen fighter on the popular front in British Indian politics. When such a personage is presiding over this House, and is guiding the destinies of this House we have had no occasion to feel any misconception whatsoever regarding our freedom and liberties and privileges. You have assiduously safeguarded our privileges at all times.

Lastly, I have to refer to the fact that, in our elected Deputy President, we had a gentleman who was, I may be permitted to put it so, the Advocate General of this House, always holding the scale even between the two sections of this House, the Government and the non-official Benches. There was no occasion when we had to feel any fear, whatsoever, with regard to our privileges, when he was presiding over the House. At the same time, merely because he was a non-official elected Deputy President, he was not always upholding our cause. Whenever he found that the Government cause was the right cause, he boldly upheld that cause also. He has well and truly made a tradition which, we hope, his successors in office will carry on in the years to come.

Sir, I have nothing more to add except to pray, not only on my behalf but also on behalf of my colleagues, the members of the Independent Party, for the long life of His Gracious Highness the Maharaja and for your long life and prosperity and also for a prosperous and useful career for this House.

MR. S. J. NAIR (Nedumangad): Sir, we thank you and the Deputy President for the encouraging words with which you have referred to our work as members of this House. As a member of the Liberal Party—a party whose chief aim and principle has been one of responsive co-operation with the Government, co-operation in all ideas and actions (of Government) that would contribute to the vital and national interest of the State, and opposition to all actions that would retard the progress of the State and the happiness of the people—I beg to convey my thanks to the Chair and to the Official Members. In this connection, I beg to submit that, personally as a member of this House, I have "stood for the cause that lacked assistance and for the cause that needed resistance."

Sir, we are at the close of this Session of the Assembly. The constitution of this Assembly is the result of the noble contribution and blessing of His Gracious Highness the Maharaja whose one and only aim is the promotion of the good and happiness of the people of the State. May His Highness live long and reign gloriously, is the fervent prayer of all Travancoreans irrespective of caste, creed or colour.

The first Session of this Assembly met under the black political cloud of misunderstanding that was the result of unhappy communal rivalry in the State. Now the Session closes in the bright and happy sunshine of communal amity and concord on all sides. Sir, we are proud and happy to go out of the Assembly Hall today as loyal subjects of His Highness the Maharaja, as those who have kept the oath that we took when we entered upon the duties as members of this Assembly, and in the satisfaction that we have rendered our duty to our Sovereign and to the State. Sir, we go out of the Hall to our respective constituencies to preach to our electorate good will to all and glory to the State and to the Ruler.

Sir, I am glad to proclaim at the top of my voice that the successive Presidents of the Assembly including yourself, and the Deputy President who has been doing the bulk of the work have attempted and succeeded in safeguarding the honour and prestige of this House and we the members, on our part, have discharged our duty to the best of our ability. The redeeming feature of this Assembly is that not a single occasion arose for the Chair to resort to any of the disciplinary action against the conduct of any member. This speaks well of the Chair and of the members. Sir, yourself, your predecessors, Messrs. T. Austin, Nawab Sir Mohammed Habibullah, and Sadasayatilaka T. K. Velu Pillai, the Deputy President, have all been uniformly kind and courteous to us all, and we thank you all heartily and sincerely for that.

Sir, one word with reference to the Assembly Secretary and the staff who have been helping us, serving the Government and promoting the conduct of the business of the House. The first Assembly Secretary Mr. Madhava Kurup has rightly and justly been promoted as Secretary to Government. He has been the embodiment of kindness and courtesy to us all. He was friend and philosopher to us. We are equally fortunate to have Mr. Paramesvaran Pillai as his successor. He is always cheerful and ready to oblige us. Same is the case with regard to the reporting and clerical staff of the Assembly. All of them deserve our thanks, and encouragement at the hands of the Government for the hard and honest work they have been doing.

Last, but not least, is the help and advice that the official members have rendered to us all. All of them have been kind and good to us. If any one of us, nay myself, had occasion to be hard in any criticism towards any one of them I take this opportunity to assure them that it was not the result of malice or personal ill-will against any one of them, but it was due to the anxiety to serve the people of the State. I love all, and hate none.

In conclusion, Sir, with your blessings, I—may we—shall try to come back. May God bless you and our Sovereign with long life, health and glory.

MR. PUTHUPALLI S. KRISHNA PILLAI (Quilon II): Sir, on behalf of the members of the Nationalist party, I may be permitted to speak a few words. The Liberals, the Independents, the Nationalists and the Non-Party Members, have all, though their names are different, but one object in view. That object is to help the Government of His Highness the Maharaja so to administer the State as to achieve the best results. In classifying ourselves as members of different parties, it was none of our object, Sir, to stand in opposition to Government. It has always been our attempt and our aim to help the Government wherever it was possible, and wherever it was consistent with the principles we were standing for. If, on any occasion, we were put to the necessity of opposing Government or of adversely criticising the activities of the Government, I may assure you that we were actuated by the best of motives. We have been brought into being, as observed by some honourable member, under a storm. We are glad to note that the atmosphere has considerably cleared now. We cannot ascribe this atmosphere to any one except yourself. We hope that our successors in this House will adopt the same policy, and would be guided by the same principle, as ours, namely that of helping Government in discharging its onerous duties and responsibilities. It may be the lot of many of us to be returned to this House and to partake in its deliberations. But those who may not have the good fortune to take part in the deliberations of this House will, I am sure, find no occasion to regret. They have done their best, and they have done their utmost. Every one has been actuated by the best of motives.

In regard to the deliberations of this House, there is one thing which I would like to observe. After you became the Dewan-President of this Assembly, your presence in the House and the reputation you have, have inculcated a spirit of good sense and responsibility in all of us. We have been able to take part in the deliberations of this House with a spirit which was novel and new to many of us. By your constant presence in the House you have inculcated in the minds of the members the gravity and importance of the duties that devolved upon them.

A word, in regard to the official members of this House, is also due to them. I have systematically found them to be courteous to the non-official members. They have never taken offence at the freedom with which we have expressed our thoughts. They have always tried to promote a feeling of amity and concord between the official and the non-official Benches.

The first responsible post that has fallen to our lot is that of the Deputy President. Ever since the Assembly was put on a popular basis, the first opportunity given to us to elect our Deputy President was given to us. I fully trust that we have exercised our right in the best manner possible. We thank our Deputy President for the very able manner in which he has been guiding this House.

It is only in the fitness of things that we should say a word about the official reporters, but for whose existence our proceedings would not have been properly reported and published. To the Secretaries also, our thanks are due. I have always found them to be of help. They have listened to our demands and acceded to our requests. We have nothing to blame but everything to praise. The deliberations of the Assembly recorded with the help of such an efficient staff cannot but make their mark in any deliberative body. Sir, the period for which we have been elected to this House is practically over. We have nothing more to say. I thank the President and the official members of this House for the cordiality with which they have been treating us.

SRIMATI T. NARAYANI AMMA (Nominated): Sir, this being the last meeting of the First Assembly constituted under the new Regulation, I feel it my duty to express on my own behalf and on behalf of my sister here, our sincere thanks to you Sir, and to the Deputy President, for the consideration and courtesy shown to us, the lady members of this House. Though we feel that we have not been able to make any effective contribution to the discussions held on the floor of this House, we can assure you Sir, that our interest in the proceedings has been unflagging. We have indeed learnt much. We have always been treated with courtesy and consideration not only by the President and the Deputy President but also by the Law Member and the other officials. Speaking for myself I am deeply grateful to all of them for the encouragement I have received in regard to the two Bills I have had the privilege to introduce in this House, one of them being passed yesterday. I feel that this is an encouragement extended to the womanhood of Travancore. May it be possible with this encouragement, for more women to become members of this House in future, not only by nomination but also by election. Sir, I thank you once again. May I be permitted to add that under your distinguished Presidency, there have been set up healthy conventions which are bound to add to the usefulness and the dignity of this House. I thank you, Sir the Deputy President, and all the other members of this House.

RAO SAHIB MAHAKAVI S. PARAMESVARA AIYAR (Nominated): Sir, I have great pleasure in associating myself with the sentiments that have just been expressed by several members of this House. It is so difficult for us to believe that you have been here as Dewan in our midst only for a short time. Every hour of your life after you became Dewan has been crowded with great, epoch-making activities. You have been of great service to Travancore in several spheres. Your work as President of this Assembly is only one phase of such all-Travancore activities.

[Rao Sahib Mahakavi S. Paramesvara Aiyar.]

The words of wisdom that have fallen from your lips this evening will, I am sure, sink deep down into the heart of every Travancorean, make him forget his difference with others, and be an inspiration to him to build a rejuvenated and virile Travancore for the future.

As for the Deputy President, who is an old and valued friend of mine, his work has been extremely praise-worthy. He said that he had three assets which helped him in the discharge of his duties. He forgot to mention a fourth asset, which is his pre-eminent trait, viz., his transparent sincerity, which disarms opposition, inspires confidence and enlists affection. With that he has been able to guide the deliberations of this House with tact and firmness.

A word of praise is also due to the Secretaries of the Assembly, Mr. Madhava Kurup and Mr. Paramesvaran Pillai. Both of them worked under me for several years; and I had something to do with their training. It is a very great pleasure to me to place on record my great appreciation of the valuable work done by them. The staff under them, including the shorthand reporters, have also done their duty to our entire satisfaction; and to all of them our thanks are due in no small measure.

MR. G. NILAKANTAN (Nominated): Sir, in associating myself with what has been said by the previous speakers I wish to make a few observations on this parting occasion. In bidding farewell to the Assembly my feelings are those of a grateful son taking leave of his benign mother who has nurtured him into manhood, in an atmosphere in which the pick of the land, forgetting all communal promptings felt, spoke and acted in the best interest of the country of their birth. She has afforded opportunities to members of all communities, to whom the privilege of taking part in the activities of the higher fields of politics had been denied, to feel that, with necessary knowledge and training they could also contribute their mite towards the advancement of their country. Was not, Sir, the denial of such opportunities hitherto tantamount to suppression of their legitimate aspirations? Thanks to the wisdom, foresight and beneficencies of His Highness the Maharaja and of you, His great constitutional advisor, all social, political and religious obstacles that warped the social soul of the country for centuries have been swept away both by the legislative reforms of 1108 and by the soul stirring Temple Entry Proclamation.

It is now half a century since the institution of the Legislative Council was brought into existence in this country; yet it is the Legislative Reforms of 1108, that, for the first time, enabled the Legislature of our country to enjoy in a real measure the principles of democracy, in its deliberations and administrative functions, and was open to the entry of the representatives of the backward and depressed communities through a sympathetic system of nomination.

The criticisms to which the conduct and measures of Government officials were subjected to their conciliatory attitude to win the approbation of the non-officials to their views and measures exhibiting the rising tide of democratic strength, the exchange of sallies of wit and humour, the lucid and ever ready replies of the Law member, the strong and convincing advocacy by the Leader of the House of Government causes, eloquence, debating powers, and legal love of some of the members, the long and conciliatory rulings of the Deputy President and the alert and brilliant manner in which the President was conducting the proceedings of the House and his radiating sweetness of manner which nothing could disturb, these, I say as a source of lesson and inspiration, are a precious heritage to the rising generation and will be things of pleasant and abiding memory to every member of the House and particularly to those who may not have the opportunity to be returned to the Assembly. For these boons may the Giver of all the good, grant His Highness long life and prosperity, and to His noble minister long life and abundant health to help his Sovereign Master in guiding the destinies of our great country.

MR. N. ABDUR RAHIMAN SAHIB (Nominated): I fully endorse all that has been said by the various speakers. I have great pleasure in expressing my heart-felt thanks to you, Sir, for the uniform courtesy you have shown, for maintaining the dignity and honour of this House and for the Deputy President for the ability with which he has been guiding the deliberations of this House. The official members were kind enough to furnish all information required by us and our thanks are due to them also.

PRESIDENT: It is my duty now to adjourn this House. But before I do so, let me thank you most sincerely for the kindly sentiments to which you have given expression. This House will now adjourn sine die.

The House adjourned sine die at 5-10 p. m..

  - (ii) any debt due to a Co-operative Society, or
  - (iii) any debt arising out of any transaction of the nature of a lease including a kanapattom transaction falling within the purview of the Travancore Jenmi and Kudiyar Regulation of 1971.
- (f) 'Debtor' means an agriculturist by whom a debt is owing.
- (g) 'Prescribed' means prescribed by rules made by Our Government under this Regulation.

PART II.

DEBT CONCILIATION.

3. (1) (a) Our Government may, for the purpose of amicable settlement between debtors and their creditors and among the creditors inter se, if there be more than one creditor of the same debtor, (hereinafter called conciliation) establish Debt Conciliation Boards.

(b) Our Government shall define the local limits of the area in which a Board shall have jurisdiction.

Provided that the jurisdiction of the Boards established under Section 3 sub-clause (1) (a) shall be so defined and adjusted as to include the whole State.

(c) Our Government may determine the pecuniary jurisdiction of any Board.

(d) The Board shall consist of only one member (hereinafter called Conciliation Officer) who is either an officer or is appointed as an officer in the service of Our Government.

(2) Our Government may cancel the appointment of any Conciliation Officer or dissolve any Board.

(3) (a) Our Government shall notify in Our Government Gazette the establishment of a Board and the appointment of the Conciliation Officer, and the Board shall be deemed to have been established and the Conciliation Officer appointed from the date specified in such notification.

(b) Our Government shall notify in Our Government Gazette the cancellation of the appointment of any Conciliation Officer.

(c) Our Government shall notify in Our Government Gazette the dissolution of a Board; and, from the date specified in such notification, the Board shall cease to exist.

(4) Where a Board is dissolved or otherwise ceases to exist, Our Government may at any time establish another Board for the area for which the former Board was established and may declare the Board newly established to be the successor in office of the Board which has ceased to exist, and such Board shall exercise all the powers under this Regulation.

4. (1) A debtor may make an application for conciliation to the Board established for the area within which he ordinarily resides or, if no Board has been established for that area, to the Board established for any area in which he holds immovable property. But he shall not apply to more than one Board.

(2) Unless the debtor has already made an application under sub-section (1), any of his creditors may make an application to a Board to which the debtor might have applied under that sub-section.

(3) If applications for conciliation in respect of the same debtor are made to more than one Board, such applications shall, in accordance with rules made by Our Government under this Regulation, be transferred to, and dealt with by, one Board as one single application.

(4) No application shall be made under sub-clause (1) or sub-clause (2) unless the application includes a debt in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation.

5. Every application to the Board shall be in writing and be signed by the applicant and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, for signing and verifying plaints.

6. (1) Every application presented by a debtor to a Board shall contain the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the place where he resides and the place or places where he holds immovable property;

(b) the amount and other particulars of all claims against him together with the name, address and residence of his creditors;

(c) the amount and other particulars of all his property, including claims due to him, together with a specification of the value of such property not consisting of money, and the place or places at which any such property is to be found and details of any mortgage, lien or charge subsisting thereon;

(d) a statement that he wants an amicable settlement of his debts; and

(e) other particulars, if so prescribed.

(2) Every application presented by a creditor shall contain the following particulars, namely:

(a) the place where the debtor resides or holds immovable property;

(b) the amount and other particulars of his claim against such debtor;

(c) a statement that the debtor is unable to pay his debts or that he (the creditor) wants an amicable settlement of the debts due to him; and

(d) other particulars, if so prescribed.

7. (1) On receipt of an application under Section 4, the Board shall pass an order fixing a date and place for hearing the application.

Procedure on receipt of application.

(2) Notice of the order under sub-section (1) shall be sent by registered Anchal or Post acknowledgment due as well as in such other manner, if so prescribed, to the debtor and creditors.

(3) If the application is filed by a creditor, the debtor on his appearance shall furnish the particulars mentioned in sub-section (1) of Section 6, and notice shall be sent to all creditors specified by him.

8. If, after examining the debtor, it is, in the opinion of the Board, desirable to effect a conciliation, the Board shall issue, and serve or publish, in the manner prescribed, a notice calling upon every creditor of the debtor to submit a statement of debts owed to such creditor by the debtor. Such statement shall be in writing and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, for signing and verifying claims and shall be submitted to the Board within one month from the date of service or publication of the notice as the case may be:

Notice calling upon creditors to submit statement of debts.

Provided that, if the Board is satisfied that any creditor was, for good and sufficient cause, unable to comply with such directions in due time, it may extend the period for the submission of his statement of the debts owed to him.

9. (1) Every creditor filing in compliance with a notice issued under Section 8 a statement of the debts owed to him shall furnish, along with such statement, full particulars of all such debts, and shall at the same time produce all documents, including entries in books of account, on which he relies to support his claims, together with a true copy of every such document:

Procedure on submission of statement of debts.

Provided that the Board may exempt for sufficient reasons any creditor from producing any such documents.

(2) The Board shall, if so desired by the creditor, after marking for the purpose of identification, every original document so produced and verifying the correctness of the copy, retain the copy and return the original to the creditor.

10. (1) The Board shall call upon the debtor and each creditor to explain his case regarding each debt.

(2) If there is a dispute as to the existence or quantum of the debt due to any creditor or the assets of any debtor, the Board may decide the matter after taking such evidence as is adduced by all the parties concerned, and such decision shall be binding on all parties in all proceedings before the Board:

Board to attempt conciliation.

Provided that a decree of a Civil Court relating to a debt shall be conclusive evidence as to the existence and amount of the debt.

(3) The Board shall prepare a complete schedule of the creditors and the assets and liabilities of the debtor.

11. (1) Subject to rules, if any, made by Our Government under this Regulation, a Board may exercise all such powers connected with the summoning and examining of parties and witnesses and with the production of documents as are conferred on a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100.

(2) Any person present may be required by a Board to furnish any information or to produce any document then and there in his possession or power.

(3) Every proceeding before the Board shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding.

12. It shall be the function of the Board to propose and make a conciliation of all the debts, (including a settlement as to the manner of fully discharging the debts) as between the debtor on the one hand and the creditor or creditors on the other, and as among the creditors inter se, if there are more creditors than one.

13. In proposing and making the conciliation, the Board may take into consideration the following inter alia, namely:—

- (a) the equities of the debt transactions concerned,
- (b) the amount of each of the debts,
- (c) the amount of interest already paid, particularly after the commencement of the year 1105 M. N.
- (d) the amount of the interest that has been allowed to accumulate,
- (e) the duration of the transaction,
- (f) the character of the debt, as for example, whether it is secured or unsecured, and the purpose of the debt,
- (g) the ability of the debtor to pay,
- (h) the availability of assets out of which the debts may be realised,
- (i) the occupation, needs and other economic conditions of the creditor,
- (j) the needs of the debtor and the necessity for leaving, as far as possible, a margin of property for the debtor's subsistence.

14. If, in the opinion of the Board, there are reasonable grounds to suspect inequity in any transaction, such as, for example, that it is tainted by fraud, misrepresentation, undue influence, coercion, mistake of fact, or collusion, the Board shall, in proposing and making the conciliation, go into the history of the transaction and may, in view of such history, reduce or disallow interest or even scale down the principal.

Explanation.--Nothing in this Section is intended to prohibit any disallowance of any claim on the ground that the transaction concerned is vitiated by fraud, misrepresentation, undue influence, coercion, mistake of fact or collusion and is therefore invalid in law.

15. (1) The manner of the conciliation shall be in the discretion of the Board and may, for example, be as follows:

(a) that the debtor pay the creditor or creditors forthwith, or within a time to be fixed by the Board, a lump sum in cash in full settlement of all the debts, the amount of such lump sum being fixed by the Board having regard to the facts enumerated in Section 18 and to the amount which the debtor may raise by mortgaging his entire properties to the State Land Mortgage Bank or to some such recognised institution, or

(b) that a portion, say one-fourth of the assets of the debtor be left to the debtor free from all liability for his debts and the balance left to the creditor or creditors to be appropriated by them or to be sold and the sale proceeds distributed amongst them, it being also laid down how the property, or the sale proceeds, as the case may be, shall be distributed amongst the creditors, if there are more creditors than one, or

(c) that the debtor pay either the entire amount of the debts, or a reduced amount in full settlement in instalments spread over a number of years to be fixed by the Board, the debtor giving security for the due payment of the instalments and it being provided that, if any instalment is defaulted, such instalment and interest thereon alone be recovered, but that, if three consecutive instalments are defaulted, the entire amount remaining due be recovered:

Provided that under no circumstances any reduction shall be made with respect to debts incurred after the date of this Regulation except with the consent of the creditor.

(2) In any scheme of conciliation, such properties as are exempt from attachment under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, shall not be taken into account and shall be left to the debtor free from liability for his debts.

16. (1) If the debtor and the creditor or the creditors appearing before the Board agree to the conciliation proposed by the Board, it shall be reduced to writing in the form of an agreement and shall be signed by the debtor and the creditor or creditors and shall also be signed or otherwise authenticated by the Board. Such agreement shall, subject to the rules, if any, made by Our Government, be registered according to the law relating to the registration of documents for the time being in force and filed in the court of the District Munsiff having jurisdiction over the area in which the debtor ordinarily resides and shall have the force of a decree passed by such court in a suit in which the persons who have so signed the agreement or are deemed under the provision of this Regulation to have so signed are parties and shall be capable of being put in execution as if it were a decree of such court.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Board may, by a notice in writing and in the form prescribed, intimate to any person affected by any conciliation proposed by the Board or agreed to by the debtor and the creditor or creditors who have appeared before the Board, the particulars of such conciliation and call upon him to state within a time specified in the notice whether he agrees to the conciliation and is prepared to sign the conciliation agreement. If, in response to any such notice, any person, whether a debtor or creditor, does not, within the time specified in the notice or within such further time as the Board may grant, express to the Board his disagreement with the conciliation, he may, if so ordered by the Board, be deemed to have agreed to the conciliation and signed the agreement within the intent of sub-section (1) and the Board shall endorse or state in the agreement that it is deemed to have been signed by such person also :

Provided that, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Civil Court whenever the question arises before such court that the notice was not properly served on such person or if it is proved that, though the notice was properly served on him, he was prevented by sufficient cause from not expressing his views to the Board, the agreement shall not have effect as a decree so far as he is concerned.

(3) For the purpose of the registration of the agreement under sub-section (1), the Board shall be deemed to be an Officer of Our Government empowered to execute such agreement within the meaning of Section 82 of the Travancore Registration Regulation, 1937.

17. (1) If all the parties appearing before the Board, do not agree to the conciliation proposed by the Board, the Board may for reasons to be recorded in writing reject the application for conciliation or may record a certificate setting forth the attempts made by the Board to bring the parties to agreement, the various methods of conciliation suggested to them, the attitude of each of the parties in regard to such methods and what, in the opinion of the Board, would be a most satisfactory manner of settlement between the debtor and the creditors and what amount, in the opinion of the Board, would, having regard to all the circumstances, be a fair amount for the creditor or creditors to accept and the debtor to offer if the debtor were prepared to pay forthwith in cash in full settlement of all the debts.

(2) The Board may record a like certificate even as regards parties who have not appeared before the Board, or not taken part in the inquiry before the Board, if the Board is satisfied that it can come to a reasonable conclusion as to what will be a fair settlement in the case of such parties also.

(3) The Board shall send such certificate to the Court of the District Munsiff having jurisdiction over the place where the debtor ordinarily resides for being filed in that court.

18. Upon the certificate being filed or a copy of it being produced it shall be open to the creditor or any of the creditors to apply to the Court to call upon the debtor to deposit in court the amount mentioned in the certificate as the fair amount for settlement by cash payment. Upon such application being made, the court shall order the debtor to make the deposit within such time as it may think reasonable not exceeding, in any case, three months from the date of the order to make the deposit. The deposit so made in such time shall be deemed to be in full settlement of such claims of the creditor as are dealt with in the certificates.

Explanation.—The deposit so made shall not be liable to be proceeded against for the claims of any other person against the debtor.

19. If, in respect of any debt covered by the certificate of the Board, the creditor institutes a suit or makes an application (not being an application under Section 18) in any Civil Court, such Court, having regard to the certificate and the conduct of the parties in connection therewith, may, in its discretion, disallow in whole or in part the costs of the suit or of the application, as the case may be, and may also, in its discretion, reduce the amount of the interest remaining due for the period from and after 1st Chingom 1106 up to the date of the decree or order on the application, as the case may be, by reducing the rate of the interest to any rate which is not less than either one-half of the stipulated rate or four per cent. per annum whichever is higher.

20. An application under Section 4 may be dismissed by the Dismissal of Board at any stage of the proceedings—application.

(a) If, in the opinion of the Board, the applicant fails to pursue his application with due diligence :

Provided that, when such applicant is a creditor, the Board, instead of dismissing such application, may substitute the debtor or any other creditor, who shall thereafter be deemed to be the applicant for the purposes of this Regulation ; or

(b) if, for reasons to be stated in writing, the Board considers it not desirable or practicable to effect a conciliation ; or

(c) if the application includes a claim which, in the opinion of the Board, is collusive and intended to defraud any creditor.

21. If once an application has been made by any person under Section 4 and disposed of, no Board shall entertain an application from any person in respect of the same debtor within two years from the date of the disposal of the first application.

Bar to successive applications.

22. If, in compliance with a notice under Section 8 proved to have been served on him, a creditor does not duly furnish the statement of the debts owed to him, any conciliation agreement effected under Section 16 specifically providing for the debts owed to such creditor, shall have effect, as regards such creditor also, exactly as if he had appeared and agreed to the conciliation and signed the conciliation agreement :

Consequence of refusal to submit statement of debts to Board.

Provided that, if the creditor proves to the satisfaction of the Board wherever the question arises before the Board, or to the satisfaction of the Court, wherever the question arises before a Civil Court, that he had sufficient cause for not furnishing the statement, the Board or the Court, as the case may be, may proceed as if no conciliation agreement had been entered into in regard to the debts owed to him.

23. No appeal or application for revision shall lie to any Court against any order passed by the Board.

Bar of appeal and revision.

24. The decision by a Board that a person is or is not an agriculturist shall be conclusive for all the purposes of the Board and for the purposes of all proceedings arising out of any conciliation or certificate recorded by the Board.

Decision of Board as to status of agriculturist how far conclusive.

Explanation.—If for any other purpose the question arises before any court of law whether a person is or not an agriculturist, the Court shall decide the question for itself and such decision shall be liable to be appealed against as a decree of the Court.

25. A Board may on the application of any person interested review any order passed by it (not being a certificate recorded by the Board under Section 17) and pass such order as it thinks fit:

Power of Board to review,

Provided that it shall not under this Section pass an order reversing or modifying any order affecting any person interested without giving such person an opportunity of being heard :

Provided, further, that no application for review shall be entertained if presented more than three months from the date on which the applicant came to know of the order after the date of the order which the person interested seeks to have reviewed.

1126. No Civil Court shall—

(a) question the validity of any procedure of a Board, or

(b) entertain a suit by any person to recover any amount due under, or any debt covered by, a conciliation agreement binding on him.

Explanation.—Nothing in this Section is intended to affect the right contemplated in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 16 or in the proviso to Section 22.

27. In any proceedings before a Board, any party may be represented by an agent authorised in writing or by a legal practitioner.

Appearance before Board by agent or legal practitioner.

28. Except for special reasons to be recorded in writing, no court of law shall entertain, or allow to be prosecuted, any suit, application for the execution of a decree or other proceedings for the recovery of any debt for the settlement of which an application is pending before a Board.

Bar of suits while application for conciliation is pending.

29. The pendency of any suit or any application for the execution of a decree or any other proceedings in any court of law for the recovery of any debt shall not be a bar to any party to such proceedings to making an application to a Board as provided in this Regulation.

Application may be made to Board even during pendency of proceedings before Court.

30. The time occupied by the proceedings before a Board for the settlement of any debt, the time during which any application under Section 18 is pending disposal and the time during which a person is debarred by Section 28 from instituting or prosecuting a suit, an application for the execution of a decree or other proceedings shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed for any suit, application or other proceedings in respect of the debt by the law of limitation for the time being in force.

Extension of limitation.

31. The members of Boards shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Travancore Penal Code.

Board members to be public servants.

32. (1) Our Government may make rules to carry out the purpose of this Part of this Regulation.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power Our Government may make rules—

- (a) prescribing the pecuniary and local jurisdictions of Boards,
- (b) regulating the procedure of Boards,
- (c) prescribing the charges to be made by Boards for anything done under this Regulation and the persons by whom and the manner in which such charges shall be paid,
- (d) prescribing the records to be kept and the returns to be made by Boards,
- (e) providing for the transfer of any application for conciliation from one Board to another, for one or more such applications being dealt with together, or for any class of such applications being dealt with by any specified Board,
- (f) prescribing the place at which and the manner in which an agreement shall be registered,

(g) prescribing the form for agreements under Section 16 and certificates under Section 17,

(h) prescribing the fees for the execution of decrees declared as such under the provisions of Section 16,

(i) prescribing forms for notices to be issued by Boards and the proceedings of Boards,

(j) generally for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Part of this Regulation, and

(k) providing for any matter for which rules may be made.

(3) The power, conferred by this Section, of making rules is subject to the condition that the rules be made after previous publication.

(4) In making any rule, Our Government may direct that a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees, and where the breach is a continuing one with further fine which may extend to ten rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

PART III.

TEMPORARY PROVISIONS REGARDING EXECUTION OF DECREE AND INTEREST.

83. (1) Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, it shall be lawful, having regard to the circumstances mentioned below, for any Court executing a decree not being a decree declared as such under Section 16 to order that any money recoverable under the decree from a debtor be recovered in such number of instalments not exceeding twenty-four and spread over a period, not exceeding twelve years in any case, as the Court may in a discretion fix. It shall also be lawful during the said period of three years to revise from time to time the number of instalments once fixed by the Court. The circumstances referred to are the following :

- (i) The amount of the money recoverable under the decree.
- (ii) The period for which the decree and the transaction which is the basis of the decree have been outstanding.
- (iii) That adequate security has been given for the amount.
- (iv) That the debtor has been making honest efforts to make payment.
- (v) That the debtor has executed any document with a view to defeat or delay, or having the effect of defeating or delaying, his creditors.
- (vi) The need and other economic conditions of the decree-holder.
- (vii) That the decree-holder is prepared to accept in full settlement the amount that the debtor may raise from the State Land Mortgage Bank or any other such institution by mortgaging his entire properties.

(vii) That the debtor is prepared to pay the first instalment in cash forthwith or that he is not prepared to pay such first instalment, or any portion of it, forthwith or within such time as the Court may fix.

(2) No Court shall order under sub-section (1) that any money recoverable under a decree be recovered in instalments unless the debtor's entire properties, if any, (except such property which by or under any law for the time being in force is exempt from attachment and sale in execution of the decree) are placed under attachment or, if the debtor so elects, the debtor gives all his properties as security or gives adequate security to the satisfaction of the Court for the realisation of the entire money recoverable under the decree and unless the debtor pays forthwith the full amount of the proposed first instalment or such portion of it as may be fixed by the Court.

(3) Whenever any debtor makes default in payment of the amount of any instalment fixed under sub-section (1), the Court shall, except for reasons to be recorded in writing, order the recovery of the amount of such instalments alone as have been defaulted, together with the interest, if any, thereon. But if three instalments have been defaulted consecutively, the Court shall except for reasons to be recorded in writing, order that the entire amount remaining recoverable under the decree together with interest, if any, thereon shall be recovered in a lump sum :

Provided that nothing in this Section shall apply to any decree passed for the recovery of any debt incurred after the commencement of this Regulation.

34. Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing from and after the first of Chingam 1105 up to the termination of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt (not due in paddy or grain) in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation at any rate exceeding six per cent per annum.

Explanation.—If the rate of interest recoverable, if this provision had not been enacted, exceeds the rate of six per cent per annum, interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing at the rate of six per cent per annum. But if the rate of the interest recoverable be six per cent per annum or less, the interest shall be at that rate.

35. Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt arising after such date at any rate exceeding six per cent per annum if the debt be a secured debt, or nine per cent per annum if the debt be an Limitation of interest on past debts.

Limitation of interest on future debts.

unsecured debt, provided that, in the case of decree debts, the interest shall in no case exceed six per cent. per annum for the said period of three years.

Explanation.—If the rate of interest recoverable, if this provision had not been enacted, be more than six per cent. per annum, or nine per cent. per annum as the case may be, the interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing at six per cent. or nine per cent. per annum, as the case may be. But if the interest recoverable be six per cent. or less or nine per cent. or less, as the case may be, the interest shall be at such rate.

36. Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decrees or order of Court, no interest shall be considered to have accrued or to accrue or be permitted to be recovered as accruing from and after the 1st of Chingam 1105 up to the termination of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt, due in paddy or grain, at any rate exceeding nine per cent. per annum.

Explanation.—If the rate at which interest is recoverable, if this provision had not been enacted exceeds nine per cent. per annum, interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing at the rate of nine per cent. per annum. But if the rate of interest recoverable be nine per cent. or less the interest shall be at that rate.

PART IV.

AMENDMENT OF THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1100, REGARDING EXECUTION OF DECREES.

Amendment of Civil Procedure
Code.

37. In the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100,—

After Section 48, the following Section shall be inserted, namely:—
“48 A (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Part, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of any agriculturist in execution of any decree for the payment of money unless, after giving him an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison, the Court, for reasons recorded in writing, is satisfied—

(a) that he, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the execution of the decree,

(i) is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court; or

(ii) has, after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, dishonestly transferred, concealed or removed any part of his property or committed any other act of bad faith in relation to his property; or

Limitation of the arrest of agriculturists.

(b) that he has or has had since the date of the decree the means to pay the amount of the decree or some substantial part thereof and refuses or neglects or has refused or neglected to pay the same; or

(c) that the decree was passed on the basis of, or on account of, a transaction entered into by him on an express statement in writing that he is not an agriculturist; or

(d) that the arrest or detention applied for is in enforcement of any liability arising out of any transaction entered into with any Co-operative Society; or

(e) that the decree is for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in a fiduciary capacity to account.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply in the case of any decree for the payment of money passed on the basis of, or on account of, any transaction entered into before the commencement of the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation. But, in the execution of any such decree, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of any agriculturist if he submits to the Court a declaration in writing that he is not able, without time being allowed, to pay up the decree amount and submits also a list of his entire properties, movable and immovable, (except such property which by or under any law for the time being in force is exempt from attachment and sale in execution of the decree) with particulars sufficient to identify them, undertaking in writing not to alienate or encumber any of such properties without specific authority granted by the Court to do so. If he has not submitted such a declaration or such list or has not given such undertaking or if it is proved at any time to the satisfaction of the Court that the list is incomplete or incorrect in material particulars or that he has alienated or encumbered any of such properties against the undertaking, the Court may order his arrest or detention in the civil prison.

(3) Wherever the Court has reason to suspect that any person against whom an application for arrest or detention in the civil prison in the execution of any decree for the payment of money is made is an agriculturist, the Court shall, before granting the application, give him an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison.

(4) Nothing in this Section is intended to permit the arrest or detention in civil prison of any agriculturist if such arrest or detention is prohibited by any other provision of law.

Explanation.—(i) "Agriculturist" means an agriculturist within the meaning of the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation.

(ii) in the calculation of the means of the judgment-debtor for the purpose of clause (b) of sub-section (1), there shall be left out of account any property which by or under any law for the time being in force is exempt from attachment or sale in execution of the decree."

PART V.

MORTGAGE AND LEASE BACK.

38. If any transaction which purports to be a usufructuary mortgage (ottti) is proved to have been intended to be only a hypothecation, such transaction shall, notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, be treated as a hypothecation for the purpose of this Regulation.

Illustration.—A lends Rs. 1,000 to B and takes a usufructuary mortgage of B's property and leases the mortgaged property to B reserving an annual pattom of Rs. 120 intending to provide thereby for the interest due on the money lent. This transaction may be treated as a hypothecation and the rights between the parties may be adjusted on that basis.

PART II.

DEBT CONCILIATION.

8. (1) (a) Our Government may, for the purpose of amicable settlement between debtors and their creditors and among the creditors inter se, if there be more than one creditor of the same debtor, (hereinafter called conciliation) establish Debt Conciliation Boards.

Setting up of Debt Conciliation Boards.
- (b) Our Government shall define the local limits of the area in which a Board shall have jurisdiction.
- (c) Our Government may determine the pecuniary jurisdiction of any Board.
- (d) The Board shall consist of only one member (hereinafter called Conciliation Officer) who is either an officer or is appointed as an officer in the service of Our Government.
- (2) Our Government may cancel the appointment of any Conciliation Officer or dissolve any Board.
- (3) (a) Our Government shall notify in Our Government Gazette the establishment of a Board and the appointment of the Conciliation Officer, and the Board shall be deemed to have been established and the Conciliation Officer appointed from the date specified in such notification.
- (b) Our Government shall notify in Our Government Gazette the cancellation of the appointment of any Conciliation Officer.
- (c) Our Government shall notify in Our Government Gazette the dissolution of a Board; and, from the date specified in such notification, the Board shall cease to exist.
- (4) Where a Board is dissolved or otherwise ceases to exist, Our Government may at any time establish another Board for the area for which the former Board was established and may declare the Board newly established to be the successor in office of the Board which has ceased to exist, and such Board shall exercise all the powers under this Regulation.

4. (1) A debtor may make an application for conciliation to the Board established for the area within which he ordinarily resides or, if no Board has been established for that area, to the Board established for any area in which he holds immovable property, but he shall not apply to more than one Board.

(2) Unless the debtor has already made an application under sub-section (1), any of his creditors may make an application to a Board to which the debtor might have applied under that sub-section.

(3) If applications for conciliation in respect of the same debtor are made to more than one Board, such applications shall, in accordance with rules made by Our Government under this Regulation, be transferred to, and dealt with by, one Board as one single application.

(4) No application shall be made under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) unless the application includes a debt in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation.

5. Every application to the Board shall be in writing and be signed by the applicant and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, for signing and verifying plaints.

6. (1) Every application presented by a debtor to a Board shall contain the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the place where he resides and the place or places where he holds immovable property;

(b) the amount and other particulars of all claims against him together with the name, address and residence of his creditors;

(c) the amount and other particulars of all his property, including claims due to him, together with a specification of the value of such property not consisting of money, and the place or places at which any such property is to be found and details of any mortgage, lien or charge subsisting thereon;

(d) a statement that he wants an amicable settlement of his debts; and

(e) other particulars, if so prescribed.

(2) Every application presented by a creditor shall contain the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the place where the debtor resides or holds immovable property;

(b) the amount and other particulars of his claim against such debtor;

(c) a statement that the debtor is unable to pay his debts or that he (the creditor) wants an amicable settlement of the debts due to him; and

(d) other particulars, if so prescribed.

7. (1) On receipt of an application under Section 4, the Board shall pass an order fixing a date and place for hearing the application.

Procedure on receipt of application.

(2) Notice of the order under sub-section (1) shall be sent by registered Anchal or Post acknowledgment due as well as in such other manner, if so prescribed, to the debtor and creditors.

(3) If the application is filed by a creditor, the debtor on his appearance shall furnish the particulars mentioned in sub-section (1) of Section 6, and notice shall be sent to all creditors specified by him.

8. If, after examining the debtor, it is, in the opinion of the Board, desirable to effect a conciliation, the Board shall issue, and serve or publish, in the manner prescribed, a notice calling upon every creditor of the debtor to submit a statement of debts owed to such creditor by the debtor. Such statement shall be in writing and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, for signing and verifying claims and shall be submitted to the Board within one month from the date of service or publication of the notice as the case may be:

Notice calling upon creditors to submit statement of debts.

Provided that, if the Board is satisfied that any creditor was, for good and sufficient cause, unable to comply with such directions in due time, it may extend the period for the submission of his statement of the debts owed to him.

9. (1) Every creditor filing in compliance with a notice issued under Section 8 a statement of the debts owed to him shall furnish, along with such statement, full particulars of all such debts, shall at the same time produce all documents, including entries in books of account, on which he relies to support his claims, together with a true copy of every such document:

Procedure on submission of statement of debts.

Provided that the Board may exempt for sufficient reasons any creditor from producing any such documents.

(2) The Board shall, if so desired by the creditor, after marking, for the purpose of identification, every original document so produced and verifying the correctness of the copy, retain the copy and return the original to the creditor.

10. (1) The Board shall call upon the debtor and each creditor to explain his case regarding each debt.

(2) If there is a dispute as to the existence or quantum of the debt due to any creditor or the assets of any debtor, the Board may decide the matter after taking such evidence as is adduced by all the parties concerned, and such decision shall be binding on all parties in all proceedings before the Board:

Board to attempt conciliation.

Provided that a decree of a Civil Court relating to a debt shall be conclusive evidence as to the existence and amount of the debt.

(3) The Board shall prepare a complete schedule of the creditors and the assets and liabilities of the debtor.

11. (1) Subject to rules, if any, made by Our Government under this Regulation, a Board may exercise all such powers connected with the summoning and examining of parties and witnesses and with the production of documents as are conferred on a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100.

(2) Any person present may be required by a Board to furnish any information or to produce any document then and there in his possession or power.

(3) Every proceeding before the Board shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding.

12. It shall be the function of the Board to propose and make a conciliation of all the debts, (including a settlement as to the manner of fully discharging the debts) as between the debtor on the one hand and the creditor or creditors on the other, and as among the creditors inter se, if there are more creditors than one.

13. In proposing and making the conciliation, the Board may take into consideration the following inter alia, namely:—

- (a) the equities of the debt transactions concerned,
- (b) the amount of each of the debts,
- (c) the amount of interest already paid, particularly after the commencement of the year 1105 M. M.
- (d) the amount of the interest that has been allowed to accumulate,
- (e) the duration of the transaction,
- (f) the character of the debt, as for example, whether it is secured or unsecured, and the purpose of the debt,
- (g) the ability of the debtor to pay,
- (h) the availability of assets out of which the debts may be realised,
- (i) the occupation, needs and other economic conditions of the creditor,
- (j) the needs of the debtor and the necessity for leaving, as far as possible, a margin of property for the debtor's subsistence.

14. If, in the opinion of the Board, there are reasonable grounds to suspect inequity in any transaction, such as, for example, that it is tainted by fraud, misrepresentation, undue influence, coercion, mistake of fact, or collusion, the Board shall, in proposing and making the conciliation, go into the history of the transaction and may, in view of such history, reduce or disallow interest or even scale down the principal.

Explanation.—Nothing in this Section is intended to prohibit any disallowance of any claim on the ground that the transaction concerned is vitiated by fraud, misrepresentation, undue influence, coercion, mistake of fact or collusion and is therefore invalid in law.

15. (1) The manner of the conciliation shall be in the discretion of the Board and may, for example, be as follows:—

(a) that the debtor pay the creditor or creditors forthwith, or within a time to be fixed by the Board, a lump sum in cash in full settlement of all the debts, the amount of such lump sum being fixed by the Board having regard to the facts enumerated in Section 13 and to the amount which the debtor may raise by mortgaging his entire properties to the State Land Mortgage Bank or to some such recognised institution, or

(b) that a portion, say one-fourth of the assets of the debtor be left to the debtor free from all liability for his debts and the balance left to the creditor or creditors to be appropriated by them or to be sold and the sale proceeds distributed amongst them, it being also laid down how the property, or the sale proceeds, as the case may be, shall be distributed amongst the creditors, if there are more creditors than one, or

(c) that the debtor pay either the entire amount of the debts, or a reduced amount in full settlement in instalments spread over a number of years to be fixed by the Board, the debtor giving security for the due payment of the instalments and it being provided that, if any instalment is defaulted, such instalment and interest thereon alone be recovered, but that, if three consecutive instalments are defaulted, the entire amount remaining due be recovered:

Provided that under no circumstances shall any reduction be made with respect to debts incurred after the date of the commencement of this Regulation except with the consent of the creditor.

(2) In any scheme of conciliation, such properties as are exempt from attachment under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, shall not be taken into account and shall be left to the debtor free from liability for his debts.

16. (1) If the debtor and the creditor or the creditors appearing before the Board agree to the conciliation proposed by the Board, it shall be reduced to writing in the form of an agreement and shall be signed by the debtor and the creditor or creditors and shall also be signed or otherwise authenticated by the Board. Such agreement shall, subject to the rules, if any, made by Our Government, be registered according to the law relating to the registration of documents for the time being in force and filed in the court of the District Munsiff having jurisdiction over the area in which the debtor ordinarily resides and shall have the force of a decree passed by such court in a suit in which the persons who have so signed the agreement or are deemed under the provisions of this Regulation who have so signed the agreement are parties and shall be capable of being put in execution as if it were a decree of such court.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Board may, by a notice in writing and in the form prescribed, intimate to any person affected by any conciliation proposed by the Board or agreed to by the debtor and the creditor or creditors who have appeared before the Board, the particulars of such conciliation and call upon him to state within a time specified in the notice whether he agrees to the conciliation and is prepared to sign the conciliation agreement. If, in response to any such notice, any person, whether a debtor or creditor, does not, within the time specified in the notice or within such further time as the Board may grant, express to the Board his disagreement with the conciliation, he may, if so ordered by the Board, be deemed to have agreed to the conciliation and signed the agreement within the intent of sub-section (1) and the Board shall endorse or state in the agreement that it is deemed to have been signed by such person also :

Provided that, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Civil Court whenever the question arises before such court that the notice was not properly served on such person or if it is proved that, though the notice was properly served on him, he was prevented by sufficient cause from not expressing his views to the Board, the agreement shall not have effect as a decree so far as he is concerned.

(3) For the purpose of the registration of the agreement under sub-section (1), the Board shall be deemed to be an Officer of Our Government empowered to execute such agreement within the meaning of Section 82 of the Travancore Registration Regulation, 1087.

17. (1) If all the parties appearing before the Board, do not agree to the conciliation proposed by the Board, the Board may for reasons to be recorded in writing reject the application for conciliation or may record a certificate setting forth the attempts made by the Board to bring the parties to agreement, the various methods of conciliation suggested to them, the attitude of each of the parties in regard to such methods and what, in the opinion of the Board, would be a most satisfactory manner of settlement between the debtor and the creditors and what amount, in the opinion of the Board, would, having regard to all the circumstances, be a fair amount for the creditor or creditors to accept and the debtor to offer if the debtor were prepared to pay forthwith in cash in full settlement of all the debts.

(2) The Board may record a like certificate even as regards parties who have not appeared before the Board, or not taken part in the inquiry before the Board, if the Board is satisfied that it can come to a reasonable conclusion as to what will be a fair settlement in the case of such parties also.

(3) The Board shall send such certificate to the Court of the District Munsiff having jurisdiction over the place where the debtor ordinarily resides for being filed in that court.

18. Upon the certificate being filed or a copy of it being produced it shall be open to the creditor or any of the creditors to apply to the Court to call upon the debtor to deposit in Court the amount mentioned in the certificate as the fair amount for settlement by cash payment. Upon such application being made, the Court shall order the debtor to make the deposit within such time as it may think reasonable not exceeding, in any case, three months from the date of the order to make the deposit. The deposit so made in such time shall be deemed to be in full settlement of such claims of the creditor as are dealt with in the certificates.

Explanation.—The deposit so made shall not be liable to be proceeded against for the claims or any other person against the debtor.

19. If, in respect of any debt covered by the certificate of the Board, the creditor institutes a suit or makes an application (not being an application under Section 18) in any Civil Court, such Court, having regard to the certificate and the conduct of the parties in connection therewith, may, in its discretion, disallow in whole or in part the costs of the suit or of the application, as the case may be, and may also, in its discretion, reduce the amount of the interest remaining due for the period from and after 1st Chingmon 1105 up to the date of the decree or order of the application, as the case may be, by reducing the rate of the interest to any rate which is not less than either one-half of the stipulated rate or four per cent. per annum whichever is higher.

20. (1) An application under Section 4 may be dismissed by the Board at any stage of the proceedings—
Dismissal of applications.

(a) if, in the opinion of the Board, the applicant fails to pursue his application with due diligence :

Provided that, when such applicant is a creditor, the Board, instead of dismissing such application, may substitute the debtor or any other creditor, who shall thereafter be deemed to be the applicant for the purposes of this Regulation ; or

(b) if, for reasons to be stated in writing, the Board considers it not desirable or practicable to effect a conciliation ; or

(c) if the application includes a claim which, in the opinion of the Board, is collusive and intended to defraud any creditor.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (1), the application shall be deemed to have been dismissed if within the prescribed period the application has not been disposed of by the Board :

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply for a period of three months after the prescribed date where the conciliation officer, for reasons to be recorded in writing, orders that an extension of the prescribed period is necessary in the general interests of the parties before him.

21. If once an application has been made by any person under Section 4 and disposed of, no Board shall entertain an application from any person in respect of the same debtor within two years from the date of the disposal of the first application.

22. If, in compliance with a notice under Section 8 proved to have been served on him, a creditor does not duly furnish the statement of the debts owed to him, any conciliation agreement effected under Section 16 specifically providing for the debts owed to such creditor, shall have effect, as regards such creditor also, exactly as if he had appeared and agreed to the conciliation and signed the conciliation agreement:

Provided that, if the creditor proves to the satisfaction of the Board, wherever the question arises before the Board, or to the satisfaction of the Court, wherever the question arises before a Civil Court, that he had sufficient cause for not furnishing the statement, the Board or the Court, as the case may be, may proceed as if no conciliation agreement had been entered into in regard to the debts owed to him.

23. No appeal or application for revision shall lie to any Court against any order passed by the Board.

Bar of appeal and revision.

24. The decision by a Board that a person is or is not an agriculturist shall be conclusive for all the purposes of the Board and for the purposes of all proceedings arising out of any conciliation or certificate recorded by the Board.

Decision of Board as to status of agriculturist how far conclusive.

Explanation.—If for any other purpose the question arises before any Court of law whether a person is or not an agriculturist, the Court shall decide the question for itself and such decision shall be liable to be appealed against as a decree of the Court.

25. A Board may, on the application of any person interested, review any order passed by it (not being a certificate recorded by the Board under Section 17) and pass such order as it thinks fit:

Power of Board to review.

Provided that it shall not under this Section pass an order reversing or modifying any order affecting any person interested without giving such person an opportunity of being heard:

Provided, further, that no application for review shall be entertained if presented more than three months from the date on which the applicant came to know of the order after the date of the order which the person interested seeks to have reviewed.

26. No Civil Court shall—

(a) question the validity of any procedure of a Bar of civil suits. Board, or

(b) entertain a suit by any person to recover any amount due under, or any debt covered by, a conciliation agreement binding on him.

Explanation.—Nothing in this Section is intended to affect the right contemplated in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 16 or in the proviso to Section 22.

27. In any proceedings before a Board, any party may be represented by an agent authorised in writing or by a legal practitioner.
 Appearance before Board by agent or legal practitioner.

28. Except for special reasons to be recorded in writing, no court of law shall entertain, or allow to be prosecuted, any suit, application for the execution of a decree or other proceedings for the recovery of any debt for the settlement of which an application is pending before
 Bar of suits while application for conciliation is pending.

a. Board.

29. The pendency of any suit or any application for the execution of a decree or any other proceedings in any court of law for the recovery of any debt shall not be a bar to any party to such proceedings to making an application to a Board as provided in this Regulation.
 Application may be made to Board even during pendency of proceedings before Court.

30. The time occupied by the proceedings before a Board for the settlement of any debt, the time during which any application under Section 18 is pending disposal and the time during which a person is debarred by Section 28 from instituting or prosecuting a suit, an application for the execution of a decree or other proceedings shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed for any suit, application or other proceedings in respect of the debt by the law of limitation for the time being in force.
 Extension of limitation.

31. The members of Board shall be deemed to be public servants Board members to be within the meaning of the Travancore Penal Code.

32. (1) Our Government may make rules to carry out the purpose of this Part of this Regulation.
 Power to make rules.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power Our Government may make rules—

- (a) prescribing the pecuniary and local jurisdictions of Boards,
- (b) regulating the procedure of Boards,
- (c) prescribing the charges to be made by Boards for anything done under this Regulation and the persons by whom and the manner in which such charges shall be paid,
- (d) prescribing the records to be kept and the returns to be made by Boards,

(e) providing for the transfer of any application for conciliation from one Board to another, for one or more such applications being dealt with together, or for any class of such applications being dealt with by any specified Board,

(f) prescribing the place at which and the manner in which an agreement shall be registered,

(g) prescribing the form for agreements under Section 16 and certificates under Section 17,

(h) prescribing the fees for the execution of decrees declared as such under the provisions of Section 16,

(i) prescribing forms for notices to be issued by Boards and the proceedings of Boards,

(j) generally for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Part of this Regulation, and

(k) providing for any matter for which rules may be made.

(3) The power, conferred by this Section, of making rules is subject to the condition that the rules be made after previous publication.

(4) In making any rule, Our Government may direct that a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees, and where the breach is a continuing one with further fine which may extend to ten rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

PART III.

TEMPORARY PROVISIONS REGARDING EXECUTION OF DECREE AND INTEREST.

33. (1) Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, it shall be lawful, having regard to the circumstances mentioned below, for any Court executing a decree not being a decree declared as such under Section 16 to order that any money recoverable under the decree from a debtor be recovered in such number of instalments not exceeding twenty-four and spread over a period, not exceeding twelve years in any case, as the Court may in its discretion fix. It shall also be lawful during the said period of three years to revise from time to time the number of instalments once fixed by the Court. The circumstances referred to are the following:

- (i) The amount of the money recoverable under the decree.
- (ii) The period for which the decree and the transaction which is the basis of the decree have been outstanding.
- (iii) That adequate security has been given for the amount.
- (iv) That the debtor has been making honest efforts to make payment.
- (v) That the debtor has executed any document with a view to defeat or delay, or having the effect of defeating or delaying, his creditors.
- (vi) The need and other economic conditions of the decree-holder.

(vii) That the decree-holder is prepared to accept in full settlement the amount that the debtor may raise from the State Land Mortgage Bank or any other such institution by mortgaging his entire properties.

(viii) That the debtor is prepared to pay the first instalment in cash forthwith or that he is not prepared to pay such first instalment, or any portion of it, forthwith or within such time as the Court may fix.

(2) No Court shall order under sub-section (1) that any money recoverable under a decree be recovered in instalments unless the debtor's entire properties, if any, (except such property which by or under any law for the time being in force is exempt from attachment and sale in execution of the decree) are placed under attachment or, if the debtor so elects, the debtor gives all his properties as security or gives adequate security to the satisfaction of the Court for the realisation of the entire money recoverable under the decree and unless the debtor pays forthwith the full amount of the proposed first instalment or such portion of it as may be fixed by the Court.

(3) Whenever any debtor makes default in payment of the amount of any instalment fixed under sub-section (1), the Court shall, except for reasons to be recorded in writing, order the recovery of the amount of such instalments alone as have been defaulted, together with the interest, if any, thereon. But if three instalments have been defaulted consecutively, the Court shall except for reasons to be recorded in writing, order that the entire amount remaining recoverable under the decree together with interest, if any, thereon shall be recovered in a lump sum :

Provided that nothing in this Section shall apply to any decree passed for the recovery of any debt incurred after the commencement of this Regulation.

34. Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt (not due in paddy or grain) in existence on such date, at any rate exceeding six per cent. per annum.

Explanation.—If the rate of interest recoverable, if this provision had not been enacted, exceeds the rate of six per cent. per annum, interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing at the rate of six per cent. per annum. But if the rate of the interest recoverable be six per cent. per annum or less, the interest shall be at that rate.

35. Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt arising after such date at any rate exceeding six per cent. per annum if the debt be a secured debt, or nine per cent. per annum if the debt be an unsecured debt, provided that, in the case of decree debts, the interest shall in no case exceed six per cent. per annum for the said period of three years.

Explanation.—If the rate of interest recoverable, if this provision had not been enacted, be more than six per cent. per annum or nine per cent. per annum, as the case may be, the interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing at six per cent. or nine per cent. or less or nine per cent. or less, as the case may be, the interest shall be as such rate.

36. Notwithstanding anything in any law, contract, decree or order of Court, no interest shall accrue, or be permitted to be recovered as accruing, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, in respect of any debt, due in paddy or grain, and in existence on such date, at any rate exceeding nine per cent. per annum.

Explanation.—If the rate at which interest is recoverable, if this provision had not been enacted, exceeds nine per cent per annum, interest shall accrue and be permitted to be recovered as accruing at the rate of nine per cent. per annum. But if the rate of interest recoverable be nine per cent. or less, the interest shall be at that rate.

PART IV.

AMENDMENT OF THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1100, REGARDING EXECUTION OF DECREES.

Amendment of Civil Procedure
Code.

37. In the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100,—

After Section 48, the following Section shall be inserted, namely:—

“48 A (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Part, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of any agriculturist in execution of any decree for the payment of money unless, after giving him an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison, the Court, for reasons recorded in writing, is satisfied—

(a) that he, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the execution of the decree,

(i) is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court; or

(ii) has, after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, dishonestly transferred, concealed or removed any part of his property or committed any other act of bad faith in relation to his property; or

(b) that he has or has had since the date of the decree the means to pay the amount of the decree or some substantial part thereof and refuses or neglects or has refused or neglected to pay the same; or

(c) that the decree was passed on the basis of, or on account of, a transaction entered into by him on an express statement in writing that he is not an agriculturist or

(d) that the arrest or detention applied for is in enforcement of any liability arising out of any transaction entered into with any Co-operative Society; or

(e) that the decree is for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in a fiduciary capacity to account.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply in the case of any decree for the payment of money passed on the basis of, or on account of, any transaction entered into before the commencement of the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation. But, in the execution of any such decree, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of any agriculturist if he submits to the Court a declaration in writing that he is not able, without time being allowed, to pay up the decree amount and submits also a list of his entire properties, movable and immovable, (except such property which by or under any law for the time being in force is exempt from attachment and sale in execution of the decree) with particulars sufficient to identify them, undertaking in writing not to alienate or encumber any of such properties without specific authority granted by the Court to do so. If he has not submitted such a declaration or such list or has not given such undertaking or if it is proved at any time to the satisfaction of the Court that the list is incomplete or incorrect in material particulars or that he has alienated or encumbered any of such properties against the undertaking, the Court may order his arrest or detention in the civil prison.

(3) Wherever the Court has reason to suspect that any person against whom an application for arrest or detention in the civil prison in the execution of any decree for the payment of money is made is an agriculturist, the Court shall, before granting the application, give him an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison.

(4) Nothing in this Section is intended to permit the arrest or detention in civil prison of any agriculturist if such arrest or detention is prohibited by any other provision of law.

Explanation.—(i) "Agriculturist" means an agriculturist within the meaning of the Travancore Agriculturists' Relief Regulation.

(ii) in the calculation of the means of the judgment-debtor for the purpose of clause (b) of sub-section (1), there shall be left out of account any property which by or under any law for the time being in force is exempt from attachment or sale in execution of the decree."

PART V.

MORTGAGE AND LEASE BACK.

38. If any transaction which is in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation and which purports to be an usufructuary mortgage (Othi) is proved to have been intended to be only a hypothecation, such transaction shall notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, be treated, for a period of three years from such date, as a hypothecation which came into existence on such date :

Provided that nothing in the Section shall exempt the mortgagor from liability to arrears of pottom, if any, due in respect of such transaction for any period previous to such date.

Illustration.—A lent Rs. 1,000 to B and took an usufructuary mortgage of B's property and leased the mortgaged property to B reserving an annual pottom of Rs. 120 intending to provide thereby for the interest due on the money lent ; and this transaction is in existence on the date of the commencement of this Regulation. This transaction may, for a period of three years from the date of the commencement of this Regulation, be treated as a hypothecation that came into existence on such date ; and during that period the rights between the parties may be adjusted on that basis.

Annexure II.

A BILL TO CONSOLIDATE AND AMEND THE LAW
RELATING TO STEAM BOILERS.(As passed by the Sri Mulam Assembly.)

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Steam Boilers; It is hereby enacted as follows:

Short title, extent and commencement. 1. (1) This Regulation may be called "The Travancore Boilers Regulation, 1112."

(2) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, appoint.

2. In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:

Definitions.

(a) "boiler" means any closed vessel exceeding five gallons in capacity, which is used expressly for generating steam under pressure, and includes any mounting or other fitting attached to such vessel which is wholly or partly under pressure when steam is shut off;

(b) "accident" means an explosion of a boiler or steam pipe or any damage to a boiler or steam pipe which is calculated to weaken the strength thereof so as to render it liable to explode;

(c) "owner" includes any person using a boiler as agent of the owner thereof and any person using a boiler which he has hired or obtained on loan or otherwise from the owner thereof;

(d) "steam pipe" means any main pipe exceeding three inches in internal diameter, through which steam passes directly from a boiler to a prime mover or other first user, and includes any connected fitting of a steam pipe;

(e) "Chief Inspector" and "Inspector" means respectively, a person appointed to be a Chief Inspector and an Inspector under this Regulation;

(f) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Regulation; and

(g) "Structural alteration, addition or renewal" shall not be deemed to include any renewal or replacement of a petty nature when the part or fitting used for replacement is not inferior in strength, efficiency or otherwise to the replaced part or fitting.

Limitation of application. 3. Nothing in this Regulation shall apply in the case of any boiler or steam pipe;

(a) belonging to or under the control of His Majesty's Navy or the Royal Indian Marine service; or

(b) belonging to or under the control of any Railway administered by the Government of India or by Our Government or by any Railway Company as defined in Clause 5 of Section 3 of the Indian Railway Act, 1890.

Appointment of Chief Inspector and Inspectors. 4. (1) Our Government may appoint such persons as they think fit to be Inspector for the purpose of this Regulation.

(2) The Inspectors so appointed shall, within such local areas as Our Government may direct, exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred and imposed on Inspectors by or under this Regulation, or rules made thereunder.

(3) Our Government shall likewise appoint a person to be Chief Inspector for the State, who may in addition to the powers and duties conferred or imposed on the Chief Inspector by or under this Regulation, exercise any power or perform any duty so conferred or imposed on Inspectors.

(4) Every Chief Inspector and every inspector shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Travancore Penal Code.

5. Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Regulation or in any rules passed by Our Government under this Regulation, no owner of a boiler shall use the boiler or permit it to be used.

Prohibition of use of unregistered or uncertificated boilers.

(a) unless it has been registered in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation or rules made thereunder, or a certificate or provisional order authoring its use has been granted under this Regulation or rules made thereunder and is in force;

(b) at a pressure higher than the maximum pressure recorded in such certificate or provisional order;

(c) unless the boiler is in charge of a person holding a certificate of competency as required by rules made under this Regulation;

Provided that any boiler registered or any boiler certified or licensed under the Travancore Steam Boilers and Prime Movers Regulation, 1982 (III of 1982) shall be deemed to have been registered or certified, as the case may be, under this Regulation.

6. (1) The owner of any boiler which is not registered under the provisions of this Regulation or the rules thereunder may apply to the Chief Inspector to have it registered. Every such application shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) On receipt of an application under sub-section (1), the Chief Inspector shall fix a date, within thirty days or such shorter period as may be prescribed from the date of the receipt, for the examination of the boiler and shall give the owner thereof not less than seven days notice of the date so fixed.

(3) On the said date the Chief Inspector or the Inspector of the local area in which the boiler is situated shall proceed to measure and examine the boiler and to determine in the prescribed manner the maximum pressure if any, at which such boiler may be used and in the case of examination by the Inspector he shall report the result of his examination to the Chief Inspector in the prescribed form.

(4) The Chief Inspector, on completion of his examination or on receipt of the report, as the case may be, may:—

(a) register the boiler and assign a register number thereto either forthwith or after satisfying himself that any structural alteration, addition or renewal which he may deem necessary has been made in or to the boiler or any steam pipe attached thereto, or

(b) refuse to register the boiler;

Provided that where he refuses to register a boiler, he shall forthwith communicate his refusal to the owner of the boiler together with the reasons therefor.

(5) The Chief Inspector shall, on registering the boiler, issue to the owner a certificate in the prescribed form authorising the use of the boiler for a period not exceeding twelve months at a pressure not exceeding such maximum pressure as he thinks fit and as is in accordance with the rules made under this Regulation.

(6) Where the boiler has been registered, the owner shall within the prescribed period cause the register number to be permanently marked thereon in the prescribed manner.

Renewal of certificate. 7. (1) A certificate authorising the use of a boiler shall cease to be in force —

- (a) on the expiry of the period for which it was granted; or
- (b) when any accident occurs to the boiler; or
- (c) when the boiler is moved, the boiler not being a vertical boiler the heating surface of which is less than one hundred square feet, or a portable or vehicular boiler; or
- (d) when any structural alteration, addition or renewal is made in or to the boiler; or
- (e) if the Chief Inspector in any particular case so directs, when any structural alteration, addition or renewal is made in or to any steam pipe attached to the boiler;
- (f) on the communication to the owner of the boiler of an order of the Chief Inspector prohibiting its use on the ground that it or any steam pipe attached thereto is in a dangerous condition.

(2) When an order is made under clause (f) of sub-section (1), the grounds on which the order is made shall be communicated to the owner with the order.

(3) When a certificate ceases to be in force, the owner of a boiler may apply to the Chief Inspector for a renewal thereof for such period not exceeding twelve months as he may specify in the application.

(4) An application under sub-section (3) shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee and, on receipt thereof, the Chief Inspector shall fix a date, within thirty days or such shorter period as may be prescribed from the date of the receipt for the examination of the boiler and shall give the owner thereof not less than seven days' notice of the date so fixed.

Provided that where the certificate has ceased to be in force owing to the making of any structural alteration, addition or renewal the Chief Inspector may dispense with the payment of any fee.

(5) On the said date, the Chief Inspector or the Inspector of the local area at which the boiler is situated shall examine the boiler in the prescribed manner, and in the case of examination by the Inspector he shall submit his report to the Chief Inspector in the prescribed form. If the Chief Inspector, from his own inspection or the Inspector's report, is satisfied that the boiler and the steam pipe or steam pipes attached thereto are in good condition he shall issue a renewed certificate authorising the use of the boiler or such period not exceeding twelve months and at a pressure not exceeding such maximum pressure as he thinks fit and as is in accordance with the rules made under this Regulation:

Provided that if the Chief Inspector on his own examination or on receipt of the Inspector's report, as the case may be, finds that the boiler is not fit for use, or that the boiler is safe for working only after certain structural alteration, addition or renewal has been made in or to the boiler or any steam pipe attached thereto, he shall forthwith inform the owner of the boiler in writing of his opinion and the reasons therefor and in such cases he may subject to the provisions of this Regulation and of the rules made thereunder, renew the certificate in such terms and on such conditions, if any, as he thinks fit, or may refuse to renew it and shall forthwith communicate his reasons therefor to the owner of the boiler.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent an owner of a boiler from applying for a renewed certificate therefor at any time during the currency of the certificate:

Provided that every such application is accompanied by the prescribed fee.

8. Where the Inspector has made an examination of a boiler under sub-section (8) of section 6 or sub-section (5) of Section 7, he may, if he is satisfied that the boiler and steam pipes attached thereto are in good condition, grant to the owner thereof a provisional order in writing permitting the boiler to be used at a pressure not exceeding such maximum pressure as he thinks fit and as is in accordance with the rules made under this Regulation pending the orders of the Chief Inspector. Such provisional order shall cease to be in force—

(a) on the expiry of two months from the date on which it is granted, or

(b) on receipt of the orders of the Chief Inspector, or

(c) in any of the cases referred to in clauses (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of sub-section (1) of Section 7, and on its ceasing to be in force shall be surrendered to the Chief Inspector.

9 (1) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained when the period of a certificate relating to a boiler has expired, the owner shall, provided that he has applied not less than thirty days before the expiry of that period for a renewal of the certificate, be entitled to use the boiler at the maximum pressure entered in the former certificate pending the issue of orders on the application.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize the use of a boiler in any of the cases referred to in clauses (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of sub-section (1) of Section 7 occurring after the expiry of the period of the certificate.

10. On the report of an Inspector or otherwise the Chief Inspector may at any time withdraw or revoke any certificate or provisional order—

(a) if there is reason to believe that the certificate or provisional order has been fraudulently obtained or has been granted erroneously or without sufficient examination; or

(b) if the boiler in respect of which it has been granted has sustained injury or has ceased to be in good condition; or

(c) if the boiler is in charge of a person not holding the certificate of competency required by rules made under this Regulation; or

(d) if at the time of granting a certificate certain structural alteration, addition or renewal has been ordered to be carried out within a certain time and if such structural alteration, addition or renewal has not been carried out within such a time:

Provided that the Chief Inspector shall record his reasons for the withdrawal or revocation and communicate them to the owner of the boiler concerned.

Alterations and renewals to Boilers.
11. No structural alteration, addition or renewal shall be made in or to any boiler registered under this Regulation unless such alteration, addition or renewal has been sanctioned in writing by the Chief Inspector.

Alteration and renewals to steam pipes.
12. Before the owner of any boiler registered under this Regulation makes any structural alteration, addition or renewal in or to any steam pipe attached to the boiler, he shall transmit to the Chief Inspector a report in writing of his intention, and shall send therewith such particulars of the proposed alteration, addition or renewal as may be prescribed.

13. (1) On any date fixed under this Regulation for the examination of a boiler the owner thereof shall be bound—

Duty of owner at examination.

(a) to afford to the Chief Inspector or the Inspector as the case may be, all reasonable facilities for the examination and all such information as may reasonably be required of him ;

(b) to have the boiler properly prepared and ready for examination in the prescribed manner ; and

(c) in the case of an application for the registration of a boiler, to provide such drawings, specifications, certificates and other particulars as may be prescribed.

(2) If the owner fails, without reasonable cause, to comply with the provisions of sub-section (1) the Chief Inspector or the Inspector shall, as the case may be, refuse to make the examination and in the case of the Inspector he shall report the case to the Chief Inspector and the Chief Inspector shall unless sufficient cause to the contrary is shown require the owner to file a fresh application under Section 6 or Section 7, as the case may be, and may forbid him to use the boiler notwithstanding anything contained in Section 9.

Production of certificate etc.
14. The owner of any boiler who holds a certificate or provisional order relating thereto shall at all reasonable times during the period for which the certificate or order is in force, be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by a District Magistrate, District Superintendent of Police or Magistrate of the First Class having jurisdiction in the area in which the boiler is for the time being, or by the Chief Inspector or by an Inspector or by any Inspector appointed under the Travancore Factories Regulation (V of 1089) or by any person specially authorised by Our Government.

Transfer of certificate etc.
15. If any person becomes the owner of a boiler during the period for which a certificate or provisional order relating thereto is in force, the preceding owner shall be bound to make over to him the certificate or provisional order.

16. The Chief Inspector may, for the purpose of inspecting or examining a boiler or any steam pipe attached thereto or of seeing that any provision of this Regulation or of any rules made thereunder has been or is being observed at all reasonable times enter any place or building in which he has reason to believe that a boiler is in use and an Inspector also may likewise enter as regards the local area for which he is appointed Inspector.

17. (1) If any accident occurs to a boiler or steam pipe, the owner or person in charge thereof shall, within twenty-four hours of the accident report the same in writing to the Chief Inspector for the local area. Every such report shall contain a true description of the accident or the injury, if any, caused thereby to the boiler or to the steam pipe or to any person, and shall be in sufficient detail to enable the Chief Inspector and the Inspector to judge of the gravity of the accident.

(2) Every person shall be bound to answer truly to the best of his knowledge and ability every question put to him in writing by the Chief Inspector or by the Inspector having jurisdiction in the local area where the accident occurred as to the cause, nature or extent of the accident.

18. Any person considering himself aggrieved by an order of the Chief Inspector—Appeals to appellate authority.

(a) refusing to register a boiler or to grant or renew a certificate in respect of a boiler; or

(b) refusing to grant a certificate having validity for the full period applied for; or

(c) refusing to grant a certificate authorising the use of a boiler at the maximum pressure desired; or

(d) withdrawing or revoking a certificate or provisional order; or

(e) reducing the amount of pressure specified in any certificate or the period for which such certificate has been granted; or

(f) ordering any structural alteration, addition or renewal to be made in or to a boiler or steam pipe, or refusing sanction to the making of any structural alteration, addition or renewal in or to a boiler, may, within thirty days of the communication to him of such order, prefer an appeal to the appellate authority constituted by Our Government under this Regulation.

19. An order of an appellate authority under Section 18 and, save as otherwise provided in Section 18, an order of the Chief Inspector shall be final and shall not be called in question in any court.

20. Any owner of a boiler who refuses or without reasonable excuse neglects—
Minor penalties.

(a) to surrender a provisional order as required by Section 8, or

(b) to produce a certificate or provisional order when duly called upon to do so under Section 14, or

(c) to make over to the new owner of a boiler a certificate or provisional order as required by Section 15, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

21. Any owner of a boiler who in any case in which a certificate or provisional order is required for the use of the boiler under this Regulation uses the boiler without any such certificate or order being in force or at a higher pressure than that allowed thereby, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees and in the case of a continuing offence with an additional fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for each day, after the first day, in regard to which he is convicted of having persisted in the offence.

(Other penalties.— 22. Any person who

(a) being the owner of a boiler fails to cause the register number allotted to the boiler under this Regulation to be marked on the boiler as required by sub-section (6) of Section 6, or

(b) makes any structural alteration, addition or renewal in or to a boiler without first obtaining the sanction of the Chief Inspector when so required by Section 11, or to a steam pipe without informing the Chief Inspector when so required by Section 12, or

(c) fails to report an accident to a boiler or steam pipe when so required by Section 17, or

(d) tampers with a safety valve of a boiler so as to render it inoperative at the maximum pressure at which the use of the boiler is authorised under this Regulation, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

23. (1) Whoever removes, alters, defaces, renders invisible or otherwise tampers with the register number marked on a boiler in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation or of Regulation repealed hereby, shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(2) Whoever fraudulently marks upon a boiler a register number which has not been allotted to it under this Regulation or the Regulation repealed hereby shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to two years or with fine or with both.

24. No prosecution for an offence made punishable by or under this Regulation shall be instituted except within six months from the date of the commission of the offence and no such prosecution shall be instituted without the previous sanction of the Chief Inspector or of Our Government.

25. No offence made punishable by or under this Regulation shall be tried by a court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class.

26. Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, make rules consistent with this Regulation for all or any of the following purposes namely:—

(1) for laying down the standard conditions in respect of material, design and construction which shall be required for the purpose of enabling the registration and certification of a boiler under this Regulation ;

(2) for prescribing the method of determining the maximum pressure at which a boiler may be used ;

(3) for regulating the registration of boilers, prescribing the fees payable therefor, the drawings, specifications, certificates and particulars to be produced by the owner, the method of preparing a boiler for examination, the form of the Inspector's report thereon, the method of marking the register number and the period within which such number is to be marked on the boiler;

(4) for providing for and regulating the inspection and examination of boilers and steam pipes and prescribing forms of certificates therefor;

(5) for ensuring the safety of persons working inside a boiler;

(6) for requiring boilers to be in charge of persons holding certificates of competency, and for prescribing the conditions on which such certificates may be granted;

(7) for regulating inquiries into accidents;

(8) for regulating the transfer of boilers;

(9) for prescribing the fees payable for the issue of renewed certificates and the method of determining the amount of such fees in each case;

(10) for prescribing the times within which the Chief Inspector or the Inspectors shall be required to examine boilers under Section 6 or 7;

(11) for constituting the appellate authority referred to in Section 18, and for determining its powers and procedure;

(12) for determining the mode of disposal of fees, costs and penalties levied under this Regulation;

(13) for regulating and controlling the boilers or steam pipes that may be exempted under the provisions of Section 30; and

(14) generally to provide for any other matter which Our Government may deem necessary for the proper working of this Regulation.

Penalty for breach of rules.

27. Any rule made under [Section 26 may provide that a contravention thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

Recovery of fees etc.

28. All fees, costs and penalties levied under this Regulation shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue.

Applicability to boilers belonging to Government.

29. Save as otherwise expressly provided, this Regulation shall apply to boilers and steam pipes belonging to Our Government.

30. (1) Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, exempt the operation of this Regulation, subject to such conditions and restrictions as they think fit, any boilers or classes or types of boilers used exclusively for the heating of buildings or the supply of hot water.

(2) Our Government may by notification in Our Government Gazette exempt from all or any of the provisions of this Regulation, subject to such rules as may be prescribed by our Government, any boiler or steam pipe which is subject to licensing, registration or control under the laws of any other State.

Repeal of Regulation III of 1982.

31. On and from the commencement of this Regulation, the Travancore Steam Boilers and Prime Movers Regulation, 1982, (III of 1982) shall stand repealed;

Provided that any Inspector appointed under the Regulation so repealed shall be deemed to have been appointed under this Regulation.

DISSENTING NOTE BY MR. S. J. NAIR.

I am of opinion that the Bill be dropped. I am against the enactment of any legislation to protect the special interest of persons who pursue a particular system of cultivation, namely the planting of rubber alone. If granting of protection, by controlling the cultivation of any sort of agriculture, is found useful and beneficent, then the interest of not only rubber planters, but also of persons who plant cocoanut palms, and cultivate pepper and tapioca in the State should be safeguard by legislation. It is not possible and practicable to do so. Hence to protect the interest of persons who cultivate rubber alone is not advisable.

Of all sorts of cultivations, the cultivation of rubber has become a paying concern in Travancore. It is true that due to the "dump" in the world market and various other causes, the price of rubber has fallen low in recent times. It is in order "to regulate the production and export of rubber in and from producing countries, with the object of reducing existing world stocks to a normal figure and adjusting in an orderly manner supply to demand and maintaining a fair and equitable price level which will be reasonably remunerative" that the International Rubber Restriction Scheme has come into existence. In other words, the rubber producers of the rubber producing countries have joined together with a view to maintain the "monopoly" in the matter of the cultivation of rubber. This sort of perpetual preservation of vested interests is very bad and unhealthy to the progress of cultivation and for the benefit of the cultivators. Moreover, in the Indian Empire, Travancore, Cochin and British Malabar alone have taken up to the cultivation of rubber. There is great scope in Travancore to extend the rubber cultivation. Also, till recently the cultivation of rubber in Travancore was the monopoly of a few European Planters. Only very recently the ordinary agriculturists in Travancore have taken up the cultivation of rubber. Then all of a sudden the attempt is made to shut out the agriculturists in Travancore from cultivating rubber. To deny the right of cultivating rubber to the agriculturist classes as a whole in the State is not at all conducive to the prosperity of the State and the welfare of the agriculturists.

India is a vast Empire. In India, the Malabar Coast is best suited for rubber cultivation. The day is not distant when Malabar and especially Travancore will have to supply the ever increasing demand of the Indian market for rubber. For instance, in Travancore, there is a Rubber Factory. If the Factory is controlled and worked up properly, the factory can consume a good portion of the rubber produced in Travancore. There is scope for starting additional rubber factories in Travancore. In Calcutta the Dunlop Company is going to start a Rubber Factory on a grand scale. So rubber would soon get a very good market in India itself. Only in case the agriculturists of Malabar Coast, including Travancore, take to the extensive and intensive system of rubber cultivation, the demand of the Indian market for rubber could be reasonably met with. In the face of this, it would not be advisable to control and to regulate the cultivation of rubber in Travancore by the present legislative enactment.

If it is argued that "the International Rubber Restriction Scheme, to which Travancore has adhered, makes it necessary, that legislative provision should be made for restricting the extension of rubber cultivation" etc., I would say, it is well and good that the "quota" (the permissible exportable amounts) of rubber be restricted but, not the area for the cultivation of rubber. We can go one step further. As a sort of discouragement for cultivating rubber, a law may be enacted that those who take up the cultivation of rubber from 1934 onwards would not get of the benefit of the "quota." This would indirectly control the extension of rubber cultivation. In other words the production and export of rubber may be controlled, but not the actual cultivation of rubber plants.

Introduction, preservation and perpetuation of capitalism in any form or shape is a social evil, economic blunder and national calamity. The International Rubber Restriction Scheme, of which mention is made in the Statement of Objects and Reasons in the Bill, is a concrete instance of this. In a purely agricultural country like Travancore, the introduction of such legislation as the present one would spell danger and lead to serious consequences in respect of the condition and wealth of the agriculturists. The Marquess of Linlithgow (the present Viceroy of India) who was the Chairman of the Royal Commission on Agriculture in India, writes in his recent Booklet "The Indian Peasantry" as follows:—

"India's wealth in an over-whelming degree is her agriculture.....

"The peasant, now as ever, is the chief source and creator of both her wealth and her greatness."

What His Excellency writes of the Indian peasantry is literally too true of the Travancore peasantry also. The wealth of Travancore is her agriculture; and to the peasant here is the chief source and creator of our both wealth and our greatness. So, the responsible representatives of the peasantry in the State shall not be parties in permitting legislation of this sort to be enacted, that would cripple the agricultural industry in the State and usher in capitalism of the worst type and sanction the petty and selfish tactics of Imperial preference at the cost of the sacred right of the ordinary agriculturists in the land. Anyhow, since it is stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons in the Bill that the Travancore Government "has adhered" to the International Rubber Restriction Scheme, certain provisions of the Bill alone need be accept with great caution and restriction; and this legislation with much modification shall be permitted to have a lease of life up to the end of the year 1938 only.

Annexure IV.

THE TRAVANCORE RUBBER CONTROL BILL.

(As passed by the Select Committee.)

A Regulation to provide for the control of the extension of the cultivation of rubber in Travancore and for certain connected matters.

Whereas it is necessary, in view of the International Rubber Restriction Scheme, to provide for the control of the extension of the cultivation of rubber in Travancore and for certain connected matters; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

CONTROL OVER EXTENSION OF RUBBER CULTIVATION.

3. So long as this Regulation remains in force, no person shall plant rubber plants in any land, or replant any land with rubber plants, save in pursuance of a written permission granted by or on behalf of the Committee under this Regulation.

Control of cultivation of rubber.

4. (1) Permission under Section 3 to plant rubber plants shall be granted only in respect of an area intended for the cultivation of rubber plants for exclusively experimental purposes, and such area shall in every case be limited to the area necessary for such purposes.

Permission to plant rubber plants.

(2) The total area in Travancore in respect of which permission to plant rubber may be granted shall be such area, being as nearly as may be one quarter of one per cent. of the total area in Travancore which was planted with rubber plants on the 1st day of June 1934, as Our Government by Notification in Our Government Gazette, may specify in this behalf.

5. Permission under Section 3 to replant land with rubber plants shall be subject to the following limitation namely:—

Permission to re-plant land with rubber plants.

(a) no person shall be permitted to replant in any year more than ten per cent. of the area of his estate that was planted with rubber plants on the 1st day of June 1934, and

(b) no person shall be permitted to replant more than twenty per cent. of such area in all before the 31st day of December 1938.

6. (1) Application for permission to plant rubber plants or to replant land with rubber plants shall be made to the Committee and shall contain a clear statement of all special circumstances justifying the application.

Application for permission to plant or replant.

(2) Subject to the provisions of Sections 4 and 5 the Committee may grant or refuse the permission applied for, or may call for further information from the applicant.

(3) No order by the Committee under sub-section (2) shall be called in question in any court.

7. (1) Any applicant aggrieved by an order of the Committee under Section 6 may appeal to Our Government within sixty days from the date thereof, and Our Government may on such appeal cancel, modify or suspend any order of this Committee under that Section.

(2) The records of the Committee relating to proceedings under this Part shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times by any officer authorised in this behalf by Our Government.

8. (1) The Committee may serve by Achnal or Post a notice upon the owner of any rubber estate requiring him to furnish, within such period not being less than thirty days as may be specified in the notice, such returns relating to the cultivation of rubber plants on the estate as it may deem necessary to enable it to discharge its duties under this Regulation.

(2) Any member of the Committee and any officer of the Committee authorised by it in this behalf may, at any reasonable time, enter upon and inspect any portion of any rubber estate, and may require the owner of the estate to produce for inspection any records of the estate in his control or custody relating to the cultivation of rubber plants and the stocks of rubber on the estate.

(3) Where any return required under sub-section (1) in respect of any rubber estate is not furnished to the Committee within the period specified in the notice, the Committee may refuse to grant any permission under Section 6 to plant rubber plants on that estate, or to replant any part of that estate.

PART III.

MISCELLANEOUS.

9. The Committee may serve by Achnal or Post a notice upon the owner of any rubber estate or factory requiring him to furnish, within such period not being less than thirty days as may be specified in the notice, such returns relating to the area planted with rubber or to the production, manufacture, sale or export of rubber produced on the estate or manufactured in the factory as it may deem necessary to enable it to discharge its duties.

10. The owner of every rubber estate or factory and every person holding stocks of rubber shall submit to the Committee at such time and in such form as may be prescribed a return showing the stocks of rubber held by him together with such further information in regard thereto as may be prescribed.

11. Any member of the Committee or of a sub-committee and any officer of the Committee authorised by it in this behalf may, at any reasonable time, enter upon and inspect any factory, and may require any owner of a factory to produce for inspection any records of the factory in his control or custody relating to the manufacture in and export from the factory of rubber or to the stocks of rubber held in the factory.

12. Our Government may, by Notification in Our Government Gazette, make rules—
Power to make rules.

(a) prescribing the date on which and the form in which returns of stocks shall be submitted to the Committee;

(b) prescribing the further information, if any, to be included in such returns;

(c) generally to carry out the purposes of this Part.

PART IV.

PENALTIES AND PROCEDURE.

13. If default is made in submitting any return as required by Section 10 the owner of the estate or factory, as the case may be shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.
Penalty for default in submitting return.

14. Any owner of a rubber estate or factory or any person holding stocks of rubber, who has furnished any return under sub-section (1) of Section 8 or Section 9 or Section 10 containing any particular which is false and which he knew to be false or did not believe to be true, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.
Penalty for making false return.

15. Whoever obstructs any member of the Committee or of a sub-committee or any officer of the Committee while such member or officer is entering upon or inspecting any rubber estate under sub-section (2) of Section 8 and whoever, having control over or custody of any records of a rubber estate relating to the cultivation and stocks of rubber on that estate; refuses or fails to produce such records when required by a member of the Committee or of a sub-committee or an officer of the Committee under that sub-section, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.
Penalty for obstructing inspection of rubber estate.

16. ### REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE TRAVANCORE ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESER- VATION BILL.

To

The President,
Sri Mulam Assembly,
Trivandrum.

Sir,

We, the undersigned, members of the Select Committee to which the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Bill was referred, have considered the Bill and beg to submit this our Report together with a copy of the Bill as revised by us.

REPORT.

Clause 2.

1. Sub-clause (2), line 1: For the word "include," substitute the word "includes."

3 Do. line 1: Before the word "Government," insert the word "Our."

3. Do. line 2: Before the word "injury," insert the word "decay."

Clause 4.

4. Sub-Clause (4), line 2: Before the word "have," insert the words "continue to".

Clause 9.

5. Sub-Clause (2), line 2: For the word "him," substitute the word "it."

Clause 18.

6. Sub-clause (1), line 4: For the words "or by land," substitute the words "by land or by air".

7. Sub-clause (3), line 2: For the words "shall be liable to confiscation," substitute the words "may be confiscated or otherwise dealt with in any manner prescribed by Our Government."

8. Sub-clause (4), lines 1 and 2: Omit the words "of a grade not lower than Sub-Inspector."

Clause 19.

9 Sub-clause (3), line 2: For the words "the Commissioner," substitute the words "Our Dewan".

Clause 21.

10. Sub-clause (1), line 1: Omit the words "for archaeological purposes".

The Committee is of opinion that excavations, even if they may not be for archaeological purposes, must be restricted or regulated, if it be necessary in the interests of archaeological research.

Line 2: For the word "and" substitute the word "or."

Clause 22.

11. Sub-clause (1): Omit the words "or any person holding a license under Section 23."

The Committee, by a majority, recommend the above amendment. The reasons for the amendment are the following:

Hidden archaeological treasures are considered an asset of the State and, as such, it is not safe that private individuals should be given license to excavate the same and claim a portion of it subsequently. Moreover, the powers to make excavations for archaeological purposes are such as cannot be delegated to a licensee by the Government. Private rights and properties should be properly safeguarded.

Clause 23.

12. Sub-clause (1): Omit clause (a), (b) and (c) and the lettering "(d)" of clause (d) so that sub-clause (1) may read as "Our Government may make rules generally to carry out the purposes of Section 21".

13. Sub-clause (4), lines 1 and 2: Omit the words "or of any condition of the license."

14. Do. lines 3 and 4: Omit the whole of these lines.

These changes are consequential to the amendment recommended in Clause 21.

Clause 25.

15. Paragraph 1, line 6: Omit the portion "Sections 3, 8 to 31, 32, 33, 36 and 40, so far as they can be made applicable".

16. Some clerical mistakes noticed have been corrected in the revised copy.

17. The Bill does not require republication. The Bill has been published in the Gazette dated the 12th November, 1935.

DISSENTING NOTE BY MR. N. E. VARUGHESE.

Clause 5. Sub-clause (3) line 1 —After the words "Our Government" insert "or the owner."

It is equally desirous that the rights of the owner who may happen to spend money under any agreement with the Government should be safeguarded.

Clause 16. Sub-clause (1) line 1:—After the words "Subject to" insert the following words "the provision contained in sub-clause (2) of clause 14 and."

This amendment is to maintain the consistency of clauses 14 (2) (a) and 16 (1).

Clause 22. Retain the whole.

I do not agree for the omission of the words "or any person holding a license under Section 23."

Though hidden archaeological treasures are to be considered an asset of the State, every reasonable facilities should be granted to private agencies also to excavate the same, provided the interests of the State as the owner is properly and cautiously safeguarded. If the excavation right is confined to State Agency alone, the result may be either the treasures will be hidden for eternity or the venture end in loss to the State. Moreover, the State should encourage private enterprises. Only it should not allow private individuals to exploit the Government.

Similar provision is found in the Indian Act as also in the Cochin and Mysore Enactments.

Clause 23. To be retained without any alterations.

THE TRAVANCORE ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION BILL.

(As revised by the Select Committee.)

(The words in italics indicate the amendments suggested by the Select Committee.)

A Regulation to provide for the preservation of ancient monuments and of objects of archaeological, historical or artistic interest.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the preservation of ancient monuments, for the exercise of control over traffic in antiquities and over excavation in certain places, and for the protection and acquisition in certain cases of ancient monuments and of objects of archaeological, historical or artistic interest; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent. 1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Regulation.

(2) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

Definitions. 2. In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context.—

(1) "ancient monument" means any structure, erection or monument or any tumulus or place of interment, or any cave, rock-sculpture, inscription or monolith, which is of historical, archaeological or artistic interest, or any remains thereof and includes—

(a) the site of an ancient monument;

(b) such portion of land adjoining the site of an ancient monument as may be required for fencing or covering in or otherwise preserving such monument; and

(c) the means of access to and convenient inspection of an ancient monument;

(2) "antiquities" includes any movable objects which Our Government, by reason of their historical or archaeological associations, may think it necessary to protect against decay, injury, removal or dispersion;

(3) "Commissioner" includes any officer authorised by Our Government to perform the duties of a Commissioner under this Regulation.

(4) "maintain" and "maintenance" include the fencing, covering in, repairing, restoring and cleansing of a protected monument, and the doing of any act which may be necessary for the purpose of maintaining a protected monument or of securing convenient access thereto; and

(5) "owner" includes the karanavan of a marumakkathayam Tarwad, a joint owner invested with powers of management on behalf of himself and other joint owners, and any manager or trustee exercising powers of management, over an ancient monument, and the successor in title of and such owner and the successor in office of any such manager or trustee:

Provided that nothing in this Regulation shall be deemed to extend the powers which may lawfully be exercised by such karanavan, manager or trustee.

8. (1) Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazettee, declare an ancient monument to be a protected monument within the meaning of this Regulation.

(2) A copy of every notification published under sub-section (1) shall be fixed up in a conspicuous place on or near the monument, together with an intimation that any objections to the issue of the notification received by Our Government within one month from the date when it is so fixed up will be taken into consideration.

(3) On the expiry of the said period of one month, Our Government, after considering the objections, if any, shall confirm or withdraw the notification.

(4) A notification published under this section shall, unless and until it is withdrawn, be conclusive evidence of the fact that the monument to which it relates is an ancient monument within the meaning of this Regulation.

ANCIENT MONUMENTS.

Acquisition of rights in or guardianship of an ancient monument.

4. (1) The Division Peishkar, with the sanction of Our Government, may purchase or take a lease of any protected monument.

(2) The Division Peishkar, with the like sanction, may accept a gift or bequest of any protected monument.

(3) The owner of any protected monument may, by written instrument, constitute the Commissioner the guardian of the monument, and the Commissioner may, with the sanction of Our Government, accept such guardianship.

(4) When the Commissioner has accepted the guardianship of a monument under sub-section (3), the owner shall, except as expressly provided in this Regulation, continue to have the same right, title and interest in and to the monument as if the Commissioner had not been constituted guardian thereof.

(5) When the Commissioner has accepted the guardianship of a monument under sub-section (3), the provisions of this Regulation relating to agreements executed under Section 5 shall apply to the written instrument executed under the said sub-section.

(6) Where a protected monument is without an owner, the Commissioner may assume the guardianship of the monument.

Preservation of ancient monument by agreement with the owner.

5. (1) The Division Peishkar may, with the previous sanction of Our Government, propose to the owner to enter into an agreement with Our Government for the preservation of any protected monument in his district.

(2) An agreement under this section may provide for the following matters, or for such of them as it may be found expedient to include in the agreement:

- (a) the maintenance of the monument;
- (b) the custody of the monument, and the duties of any person who may be employed to watch it;
- (c) the restriction of the owner's right to destroy, remove, alter or deface the monument or to build on or near the site of the monument;
- (d) the facilities of access to be permitted to the public or to any portion of the public and to persons deputed by the owner or the Division Peishkar to inspect or maintain the monument;
- (e) the notice to be given to Our Government in case the land on which the monument is situated is offered for sale by the owner, and the right to be reserved to Our Government to purchase such land, or any specified portion of such land, at its market value;
- (f) the payment of any expenses incurred by the owner or by Our Government in connection with the preservation of the monument;
- (g) the proprietary or other rights which are to vest in Our Government in respect of the monument when any expenses are incurred by Our Government in connection with the preservation of the monument;
- (h) the appointment of an authority to decide any dispute arising out of the agreement; and
- (i) any matter connected with the preservation of the monument which is a proper subject of agreement between the owner and Our Government.

(3) An agreement under this section may be executed by the Division Peishkar on behalf of Our Government, but shall not be so executed until it has been approved by Our Government.

(4) The terms of an agreement under this section may be altered from time to time with the sanction of Our Government and with the consent of the owner.

(5) With the previous sanction of Our Government, the Division Peishkar may terminate an agreement under this section on giving six months' notice in writing to the owner.

(6) The owner may terminate an agreement under this section on giving six months notice to the Division Peishkar.

(7) An agreement under this section shall be binding on any person claiming to be owner of the monument to which it relates, through or under a party by whom or on whose behalf the agreement was executed.

(8) Any rights acquired by Our Government in respect of expenses incurred in protecting or preserving a monument shall not be affected by the termination of an agreement under this section.

6. (1) If the owner is unable, by reason of infancy or other disability, to act for himself, the person legally competent to act on his behalf may exercise the powers conferred upon an owner by section 5.

(2) In the case of village property, the person exercising powers of management over such property may exercise the powers conferred upon an owner by section 5.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to empower any person not being of the same religion as the persons in whose behalf he is acting to make or execute an agreement relating to a protected monument which or any part of which is periodically used for the religious worship or observances of that religion.

7. (1) If the Division Peishkar apprehends that the owner or occupier of a monument intends to destroy, remove, alter, deface, or imperil the monument or to build on or near the site thereof in contravention of the terms of an agreement for its preservation under section 5, the Division Peishkar may make an order prohibiting any such contravention of the agreement.

(2) If an owner or other person who is bound by an agreement for the preservation or maintenance of a monument under section 5 refuses to do any act which is in the opinion of the Division Peishkar necessary to such preservation or maintenance, or neglects to do any such act within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Division Peishkar, the Division Peishkar may authorise any person to do any such act and the expense of doing any such act or such portion of the expense as the owner may be liable to pay under the agreement may be recovered from the owner as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

(3) A person aggrieved by an order made under this section may appeal to Our Dewan who may cancel or modify it and whose decision shall be final.

8. Every person who purchases at a sale for arrears of land revenue or any other demand recovered as if it were an arrear of land revenue any land in which is situated a monument in respect of which any instrument has been executed by the owner for the time being, under section 4 or section 5, and every person claiming any title to a monument from, through or under an owner who executed any such instrument, shall be bound by such instrument.

9. (1) If any owner or other person competent to enter into an agreement under section 5 for the preservation of a protected monument, refuses or fails to enter into such an agreement when proposed to him by the Division Peishkar and if any endowment has been created for the purpose of keeping such monument in repair, or for that purpose along with others, the Division Peishkar may make an application to the District Court for the proper application of such endowment or part thereof.

(2) On the hearing of an application under sub-section (1), the District Court may summon and examine the owner and any person whose evidence appears to it necessary, and may pass an order for the proper application of the endowment or of any part thereof, and any such order may be executed as if it were the decree of such Court.

10. (1) If Our Government apprehends that a protected monument is in danger of being destroyed, injured or allowed to fall into decay, Our Government may proceed to acquire it under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Regulation, as if the preservation of a protected monument were a "public purpose" within the meaning of that Regulation.

(2) The powers of compulsory purchase conferred by sub-section (1) shall not be exercised in the case of—

(a) any monument which or any part of which is periodically used for religious observances; or

(b) any monument which is the subject of a subsisting agreement executed under section 5.

(3) In any case other than the cases referred to in sub-section (2) the said powers of compulsory purchase shall not be exercised unless the owner or other person competent to enter into an agreement under section 5 has failed, within such reasonable period as the Division Peishkar may fix in this behalf, to enter into an agreement proposed to him under the said section or has terminated or given notice of his intention to terminate such an agreement.

11. (1) If our Government are of opinion that mining, quarrying excavating, blasting and other operations of a like nature should be restricted or regulated for the purpose of protecting or preserving any ancient monument, our Government may, by notification in our Government Gazette make rules—

(a) fixing the boundaries of the area to which the rules are to apply,

(b) forbidding the carrying on of mining, quarrying, excavating, blasting or any operation of a like nature except in accordance with the rules and with the terms of a license, and

(c) prescribing the authority by which, and the terms on which, licenses may be granted to carry on any of the said operations.

(2) The power to make rules given by this section is subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

(3) A rule made under this section may provide that any person committing a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

(4) If any owner or occupier of land included in a notification under sub-section (1) proves to the satisfaction of our Government that he has sustained loss by reason of such land being so included, Our Government shall pay compensation in respect of such loss.

Maintenance of
monuments.

tion 10.

(2) When the Commissioner has accepted the guardianship of a monument under section 4, he shall, for the purpose of maintaining such monument, have access to the monument at all reasonable times, by himself and by his agents, subordinates and workmen, for the purpose of inspecting the monument, and for the purpose of bringing such materials and doing such acts as he may consider necessary or desirable for the maintenance thereof.

13. The Commissioner may receive voluntary contributions towards the cost of maintaining a protected monument and may give orders as to the management and application of any funds so received by him :

Provided that no contribution received under this section shall be applied to any purpose other than the purpose for which it was contributed.

Protection of place of worship from misuse, pollution or de-secration.

14. (1) A place of worship or shrine maintained by Our Government under this Regulation shall not be used for any purpose inconsistent with its character.

(2) Where the Division Peishkar has, under section 4, purchased or taken a lease of any protected monument, or has accepted a gift or bequest, or the Commissioner has under the same section, accepted the guardianship thereof, and such monument or any part thereof, is periodically used for religious worship or observances by any community, the Division Peishkar shall make due provision for the protection of such monument, or such part thereof, from pollution or desecration—

(a) by prohibiting the entry therein, except in accordance with conditions prescribed with concurrence of the persons in religious charge of the said monument or part thereof, of any person not entitled so to enter by the religious usages of the community by which the monument or part thereof is used ; or

(b) by taking such other action as he may think necessary in this behalf.

Relinquishment of Government rights in a monument.

15. With the sanction of our Government, the Commissioner may—

(a) where rights have been acquired by our Government in respect of any monument under this Regulation by virtue of any sale lease, gift or will, relinquish the rights so acquired to the person who would for the time being be the owner of the monument if such rights had not been acquired ; or

(b) relinquish any guardianship of a monument which he has accepted under this Regulation.

16. (1) Subject to such rules as may after previous publication be made by our Government, the public shall have a right of access to any monument maintained by our Government under this Regulation.

(2) In making any rule under sub section (1) our Government may provide that a breach of it shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees.

17. Any person other than the owner who destroys, removes, injures, alters, defaces or imperils a protected monument and any owner who destroys, removes, injures, alters, defaces or imperils a monument maintained by Our Government under this Regulation or in respect of which an agreement has been executed under section 5, and any owner or occupier who contravenes an order made under section 7, sub section (1), shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees, or with imprisonment which may extend to three months, or with both.

TRAFFIC IN ANTIQUITIES.

18. (1) If our Government apprehend that antiquities are being sold or removed to the detriment of Travancore or of any neighbouring country, they may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, prohibit or restrict the bringing or taking by sea, by land or by air of any antiquities or class of antiquities described in the notification into or out of Travancore or any specified part of Travancore.

(2) Any person who brings or takes or attempts to bring or take any such antiquities into or out of Travancore or any part of Travancore in contravention of a notification issued under sub-section (1) shall, be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(3) Antiquities in respect of which an offence referred to in sub-section (2) has been committed may be confiscated or otherwise dealt with in any manner prescribed by Our Government.

(4) Any officer of Customs, or any officer of Police, duly empowered by our Government in this behalf, may search any vessel, cart or other means of conveyance, and may open any baggage or package of goods, if he has reason to believe that goods in respect of which an offence has been committed under sub-section (2) are contained therein.

(5) A person who complains that the power of search mentioned in sub-section (4) has been vexatiously or improperly exercised may address his complaint to Our Government and Our Government shall pass such order and may award such compensation, if any, as appears to them to be just.

PROTECTION OF SCULPTURES, CARVINGS, IMAGES, BAS-RELIEFS, INSCRIPTIONS OR LIKE OBJECTS.

19. (1) If Our Government consider that any sculptures, carvings, images, bas-reliefs, inscriptions or other like objects ought not to be moved from the place where they are without the sanction of Our Government, Our Government may by notification in Our Government Gazette, direct that any such object or any class of such objects shall not be moved unless with the written permission of the Division Peishkar.

(2) A person applying for the permission mentioned in sub-section (1) shall specify the object or objects which he proposes to move and shall furnish, in regard to such object or objects, any information which the Division Peishkar may require.

(3) If the Division Peishkar refuses to grant such permission, the applicant may appeal to Our Dewan whose decision shall be final.

(4) Any person who moves any object in contravention of a notification issued under sub-section (1), shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(5) If the owner of any property proves to the satisfaction of Our Government that he has suffered any loss or damage by reason of such property in a notification published under sub-section (1), Our Government shall either—

(a) exempt such property from the said notification ;

(b) purchase such property, if it be movable, at its market value ; or

(c) pay compensation for any loss or damage sustained by the owner of such property if it be immovable.

20. (1) If Our Government apprehend that any object mentioned in a notification issued under Section 19, sub-section (1) is in danger of being destroyed, removed, injured or allowed to fall into decay, Our Government may pass orders for the compulsory purchase of such object at its market value, and the Division Peishkar shall thereupon give notice to the owner of the object to be purchased.

(2) The powers of compulsory purchase given by this section shall not extend to—

(a) any image or symbol actually used for the purpose of any religious observance ; or

(b) anything which the owner desires to retain on any reasonable ground personal to himself or to any of his ancestors or to any member of his family.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL EXCAVATION.

21. (1) If Our Government are of opinion that excavation in any area should be restricted or regulated in the interests of archaeological research, Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette specifying the boundaries of the area, declare it to be a protected area.

Power to Government to control moving of scriptures carvings or like objects

Purchase of sculptures, carvings or like objects by Government.

Power of Government to notify areas
as protected.

(2) From the date of such notification all antiquities buried in the protected area shall be the property of Our Government and shall be deemed to be in the possession of Our Government and shall remain the property and in the possession of Our Government until ownership thereof is transferred; but in all other respects the rights of any owner or occupier of land in such area shall not be affected.

22. (1) Any officer of the Archaeological Department may, with the written permission of the Division Peishkar, enter upon and make excavations in any protected area.

Power to enter upon and make excavations to a protected area.

(2) Where, in the exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1), the rights of any person are infringed by the occupation or disturbance of the surface of any land, Our Government shall pay to that person compensation for the infringement.

23. (1) Our Government may make rules generally to carry out the purposes of Section 21.

Power of Government to make rules regulating archaeological excavation in protected areas.

(2) The power to make rules given by this section is subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

(3) Such rules may be general for all protected areas for the time being, or may be, special for any particular protected area or areas.

(4) Such rules may provide that any person committing a breach of any rule shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees.

24. If Our Government are of opinion that a protected area contains an ancient monument or antiquities of national interest and value, Our Government may acquire such area or part under the Land Acquisition Regulation, as for a public purpose.

Power to acquire a protected area.

GENERAL.

25. The market-value of any property which Our Government are empowered to purchase at such value under this Regulation, or the compensation to be paid by Our Government in respect of any thing done under this Regulation shall, where any dispute arises in respect of such market-value or compensation; be ascertained in the manner provided by the Land Acquisition Regulation: Provided that when making an inquiry under the said Land Acquisition Regulation, the Division Peishkar shall be assisted by two assessors, one of whom shall be a competent person nominated by the Division Peishkar and one a person nominated by the owner or in case the owner fail to nominate an assessor within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Division Peishkar in this behalf, by the Division Peishkar.

Assessment of market value or compensation.

26. A Magistrate of the third class shall not have jurisdiction to try any person charged with an offence against this Regulation.

27. (1) Our Government may make rules for carrying out any of the purposes of this Regulation.

rules.

(2) The power to make rules given by this section is subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

28. No suit for compensation and no criminal proceedings shall be against any public servant in respect of any act done, or in good faith intended to be done, in the exercise of any power conferred by this Regulation.

Protection to public servants acting under Regulation.

Annexure IV.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE TRAVANCORE CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES BILL.

To

The President,
Sri Mulam Assembly,
Trivandrum.

Sir,

We, the undersigned members of the Select Committee appointed to consider and report on the Travancore Co-operative Societies Bill, have considered the Bill and beg now to submit this our

REPORT.

We have considered the Bill clause by clause and we note below the amendments that we recommend.

CLAUSE 1.

1. Sub-clause (2) line 1: After the word "on", add the words "such date as Our Government may appoint in that behalf by notification in Our Government Gazette".

CLAUSE 2.

2. Sub-clause (b): Substitute the following:—

"Committee" means the governing body of a registered Society to whom the management of its affairs is entrusted".

3. Sub-clause (c) line 3: For the words "or any", substitute the word "and".

4. Sub-clause (d) line 2: After the words "Assistant Secretary", insert the word "Treasurer".

5. Sub-clause (e) line 1: After the words "Registered Society", insert "or Society".

6. Sub-clause (f) line 1: For the word "includes", substitute the word "means".

7. After sub-clause (g), add the following:—

"(h) prescribed" means prescribed by Rules made by Our Government under this Regulation".

CLAUSE 3.

8. Line 2: Omit the words "or any portion of it". The Committee is of opinion that there should not be more than one Registrar at a time. The reasons for this view are—

- (i) the prestige of the department;
- (ii) the proper co-ordination of work of the department; and
- (iii) the fact that there is not more than one Registrar in any of the Provinces of British India, or in Hyderabad or Mysore.

CLAUSE 4.

9. Second Proviso, line 2: Omit the word "once" and "by the Registrar" and change the word "his" into "the".

We recommend this amendment in order to make it clear that the decision whether by the Registrar or by the Government, made at the time of registration, should be final. The possibility of a decision by Government arises in view of a possible appeal to Government.

CLAUSE 5.

10. Sub-clause (1) Line 1: For the words "provisions in", substitute the words "first proviso to".

11. Sub-clause (1) Proviso line 1: After the word "writing", insert the words "in the prescribed manner".

12. Sub-clause (2): Add at the end, the words "in the prescribed manner".

CLAUSE 7.

13. Sub-clause 1: Omit the lettering "(a)" of clause (a), and the word "or" occurring at the end of clause (a) and omit clause (b) so that the sub-clause (1) may read as—

"No society, other than a society... unless such persons reside in the same town or village or in the same group of villages." and to the sub-clause (1) amended as above add the following Explanation:—

"Explanation.— Nothing in this sub-section shall be deemed to prohibit the registration, in exceptional cases, of societies restricted to members of the same tribe, class, caste or occupation."

The Committee is of opinion that the restriction that the members of a society should be of the same village or group of villages should apply also to communal or occupational societies.

The Committee is also of opinion that even if there be the restriction that the members should be of the same village or group of villages, communal or occupational societies may be registered.

The Explanation is proposed in order to make clear that the object of the Committee in deleting clause (b) of sub-clause (1) is not to prohibit the formation of communal societies, but only to discourage it.

CLAUSE 8.

14. Line 4: Omit the word "more".

CLAUSE 12.

15. Sub-clause (2): Add the following sentence at the end:—

"In the case of refusal an appeal shall lie to Our Government within two months from the date of the issue of the order of refusal."

16. Below clause 12 and above clause 13, insert the heading "General Meetings".

CLAUSE 13.

17. Substitute the following for clause 13.

"Every registered society shall call an annual general meeting of its members within the time prescribed therefor".

CLAUSE 14.

18. Sub-clause (1): Insert the words "not less than", before the word "one-fifth".

19. Below clause 14 and above clause 15, insert the following heading :
 "Changes subsequent to Registration".

CLAUSE 16.

20. Sub-clause (1) (a) line 6 : Omit the word "may" which occurs as the last word in that line.

CLAUSE 20.

21. Line 1 : Insert the word "registered", after the word "every"
 22. Line 2 : Substitute the word "give", for "send" occurring in the line.

CLAUSE 21.

23. Substitute the following for clause 21 : --
 "Every registered society shall keep open to inspection, free of charge, at all reasonable times at the registered address of the society -
 (a) a copy of this Regulation,
 (b) a copy of the Rules governing such society,
 (c) a copy of the bye-laws of such society, and
 (d) the register of its members.

The above change is proposed on the lines of Section 21 of the Bombay Act.

CLAUSE 22.

24. Sub-clause (3), Second para, line 1 : For the word "Manager" substitute the word "Secretary".
 25. Sub-clause (4) (ii), line 1 : After the words "affairs of", insert the words "the society or".

CLAUSE 23.

26. Line 5 : For the words "of its constitution", substitute the words "for which it was constituted".

CLAUSE 24.

27. Line 1 : For the words "any prior claim of", substitute the words "the prior claim, if any, of Our".
 28. Lines 2 and 3 : Omit the words "or any money recoverable as rent".

CLAUSE 27.

29. Sub-clause (1) line 4 : Substitute a comma for the full stop before the word "If" and change the capital 'I' of the said "If" into a small 'i'.
 30. Line 7 : Substitute the word "admitted", for the word "elected".

CLAUSE 30.

31. Sub-clause (1) : Omit the numbering "(1)" of sub-clause (1) and omit sub-clause (2).

CLAUSE 31

32. Line 1 : Omit the words "a decree or order of a civil court".
 We are of opinion that such decrees or orders must be left to be executed by the Civil Courts.

33. Line 3 and subsequent lines : For the words "the Registrar or any person subordinate to him empowered by the Registrar in this behalf may, subject to such rules as may be prescribed by Our Government recover the amount due under such decree, award or order together with interest, if any, due thereon, and costs of the process by the attachment and sale of the property of the person against whom such decree, decision, award or order is obtained" substitute the following :—

"any such money may be recovered as arrears of public revenue under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, I of 1068, subject to such rules, if any, as may be prescribed, and Our Government may for such purposes confer on the Registrar or any officer subordinate to him the powers of a Division Peishkar or other officer under the said Regulation;" and add the following :—

"Provided that the powers of a Division Peishkar shall not be conferred on any officer who is inferior in rank to that of an Assistant Registrar.

Explanation.—Any right of appeal or application for revision or Civil suit available in respect of the orders or actions under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, I of 1068, shall be available to the parties."

CLAUSE 34.

34. Add the following as an explanation :—

"Explanation.—Nothing in this Section shall be construed as entitling Our Government to become a member of any society without the society admitting Government as a member".

CLAUSE 35.

35. Sub-clause (2): For sub-clause (2), substitute the following :—

"In the case of a society with unlimited liability, at least one-fourth of the net profits of the society each year shall be carried to the Reserve Fund and in the case of any other society at least one-tenth of the net profits of the society each year shall be carried to the Reserve Fund; and such Reserve Fund shall not be used in the ordinary business of the society, but may subject to the provisions of Section 37, be invested as Our Government may by general or special order direct or may, with the previous sanction of Our Government, be used in part for some public purpose likely to promote the objects of this Regulation or for some purposes of local interest or may be drawn upon to the extent of not more than twenty five per cent. thereof for purposes sanctioned by the Registrar."

We are of opinion that the Reserve Fund should not be used in the ordinary business of the society and should not be used for purposes sanctioned by the Registrar except to the extent of 25 per cent. of the Reserve Fund.

CLAUSE 42.

36. Line 2: After the word "contribute" insert the word "subject to the approval of the Registrar".

We are of opinion that without the Registrar's approval no amount should be contributed for any religious or charitable purposes.

CLAUSE 43.

37. Sub-clause (1), line 1 and 2: Omit the word "on the request of the Division Peishkar or".

We are of opinion that it is not expedient to give the Peishkar such a power to move the Registrar.

CLAUSE 44.

38. Sub-clause (1) lines 1 and 2: Delete the words "or of his own motion"

39. Line 4 and 5: Omit the words "and the Registrar or the person so authorised shall have all the powers of the Registrar when holding an inquiry under Section 43".

The Committee is of opinion that even without such a special provision the Registrar has got all powers.

Some members of the Committee are of opinion that the Registrar need not be given all the powers under Section 43.

CLAUSE 45.

40. Line 1: After the word "Inspection" insert the word "and".

41. Line 5: Add the following at the end:—

"In accordance with such rules as may be made by Our Government".

CLAUSE 47.

42. For clause 47, substitute the following:—

"47 (1). If, in the opinion of the Registrar, the Committee of any registered Society is not functioning properly, he may, after giving an opportunity to the Committee to state its objections, and after recording a finding that the objections are unsatisfactory, (if such be his finding) call upon the members of the Society to appoint a new Committee within such time, not being less than one month, as may be fixed by him. If a new Committee is not appointed accordingly or if the Committee appointed is, after trial for six months, found wanting in the opinion of the Registrar, and if the Registrar is of opinion that, in the circumstances of the case, it is undesirable to order the cancellation of the registration of the Society, he may, by order in writing, dissolve the Committee and appoint a suitable Committee consisting of as many members of that Society as he may deem necessary to manage the affairs of the Society for a specific period not exceeding one year. The period specified in such order may at the discretion of the Registrar, be extended from time to time, provided that such order shall not remain in force for more than two years in the aggregate.

(2) The Committee so appointed by the Registrar shall have all such powers, rights and responsibilities as a Committee of the Society has according to the Bye laws of the Society.

(3) The Committee appointed by the Registrar shall, at the expiry of the period of its appointment, arrange for the constitution of a new Committee in accordance with the Bye-laws of the Society.

(4) Before taking action under sub-section (1) in respect of any Society, the Registrar shall, in the prescribed manner, consult such body of persons, if any, as may be prescribed by Our Government, in that behalf, regarding the action and regarding such other matters as may be prescribed.

(5) Nothing in this Section shall be deemed to affect the powers of the Registrar to cancel the registration of any society under any other Section".

The Committee agreed to the principle of the supersession of Committee of a society; but they were of opinion that an outside body should not be allowed to assume management of the affairs of the society. The above substituted clause is therefore proposed.

CLAUSE 43.

43. Sub-clause (5): Omit this sub-clause.

It is considered that while the Society still retains its corporate status, no bar should be placed against its transacting business.

CLAUSE 51.

44. Sub-clause (3) (b): Omit the words "or to the Registrar".

45. Omit sub-clauses (5) and (6) and renumber the remaining sub-clauses.

46. Sub-clause (8), line 1: Before word "appeal", insert the words "in the prescribed manner".

CLAUSE 52.

47. For Clause 52, substitute the following:—

"Save in so far as is expressly provided in this Regulation,

(a) no civil court shall take cognizance of any matter connected with the winding up, dissolution or cancellation of the registration of a society under this Regulation; and

(b) no suit or other legal proceedings shall lie or be proceeded with in respect of any order of the liquidator or of the Registrar passed in appeal therefrom except by leave of the Registrar or, in case such leave is refused by the Registrar, by leave of the District Court having local jurisdiction and subject to such terms, if any, as the Registrar or the District Court, as the case may be, may impose."

CLAUSE 55.

48. Line 1: For the words "or otherwise", substitute the words "or when acting under Section 55".

49. Lines 6 & 7: Before the word "remove", insert the words "conceal or", and omit the words "from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Registrar".

50. Lines 8 to 10. For the words "the Registrar may, unless adequate security is furnished, direct the conditional attachment of the said property or such part thereof as he thinks necessary and such attachment shall have the same effect as if it had been made by a competent civil court", substitute the following:—

"the Registrar may, unless adequate security is furnished, direct the conditional attachment of the said property or such part thereof as he thinks necessary. Such attachment shall be treated as an attachment or distraint, as the case may be, effected by the Tahsildar of the place where the property attached is situated under the provisions of the Revenue Recovery Regulation, 1 of 1968, and all the remedies available to aggrieved persons under the provisions of the said Regulation in respect of any attachment of distraint effected by the Tahsildar shall also be available."

CLAUSE 56.

51. Sub-clause (1), line 1: After the word "Society", insert "(other than a dispute regarding disciplinary action taken by the Society or its Committee against a paid servant of the Society)".

52. Line 6: After the word "servant", insert the words "past or present".

53. Line 7: After the word "servant", insert the words "past or present".

54. Explanation.—For this Explanation, substitute the following Explanation:—

Explanation.—A claim by a registered society for any debt or demand due to it from a member, past member or the nominee, heir or legal representative of a deceased member, whether such debt or demand be admitted or not, is a dispute touching the business of the Society within the meaning of this sub-section."

55. Sub-clause (2): After clause (c), insert the following proviso:—

"Provided that if any party to the dispute applies for action being taken under clause (c), the Registrar shall act accordingly."

56. Sub-clause (4): Omit.

57. Sub-clause (5): Re-number this as sub-clause (4) and add to the sub-clause so re-numbered, the following proviso, namely:—

"Provided that where the decision sought to be revised is a decision made by arbitrator or arbitrators appointed in pursuance of the provisions of the proviso to sub-section (2) the Registrar shall not modify the decision but may, if he thinks it necessary or desirable, refer the dispute again as under clause (c) of sub-section (2)".

CLAUSE 57.

58. For this clause, substitute the following namely:—

"57 (1) Any decision passed by the Registrar under clause (a) of sub-section (2) of Section 56 or under sub-section (4) of the same section shall be final and shall not be called in question in any civil court.

(2) Any decision that may be passed by the person to whom a reference is transferred or by the arbitrator or arbitrators to whom it is referred under sub-section (2) of Section 56 shall, save as otherwise provided in sub-section (4) of the same section, be final and shall not be called in question in any civil court."

CLAUSE 58.

59. Line 3 & 4: Omit the words "or shall make inspection under Section 44".

60. Line 4: For the word "such" occurring before the word "Registrar" insert the word "the".

61. Line 5: After the word "shall", insert the words "subject to such rules as may be passed by Our Government for the payment of costs to the witnesses".

62. Line 6: After the word "attendance", insert the words "at the headquarters of the society concerned".

CLAUSE 59.

63. For the word "a" occurring before the word "liquidator", substitute the word "the".

64. Line 4: After the word "court", insert the words "having local jurisdiction".

65. Sub-Clause (2).—Omit this sub-clause.

Such a provision seems impracticable and would in any event lead to complications.

CLAUSE 60.

66. Line 2 : After the word "thereof", insert the words "in contravention of the provisions of this Regulation".

67. Line 3 : After the word "information", insert the words "or wilfully neglects or omits to call a general meeting or special general meeting of the society".

CLAUSE 61.

68. For clause 61, substitute the following :—

"61. Any member or past member or the nominee, heir or legal representative of a deceased member who fraudulently disposes of any property in respect of which the society is entitled to claim priority under Section 24, or fraudulently does any other act to the prejudice of such claim shall be punishable with fine not exceeding two hundred rupees."

CLAUSE 6E.

69. Line 3 : After the word "themselves", insert the words "or himself".

70. Line 8 : Add the following sentence at the end :—"The revising authority may also pass any interim order on such conditions or otherwise as it deems fit".

CLAUSE 66.

71. Sub-clause (2) Omit this sub-clause, including the proviso. The Committee consider that the liability of the members to third parties should not arise while the Society is still intact and before its liquidation. Hence we recommend the omission of this sub-clause.

CLAUSE 73.

72. Omit this and re-number the rest.

This clause is considered by us to be unnecessary, in any event at the present stage.

CLAUSE 74.

73. Omit this clause.

It was pointed out that this provision was put in so that the Registrar may be given an opportunity to set matters right. But the majority consider that when a right of suit is conceded it is not fair that the intending suitor should be fettered by such restrictions. The majority also relied upon the fact that the latest Madras Act has omitted a similar provision contained in the Bombay Act.

NEW CLAUSE 73.

74. After clause 72, insert the following clause as clause 73 :—

"73. Where under this Regulation or any rule made thereunder any sum due to a registered society from any person is recoverable as arrears of land revenue and the immovable property of such person is brought to sale under the provisions of the Revenue Recovery Regulation (Regulation I of 1968) and the society is the purchaser at such sale, the provisions of section 32 of the said Regulation shall apply thereto as if for the fourth and fifth clauses thereof the following clauses were substituted, namely :—

Fourth—The sum due to the purchaser may be set off in whole or in part for which he purchased the money and the remainder, if any, of the purchase money shall be paid to the officer conducting the sale within thirty days of the date of the sale.

Fifth :—Where the purchaser refuses or omits to complete the payment of the remainder, if any, of the purchase money the property shall be resold at the expense and hazard of such purchaser and the amount of all loss or expense which may attend such refusal or omission shall be recoverable from such purchaser in the same manner as arrears of land revenue. Where the property, on the second sale sells for a higher price than at the first sale, the difference or increase shall be the property of him on whose account the first sale was made."

CLAUSE 75.

75. This should be re-numbered as clause 74.

CLAUSE 74 (Re-numbered).

76. Sub-clause (2) (h), line 3: Omit the word "other."

77. Sub-clause (2) (w), line 1: Omit the words "subject to the provisions of this Regulation".

78. Line 3: Omit the word "all".

79. Some clerical mistakes noticed have been corrected in the copy.

80. A copy of the Bill as revised is submitted herewith.

81. The Bill as revised must be republished.

(f) "Registrar" means a person appointed to perform the duties of a Registrar of Co-operative Societies under this Regulation;

(g) "Rules" means rules made under this Regulation and

(h) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made by Our Government under this Regulation.

REGISTRATION.

3. Our Government may appoint a person to be Registrar of Co-operative Societies for the whole of Travancore and may appoint persons to assist such Registrar and may by general or special order confer on any such persons all or any of the powers of a Registrar under this Regulation.

4. Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, a society which has as its object the promotion of the economic interests of its members in accordance with co-operative principles, or a society established with the object of facilitating the operations of such a society, may be registered under this Regulation with or without limited liability.

Provided that unless our Government by General or special order otherwise directs—

(i) The liability of a society of which a member is a registered society shall be limited; and

(ii) the liability of a society of which the primary object is the creation of funds to be lent to its members, and of which the majority of the members are agriculturists and of which no member is a registered society shall be unlimited and the members of such a society shall, on its liquidation be jointly and severally liable for and in respect of all its obligations;

Provided further that when the question whether the liability of a society is limited or unlimited has been decided at the time of registration, the decision shall be final.

5. (1) Subject to the first proviso to Section 4 and to any rules made in this behalf, a Registered society may, with the previous sanction of the Registrar, change its liability from limited to unlimited or from unlimited to limited;

Change of liability.

Provided that—

(i) the society shall give notice in writing in the prescribed manner of its intention to change its liability to all its members and creditors;

(ii) any member or creditor shall, notwithstanding any bye-law or contract to the contrary, have the option of withdrawing his shares, deposits or loans, as the case may be within three months of the service of such notice on him and the change shall not effect until all such claims have been satisfied; and

(iii) any member or creditor, who does not exercise his option within the period aforesaid, shall be deemed to have assented to the change.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in the proviso to sub-section (1), the change shall take effect at once if all the members and creditors assent thereto, in the prescribed manner.

6. Where the liability of the members of a society is limited by shares, no member other than a registered society shall—

Restrictions on interest of member of society with limited liability and a share capital.

(a) hold more than such portion of the share capital of the society, subject to a maximum of one-fifth as may be prescribed by the rules; or

(b) have or claim any interest in the shares of the society, exceeding thousand rupees.

7. (1) No society other than a society of which a member is a registered society, shall be registered under this Regulation which does not consist of at least ten persons who have attained the age of majority and, where the object of the society is the creation of funds to be lent to its members, unless such persons reside in same town or village or in the same group of villages.

Conditions of Registration.

Explanation—Nothing in this sub-section shall be deemed to prohibit the registration, in exceptional cases, of societies restricted to members of the same tribe, class, caste or occupation.

(2) the word 'limited' shall be the last word in the name of every society with limited liability registered under this Regulation.

8. When any question arises whether for the purpose of the formation or registration or continuance of a society under this Regulation a person is an agriculturist or a non-agriculturist or whether any person is a resident in a town or village or group of village or whether two or more villages shall be considered to form a group or whether any person belongs to any particular tribe class, caste or occupation, the question shall be decided by the Registrar whose decision shall be final.

9. (1) For purposes of registration, an application to register shall be made to the Registrar.

Application for registration      2 The application shall be signed—

(a) in the case of a society of which no member is a registered society, by at least ten persons qualified in accordance with the requirements of Section 7, sub-section 1: and

(b) in the case of society of which a member is a registered society, by a duly authorised person on behalf of every such registered society and where all the members of the society are not registered societies, by ten other members, or when there are less than ten other members, by all of them.

(3) The application shall be accompanied by a copy of the proposed bye-laws of the society and the persons by whom or on whose behalf such application is made shall furnish such information in regard to the society as the Registrar may require.

10. If the Registrar is satisfied that a society has complied with the provisions of this Regulation and the rules and that its proposed bye-laws are not contrary to this Regulation or to the rules, he, may if he thinks fit register the society and its bye-laws. In case of refusal an appeal shall lie to Our Government within two months from the date of the issue of the order or refusal.

11. A certificate of registration signed by the Registrar shall be conclusive evidence that the society therein mentioned is duly registered, unless it is proved that the registration of the society has been cancelled.

12. (1) No amendment of the bye-laws of a registered society whether by way of cancellation, addition or alteration shall be valid until approved by the resolution of a general meeting and registered under this Regulation, for which purpose, a copy of the amendment shall be forwarded to the Registrar.

(2) If the Registrar is satisfied that any amendment of the bye-law is not contrary to this Regulation or the rules he may, if he thinks fit register the amendment. In the case of refusal an appeal shall lie to our Government within two months from the date of the issue of the order of refusal.

(3) When the Registrar registers an amendment of the bye-laws of a society, he shall issue to the society a copy of the amendment certified by him, which shall be conclusive evidence that the same is duly registered.

GENERAL MEETINGS.

13. Every Registered society shall call an annual general meeting of its members within the time prescribed therefor.

14. A special general meeting may be called at any time by a majority of the Committee and shall be called within one month—
 (1) on the requisition in writing of not less than one-fifth of the members of the society, or
 (2) at the instance of the Registrar.

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO REGISTRATION

15. A society may, by a resolution of a general meeting of its members and with the approval of the Registrar, change its name; but such change shall not affect any right or obligation of the society, or of any of its members, or past members and any legal proceedings pending may be continued by or against the society under its new name.

16. (1) (a) Any registered society may, at a general meeting of its members specially called for the purpose of which at least seven clear days' notice shall be given to its members, resolve to divide itself into two or more societies. The resolution (hereinafter in this sub-section referred to as the preliminary resolution) shall contain proposals for the division of the assets and liabilities of the society among the new societies into which it is proposed to divide it and prescribe the area of operations of, and specify the members who will constitute, each of the new societies.

(b) (i) A copy of the preliminary resolution shall be sent to all the members and creditors of the society.

(ii) Any member of the society may, notwithstanding any bye-law to the contrary, by notice given to the society within a period of three months from his receipt of the preliminary resolution, intimate his intention not to become a member of any of the new societies.

(iii) Any creditor of the society may, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, by notice given to the society within the said period, intimate his intention to demand a return of the amount due to him.

(c) After the expiry of three months from the receipt of the preliminary resolution by all the members and creditors of the society, a general meeting of the members of the society of which at least fifteen clear days' notice shall be given to the members, shall be convened for considering the preliminary resolution. If at such meeting the preliminary resolution is confirmed by a resolution passed by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members present, either without changes or with such changes as, in the opinion of the Registrar, are not material, he may, subject to the provisions of clause (e) and Section 10 register the new societies and the bye-laws thereof. On such registration, the registration of the old society shall be deemed to have been cancelled.

The opinion of the Registrar as to whether the changes made in the preliminary resolution are or are not material shall be final and no appeal shall lie therefrom.

(d) At the meeting referred to in clause (c) provision shall be made by another resolution for—

(i) the repayment of the share capital of all the members who have given notice under sub-clause (ii) of clause (b) and

(ii) the satisfaction of the claims of all the creditors who have given notice under sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) :

Provided that no member or creditor shall be entitled to such repayment or satisfaction until the preliminary resolution is confirmed as provided in clause (c).

(c) If, within such time as the Registrar considers reasonable, the share capital of the members referred to in clause (d) is not repaid or the claims of the creditors referred to in that clause, are not satisfied, the Registrar may refuse to register the new societies.

(f) The registration of the new societies shall be a sufficient conveyance to vest the assets and liabilities of the original society in the new societies in the manner specified in the preliminary resolution as confirmed under clause (c).

(2) (a) Two or more registered societies may, at general meetings of their respective members specially called for the purpose of which at least seven clear days' notice shall be given to their respective members, resolve to amalgamate into one society. This resolution is hereinafter in this subsection referred to as the preliminary resolution.

(b) (i) A copy of the preliminary resolution of each society shall be sent to all the members and creditors thereof.

(ii) Any member of any such society may, notwithstanding any bye-law to the contrary, by notice given to the society of which he is a member within a period of three months from his receipt of the preliminary resolution, intimate his intention not to become a member of the new society.

(iii) Any creditor of any such society may, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary by notice given to the society of which he is a creditor within the said period, intimate his intention to demand a return of the amount due to him.

(c) After the expiry of three months from the receipt of the preliminary resolution by all the members and creditors of all the societies a joint meeting of the members of such societies of which at least fifteen clear days' notice shall be given to them, shall be convened for considering the preliminary resolution. If, at such meeting the preliminary resolution is confirmed by a resolution passed by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members present either without change or with such changes as in the opinion of the Registrar, are not material, he may, subject to the provisions of clause (e) and Section 10, register the new society and the bye-laws thereof. On such registration, the registration of the old societies shall be deemed to have been cancelled.

The opinion of the Registrar as to whether the changes made in the preliminary resolution are or are not material shall be final and no appeal shall lie therefrom.

(d) At the joint meeting referred to in clause (c), provision shall be made by another resolution for—

(i) the repayment of the share capital of all the members who have given notice under sub-clause (ii) of clause (b) and

(ii) the satisfaction of the claims of all the creditors who have given notice under sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) :

Provided that no member or creditor shall be entitled to such repayment or satisfaction until the preliminary resolution is confirmed as provided in clause (c).

(e) If, within such time as the Registrar considers reasonable, the share capital of the members referred to in clause (d) is not repaid or the claims of the creditors referred to in that clause are not satisfied, the Registrar may refuse to register the new society.

(f) The registration of the new society shall be a sufficient conveyance to vest in it all the assets and liabilities of the original societies.

RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF MEMBERS.

17. (1) No member of a registered society shall, save as otherwise provided in sub-section (2), exercise the rights of a member unless or until he has made such payment to the society in respect of membership or acquired such interest in the society as may be prescribed by the rules and bye-laws of such society.

Member not to exercise rights till due payments made.

(2) In the case of a society registered after the commencement of this Regulation, the persons who have signed the application to register the society may elect a Committee to conduct the affairs of the society for a period of three months from the date of registration or for such further period as the Registrar may consider desirable :

Provided that the Committee shall cease to function as soon as the members of the society have elected a Committee in accordance with its bye-laws.

18. (1) No member of any registered society shall have more than one vote in the affairs of the society provided that in the case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a casting vote.

Vote of member.

(2) A registered society which has invested any part of its funds in the shares of another registered society may appoint any of its members not disqualified for such appointment under any rules prescribed in that behalf to vote in the affairs of such other registered society.

19. (1) The transfer or charge of the share or interest of a member in the capital of a registered society shall be subject to such conditions as to maximum holding as may be prescribed by this Regulation or by the rules.

Restrictions on transfer of share or interest.

(2) A member shall not transfer any share held by him or his interest in the capital or property of any society or any part thereof unless :—

(a) he has held such share or interest for not less than one year ; and
(b) the transfer or charge is made to the society or to a member of the society or to a person whose application for membership has been accepted by the society.

DUTIES OF REGISTERED SOCIETIES.

20. Every registered society shall have an address registered in accordance with the rules, to which all notices and communications may be sent, and shall give notice in writing to the Registrar of any change in the said address within thirty days of such change.

Address of

Copy of Regulation, Rules and bye-laws to be open to inspection

21. Every registered society shall keep open to inspection, free of charge at all reasonable times at the registered address of the society.

- (a) a copy of this Regulation,
- (b) a copy of the Rules governing such society,
- (c) a copy of the bye-laws of such society, and
- (d) the register of its members.

22. (1) The Registrar shall by himself or by some person authorised by him in writing by general or special order in this behalf audit the accounts of every society once at least in every year.

(2) The audit under sub-section (1) shall include an examination of overdue debts, if any, the verification of cash balance and securities and a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the society.

(3) The Registrar or other person auditing the accounts of any society shall have free access to the books, accounts and vouchers of such society and shall be allowed to verify its cash balances and securities.

The Committee, Secretary and other officers of the society shall furnish to the Registrar or other person appointed to audit the accounts of a society all such information as to its transactions and working as the Registrar or such person may require and shall produce the cash for verification with the cash balance when demanded by the Registrar or the person appointed to audit.

(4) The Registrar and every other person appointed to audit the accounts of a society shall have power when necessary—

(i) to summon at the time of his audit any officer, agent, servant or member of the society who he has reason to believe can give valuable information in regard to any transaction of the society or the management of its affairs, or

(ii) to require the production of any book or document relating to the affairs of the society or any cash or securities belonging to the society by the officer, agent, servant or member in possession of such book, document, cash or securities.

PRIVILEGES OF REGISTERED SOCIETIES.

23. The registration of a society shall render it a body corporate by the name under which it is registered, with perpetual succession and a common seal, and with power to hold property, to enter into contracts, to institute and defend suits and other legal proceedings and to do all things necessary for the purposes for which it was constituted.

24. Subject to the prior claim, if any, of Our Government in respect of land revenue or any money recoverable as land revenue or of a landlord in respect of rent, any debt or outstanding demand owing to a society by any member, or past member or deceased member shall be a first charge :

(1) upon crops or other agricultural produce raised in whole or in part with a loan taken from the society by such member or past member or deceased member; and

(2) upon any cattle, fodder for cattle, agricultural or industrial implements or machinery or raw materials for manufacture or workshops, godown or place of business supplied to or purchased by such member or past member or deceased member in whole or in part from any loan whether in money or goods given him by the society :

Provided that nothing contained in this clause shall affect the claim of any bonafide purchaser or transferee for value without notice of any such crops or other agricultural produce, cattle, fodder for cattle or raw materials for manufacture or work-shops or agricultural or industrial implements.

25. A registered society shall have a charge upon the share or interest in the capital and on the deposits of a member or past or deceased member and upon any dividend, bonus or profits payable to a member or past member or the estate of a deceased member in respect of any debt due from such member or past member to the society, and may set off any sum credited or payable to a member or past member or the estate of a deceased member in or towards payment of any such debt.

26. Subject to the provisions of Section 25, the share or interest of a member in the capital of a registered society shall not be liable to attachment or sale under any decree or order of a Court of Justice in respect of any debt or liability incurred by such member, and neither the Receiver under the law of insolvency for the time being in force nor a Receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100 shall be entitled to or have any claim on such share or interest.

27. (1) On the death of a member of a society, such society may, within a period of one year from the death of such member, transfer the share or interest of the deceased member to a person or persons nominated in accordance with the bye-laws of the society, if duly admitted a member of the society in accordance with the rules or the bye-laws of the society, or if there is no person so nominated, to such person as may appear to the committee to be the heir or legal representative of the deceased member if duly admitted a member of the society, or may pay to such nominee, heir or legal representative, as the case may be, a sum representing the value of such member's share or interest ascertained in accordance with the rules or bye-laws :

Provided that such nominee, heir or legal representative, as the case may be, may require that payment shall be made by the society within one year from the death of the member of the value of the share or interest of such member ascertained as aforesaid.

(2) A society shall, subject to the provisions of Section 25 and unless prevented by an order of a competent court, pay to such nominee, heir or legal representative as the case may be, all other moneys due to the deceased member from the society.

(3) All transfer and payments made by a society in accordance with the provisions of this Section shall be valid and effectual against any demand made upon the society by any other person.

28. The liability of a past member or of the estate of a deceased member for the debts of a registered society as they existed on the date of his ceasing to be a member or of his decease as the case may be, shall continue for a period of two years from such date.

Register of members. 29. Any register or list of members or shares kept by any registered society shall be prima facie evidence of any of the following particulars entered therein—

(a) the date on which the name of any person was entered in such register or list as a member.

(b) the date on which any such person ceased to be a member.

30. A copy of any entry in any book, register or list regularly kept in the course of business in the possession of a society shall, if duly certified in such manner as may be prescribed by the rules, be admissible in evidence of the existence of the entry and shall be admitted as evidence of the matters and transactions therein recorded in every case where, and to the same extent to which, the original entry would, if produced, have been admissible to prove such matters.

31. Whenever a decision or an award of the Registrar or arbitrator or an order of the Registrar or liquidator is obtained by a registered society for the realisation of money, any such money may be recovered as arrears of public revenue under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, I of 1968 subject to such rules, if any, as may be prescribed, and Our Government may for such purposes confer on the Registrar or any Officer subordinate to him the powers of a Division Petshkar or other Officer under the said Regulation ;

Provided that the powers of a Division Petshkar shall not be conferred on any Officer who is inferior in rank to that of an Assistant Registrar.

Explanation—Any right of appeal or application for revision or Civil suit available in respect of the orders or actions under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, I of 1968 shall be available to the parties.

32. Nothing in Section 10, sub-section (1), clauses (a) and (b) of the Travancore Registration Regulation, 1937 shall apply to :—

(1) any instrument relating to shares in a registered society notwithstanding that the assets of such society consist in whole or in part of immovable property; or

(2) any debenture issued by any such society and not creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest to or in immovable property except in so far as it entitles the holder to the security afforded by a registered instrument whereby the society has mortgaged, conveyed or otherwise transferred the whole or part of its immovable property or any interest therein to trustees upon trust for the benefit of the holders of such debentures; or

(3) any endorsement upon or transfer of any debenture issued by any such society.

Power to exempt from Income-tax, Municipal tax, Stamp duty, Registration and Court fees.

33. Our Government by notification in Our Government Gazette, may in the case of any society or class of societies remit—

(1) the income-tax or super-tax payable in respect of the profits of the society, or of the dividends or other payments received by the members of the society on account of profits or in respect of interest on securities held by the society ;

(2) any tax payable under the law of Municipalities for the time being in force ;

(3) the stamp duty with which, under any law for the time being in force, instruments executed by or on behalf of a society or by an officer or member and relating to the business of such society or any class of such instruments, or awards of the Registrar or arbitrators under this Regulation are respectively chargeable ; and

(4) any fee payable under the law of Registration or of Court-fees for the time being in force.

34. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other enactment, Our Government may, subject to such rules as may be prescribed in this behalf, grant loans to, take share in, or give financial assistance in any other form to any registered society.

Explanation—Nothing in this section shall be construed as entitling Our Government to become a member of any Society without the Society admitting Government as a member.

PROPERTY AND FUNDS OF REGISTERED SOCIETIES.

Restrictions on loans. 35. (1) A registered society shall not make a loan to any person other than a member :

Provided that, with the general or special sanction of the Registrar a registered society may make loans to another registered society.

(2) Save with the sanction of the Registrar, a registered society shall not lend money on the security of movable property other than agricultural produce.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (1) and (2), a registered society may make a loan to a depositor on the security of his deposit.

(4) Our Government may, by general or special order, prohibit or restrict the lending of money on mortgage of immovable property by any registered society or class of registered societies.

Restrictions on borrowings. (5) A registered society shall receive deposits and loans only to such extent and under such conditions as may be prescribed by the rules or the bye-laws of the society.

Restriction on other transactions with non-members. 36. Save as provided in Section 35, the transaction of a registered society with persons other than members shall be subject to such prohibitions and restrictions, if any, as Our Government may, by rules, prescribe.

Investment of Funds. 37. Subject to the provisions of sub-section (4) of Section 35, a registered society may invest or deposit its funds :—

(a) in Our Government Savings Bank : or

(b) in Promissory Notes, Debentures, stock or other securities of the Government of India ; or

(c) in stock or debentures or of shares in Railway or other companies, the interest whereon shall have been guaranteed by the Government of India or by the Government of Travancore ; or

(d) on a first mortgage of immovable property situate in Travancore provided that the property is not a leasehold for a term of years and that the value of the property exceeds by one-third or if it consists of buildings, exceeds by one-half, the mortgage amount; or

(e) in the shares or on the security of any other registered society in Travancore, provided that no such investment shall be made in the shares of any society other than one with limited liability; or

(f) with any bank or person carrying on the business of banking approved for this purpose by the Registrar; or

(g) in any other mode permitted by the rules.

(2) Any investments or deposits made before the commencement of this Regulation which would have been valid if this Regulation had been in force are hereby ratified and confirmed.

Restrictions on dividend. 38. No society shall pay a dividend to its members at a rate exceeding  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

Reserve Fund. 39. (1) Every society which does or can derive a profit from its transactions shall maintain a Reserve Fund.

(2) In the case of a society with unlimited liability, at least one-fourth of the net profits of the society each year shall be carried to the Reserve Fund and in the case of any other society at least one-tenth of the net profits of the society each year shall be carried to the Reserve Fund; and such Reserve Fund shall not be used in the ordinary business of the society but may subject to the provisions of Section 37, be invested as Our Government may by general or special order direct or may with the previous sanction of Our Government be used in part for some public purpose likely to promote the objects of this Regulation or for some purposes of local interest or may be drawn upon to the extent of not more than twenty-five per cent. thereof for purposes sanctioned by the Registrar.

40. Subject to the provisions of Section 38, the balance of the profits of a society after making the prescribed provision for the Reserve Fund may, together with any available profits of past years, be distributed among its members, provided that no distribution of profits shall be made without the sanction of the Registrar.

Restrictions on distribution of profits. 41. Any society may establish a provident fund for its members out of contributions from such members in accordance with by-laws made by the society in this behalf and may contribute to such provident fund from its net profits, after the prescribed payments have been made to the Reserve Fund, provided that such provident fund shall not be used in the business of the society but shall be invested under the provisions of Section 37; and provided further that no part of such provident fund shall be considered as an asset of such society.

42. Any registered society may after one-fourth, or one-tenth, as the case may be, of the net profits in any year has been carried to a reserve fund, contribute, subject to the approval of the Registrar, an amount not exceeding  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. of the remaining net profits to any charitable purpose as defined in Section II of the Charitable Endowments Regulation of 1082 M. E.

Contribution to charitable purposes.

INQUIRY AND INSPECTION.

43. (1) The Registrar may of his own motion, and shall on the application of the majority of the Committee or of not less than one-third of the members, hold an inquiry or direct some person authorised by him by order in writing in this behalf to hold an inquiry into the constitution, working and financial condition of a registered society.

(2) The Registrar or the person authorised by him under sub-section (1) shall have the following powers, namely:—

(a) He shall, at all reasonable times, have free access to the books, accounts, documents, securities, cash and other properties belonging to or in the custody of the society and may summon any person in possession or responsible for the custody of any such books, accounts, documents, securities, cash or other properties to produce the same at any place at the headquarters of the society or any branch thereof

(b) He may summon any person who he has reason to believe has knowledge of any of the affairs of the society to appear before him at any place at the headquarters of the society or any branch thereof and may examine such person on oath.

(c) (i) He may, notwithstanding any rule or bye-law prescribing the period of notice for a general meeting of the society, require the officers of the society to call a general meeting at such time and place at the headquarters of the society or any branch thereof and to determine such matters as may be directed by him and if the officers of the society refuse or fail to call such a meeting, he shall have power to call it himself.

(ii) Any meeting called under clause (i) shall have all the powers of a general meeting called under the bye-laws of the society and its proceedings shall be regulated by such bye-laws.

44. (1) The Registrar may, on the application of a creditor of a registered society inspect or direct some person authorised by him by Registrar. in this behalf by a general or special order in writing to inspect the books of the society.

(2) No inspection shall be made or directed under sub-section (1) unless the creditor—

(a) satisfies the Registrar that the debt is a sum then due and that he has demanded payment thereof and has not received satisfaction within a reasonable time; and

(b) deposits with the Registrar such sum as security for the costs of the proposed inspection as the Registrar may require.

(3) Where an inspection is made under sub-section (1), the Registrar shall communicate the results of such inspection to the creditor to whom the society is indebted.

45. Where an inquiry is held under Section 43 or an inspection is made under Section 44, the Registrar may after giving the parties an opportunity to be heard, apportion the costs, or such part of the costs as he may think right, between the society, the members or creditor demanding an inquiry or inspection and the officers or former officers of the society in accordance with such rules as may be made by Our Government.

46. Any sum awarded by way of costs under Section 45 may be recovered as if it were an arrear of Land Revenue.

SUPERSESSION OF COMMITTEE OF SOCIETY.

47. (1) If, in the opinion of the Registrar the Committee of any registered Society is not functioning properly, he may after giving an opportunity to the Committee to state its objections, and after recording a finding that the objections are unsatisfactory, (if such be his finding) call upon the members of the society to appoint a new Committee within such time, not being less than one month as may be fixed by him. If a new Committee is not appointed accordingly or if the Committee appointed is, after trial for six months, found wanting in the opinion of the Registrar, and if the Registrar is of opinion that, in the circumstances of the case, it is undesirable to order the cancellation of the registration of the Society, he may, by order in writing, dissolve the Committee, and appoint a suitable Committee consisting of as many members of that Society as he may deem necessary to manage the affairs of the Society for a specific period not exceeding one year. The period specified in such order may, at the discretion of the Registrar, be extended from time to time provided that such order shall not remain in force for more than two years in the aggregate.

(2) The Committee so appointed by the Registrar shall have all such powers, rights and responsibilities as a Committee of the Society has according to the bye-laws of the Society.

(3) The Committee appointed by the Registrar, shall, at the expiry of the period of its appointment, arrange for the constitution of a new Committee in accordance with the bye-laws of the Society.

(4) Before taking action under sub-section (1) in respect of any Society, the Registrar shall in the prescribed manner consult such body of persons, if any, as may be prescribed by Our Government, in that behalf, regarding the action and regarding such other matters as may be prescribed.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the powers of the Registrar to cancel the registration of any Society under any other section.

DISSOLUTION OF SOCIETY.

48. (1) If the Registrar, after an inquiry has been held under Section 43 or after an inspection has been made under Section 44 or on receipt of an application made by three-fourths of the members of a registered society, is of opinion that the society ought to be dissolved, he may by order in writing cancel the registration of the society. A copy of the order shall forthwith be communicated to the society.

(2) Any member of the society may, within two months from the date of the order made under sub-section (1) appeal to Our Government from such order.

(3) Where no appeal is presented within two months from the making of an order cancelling the registration of the society, the order shall take effect on the expiry of that period.

(4) Where an appeal is presented within two months, the order shall not take effect until it is confirmed by Our Government and such confirmation is communicated to the society.

49. Where it is a condition of the registration of a society that it should consist of at least ten members who have attained the age of majority, the Registrar may, by order in writing, cancel the registration of the society if at any time it is proved to his satisfaction that the number of the members has been reduced to less than ten such members.

Effect of cancellation of registration. 50. Where the registration of a society is cancelled the society shall cease to exist as a corporate body ;

(a) in the case of cancellation in accordance with the provisions of Section 48, from the date the order of cancellation takes effect ;

(b) in the case of cancellation in accordance with the provisions of Section 49, from the date of the order.

51. (1) Where the registration of a society is cancelled under Section 48 or Section 49, the Registrar may appoint any person to be liquidator of the society.

(2) Subject to any rules that may be made under this Regulation, the whole of the assets of the society shall, on the appointment of a liquidator under sub-section (1), vest in such liquidator and he shall have power to realise such assets by sale or otherwise.

(3) Such liquidator shall also have power, subject to the control of the Registrar :—

(a) to institute and defend suits and other legal proceedings on behalf of the society by his name of office ;

(b) to get disputes referred to arbitration ;

(c) to determine from time to time the contribution to be made or remaining to be made by the members or past members or by the estates or nominees, heirs or legal representatives of deceased members or by any officers or former officers, to the assets of the society, such contribution including debts due from such members or persons ;

(d) to investigate all claims against the society and subject to the provisions of this Regulation to decide questions of priority arising between claimants ;

(e) to pay claims against the society (including interest up to the date of cancellation of registration) according to their respective priorities, if any, in full or rateably as the assets of the society permit, the surplus if any, remaining after payment of the claims being applied in payment of interest from the date of such cancellation at a rate fixed by him but not exceeding the contract rate in any case ;

(f) to determine by what persons and in what proportions the costs of the liquidation are to be borne ;

(g) to give such directions in regard to the collection and distribution of the assets of the society as may appear to him to be necessary for winding up the affairs of the society ; and

(h) to carry on the business of the society so far as may be necessary for the beneficial winding up of the same.

(4) Subject to any rules that may be made under this Regulation, a liquidator appointed under this Section shall, in so far as such powers are necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Section, have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and to compel the production of any books, accounts, documents, securities, cash or other properties belonging to or in the custody of the society by the same means and (so far as may be) in the same manner as is provided in the case of a civil court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100.

(5) When the affairs of the society have been wound up, the liquidator shall deposit the records of the society in such place as the Registrar may direct.

(6) Any person aggrieved by any order of the liquidator may in the prescribed manner appeal to the Registrar against such order within two months from the date of the issue of the order.

Bar of suit in winding up and dissolution matters. 52. Save in so far as is expressly provided in this Regulation,

(a) no civil court shall take cognisance of any matter connected with the winding up, dissolution or cancellation of the registration of a Society under this Regulation, and

(b) no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie or be proceeded with in respect of any order of the liquidator or of the Registrar passed in appeal therefrom except by leave of the Registrar or in case such leave is refused by the Registrar, by leave of the District Court having local jurisdiction and subject to such terms if any, as the Registrar or the District Court as the case may be may impose.

53. After all the liabilities including the paid up share capital of a cancelled society have been met, the surplus assets shall not be divided amongst its members but they shall be devoted to any object or objects described in the bye-laws of the society and when no object is so described to any object of public utility determined by the general meeting of the society and approved by the Registrar or they may in consultation with them either be assigned by the Registrar in whole or in part to any or all of the following :—

- (a) an object of public utility of local or communal interest ;
  - (b) a charitable purpose as defined in Section II of the Charitable Endowments Regulation of 1082 M. E.;
  - (c) the Travancore Co-operative Institute, Trivandrum ;
- or may be placed on deposit with the Central Co-operative Bank until such time as a new society with similar conditions is registered when with the consent of the Registrar such surplus may be credited to the Reserve Fund of such new society.

SURCHARGE AND ATTACHMENT.

54. (1) Where in the course of an audit under Section 22 or an inquiry under Section 43 or an inspection under Section 44 or the winding up of a society, it appears that any person who has taken part in the organisation or management of the society or any past or present officer of the society has misappropriated or fraudulently retained any money or other property or been guilty of breach of trust in relation to the society, the Registrar may, of his own motion or on the application of the Committee or liquidator or of any creditor or contributory, examine into the conduct of such person or officer and make an order requiring him to repay or restore the money or property or any part thereof with interest at such rate as the Registrar thinks just or to contribute such sum to the assets of the society by way of compensation in respect of the misappropriation, fraudulent retention or breach of trust as the Registrar thinks just.

(2) The order of the Registrar under sub-section (1) shall be final unless it is set aside by the District Court having jurisdiction over the area in which the headquarters of the society are situated, on application made by the party aggrieved within three months of the date of the receipt of the order by him.

(3) Any sum ordered under this Section to be repaid to a society or recovered as a contribution to its assets may be recovered on a requisition being made in this behalf to the Division Peishkar by the Registrar in the same manner as arrears of land revenue.

(4) This Section shall apply notwithstanding that such person or officer may have incurred criminal liability by his act.

55. Where the Registrar is satisfied on the application of the liquidator or when acting under Section 56 that any person with intent to defeat or when the execution of any order that may be passed against him under clause (c) of sub-section (3) of Section 51 or Section 54,

(a) is about to dispose of the whole or any part of his property, or
(b) is about to cancel or remove the whole or any part of his property, the Registrar may unless adequate security is furnished, direct the conditional attachment of the said property or such part thereof as he thinks necessary. Such attachment shall be treated as an attachment or distraint as the case may be, effected by the Tahsildar of the place where the property attached is situated under the provisions of the Revenue Recovery Regulation I of 1908, and all the remedies available to aggrieved persons under the provisions of the said Regulation in respect of any attachment or distraint effected by the Tahsildar shall also be available.

ARBITRATION.

56. (1) If any dispute touching the business of a registered society (other than a dispute regarding disciplinary action taken by the Society or its Committee against a paid servant of the Society) arises :—

(a) among members, past members and persons claiming through members, past members and deceased members, or

(b) between a member, past member or person claiming through a member, past member or deceased member and the society, its Committee or any officer agent or servant past or present of the society, or

(c) between the society or its Committee and any officer agent or servant past or present of the society, or

(d) between the society and any other registered society, such dispute shall be referred to the Registrar for decision.

Explanation. A claim by a registered Society for any debt or demand due to it from a member, past member or the nominee, heir or legal representative of a deceased member, whether such debt or demand be admitted or not, is a dispute touching the business of the Society within the meaning of this sub-section.

(2) The Registrar may, on receipt of such reference,

(a) decide the dispute himself, or

(b) transfer it for disposal to any person who has been invested by Our Government with powers in that behalf; or

(c) subject to such rules as may be prescribed, refer it for disposal to an arbitrator or arbitrators :

Provided that if any party to the dispute applies for action being taken under clause (c), the Registrar shall act accordingly.

(3) Subject to such rules as may be prescribed, the Registrar may withdraw any reference transferred under Clause (b) of sub-section (2) or referred under clause (a) of that sub-section and deal with it in the manner provided in the said sub-section.

(4) The Registrar, may, of his motion or on the application of a party to a reference, revise any decision thereon by the person to whom such reference was transferred or by the arbitrator or arbitrators to whom it was referred :

Provided that where the decision sought to be revised is a decision made by arbitrator or arbitrators appointed in pursuance of the provisions of the proviso to sub-section (2) the Registrar shall not modify the decision but may if he thinks it necessary or desirable, refer the dispute again as under clause (c) of sub-section (2).

57. (1) Any decision passed by the Registrar under clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 56 or under sub-section (4) of the same section shall be final and shall not be called in question in any Civil Court.

(2) Any decision that may be passed by the person to whom a reference is transferred or by the arbitrator or arbitrators to whom it is referred under sub-section (2) of section 56 shall save as otherwise provided in sub-section (4) of the same section, be final and shall not be called in question in any civil court.

58. Wherever in this Regulation it is provided that the Registrar or person duly authorised by general or special order in writing by the Registrar in this behalf shall hold an inquiry under Section 43 or shall wind up a society or shall arbitrate, the Registrar, or person authorised, as the case may be, shall subject to such rules as may be passed by Our Government for the payment of datta to the witnesses, have the power to summon and enforce the attendance at the headquarters of the society concerned of witnesses including the parties interested or any of them and to compel them to give evidence, and to compel the production of documents by the same means and as far as possible in the same manner as is provided in the case of a civil court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 11C0.

59. Every order passed by the liquidator under Section 51, or by the Registrar or his nominee or arbitrators on disputes referred to him or them under Section 51 or under Section 56 shall, if not carried out be executed—

(a) on a certificate signed by the Registrar or a liquidator by any civil court having local jurisdiction in the same manner as a decree of such court; or

(b) according to the law for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of land revenue, provided that any application for the recovery in such manner of any such sum shall be made to the Division Peishkar and shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by the Registrar or by any one to whom the said power has been delegated by the Registrar.

OFFENCES AND PENALTIES.

Offences.

60. It shall be an offence under this Regulation if—

(a) a registered society or an officer or member thereof, in contravention of the provisions of this Regulation wilfully makes a false return or furnishes false information or wilfully neglects or omits to call a general meeting or special general meeting of the Society, or

(b) any person wilfully or without any reasonable excuse disobeys any summons, requisition or lawful written order issued under the provisions of this Regulation or does not furnish any information lawfully required from him by a person authorised in this behalf under the provisions of this Regulation.

61. Any member or past member or the nominee, heir or legal representative of a deceased member who fraudulently disposes of any property in respect of which the Society is entitled to claim priority under Section 24, or fraudulently does any other act to the prejudice of such claim shall be punishable with fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing in the Section shall apply to the use by any person or his successor in interest of any name or title under which he traded or carried on business at the date on which the Co-operative Societies Regulation (X of 1939) came into operation.

(2) Whoever contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees and in the case of a continuing offence, with further fine of five rupees for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction therefor.

63. Any registered society or any officer or member thereof or any other person guilty of an offence under this Regulation for which no punishment is expressly provided herein shall be punishable with fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Punishment for offences not otherwise provided for.

Guidance of officers.

64. (1) No court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence under this Regulation.

(2) Every offence under this Regulation shall, for the purposes of the Code of Criminal Procedure, be deemed to be non-cognizable.

(3) No prosecution shall be instituted under this Regulation without the previous sanction of the Registrar. Such sanction shall not be given without giving the party concerned an opportunity to be heard.

MISCELLANEOUS.

65. Our Government or the Registrar may call for and examine the record of any enquiry or the proceedings of any officer subordinate to them or him for the purpose of satisfying themselves or himself as to the legality or propriety of any decision or order passed and as to the regularity of the proceedings of such officer. If in any case it shall appear to Our Government or the Registrar that any decision or order or proceedings so called for should be modified, annulled, or reversed, Our Government or the Registrar, as the case may be, may pass such order thereon as to them or him may seem fit. The revising authority may also pass any interim order on such conditions or otherwise as it deems fit.

Power of Government and Registrar to call for proceedings of subordinate officers and to pass orders thereon.

66. (d) provide that any portion of the investments of any life assurance company carrying on business within Travancore shall be in such securities as may be notified by Our Government in that behalf in Our Government Gazette.

(3) All rules made under this Regulation shall be published in Our Government Gazette and on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Regulation.

Power of Our Government to exempt from the provisions of the Regulation. 41. Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette and, subject to such restrictions and conditions as they think fit, exempt any life assurance company from all or any of the provisions of this Regulation.

2. The object of registration of Trade Unions is to confer upon the Unions some privileges and obligations so that the unions may effectively work for the betterment of their members and of the labourers in general. It is only fair that all workmen, whether industrial or agricultural, should be allowed to form their own Unions under the proposed enactment. Therefore I think it is necessary to bring agricultural labourers also within the definition of "Trade Unions" in clause 2 (b). Clause 11 deals with the power of appeal and with appellate Court. In British India, the High Courts have got original jurisdiction. Our High Court has no such jurisdiction and hence it is unwise to make the High Court to receive appeal at the first instance on the decision of the Registrar. The clause should be so amended to make the District Courts the appellate authority at the first instance.

3. There are some other minor points on which I differ from the decisions of the Select Committee. I am not going to enumerate those points here as I have got the right of bringing amendments on them.

(Sd.) P. S. MAHOMED.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY MR. K. KUNJUKRISHNA PILLAI.

The Select Committee on the Travancore Trade Unions Bill, has added the following sub-clause (2) to Class 14 of the Travancore Trade Unions Bill, viz.,

"No Trade Union shall be formed or shall function unless it is registered under the provisions of this Regulation :

Provided that, in the case of the Trade Unions existing on the date of the commencement of this Regulation, such Trade Unions may function for a period of three months from such date." As sub-clause (1) to Clause 20, they have also added that "whoever in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, sub-section (2) forms any Trade Union or takes any part in the functions of any Trade Union shall, for every such act, be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees."

This provision for a compulsory registration is not found in the Indian Trade Unions Act. According to the Indian Trade Unions Act, registration is not compulsory but only optional. The Travancore Trade Unions Bill, as originally drafted, did not make registration compulsory, and it was specifically stated, in the objects and reasons appended to the Bill, that the measure is purely permissive. It will be seen from the Preamble to the Bill, that it intends merely to provide for registration of Trade Unions, and to define the law relating to registered Trade Unions. As such, I am of opinion that the Select Committee has gone beyond the scope of the Bill, in providing for compulsory registration, and making it penal, to constitute any Trade Union without registration. The Bill was designed to deal with registered Trade Unions only. Unregistered Trade Unions do not come within the ambit of the Bill. The Assembly having accepted the basic principle that the Bill shall be merely permissive, in my opinion the Select Committee ought not have provided for compulsory registration which runs counter to it. In my opinion, compulsory registration would needlessly infringe upon the fundamental legal right of combinations. I do not think that those who advocate compulsory registration realise that Trade Unions are associations of men, bound together by common interests for common ends. We do not make it compulsory that all associations of persons must be registered. I fail to see the justification for insisting on compulsory registration in the case of combinations of employers and employees connected with industry. If the provision put in by the Select Committee remains, a group of employees, who do not belong to a registered Trade Union, or who are not able to have a registered Trade Union meeting to discuss some problem connected with the industry in which they are engaged, they must be hauled up before the criminal courts. Every such combination will be stamped out. Further I think that the practical working of this provision will be difficult. But I see that if registration is to be made compulsory, it is obviously necessary to make the breach of that provision punishable. But since I hold that compulsory registration is an unnecessary intrusion on the fundamental right of the citizens to combine, I am against both sub-clause (2), Clause 14, and sub-clause (1), Clause 30. I do not agree with the Committee on certain minor matters as well, which need not be pointed out in this note. I hope to move appropriate amendments, at the proper time.

Government under Section 3 and the "Registrar", in relation to any Trade Union, means the Registrar appointed for the place in which the head or registered office, as the case may be, of the Trade Union is situated ;

(g) "Trade dispute" means any dispute between employers and workmen or between workmen and workmen, or between employers and employers which is connected with the employment or non-employment, or the terms of employment or the conditions of labour of any person, and "workmen", means all persons employed in trade or industry whether or not in the employment of the employer with whom the trade dispute arises ; and

(h) "Trade Union" means any combination, whether temporary or permanent, formed primarily for the purpose of regulating the relations between workmen and employers, or between workmen and workmen or between employers and employers, or for imposing restrictive conditions on the conduct of any trade or business, and includes any federation of two or more Trade Unions ;

Provided that this Regulation shall not affect—

(i) any agreement between partners as to their own business ;

(ii) any agreement between an employer and those employed by him as to such employment ; or

(iii) any agreement in consideration of the sale of the goodwill of a business or of instruction in any profession, trade or handicraft.

CHAPTER II.

Registration of Trade Unions.

3. Our Government may appoint any person to be the Registrar of Trade Unions for the whole State or for any particular portions of the State.

4. Any seven or more members of a Trade Union may, by subscribing their names to the rules of the Trade Union and by otherwise complying with the provisions of this Regulation with respect to the registration, apply for registration of the Trade Union under this Regulation.

5. (1) Every application for registration of a Trade Union shall be made to the Registrar and shall be accompanied by a copy of the rules of the Trade Union and a statement of the following particulars namely :—

(a) the names, occupations and addresses of the members making the application ;

(b) the name of the Trade Union and the address of its head office; and

(c) the titles, names, ages, addresses and occupations of the officers of the Trade Union.

(2) Where a Trade Union has been in existence for more than one year before the making of an application for its registration, there shall be delivered to the Registrar, together with the application, a general statement of the assets and liabilities of the Trade Union prepared in such form and containing such particulars as may be prescribed.

6. A Trade Union shall not be entitled to registration under this Regulation, unless the executive thereof is constituted in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation, and the rules thereof provide for the following matters, namely :—

(a) the name of the Trade Union ;

(b) the whole of the objects for which the Trade Union has been established ;

(c) the whole of the purposes for which the general funds of the Trade Union shall be applicable, all of which purposes shall be purposes to which such funds are lawfully applicable under this Regulation ;

(d) the maintenance of a list of the members of the Trade Union and adequate facilities for the inspection thereof by the officers and members of the Trade Union ;

(e) the admission of ordinary members who shall be persons actually engaged or employed in any trade or industry with which the Trade Union is connected and also the admission of the number of honorary or temporary members as officers required under Section 21 to form the executive of the Trade Union ;

(f) the conditions under which any member shall be entitled to any benefit assured by the rules and under which any fine or forfeiture may be imposed on the members ;

(g) the manner in which the rules shall be amended, varied or rescinded ;

(h) the manner in which the members of the executive and the other officers of the Trade Union shall be appointed and removed ;

(i) the safe custody of the funds of the Trade Union, an annual audit, in such manner as may be prescribed, of the accounts thereof, and adequate facilities for the inspection of the account books by the officers and members of the Trade Union; and

(f) the manner in which the Trade Union may be dissolved.

7. (1) The Registrar may call for further information for the purpose of satisfying himself that any application complies with the provisions of Section 5 or that the Trade Union is entitled to registration under Section 6 and may refuse to register the Trade Union until such information is supplied.

(2) If the name under which a Trade Union is proposed to be registered is identical with that by which any other existing Trade Union has been registered or, in the opinion of the Registrar, so nearly resembles such name as to be likely to deceive the public or the members of either Trade Union, the Registrar shall require the persons applying for registration to alter the name of the Trade Union stated in the application, and shall refuse to register the Union until such alteration has been made.

8. The Registrar, on being satisfied that the Trade Union has complied with all the requirements of this Regulation in regard to registration, shall register the Trade Union by entering in a register, to be maintained in such form as may be prescribed, the particulars relating to the Trade Union contained in the statement accompanying the application for registration.

9. The Registrar on registering a Trade Union under Section 8, shall issue a certificate of registration in the prescribed form which shall be conclusive evidence that the Trade Union has been duly registered under this Regulation.

10. A certificate of registration of a Trade Union may be withdrawn or cancelled by the Registrar—

(a) on the application of the Trade Union, to be verified in such manner as may be prescribed; or

(b) if the Registrar is satisfied that the certificate has been obtained by fraud or mistake, or that the Trade Union has ceased to exist or has wilfully and after notice from the Registrar contravened any provision of this Regulation or allowed any rule to continue in force, which is inconsistent with any such provision, or has rescinded any rule providing for any matter provision for which is required by Section 6:

Provided that not less than two months previous notice in writing specifying the ground on which it is proposed to withdraw or cancel the certificate shall be given by the Registrar to the Trade Union before the certificate is withdrawn or cancelled otherwise than on the application of the Trade Union.

11. (1) Any person aggrieved by any refusal of the Registrar to register a Trade Union or by the withdrawal or cancellation of a certificate of registration may, within such period as may be prescribed, appeal to the High Court.

(2) The High Court may dismiss the appeal, or pass an order directing the Registrar to register the Union and to issue a certificate of registration under the provisions of Section 9 or setting aside the order for withdrawal or cancellation of the certificate, as the case may be, and the Registrar shall comply with such order.

(3) For the purpose of an appeal under sub-section (1), the High Court shall, so far as may be, follow the same procedure and have the same powers as it follows and has when bearing an appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, and may direct by whom the whole or any part of the costs of the appeal shall be paid, and such costs shall be recovered as if they had been awarded in an appeal under the said Code.

12. All communications and notices to a registered Trade Union may be addressed to the registered office. Notice of any change in the address of the head office shall be given within fourteen days of such change to the Registrar in writing, and the changed address shall be recorded in the register referred to in Section 8.

13. Every registered Trade Union shall be a body corporate by the name under which it is registered and shall have perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire and hold both movable and immovable property and to contract, and shall by the said name sue and be sued.

14. (1) The following Regulations, namely:—
 Certain Regulations (a) The Travancore Co-operative Societies Regulation, not to apply to reg- (b) The Travancore Provident Insurance Societies istered Unions. Regulation of 1108 and
 (c) The Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092,

shall not apply to any registered Trade Union, and the registration of any such Trade Union under any such Regulation shall be void.

(2) No Trade Union shall be formed or shall function unless it is registered under the provisions of this Regulation:

Provided that in the case of Trade Unions existing on the date of the commencement of this Regulation, such Trade Unions may function for a period of 3 months from such date.

CHAPTER III.

Rights and liabilities of registered Trade Unions.

(3) No member shall be compelled to contribute to the fund constituted under sub-section (1) ; and a member who does not contribute to the said fund shall not be excluded from any benefits of the Trade Union, or placed in any respect either directly or indirectly under any disability or at any disadvantage as compared with other members of the Trade Union (except in relation to the control or management of the said fund) by reason of his not contributing to the said fund ; and contribution to the said fund shall not be made a condition for admission to the Trade Union.

17. (1) No suit or other legal proceeding shall be maintainable in any Civil Court against any registered Trade Union or any officer or member thereof in respect of any act done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute to which a member of the Trade Union is a party on the ground only that such act induces some other person to break a contract of employment, or that it is in interference with the trade, business or employment of some other person or with the right of some other person to dispose of his capital or of his labour as he wills.

(2) A registered Trade Union shall not be liable in any suit or other legal proceeding in any Civil Court in respect of any tortious act done in con-

Immunity from civil suit in certain cases.

temptation or furtherance of a trade dispute by an agent of the Trade Union if it is proved that such person acted without the knowledge of or contrary to express instructions given by the executive of the Trade Union.

18. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, an agreement between the members of a registered Trade Union shall not be void or voidable merely by reason of the fact that any of the objects of the agreement are in restraint of trade:

Enforceability of agreements. Provided that nothing in this Section shall enable any Civil Court to entertain any legal proceeding instituted for the express purpose of enforcing or recovering damages for the breach of any agreement concerning the conditions on which any members of a Trade Union shall or shall not sell their goods, transact business, work, employ or be employed.

19. The account books of a registered Union and the list of members thereof shall be open to inspection by an officer or member of the Trade Union at such times as may be provided for in the rules of the Trade Union.

20. Any person who has attained the age of fifteen years may be a member of a registered Trade Union subject to any rules of the Trade Union to the contrary, and may subject as aforesaid enjoy all the rights of a member and execute all instruments and give all acquittances necessary to be executed or given under the rules:

Rights of minors to membership of Trade Union. Provided that no person who has not attained the age of eighteen years shall be an officer of any such Trade Union.

21. Not less than two-thirds of the total number of the officers of every registered Trade Union shall be persons actually engaged or employed in any trade or industry with which the Trade Union is connected:

Proportion of officers to be connected with the industry. Provided that Our Government may, by special or general order, declare that the provisions of this Section shall not apply to any Trade Union or class of Trade Unions specified in the order.

22. Any registered Trade Union may, with the consent of not less than two thirds of the total number of its members and subject to the provisions of Section 24 change its name.

23. Any two or more registered Trade Unions may become amalgamated together as one Trade Union with or without dissolution or division of funds of such Trade Unions or either or any of them, provided that the votes of at least one half of the members of each or every such Trade Union entitled to vote are recorded, and that at least sixty per cent. of the votes recorded are in favour of the proposal.

24. (1) Notice in writing of every change of name and of every amalgamation signed, in the case of a change of name, by the Secretary and by seven members of the Trade Union changing its name and, in the case of an amalgamation, by the Secretary and by seven members of each and every Trade Union which is party thereto, shall be sent to the Registrar, and where the head office of the amalgamated Trade Union is situated in a place for which there is a different Registrar, to the Registrar of that place.

(3) If the proposed name is identical with that by which any other existing Trade Union has been registered or, in the opinion of the Registrar so nearly resembles such name as to be likely to deceive the public or the members of either Trade Union, the Registrar shall refuse to register the change of name.

(3) Save as provided in sub-section (2), the Registrar shall, if he is satisfied that the provisions of this Regulation in respect of change of name have been complied with, register the change of name in the register referred to in Section 8, and the change of name shall have effect from the date of such registration.

(4) The Registrar of the place in which the head office of the amalgamated Trade Union is situated shall, if he is satisfied that the provisions of the Regulation in respect of amalgamation have been complied with and that the Trade Union formed thereby is entitled to registration under Section 8, register the Trade Union in the manner provided in Section 8, and the amalgamation shall have effect from the date of such registration.

25. (1) The change in the name of registered Trade Union shall not affect any rights or obligations of the Trade Union or render defective any legal proceeding by or against the Trade Union and any legal proceeding which might have been continued or commenced by or against by its former name may be continued or commenced by or against it by its new name.

(2) An amalgamation of two or more registered Trade Unions shall not prejudice any right of such Trade Unions or any right of a creditor of any of them.

26. (1) When a registered Trade Union is dissolved, notice of the dissolution signed by seven members and by the Secretary of the Trade Union shall, within fourteen days of the dissolution be sent to the Registrar and shall be registered by him if he is satisfied that the dissolution has been effected in accordance with the rules of the Trade Union, and the dissolution shall have effect from the date of such registration.

(2) Where the dissolution of a registered Trade Union has been registered and the rules of the Trade Union do not provide for the distribution of funds of the Trade Union on dissolution, the Registrar shall divide the funds amongst the members in such manner as may be prescribed.

27. (1) There shall be sent annually to the Registrar, on or before such date as may be prescribed, a general statement, audited in the prescribed manner, of all receipts and expenditure of every registered Trade Union during the year ending on the last day of Karkatakam next preceding such prescribed date, and of the assets and liabilities of the Trade Union existing on such last day of Karkatakam. The statement shall be prepared in such form and shall comprise such particulars as may be prescribed.

(2) Together with the general statement there shall be sent to the Registrar a statement showing all changes of officers made by the Trade Union during the year to which the general statement refers, together also with a copy of the rules of the Trade Union corrected up to the date of the despatch thereof to the Registrar.

(3) A copy of every alteration made in the rules of a registered Trade Union shall be sent to the Registrar within fifteen days of the making of the alteration.

CHAPTER IV.

Rules.

28. (1) Our Government may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Regulation.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the manner in which Trade Unions and the rules of Trade Unions shall be registered and the fees payable on registration;

(b) the transfer of registration in the case of any registered Trade Union which has changed its head office from one place to another;

(c) the manner in which, and the qualifications of persons by whom the accounts of registered Trade Unions or of any class of such Unions shall be audited;

(d) the conditions subject to which inspection of documents kept by the Registrar shall be allowed and the fees which shall be chargeable in respect of such inspections;

(e) the powers, duties and functions of the Registrar or Registrars and the relationship between the various Registrars when there are more than one Registrar; and

(f) any matter which is to be or may be prescribed.

29. (1) The power to make rules conferred by Section 28 is subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication of rules.

(2) The date to be specified in accordance with clause (c) of Section 6 of the Travancore General Clauses Regulation of 1872, as that at or after which a draft of rules proposed to be made will be taken into consideration shall not be less than three months from the date on which the draft of the proposed rules was published.

(3) Rules so made shall be published in Our Government Gazette and on such publication shall have effect as if enacted in this Regulation.

CHAPTER V.

Penalties and Procedure.

30. (1) Whoever in contravention of the provisions of Section 14, Sub-section (2) forms any Trade Union or takes any part in the functions of any Trade Union shall for every such act be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalties.

(2) If default is made on the part of any registered Trade Union in giving any notice or sending any statement or other document as required by or under any provision of this Regulation, every officer or other person bound by the rules of the Trade Union to give or send the same, or, if there is no such officer or person, every member of the executive of the Trade Union, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five rupees, and in the case of continuing default, with an additional fine which may extend to five rupees for each week after the first during which the default continues:

Provided that the aggregate fine shall not exceed fifty rupees.

(3) Any person who wilfully makes or causes to be made, any false entry in, or any omission from the general statement required by Section 27 or in or from any copy of rules or of alterations of rules sent to the Registrar under that Section, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

31. Any person who, with intent to deceive, gives to any member of a registered Trade Union or to any person intending or applying to become a member of such Trade Union any document purporting to be a copy of the rules of the Trade Union or of any alterations to the same which he knows, or has reason to believe is not a correct copy of such rules or alterations as or for the time being in force, or any person who, with the like intent, gives a copy of any rules of an unregistered Trade Union to any person on the pretence that such rules are the rules of a registered Trade Union, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

32. (1) No court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall take cognisance of any offence under this Regulation.

(2) No court shall take cognisance of any offence under this Regulation, unless complaint thereof has been made by, or with the previous sanction of, the Registrar, or, in the case of an offence under Section 31, by the person to whom the copy was given, within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

Annexure I.
THE TRAVANCORE ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESER-
VATION BILL.

(As passed by the Sri Mulain Assembly.)

A Regulation to provide for the preservation of ancient monuments and of objects of archaeological, historical or artistic interest.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the preservation of ancient monuments, for the exercise of control over traffic in antiquities and over excavation in certain places, and for the protection and acquisition in certain cases of ancient monuments and of objects of archaeological, historical or artistic interest; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent. 1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Ancient Monuments Preservation Regulation.

(2) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

Definitions. 2. In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context.—

(1) "ancient monument" means any structure, erection or monument or any tumulus or place of interment, or any cave, rock-sculpture, inscription or monolith, which is of historical, archaeological or artistic interest, or any remains thereof and includes—

(a) the site of an ancient monument;

(b) such portion of land adjoining the site of an ancient monument as may be required for fencing or covering in or otherwise preserving such monument; and

(c) the means of access to and convenient inspection of an ancient monument :

(2) "antiquities" includes any movable objects which Our Government, by reason of their historical or archaeological associations, may think it necessary to protect against decay, injury, removal or dispersion ;

(3) "Commissioner" includes any officer authorised by Our Government to perform the duties of a Commissioner under this Regulation.

(4) "maintain" and "maintenance" include the fencing, covering in, repairing, restoring and cleansing of a protected monument, and the doing of any act which may be necessary for the purpose of maintaining a protected monument or of securing convenient access thereto : and

(5) "owner" includes the karavanan of a marumakkathayam Tarwad, a joint owner invested with powers of management on behalf of himself and other joint owners, and any manager or trustee exercising powers of management over an ancient monument, and the successor in title of any such owner and the successor in office or any such manager or trustee :

Provided that nothing in this Regulation shall be deemed to extend the powers which may lawfully be exercised by such karanavan, manager or trustee.

3. (1) Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazettee, declare an ancient monument to be a protected monument within the meaning of this Regulation.

(2) A copy of every notification published under sub-section (1) shall be fixed up in a conspicuous place on or near the monument, together with an intimation that any objections to the issue of the notification received by Our Government within one month from the date when it is so fixed up will be taken into consideration.

(3) On the expiry of the said period of one month, Our Government, after considering the objections, if any, shall confirm or withdraw the notification.

(4) A notification published under this section shall, unless and until it is withdrawn, be conclusive evidence of the fact that the monument to which it relates is an ancient monument within the meaning of this Regulation.

ANCIENT MONUMENTS.

Acquisition of rights in or guardianship of an ancient monument.

4. (1) The Division Peishkar, with the sanction of Our Government, may purchase or take a lease of any protected monument.

(2) The Division Peishkar, with the like sanction, may accept a gift or bequest of any protected monument.

(3) The owner of any protected monument may, by written instrument, constitute the Commissioner the guardian of the monument, and the Commissioner may, with the sanction of Our Government, accept such guardianship.

(4) When the Commissioner has accepted the guardianship of a monument under sub-section (3), the owner shall, except as expressly provided in this Regulation, continue to have the same right, title and interest in and to the monument as if the Commissioner had not been constituted guardian thereof.

(5) When the Commissioner has accepted the guardianship of a monument under sub-section (3), the provisions of this Regulation relating to agreements executed under Section 5 shall apply to the written instrument executed under the said sub-section.

(6) Where a protected monument is without an owner, the Commissioner may assume the guardianship of the monument.

Preservation of ancient monument by agreement with the owner.

5. (1) The Division Peishkar may, with the previous sanction of Our Government, propose to the owner to enter into an agreement with Our Government for the preservation of any protected monument in his district.

(2) An agreement under this section may provide for the following matters, or for such of them as it may be found expedient to include in the agreement :

- (a) the maintenance of the monument ;
- (b) the custody of the monument, and the duties of any person who may be employed to watch it ;
- (c) the restriction of the owner's right to destroy, remove, alter or deface the monument or to build on or near the site of the monument ;
- (d) the facilities of access to be permitted to the public or to any portion of the public and to persons deputed by the owner or the Division Peishkar to inspect or maintain the monument ;
- (e) the notice to be given to Our Government in case the land on which the monument is situated is offered for sale by the owner, and the right to be reserved to Our Government to purchase such land, or any specified portion of such land, at its market value ;
- (f) the payment of any expenses incurred by the owner or by Our Government in connection with the preservation of the monument ;
- (g) the proprietary or other rights which are to vest in Our Government in respect of the monument when any expenses are incurred by Our Government in connection with the preservation of the monument ;
- (h) the appointment of an authority to decide any dispute arising out of the agreement ; and
- (i) any matter connected with the preservation of the monument which is a proper subject of agreement between the owner and Our Government.

(3) An agreement under this section may be executed by the Division Peishkar on behalf of Our Government, but shall not be so executed until it has been approved by Our Government.

(4) The terms of an agreement under this section may be altered from time to time with the sanction of Our Government and with the consent of the owner.

(5) With the previous sanction of Our Government, the Division Peishkar may terminate an agreement under this section on giving six months' notice in writing to the owner.

(6) The owner may terminate an agreement under this section on giving six months notice to the Division Peishkar.

(7) An agreement under this section shall be binding on any person claiming to be owner of the monument to which it relates, through or under a party by whom or on whose behalf the agreement was executed.

(8) Any rights acquired by Our Government in respect of expenses incurred in protecting or preserving a monument shall not be affected by the termination of an agreement under this section.

6. (1) If the owner is unable, by reason of infancy or other disability, to act for himself, the person legally competent to act on his behalf may exercise the powers conferred upon an owner by section 5.

Owners under disability or not in possession.

(2) In the case of village property, the person exercising powers of management over such property may exercise the powers conferred upon an owner by section 5.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to empower any person not being of the same religion as the persons in whose behalf he is acting to make or execute an agreement relating to a protected monument which or any part of which is periodically used for the religious worship or observances of that religion.

7. (1) If the Division Peishkar apprehends that the owner or occupier of a monument intends to destroy, remove, alter, deface, or imperil the monument or to build on or near the site thereof in contravention of the terms of an agreement for its preservation under section 5, the Division Peishkar may make an order prohibiting any such contravention of the agreement.

Enforcement of agreement.

(2) If an owner or other person who is bound by an agreement for the preservation or maintenance of a monument under section 5 refuses to do any act which is in the opinion of the Division Peishkar necessary to such preservation or maintenance, or neglects to do any such act within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Division Peishkar, the Division Peishkar may authorise any person to do any such act and the expense of doing any such act or such portion of the expense as the owner may be liable to pay under the agreement may be recovered from the owner as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

(3) A person aggrieved by an order made under this section may appeal to Our Dewan who may cancel or modify it and whose decision shall be final.

(4) A copy of the order directing recovery of the expenses from the owner under subsection (2) shall be served upon him.

(5) An appeal under sub-section (3), shall not lie if not preferred within sixty days of the date of service of the copy of the order under sub-section (4) except where he satisfies Our Dewan that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the said period.

8. 12. (1) No amendment of the bye-laws of a registered society whether by way of cancellation, addition or alteration shall be valid until approved by the resolution of a general meeting and registered under this Regulation, for which purpose, a copy of the amendment shall be forwarded to the Registrar.

(2) If the Registrar is satisfied that any amendment of the bye-laws is not contrary to this Regulation or the rules he may, if he thinks fit, register the amendment. In the case of refusal an appeal shall be to Our Government within two months from the date of the issue of the order of refusal.

(3) When the registrar registers an amendment of the bye-laws of a society, he shall issue to the society a copy of the amendment certified by him, which shall be conclusive evidence that the same is duly registered.

GENERAL MEETINGS.

13. Every registered society shall call an annual general meeting of its members within the time prescribed therefor.

Annual general meetings.

15. A special general meeting may be called at any time by a majority of the Committee and shall be called within one month—

Special general meeting.

- (1) on the requisition in writing of not less than one-fifth of the members of the society, or
(2) at the instance of the Registrar.

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO REGISTRATION.

16. A Society may, by a resolution of a general meeting of its members and with the approval of the Registrar, change its name; but such change shall not affect any right or obligation of the society, or of any of its members, or past members and any legal proceedings pending may be continued by or against the society under its new name.

18. (1) (a) Any registered society may, at a general meeting of its members specially called for the purpose of which at least seven clear days' notice shall be given to its members, resolve to divide itself into two or more societies. The resolution (hereinafter in this sub-section referred to as the preliminary resolution) shall contain proposals for the division of the assets and liabilities of the society among the new societies into which it is proposed to divide it and prescribe the area of operations of, and specify the members who will constitute, each of the new societies.

(b) (i) A copy of the preliminary resolution shall be sent to all the members and creditors of the society.

(ii) Any member of the society may, notwithstanding any bye-law to the contrary, by notice given to the society within a period of three months from his receipt of the preliminary resolution, intimate his intention not to become a member of any of the new societies.

(iii) Any creditor of the society may, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, by notice given to the society within the said period, intimate his intention to demand a return of the amount due to him.

(c) After the expiry of three months from the receipt of the preliminary resolution by all the members and creditors of the society, a general meeting of the members of the society of which at least fifteen clear days' notice shall be given to the members, shall be convened for considering the preliminary resolution. If at such meeting the preliminary resolution is confirmed by a resolution passed by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members present, either without changes or with such changes as, in the opinion of the Registrar, are not material, he may, subject to the provisions of clause (c) and Section 10 register the new societies and the bye-laws thereof. On such registration, the registration of the old society shall be deemed to have been cancelled.

The opinion of the Registrar as to whether the changes made in the preliminary resolution are or are not material shall be final and no appeal shall lie therefrom.

(d) At the meeting referred to in clause (c) provision shall be made by another resolution for—

(i) the repayment of the share capital of all the members who have given notice under sub-clause (ii) of clause (b) and

(ii) the satisfaction of the claims of all the creditors who have given notice under sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) :

Provided that no member or creditor shall be entitled to such repayment or satisfaction until the preliminary resolution is confirmed as provided in clause (e).

(e) If, within such time as the Registrar considers reasonable, the share capital of the members referred to in clause (d) is not repaid or the claims of the creditors referred to in that clause, are not satisfied, the Registrar may refuse to register the new societies.

(f) The registration of the new societies shall be a sufficient conveyance to vest the assets and liabilities of the original society in the new societies in the manner specified in the preliminary resolution as confirmed under clause (c).

(2) (a) Two or more registered societies may, at general meetings of their respective members specially called for the purpose of which at least seven clear days' notice shall be given to their respective members, resolve to amalgamate into one society. This resolution is hereinafter in this subsection referred to as the preliminary resolution.

(b) (1) A copy of the preliminary resolution of each society shall be sent to all the members and creditors thereof.

(2) Any member of any such society may, notwithstanding any bye-law to the contrary, by notice given to the society of which he is a member within a period of three months from his receipt of the preliminary resolution, intimate his intention not to become a member of the new society.

(3) Any creditor of any such society may, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary by notice given to the society of which he is a creditor within the said period, intimate his intention to demand a return of the amount due to him.

(c) After the expiry of three months from the receipt of the preliminary resolution by all the members and creditors of all the societies a joint meeting of the members of such societies of which at least fifteen clear days' notice shall be given to them, shall be convened for considering the preliminary resolution. If, at such meeting the preliminary resolution is confirmed by a resolution passed by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members present either without changes or with such changes as in the opinion of the Registrar, are not material, he may, subject to the provisions of clause (e) and Section 10, register the new society and the bye-laws thereof. On such registration, the registration of the old societies shall be deemed to have been cancelled.

The opinion of the Registrar as to whether the changes made in the preliminary resolution are or are not material shall be final and no appeal shall lie therefrom.

(d) At the joint meeting referred to in clause (c), provision shall be made by another resolution for—

(i) the repayment of the share capital of all the members who have given notice under sub-clause (ii) of clause (b) and

(ii) the satisfaction of the claims of all the creditors who have given notice under sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) :

Provided that no member or creditor shall be entitled to such repayment or satisfaction until the preliminary resolution is confirmed as provided in clause (e).

(e) If, within such time as the Registrar considers reasonable, the share capital of the members referred to in clause (d) is not repaid or the claims of the creditors referred to in that clause are not satisfied, the Registrar may refuse to register the new society.

(f) The registration of the new society shall be a sufficient conveyance to vest in it all the assets and liabilities of the original societies.

RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF MEMBERS.

17. (1) No member of a registered society shall, save as otherwise provided in sub-section (2), exercise the rights of a member unless or until he has made such payment to the society in respect of membership or acquired such interest in the society as may be prescribed by the rules and bye-laws of such society.

Member not to exercise rights till due payments made.

(2) In the case of a society registered after the commencement of this Regulation, the persons who have signed the application to register the society may elect a Committee to conduct the affairs of the society for a period of three months from the date of registration or for such farther period as the Registrar may consider desirable :

Provided that the Committee shall cease to function as soon as the members of the society have elected a Committee in accordance with its bye-laws.

18. (1) No member of any registered society shall have more than one vote in the affairs of the society provided that in the case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a casting vote.

Votes of members.

(2) A registered society which has invested any part of its funds in the shares of another registered society may appoint any of its members not disqualified for such appointment under any rules prescribed in that behalf to vote in the affairs of such other registered society.

19. (1) The transfer or charge of the share or interest of a member in the capital of a registered society shall be subject to such conditions as to maximum holding as may be prescribed by this Regulation or by the rules.

Restrictions on transfer of share or interest.

(2) A member shall not transfer any share held by him or his interest in the capital or property of any society or any part thereof unless :—

(a) he has held such share or interest for not less than one year ; and
(b) the transfer or charge is made to the society or to a member of the society or to a person whose application for membership has been accepted by the society.

DUTIES OF REGISTERED SOCIETIES.

20. Every registered society shall have an address registered in accordance with the rules, to which all notices and communications may be sent, and shall give notice in writing to the Registrar of any change in the said address within thirty days of such change.

Every registered society shall keep open to inspection, free of charge at all reasonable times at the registered address of the society—

- (a) a copy of this Regulation,
- (b) a copy of the Rules governing such society,
- (c) a copy of the bye laws of such society, and
- (d) the register of its members.

22. (1) The Registrar shall by himself or by some person authorized by him in writing by general or special order in this behalf audit the accounts of every society once at least in every year.

(2) The audit under sub-section (1) shall include an examination of overdue debts, if any, the verification of cash balance and securities and a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the society.

(3) The Registrar or other person auditing the accounts of any society shall have free access to the books, accounts and vouchers of such society and shall be allowed to verify its cash balances and securities.

The Committee, Secretary and other officers of the society shall furnish to the Registrar or other person appointed to audit the accounts of a society all such information as to its transactions and working as the Registrar or such person may require and shall produce the cash for verification with the cash balance when demanded by the Registrar or the person appointed to audit.

(4) The Registrar and every other person appointed to audit the accounts of a society shall have power when necessary—

(i) to summon at the time of his audit any officer, agent, servant or member of the society who he has reason to believe can give valuable information in regard to any transaction of the society or the management of its affairs, or

(ii) to require the production of any book or document relating to the affairs of the society or any cash or securities belonging to the society by the officer, agent, servant or member in possession of such book, document, cash or securities.

PRIVILEGES OF REGISTERED SOCIETIES.

23. The registration of a society shall render it a body corporate by the name under which it is registered, with perpetual succession and a common seal, and with power to hold property, to enter into contracts, to institute and defend suits and other legal proceedings and to do all things necessary for the purposes for which it was constituted.

24. Subject to the prior claim if any, of Our Government in respect of land revenue or any money recoverable as land revenue or of a landlord in respect of rent, any debt or outstanding demand owing to a society by any member, or past member or deceased member shall be a first charge :

(1) upon crops or other agricultural produce raised in whole or in part with a loan taken from the society by such member or past member or deceased member ; and

(2) upon any cattle, fodder for cattle, agricultural or industrial implements or machinery or raw materials for manufacture or workshops, godown or place of business supplied to or purchased by such member or past member or deceased member in whole or in part from any loan whether in money or goods given him by the society :

Provided that nothing contained in this clause shall affect the claim of any bona fide purchaser or transferee for value without notice of any such crops or other agricultural produce, cattle, fodder for cattle or raw materials for manufacture or work-shops or agricultural or industrial implements.

25 A registered society shall have a charge upon the share or interest in the capital and on the deposits of a member or past or deceased member and upon any dividend, bonus or profits payable to a member or past member or the estate of a deceased member in respect of any debt due from such member or past member to the society, and may set off any sum credited or payable to a member or past member or the estate of a deceased member in or towards payment of any such debt.

26 Subject to the provisions of Section 25, the share or interest of a member in the capital of a registered society shall not be liable to attachment or sale under any decree or order of a Court of Justice in respect of any debt or liability incurred by such member, and neither the Receiver under the law of insolvency for the time being in force nor a Receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100 shall be entitled to or have any claim on such share or interest.

27. (1) On the death of a member of a society, such society may, within a period of one year from the death of such member, transfer the share or interest of the deceased member to a person or persons nominated in accordance with the bye-laws of the society, if duly admitted a member of the society in accordance with the rules or the bye-laws of the society, or if there is no person so nominated, to such person as may appear to the committee to be the heir or legal representative of the deceased member if duly admitted a member of the society, or may pay to such nominee, heir or legal representative, as the case may be, a sum representing the value of such member's share or interest ascertained in accordance with the rules or bye-laws:

Provided that such nominee, heir or legal representative, as the case may be, may require that payment shall be made by the society within one year from the death of the member of the value of the share or interest of such member ascertained as aforesaid.

(2) A society shall, subject to the provisions of Section 25 and unless prevented by an order of a competent court, pay to such nominee, heir or legal representative as the case may be, all other moneys due to the deceased member from the society.

(3) All transfer and payments made by a society in accordance with the provisions of this Section shall be valid and effectual against any demand made upon the society by any other person.

28. The liability of a past member or of the estate of a deceased member for the debts of a registered society as they existed on the date of his ceasing to be a member or of his decease as the case may be, shall continue for a period of two years from such date.

29. Any register or list of members or shares kept by any registered society shall be prima facie evidence of any of the following particulars entered therein—

(a) the date on which the name of any person was entered in such register or list as a member.

(b) the date on which any such person ceased to be a member.

30 A copy of any entry in any book, register or list regularly kept in the course of business in the possession of a society shall, if duly certified in such manner as may be prescribed by the rules, be admissible in evidence of the existence of the entry and shall be admitted as evidence of the matters and transactions therein recorded in every case where, and to the same extent to which, the original entry would, if produced, have been admissible to prove such matters.

31 Whenever a decision or an award of the Registrar or arbitrator or an order of the Registrar or liquidator is obtained by a registered society for the realisation of money, any such money may be recovered as arrears of public revenue under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, 1 of 1088 subject to such rules, if any, as may be prescribed, and Our Government may for such purposes confer on the Registrar or any Officer subordinate to him the powers of a Division Peishkar or other Officer under the said Regulation ;

Provided that the powers of a Division Peishkar shall not be conferred on any Officer who is inferior in rank to that of an Assistant Registrar.

Explanation—Any right of appeal or application for revision or Civil suit available in respect of the orders or actions under the Revenue Recovery Regulation, 1 of 1088 shall be available to the parties,

Exemption from compulsory registration of instruments relating to shares and debentures of registered society. 32 Nothing in Section 10, sub-section 1), clauses (a) and (b) of the Travancore Registration Regulation, 1087 shall apply to :—

(1) any instrument relating to shares in a registered society notwithstanding that the assets of such society consist in whole or in part of immovable property ; or

(2) any debenture issued by any such society and not creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest to or in immovable property except in so far as it entitles the holder to the security afforded by a registered instrument whereby the society has mortgaged, conveyed or otherwise transferred the whole or part of its immovable property or any interest therein to trustees upon trust for the benefit of the holders of such debentures ; or

(3) any endorsement upon or transfer of any debenture issued by any such society.

Power to exempt from Income-tax, Municipal tax, Stamp duty, Registration and Court fees. 33. Our Government by notification in Our Government Gazette, may in the case of any society or class of societies remit—

(1) the income-tax or supertax payable in respect of the profits of the society, or of the dividends or other payments received by the members of the society on account of profits or in respect of interest on securities held by the society ;

(2) any tax payable under the law of Municipalities for the time being in force;

(3) the stamp duty with which, under any law for the time being in force, instruments executed by or on behalf of a society or by an officer or member and relating to the business of such society or any class of such instruments, or awards of the Registrar or arbitrators under this Regulation are respectively chargeable; and

(4) any fee payable under the law of Registration or of Court fees for the time being in force.

34. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other enactment, Our Government may, subject to such rules as may be prescribed in this behalf, grant loans to, take share in, or give financial assistance in any other form to any registered society.

Explanation. - Nothing in this Section shall be construed as entitling Our Government to become a member of any society without the society admitting Government as a member.

PROPERTY AND FUNDS OF REGISTERED SOCIETIES

Restrictions on loans. 35. (1) A registered society shall not make a loan to any person other than a member:

Provided that, with the general or special sanction of the Registrar a registered society may make loans to another registered society.

(2) Save with the sanction of the Registrar, a registered society shall not lend money on the security of imovable property other than agricultural produce.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (1) and (2), a registered society may make a loan to a depositor on the security of his deposit.

(e) in the shares or on the security of any other registered society in Travancore, provided that no such investment shall be made in the shares of any society other than one with limited liability; or

(f) with any bank or person carrying on the business of banking approved for this purpose by the Registrar; or

(g) in any other mode permitted by the rules.

(2) Any investments or deposits made before the commencement of this Regulation which would have been valid if this Regulation had been in force are hereby ratified confirmed.

Restrictions on dividend. 38. No society shall pay a dividend to its members at a rate exceeding 7½ per cent.

Reserve Fund. 39. (1) Every society which does or can derive a profit from its transactions shall maintain a Reserve Fund.

(2) In the case of a Society with unlimited liability, at least one-fourth of the net profits of the society each year shall be carried to the Reserve Fund and in the case of any other society at least one-tenth of the net profits of the Society each year shall be carried to the Reserve Fund; and such Reserve Fund shall not be used in the ordinary business of the Society but may, subject to the provisions of Section 37, be invested as Our Government may by general or special order direct or may with the previous sanction of Our Government be used in part for some public purpose likely to promote the objects of this Regulation or for some purposes of local interest or may be drawn upon to the extent of not more than twenty-five per cent thereof for purposes sanctioned by the Registrar.

40 Subject to the provisions of Section 38, the balance of the profits of a society after making the prescribed provision for the Reserve Fund may, together with any available profits of past years, be distributed among its members, provided that no distribution of profits shall be made without the sanction of the Registrar.

41. Any society may establish a provident fund for its members out of contributions from such members in accordance with bye-laws made by the society in this behalf and may contribute to such provident fund from its net profits, after the prescribed payments have been made to the Reserve Fund, provided that such provident fund shall not be used in the business of the society but shall be invested under the provisions of Section 36; and provided further that no part of such provident fund shall be considered as an asset of such society.

42 Any registered society may after one-fourth, or one-tenth, as the case may be, of the net profit in any year has been carried to a reserve fund, contribute, subject to the approval of the Registrar, an amount not exceeding 7½ per cent of the remaining net profits to any charitable purpose as defined in Section II of the Charitable Endowments Regulation of 1102 M. E.

INQUIRY AND INSPECTION.

43 (1) The Registrar may of his own motion, and shall on the application of the majority of the Committee or of not less than one-third of the members, hold an inquiry or direct some person authorised by him by order in writing in this behalf to hold an inquiry into the constitution, working and financial condition of a registered society.

(2) The Registrar or the person authorised by him under sub-section (1) shall have the following powers, namely:—

(a) He shall, at all reasonable times, have free access to the books, accounts, documents, securities, cash and other properties belonging to or in the custody of the society and may summon any person in possession or responsible for the custody of any such books, accounts, documents, securities, cash or other properties to produce the same at any place at the headquarters of the society or any branch thereof

(b) He may summon any person who he has reason to believe has knowledge of any of the affairs of the society to appear before him at any place at the headquarters of the society or any branch thereof and may examine such person on oath.

(c) (i) He may, notwithstanding any rule or bye-law prescribing the period of notice for a general meeting of the society, require the officers of the society to call a general meeting at such time and place at the headquarters of the society or any branch thereof and to determine such matters as may be directed by him and if the officers of the society refuse or fail to call such a meeting, he shall have power to call it himself.

(ii) Any meeting called under clause (i) shall have all the powers of a general meeting called under the bye-laws of the society and its proceedings shall be regulated by such bye-laws.

44. (1) The Registrar may, on the application of a creditor of a registered society inspect or direct some person authorised by him in this behalf by a general or special order in writing to inspect the books of the society.

(2) No inspection shall be made or directed under sub-section (1) unless the creditor—

(a) satisfies the Registrar that the debt is a sum then due and that he has demanded payment thereof and has not received satisfaction within a reasonable time; and

(b) deposits with the Registrar such sum as security for the costs of the proposed inspection as the Registrar may require.

(3) Where an inspection is made under sub-section (1), the Registrar shall communicate the results of such inspection to the creditor to whom the society is indebted.

45. Where an inquiry is held under Section 43 or an inspection is made under Section 44, the Registrar may after giving the parties an opportunity to be heard, apportion the costs, or such part of the costs as he may think right, between the society, the members creditor demanding or an inquiry or inspection and the officers or former officers of the society in accordance with such rules as may be made by our Government.

46. Any sum awarded by way of costs under Section 45 may be recovered as if it were an arrear of Land Revenue.

SUPERSESSION OF COMMITTEE OF SOCIETY.

47. (1) If, in the opinion of the Registrar the Committee of any registered society is not functioning properly, he may, after giving an opportunity to the Committee to state its objections and after recording a finding that the objections are unsatisfactory, (if such be his finding) call upon the members of the society to appoint a new Committee within such time, not being less than one month as may be fixed by him. If a new Committee is not appointed accordingly or if the Committee appointed is after trial or six months, found wanting in the opinion of the Registrar, and if the Registrar is of opinion that in the circumstances of the case, it is undesirable to order the cancellation of the Registration of the Society, he may by order in writing, dissolve the Committee, and appoint a suitable Committee consisting of as many members of that Society as he may deem necessary to manage the affairs of the Society for a specific period not exceeding one year. The period specified in such order may, at the discretion of the Registrar, be extended from time to time, provided that such order shall not remain in force for more than two years in the aggregate.

(2) The Committee so appointed by the Registrar shall have all such powers, and responsibilities as a Committee of the Society has according to the bye laws of the society.

(3) The Committee appointed by the Registrar, shall, at the expiry of the period of its appointment, arrange for the constitution of a new Committee in accordance with the bye laws of the society.

(4) Before taking action under sub-section (1) in respect of any society the Registrar shall in the prescribed manner consult such body of persons, if any, as may be prescribed by Our Government, in that behalf, regarding the action and regarding such other matters as may as may be prescribed.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the powers of the Registrar to cancel the registration of any Society under any other section.

DISSOLUTION OF SOCIETY.

48. (1) If the Registrar, after an inquiry has been held under Section 43 or after an inspection has been made under Section 44 or on receipt of an application made by three-fourths of the members of a registered society, is of opinion that the society ought to be dissolved, he may by order in writing cancel the registration of the society. A copy of the order shall forthwith be communicated to society.

(2) Any member of the society may, within two months from the date of the order made under sub-section (1) appeal to Our Government from such order.

(3) Where no appeal is presented within two months from the making of an order cancelling the registration of the society, the order shall take effect on the expiry of that period.

(4) Where an appeal is presented within two months, the order shall not take effect until it is confirmed by Our Government and such confirmation is communicated to the society.

49. Where it is a condition of the registration of a society that it should consist of at least ten members who have attained the age of majority, the Registrar may, by order in writing, cancel the registration of the society if at any time it is proved to his satisfaction that the number of the members has been reduced to less than ten such members.

Effect of cancellation of registration. 50. Where the registration of a society is cancelled the society shall cease to exist as a corporate body ;

(a) in the case of cancellation in accordance with the provisions of Section 48, from the date the order of cancellation takes effect ;

(b) in the case of cancellation in accordance with the provisions of Section 48, from the date of the order.

51. (1) Where the registration of a society is cancelled under Section 48 or Section 49, the Registrar may appoint any person to be liquidator of the society.

(2) Subject to any rules that may be made under this Regulation, the whole of the assets of the society shall, on the appointment of a liquidator under sub-section (1), vest in such liquidator and he shall have power to realise such assets by sale or otherwise.

(3) Such liquidator shall also have power, subject to the control of the Registrar:—

(a) to institute and defend suits and other legal proceedings on behalf of the society by his name of office;

(b) to get disputes referred to arbitration;

(c) to determine from time to time the contribution to be made or remaining to be made by the members or past members or by the estates or nominees, heirs or legal representatives of deceased members or by any officers or former officers, to the assets of the society, such contribution including debts due from such members or persons;

(d) to investigate all claims against the society and subject to the provisions of this Regulation to decide questions of priority arising between claimants;

(e) to pay claims against the society (including interest up to the date of cancellation of registration) according to their respective priorities, if any, in full or rateably as the assets of the society permit, the surplus if any, remaining after payment of the claims being applied in payment of interest from the date of such cancellation at a rate fixed by him but not exceeding the contract rate in any case;

(f) to determine by what persons and in what proportions the costs of the liquidation are to be borne;

(g) to give such directions in regard to the collection and distribution of the assets of the society as may appear to him to be necessary for winding up the affairs of the society; and

(h) to carry on the business of the society so far as may be necessary for the beneficial winding up of the same.

(4) Subject to any rules that may be made under this Regulation, a liquidator appointed under this Section shall, in so far as such powers are necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Section, have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and to compel the production of any books, accounts, documents, securities, cash or other properties belonging to or in the custody of the society by the same means and (so far as may be) in the same manner as is provided in the case of a civil court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100.

(5) When the affairs of the society have been wound up, the liquidator shall deposit the records of the society in such place as the Registrar may direct.

(6) Any person aggrieved by any order of the liquidator may in the prescribed manner appeal to the Registrar against such order within two months from the date of the issue of the order.

Bar of suit in winding up and dissolution matters.

52. Save in so far as is expressly provided in this Regulation.

(a) no Civil court shall take cognizance of any matter connected with the winding up, dissolution or cancellation of the registration of a society under this Regulation, and

(b) no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie or be proceeded with in respect of any order of the liquidator or of the Registrar passed in appeal therefrom except by leave of the Registrar or in case such leave is refused by the Registrar, by leave of the District Court having local jurisdiction and subject to such terms, if any as the Registrar or the District Court as the case may be may impose.

53. After all the liabilities including the paid up share capital of a cancelled society have been met, the surplus assets shall not be divided amongst its members but they shall be devoted to any object or objects described in the bye-laws of the society and when no object is so described to any object of public utility determined by the general meeting of the society and approved by the Registrar or they may in consultation with them either be assigned by the Registrar in whole or in part to any or all of the following :—

- (a) an object of public utility of local or communal interest ;
  - (b) a charitable purpose as defined in Section II of the Charitable Endowments Regulation of 1932 M. E.;
  - (c) the Travancore Co-operative Institute, Trivandrum ;
- or may be placed on deposit with the Central Co-operative Bank until such time as a new society with similar conditions is registered when with the consent of the Registrar such surplus may be credited to the Reserve Fund of such new society.

SURCHARGE AND ATTACHMENT.

54. (1) Where in the course of an audit under Section 22 or an inquiry under Section 43 or an inspection under Section 44 or the winding up of a society, it appears that any person who has taken part in the organisation or management of the society or any past or present officer of the society has misappropriated or fraudulently retained any money or other property or been guilty of breach of trust in relation to the society, the Registrar may, of his own motion or on the application of the Committee or liquidator or of any creditor or contributory, examine into the conduct of such person or officer and make an order requiring him to repay or restore the money or property or any part thereof with interest at such rate as the Registrar thinks just or to contribute such sum to the assets of the society by way of compensation in respect of the misappropriation, fraudulent retention or breach of trust as the Registrar thinks just.

(2) The order of the Registrar under sub-section (1) shall be final unless it is set aside by the District Court having jurisdiction over the area in which the headquarters of the society are situated, on application made by the party aggrieved within three months of the date of the receipt of the order by him.

(3) Any sum ordered under this Section to be repaid to a society or recovered as a contribution to its assets may be recovered on a requisition being made in this behalf to the Division Peishkar by the Registrar in the same manner as arrears of land revenue.

(4) This Section shall apply notwithstanding that such person or officer may have incurred criminal liability by his act.

55. Where the Registrar is satisfied on the application of the liquidator when acting under Section 56 that any person with intent to defeat or when the execution of any order that may be passed against him under clause (c) of sub-section (3) of Section 51 or Section 54.

(a) is about to dispose of the whole or any part of his property, or
(b) is about to cancel or remove the whole or any part of his property, the Registrar may, unless adequate security is furnished, direct the conditional attachment of the said property or such part thereof as he thinks necessary. Such attachment shall be treated as an attachment or distraint as the case may be, effected by the Tahsildar of the place where the property attached is situated under the provisions of the Revenue Recovery Regulation, I of 1938, and all the remedies available to aggrieved persons under the provisions of the said Regulation in respect of any attachment or distraint effected by the Tahsildar shall also be available.

ARBITRATION.

56. (1) If any dispute touching the business of a registered society (other than a dispute regarding disciplinary action taken by the Society or its Committee against a paid servant of the Society) arises :—

(a) among members, past members and persons claiming through members, past members and deceased members, or

(b) between a member, past member or person claiming through a member, past member or deceased member and the society, its Committee or any officer agent or servant past or present of the society, or

(c) between the society or its Committee and any officer, agent or servant past or present of the society, or

(d) between the society and any other registered society, such dispute shall be referred to the Registrar for decision.

Explanation. A claim by a registered Society for any debt or demand due to it from a member past member or the nominee, heir or legal representative of a deceased member, whether such debt or demand be admitted or not, is a dispute touching the business of the Society within the meaning of this sub-section.

(2) The Registrar may, on receipt of such reference,

(a) decide the dispute himself, or

(b) transfer it for disposal to any person who has been invested by Our Government with powers in that behalf; or

(c) subject to such rules as may be prescribed, refer it for disposal to an arbitrator or arbitrators :

Provided that if any party to the dispute applies for action being taken under clause (c), the Registrar shall act accordingly.

(3) Subject to such rules as may be prescribed, the Registrar may withdraw any reference transferred under Clause (b) of sub-section (2) or referred under clause (c) of that sub-section and deal with it in the manner provided in the said sub-section.

(4) The Registrar, may, of his motion or on the application of a party to a reference, revise any decision thereon by the person to whom such reference was transferred or by the arbitrator or arbitrators to whom it was referred :

Provided that where the decision sought to be revised is a decision made by arbitrator or arbitrators appointed in pursuance of the provisions of the proviso to sub-section (2) the Registrar shall not modify the decision but may, if he thinks it necessary or desirable, refer the dispute again as under clause (c) of sub-section (2).

57. (1) Any decision passed by the Registrar under clause (a) of sub-section (2) of Section 56 or under sub-section (4) of the same Section shall be final and shall not be called in question in any civil court.

"Provided that it shall be competent to Our Government, subject to such rules, if any, as may be prescribed, to revise any decision passed by the Registrar under clause (a) of sub-section (2) of Section 56".

(2) Any decision that may be passed by the person to whom a reference is transferred or by the arbitrator or arbitrators to whom it is referred under sub-section (2) of Section 56 shall save as otherwise provided in sub-section (4) of the same section, be final and shall not be called in question in any civil court.

58. Wherever in this Regulation it is provided that the Registrar or person duly authorised by general or special order in writing by the Registrar in this behalf shall hold an inquiry under Section 43 or shall wind up a society or shall arbitrate, the Registrar, or person authorised, as the case may be, shall subject to such rules as may be passed by Our Government for the payment of batta to the witnesses, have the power to summon and enforce the attendance at the headquarters of the society concerned of witnesses including the parties interested or any of them and to compel them to give evidence, and to compel the production of documents by the same means and as far as possible in the same manner as is provided in the case of a civil court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 110.

59. Every order passed by the liquidator under Section 51, or by the Registrar or his nominee or arbitrators on disputes referred to him or them under Section 51 or under Section or by Our Government under the proviso to Section 57, sub Section (1), 56 shall, if not carried out be executed—

(a) on a certificate signed by the Registrar or a liquidator by any civil court having local jurisdiction in the same manner as a decree of such court; or

(b) according to the law for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of land revenue, provided that any application for the recovery in such manner of any such sum shall be made to the Division Peishkar and shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by the Registrar or by any one to whom the said power has been delegated by the Registrar.

OFFENCES AND PENALTIES.

60. It shall be an offence under this Regulation if—

(a) a registered society or an officer or member thereof, in contravention of the provisions of this Regulation willfully makes a false return or furnishes false information or willfully neglects or omits to call a general meeting or special meeting of the Society, or

Provided that nothing in the Section shall apply to the use by any person or his successor in interest of any name or title under which he traded or carried on business at the date on which the Co-operative Societies Regulation (X of 1939) came into operation.

(2) Whoever contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees and in the case of a continuing offence, with further fine of five rupees for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction therefor.

63. Any registered society or any officer or member thereof or any other person guilty of an offence under this Regulation for which no punishment is expressly provided herein shall be punishable with fine not exceeding fifty rupees

Punishment for offences not otherwise provided for.

Cognizance of offences

64. (1) No court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence under this Regulation

(2) Every offence under this Regulation shall, for the purposes of the Code of Criminal Procedure, be deemed to be non-cognizable.

(3) No prosecution shall be instituted under this Regulation without the previous sanction of the Registrar. Such sanction shall not be given without giving the party concerned an opportunity to be heard.

MISCELLANEOUS.

65. Our Government or the Registrar may call for and examine the record of any enquiry or the proceedings of any officer subordinate to them or him for the purpose of satisfying themselves or himself as to the legality or propriety of any decision or order passed and as to the regularity of the proceedings of such officer. If in any case it shall appear to Our Government or the Registrar that any decision or order or proceedings so called for should be modified, annulled, or revoked, Our Government or the Registrar, as the case may be, may pass such order thereon as to them or him may seem fit. The revising authority may also pass any interim order or such conditions or otherwise as it deems fit.

Power of Government and Registrar to call for proceedings of subordinate officers and to pass orders thereon.

66. All sums due from a registered society or from an officer, former officer, member or past or deceased member of a registered society as such to Our Government including any costs awarded to Our Government in any proceeding under this Regulation may be recovered in the same manner as arrears of land revenue.

67. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Regulation, Our Government may, by special order in each case and subject to such conditions, if any, as they may impose, exempt any society from any of the requirements of this Regulation as to registration.

68. Our Government may, by general or special order, exempt any registered society from any of the provisions of this Regulation or may direct that such provisions shall apply to such society with such modifications as may be specified in the order.

69. The provisions of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1932 shall not apply to registered societies.

70. (1) Every society now existing which has been registered under the Co-operative Societies Regulation (X of 1939) shall be deemed to be registered under this Regulation and its bye-laws shall, so far as the same are not inconsistent with the express provisions of this Regulation, continue in force until altered or rescinded.

(2) All appointments, rules and orders made, notifications and notices issued and suits and other proceedings instituted under the said Regulation shall, so far as may be, be deemed to have been respectively made, issued and instituted under this Regulation.

71. No act of a registered society or any committee or of any officer of the society, shall be deemed to be invalid by reason only of some defect in the organisation of the society or in the formation of the general body or in the appointment or election of the officer or on the ground that he was disqualified for his office.

72. All references to the Co-operative Societies Regulation (X of 1939) occurring in any enactment for the time being in force shall be construed as references to this Regulation.

- (iii) any agreement in consideration of the sale of the goodwill of a business or of instruction in any profession, trade or handicraft.

CHAPTER II.

Registration of Trade Unions.

3. Our Government may appoint any person to be the Registrar of Trade Unions for the whole State or for any particular portions of the State.

4. Any seven or more members of a Trade Union may, by subscribing their names to the rules of the Trade Union and by otherwise complying with the provisions of this Regulation with respect to the registration, apply for registration of the Trade Union under this Regulation.

5. (1) Every application for registration of a Trade Union shall be made to the Registrar and shall be accompanied by a copy of the rules of the Trade Union and a statement of the following particulars namely :—

(a) the names, occupations and addresses of the members making the application ;

(b) the name of the Trade Union and the address of its head office; and

(c) the titles, names, ages, addresses and occupations of the officers of the Trade Union.

(2) Where a Trade Union has been in existence for more than one year before the making of an application for its registration, there shall be delivered to the Registrar, together with the application, a general statement of the assets and liabilities of the Trade Union prepared in such form and containing such particulars as may be prescribed.

6. A Trade Union shall not be entitled to registration under this Regulation, unless the executive thereof is constituted in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation, and the rules thereof provide for the following matters, namely :—

(a) the name of the Trade Union ;

(b) the whole of the objects for which the Trade Union has been established ;

(c) the whole of the purposes for which the general funds of the Trade Union shall be applicable, all of which purposes shall be purposes to which such funds are lawfully applicable under this Regulation ;

(d) the maintenance of a list of the members of the Trade Union and adequate facilities for the inspection thereof by the officers and members of the Trade Union ;

(e) the admission of ordinary members who shall be persons actually engaged or employed in any trade or industry with which the Trade Union is connected and also the admission of the number of honorary or temporary members as officers required under Section 21 to form the executive of the Trade Union ;

(f) the conditions under which any member shall be entitled to any benefit assured by the rules and under which any fine or forfeiture may be imposed on the members ;

(g) the manner in which the rules shall be amended, varied or rescinded ;

(h) the manner in which the members of the executive and the other officers of the Trade Union shall be appointed and removed ;

(i) the safe custody of the funds of the Trade Union, an annual audit, in such manner as may be prescribed, of the accounts thereof, and adequate facilities for the inspection of the account books by the officers and members of the Trade Union ; and

(j) the manner in which the Trade Union may be dissolved.

7. (1) The Registrar may call for further information for the purpose of satisfying himself that any application complies with the provisions of Section 5 or that the Trade Union is entitled to registration under Section 6 and may refuse to register the Trade Union until such information is supplied.

(2) If the name under which a Trade Union is proposed to be registered is identical with that by which any other existing Trade Union has been registered or, in the opinion of the Registrar, so nearly resembles such name as to be likely to deceive the public or the members of either Trade Union, the Registrar shall require the persons applying for registration to alter the name of the Trade Union stated in the application, and shall refuse to register the Union until such alteration has been made.

8. The Registrar, on being satisfied that the Trade Union has complied with all the requirements of this Regulation in regard to registration, shall register the Trade Union by entering in a register, to be maintained in such form as may be prescribed, the particulars relating to the Trade Union contained in the statements accompanying the application for registration.

9. The Registrar on registering a Trade Union under Section 8, shall issue a certificate of registration in the prescribed form which shall be conclusive evidence that the Trade Union has been duly registered under this Regulation.

10. A certificate of registration of a Trade Union may be withdrawn or cancelled by the Registrar—

(a) on the application of the Trade Union, to be verified in such manner as may be prescribed ; or

(b) if the Registrar is satisfied that the certificate has been obtained by fraud or mistake, or that the Trade Union has ceased to exist or has wilfully and after notice from the Registrar contravened any provision of this Regulation or allowed any rule to continue in force, which is inconsistent with any such provision, or has rescinded any rule providing for any matter provision for which is required by Section 6:

Provided that not less than two months previous notice in writing specifying the ground on which it is proposed to withdraw or cancel the certificate shall be given by the Registrar to the Trade Union before the certificate is withdrawn or cancelled otherwise than on the application of the Trade Union.

11. (1) Any person aggrieved by any refusal of the Registrar to register a Trade Union or by the withdrawal or cancellation of a certificate of registration may, within such period as may be prescribed, appeal to the High Court.

(2) The High Court may dismiss the appeal, or pass an order directing the Registrar to register the Union and to issue a certificate of registration under the provisions of Section 9 or setting aside the order for withdrawal or cancellation of the certificate, as the case may be, and the Registrar shall comply with such order.

(3) For the purpose of an appeal under sub-section (1), the High Court shall, so far as may be, follow the same procedure and have the same powers as it follows and has when hearing an appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, and may direct by whom the whole or any part of the costs of the appeal shall be paid, and such costs shall be recoverable by any Civil Court directed by the High Court as if they were payable under a decree of such Civil Court.

12. All communications and notices to a registered Trade Union may be addressed to the registered office. Notice of any change in the address of the head office shall be given within fourteen days of such change to the Registrar in writing, and the changed address shall be recorded in the register referred to in Section 8.

13. Every registered Trade Union shall be a body corporate by the name under which it is registered and shall have perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire and hold both movable and immovable property and to contract, and shall by the said name sue and be sued.

14. (1) The following Regulations, namely :—
 Certain Regulations not to apply to registered Unions. (a) The Travancore Co-operative Societies Regulation.
 (b) The Travancore Provident Insurance Societies Regulation of 1108 and
 (c) The Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092,
 shall not apply to any registered Trade Union, and the registration of any such Trade Union under any such Regulation shall be void ;

(2) No Trade Union shall be formed or shall function unless it is registered under the provisions of this Regulation :

Provided that in the case of Trade Unions existing on the date of the commencement of this Regulation, such Trade Unions may function for a period of three months from such date.

CHAPTER III.

Rights and liabilities of registered Trade Unions.

15. The general funds of a registered Trade Union shall not be spent on any other object than the following, namely :—

- Objects on which general funds may be spent.
- (a) the payment of salaries, allowances and expenses to officers of the Trade Union ;
  - (b) the payment of expenses for the administration of the Trade Union including audit of the accounts of the general funds of the Trade Union ;
  - (c) the prosecution or defence of any legal proceeding to which the Trade Union or, any member thereof is a party, when such prosecution or defence is undertaken for the purpose of securing or protecting any rights of the Trade Union as such or any rights arising out of the relations of any member with his employer or with a person whom the member employs ;
  - (d) the conduct of trade disputes on behalf of the Trade Union or any member thereof ;

- (e) the compensation of members for loss arising out of trade disputes;
- (f) allowances to members or their dependants on account of death, old age, sickness, accidents or unemployment of such members;

- (i) the upkeep of a periodical published mainly for the purpose of discussing questions affecting employers or workmen as such;
- (j) the payment in furtherance of any of the objects on which the general funds of the Trade Union may be spent, of contributions to any cause intended to benefit workmen in general, provided that the expenditure in respect of such contributions in any financial year shall not any time during that year be in excess of one-fourth of the combined total of the gross income which has up to that time accrued to the general funds of the Trade Union during that year and of the balance at the credit of these funds at the commencement of that year; and
- (k) subject to any conditions contained in the notification, any other object notified by Our Government in Our Government Gazette.

16. (1) A registered Trade Union may constitute a separate fund, from contributions separately levied for or made, to that fund, from which payments may be made, for the promotion of the civic and political interests of its members, in furtherance of any of the objects specified in sub-section (2).

- (2) The objects referred to in sub-section (1) are :—
- (a) the payment of any expenses incurred, either directly or indirectly, by a candidate or prospective candidate for election as a member of any chamber of the Travancore Legislature or of any local authority, before, during or after the election in connection with his candidature or election; or
  - (b) the holding of any meeting or the distribution of any literature or documents in support of any such candidate or prospective candidate; or
  - (c) the maintenance of any person who is a member of any chamber of the Travancore Legislature or of any local authority; or
  - (d) the registration of electors or the selection of a candidate for any chamber of the Travancore Legislature or for any local authority.

(3) No member shall be compelled to contribute to the fund constituted under sub-section (1); and a member who does not contribute to the said fund shall not be excluded from any benefits of the Trade Union, or placed in any respect either directly or indirectly under any disability or at any disadvantage as compared with other members of the Trade Union (except in relation to the control or management of the said fund) by reason of his not contributing to the said fund; and contribution to the said fund shall not be made a condition for admission to the Trade Union.

17. (1) No suit or other legal proceeding shall be maintainable in any Civil Court against any registered Trade Union or any officer or member thereof in respect of any act done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute to which a member of the Trade Union is a party on the ground only that such act induces some other person political purposes.

Immunity from civil suit in certain cases.

to break a contract of employment, or that it is in interference with the trade, business or employment of some other person or with the right of some other person to dispose of his capital or of his labour as he wills.

(2) A registered Trade Union shall not be liable in any suit or other legal proceeding in any Civil Court in respect of any tortious act done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute by an agent of the Trade Union if it is proved that such person acted without the knowledge of or contrary to express instructions given by the executive of the Trade Union.

18. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, an agreement between the members of a registered Trade Union shall not be void or voidable merely by reason of the fact that any of the objects of the agreement are in restraint of trade :

Provided that nothing in this Section shall enable any Civil Court to entertain any legal proceeding instituted for the express purpose of enforcing or recovering damages for the breach of any agreement concerning the conditions on which any members of a Trade Union shall or shall not sell their goods, transact business, work, employ or be employed.

19. The account books of a registered Union and the list of members thereof shall be open to inspection by an officer or member of the Trade Union at such times as may be provided for in the rules of the Trade Union.

20. Any person who has attained the age of fifteen years may be a member of a registered Trade Union subject to any rules of the Trade Union to the contrary, and may subject to aforesaid enjoy all the rights of a member and execute all instruments and give all acquittances necessary to be executed or given under the rules :

Provided that no person who has not attained the age of eighteen years shall be an officer of any such Trade Union.

21. Not less than three fourths of the total number of the officers of every registered Trade Union shall be persons actually engaged or employed in any trade or business with which the Trade Union is connected :

Provided that Our Governments may, by special or general order, declare that the provisions of this Section shall not apply to any Trade Union or class of Trade Unions specified in the order.

22. Any registered Trade Union may, with the consent of not less than two thirds of the total number of its members and subject to the provisions of Section 24 change its name.

23. Any two or more registered Trade Unions may become amalgamated together as one Trade Union with or without dissolution or division of funds of such Trade Unions or either or any of them; provided that the votes of at least one half of the members of each or every such Trade Union entitled to vote are recorded, and that at least sixty per cent of the votes recorded are in favour of the proposal.

24. (1) Notice in writing of every change of name and of every amalgamation signed, in the case of a change of name, by the Secretary and by seven members of the Trade Union changing its name and, in the case of an amalgamation, by the Secretary and by seven members of each and every Trade Union which is party thereto, shall be sent to the Registrar, and where the head office of the amalgamated Trade Union is situated in a place for which there is a different Registrar to the Registrar of that place.

(2) If the proposed name is identical with that by which any other existing Trade Union has been registered or, in the opinion of the Registrar so nearly resembles such name as to be likely to deceive the public or the members of either Trade Union, the Registrar shall refuse to register the change of name.

(3) Save as provided in sub-section (2), the Registrar shall, if he is satisfied that the provisions of this Regulation in respect of change of name have been complied with, register the change of name in the register referred to in Section 8, and the change of name shall have effect from the date of such registration.

(4) The Registrar of the place in which the head office of the amalgamated Trade Union is situated shall, if he is satisfied that the provisions of the Regulation in respect of amalgamation have been complied with and that the Trade Union formed thereby is entitled to registration under Section 6, register the Trade Union in the manner provided in Section 8, and the amalgamation shall have effect from the date of registration.

25. (1) The change in the name of registered Trade Union shall not affect any rights or obligations of the Trade Union or render defective any legal proceeding by or against the Trade Union and any legal proceeding which might have been continued or commenced by or against its former name may be continued or commenced by or against it by its new name.

(2) An amalgamation of two or more registered Trade Unions shall not prejudice any right of such Trade Unions or any right of a creditor of any of them.

26. (1) When a registered Trade Union is dissolved, notice of the dissolution signed by seven members and by the Secretary of the Trade Union shall, within fourteen days of the dissolution be sent to the Registrar and shall be registered by him if he is satisfied that the dissolution has been effected in accordance with the rules of the Trade Union, and the dissolution shall have effect from the date of such registration.

(2) Where the dissolution of a registered Trade Union has been registered and the rules of the Trade Union do not provide for the distribution of funds of the Trade Union on dissolution, the Registrar shall divide the funds amongst the members in such manner as may be prescribed.

27. (1) There shall be sent annually to the Registrar, on or before such date as may be prescribed, a general statement, audited in the prescribed manner, of all receipts and expenditure of every registered Trade Union during the year ending on the last day of Karkatakam next preceding such prescribed date, and of the assets and liabilities of the Trade Union existing on such last day of Karkatakam. The statement shall be prepared in such form and shall comprise such particulars as may be prescribed.

(3) Together with the general statement there shall be sent to the Registrar a statement showing all changes of officers made by the Trade Union during the year to which the general statement refers, together also with a copy of the rules of the Trade Union corrected up to the date of the despatch thereof to the Registrar.

(3) A copy of every alteration made in the rules of a registered Trade Union shall be sent to the Registrar within fifteen days of the making of the alteration.

Annexure II.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE TRAVANCORE LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANIES BILL.

To

The President,
Sri Mulam Assembly.

Sir,

We, the undersigned members of the Select Committee appointed to consider The Travancore Life Assurance Companies Bill, have considered the bill and beg now to submit this, our

REPORT.

1. Clause 1, Sub-clause (1): Omit the expression "of 110" at the end.

2. Clause 3, Line 3: Substitute the word "hereinafter" for the word "hereafter."

3. Clause 4: Insert the following as Sub-Clause (5):—

"(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing provisions, Our Government may by notification in Our Government Gazette declare that the deposit may be made in such other securities or in such other manner as may be specified in the notification."

4. Clause 7 (1) (c) (B) (ii): For the word "revisionary," substitute the word "reversionary," and after the word "thereto" close the bracket.

5. Clause 7 (1) (c) (c): The numbering of the Sub-Clause (a) and Sub-Clause (b) may be altered into (i) and (ii) respectively.

6. In the Sub-Clause (i) re-numbered as above substitute a comma for the interrogation mark occurring after the word "Travancore" and in the re-numbered Sub-Clause (ii), substitute a semi-colon for the comma occurring at the end.

7. Clause 34, Line 2: For the figure "32," substitute "33."

8. Clause 34 Line 4: For the figure "38," substitute "39."

9. Clause 40, Sub-Clause (2): Add the following as Clause (d):—

"(d) provide that any portion of the investments of any life assurance company carrying on business within Travancore shall be in such securities as may be notified by Our Government in that behalf in Our Government Gazette."

Large premiums are collected by various life assurance companies from the people of Travancore, but it is rarely, if at all, that such companies make investments in Travancore. We think it desirable that Government should be given power to make rules to provide for investments in Travancore. Hence we are proposing the above clause.

10. The third Schedule, Part (A) third column: For the words "any Indian Presidency Bank," substitute the words "the Imperial Bank of India and the Reserve Bank of India."

11. The third Schedule, Part (a), Note 1. Line 2: For the word "India," substitute the word "Travancore."

12. The third Schedule, Part (B), third Column: For the words "any Indian Presidency Bank," substitute the words "the Imperial Bank of India and the Reserve Bank of India."

13. The third Schedule Part (B), Note 1, line 2: For the word "India," substitute the word "Travancore."

Annexure III

THE TRAVANCORE LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANIES BILL.

(As revised by the Select Committee).

(Words in Italics indicate the amendments suggested by the Committee.)

A Regulation to provide for the Regulation of Life Assurance Companies.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the Regulation of Life
Assurance Companies; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called "The Travancore Life Assurance Companies Regulation."

Short title and extent.

- (2) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

2. In this Regulation unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

Definitions.
(1) "Actuary" means an actuary possessing such qualifications as may be prescribed by rules made by Our Government;

(2) "Chairman" means the person for the time being presiding over the board of directors or other governing body of a life assurance company;

(3) "Court" means the Principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in a district;

(4) "financial year" means each period of twelve months at the end of which the balance of the accounts of the life assurance company is struck, or, if no such balance is struck, then the calendar year;

(5) "life assurance business" means the issue of, or the undertaking of liability under policies of assurance upon human life, or the granting of annuities upon human life;

(6) "policy of assurance on human life" means any instrument by which the payment of money is assured on death (except death by accident only) or the happening of any contingency dependent on human life or any instrument evidencing a contract which is subject to payment of premiums for a term dependent on human life;

(7) "policy holder" means the person who for the time being is the legal holder of the policy for securing the contract with the life assurance company;

(8) where a company grants annuities upon human life, "policy" includes the instrument evidencing the contract to pay such an annuity, and "policy-holder" includes annuitant; and

(9) "Registrar" means any person who may be appointed by Our Government to perform the duties of the Registrar under this Regulation.

3. Save as hereafter expressly provided, this Regulation shall apply to all persons or bodies of persons, whether corporate or unincorporate (which persons and bodies of persons are hereinafter referred to as life assurance companies), whether established before or after the commencement of this Regulation and whether established within or without Travancore, who carry on life assurance business within Travancore.

Explanation.—A company registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, which carries on life assurance business in any part of the world shall for the purposes of this Section be deemed to be a company carrying on such business within Travancore.

Exception.—Nothing in this Regulation shall apply to any society to which the Provident Insurance Societies Regulation applies or to any Fund which Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette exempt from the operation of this Regulation.

Deposits.

4. (1) Every life assurance company shall, if established before the commencement of this Regulation, within one year from such commencement, or if established after such commencement, before it commences to carry on the business of life assurance, deposit and keep deposited with the Chief Account Officer for and on behalf of Our Government, Government securities, as defined by the Travancore Government Securities Regulation III of 1099 of the face value of twenty-five thousand rupees or of a face value equal to one-third of the income derived from life assurance business as shown in the revenue account for the last financial year, whichever is greater; and, until the company keeps deposited securities of the face value of two lakhs of rupees, shall annually deposit and keep deposited in like manner like securities of a face value—

(a) equal to one-third of the income derived from life assurance business as shown in the revenue account for the last financial year, until the face value of the securities deposited exceeds one lakh of rupees;

(b) and thereafter equal in amount to one-third of the increase to the life assurance fund as shown in the revenue account for the last financial year:

Provided that a company may at any time deposit securities of a face value of two lakhs of rupees or make up its deposit of securities to that value.

(2) The interest accruing due on the securities deposited under sub-section (1) shall be paid to the company.

(3) The deposit may be made by the subscribers of the memorandum of association of a company or any of them, in the name of a proposed company and, upon the incorporation of the company, shall be deemed to have been made by, and to be part of the assets of, the company, and the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies shall not issue a certificate of incorporation of the company under the Travancore Companies Regulation 1092 until the deposit has been made.

(4) The deposit shall be deemed to form part of the life assurance fund of the company.

(5) notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing provisions, Our Government may by notification in Our Government Gazette declare that the deposit may be made in such other securities or in such other manner as may be specified in the notification.

Accounts and Documents.

5. In the case of a life assurance company transacting other business besides that of life assurance, a separate account shall be kept of all receipts in respect of the life assurance business, and the said receipts shall be carried to and form a separate fund to be called the life assurance fund.

Explanation.—Nothing in this Section shall be deemed to require any life assurance fund to be invested in separate investments from any other fund, but a separate balance-sheet as prescribed under Section 7 shall be kept in respect of the life assurance fund.

Exception.—Nothing in this Section shall apply to a life assurance company established before the commencement of this Regulation by the terms of whose deed of settlement the whole of the profits of all the business carried on by the company are paid exclusively to the life policy-holders, and on the face of whose life policies the liability of the life assurance fund in respect of the other business distinctly appears.

6. The life assurance fund shall be as absolutely the security of the life policy holders as though it belonged to a company carrying on no other business than life assurance business and shall not be liable for any contracts of the company for which it should not have been liable had the business of the company been only that of life assurance, and shall not be applied, directly or indirectly, for any purposes other than those of life assurance.

Exception.—Nothing in this Section shall effect the liability of the life assurance fund, in the case of a company established before the commencement of this Regulation, for contracts entered into by the company before such commencement.

7. (1) Every life assurance company shall, at the expiration of each financial year, prepare.—

Accounts and balance-sheets.

(a) a revenue account for the year in the form or forms set forth in the First Schedule and applicable to the class or classes of business carried on by the company;

(b) a profit and loss account in the form set forth in the Second Schedule, except where the company carries on life assurance business only and no other business;

(c) a balance-sheet or balance-sheets in the form or forms set forth in the Third Schedule;

(d) a statement containing the name of every person who during the year was a member of the board of directors or other governing body or was manager or secretary or held any similar office by whatever name called ;

(e) a statement showing—

(A) as regards new policies of life assurance in respect of which a premium has been paid in the year of account,—

(i) the number of policies,
(ii) the sums assured,
(iii) the amount received by way of single premiums (including all premiums paid at the outset where no subsequent premium is payable), and

(iv) the amount of yearly renewal premium income ;

(B) as regards total life assurance business,—

(i) the number of policies in force at the end of the year of account,

(ii) the sum assured (including reversionary bonus additions thereto) under policies in force at the end of the year of account, and

(iii) the premium income for which credit is taken in the revenue account ;

(C) as regards claims, the amount of the claims paid in the year of account under policies effected in Travancore,—

(i) to claimants in Travancore, and

(ii) to claimants outside Travancore ;

(f) a statement showing in such forms as Our Government may prescribe, a classified summary of the investments of the company in Travancore in Government securities and in Travancore concerns and the other Travancore assets held by the company.

(2) For the purposes of clause (d) of sub-section (1), all items required to be stated shall be net amounts after deduction of the re-insurances of the company's risks, and for the purposes of sub-clauses (A) and (B) of that clause—

(a) the statement shall show separately the numbers and amounts in respect of policies effected in, and policies effected outside Travancore ;

(b) where a sum assured is payable periodically, whether by way of an annuity or otherwise, it shall be stated separately from lump sum payments ; and

(c) policies of assurance upon the lives of a group of persons whereby sums assured are payable in respect of several persons included in the group shall be excluded from the statement and be shown in a separate statement containing the like particulars—

8. (1) Every life assurance company shall once in every five years, or at such shorter intervals as may be prescribed by the instrument constituting the company, or by its regulations or bye-laws, cause an investigation to be made into its financial condition, including a valuation of its liabilities, by an actuary and shall cause an abstract of the report of such actuary to be made in the form set in the Fourth Schedule.

Actuarial reports and abstracts.

(2) The provision of sub-section (1) regarding the making of an abstract shall also apply whenever at any other time an investigation into the financial condition of a life assurance company is made with a view to the distribution of profits, or whenever the results of any such investigation are made public.

9. In the case of a mutual life assurance company whose profits are allocated to members wholly or mainly by annual abatements of premium, the abstract of the report of the actuary on the financial condition of the company prepared in accordance with the Fourth Schedule, may, notwithstanding anything in Section 8, be made and returned at intervals not exceeding five years: Provided that, where such return is not made annually, it shall include particulars as to the rates of abatement of premiums applicable to different classes or series of assurances allowed in each year during the period which has elapsed since the previous return under the Fourth Schedule.

10. Every life assurance company shall, within three years from the commencement of this Regulation and thereafter, at the date to which the accounts of the company are made up for the purposes of the investigation prescribed by Section 8, prepare a statement of its assurance business in the form set forth in the Fifth Schedule; Provided that, if the investigation is made annually by any company, the company may prepare such a statement at any time, so that it may be made at least once in every five years.

11. (1) Every account, balance-sheet, abstract or statement hereinbefore required to be made shall be printed, and four copies thereof, one of which shall be signed by the Chairman and two directors of the company, and by the principal officer of the company, and if the company has a managing director, by the managing director, shall be deposited with Our Government within six months in the case of accounts and balance-sheets required by Section 7, and within one year in other cases after the close of the period to which the account, balance-sheet, abstract or statement relates: Provided that, if in any case it is made to appear to Our Government that the circumstances are such that a longer period should be allowed, they may extend that period by such period as they may think fit.

(2) Our Government shall consider any document deposited in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) and, if any such document appears to Our Government to be inaccurate or defective in any respect, Our Government may call upon the company to furnish a further statement correcting any such inaccuracies or supplying any such deficiencies.

12. There shall be deposited with every revenue account and balance-sheet of a life assurance company every report on the affairs of the company submitted to the share-holders or policy-holders of the company in respect of the financial year to which the account and balance-sheet relate.

13. Where a life assurance company registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092 in any year deposits its accounts and balance-sheet in accordance with the provisions of Section 11, the company may, at the same time, send to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies a copy of such accounts and balance-sheet, and where such copy is so sent, it shall not be necessary for the company to file a balance-sheet with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies as required by Section 138 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, and the copy of the accounts and balance-sheet so sent shall be dealt with in all respects as if it were a balance-sheet filed in accordance with that section.
14. A printed copy of the accounts, balance-sheet, abstract or statement last deposited shall, on the application of any share-holder or policy-holder of the company, be forwarded to him by the company by post or otherwise.
15. The accounts of every life assurance company shall be audited annually in such manner as Our Government may prescribe.
16. Every life assurance company which is not registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, shall keep a list of the names and addresses of its share-holders, and shall, on the application of any share-holder or policy-holder of the company, furnish to him a copy of such list on payment of a sum not exceeding two annas for every hundred words required to be copied.
17. Every life assurance company which is not registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, shall cause a sufficient number of copies of its deed of settlement or other instrument constituting the company to be printed, and shall, on the application of any share-holder or policy-holder of the company, furnish to him a copy of such deed of settlement or other instrument on payment of a sum not exceeding one rupee.
18. Where any notice, advertisement or other official publication of a life assurance company contains a statement of the amount of the authorised capital of the company, the publication shall also contain a statement of the amount of the capital which has been subscribed and the amount paid up.
19. (1) Every life assurance company, constituted outside Travancore which establishes a place of business within Travancore or appoints an agent in Travancore with the object of obtaining life assurance business, shall, within three months from the establishment of the place of business or the appointment of such agent, file with the Registrar:—

(a) a certified copy of the charter, statutes or memorandum and articles of the company, or other instrument constituting or defining the constitution of the company, and, if the instrument is not written in the English language, a certified translation thereof;

(b) a list of the directors of the company;

(c) the names and addresses of some one or more persons resident in Travancore authorised to accept on behalf of the company service of process and any notices required to be served on the company;

and, in the event of any alteration being made in any such instrument or in the list of directors or in the names and addresses of such persons as aforesaid, the company shall, within such time as Our Government may prescribe, file with the Registrar a notice of the alteration.

(2) Any process or notice required to be served on the company shall be sufficiently served if addressed to any person whose name has been so filed as aforesaid and left at or sent by post to the address which has been so filed.

(3) There shall be paid to the Registrar for registering any document, required by this section to be filed, a fee of five rupees or such smaller fee as Our Government may prescribe.

Amalgamation or Transfer.

20. (1) Where it is intended to amalgamate two or more life assurance companies, or to transfer the life assurance business of one company to another, the directors of any one or more of such companies may apply to the Court, by petition, to sanction the proposed arrangement.

(2) Before any such application is made to the Court—

(a) notice of the intention to make the application shall be published in Our Government Gazette at least two months before the application is made;

(b) a statement of the nature of the amalgamation or transfer, as the case may be together with an abstract containing the material facts embodied in the agreement or deed under which the amalgamation or transfer is proposed to be effected, and copies of the actuarial or other reports upon which the agreement or deed is founded, including a report by an independent actuary shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be transmitted to each policy-holder of each company; and

(c) the agreement or deed under which the amalgamation or transfer is effected shall be open for the inspection of the policy-holders and share-holders at the offices of the companies for a period of fifteen days after the last publication of the notice.

(3) The Court, after hearing the directors and other persons whom it considers entitled to be heard upon the petition, may sanction the arrangement if it is satisfied that no sufficient objection to the arrangement has been established.

(4) The Court shall not sanction the amalgamation or transfer in any case in which it appears to the Court that the life-policy-holders representing one tenth or more of the total amount assured in any company which it is proposed to amalgamate, or in any company the business of which it is proposed to transfer dissent from the amalgamation or transfer.

(5) No life assurance company shall amalgamate with another, or transfer its business to another unless the amalgamation or transfer is sanctioned by the Court in accordance with this section.

21. Where an amalgamation takes place between any life assurance companies, or where any life assurance business of one such company is transferred to another company, the combined company or the purchasing company, as the case may be, shall, within one month from the date of the completion of the amalgamation or transfer, deposit with our Government —

Statement in case of amalgamation or transfer.

(a) certified copies of statements of the assets and liabilities of the companies concerned in such amalgamation or transfer together with a statement of the nature and terms of the amalgamation or transfer; and

(b) a certified copy of the agreement or deed under which the amalgamation or transfer is effected; and

(c) certified copies of the actuarial or other reports upon which that agreement or deed is founded; and

(d) a declaration under the hand of the Chairman of each company, and the principal officer of each company, that to the best of their belief every payment made or to be made to any person whatsoever on account of the amalgamation or transfer is there in fully set forth, and that no other payments beyond those set forth have been made or are to be made either in money, policies, bonds, valuable securities or other property by or with the knowledge of any parties to the amalgamation or transfer.

Winding up.

22. The Court may order the winding up of a life assurance company, in accordance with the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092 and the provisions of that Regulation shall apply accordingly, subject, however, to the modification that the company may be ordered to be wound up—

Special provisions as to winding up of assurance companies.

(a) on the petition of ten or more policy holders:

Provided that such a petition shall not be presented except by the leave of the Court, and leave shall not be granted until a prima facie case has been established to the satisfaction of the Court and until security for costs for such amount as the Court may think reasonable has been given; or

(b) on application made on behalf of Our government showing that from a consideration of the documents deposited with them under the provisions of this Regulation it appears to them that the company is insolvent.

23. (1) Where a life assurance business or any part of the life assurance business of a life assurance company has been transferred to another company under an arrangement in pursuance of which the first-mentioned company (in this Section called the subsidiary company) or the creditors thereof has or have claims against the company to which such transfer was made (in this Section called the principal company), then, if the principal company is being wound up by or under the supervision of the Court, the Court shall (subject as hereinafter mentioned) order the subsidiary company to be wound up in conjunction with the principal company, and may by the same or any subsequent order appoint the same person to be liquidator for the two companies, and make provision for such other matters as may seem to the Court necessary, with a view to the companies being wound up as if they were one company.

(2) The commencement of winding up of the principal company shall, save as otherwise ordered by the Court, be the commencement of the winding up of the subsidiary company.

(3) In adjusting the rights and liabilities of the members of the several companies between themselves, the Court shall have regard to the constitution of the companies and to the arrangements entered into between the companies, in the same manner as the Court has regard to the rights and liabilities of different classes of contributaries in the case of the winding up of a single company or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

(4) Where any company alleged to be subsidiary is not in process of being wound up at the same time as the principal company to which it is subsidiary, the Court shall not direct the subsidiary company to be wound up unless, after hearing all objections (if any) that may be urged by or on behalf of the company against its being wound up, the Court is of opinion that the company is subsidiary to the principal company and that the winding up of the company, in conjunction with the principal company is just and equitable.

(5) An application may be made in relation to the winding up of any subsidiary company in conjunction with a principal company by any creditor of, or person interested in, the principal or subsidiary company.

(6) Where a company stands in the relation of a principal company to one company and in the relation of a subsidiary company to some other company, or where there are several companies standing in the relation of subsidiary companies to one principal company, the Court may deal with any number of such companies together or in separate groups as it thinks most expedient upon the principles laid down in this section.

24. Where a life assurance company is being wound up by the Court, or subject to the supervision of the Court, or voluntarily, the value of a policy or of a liability under a policy requiring to be valued in such winding up shall be estimated in manner applicable to policies and liabilities provided by the Sixth Schedule.

Valuation of annuities and policies.

25. The rules in the Sixth Schedule shall be of the same force, and may be repealed, altered or amended as if they were rules made in pursuance of Section 248 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092 and rules may be made under that Section for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Regulation with respect to the winding up of life assurance companies.

26. The Court, in the case of a life assurance company which has been proved to be unable to pay its debts, may, if it thinks fit, reduce the amount of the contracts of the company upon such terms and subject to such conditions as it thinks just, in place of making a winding up order.

27. In the winding up of a life assurance company in a case where any proportion of the profits of the company was before the commencement of the winding up allocated to policy-holders, if, when the assets and liabilities of the company have been ascertained, there is found to be a surplus of assets over liabilities (hereinafter referred to as a prima facie surplus), there shall be added to the liabilities of the company in respect of its life assurance business an amount equal to such proportion of the prima facie surplus as is equivalent to such proportion of the profits allocated to share-holders and policy-holders as was allocated to policy-holders during the ten years immediately preceding the commencement of the winding up, and the assets of the company shall be deemed to exceed its liabilities only in so far as those assets exceed those liabilities after such addition as aforesaid.

Provided that, if in any case there has been no such allocation, or if it appears to the Court that by reason of special circumstances it would be inequitable that the amount to be added to the liabilities of the company in respect of the life assurance business should be an amount equal to such proportion as aforesaid, the amount to be so added shall be such amount as the Court may direct.

Special Provisions relating to Accounts and Documents.

28. Our Government may direct any documents deposited with them under this Regulation or certified copies thereof, to be kept by the Registrar or by any other officer appointed in this behalf, and any such documents and copies shall be open to inspection and copies thereof may be procured by any person on payment of such fees as Our Government may direct.

29. Our Government shall annually cause to be published in such manner as they may direct, a summary of the accounts, balance-sheets, abstracts, statements and other documents under this Regulation, or purporting to be under this Regulation, deposited with them during the preceding year by every life assurance company, except reports on the affairs of life assurance companies submitted to the share-holders or policy-holders thereof, and may append to such summary, any note of Our Government thereon, and any correspondence in relation thereto.

30. Every document deposited under this Regulation with Our Government, and certified by the Registrar or by any person appointed in that behalf by Our Government to be a document so deposited, shall be deemed to be a document so deposited.

31. Every document purporting to be certified by the Registrar, or by any person appointed in that behalf by Our Government, to be a copy of a document so deposited, shall be deemed to be a copy of that document, and shall be received in evidence as if it were the original document unless some variation between it and the original document be proved.

32. Our Government may, on the application or with the consent of a life assurance company, alter the forms contained in the Schedules to this Regulation as respects that company, for the purpose of adapting them to the circumstances of that company.

Companies carrying on business in the United Kingdom and in British India.

33. (1) An assurance company which carries on life assurance business in the United Kingdom in accordance with the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, or in British India in accordance with the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912, may, if carrying on life assurance business in Travancore before the commencement of this Regulation within three months of such commencement, or, in any other case, before it commences to carry on life assurance business in Travancore apply to Our Government for a declaration that it so carries on such business in the United Kingdom or in British India.

(2) A company applying under the provisions of sub-section (1) shall furnish, at the time of its application or at such further time as Our Government may prescribe, such evidence as they may direct of the facts alleged in its application.

(3) Where Our Government are satisfied that a life assurance company applying as aforesaid is a life assurance company which carries on business in the United Kingdom in accordance with the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, or in British India in accordance with the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912, they shall by notification in Our Government Gazette, make a declaration to that effect.

34. Where Our Government have notified a declaration in accordance with the provisions of Section 33 in respect of a life assurance company, nothing in Section 4, Section 5, clauses (a), (b) (c) or (d) of sub-section (1) of Section 7, Sections 8 to 12, Sections, * 5, 20, 21 or 29 shall apply to the company:

Application of the Regulation to companies which carry on life assurance business in the United Kingdom and British India.

Provided that

(1) the company shall deposit with Our Government in the manner prescribed in Section 11, copies of every account, balance-sheet, abstract, statement or other document which the company is required by the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, to deposit at the Board of Trade or by the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912 to deposit with the Governor General in Council.

(2) if, at any time, a company in respect of which a declaration has been notified under Section 33 ceases to carry on life assurance business in the United Kingdom in accordance with the provisions of the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, or in British India in accordance with the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912 it shall, if it continues to carry on life assurance business in Travancore, be subject to all the provisions of this Regulation, from the date it ceased to carry on such business in the United Kingdom or in British India in accordance with the said Acts.

Penalties and Procedure.

35. Any life assurance company which makes default in complying with any of the requirements of this Regulation and every director, manager, or secretary, or other officer or agent of the company who is knowingly a party to the default shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or in the case of a continuing default, with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for every day during which the default continues; and, if default continues for a period of three months after notice of default by Our Government (which notice shall be published in one or more newspapers as Our Government may, upon the application of one or more policy-holders, or share-holders, direct), the default shall be a ground on which the Court may order the winding up of the company, in accordance with the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092.

36. If any account, balance-sheet, abstract, statement or other document required by this Regulation is false in any particular to the knowledge of any person who signs it, such person shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or Cognizance of offence.

with both.

37. No Court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence against this Regulation.

Miscellaneous.

38. (1) Our Government may appoint one or more inspectors to examine into the affairs of any life assurance company, and to report thereon in such manner as they may direct.

Appointment of Inspectors.

(i) in the case of a life assurance company which is not registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1932, upon the application—

(a) of share-holders being in number not less than one-fifth of the whole number of persons for the time being entered on the list of share-holders kept in accordance with the provisions of Section 16; or

(b) of 20 or more policy-holders owning policies of an aggregate value of not less than twenty thousand rupees;

(ii) in any case where a life assurance company has failed to furnish a further statement when required to do so under the provisions of Section 11, sub-section (2), or where Our Government are of opinion that any such further statement is insufficient or unsatisfactory:

(2) On an appointment being made under sub-section (1), the provisions of Section 144 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1932, shall apply to the examination made by such inspectors.

39. Any notice or other document which is by this Regulation required to be sent to any policy-holder may be addressed and sent to the person to whom notices respecting such policy are usually sent, and any notice so addressed and sent shall be deemed and taken to be notice to the holder of such policy.

Provided that where any person claiming to be interested in a policy has given to the company notice in writing of his interest, any notice which is by this Regulation required to be sent to policy-holders shall also be sent to such person at the address specified by him in his notice.

Powers to make rules. 40. (1) Our Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Regulation.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe the qualifications to be possessed by actuaries, auditors and inspectors under this Regulation and the manner in which the accounts of life assurance companies shall be audited;

(b) prescribe the time within, and the form in which notice of alteration of the particulars specified in Section 19 of the Regulation shall be filed with the Registrar;

(c) subject to the provisions of this Regulation prescribe the fees payable thereunder;

(d) provide that any portion of the investments of any life assurance Company carrying on business within Travancore shall be in such securities may be notified by Our Government in that behalf in Our Government Gazette.

(3) All rules made under this Regulation shall be published in Our Government Gazette and on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Regulation.

Power of Our Government to exempt from the provisions of the Regulation. 41. Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette and, subject to such restrictions and conditions as they think fit, exempt any life assurance company from all or any of the provisions of this Regulation.

NOTE 1.—When part of the assets of the company are specifically deposited under local laws in various places out of Travancore as security to holders of life assurance policies there issued, each such place and the amount compulsorily lodged therein must be specified.

NOTE 2.—The balance-sheet must state how the values of the Stock Exchange securities are arrived at, and on the occasions when a statement respecting valuation under the Fourth Schedule is made, a certificate must be appended, signed by the same persons as signed the balance-sheet, to the effect that in their belief the assets set forth in the balance-sheet are in the aggregate fully of the value stated therein, less any investment reserve fund taken into account.

NOTE 3.—Companies having investments with any uncalled liability shall state separately the full amount thereof.

NOTE 4.—Particulars must be given of all loans, including temporary advances, except loans on policies within their surrender values, made at any time during the year to any director or officer of a company or to any other company in which any of the said directors or officers may hold the position either of director or of officer.

NOTE 1.—When part of the assets of the company are specifically deposited under local laws in various places out of Travancore, as security to holders of life assurance policies there issued, each such place and the amount compulsorily lodged therein must be specified.

NOTE 2.—A balance sheet in the above form must be rendered in respect of the annuity fund if the investments of that fund are distinct from those of the life assurance fund.

NOTE 3.—The balance-sheet must state how the values of the Stock Exchange securities are arrived at, and on the occasions when a statement respecting valuation under the Fourth Schedule is made, a certificate must be appended, signed by the same persons as signed the balance-sheet, to the effect that in their belief the assets set forth in the balance-sheet are in the aggregate fully of the value stated therein, less any investment reserve fund taken into account.

NOTE 4.—A certificate must be appended hereto, signed by the same persons as signed the balance-sheet (Form A) and by the auditor, to the effect that no part of any such fund has been applied, directly, or indirectly, for any purpose other than the class of business to which it is applicable.

NOTE 5. Companies having investments with any uncalled liability shall state separately the full amount thereof.

NOTE 6.—Particulars must be given of all loans, including temporary advances, except loans on policies within their surrender values, made at any time during the year to any direct or officer of a company, or to any other company, in which any of the said directors or officers may hold the position either of director or of officer.

THE FOURTH SCHEDULE.

(See Sections 8 and 9.)

STATEMENT RESPECTING THE VALUATION OF THE LIABILITIES UNDER LIFE POLICIES AND ANNUITIES OF THE.....TO BE MADE AND SIGNED BY THE ACTUARY.

(The answers should be numbered to accord with the number of the corresponding questions.)

1. The date up to which the valuation is made.
2. The general principles adopted in the valuation and the method followed in the valuation of particular classes of assurances, including a statement of the method by which the net premiums have been arrived at, and whether these principles were determined by the instrument constituting the company or by its regulations or bye-laws, or how otherwise, together with a statement of the manner in which policies on under average lives are dealt with.
3. The table or tables of mortality used in the valuation. In cases where the tables employed are not published, specimen policy values are to be given at the rate of interest employed in the valuation, in respect of whole life assurance policies effected at the respective ages of 20, 30, 40, and 50, and having been respectively in force for 5 years, 10 years and upwards at intervals of five years, respectively, with similar specimen policy values in respect of endowment assurance policies, according to age at entry, original term of policy and duration.

4. The rate or rates of interest assumed in the calculations.

5. The actual proportion of the annual premium income (if any), reserved as a provision for future expenses and profits separately specified in respect of assurances with immediate profits, with deferred profits, and without profits. (Is none, state how this provision is made).

6. The consolidated revenue account since the last valuation, or in case of a company which has made no valuation, since the commencement of the business. This return should be made in the form annexed. (No return under this heading will be required where a statement under this schedule is deposited annually.)

7. The liabilities of the company under life policies and annuities at the date of valuation showing the number of policies, the amount assured and the amount of premiums payable annually under each class of policies, both with and without participation in profits and also the net liabilities and assets of the company with the amount of surplus or deficiency. (These returns to be made in the forms annexed.)

8. The principles upon which the distribution of profits among the share-holders and policy-holders is made and whether these principles were determined by the instrument constituting the company or by its regulations or bye-laws or how otherwise, and the number of years' premiums to be paid before a bonus (a) is allotted and (b) vests.

9. The results of the valuation, showing;

(1) The total amount of profit made by the company, allocated as follows:

(a) among the policy-holders with immediate participation, and the number and amount of the policies which participated;

(b) among policy-holders with deferred participation, and the number and amount of the policies which participated;

(c) among the share-holders;

(d) to reserve funds, or other accounts;

(e) carried forward unappropriated.

(2) Specimens of bonuses allotted to whole life assurance policies for Rs. 1000 effected at the respective ages of 20, 30, 40 and 50, and having been respectively in force for 5 years, 10 years and upwards at intervals of 5 years respectively, together with the amounts apportioned under the various modes in which the bonus might be received; with similar specimen bonuses and particulars in respect of endowment assurance policies, according to age at entry, original term of policy and duration.

NOTE. 1.—The term "extra premium" in this Regulation shall be taken to mean the charge for any risk not provided for in the minimum contract premium. If policies are issued in or for any country at rates of premium deducted from tables other than the European mortality tables adopted by the company; separate schedules similar in form to the above must be furnished.

NOTE. 2.—Separate returns and valuation results must be furnished in respect of classes of policies valued by different tables of mortality, or at different rates of interest, also for business at other than European rates.

NOTE. 3.—In cases also where separate valuations of any portion of the business are required under local laws in places outside British India, a summary statement must be furnished in respect of the business so valued in each such place showing the total number of policies, the total sums assured and bonuses, the total office yearly premiums and the total net liability on the bases as to mortality and interest adopted in each such place, with statement as to such bases respectively.

THE FIFTH SCHEDULE.

(See Section 10.)

STATEMENT OF THE LIFE ASSURANCE AND ANNUITY BUSINESS OF
THE.....ON THE....., TO BE SIGNED BY THE ACTUARY.

(The answers should be numbered to accord with the numbers of the corresponding questions. Statements of re-assurances corresponding to the statements in respect of assurances are to be given throughout). Separate statements are to be furnished in the replies to all the headings under this Schedule for business at other than European rates.

1. The published table or tables of premiums for the assurances for the whole term of life and for endowment assurances which are in use at the date above mentioned.

2. The total amount assured on lives for the whole term of life which are in existence at the date above mentioned, distinguishing the portions assured with immediate profits, with deferred profits and without profits, stating separately the total reversionary bonuses and specifying the sum assured for each year of life from the youngest to the oldest ages, the basis of division as to immediate and deferred profits being stated.

3. The amount of premiums receivable annually for each year of life after deducting the statements made by the application of the bonuses in respect of the respective assurances mentioned under Heading No. 2 distinguishing ordinary from extra premiums. A separate statement is to be given of premiums payable for a limited number of years, classified according to the number of years' payments remaining to be made.

4. The total amount assured under endowment assurances, specifying sums assured and office premiums separately in respect of each year in which such assurances will mature for payment. The reversionary bonuses must also be separately specified, and the sums assured with immediate profits, with deferred profits, and without profits separately returned.

5. The total amount assured under classes of assurance business, other than assurances dealt with under questions 2 and 4, distinguishing the sums assured under each class and stating separately the amounts assured with immediate profits, with deferred profits, and without profits, and the total amount of reversionary bonuses.

6. The amount of premiums receivable annually in respect of each such special class of assurances mentioned under Heading No. 5, distinguishing ordinary from extra premiums.

7. The total amount of premiums which has been received from the commencement upon pure endowment policies which are in force at the date above-mentioned.

8. The total amount of immediate annuities on lives, distinguishing the amounts for each year of life, and distinguishing male and female lives.

9. The amount of all annuities on lives other than those specified under Heading No. 8, distinguishing the amount of annuities payable under each class, and the amount of premiums annually receivable.

10. The average rate of interest yielded by the assets, whether invested or uninvested, constituting the life assurance fund of the company calculated upon the mean fund of each year during the period since the last investigation without deduction of income tax.

It must be stated whether or not the mean fund upon which the average rate of interest is calculated includes reversionary investments.

11. A table of minimum values, if any, allowed for the surrender of policies for the whole term of life and for endowments and endowment assurances, or a statement of the method pursued in calculating such surrender values with instances of the application of such method to policies of different standing and taken out at various interval ages from the youngest to the oldest.

THE SIXTH SCHEDULE.

(See Sections 24 and 25).

RULES FOR VALUING ANNUITIES, LIFE POLICIES AND LIABILITIES.Rule for valuing an annuity.

An annuity shall be valued according to the tables used by the company which granted such annuity at the time of granting the same, and, where such tables cannot be ascertained or adopted to the satisfaction of the Court, then according to such rate of interest and table of mortality as the Court may direct.

Rule for valuing a policy.

The value of the policy is to be the difference between the present value of the reversion in the sum assured according to the contingency upon which it is payable, including any bonus or addition thereto made before the commencement of the winding-up and the present value of the future annual premiums.

In calculating such present values interest is to be assumed at such rate and the rate of mortality according to such tables, as the Court may direct.

The premium to be calculated is to be such premium as according to said rate of interest and rate of mortality is sufficient to provide for the risk incurred by the office in issuing the policy, exclusive of any addition thereto for office expenses and other charges.

Rule for valuing liability.

The liquidator, in the case of all persons appearing by the books of the company to be entitled to or interested in policies granted by such company, is to ascertain the value of the liability of the company to each such person, and give notice of such value to such persons in such manner as the Court may direct, and any person to whom notice is so given shall be bound by the value so ascertained unless he gives notice of his intention to dispute such value in manner and within a time to be prescribed by a rule or order of the Court.

Annexure IV.

THE TRAVANCORE LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANIES
BILL.(As passed by the Sri Mulum Assembly.)

A Regulation to provide for the Regulation of Life Assurance Companies.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the Regulation of Life Assurance Companies; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called "The Travancore Life Assurance Companies Regulation."

Short title and extent.

- (2) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

2. In this Regulation unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

Definitions: (1) "Actuary" means an actuary possessing such qualifications as may be prescribed by rules made by Our Government;

(2) "Chairman" means the person for the time being presiding over the board of directors or other governing body of a life assurance company;

(3) "Court" means the Principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in a district;

(4) "financial year" means each period of twelve months at the end of which the balance of the accounts of the life assurance company is struck, or, if no such balance is struck, then the calendar year.

(5) "life assurance business" means the issue of, or the undertaking of liability under policies of assurance upon human life, or the granting of annuities upon human life;

(6) "policy of assurance on human life" means any instrument by which the payment of money is assured on death (except death by accident only) or the happening of any contingency dependent on human life or any instrument evidencing a contract which is subject to payment of premiums for a term dependent on human life;

(7) "policy-holder" means the person who for the time being is the legal holder of the policy for securing the contract with the life assurance company;

(8) where a company grants annuities upon human life, "policy" includes the instrument evidencing the contract to pay such an annuity, and "policy-holder" includes annuitant; and

(9) "Registrar" means any person who may be appointed by Our Government to perform the duties of the Registrar under this Regulation.

3. Save as hereafter expressly provided, this Regulation shall apply to all persons or bodies of persons, whether corporate or unincorporate (which persons and bodies of persons are hereinafter referred to as life assurance companies), whether established before or after the commencement of this Regulation and whether established within or without Travancore, who carry on life assurance business within Travancore.

Explanation.—A company registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1093, which carries on life assurance business in any part of the world shall for the purposes of this Section be deemed to be a company carrying on such business within Travancore.

Exception.—Nothing in this Regulation shall apply to any society to which the Provident Insurance Societies Regulation applies or to any Fund which Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette exempt from the operation of this Regulation.

Deposits.

4. (1) Every life assurance company shall, if established before the commencement of this Regulation, within one year from such commencement, or if established after such commencement, before it commences to carry on the business of life assurance, deposit and keep deposited with the Chief Account Officer for and on behalf of Our Government, Government securities, as defined by the Travancore Government Securities Regulation III of 1049 of the face value of twenty-five thousand rupees or of a face value equal to one-third of the income derived from life assurance business as shown in the revenue account for the last financial year, whichever is greater and, until the company keeps deposited securities of the face value of two lakhs of rupees, shall annually deposit and keep deposited in like manner like securities of a face value—

(a) equal to one-third of the income derived from life assurance business as shown in the revenue account for the last financial year, until the face value of the securities deposited exceeds one lakh of rupees;

(b) and thereafter equal in amount to one-third of the increase to the life assurance fund as shown in the revenue account for the last financial year:

Provided that a company may at any time deposit securities of a face value of two lakhs of rupees or make up its deposit of securities to that value.

(2) The interest accruing due on the securities deposited under sub-section (1) shall be paid to the company.

(a) The deposit may be made by the subscribers of the memorandum of association of a company or any of them, in the name of a proposed company and, upon the incorporation of the company, shall be deemed to have been made by, and to be part of the assets of, the company, and the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies shall not issue a certificate of incorporation of the company under the Travancore Companies Regulation 1092 until the deposit has been made.

(4) The deposit shall be deemed to form part of the life assurance fund of the company.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing provisions, Our Government may by notification in Our Government Gazette declare that the deposit may be made in such other securities or in such other manner as may be specified in the notification.

Accounts and Documents.

5. In the case of a life assurance company transacting other business besides that of life assurance, a separate account shall be kept of all receipts in respect of the life assurance business, and the said receipts shall be carried to and form a separate fund to be called the life assurance fund.

Explanation.—Nothing in this Section shall be deemed to require any life assurance fund to be invested in separate investments from any other fund, but a separate balance sheet as prescribed under Section 7 shall be kept in respect of the life assurance fund.

Exception.—Nothing in this Section shall apply to a life assurance company established before the commencement of this Regulation by the terms of whose deed of settlement the whole of the profits of all the business carried on by the company are paid exclusively to the life policy-holders, and on the face of whose life policies the liability of the life assurance fund in respect of the other business distinctly appears.

6. The life assurance fund shall be as absolutely the security of the life policy holders as though it belonged to a company carrying on no other business than life assurance business and shall not be liable for any contracts of the company for which it should not have been liable had the business of the company been only that of life assurance, and shall not be applied, directly or indirectly, for any purposes other than those of life assurance.

Exception.—Nothing in this Section shall effect the liability of the life assurance fund, in the case of a company established before the commencement of this Regulation, for contracts entered into by the company before such commencement.

7. (1) Every life assurance company shall, at the expiration of each financial year, prepare.—
Accounts and balance sheets.

(a) a revenue account for the year in the form or forms set forth in the First Schedule and applicable to the class or classes of business carried on by the company;

(b) a profit and loss account in the form set forth in the Second Schedule, except where the company carries on life assurance business only and no other business;

(c) a balance-sheet or balance-sheets in the form or forms set forth in the Third Schedule;

(d) a statement containing the name of every person who during the year was a member of the board of directors or other governing body or was manager or secretary or held any similar office by whatever name called ;

(e) a statement showing—

(A) as regards new policies of life assurance in respect of which a premium has been paid in the year of account,—

(i) the number of policies,

(ii) the sums assured,

(iii) the amount received by way of single premiums (including all premiums paid at the outset where no subsequent premium is payable), and

(iv) the amount of yearly renewal premium income ;

(B) as regards total life assurance business,—

(i) the number of policies in force at the end of the year of account,

(ii) the sum assured (including reversionary bonus additions thereto) under policies in force at the end of the year of account, and

(iii) the premium income for which credit is taken in the revenue account ;

(C) as regards claims, the amount of the claims paid in the year of account under policies effected in Travancore,—

(i) to claimants in Travancore, and

(ii) to claimants outside Travancore ;

(f) a statement showing in such forms as Our Government may prescribe, a classified summary of the investments of the company in Travancore in Government securities and in Travancore concerns and the other Travancore assets held by the company.

(2) For the purposes of clause (e) of sub-section (1), all items required to be stated shall be net amounts after deduction of the re-insurances of the company's risks, and for the purposes of sub-clause (A) and (B) of that clause—

(a) the statement shall show separately the numbers and amounts in respect of policies effected in, and policies effected outside Travancore ;

(b) where a sum assured is payable periodically, whether by way of an annuity or otherwise, it shall be stated separately from lump sum payments ; and

(c) policies of assurance upon the lives of a group of persons whereby sums assured are payable in respect of several persons included in the group shall be excluded from the statement and be shown in a separate statement containing the like particulars.—

8. (1) Every life assurance company shall once in every five years, or at such shorter intervals as may be prescribed by the instrument constituting the company, or by its regulations or bye-laws, cause an investigation to be made into its financial condition, including a valuation of its liabilities, by an actuary and shall cause an abstract of the report of such actuary to be made in the form set forth in the Fourth Schedule.

(2) The provision of sub-section (1) regarding the making of an abstract shall also apply whenever at any other time an investigation into the financial condition of a life assurance company is made with a view to the distribution of profits, or whenever the results of any such investigation are made public.

9. In the case of a mutual life assurance company whose profits re-allocated to members wholly or mainly by annual abatements of premium, the abstract of the report of the actuary on the financial condition of the company prepared in accordance with the Fourth Schedule, may, notwithstanding anything in Section 8, be made and returned at intervals not exceeding five years: Provided that, where such return is not made annually, it shall include particulars as to the rates of abatement of premiums applicable to different classes or series of assurances allowed in each year during the period which has elapsed since the previous return under the Fourth Schedule.

10. Every life assurance company shall, within three years from the commencement of this Regulation and thereafter, at the date to which the accounts of the company are made up for the purposes of the investigation prescribed by Section 8, prepare a statement of its assurance business in the form set forth in the Fifth Schedule; Provided that, if the investigation is made annually by any company, the company may prepare such a statement at any time, so that it may be made at least once in every five years.

11. (1) Every account, balance-sheet, abstract or statement hereinbefore required to be made shall be printed, and four copies thereof, one of which shall be signed by the Chairman and two directors of the company, and by the principal officer of the company, and if the company has a managing director, by the managing director, shall be deposited with Our Government within six months in the case of accounts and balance-sheets required by Section 7, and within one year in other cases after the close of the period to which the account, balance-sheet, abstract or statement relates: Provided that, if in any case it is made to appear to Our Government that the circumstances are such that a longer period should be allowed, they may extend that period by such period as they may think fit.

(2) Our Government shall consider any document deposited in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) and, if any such document appears to Our Government to be inaccurate or defective in any respect, Our Government may call upon the company to furnish a further statement correcting any such inaccuracies or supplying any such deficiencies.

12. There shall be deposited with every revenue account and balance-sheet of a life assurance company every report on the affairs of the company submitted to the share-holders or policy-holders of the company in respect of the financial year to which the account and balance-sheet relate.

13. Where a life assurance company registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1093 in any year deposits its accounts and balance-sheet in accordance with the provisions of Section 11, the company may, at the same time, send to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies a copy of such amounts and balance-sheet, and where such copy is so sent, it shall not be necessary for the company to file a balance-sheet with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies as required by Section 138 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, and the copy of the accounts and balance-sheet so sent shall be dealt with in all respects as if it were a balance-sheet filed in accordance with that section.

14. A printed copy of the accounts, balance-sheet, abstract or statement last deposited shall, on the application of any share-holder or policy-holder of the company, be forwarded to him by the company by post or otherwise.

15. The accounts of every life assurance company shall be audited annually in such manner as Our Government may prescribe.

16. Every life assurance company which is not registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, shall keep a list of the names and addresses of its share-holders, and shall, on the application of any share-holder or policy-holder of the company, furnish to him a copy of such list on payment of a sum not exceeding two annas for every hundred words required to be copied.

17. Every life assurance company which is not registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, shall cause a sufficient number of copies of its deed of settlement or other instrument constituting the company to be printed, and shall, on the application of any share-holder or policy-holder of the company, furnish to him a copy of such deed of settlement or other instrument on payment of a sum not exceeding one rupee.

18. Where any notice, advertisement or other official publication of life assurance company contains a statement of the amount of the authorised capital of the company, the publication shall also contain a statement of the amount of the capital which has been subscribed and the amount paid up.

19. (1) Every life assurance company, constituted outside Travancore which establishes a place of business within Travancore or appoints an agent in Travancore with the object of obtaining life assurance business, shall, within three months from the establishment of the place of business or the appointment of such agent, file with the Registrar :—

Exemption from certain provisions of Regulation I of 1092.

Right of share-holders etc., to copies of accounts etc. otherwise.

List of share-holders.

Deed of settlement.

Publication of authorised as well as subscribed and paid-up capital.

Requirements as to companies established outside Travancore.

(a) a certified copy of the charter, statutes or memorandum and articles of the company, or other instrument constituting or defining the constitution of the company, and, if the instrument is not written in the English language, a certified translation thereof;

(b) a list of the directors of the company;

(c) the names and addresses of some one or more persons resident in Travancore authorised to accept on behalf of the company service of process and any notices required to be served on the company;

and, in the event of any alteration being made in any such instrument or in the list of directors or in the names and addresses of such persons as aforesaid, the company shall, within such time as Our Government may prescribe, file with the Registrar a notice of the alteration.

(2) Any process or notice required to be served on the company shall be sufficiently served if addressed to any person whose name has been so filed as aforesaid and left at or sent by post to the address which has been so filed.

(3) There shall be paid to the Registrar for registering any document, required by this section to be filed, a fee of five rupees or such smaller fee as Our Government may prescribe.

Amalgamation or Transfer.

20. (1) Where it is intended to amalgamate two or more life assurance companies, or to transfer the life assurance business of one company to another, the directors of any one or more of such companies may apply to the Court, by petition, to sanction the proposed arrangement.

(2) Before any such application is made to the Court—

(a) notice of the intention to make the application shall be published in Our Government Gazette at least two months before the application is made;

(b) a statement of the nature of the amalgamation or transfer, as the case may be together with an abstract containing the material facts embodied in the agreement or deed under which the amalgamation or transfer is proposed to be effected, and copies of the actuarial or other reports upon which the agreement or deed is founded, including a report by an independent actuary shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be transmitted to each policy-holder of each company: and

(c) the agreement or deed under which the amalgamation or transfer is effected shall be open for the inspection of the policy-holders and share-holders at the offices of the companies for a period of fifteen days after the last publication of the notice.

(3) The Court, after hearing the directors and other persons whom it considers entitled to be heard upon the petition, may sanction the arrangement if it is satisfied that no sufficient objection to the arrangement has been established.

(4) The Court shall not sanction the amalgamation or transfer in any case in which it appears to the Court that the life-policy-holders representing one tenth or more of the total amount assured in any company which it is proposed to amalgamate, or in any company the business of which it is proposed to transfer dissent from the amalgamation or transfer.

(5) No life assurance company shall amalgamate with another, or transfer its business to another unless the amalgamation or transfer is sanctioned by the Court in accordance with this section.

21. Where an amalgamation takes place between any life assurance companies, or where any life assurance business of one such company is transferred to another company, the combined company or the purchasing company, as the case may be, shall, within one month from the date of the completion of the amalgamation or transfer, deposit with our Government:—

Statement in case of amalgamation or transfer.

(a) certified copies of statements of the assets and liabilities of the companies concerned in such amalgamation or transfer together with a statement of the nature and terms of the amalgamation or transfer; and

(b) a certified copy of the agreement or deed under which the amalgamation or transfer is effected; and

(c) certified copies of the actuarial or other reports upon which that agreement or deed is founded; and

(d) a declaration under the hand of the Chairman of each company, and the principal officer of each company, that to the best of their belief every payment made or to be made to any person whatsoever on account of the amalgamation or transfer is there in fully set forth, and that no other payments beyond those set forth have been made or are to be made either in money, policies, bonds, valuable securities or other property by or with the knowledge of any parties to the amalgamation or transfer.

Winding up.

22. The Court may order the winding up of a life assurance company, in accordance with the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1892 and the provisions of that Regulation shall apply accordingly, subject, however, to the modification that the company may be ordered to be wound up—

Special provisions as to winding up of assurance companies.

(a) on the petition of ten or more policy holders:

Provided that such a petition shall not be presented except by the leave of the Court, and leave shall not be granted until a prima facie case has been established to the satisfaction of the Court and until security for costs for such amount as the Court may think reasonable has been given; or

(b) on application made on behalf of Our Government showing that from a consideration of the documents deposited with them under the provisions of this Regulation it appears to them that the company is insolvent.

23. (1) Where a life assurance business or any part of the life assurance business of a life assurance company has been transferred to another company under an arrangement in pursuance of which the first-mentioned company (in this Section called the subsidiary company) or the creditors thereof has or have claims against the company to which such transfer was made (in this Section called the principal company), then, if the principal company is being wound up by or under the supervision of the Court, the Court shall (subject as hereinafter mentioned) order the subsidiary company to be wound up in conjunction with the principal company, and may by the same or any subsequent order appoint the same person to be liquidator for the two companies, and make provision for such other matters as may seem to the Court necessary, with a view to the companies being wound up as if they were one company.

(2) The commencement of winding up of the principal company shall, save as otherwise ordered by the Court, be the commencement of the winding up of the subsidiary company.

(3) In adjusting the rights and liabilities of the members of the several companies between themselves, the Court shall have regard to the constitution of the companies and to the arrangements entered into between the companies, in the same manner as the Court has regard to the rights and liabilities of different classes of contributories in the case of the winding up of a single company or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

(4) Where any company alleged to be subsidiary is not in process of being wound up at the same time as the principal company to which it is subsidiary, the Court shall not direct the subsidiary company to be wound up unless, after hearing all objections (if any) that may be urged by or on behalf of the company against its being wound up, the Court is of opinion that the company is subsidiary to the principal that the winding up of the company, and company in conjunction with the principal company is just and equitable.

(5) An application may be made in relation to the winding up of any subsidiary company in conjunction with a principal company by any creditor of, or person interested in, the principal or subsidiary company.

(f) Where a company stands in the relation of a principal company to one company and in the relation of a subsidiary company to some other company, or where there are several companies standing in the relation of subsidiary companies to one principal company, the Court may deal with any number of such companies together or in separate groups as it thinks most expedient upon the principles laid down in this section.

24. Where a life assurance company is being wound up by the Court, or subject to the supervision of the Court, or voluntarily, the value of a policy or of a liability under a policy requiring to be valued in such winding up shall be estimated in manner applicable to policies and liabilities provided by the Sixth Schedule.

Valuation of annuities and policies.

25. The rules in the Sixth Schedule shall be of the same force, and may be repealed, altered or amended as if they were rules made in pursuance of Section 248 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092 and rules may be made under that Section for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Regulation with respect to the winding up of life assurance companies.

23. The Court, in the case of a life assurance company which has been proved to be unable to pay its debts, may, if it thinks fit, reduce the amount of the contracts of the company upon such terms and subject to such conditions as it thinks just, in place of making a winding up order.

27. In the winding up of a life assurance company in a case where any proportion of the profits of the company was before the commencement of the winding up allocated to policy holders, if, when the assets and liabilities of the company have been ascertained, there is found to be a surplus of assets over liabilities (herein after referred to as a prima facie surplus), there shall be added to the liabilities of the company in respect of its life assurance business an amount equal to such proportion of the prima facie surplus as is equivalent to such proportion of the profits allocated to share-holders and policy-holders as was allocated to policy-holders during the ten years immediately preceding the commencement of the winding up, and the assets of the company shall be deemed to exceed its liabilities only in so far as those assets exceed those liabilities after such addition as aforesaid :

Provided that, if in any case there has been no such allocation, or if it appears to the Court that by reason of special circumstances it would be inequitable that the amount to be added to the liabilities of the company in respect of the life assurance business should be an amount equal to such proportion as aforesaid, the amount to be so added shall be such amount as the Court may direct.

Special Provisions relating to Accounts and Documents.

28. Our Government may direct any documents deposited with them under this Regulation or certified copies thereof, to be kept by the Registrar or by any other officer appointed in this behalf, and any such documents and copies shall be open to inspection and copies thereof may be procured by any person on payment of such fees as Our Government may direct.

29. Our Government shall annually cause to be published in such manner as they may direct, a summary of the accounts, balance-sheets, abstracts, statements and other documents under this Regulation, or purporting to be under this Regulation, deposited with them during the preceding year by every life assurance company, except reports on the affairs of life assurance companies submitted to the share-holders or policy-holders thereof, and may append to such summary, any note of Our Government thereon, and any correspondence in relation thereto.

30. Every document deposited under this Regulation with Our Government, and certified by the Registrar or by any person appointed in that behalf by Our Government to be a document so deposited, shall be deemed to be a document so deposited.

31. Every document purporting to be certified by the Registrar, or by any person appointed in that behalf by Our Government, to be a copy of a document so deposited, shall be deemed to be a copy of that document, and shall be received in evidence as if it were the original document unless some variation between it and the original document be proved.

32. Our Government may, on the application or with the consent of a life assurance company, alter the forms contained in the Schedules to this Regulation as respects that company, for the purpose of adapting them to the circumstances of that company.

Companies carrying on business in the United Kingdom or in British India.

83. (1) An assurance company which carries on life assurance business in the United Kingdom in accordance with the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, or in British India in accordance with the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912, may, if carrying on life assurance business in Travancore before the commencement of this Regulation within three months of such commencement, or, in any other case, before it commences to carry on life assurance business in Travancore apply to Our Government for a declaration that it so carries on such business in the United Kingdom or in British India.

(2) A company applying under the provisions of sub-section (1) shall furnish, at the time of its application or at such further time as Our Government may prescribe, such evidence as they may direct of the facts alleged in its application.

(3) Where Our Government are satisfied that a life assurance company applying as aforesaid is a life assurance company which carries on business in the United Kingdom in accordance with the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, or in British India in accordance with the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912, they shall by notification in Our Government Gazette, make a declaration to that effect.

34. Where Our Government have notified a declaration in accordance with the provisions of Section 33 in respect of a life assurance company, nothing in Section 4, Section 6, clauses (a), (b) (c) or (d) of sub-section (1) of Section 7, Sections 8 to 12, Section, 15, 20, 21 or 29 shall apply to the company:

Application of the Regulation to companies which carry on life assurance business in the United Kingdom and British India.

Provided that

(1) the company shall deposit with Our Government in the manner prescribed in Section 11, copies of every account, balance-sheet, abstract, statement or other document which the company is required by the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, to deposit at the Board of Trade or by the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912 to deposit with the Governor General in Council

(2) if, at any time, a company in respect of which a declaration has been notified under Section 33 ceases to carry on life assurance business in the United Kingdom in accordance with the provisions of the Assurance Companies Act, 1909, or in British India in accordance with the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912 it shall, if it continues to carry on life assurance business in Travancore, be subject to all the provisions of this Regulation, from the date it ceased to carry on such business in the United Kingdom or in British India in accordance with the said Acts.

Penalties and Procedure.

35. Any life assurance company which makes default in complying with any of the requirements of this Regulation and every director, manager, or secretary, or other officer or agent of the company who is knowingly a party to the default shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or in the case of a continuing default, with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for every day during which the default continues; and, if default continues for a period of three months after notice of default by Our Government (which notice shall be published in one or more newspapers as Our Government may, upon the application of one or more policy-holders, or share-holders, direct), the default shall be a ground on which the Court may order the winding up of the company, in accordance with the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1902.

36. If any account, balance-sheet, abstract, statement or other document required by this Regulation is false in any particular to the knowledge of any person who signs it, such person shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

37. No Court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence against this Regulation.

Penalty for falsifying statements, etc.

Cognizance of offences.

Miscellaneous.

38. (1) Our Government may appoint one or more inspectors to examine into the affairs of any life assurance company, and to report thereon in such manner as they may direct.

Appointment of Inspectors.

(i) in the case of a life assurance company which is not registered under the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, upon the application—

(a) of share-holders being in number not less than one-fifth of the whole number of persons for the time being entered on the list of share-holders kept in accordance with the provisions of Section 16; or

(b) of 20 or more policy-holders owning policies of an aggregate value of not less than twenty thousand rupees;

(ii) in any case where a life assurance company has failed to furnish a further statement when required to do so under the provisions of Section 11, sub-section (2), or where Our Government are of opinion that any such further statement is insufficient or unsatisfactory.

(2) On an appointment being made under sub-section (1), the provisions of Section 144 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, shall apply to the examination made by such inspectors.

39. Any notice or other document which is by this Regulation required to be sent to any policy-holder may be addressed and sent to the person to whom notices respecting such policy are usually sent, and any notice so addressed and sent shall be deemed and taken to be notice to the holder of such policy.

Provided that where any person claiming to be interested in a policy has given to the company notice in writing of his interest, any notice which is by this Regulation required to be sent to policy-holders shall also be sent to such person at the address specified by him in his notice.

Powers to make rules. 40. (1) Our Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Regulation.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe the qualifications to be possessed by actuaries, auditors and inspectors under this Regulation and the manner in which the accounts of life assurance companies shall be audited;

(b) prescribe the time within, and the form in which notice of alteration of the particulars specified in Section 19 of the Regulation shall be filed with the Registrar;

(c) subject to the provisions of this Regulation prescribe the fees payable thereunder;

(d) provide that any portion of the investments of any life assurance company carrying on business within Travancore shall be in such securities as may be notified by Our Government in that behalf in Our Government Gazette.

(3) All rules made under this Regulation shall be published in Our Government Gazette and on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Regulation.

41. Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette and, subject to such restrictions and conditions as they think fit, exempt any life assurance company from all or any of the provisions of this Regulation.

Power of Our Government to exempt from the provisions of the Regulation.

NOTE 1.—When part of the assets of the company are specifically deposited under local laws in various places out of Travancore, as security to holders of life assurance policies there issued, each such place and the amount compulsorily lodged therein must be specified.

NOTE 2.—A balance sheet in the above form must be rendered in respect of the annuity fund if the investments of that fund are distinct from those of the life assurance fund.

NOTE 3.—The balance-sheet must state how the values of the Stock Exchange securities are arrived at, and on the occasions when a statement respecting valuation under the Fourth Schedule is made, a certificate must be appended, signed by the same persons as signed the balance-sheet, to the effect that in their belief the assets set forth in the balance-sheet are in the aggregate fully of the value stated therein, less any investment reserve fund taken into account.

NOTE 4.—A certificate must be appended hereto, signed by the same persons as signed the balance-sheet (Form A) and by the auditor, to the effect that no part of any such fund has been applied, directly, or indirectly, for any purpose other than the class of business to which it is applicable.

NOTE 5.—Companies having investments with any uncalled liability shall state separately the full amount thereof.

NOTE 6.—Particulars must be given of all loans, including temporary advances, except loans on policies within their surrender values, made at any time during the year to any direct or or officer of a company, or to any other company, in which any of the said directors or officers may hold the position either of director or of officer.

1. The date up to which the valuation is made.

2. The general principles adopted in the valuation and the method followed in the valuation of particular classes of assurances, including a statement of the method by which the net premiums have been arrived at, and whether these principles were determined by the instrument constituting the company or by its regulations or bye-laws, or how otherwise, together with a statement of the manner in which policies on under average lives are dealt with.

3. The table or tables of mortality used in the valuation. In cases where the tables employed are not published, specimen policy values are to be given at the rate of interest employed in the valuation, in respect of whole life assurance policies effected at the respective ages of 20, 30, 40, and 50, and having been respectively in force for 5 years, 10 years and upwards at intervals of five years, respectively, with similar specimen policy values in respect of endowment assurance policies, according to age at entry, original term of policy and duration.

4. The rate or rates of interest assumed in the calculations.

5. The actual proportion of the annual premium income (if any), reserved as a provision for future expenses and profits separately specified in respect of assurances with immediate profits, with deferred profits, and without profits. (If none, state how this provision is made).

6. The consolidated revenue account since the last valuation, or in case of a company which has made no valuation, since the commencement of the business. This return should be made in the form annexed. (No return under this heading will be required where a statement under this schedule is deposited annually.)

7. The liabilities of the company under life policies and annuities at the date of valuation showing the number of policies, the amount assured and the amount of premiums payable annually under each class of policies, both with and without participation in profits and also the net liabilities and assets of the company with the amount of surplus or deficiency. (These returns to be made in the forms annexed.)

8. The principles upon which the distribution of profits among the share-holders and policy-holders is made and whether these principles were determined by the instrument constituting the company or by its regulations or bye-laws or how otherwise, and the number of years' premiums to be paid before a bonus (a) is allotted and (b) vests.

9. The results of the valuation, showing; -

(1) The total amount of profit made by the company, allocated as follows:

(a) among the policy-holders with immediate participation, and the number and amount of the policies which participated;

(b) among policy-holders with deferred participation, and the number and amount of the policies which participated;

(c) among the share-holders;

(d) to reserve funds, or other accounts;

(e) carried forward unappropriated.

(2) Specimens of bonuses allotted to whole life assurance policies for R. 1000 effected at the respective ages of 20, 30, 40 and 50, and having been respectively in force for 5 years, 10 years and upwards at intervals of 5 years respectively, together with the amounts apportioned under the various modes in which the bonus might be received; with similar specimen bonuses and particulars in respect of endowment assurance policies, according to age at entry, original term of policy and duration.

THE FIFTH SCHEDULE.

(See Section 10.)

STATEMENT OF THE LIFE ASSURANCE AND ANNUITY BUSINESS OF
THE.....ON THE.....TO BE SIGNED BY THE ACTUARY.

(The answers should be numbered to accord with the numbers of the corresponding questions. Statements of re-assurances corresponding to the statements in respect of assurances are to be given throughout). Separate statements are to be furnished in the replies to all the headings under this Schedule for business at other than European rates.

1. The published table or tables of premiums for the assurances for the whole term of life and for endowment assurances which are in use at the date above mentioned.

2. The total amount assured on lives for the whole term of life which are in existence at the date above mentioned, distinguishing the portions assured with immediate profits, with deferred profits and without profits, stating separately the total reversionary bonuses and specifying the sum assured for each year of life from the youngest to the oldest ages, the basis of division as to immediate and deferred profits being stated.

3. The amount of premiums receivable annually for each year of life after deducting the abatements made by the application of the bonuses in respect of the respective assurances mentioned under Heading No. 2 distinguishing ordinary from extra premiums. A separate statement is to be given of premiums payable for a limited number of years, classified according to the number of years' payments remaining to be made.

4. The total amount assured under endowment assurances, specifying sums assured and office premiums separately in respect of each year in which such assurances will mature for payment. The reversionary bonuses must also be separately specified, and the sums assured with immediate profits, with deferred profits, and without profits separately returned.

5. The total amount assured under classes of assurance business, other than assurances dealt with under questions 2 and 4, distinguishing the sums assured under each class and stating separately the amounts, assured with immediate profits, with deferred profits, and without profits, and the total amount of reversionary bonuses.

6. The amount of premiums receivable annually in respect of each such special class of assurances mentioned under Heading No. 5, distinguishing ordinary from extra premiums.

7. The total amount of premiums which has been received from the commencement upon pure endowment policies which are in force at the date above-mentioned.

8. The total amount of immediate annuities on lives, distinguishing the amounts for each year of life, and distinguishing male and female lives.

9. The amount of all annuities on lives other than those specified under Heading No. 8, distinguishing the amount of annuities payable under each class, and the amount of premiums annually receivable.

10. The average rate of interest yielded by the assets, whether invested or uninvested, constituting the life assurance fund of the company calculated upon the mean fund of each year during the period since the last investigation without deduction of income tax.

It must be stated whether or not the mean fund upon which the average rate of interest is calculated includes reversionary investments.

11. A table of minimum values, if any, allowed for the surrender of policies for the whole term of life and for endowments and endowment assurances, or a statement of the method pursued in calculating such surrender values with instances of the application of such method to policies of different standing and taken out at various interval ages from the youngest to the oldest.

THE SIXTH SCHEDULE.

(See Sections 24 and 25).

RULES FOR VALUING ANNUITIES, LIFE POLICIES AND LIABILITIES.

Rule for valuing an annuity.

An annuity shall be valued according to the tables used by the company which granted such annuity at the time of granting the same, and, where such tables cannot be ascertained or adopted to the satisfaction of the Court, then according to such rate of interest and table of mortality as the Court may direct.

Rule for valuing a policy.

The value of the policy is to be the difference between the present value of the reversion in the sum assured according to the contingency upon which it is payable, including any bonus or addition thereto made before the commencement of the winding-up and the present value of the future annual premiums.

In calculating such present values interest is to be assumed at such rate and the rate of mortality according to such tables, as the Court may direct.

The premium to be calculated is to be such premium as according to said rate of interest and rate of mortality is sufficient to provide for the risk incurred by the office in issuing the policy, exclusive of any addition thereto for office expenses and other charges.

Rule for valuing liability.

The liquidator, in the case of all persons appearing by the books of the company to be entitled to or interested in policies granted by such company, is to ascertain the value of the liability of the company to each such person, and give notice of such value to such persons in such manner as the Court may direct, and any person to whom notice is so given shall be bound by the value so ascertained unless he gives notice of his intention to dispute such value in manner and within a time to be prescribed by a rule or order of the Court.

THE TRAVANCORE IDENTIFICATION OF PRISONERS BILL.

A Regulation to authorise the taking of measurements and photographs of convicts and others.

Whereas it is expedient to authorise the taking of measurements and photographs of convicts and others; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Identification of Prisoners Regulation;

(2) It shall come into force at once; and

(3) It shall extend to the whole of Travancore.

2. In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or content,—

(a) "measurement" includes finger impressions and foot-print impressions;

(b) "police officer" means an officer in charge of a police station, a police officer making an investigation under Chapter XIV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, or any other police officer not below the rank of Sub-Inspector; and

(c) "prescribed" means by the rules made under this Regulation.

3. Every person who has been—
Taking of measurements, etc., of non-convicted persons.

(a) convicted of any offence punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term of one year or upwards, or of any offence which would render him liable to enhanced punishment on a subsequent conviction; or

(b) ordered to give security for his good behaviour under Section 101 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, shall, if so required, allow his measurements and photograph to be taken by a police officer in the prescribed manner.

4. Any person who has been arrested in connection with an offence punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term of one year or upwards shall, if so required by a police officer, allow his measurements to be taken in the prescribed manner.

Taking of measurements, etc., of non-convicted persons.

5. If a Magistrate is satisfied that, for the purposes of any investigation or proceeding under the Code of Criminal Procedure, it is expedient to direct any person to allow his measurements or photograph to be taken, he may make an order to that effect, and in that case the person to whom the order relates shall be produced or shall attend at the time and place specified in the order or shall allow his measurements or photograph to be taken, as the case may be, by a police officer.

Provided that no order shall be made directing any person to be photographed except by a Magistrate of the First Class:

Provided, further, that no order shall be made under this section unless the person has at some time been arrested in connection with such investigation or proceeding.

Power of Magistrate to order a person to be measured or photographed.

6. (1) If any person who under this Regulation is required to allow his measurements or photograph to be taken ~~refuses~~ <sup>resists</sup> or ~~refuses~~ <sup>resists</sup> to allow the taking of the same, it shall be lawful to use all means necessary to secure the taking thereof.

(2) Resistance to the taking of measurements or photographs under this Regulation shall be deemed to be an offence under Section 179 of the Travancore Penal Code.

7. Where any person who, not having been previously convicted of an offence punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term of one year or upwards had had his measurements taken or has been photographed in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation, is released without trial or discharged or acquitted by any Court, all measurements and all photographs (both negatives and copies) so taken shall, unless the Court or (in a case where such person is released without trial) the District Magistrate for reasons to be recorded in writing or otherwise directs, be destroyed or made over to him.

8. (1) Our Government may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Regulation.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing provision such rules may provide for—

(a) restrictions on the taking of photographs of persons under section 5;

(b) the place at which measurements and photographs may be taken;

(c) the nature of the measurements that may be taken;

(d) the method in which any class or classes of measurements shall be taken;

(e) the dress to be worn by a person when being photographed under section 3; and

(f) the preservation, safe custody, destruction and disposal of records of measurements and photographs;

9. No suit or other proceeding shall lie against any person for anything done, or intended to be done, in good faith under this Regulation or under any rule made thereunder.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to provide legal authority for the taking of photographs, finger impressions, foot-prints and measurements of persons convicted of, or arrested in connection with, certain offences. The value of the scientific use of finger impressions and photographs as agents in the detection of crime and the identification of criminals is well known; and the value, for the same purpose, of anthropometric measurements has also been recognised. The existing system by which the Police take finger impressions, photographs, etc., of criminals and suspected criminals is void of legal sanction; and, it has been brought to the notice of Government that the Police are handicapped thereby. This Bill is accordingly proposed, and it is drawn on the lines of the British Indian Statute on the subject, namely, the Identification of Prisoners Act, 1920 (Act XXXIII of 1920).

Annexure VI.

THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL.

A Bill to provide for the constitution of a Bar Council in Travancore and for other purposes.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the constitution and incorporation of a Bar Council in Travancore, to confer powers and impose duties on the Bar Council and to amend the Vakils' Regulation, 1075 and the Travancore Stamp Regulation for certain purposes; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

3. (1) A Bar Council shall be constituted for Travancore in the manner hereinafter provided.
 Constitution and incorporation of Bar Council.

(2) The Bar Council so constituted shall be a body corporate having perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire and hold property, both movable and immovable, and to contract, and shall by the name of the Travancore Bar Council sue and be sued.

4. (1) The Council shall consist of fifteen members of the Bar Council, whom—

(a) One shall be the Advocate-General;

(b) Four shall be persons nominated by the High Court, of whom not more than two may be judges of that Court; and

(c) Ten members shall be elected by the advocates from amongst their number.

(2) Of the elected members of the Council not less than five shall be persons who have, for not less than ten years, been entitled as of right to practise in the High Court.

(3) There shall be a Chairman of the Council nominated by Our Government and a Vice-Chairman elected by the Council in such manner as may be prescribed:

Provided that Our Government may at any time direct that the Chairman also may be elected by the Council in such manner as may be prescribed.

5. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (c) of sub-section (1) of Section 4, the elected members of the first Council shall be elected by and from amongst those who are on the date of the election entitled as of right to practise in the High Court.

Special provisions regarding constitution of first Bar Council.

(2) The term of office of the nominated and elected members of the first Council shall be three years from the date of the first meeting of the Council.

6. (1) Rules, consistent with this Regulation may be made to provide for the following matters, namely:—

Powers to make rules regarding constitution and procedure of the Bar Council.

(a) the manner in which elections of member of the Council shall be held; the method of determining, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 4, the candidate who shall be declared to have been elected; the manner in which the result of the elections shall be published; and the manner in which and the authority by which doubts and disputes as to the validity of an election shall be finally decided;

(b) the terms of office of nominated and elected members of the Council;

(c) the filling of casual vacancies in the Council;

(d) the convening of meetings of the Council, and the quorum necessary for the transaction of business thereat;

(e) the manner of election and the respective terms of office of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman; and

(f) any matter incidental or ancillary to any of the foregoing matters.

(2) The first rules under this Section shall be made by the High Court, but the Council may thereafter, with the previous sanction of the High Court, and to, amend or rescind any rules so made.

(3) No election of a member or members to the Council shall be called in question on the ground that due notice thereof has not been given to any person entitled to vote thereat, if notice of the date fixed for election has, not less than thirty days before that date, been published in Our Government Gazette.

(4) Rules made under clause (b) of sub-section (1) may provide for the retirement of members from office by rotation and for the manner in which the order of such retirement shall be determined.

7. The Council may make bye-laws, consistent with this Regulation and any rules made thereunder, to provide for any of the following matters, namely:—
bye-laws,

(a) The appointment of such ministerial officers and servants as the Council may deem necessary, and the pay and allowances and other conditions of service of such officers and servants; and

(b) The appointment and constitution of Committees of the Council, the procedure of such Committees, and the determination of the powers or duties of the Council, which may be delegated to such Committees.

ADMISSION AND ENROLMENT OF ADVOCATES.

8. (1) No person shall be entitled as of right to practise in the High Court or in any of the Courts subordinate thereto unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation:

Enrolment of Advocates. Provided that those who are enrolled before this Regulation comes into force as Vakils of any Court subordinate to the High Court but are not eligible for enrolment as advocates shall be entitled to practise as Vakils so long as their enrolment remains in force:

Provided also that nothing in this Regulation shall be deemed to take away the power of a Criminal Court to permit any person to appear and plead in any Criminal case before that Court under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(2) The High Court shall prepare and maintain a roll of advocates in which shall be entered the names of —

(a) all persons who were entitled as of right to practise in the High Court immediately before the date on which this Regulation comes into force; and

(b) all other persons who are admitted as advocates under this Regulation:

Provided that such persons shall have paid in respect of enrolment the stamp duty, if any, chargeable under the Travancore Stamp Regulation, IV of 1960, and a fee payable to the Council, which shall be Rs. 10 in the case of persons referred to in clause (a), and in other cases such amount as may be prescribed from time to time by Our Government by notification in Our Government Gazette.

(3) The High Court shall issue a certificate of enrolment to every person enrolled under this Section.

(4) The High Court shall send to the Council a copy of the roll as prepared under the Section, and shall thereafter communicate to the Council all alterations in, and additions to, the roll as soon as the same have been made.

(5) The Council shall enter in the copy of the roll all alterations and additions so communicated to it.

Qualifications and admission of advocates. 9. (1) The Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court, make rules to regulate the admission of persons as advocates.

Provided that such rules shall not limit, or in any way affect the powers of the High Court to refuse admission to any person at its discretion.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules shall provide for the following matters, namely: —

(a) the qualification to be possessed by persons applying for admission as advocates;

(b) the form and the manner in which applications shall be made to the High Court for admission;

(c) the giving of notice by the High Court to the Council of all such applications;

(d) the hearing by the High Court of any objection preferred on behalf of the Council to the admission of any applicant; and

(e) the charging of fees payable to the Council in respect of enrolment.

MISCONDUCT.

10. (1) The High Court may, in the manner hereinafter provided, reprimand, suspend or remove from practice any advocate for whom it finds guilty of professional or other misconduct.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint made to it by any Court or by the Council or by any other person that any advocate has been guilty of misconduct, the High Court shall, if it does not summarily reject the complaint, refer the case for enquiry either to the Council or, after consultation with the Council, to the Court of a District Judge (hereinafter referred to as the District Court) and may of its own motion so refer any case in which it has otherwise reason to believe that any advocate has been so guilty.

11. (1) Where any case is referred for enquiry to the Council under Section 10, the case shall be enquired into by a Committee of the Council (hereinafter referred to as the Tribunal).

(2) The Tribunal shall consist of not less than three and not more than five members of the Council appointed for the purpose of the enquiry by the Chief Justice of the High Court and one of the members so appointed shall be appointed to be the President of the Tribunal.

12. (1) The High Court shall make rules to prescribe the procedure to be followed by the Tribunal and by District Courts respectively in the conduct of enquiries referred under Section 10.

(2) The finding of the Tribunal on an enquiry referred to the Council under Section 10 shall be forwarded to the High Court through the Council and the finding of a District Court on such an enquiry shall be forwarded direct to the High Court which shall cause a copy thereof to be sent to the Council.

(3) On receipt of the finding, the High Court shall fix a date for the hearing of the case and shall cause notice of the day so fixed to be given to the advocate concerned and to the Council and to the Advocate-General and shall afford the Advocate concerned and the Council and the Advocate-General an opportunity of being heard before orders are passed in the case.

(4) The High Court may thereafter either pass such final orders in the case as it thinks fit or refer it back for further enquiry to the Tribunal through the Council or to the District Court, as the case may be, and upon receipt of the finding after such further enquiry deal with the case in the manner provided in sub-section (3) and pass final orders thereon.

(5) In passing final orders, the High Court may pass such order as regards the payment of the costs of the enquiry and of the hearing in the High Court as it thinks fit.

(6) The High Court may, of its own motion or on application made to it in this behalf, review any order passed under sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) and maintain, vary or rescind the same as it thinks fit.

(7) When any advocate is reprimanded or suspended under this Regulation, a record of the punishment shall be entered against his name in the roll of advocates; and when an advocate is removed from practice, his name shall forthwith be struck off the roll; and the certificate of any advocate so suspended or removed shall be recalled.

13. (1) For the purposes of any such enquiry as aforesaid, the Tribunal or District Court shall have the same powers as are vested in a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, in respect of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath;
- (b) compelling the production of documents; and
- (c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses:

Provided that the Tribunal shall not have power to require the attendance of the presiding officer of any Court save with the previous sanction of the High Court.

(2) Every such enquiry shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of Sections 187 and 226 of the Travancore Penal Code and the Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for the purpose of Sections 559, 561 and 563 of the Code of Criminal Procedure."

(3) For the purpose of enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath or of compelling the production of documents or of issuing commissions, the Tribunal may send to any Civil Court any summons or other process for the attendance of a witness or the production of a document required by the Tribunal or any commission which it desires to issue, and the Civil Court shall serve such process or issue such commission as the case may be, and may enforce any such process as if it were a process for attendance or production before itself.

(4) In any such inquiry before a Tribunal or a District Court no witness shall be excused from answering any question as to any matter relevant to the matter in issue upon the ground that the answers to such questions will incriminate or may tend directly or indirectly to incriminate such witness or that it will expose, or tend directly or indirectly to expose, such witness to a penalty or forfeiture of any kind:

Provided that no such answer which a witness is compelled to give shall subject him to any arrest or prosecution or be proved against him in any criminal proceeding except a prosecution for giving false evidence by such answer.

MISCELLANEOUS.

14. (1) An advocate shall be entitled as of right, to practise—

- (a) in the High Court and the Courts subordinate thereto; and

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Amongst the recommendations of the Law's Delays Commissioner is the introduction of a measure on the lines of the Indian Bar Councils Act. (See his recommendation No. 205). He suggests that with a view to convert the members of the legal profession in Travancore into an autonomous body with powers to control and regulate their conduct and to look after the interests of the profession generally the enactment of a law on the lines of the Indian Bar Councils Act would be desirable. The High Court has agreed with the recommendation of the Law's Delays Commissioner. This Bill is accordingly proposed, and it is drawn generally on the lines of the Indian Act.

NOTES ON IMPORTANT CLAUSES.

1. Clauses 3 to 6 : These clauses provide for the constitution and incorporation of a Bar Council for Travancore. It is to consist of 15 members. One of the members will be the Advocate-General, four will be nominated by the High Court, and ten will be elected.

2. Clause 8 : It is proposed in this clause that, in future, only one class of lawyers, called advocates, shall function in the High Court and the Courts subordinate thereto. At the same time, vested rights are not proposed to be interfered with, and persons already entolled as pleaders will remain as such so long as their enrolment remains in force.

3. Clause 9 : This clause provides for rules being made by the Bar Council with the sanction of the High Court to regulate the admission of advocates and to lay down the qualifications for admission as advocates.

4. Clauses 10 to 13 : These clauses provide for the disciplinary control of advocates. It is vested in the High Court. Provision is however made for enquiries being made through the Bar Council or a District Court and for hearing the Bar Council before final orders are passed.

5. Clause 14 : This clause provides for the right of advocates to practise in all the Courts. It also provides the right of any person appointed as Sirkar Vakil to appear and plead in Courts.

6. Clause 15 : This clause lays down the matters in respect of which the Bar Council may make rules.

7. Clause 16 : This clause provides for the fixing of fees payable to advocates.

8. Clause 19 : This clause empowers Courts to declare persons as "outs".

Annexure VII.

THE TRAVANCORE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BILL.

A Regulation to provide for the payment by certain classes of employers to their workmen of compensation for injury by accident.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the payment by certain classes of employers to their workmen of compensation for injury by accident; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

Preliminary.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Workmen's Compensation Regulation.

(2) It extends to the whole of Travancore

(3) It shall come into force on.....

Definitions.

(1) In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "adult" and "minor" mean respectively a person who is not and a person who is under the age of fifteen years;

(b) "Commissioner" means a Commissioner for Workmen's Compensation appointed under Section 23;

(c) "compensation" means compensation as provided for by this Regulation;

(d) "dependant" means any of the following relatives of a deceased workman, namely:—

(i) a wife, a minor legitimate son, and unmarried legitimate daughter, or a widowed mother; and

(ii) if wholly or in part dependant on the earnings of the workman at the time of his death, a husband, a parent other than a widowed mother, a minor illegitimate son, an unmarried illegitimate daughter, a daughter legitimate or illegitimate if married and a minor or if widowed, a minor brother, an unmarried or widowed sister, a widowed daughter-in-law, a minor child of a deceased son, or where no parent of the workman is alive, a maternal grand-parent or a paternal grand-parent;

(e) "employer" includes any body of persons whether incorporated or not and any managing agent of an employer and the legal representative of a deceased employer, and, when the services of a workman are temporarily lent or let on hire to another person by the person with whom the workman has entered into a contract of service or apprenticeship, means such other person while the workman is working for him;

(f) "managing agent" means any person appointed or acting as the representative of another person for the purpose of carrying on such other person's trade or business but does not include an individual manager subordinate to an employer;

(g) "partial disablement" means, where the disablement is of a temporary nature, such disablement as reduces the earning capacity of a workman in any employment in which he was engaged at the time of the accident resulting in the disablement, and, where the disablement is of a permanent nature, such disablement as reduces his earning capacity in every employment which he was capable of undertaking at the time: provided that every injury specified in Schedule I shall be deemed to result in permanent partial disablement;

(A) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Regulation;

(B) "qualified medical practitioner" means any person possessing the qualifications prescribed in that behalf or any person declared by Our Government, by notification in Our Government Gazette, to be a qualified medical practitioner for the purposes of this Regulation;

(C) "railway" means a railway declared to be such by Our Government, and "railway servant" means a railway servant so prescribed.

(D) "seaman" means any person forming part of the crew of any ship, but does not include the master of the ship;

(E) "total disablement" means such disablement, whether of a temporary or permanent nature, as incapacitates a workman for all work which he was capable of performing at the time of the accident resulting in such disablement; provided that permanent total disablement shall be deemed to result from the permanent total loss of the sight of both eyes or from any combination of injuries specified in Schedule I where the aggregate percentage of the loss of earning capacity, as specified in that Schedule against those injuries, amounts to one hundred per cent;

(F) "wages" includes any privilege or benefit which is capable of being estimated in money, other than a travelling allowance or the value of any travelling concession or a contribution paid by the employer of a workman towards any pension or provident fund or a sum paid to a workman to cover any special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment;

(G) "workman" means any person (other than a person whose employment is of a casual nature and who is employed otherwise than for the purposes of the employer's trade or business) who is—

(i) a railway servant not employed in any such capacity as is specified in Schedule II, or

(ii) employed on monthly wages not exceeding three hundred rupees in any such capacity as is specified in Schedule II, whether the contract of employment was made before or after the passing of this Regulation and whether such contract is expressed or implied, oral, or in writing; but does not include any person working in the capacity of a member of Our military forces; and any reference to a workman who has been injured shall, where the workman is dead, include a reference to his dependants or any of them.

(2) The exercise and performance of the powers and duties of a local authority or of any department of Our Government shall, for the purposes of this Regulation, unless a contrary intention appears, be deemed to be the trade or business of such authority or department.

(3) Our Government after giving, by notification in Our Government Gazette, not less than three months' notice of their intention so to do, may, by a like notification, add to Schedule II any class of persons employed in any occupation which they are satisfied is a hazardous occupation, and the provisions of this Regulation shall thereupon apply to such classes of persons;

Provided that in making such addition Our Government may direct that the provisions of this Regulation shall apply to such classes of persons in respect of specified injuries only.

CHAPTER II.

Workmen's Compensation.

3. (1) If personal injury is caused to a workman by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, his employer shall be liable to pay compensation in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter :
 Employer's liability for compensation.

Provided that the employer shall not be so liable—

(a) in respect of any injury which does not result in the total or partial disablement of the workman for a period exceeding seven days ;

(b) in respect of any injury not resulting in death, caused by an accident which is directly attributable to—

(i) the workman having been at the time thereof under the influence of drink or drugs, or

(ii) the wilful disobedience of the workman to an order expressly given, or, to a rule expressly framed, for the purpose of securing the safety of workman, or

(iii) the wilful removal or disregard by the workman of any safety guard or other device which he knew to have been provided for the purpose of securing the safety of workman ;

(2) If a workman employed in any employment involving the handling of wool, hair, bristles, or animal carcasses, on parts of such carcasses or in the loading, unloading or transport of any merchandise or in any work in connection with animals infected with anthrax contracts the disease of anthrax, or if a workman whilst in the service of an employer in whose service he has been employed for a continuous period of not less than six months in any employment specified in Schedule II, contracts any disease specified therein as an occupational disease peculiar to that employment, the contracting of the disease shall be deemed to be an injury by accident within the meaning of this Section and, unless the employer proves the contrary, the accident shall be deemed to have arisen out of and in the course of the employment.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this sub-section a period of service shall be deemed to be continuous which has not included a period of service under any other employer.

(3) Our Government, after giving, by notification in Our Government Gazette, not less than three months' notice of their intention so to do, may, by a like notification, add any description of employment to the employments specified in Schedule III, and shall specify in the case of the employments so added the disease which shall be deemed for the purposes of this Section to be occupational diseases peculiar to those employments respectively, and the provisions of sub-section (2) shall thereupon apply as if such disease had been declared by this Regulation to be occupational diseases peculiar to those employments.

(4) Save as provided by sub-section (2) and (3) no compensation shall be payable to a workman in respect of any disease unless the disease is directly attributable to a specific injury by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment.

(5) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to confer any right to compensation on a workman in respect of any injury if he has instituted in a

Civil Court a suit for damages in respect of the injury against the employer or any other person; and no suit for damages shall be maintainable by a workman in any court of law in respect of any injury—

(a) if he has instituted a claim to compensation in respect of the injury before a Commissioner; or

(b) if an agreement has been come to between the workman and his employer providing for the payment of compensation in respect of the injury in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation.

4. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Regulation, the amount of compensation shall be as follows namely:—

Amount of compensation.

A. Where death results from the injury—

(i) in the case of an adult in receipt of monthly wages falling within limits shown in the first column of Schedule IV—the amounts shown against such limits in the second column thereof, and

(ii) in the case of a minor—two hundred rupees;

B. Where permanent total disablement results from the injury—

(i) in the case of an adult in receipt of monthly wages falling within limits shown in the first column of Schedule IV—the amount shown against such limits in the third column thereof, and

(ii) in the case of a minor—twelve hundred rupees;

C. Where permanent partial disablement results from the injury—

(i) in the case of an injury specified in Schedule I, such percentage of the compensation which would have been payable in the case of permanent total disablement as is specified therein as being the percentage of the loss of earning capacity caused by that injury, and

(ii) in the case of an injury not specified in Schedule I, such percentage of the compensation payable in the case of permanent total disablement as is proportionate to the loss of earning capacity permanently caused by the injury.

Explanation.—Where more injuries than one are caused by the same accident, the amount of compensation payable under this head shall be aggregated but not so in any case as to exceed the amount which would have been payable if permanent total disablement had resulted from the injuries:

D. Where temporary disablement, whether total or partial, results from the injury, a half-monthly payment payable on the sixteenth day after the expiry of a waiting period of seven days from the date of the disablement, and thereafter half-monthly during the disablement or during a period of five years, whichever period is shorter,—

(i) in the case of an adult in receipt of monthly wages falling within limits shown in the first column of Schedule IV—of the sum shown against such limits in the fourth column thereof, and

(ii) in the case of a minor—of one-half of his monthly wages, subject to a maximum of thirty rupees:

Provided that—

(a) There shall be deducted from any lump sum or half-monthly payments to which the workman is entitled the amount of any payment or allowance which the workman has received from the employer by way of compensation during the period of disablement prior to the receipt of such lump sum or of the first half-monthly payment, as the case may be; and

(b) no half-monthly payment shall in any case exceed the amount, if any, by which half the amount of the monthly wages of the workman before the accident exceeds half the amount of such wages which he is earning, after the accident.

(2) On the ceasing of the disablement before the date on which any half-monthly payment falls due there shall be payable in respect of that half-month a sum proportionate to the duration of the disablement in that half-month.

5. For the purposes of this Regulation the monthly wages of a workman Method of calculating wages shall be calculated as follows, namely:

(a) where the workman has, during a continuous period of not less than twelve months immediately preceding the accident, been in the service of the employer who is liable to pay compensation, the monthly wages of the workman shall be one-twelfth of the total wages which have fallen due for payment to him by the employer in the last twelve months of that period;

(b) where the whole of the continuous period of service immediately preceding the accident during which the workman was in the service of the employer who is liable to pay the compensation was less than one month, the monthly wages of the workman shall be deemed to be the average monthly amount which, during the twelve months immediately preceding the accident, was being earned by a workman, employed on the same work by the same employer, or if there was no workman so employed, by a workman employed on similar work in the same locality;

(c) in other cases, the monthly wages shall be thirty times the total wages earned in respect of the last continuous period of service immediately preceding the accident from the employer who is liable to pay compensation, divided by the number of days comprising such period.

Explanation.—A period of service shall, for the purposes of this subsection, be deemed to be continuous which has not been interrupted by a period of absence from work exceeding fourteen days.

6. (1) Any half-monthly payment payable under this Regulation, either under an agreement between the parties or under the order of a Commissioner, may be reviewed by the Commissioner on the application either of the employer or of the workman accompanied by the certificate of a qualified medical practitioner that there has been a change in the condition of the workman or, subject to rules made under this Regulation, on application made without such certificate.

(2) Any half-monthly payment may, on review under this Section, subject to the provisions of this Regulation, be continued, increased, decreased or ended, or if the accident is found to have resulted in permanent disablement, be converted to the lump sum to which the workman is entitled less any amount which he has already received by way of half-monthly payments.

7. Any right to receive half-monthly payments may, by agreement between the parties or, if the parties cannot agree and the payments have been continued for not less than six months on the application of either party to the Commissioner, be redeemed by the payment of a lump sum of such amount as may be agreed to by the parties or determined by the Commissioner, as the case may be.

8. (1) No payment of compensation in respect of a workman whose injury has resulted in death, and no payment of a lump sum as compensation to a woman or a person under a legal disability, shall be made otherwise than by deposit with the Commissioner, and no such payment made directly by an employer shall be deemed to be a payment of compensation :

Provided that, in the case of a deceased workman, an employer may make to any dependant advances on account of compensation not exceeding an aggregate of one hundred rupees, and so much of such aggregate as does not exceed the compensation payable to that dependant shall be deducted by the Commissioner from such compensation and repaid to the employer.

(2) Any other sum amounting to not less than ten rupees which is payable as compensation may be deposited with the Commissioner on behalf of the person entitled thereto. —

(3) The receipt of the Commissioner shall be a sufficient discharge in respect of any compensation deposited with him.

(4) On the deposit of any money under sub-section (1) as compensation in respect of a deceased workman the Commissioner shall deduct therefrom the actual cost of the workman's funeral expenses, to an amount not exceeding twenty-five rupees and pay the same to the person by whom such expenses were incurred, and shall if he thinks necessary, cause notice to be published or to be served on each dependant in such manner as he thinks fit, calling upon the dependants to appear before him on such date as he may fix for determining the distribution of compensation. If the Commissioner is satisfied, after any inquiry which he may deem necessary, that no dependant exists, he shall repay the balance of the money to the employer by whom it was paid. The Commissioner shall, on application by the employer, furnish a statement showing in detail all disbursements made.

(5) Compensation deposited in respect of a deceased workman shall, subject to any deduction made under sub-section (4), be apportioned among the dependants of the deceased workman or any of them in such proportion as the Commissioner thinks fit, or may, in the discretion of the Commissioner be allotted to any one dependant.

(6) Where any compensation deposited with Commissioner is payable to any person, the Commissioner shall, if the person, to whom the compensation is payable is not a woman or a person under a legal disability and may, in other cases, pay the money to the person entitled thereto.

(7) Where any lump sum deposited with the Commissioner is payable to a woman or a person under a legal disability, such sum may be invested, applied or otherwise dealt with for the benefit of the woman, or of such person during his disability, in such manner as the Commissioner may direct; and where a half-monthly payment is payable to any person under a legal disability, the Commissioner may, of his own motion, or on application, made to him in this behalf, order that the payment be made during the disability to any dependant of the workman or to any other person whom the Commissioner thinks best fitted to provide for the welfare of the workman.

(8) Where, on application made to him in this behalf or otherwise, the Commissioner is satisfied that, on account of neglect of children on the part of a parent or on account of the variation of the circumstances of any dependant or for any other sufficient cause, an order of the Commissioner as to the distribution of any sum paid as compensation or as to the manner in which any sum payable to any such dependant is to be invested, applied or otherwise dealt with, ought to be varied, the Commissioner may make such orders for the variation of the former order as he thinks just in the circumstances of the case:—

Provided that no such order prejudicial to any person shall be made unless such person has been given an opportunity of showing cause why the order should not be made, or shall be made in any case in which it would involve the repayment by a dependant of any sum already paid to him.

(9) Where the Commissioner varies any order under sub-section (8) by reason of the fact that payment of compensation to any person has been obtained by fraud, impersonation or other improper means, any amount so paid to or on behalf of such person may be recovered in the manner herein-after provided in Section 38.

9. Save as provided by this Regulation, no lump sum or half-monthly payment payable under this Regulation shall in any way be capable of being assigned or charged or be liable to attachment or pass to any person other than the workman by operation of law, nor shall any claim be set off against the same.

10. (1) No proceedings for the recovery of compensation shall be maintainable before a Commissioner unless notice of the accident has been given, in the manner hereinafter provided, as soon as practicable after the happening thereof and before the workman has voluntarily left the employment in which he was injured, and unless the claim for compensation with respect to such accident has been instituted within six months of the occurrence of the accident or, in case of death, within six months from the date of death.

Provided that, where the accident is the contracting of a disease in respect of which the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 3 are applicable the accident shall be deemed to have occurred on the first of the days during which the workman was continuously absent from work in consequence of the disablement caused by the disease :

Provided further, that the want of or any defect or irregularity in a notice shall not be a bar to the maintenance of proceedings—

(a) If the claim is made in respect of the death of a workman resulting from an accident which occurred on the premises of the employer, or at any place, where the workman at the time of the accident was working under the control of the employer or of any person employed by him, and the workman died on such premises or at such place, or on any premises belonging to the employer, or died without having left the vicinity of the premises or place where the accident occurred, or

(b) If the employer had knowledge of the accident from any other source at or about the time when it occurred:

Provided, further, that the Commissioner may admit and decide any claim to compensation in any case notwithstanding that the notice has not been given, or the claim has not been instituted, in due time as provided in this sub-section, if he is satisfied that the failure so to give the notice or institute the claim, as the case may be, was due to sufficient cause.

(2) Every such notice shall give the name and address of the person injured and shall state in ordinary language the cause of the injury and the date on which the accident happened and shall be served on the employer or upon any one of several employers, or upon any person directly responsible to the employer for the management of any branch of the trade or business in which the injured workman was employed.

(3) Our Government may require that any prescribed class of employers shall maintain at their premises at which workmen are employed a notice book in the prescribed form, which shall be readily accessible at all reasonable times to any injured workman employed on the premises and to any person acting bona fide on his behalf.

(4) A notice under this Section may be served by delivering it at, or sending it by registered post addressed to, the residence or any office or place of business of the person on whom it is to be served, or, where a notice book is maintained, by entry in the notice book.

11. (1) Where a Commissioner receives information from any source that a workman has died as a result of an accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, he may, send by registered post a notice to the workman's employer requiring him to submit, within thirty days of the service of the notice, a statement, in the prescribed form, giving the circumstances attending the death of the workman, and indicating whether, in the opinion of the employer, he is or is not liable to deposit compensation on account of the death.

(2) If the employer is of opinion that he is liable to deposit compensation, he shall make the deposit within thirty days of the service of the notice.

(3) If the employer is of opinion that he is liable to deposit compensation, he shall in his statement indicate the grounds on which he disclaims liability.

(4) Where the employer has so disclaimed liability, the Commissioner, after such enquiry as he may think fit may inform any of the dependants of the deceased workman that it is open to the dependants to prefer a claim for compensation, and may give them such other further information as he may think fit.

12. (1) Where, by any law for the time being in force, notice is required to be given to any authority, by or on behalf of an employer, of any accident occurring on his premises which results in death, the person required to give the notice shall, within seven days of the death, send a report to the Commissioner giving the circumstances attending the death.

Provided that where Our Government have so proscribed the person required to give the notice may instead of sending such report to the Commissioner send it to the authority to whom he is required to give the notice.

(2) Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, extend the provisions of sub-section (1) to any class of Premises other than those coming within the scope of that sub-section, and may, by such notification, specify the persons who shall send the report to the Commissioner.

13. (1) Where a workman has given notice of an accident, he shall, if the employer, before the expiry of three days from the time at which service of the notice has been effected, offers to have him examined free of charge by a qualified medical practitioner, submit himself for such examination, and any workman who is in receipt of a half-monthly payment

Power to require from employers statements regarding fatal accidents.

Reports of fatal accidents.

Medical examination.

under this Regulation, shall, if so required, submit himself for such examination from time to time:

Provided that a workman shall not be required to submit himself for examination by a medical practitioner otherwise than in accordance with rules made under this Regulation or at more frequent intervals than may be prescribed.

(2) If a workman, on being required to do so by the employer under sub-section (1) or by the Commissioner at any time, refuses to submit himself for examination by a qualified medical practitioner or in any way obstructs the same, his right to compensation shall be suspended during the continuance of such refusal or obstruction unless, in the case of refusal, he was prevented by any sufficient cause from so submitting himself.

(3) If a workman, before the expiry of the period within which he is liable under sub-section (1) to be required to submit himself for medical examination, voluntarily leaves without having been so examined the vicinity of the place in which he was employed, his right to compensation shall be suspended until he returns and offers himself for such examination.

(4) Where a workman, whose right to compensation has been suspended under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), dies without having submitted himself for medical examination as required by either of those sub-sections, the Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, direct the payment of compensation to the dependants of the deceased workman.

(5) Where under sub-section (2), or sub-section (3) a right to compensation is suspended, no compensation shall be payable in respect of the period of suspension, and if the period of suspension commences before the expiry of the waiting period referred to in clause (d) of sub-section (1) of Section 4, the waiting period shall be increased by the period during which the suspension continues.

(6) Where an injured workman has refused to be attended by a qualified medical practitioner whose services have been offered to him by the employer free of charge or having accepted such offer has deliberately disregarded the instructions of such medical practitioner, then, if it is thereafter proved that the workman has not been regularly attended by a qualified medical practitioner and that such refusal, failure or disregard was unreasonable in the circumstances of the case and that the injury has been aggravated thereby, the injury and resulting disablement shall be deemed to be of the same nature and duration as they might reasonably have been expected to be if the workman had been regularly attended by a qualified medical practitioner, and compensation, if any, shall be payable accordingly.

14. (1) Where any person (hereinafter in this Section referred to as the Principal) in the course of or for the purposes of his trade or business contracts with any other person (hereinafter in this Section referred to as the contractor) for the execution by or under the contractor of the whole or any part of any work which is ordinarily part of the trade or business of the principal, the principal shall be liable to pay to any workman employed in the execution of the work any compensation which he would have been liable to pay if that workman had been immediately employed by him; and where compensation is claimed from the principal, this Regulation shall apply as if references to the principal were substituted for references to the employer except that the amount of compensation shall be calculated with reference to the wages of the workman under the employer by whom he is immediately employed.

(2) Where the principal is liable to pay compensation under this Section, he shall be entitled to be indemnified by the contractor or any other person from whom the workman could have recovered compensation and where a contractor who is himself a principal is liable to pay compensation or to indemnify a principal under this Section he shall be entitled to be indemnified by any person standing to him in the relation of a contractor from whom the workman could have recovered compensation and all questions as to the right to and the amount of any such indemnity shall, in default of agreement, be settled by the Commissioner.

(3) Nothing in this Section shall be construed as preventing a workman from recovering compensation from the contractor instead of the principal.

(4) This Section shall not apply in any case where the accident occurred elsewhere than on, in or about the premises on which the principal has undertaken or usually undertakes, as the case may be, to execute the work or which are otherwise under his control or management.

15. Where a workman has recovered compensation in respect of any injury caused under circumstances creating a legal liability of some person other than the person by whom the compensation was paid to pay damages in respect thereof, the person by whom the compensation was paid and any person who has been called on to pay an indemnity under Section 14 shall be entitled to be indemnified by the person so liable to pay damages as aforesaid.

16. (1) Where any employer has entered into a contract with any insurers in respect of any liability under this Regulation to any workman, then in the event of the employer becoming insolvent or making a composition or scheme of arrangement with his creditors or, if the employer is a company, in the event of the company having commenced to be wound up, the rights to the employer against the insurers as respects that liability shall, notwithstanding anything in any law for the time being in force relating to insolvency of the winding up of companies, be transferred to and vest in the workman, and upon any such transfer the insurers shall have the same rights and remedies and be subject to the same liabilities as if they were the employer, so, however, that the insurers shall not be under any greater liability to the workman than they would have been under to the employer.

(2) If the liability of the insurers to the workman is less than the liability of the employer to the workman, the workman may prove for the balance in the insolvency proceedings or liquidation.

(3) where in any case such as is referred to in sub-section (1) the contract of the employer with the insurers is void or voidable by reason of non-compliance on the part of the employer with any terms or conditions of the contract (other than a stipulation for the payment of premia), the provisions of that sub-section shall apply as if the contract were not void or voidable, and the insurers shall be entitled to prove in the insolvency proceedings or liquidation for the amount paid to the workman:

Provided that the provisions of this sub-section shall not apply in any case in which the workman fails to give notice to the insurers of the happening of the accident and of any resulting disablement as soon as practicable after he becomes aware of the institution of the insolvency or liquidation proceedings.

(4) There shall be deemed to be included among the debts which under Section 62 of the Travancore Insolvency Regulation, 1108, or under Section 282 of the Travancore Companies Regulation, 1092, are in the distribution of the property of an insolvent or in the distribution of the assets of a company being wound up to be paid in priority to all other debts, the amount due in respect of any compensation the liability whereof accrued before the date of the order of adjudication of the insolvent or the date of the commencement of the winding up, as the case may be, and those Regulations shall have effect accordingly.

(5) Where the compensation is a half-monthly payment, the amount due in respect thereof shall, for the purposes of this Section, be taken to be the amount of the lump sum for which the half-monthly payment could, if redeemable, be reduced if application were made for that purpose under Section 7 and a certificate of the Commissioner as to the amount of such sum shall be conclusive proof thereof.

(6) The provisions of sub-section (4) shall apply in the case of any amount for which an insurer is entitled to prove under sub-section 8 but otherwise those provisions shall not apply where the insolvent or the company being wound up has entered into such a contract with insurers as is referred to in sub-section (1).

(7) This Section shall not apply where a company is wound up voluntarily merely for the purposes of reconstruction or of amalgamation with another company.

17. This Regulation shall apply in the case of workmen who are masters of ships or seamen subject to the following modifications, relating to masters and seamen. namely:—

(1) The notice of the accident and the claim for compensation may, except where the person injured is the master of the ship, be served on the master of the ship as if he were the employer, but where the accident happened and the disablement commenced on board the ship, it shall not be necessary for any seamen to give any notice of the accident.

(2) In the case of the death of a master or seaman, the claim for compensation shall be made within six months after the news of the death has been received by the claimant or, where the ship has been or is deemed to have been lost with all hands, within eighteen months of the date on which the ship was, or is deemed to have been, so lost.

(3) Where an injured master or seaman is discharged or left behind in any part of the British dominions or in a foreign country, any depositions taken by any Judge or Magistrate in that part or by any Consular Officer in the foreign country and transmitted by the person by whom they are taken to Our Government shall, in any proceedings for enforcing the claim, be admissible in evidence.

(a) if the deposition is authenticated by the signature of the Judge, Magistrate or Consular Officer before whom it is made ;

(b) if the defendant or the person accused, as the case may be, had an opportunity by himself or his agent to cross-examine the witness ; and

(c) if the deposition was made in the course of criminal proceeding and proof that the deposition was made in the presence of the person accused ;

and it shall not be necessary in any case to prove the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed any such deposition and certificate by such person that the defendant or the person accused had an opportunity of cross examining the witness and that the deposition if made in a criminal proceeding was made in the presence of the person accused shall, unless the contrary is proved, be sufficient evidence that he had that opportunity and that it was so made.

(4) In the case of the death of a master or seaman leaving no dependants, the Commissioner shall, if the owner of the ship is under any law in force for the time being relating to merchant shipping liable to pay the expenses of burial of the master or seaman, return to the employer the full amount of the compensation deposited under sub-section (1) of Section 8 without making the deduction referred to in sub-section (4) of that Section.

(5) No half-monthly payment shall be payable in respect of the period during which the owner of the ship is, under any law in force for the time being relating to merchant shipping, liable to defray the expenses of maintenance of the injured master or seaman.

18. Our Government by notification in Our Government Gazette, direct that every person employing workmen, or that any specified class of such persons, shall send at such time and in such form and to such authority, as may be specified in the notification, a correct return specifying the number of injuries in respect of which compensation, has been paid by the employer during the previous year and the amount of such compensation, together with such other particulars as to the compensation as Our Government may direct.

19. Any contract or agreement whether made before or after the commencement of this Regulation, whereby a workman relinquishes any right of compensation from the employer for personal injury arising out of or in the course of the employment, shall be null and void in so far as it purports to remove or reduce the liability of any person to pay compensation under this Regulation.

20. Where any question arises as to the age of a person injured by accident arising out of and in the course of this employment in a factory, a certificate of age granted in respect of such person under the provisions of the law for the time being in force relating to factories, before the occurrence of the injury shall be conclusive proof of the age of such person.

Penalties. 21. (1) Whoever —
(a) fails to maintain a notice-book which he is required to maintain under sub-section (3) of Section 10, or
(b) fails to send to the Commissioner a statement which he is required to send under sub-section (1) of Section 11, or
(c) fails to send report which he is required to send under Section 12, or

(d) fails to make a return which he is required to make under Section 18 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

(2) No prosecution under this Section shall be instituted except by or with the previous sanction of a Commissioner, and no Court shall take cognisance of any offence under this Section, unless complaint thereof is made within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

CHAPTER III.

Commissioners.

22. (1) If any question arises in any proceedings under this Regulation as to the liability of any person to pay compensation (including any question as to whether a person injured is or is not a workman) or as to the amount of duration of compensation including any question as to the nature or extent of disablement, the question shall, in default of agreement, be settled by a Commissioner.

(2) No Civil Court shall have jurisdiction to settle, decide or deal with any question which is by or under this Regulation required to be settled, decided or dealt with by a Commissioner or to enforce any liability incurred under this Regulation.

23. (1) Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, appoint any person to be a Commissioner for Appointment of workmen's compensation for such local area as may be specified in the notification.

(2) Where more than one Commissioner has been appointed for any local area, Our Government may, by general or special order, regulate the distribution of business between them.

(3) Any Commissioner may, for the purpose of deciding any matter referred to him for decision under this Regulation, choose one or more persons possessing special knowledge of any matter relevant to the matter under inquiry to assist him in holding the inquiry.

(4) Every Commissioner shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Travancore Penal Code.

24. (1) Where any matter is under this Regulation to be done by or before a Commissioner, the same shall, subject to the provisions of this Regulation and to any rules made hereunder, be done by or before a Commissioner, for the Venue of proceedings and transfer. local area in which the accident took place which resulted in the inquiry:

(a) Provided that, where the workman is the master of a ship or a seaman, any such matter may be done by or before a Commissioner for the local area in which the owner or agent of the ship, resides or carries on business.

(2) If a Commissioner is satisfied by any party to any proceedings under this Regulation pending before him that such matter can be more conveniently dealt with by any other Commissioner, he may subject to rules made under this Regulation, order such matter to be transferred to such other Commissioner either for report or for disposal, and, if he does so, shall forthwith transmit to such other Commissioner all documents relevant for the decision of such matter and, where the matter is transferred for disposal, shall also transmit in the prescribed manner any money remaining in his hands or invested by him for the benefit of any party to the proceedings:

Provided that no matter other than a matter relating to the actual payment to a workman or the distribution among dependants of a lump sum shall be transferred for disposal under this sub-section to a Commissioner save with the previous sanction of Our Government, unless all the parties to the proceedings agree to the transfer.

(3) The Commissioner to whom any matter is so transferred shall, subject to rules made under this Regulation, inquire thereinto and, if the matter was transferred for report, return his report thereon or, if the matter was transferred for disposal, continue the proceedings as if they had originally commenced before him.

(4) On receipt of a report from a Commissioner to whom any matter has been transferred for report under sub-section (2), the Commissioner by whom it was transferred shall decide the matter referred in conformity with such report.

(5) Our Government may transfer any matter from any Commissioner to any other Commissioner.

25. (1) No application for the settlement of any matter by a Commissioner other than an application by a dependant or dependants for compensation shall be made unless and until some question has arisen between the parties in connection therewith which they have been unable to settle by agreement.

(2) An application to a Commissioner may be made in such form and shall be accompanied by such fee, if any, as may be prescribed, and shall contain, in addition to any particulars which may be prescribed, the following particulars, namely:—

(a) a concise statement of the circumstances in which the application is made and the relief or order which the applicant claims:—

(b) in the case of a claim for compensation against an employer, the date of service of notice of the accident on the employer and, if such notice has not been served or has not been served in due time, the reason for such omission;

(c) the names and addresses of the parties; and

(d) except in the case of an application by dependants for compensation a concise statement of the matters on which agreement has and of those on which agreement has not been come to.

(3) If the applicant is illiterate or for any other reason is unable to furnish the required information in writing, the application shall, if the applicant so desires, be prepared under the direction of the Commissioner.

26. (1) Where any sum has been deposited by an employer as compensation payable in respect of a workman whose injury has resulted in death, and in the opinion of the Commissioner such sum is insufficient, the Commissioner may, by notice in writing stating his reasons, call upon the employer to show cause why he should not make a further deposit within such time as may be stated in the notice.

(2) If the employer fails to show cause to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, the Commissioner can make an award determining the total amount payable, and requiring the employer to deposit the deficiency.

27. The Commissioner shall have all the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, for the purpose of taking evidence on oath (which such Commissioner is hereby empowered to impose) and of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents and material objects, and the Commissioner shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for all the purpose of Section 173 and of Chapter XXXIV of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

28. Any appearance, application or act required to be made or done by any person before or to a Commissioner (other than an appearance of a party which is required for the purpose of his examination as a witness) may be made or done on behalf of such person by a legal practitioner or other person authorised in writing by such person.

29. The Commissioner shall make a brief memorandum of the substance of the evidence of every witness as the examination of the witness proceeds, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Commissioner with his own hand and shall form part of the record ;

Method of recording evidence. Provided that, if the Commissioner is prevented from making such memorandum, he shall record the reason of his inability to do so and shall cause such memorandum to be made in writing from his dictation and shall sign the same, and such memorandum shall form part of the record :

Provided, further, that the evidence of any medical witness shall be taken down as nearly as may be, word for word.

30. All costs incidental to any proceedings before a Commissioner shall, subject to rules made under this Regulation, be in the discretion of the Commissioner.

Costs. 31. A Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, submit any question of law for the decision of the High Court and, if he does so, shall decide the question in conformity with such decision.

32. (1) Where the amount of any lump sum payable as compensation has been settled by agreement, whether by way of redemption of a half monthly payment or otherwise, or where any compensation has been so settled as being payable to a woman or a person under a legal disability a memorandum thereof shall be sent by the employer to the Commissioner, who shall, on being satisfied as to its genuineness, record the memorandum in a Register in the prescribed manner :

Registration of agreements. Provided that—

(a) no such memorandum shall be recorded before seven days after communication by the Commissioner of notice to the parties concerned ;

(b) the Commissioner may at any time rectify the Register ;

(c) where it appears to the Commissioner that an agreement as to the payment of a lump sum whether way of redemption of a half-monthly payment or otherwise, or an agreement as to the amount of compensation payable to a woman or a person under a legal disability ought not to be registered by reason of the inadequacy of the sum or amount, or by reason of the agreement having been obtained by fraud or undue influence or other improper means, he may refuse to record the memorandum of the agreement and may make such order including an order as to any sum already paid under the agreement as he thinks just in the circumstances.

(2) An agreement for the payment of compensation which has been registered under sub-section (1) shall be enforceable under this Regulation notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force,

33. Where a memorandum of any agreement, the registration of which is required by Section 32 is not sent to the Commissioner as required by that Section, the employer shall be liable to pay the full amount of compensation which he is liable to pay under the provisions of this Regulation, and notwithstanding anything contained in the proviso to sub-section

(1) of Section 4, shall not, unless the Commissioner otherwise directs, be entitled to deduct more than half of any amount paid to the workman by way of compensation whether under the agreement or otherwise.

34. (1) An appeal shall lie to the High Court from the following orders of a Commissioner, namely:—

(a) an order awarding as compensation a lump sum whether by way of redemption of a half-monthly payment or otherwise or disallowing a claim in full or in part for a lump sum.

(b) an order refusing to allow redemption of a half-monthly payment;

(c) an order providing for the distribution of compensation among the dependants of a deceased workman, or disallowing any claim of a person alleging himself to be such dependant;

(d) an order allowing or disallowing any claim for the amount of an indemnity under the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 14; or

(e) an order refusing to register a memorandum or agreement or registering the same or providing for the registration of the same subject to conditions:

Provided that no appeal shall lie against any order unless a substantial question of law is involved in the appeal and, in the case of an order other than an order such as is referred to in clause (b), unless the amount in dispute in the appeal is not less than three hundred rupees:

Provided, further, that no appeal shall lie in any case in which the parties have agreed to abide by the decision of the Commissioner, or which the order of the Commissioner gives effect to an agreement come to by the parties:

Provided further that no appeal by an employer under clause (a) shall lie unless the memorandum of appeal is accompanied by a certificate by the Commissioner to the effect that the appellant has deposited with him the amount payable under the order appealed against.

(2) The period of limitation an appeal under this Section shall be sixty days.

(3) The provisions of Section 5 of the Travancore Limitation Regulation shall be applicable to appeals under this Section.

35. Where an employer makes an appeal under clause (a) of sub-section (1) of Section 34, the Commissioner may, and if so directed by the High Court, shall pending the decision of the appeal, withhold payment of any sum in deposit with him.

36. The Commissioner may recover as an arrear of land revenue any amount payable by any person under this Regulation whether under an agreement for the payment of compensation or otherwise and the Commissioner shall be deemed to be a Tahsildar within the meaning of the Revenue Recovery Regulation, Regulation I of 1968 as subsequently amended.

CHAPTER IV.

Rules.

Power of Government to make rules. 37. (1) Our Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Regulation.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) for prescribing the intervals at which and the conditions subject to which an application for review may be made under Section 6 when not accompanied by a medical certificate;

(b) for prescribing the intervals at which and the conditions subject to which a workman may be required to submit himself for medical examination under sub-section (1) of Section 13;

(c) for prescribing the procedure to be followed by Commissioners in the disposal of cases under this Regulation and by the parties in such cases;

(d) for regulating the transfer of matters and cases from one Commissioner to another and the transfer of money in such cases;

(e) for prescribing the manner in which money in the hands of a Commissioner may be invested for the benefit of dependants of a deceased workman and for the transfer of money so invested from one Commissioner to another;

(f) for the representation in proceedings before Commissioners of parties who are minors or are unable to make an appearance;

(g) for prescribing the form and manner in which memoranda of agreements shall be presented and registered;

(h) for the withholding by Commissioners, whether in whole or in part, of half-monthly payments pending decision on applications for review of the same;

(i) for regulating the scales of costs which may be allowed in proceedings under this Regulation;

(j) for prescribing and determining the amount of the fees payable in respect of any proceedings before a Commissioner under this Regulation;

(k) for the maintenance by Commissioners of registers and records of proceedings before them;

(l) for prescribing the classes of employers who shall maintain notice-books under sub-section (3) of Section 10 and the form of such notice-books;

(m) for prescribing the form of statement to be submitted by employers under Section 11;

(n) for prescribing the cases in which the report referred to in Section 12 may be sent to an authority other than the Commissioner;

(o) for any other matter which is or may be prescribed;

(p) generally for carrying out the provisions of this Regulation.

Publication of 38. (1) The power to make rules conferred by Section 37 shall be subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

(2) The date to be specified in accordance with clause (e) of Section 8 of the Travancore General Clauses Regulation of 1972, as that at or after which a draft of rules proposed to be made under Section 37 will be taken into consideration, shall not be less than three months from the date at which the draft of the proposed rules was published.

(3) Rules so made shall be published in Our Government Gazette and on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Regulation.

39. Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, make rules for the transfer to any part of any other country of money paid to a Commissioner under this Regulation for the benefit of any person residing or about to reside in such part and for the receipt and administration in Travancore of any money awarded under the law relating to workmen's compensation in any part of any other country and applicable for the benefit of any person residing or about to reside in Travancore.

Rules to give effect to arrangements with other countries for the transfer of money paid as compensation.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The essential object of the Bill is to provide for the payment by certain classes of employers to their workmen of compensation for injury by accident. The number of workmen employed in what may be called "hazardous" occupations whether in factories or otherwise is on the increase and is likely to continue to increase. In British India and most other civilized countries there is special legislation providing for the payment of compensation in case of injury caused to such workmen in the course of their employment. In British India an Act, the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, was passed in 1923, and subsequently it received some amendments. Recently, as a result of inquiry made into labour conditions in British India by a Royal commission, the Act underwent very many substantial changes, by Act XV of 1933. It is desirable, in the interests of labour, and even of the industry itself, that there should be special law enacted in Travancore for workmen's compensation and that the law should be uniform with that in British India. This Bill has accordingly been prepared, and it is drawn closely on the lines of the enactment now in force in British India.

2. Speaking generally, the Bill lays down (a) who the persons (workmen) are that are entitled to claim compensation, (b) who the persons are that are liable to pay the compensation, (c) what the conditions are that should be fulfilled before compensation is recoverable, (d) what the method of calculating the compensation amount is and (e) what procedure should be followed in proceedings under the proposed enactment.

3. What the classes of workmen are who can claim compensation are specified by the definition of the term "workmen" given by Clause 2 (1) (y) read with Schedule II. Other classes of workmen may, if found necessary, be brought within the purview of the measure by Government by notification [See Clause 2 (3)]. Clause 3 lays down that if personal injury (whether resulting in death or resulting in disablement, total or partial or permanent or temporary) is caused to a "workman", by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, his employer shall be liable to pay compensation in accordance with the provisions of his measure. The contracting of any disease peculiar to any employment (occupational disease) is presumed for purposes of compensation, to be an injury by accident arising in the course of the employment. The amounting of compensation payable is dealt with in Clauses 5 to 7. The right to compensation, the liability to pay it and the amount of it are proposed to be settled by the Commissioners appointed under the Regulation and they will proceed in a more or less summary manner (See Clause 22 to 33). The decision of the Commissioner will generally be final but in some limited cases, involving questions of law, an appeal will lie to the High Court. (See Clause 34). The Commissioner will collect the compensation amount and see to its proper distribution if necessary (See Clauses 36 and 8). Certain special provisions are made for ensuring that compensation reaches and benefits the persons intended to be benefited (See Clauses 9, 16 and 19).

Annexure VIII.

A BILL TO AMEND THE TRAVANCORE FOREST REGULATION OF 1068.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Travancore Forest Regulation of 1068 (II of 1068 as amended by Regulations IV of 1071, IX of 1085 IV of 1089 and VIII of 1097) for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (a) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Forest Regulation (Amendment) Regulation 111 .

(b) It shall come into force at once.

2. In the Travancore Forest Regulation of 1068 (II of 1068 as amended by Regulations IV of 1071, IX of 1085, IV of 1089 and VIII of 1097) in Section 47 A, after the words "such person", the words "on bail, or" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 47A of the Travancore Forest Regulation, empowers a Forest Officer to release an arrested person on his executing a bond for his future appearance. But it does not empower the officer to demand any surety for such appearance. It has been found that it is not always safe to release a person on his bond alone. In order to empower Forest Officers to demand sureties for appearance this Bill is Proposed.

THE SCHEDULE.

(1) The degree of Doctor, Bachelor and Licentiate of Medicine and Master, Bachelor and Licentiate of Surgery of the University of Madras, Bombay, Calcutta, Allahabad, Lahore and Mysore.

(2) A diploma or certificate granted by a British Indian Government or the Government of Ceylon to any person trained in a medical college or school declaring him to be qualified to practise Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery.

(3) The Diploma of Fellow Member and the Licentiate certificate granted by the State Medical Faculty of Bengal and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Bombay.

(4) The Diplomas granted by the Hyderabad Medical School or Osmania Medical College.

(5) The Diploma of Licensed Medical Practitioner granted by His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore's Medical School.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Representations have been made to Government that for the purpose of distinguishing the persons really qualified to practise the allopathic system of medicine and surgery from those who are mere quacks or pretenders and for the prevention of the unauthorised practice of medicine and surgery, a law should be passed in Travancore for the registration of the really qualified persons and the punishment of the unauthorized practitioners. This Bill has accordingly been drawn generally on the lines of the Madras Medical Registration Act, IV of 1914. The Bill provides for a Medical Council being established in Travancore with a Registrar as the council's Secretary, and for their maintaining a medical register in which the names of qualified persons will be registered. The Council is given power to remove the name of any person on the register for adequate reasons after making an enquiry for the purpose. An appeal will lie to the Government against the orders of the Council, but a resort to the civil courts is not allowed. Certain qualifications, which are considered sufficient to entitle a person to registration, are mentioned in the Schedule to the Bill, but as there may be medical men who, though they may not possess those qualifications, may yet be fit to practise the allopathic system of medicine, power is given to the Council to hold examinations and grant certificates of fitness with a view to the certificate holders being registered. Persons who are not registered practitioners are prohibited from practising the allopathic system.

Insertion of a new Section 19 AA. 18. In the said Regulation, after Section 19 A and before Section 19 B, the following Section shall be inserted, namely:—
 "19 AA. (1) When it appears to the Collector that any person may leave Travancore during the current year or shortly after its expiry and that he has no present intention of returning, the Collector may proceed to assess him on his total income for the period from the expiry of the last previous year for which he has been assessed to the probable date of his departure from Travancore. For each completed previous year included in this period an assessment shall be made on the total income of such person at the rate at which it would have been charged had such income been fully assessed, and for the period from the expiry of the last of such previous years to the probable date of departure the Collector shall estimate the total income of such person and assess it at the rate applicable to the income:

Assessment in case of departure from Travancore.

Provided that nothing herein contained shall authorise a Collector to assess any income, profits or gains which have escaped assessment or have been assessed at too low a rate in respect of which he is debarred from issuing a notice under Section 25.

(2) For the purpose of making an assessment under sub-section (1), the Collector may serve a notice upon such person requiring him to furnish within such time not being less than four days as may be specified in the notice, a return in the same form and verified in the same manner as a return under sub-section (2) of Section 17, setting forth, along with such other particulars as may be provided for in the notice, his total income for each of the completed previous years comprised in the period first referred to in sub-section (1) and his estimated total income for the period from the expiry of the last such completed previous year to the probable date of his departure; and the provisions of this Regulation shall, so far as may be, apply as if the notice were a notice issued under sub-section (2) of Section 17."

Amendment of Section 19 B. 14. In the said Regulation, for Section 19 B, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"19 B. (1) Where, at the time of making an assessment under Section 18, it is found that a change has occurred in the constitution of a firm or that a firm has been newly constituted, the assessment on the firm and on the members whereof shall, subject to the provisions of this Regulation, be made as if the firm had been constituted throughout the previous year as it is constituted at the time of making the assessment, and as if each member had made a share of the profits of that year proportionate to his interest in the firm at the time of making the assessment.

(2) Where, at the time of making the assessment under Section 18, it is found that the person carrying on any business, profession or vocation has been succeeded in such capacity by another person, the assessment shall be made on such person succeeding as if he had been carrying on the business, profession or vocation throughout the previous year, and as if he had received the whole of the profits for that year."

15. In the said Regulation, after Section 19 B and before Section 19 C, the following Section shall be inserted, namely:— Insertion of new Section 19 BB.

"19 BB. (1) Where a person dies, his executor, administrator or other legal representative shall be liable to pay out of the estate of the deceased person, to the extent to which the estate is capable of meeting the charge, the tax assessed as payable by such person, or any tax which would have been payable by him under this Regulation as if he had not died.

(2) Where a person dies before he is served with a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 or Section 25, as the case may be, the Collector may serve on his executor, administrator or other legal representative a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 or Section 25, as the case may be, and may proceed to assess the total income of the deceased person as if such executor, administrator or other legal representative were the assessee.

(3) Where a person dies without having furnished a return which he has been required to furnish under the provision of sub-section (2) of Section 17, or having furnished a return which the Collector has reason to believe to be incorrect or incomplete, the Collector may make an assessment of the total income of such person and determine the tax payable by him on the basis of such assessment, and for this purpose may require from the executor, administrator or other legal representative of the deceased person any accounts, documents or other evidence which he might under the provisions of Sections 17 and 18 have required from the deceased person."

16. In Section 21, sub-section (1), of the said Regulation, the following shall be added as a proviso, namely:— Amendment of Section 21.

"Provided that no appeal shall lie in respect of an assessment made under sub-section (4) of Section 18 or under that sub-section read with Section 19 C."

17. In Section 22, sub-section (3) proviso, of the said Regulation, for the word "applicant" the word "appellant" shall be substituted. Amendment of Section 22.

Amendment of Section 23. 18. In Section 23 of the said Regulation, for the words "assessment proceeding" the words "proceedings under this Regulation" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Section 24. 19. In the said Regulation, for Section 24, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"24. If the Collector, the Commissioner or the Chief Revenue Authority, in the course of any proceeding under this Regulation, is satisfied that an assessee has concealed the particulars of his income, or has deliberately furnished inaccurate particulars of such income and has thereby returned it below its real amount, he may direct that the assessee shall, in addition to the income tax payable by him, pay by way of penalty a sum not exceeding the amount of income tax which would have been avoided if the income so returned by the assessee had been accepted as the correct income :

Provided that no such order shall be made, unless the assessee has been heard, or has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard :

Provided further that no prosecution for an offence against this Regulation shall be instituted in respect of the same facts on which a penal assessment is made under this Section."

Amendment of Section 25. 20. In the said Regulation, for Section 25, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"25. If for any reason income, profits or gains chargeable to income tax has escaped assessment in any year or has been assessed at too low a rate, the collector may at any time within one year of the end of that year serve on the person liable to pay tax on such income, profits or gains, or in the case of a company, on the principal officer thereof, a notice containing all or any of the requirements which may be included in a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 and may proceed to assess or re-assess such income, profits or gains and the provisions of this Regulation shall, so far as may be, apply accordingly as if the notice were a notice issued under that sub-section :

Provided that the tax shall be charged at the rate at which it would have been charged had the income, profits or gains not escaped assessment or full assessment, as the case may be."

Amendment of Section 26. 21. In the said Regulation, for Section 26, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"26. (1) The Chief Revenue Authority or the Commissioner may, at any time within one year from the date of any order passed by him in appeal or, in the case of the Chief Revenue authority, in revision or review under Section 23 and the Collector may at any time within one year from the date of any demand made upon an assessee, on his own motion, rectify any mistake apparent from the record of the appeal, revision review or assessment, as the case may be, and shall, within the like period, rectify any such mistake which has been brought to their notice by the assessee:

Provided that no such rectification shall be made, having the effect of enhancing an assessment, unless the Chief Revenue authority, the Commissioner or the Collector, as the case may be, has given notice to the assessee of his intention so to do and has allowed him a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(2) Where any such rectification has the effect of reducing the assessment, the Collector shall make any refund which may be due to such assessee.

(3) Where any such rectification has the effect of enhancing the assessment, the Collector shall serve on the assessee a notice of demand in the prescribed form specifying the sum payable, and such notice of demand shall be deemed to be issued under Section 20, and the provisions of this Regulation shall apply accordingly."

22. In the said Regulation, for Section 36, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

Amendment
of Section 36.

"36. (1) If—

(a) a shareholder in a company who has received dividend from the company; or Refund to individual shareholders, partners and owners of securities.

(b) a partner in a firm on which income tax has been levied at the maximum rate in accordance with the proviso to Section 13, who has received a share of the profits of the firm: or

(c) the owner of a security from the interest on which, or any person from whose salary, income tax has been deducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 15,

satisfies the Collector that his total income in the previous year was less than any one, as the case may be, of the amounts specified in Schedule II, he shall be entitled to a refund of a sum calculated on such dividend, share of profits or interest at the rates specified in the same Schedule against each such amount.

(2) For purposes of this Section, "total income" shall include, in the case of any person not resident in Travancore, all income, profits or gains wherever arising, accruing or received which, if arising, accruing or received in Travancore, would be included in the computation of total income.

(3) Nothing in this Section shall entitle to any refund any person not resident in Travancore who is neither a British subject nor a subject of Travancore.

Explanation. - In computing the total income, no income derived from any land outside Travancore shall be deemed agricultural income."

- Amendment of Section 36 A. 23. Section 36 A of the said Regulation shall be omitted.
- Amendment of Section 38. 24. In Section 38 of the said Regulation,
(1) in clause (b), after the figure "15", the words and figure "or by Section 15 B" shall be inserted; and
(2) in clause (c), before the word "Section", where it occurs for the first time, the words and figure "Section 15 AA" shall be inserted.
- Amendment of Section 39. 25. In Section 39 of the said Regulation, before the word "Section" where it occurs for the first time, the words and figure "Section 15 AA or" shall be inserted.
- Amendment of Section 41. 26. In the proviso to Section 41 of the said Regulation, clause (d) shall be omitted.
- Insertion of a new Chapter VI A. 27. In the said Regulation, after Chapter VI, the following Chapter shall be inserted, namely:—

"CHAPTER VI A.

41. A. In addition to the income tax charged for any year, there shall be charged, levied and paid for Charge of Supertax. that year in respect of the total income of the previous year of any individual, undivided Hindu family or Marumakkathayam Tarwad, company, unregistered firm or association of individuals, not being a registered firm, an additional duty of income tax (in this Regulation referred to as supertax) at the rate or rates laid down in Schedule III:

Provided that where the profits and gains of an unregistered firm have been assessed to supertax, supertax shall not be payable by an individual having a share in the firm in respect of the amount of such profits and gains which is proportionate to his share.

41. B. Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, the total income of any individual, undivided Hindu family or Marumakkathayam Tarwad, company, unregistered firm or other association of individuals, shall, for the purposes of supertax, be the total income as assessed for the purposes of income tax, and where an assessment of total income has become final and conclusive for the purposes of income tax for any year, the assessment shall also be final and conclusive for the purposes of supertax for the same year.

41 C. (1) In the case of any person residing out of Travancore who is a member of a registered firm and whose share of the profits from such firm is liable to supertax, the remaining members of such firm who are resident in Travancore shall be jointly and severally liable to pay the supertax due from the non-resident member in respect of such share.

(2) Where the Collector has reason to believe that any person who is a shareholder in a company and is liable to pay supertax on the amount of the dividends receivable by him from the company is resident out of Travancore, the Collector may by order in writing require the principal officer of that company to pay the supertax.

(3) Where the principal officer of a company has not reason to believe that a person who is a shareholder in that company and liable to pay supertax on the amount of the dividends receivable by him from the company is resident in Travancore or where the principal officer of a company has been required to pay supertax on account of any person who is a shareholder in the company as mentioned in sub-section (2), the principal officer shall be liable to pay the supertax due by such person in respect of the dividends received by him from the company and shall have power to deduct the amount of such supertax from the amount payable by the company to such person.

(4) When any person pays any tax under the provisions of this Section on account of another person who is residing out of Travancore, credit shall be given therefor in determining the amount of tax to be payable by any agent of such non-resident person under the provisions of Sections 32 and 33.

41. D. All the provisions of this Regulation except the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 5, the proviso to Section 6, sub-section (1) of Section 11, so far as it relates to companies and firms, sub-section (2) of Section 11, and Sections 14, 15, 15 A, 15 B, 16 and 36 shall apply, so far as may be, to the charge, assessment, collection and recovery of supertax."

28. In Section 50 of the said Regulation.

(1) for sub-section (2), the following shall be substituted, Amendment of Section 50
namely:—

"(2) Within sixty days of the date on which he is served with notice of an order under Section 22, or Section 22 A, or of an order under Section 23 enhancing an assessment or otherwise prejudicial to him, the assessee, in respect of whom the order was passed, may, by application accompanied by a fee of one hundred rupees or such lesser sum as may be prescribed, require the Chief Revenue Authority to refer to the High Court any question of law arising out of such order and the Chief Revenue Authority shall, within sixty days of the receipt of such application, draw up a statement of the case and refer it with his opinion thereon to the High Court:

Provided that a reference shall lie from an order under Section 23, only on a question of law arising out of that order itself, and not on a question of law arising out of a previous order under Section 22 or Section 22 A revised by the order under Section 23 :

Provided further that if, in exercise of his power under Section 23, the Chief Revenue Authority decides the question or if the Chief Revenue Authority rejects the application on the ground that it is time-barred or otherwise incompetent, or if, in exercise of his powers under sub-section (3), the Chief Revenue Authority refuses to state the case, the assessee may within thirty days from the date on which he receives notice of the order passed by the Chief Revenue Authority, withdraw his application, and if he does so, the fee paid shall be refunded” :

(2) In sub-section (3), after the word “may” where it occurs for the first time, the following words shall be inserted, namely :—

“within six months from the date on which he is served with the notice of the refusal” ;

(3) After sub-section (3) and before sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :—

“(3 A) If on any application being made under sub-section (3), the Chief Revenue Authority rejects it on the ground that it is time-barred, the assessee may, within two months from the date on which he is served with the notice of the order of the Chief Revenue Authority, apply to the High Court, and the High Court, if it is not satisfied of the correctness of the Chief Revenue Authority's decision, may require the Chief Revenue Authority to treat the application as made within the time allowed under sub-section (2)” ; and

(4) After sub-section (7), the following sub-sections shall be added, namely :—

“(8) Section 5 of the Travancore Limitation Regulation shall apply to an application to the High Court by an assessee under sub-section (3) or sub-section (3A).

(9) When any person defaults to pay the costs ordered by the High Court, the Collector concerned may apply for the realisation of the amount to the District Court having local jurisdiction, and such Court shall, on receipt of the Collector's application, execute the order as if it were its own decree.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill proposes various amendments to the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1896, as amended by Regulation V of 1930. It is proposed to enhance the rate of income tax in respect of incomes not lower than Rs. 15,000 (See the Schedule I, Part A, proposed by the Bill) and also to impose a tax on all Companies and registered firms (Schedule I, Part B) and a supertax on incomes above Rs. 50,000 (See the proposed Schedule III). The purpose of each amendment is indicated in the following Notes on Clauses. The "Sections" referred to therein are Sections of the existing Travancore Income Tax Regulation and the "Clauses" referred to are Clauses of this Bill.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2: sub-clause (a) makes it clear that in order that any income derived from any land by agriculture may be treated as "agricultural income" and as such exempt from income tax, the land must be one that pays some land revenue or local rate.

Sub-clause (b) proposes a new definition of the term "previous year", the substantial change effected being intended to enable any special period of accounting adopted by any assessee being recognised.

Clause 3 is intended to bring to assessment foreign income arising or accruing to a person resident in Travancore.

Clause 4 is intended to bring to assessment the perquisite enjoyed by a person in the shape of rent-free residence.

Clause 5 proposes certain amendments in Section 7 of the Regulation relating to assessment of "property" income and makes certain beneficial reservations in favour of the owner of the "property".

Clause 6 seeks to prevent the assessee from unconditionally deferring their claims to depreciation allowances and lays down the conditions under which such claims may be deferred.

Clause 7 proposes to insert a new Section which seeks to lay down that ordinarily the method of accounting regularly employed by the assessee shall be adopted for computing the assessee's income.

Clause 8, sub-clause (1) seeks to correct a verbal omission. Sub-clause (2) proposes to omit sub-section (2) of Section 14 of the Regulation. This Section provides for what is called "marginal relief". In view of the relief provided for in sub-section (1) of Section 14, sub-section (2) is not considered necessary. In the British Indian Act there is no provision corresponding to this sub-section.

Clause 9 proposes to insert a new Section (Section 15 AA) with a view to provide a new machinery for ascertaining incomes assessable to income tax, particularly supertax.

Clause 10 This is self-explanatory.

Clause 11 corrects a verbal mistake.

Clause 12 emphasises the rule that it is the fact of the assessment that counts and not the commencement of the business.

Clause 13: This inserts a new Section (Section 19 AA) which provides for the assessment of the income up to the moment of departure of a person leaving Travancore during the currency of a financial year or within so short a period of its end as to prevent the normal assessment of his income and enables the Collector to assess within the limits permissible under Section 25 of the Regulation any income for which he is liable to pay but has not paid income tax.

Clause 14 recasts Section 19 B of the Regulation with a view to make the provision more effective.

Clause 15 inserts a new Section (Section 19 BB) to provide for the payment, by the legal representative, of the tax due from a deceased person.

Clause 16 inserts a provision to the effect that the right of appeal shall not be available to an assessee who has failed to comply with the notice preliminary to assessment.

Clause 17 corrects a verbal mistake.

Clause 18 seeks to make the meaning of the provision concerned clear and unambiguous.

Clause 19 recasts Section 24 of the Regulation and makes clear that penal assessment may be made in the course of any proceedings under the Regulation and that what is levied is penalty and not "incometax".

Clause 20 recasts Section 25 of the Regulation to make clear that, in the case of incomes that escaped assessment in any year, it is enough if assessment proceedings are started within the statutory period and that it is not necessary to complete the proceedings.

Clause 21 recasts Section 26 of the Regulation and enlarges the power to rectify mistakes.

Clause 22 recasts Section 36 of the Regulation which provides for what is called "small incomes relief". It is proposed to place some further limitations on claims for this kind of relief.

Clause 23 deletes Section 36 A of the Regulation which provides for double income-tax relief in certain cases. This Section is not quite necessary in view of the powers available to Government under Section 43. It has moreover given room for this conception. See the case reported in 50 T. L. R., 395.

Clause 24 seeks to rectify certain omissions and to make certain consequential changes.

Clauses 25 and 26 seek to make consequential changes.

Clause 27, Chapter VI A proposed to be incorporated by this clause and the Schedule III together make provision for supertax on incomes above Rs. 50,000.

Clause 28 proposes certain amendments to Section 50 of the Regulation to enlarge the rights of the assessee to obtain a decision of the High Court on points of law and makes provision also for the recovery of the costs, if any, awarded by the High Court in such proceedings.

Clause 29 amends Schedule I to the Regulation to enhance the rate of tax on incomes not less than Rs. 15,000.

Clause 30 amends the Refund Schedule (Schedule II) to the Regulation correspondingly to the enhancement of the rate of income tax proposed in Schedule I.

Clause 31 incorporates the Schedule of the rates of supertax.

Annexure I.

THE TRAVANCORE INCOME TAX REGULATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

(As revised by the Select Committee.)

(The words in italics indicate the amendments suggested by the Select Committee).

A BILL FURTHER TO AMEND THE TRAVANCORE INCOME TAX REGULATION, VIII OF 1096, AS AMENDED BY REGULATION, V OF 1100.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1096, as amended by Regulation V of 1100, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and commencement. 1. (1) This Regulation may be called The Travancore Income Tax (Amendment) Regulation, 111.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. In Section 2 of the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1096, as amended by Regulation, V of 1100, (hereinafter referred to as the said Regulation),

(1) in sub-section (I), clause (a), after the expression "land revenue" the words "in Travancore" shall be inserted; and

(2) for sub-section (11), the following shall be substituted, namely :—

(11) "previous year" means—

(a) the twelve months ending on the last day of Karkatakam next preceding the year for which the assessment is to be made, or, if the accounts of the assessee have been made up within the said twelve months in respect of a year ending on any date other than the said last day of Karkatakam, then, at the option of the assessee, the year ending on the day on which his accounts have so been made up :

Provided that, if this option has been once exercised by the assessee, it shall not again be exercised so as to vary the meaning of the expression "previous year" as then applicable to such assessee, except with the consent of the Collector and upon such conditions as he thinks fit ; or

(b) in the case of any person, business or company or class of persons, business or company, such period as may be determined by the Chief Revenue Authority or by such authority as it may authorise in this behalf.

3. In Section 3 of the said Regulation, after sub-section (1), the following shall be inserted as a sub-section, namely :—

It will be remembered that in construing these provisions, the most important document that has to be interpreted is Regulation II of 1108 which establishes the Chambers of the Legislature in Travancore. Analysing that Regulation, it will be found that, under Section 6, the Assembly is to consist of members nominated and elected in accordance with Rules made under the Regulation. And the total number of members of the Assembly is fixed at 72. It is common ground that this number 72 does not include the Dewan, as indeed is obvious from what follows in sub-clause (2) which indicates the number and composition of the official and non-official elements of the Assembly. The sentence which follows lays down that the number of nominated members shall not be more than 24, of whom 12 shall be officials. Section 7 of the Regulation lays down that "Our Dewan shall be the President of the Assembly." It must be remembered that the Dewan is not included among the nominated members as, for instance, members of the Executive Council are included under the Government of India Act.

When, in a Statute, there are two separate provisions, one provision not referring to nor logically dependent on the other, the two provisions must be construed separately. It is clear that the composition of the Assembly, in the matter of nominated and elected members, specified in Section 6, is not interconnected with Section 7. In other words, the Dewan who is the ex-officio President of the Assembly is to be such President although he is neither a nominated nor an elected member by virtue of Section 6 and his Presidentship is regulated by Section 7.

I am told that the practice has been for the Dewan to take the oath or affirmation. The validity of that practice has to be examined separately. But, in regard to the question now under consideration, I have no hesitation in saying that the Dewan is not within the category of persons specifically referred to in Section 6. If that is so, nothing else in any Rule or Regulation can affect the interpretation of the Statute. Even if there be any doubt arising by reason of the interpretation of the Electoral Rules or any other rule made under the Statute, to the extent to which those Rules are inconsistent with or repugnant to the terms of the Statute, they will be inoperative ipso facto. But, analysing the Rules and the Regulation, I find no difficulty and no inconsistency.

My ruling, therefore, is that the Dewan is the President of the Assembly, and functions as the ex-officio President of the Assembly, from the moment that His Highness was pleased to appoint him as Dewan and gave the Nasr. I therefore hold that I am entitled to preside at this meeting of the Finance Committee which, it may be added, is not a statutory body.

It may be noticed that, if the point now raised were accepted, the Dewan could not admit or reject any question or resolution for the forthcoming meeting. This is no doubt an argu mentum ab inconvenienti, and cannot affect the construction of the Statute as such. But it is a well-recognised rule of law that, where there are two possible constructions of a Statute, the one which produces obvious inconvenience should be rejected in favour of the one which does not produce such inconvenience."

The Committee next proceeded with the business.

I. The proposal for additional allotment to the Public Service Commissioner was considered first. The following additional grants were asked for:—

| Contingencies. —                |     | Rs.         |
|----------------------------------------|-----|-------------|
| Examination charges                    | ..  | 3,000       |

| Pay of menials                         | ... | 150         |
| Archal charges                         | ... | 700         |
| Maintenance of electrical installation | ... | 500         |
| Office expenses and Miscellaneous      | ... | 300         |
|                                        |     | <hr/> 5,150 |

Establishment.—

|          |                     |   |       |
|----------|---------------------|---|-------|
| Clerks   | 1 on Rs. 75-5/2-100 | } | 1,314 |
|          | 2 on Rs. 40-2-70    |   |       |
|          | 9 on Rs. 25-3/2-40  |   |       |
| Typist   | 1 on Rs. 25-3/2-40  |   |       |
| Attender | 1 on Rs. 15-1/3-20  |   |       |
| Peons    | 2 on Rs. 9-1/6-11   |   |       |

Total ... 6,464

In this connection, Dr. G. D. Nokes, the Public Service Commissioner, was summoned before the Committee to enlighten the members on certain points in connection with the additional expenditure. After some discussion, the Committee approved only the following items of expenditure:—

| Contingencies.                  |     | Rs.         |
|----------------------------------------|-----|-------------|
| Examination charges                    | ... | 2,000       |
| Purchase and repair of furniture       | ... | 500         |
| Pay of menials                         | ... | 150         |
| Archal charges                         | ... | 700         |
| Maintenance of electrical installation | ... | 500         |
| Establishment. —                | ... | 1,314       |
|                                        |     | <hr/> 5,164 |

As it was not considered necessary to hold another examination in the next six months for the selection of English-knowing clerks, only a reduced allotment of Rs. 2,000 was approved by the Committee. The non-official members said that there was a sort of general dissatisfaction about the conduct of the last examinations by the Public Service

Commissioner and that they were being run as a commercial concern. They objected to the provision under Office expenses and miscellaneous for payment of bonus to clerks and the Committee agreed to drop the proposal. Mr. Pottayil S. Krishna Panickar objected to the provision for the three clerks in the higher grades.

II. The Committee next approved the proposal for the provision of a sum of Rs. 3,500 as per the following details in connection with the Research Scheme of the root diseases of the coconut palm in South India, financed by the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research, New Delhi :—

|                                             | Rs.   |
|---------------------------------------------|-------|
| 1. Purchase of chemicals and appliances ... | 1,500 |
| 2. Purchase of books and periodicals ...    | 1,500 |
| 3. Wages to coolies ...                     | 500   |

III. The proposal for the provision of a sum of Rs. 4,980 on account of the acquisition of land for the construction of customs house, godowns and wharves in connection with the opening of a Port at Neendakara was approved by the Committee. In this connection, the non-official members urged the desirability of improving and developing the Ports of South Travancore. The President observed that it was the idea of Government to investigate the question of improving the Ports to the South of Alleppey.

IV. The proposal for the provision of a sum of Rs. 11,998 in the Budget for the maintenance and working of the Grab Dredger for the Alleppey Port for the rest of the year 1113 M. E. was accepted by the Committee. Mr. Pottayil S. Krishna Panickar said that the sea at Alleppey is very boisterous and that it would not be safe to keep the Dredger in the open sea. Rao Bahadur Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai said that the Chief Engineer will be asked about this.

V. The Committee approved the proposal for the provision of a sum of Rs. 51,880 for the completion of the construction of permanent buildings for the Leper Colony at Noornad. Incidentally, the President observed that unfortunately the incidence of leprosy in the State was high and that no time should be lost in regard to the completion of the buildings at Noornad.

2. A list of the items of expenditure authorised by the Government, under Section 82 of the Legislative Reforms Regulation, II of 1108, after the last session of the Sri Mulam Assembly was circulated among the members of the Committee, as undertaken by the Chairman at the last meeting of the Public Accounts Committee. There was no discussion of the same.

3. The business being finished the Committee adjourned sine die at 12-55 P. M.

New services.

4. Under rule 10 of the Public Accounts Committee (Supplemental) rules, the Financial Secretary had placed before the committee a list of supplementary grants obtained by the Government during the year 1110 for schemes of new expenditure treated as "new services" for the opinion of the committee whether they were new services or not. We agreed with the Financial Secretary as regards the items included in the list excepting Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai who was, however, of opinion that items 1 and 2, viz., "For the opening of a Special Survey Class" and "For the printing of 500 copies of the wall map of Travancore" were not new services which could not have waited till the regular budget session.

5. The statement of supplementary grants obtained unnecessarily is given below :—

While examining the above statement, we went through the explanations forwarded by the Departmental Officers for having applied for supplementary grants when funds were available under the original grant and found that it was not possible for them to gauge the savings at the time the supplementary grants were applied for. (For further details vide paras 4 and 7 of the proceedings.)

Expenditure authorised under Section 32 of Regulation II of 1108.

6. We noted that there was a substantial reduction in the total expenditure authorised during the year under Section 32 as compared with that for the previous year, the amounts being Rs. 2,59,882 only during 1110 against Rs. 5,25,853 during 1109. The question of establishing a convention of consulting the Standing Finance Committee before any item of expenditure was authorised under Section 32 was then discussed. The Chairman agreed that in future a list of the items had been sanctioned under Section 32 during the period between two meetings of the Finance Committee may be placed before the Committee at its next meeting and that the opinion of the representatives of the Legislature in the Committee may be informally taken. (For further details vide para 5 of the proceedings.)

7. The expenditure exceeded the final voted grant under the following heads:—

Excess expenditure under voted grants.

We note that the total amount of excess expenditure during the year was less than that in the previous year, the amounts being Rs. 1,49,892 during 1110 and Rs. 7,63,077 during 1109. The excess expenditure under the grants Land Revenue, Registration, Jails and Ports was due to the payment of leave allowances for which no provision was made in the budget.

The general question of making provision for leave allowances in the budget in future was next discussed. The Committee recommended that the present system might continue, since under the proposed arrangement, the provision for leave allowances was likely to be over-estimated and reappropriated to other items within the grant in order to avoid supplementary demands. Further, the present system is more economical than the practice in British India of including provision for leave salary in the cadre itself.

Variations between Budget and Actuals.

8. The explanations furnished for the variations between the budget estimate and the actuals both under receipts and expenditure were examined and we were satisfied with them.

Particular attention was paid to the savings in the provision under "Protective Irrigation" since a lot of irrigation works still remained to be done. The Chairman informed the committee that the works were not executed since the estimates had not been got ready and necessary lands acquired. (Vide para 14 of the proceedings).

The fact that out of Rs. 10,000 provided in the budget for the amelioration of the depressed classes a sum of Rs. 4,115 only was spent during 1110 was noted by the committee. (Vide para 18 of the proceedings).

Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deposits with the State-aided Bank.

9. Mr. U. Padmanabha Kulkillaya, Head Sirkar Vakil and Government Director, State aided Bank, was examined as a witness with a view to ascertain whether the deposits with the State aided Bank were safe and whether the Government would be justified in taking them as good assets and also to know whether Government have taken any steps to reorganise the Bank. (Vide paras 16 and 17 of the proceedings for details.)

Work of Marketing Officers.

10. Mr. K. Paramesvaran Pillai, Director of Agriculture and Fisheries, was examined as a witness with a view to get an idea of the work that is being turned out by the Marketing Officers. (For details vide para 19 of the proceedings).

Sales Depots, Trivandrum and Bombay, the Rubber Factory and the Travancore Sugars.

11. Mr. C. Kumara Das, Industrial Chemist in charge of the duties of the Director of Industries was examined as a witness in regard to the working of the Rubber Factory, the Travancore Sugars and to the Sales Depots at Trivandrum and Bombay. (For details vide para 20, the proceedings.)

PART II. Audit Report.

Financial and other irregularities.

12. We went carefully into the cases of defalcations, misappropriations and other financial irregularities mentioned in the Audit and Appropriation Report. Mr. Kesavan Nambootiripad pointed out that the punishments accorded in several cases were not adequate.

The necessity for devising measures to prevent defalcations as far as possible in future and for discovering them at the earliest stage, was discussed. The Chairman stated that a conference was held at Bhaktivilas for the above purpose and that the proposals of the conference had been taken note of by the Government.

Stock taking reports.

13. The Committee suggested that the results of stock-taking should be published in the Audit Report. (Vide para 8, page 14 of the proceedings.)

Publications of the Audit Report.

14. We were of opinion that the Audit and Appropriation Report should be split up into two and that the Audit Report should be published somewhat earlier in future. The Chairman agreed to arrange for this.

Miscellaneous observations.

Tobacco cultivation.

15. While dealing with the reasons for the fall in tobacco revenue (Para 22, page 11 of the Audit and Appropriation Report) the question of cultivation of tobacco in the State was discussed. The Chairman informed the committee that the rules regarding the same were being considered by the Government and that after they were passed, applications for the cultivation of tobacco would be considered.

Trespassers in cardamom lands.

16. Similarly while dealing with the fall in Customs revenue [Para 23 (3), page 11 of the Audit and Appropriation Report], the question of eviction of trespassers on cardamom lands was discussed. The Chairman stated that a survey was being conducted to detect encroachments and that no further time will be given to these trespassers to pay the tharavila.

Reduction of interest on Savings Bank Deposits.

17. The question having been asked whether the interest on the deposits in the Government Savings Bank could not be reduced in view of the slump in the money market, the Financial Secretary replied that the matter was under consideration.

As in the previous year we append to our Report the minutes of our proceedings which we consider should be treated as part of the Report.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MEETING OF THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

FIRST DAY.

Wednesday, the 17th June 1936.

Present:—

1. Khan Bahadur Nawab Sir Muhammad Habibulla, Dewan of Travancore (Chairman).
2. Rao Bahadur Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai, Chief Secretary to Government.
3. Rao Bahadur A. Rengasvami Aiyar, Financial Secretary to Government.
4. Mr. K. N. Kesavan Nambootiripad, Member, Sri Chitra State Council.
5. Mr. T. Krishna Pillai, Member, Sri Mulam Assembly.
6. Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai, Member, Sri Mulam Assembly.

The Committee met at 11-30 A. M. in the Dewan's Office in the Huzur Cutcherry.

Mr. R. Nilakanta Pillai, Account Officer was also present.

1. The Chairman stated that since the non-official members had not sent in any questions on the Audit and Appropriation Report for 1110 M. E., the only profitable method of reviewing the Report would be to survey generally its important features.

2. The first point, he said, related to unspent balances. There was a balance of Rs. 23,39,505 during the year 1109 out of the grants made by the Legislature. But in 1110, the balance was only Rs. 7,75,023. This made it clear that as a result of the criticisms made by the Committee the estimates approximated more to the actual requirements during 1110 than during 1109. However one point had to be made clear. It was inconceivable that all the amounts granted would be spent completely within the year. The Government had, therefore, to see that the allotment was not spent uneconomically simply because money was available in the budget. There might be occasions when a little more economy could be effected. Government had made this clear to the Heads of Departments recently by means of a circular.

Supplementary grants obtained for schemes of new expenditure treated as "new services."

3. The Chairman then drew the attention of the members to pages 33 to 36 of the report containing a statement of the supplementary grants. Under Rule 10 of the Public Accounts Committee (Supplemental) Rules, the Financial Secretary had placed before the committee a list of those items of supplementary grants obtained by the Government during the year 1110 for schemes of new expenditure treated as "New services" (vide Appendix A). The Chairman requested the members to offer their remarks on the various items in the list. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai stated as instances that items 1 and 2 viz., "For the opening of a Special survey class" and "For printing 500 copies of the Wall Map of Travancore," were not in his opinion new services which could not have been anticipated earlier or which could not have waited till the regular budget session.

4. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai referred to paragraph 6, page 3, of the Appropriation Report, which runs as follows:—

"When the amount voted in the budget for a grant for which the vote of the Legislature is necessary is found to be insufficient for the purpose for the current year or a need arises during the year for expenditure for which the vote of the Legislature is necessary upon some new service not contemplated in the budget of the year, an estimate is presented to the Assembly and the Council for a supplementary or additional grant."

He said that certain supplementary demands had been made on the ground that the original grant was not sufficient. Yet some of these supplementary grants had not been spent. That was an irregularity. Again grants under one head were allowed to lapse and then transferred to another head in order to avoid a supplementary demand. That was improper.

The Chairman admitted that it would be improper to ask for a supplementary grant when the Head of the department anticipated savings under a particular item. But if that could not have been foreseen, there was no impropriety in having moved for such a grant.

The Financial Secretary stated that, if savings were allowed to lapse, and if at the same time, supplementary grants were to be applied for because money was needed under other minor heads, without re-appropriation from one minor head to another, the result would be that the number of supplementary grants would increase.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai pointed out that Heads of Departments could easily circumvent the control of the Legislature in the first instance by lavish over-estimating and later on re-appropriating the money to other minor heads.

The Chairman replied that it was impossible to over-estimate since all the detailed items were shown in the Budget. He further stated that this rule was not peculiar to Travancore. It existed both in the Government of India and the British Indian Provinces. That was the most convenient arrangement.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai said that the practice in British India was all right because the Auditor-General, who was appointed by the Secretary of State exercised an effective check over expenditure. The Chairman pointed out that here also the Account Officer is expected to exercise the same control.

Expenditure sanctioned under Section 32 of Regulation II of 1108.

5. The Chairman next brought to the notice of the Committee that the expenditure authorised under Section 32 of Regulation II of 1108 during the year 1110 was only Rs. 2,59,882 against the expenditure of Rs. 5,26,853 authorised during 1109.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai requested to be informed whether, as undertaken by the Dewan—Chairman at a previous meeting of the Committee, the convention of consulting the Standing Finance Committee, before any item of expenditure was authorised under Section 32, was followed. The Committee was functioning throughout the year and could have been summoned at any time.

The Chairman replied that the question was subsequently given full consideration and it has been settled that Section 32 should be resorted to only in very emergent cases. In such cases, Government could not wait till the Finance Committee met. If the Committee was to be consulted after the expenditure, it would not be complimentary to it or serve any useful purpose. Under the rules, of course, the Finance Committee need not be consulted. It would also not be practicable or necessary to summon the Committee merely for the purpose of consulting it about these cases. It was therefore decided to continue the present practice of consulting it whenever possible.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai stated that he was not standing upon technical rules and claiming that the rule must be changed, so that the Finance Committee must be consulted invariably regarding expenditure under Section 32, but was urging that there must be a convention that as far as possible expenditure should be incurred only after consulting the Finance Committee and ascertaining its views. Some of the items of authorised expenditure were not at all of an urgent nature, as for instance, the sanction for the construction of the Leper Colony at Noornad. If in some cases at least, Government out of courtesy consulted the Finance Committee, the non officials could bring their view point to bear upon the questions whereby the whole course might be changed and the expenditure avoided. He said that his information was that in the Government of India, there was such a convention.

The Chairman stated that it was not so and that to the best of his recollection, the Government of India did not consult the Finance committee at all in such cases. The Governor-General simply authorised the expenditure. In the Provinces also the Governors authorised the expenditure without consulting the Finance Committee. Here it was only in very rare and extremely urgent cases that the Dewan resorted to such authorisation of expenditure. The Chairman however agreed that in future, a list of the items that had been sanctioned under Section 32 during the period between two meetings of the Finance Committee may be placed before the Committee at the next meeting and that the opinion of the representatives of the Legislature in the Committee may be informally taken. That would also cover cases in which some of the expenditure authorised had been incurred and some still remained to be incurred. The views of the Committee would be useful to Government in dealing with similar cases in the future.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai questioned the propriety of the authorisation of expenditure of Rs. 70,000 for the construction of the Noornad Leper Colony and pointed out that this was not at all an item which could not have been foreseen at the time of budgeting.

The Chairman explained that the authorisation was found necessary under the following circumstances. The original idea was to finish the buildings section by section; when one building was finished the lepers would move in; and then another building would be taken up for construction. But it was found that the workmen would not do their work in the buildings once the lepers occupied them. Hence it was found necessary to finish all the buildings at one time before the lepers were allowed to occupy them. So this expenditure could not be delayed.

He also explained the reasons for the authorisation of the expenditure of Rs. 21,000 for the removal of sand accretion at the Alleppey Pier, and of Rs. 38,200 for the construction of an Aerodrome at Trivandrum.

Mr. T. Krishna Pillai referred to the authorisation of expenditure of Rs. 1,500 for advertisement and contingencies for the Trade Agent, Bombay (Grant No. IV, page 36 of the Report), and asked what was the urgency of the advertisement.

The Chairman replied that the Agent had represented that the advertisements were essential.

6. The Chairman next referred to the statement of excess expenditure over voted grants, given on page 37, para 107 of the Report. The total amount of such excess during 1110 was only Rs. 1,49,892 as against Rs. 7,68,377 during 1109. There was a considerable fall due to the fact that greater scrutiny had been exercised.

Unnecessary grants.

7. The Chairman next referred to the question of unnecessary grants (Vide pages 41 and 42 para 122, Audit and Appropriation Report.) He stated that the question was discussed by the Committee last year and by the Sri Mulam Assembly in its Vrischikam Session.

The following replies furnished by departmental officers as to why they had applied for supplementary grants when the expenditure was capable of accommodation within the original sanctioned grant were read out.

(i) The Director of Public Instruction.—The supplementary grant was moved because the payment of compensation for loss of fee income was a newservice and the savings that resulted were mainly under salaries.

(ii) The Chief Engineer. The supplementary grants were (a) for the construction of the boundary pillars at Neendakara Anchorage, (b) for the Leper Colony, (c) for the Aerodrome at Trivandrum, and (d) for the removal of sand accretion at the Alleppey Pier. The grants sanctioned under items (b) and (d) were fully spent while those for items (a) and (c) were only partially spent due to circumstances which could not have been foreseen. Similarly savings in the original grant for the year were also due to circumstances which could not have been foreseen at the time the additional grants were applied for.

(iii) The Director of Industries. The supplementary grant was for the office of the Trade Agent, Bombay, and it was not possible at the time to anticipate the ultimate savings.

(iv) The Land Revenue and Income Tax Commissioner. The supplementary grant was for the supply of furniture for the use of the Income-Tax Collectors. It was not possible to foresee the savings either under establishment charges or under travelling allowance at the time the supplementary grant was asked for.

(v) Registrar, High Court. It was not possible to anticipate in the middle of the year the extent of savings that would eventually result and hence demands had to be made for additional grants for new items of expenditure.

(vi) The Chief Secretary to Government. The supplementary grant under "Huzar Cutcherry—Travelling Allowance" was applied for as it was not possible to anticipate at the time the savings which were ultimately available under establishment charges.

(vii) The Account Officer. There was heavy increase in the volume of correspondence in the office in connection with the working of the Provident Fund and Life Insurance (Public Branch) Scheme, and that funds were not available under "Contingencies" for diversion to "Ancial charges". The savings in the office were under "Salaries" and "Establishment charges".

(viii) The Darbar Physician. The supplementary grant of Rs. 15,000 was required for urgent improvements to the General Hospital. It was not then possible to anticipate any savings to meet the expenditure.

(ix) The Registrar of Co-operative Societies. The supplementary grant was moved with a view to place the Devadar Committee's Report for discussion in the Legislature.

The Committee adjourned for lunch at 1 p. m.

The Committee re-assembled at 2-20 p. m. with Rao Bahadur Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai in the chair.

Stock-taking Reports.

8. Mr. K. N. Kesavan Namputiripad, referring to the additional grant of Rs. 700 for stock-taking of the type plant in the Government Press and Central Prison Press (Grant No. XXIV, page 34 of the Report, requested that information about the result of the stock-taking might be published in the Report. This was accepted by the Chairman.

Tobacco Cultivation.

9. Mr. T. Krishna Pillai referring to the decrease in the Tobacco revenue (page 11 para 22 of the Audit and Appropriation Report) wanted to know what steps the Government had taken regarding cultivation of tobacco in Travancore.

The chairman replied that the draft rules, which were published in the Gazette for public criticism, were now under consideration and that Government would be prepared to consider applications for permission to cultivate tobacco after these rules were passed.

Trespassers in Cardamom lands.

10. To a question from Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai about the eviction of trespassers in cardamom lands [para 23 (2), page 11 of the Report], the Chairman stated that a survey was being conducted to detect encroachments. It was also stated, that no further time would be given to these trespassers to pay the tharavila.

Reduction of interest on the deposits in the Government Savings Bank.

11. Mr. T. Krishna Pillai asked whether it was not possible, in view of the slump in the money market, to reduce the interest on the deposits in Savings Bank (Vide para 56, page 17 of the Report) The Financial Secretary replied that the matter was under consideration.

Receipt Audit.

12. Mr. Kesavan Namputiripad desired to know if the audit of receipts and expenditure of the Water Works Department was being conducted as in the case of the Electrical Department.

The Financial Secretary stated that the Audit Department did not at present concern itself with the audit of receipts in any department. The receipts were checked by the officers of the department in the course of their administrative duties. The expenditure was being audited as usual.

Provision for leave allowances in the budget.

13. The question of making provision for leave allowances in the budget in future with a view to prevent excess expenditure on that account (para 182 (8), page 48 of the Report) was then discussed. The Committee decided that the present system might continue, since under the proposed arrangement, the provision made for leave allowances was likely to be over estimated and to avoid supplementary demands it might be reappropriated to other items within the grant. Further, the present system is more economical while the practice in British India of including provision for leave salary in the cadre itself is more costly.

Savings under Protective Irrigation.

14. Mr. T. Krishna Pillai referred to para 88, page 21 of the Report, regarding the transfer of Rs. 73,000 from the allotment for Protective Irrigation and pointed out that the transfer was quite unjustifiable since a lot of works had to be done.

The Chairman informed him that the works could not be executed as the estimates were not ready and necessary lands were not acquired. Next year it would be possible to utilise the whole allotment since lands would have been acquired and estimates for works sanctioned by that time.

AUDIT REPORT.

The Committee then took up the consideration of the Audit Report.

D. C. B. Statements from Colleges.

15. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai asked whether the Account Department insisted on D. C. B. statements from the Colleges.

The Financial Secretary replied that these statements were now being furnished to the Financial Assistant under the Director of Public Instruction who examined them in detail.

The Meeting adjourned at 4 p. m. to meet again at 11-30 a. m. on Friday the 19th June 1936.

SECOND DAY.

Friday the 19th June 1936.

Present :—

- 1 Khan Bahadur Nawab Sir Muhammad Habibullah, Dewan of Travancore (Chairman).
- 2 Rao Bahadur Dr. N. Kunjan Pillai, Chief Secretary to Government.
- 3 Rao Bahadur A. Rengasvami Aiyar, Financial Secretary to Government.
- 4 Mr. K. N. Kesavan Namputiripad, Member, Sri Chitra State Council.
- 5 Mr. T. Krishna Pillai, Member, Sri Mulam Assembly.
- 6 Mr. K. Kunjukrishna Pillai, Member, Sri Mulam Assembly.

Witnesses :—

- (1) Mr. U. Padmanabha Kukiliya, Head Sirkar Vakil.
- (2) Mr. K. Paramesvaran Pillai, Director of Agriculture and Fisheries.
- (3) Mr. C. Kumaradas, Industrial Chemist in charge of the duties of the Director of Industries.

Mr. R. Nilakanta Pillai, Account officer was also present.

The Committee met at 11-30 a. m. in the Dewan's Office in the Huzur Cutcherry.

The State Aided Bank.

16. In referring to the question of examining Mr. Padmanabha Kukiliya Government Director of the State Aided Bank as desired by the members on the previous day, on certain matters connected with the State Aided Bank, the Chairman observed that the same question arose last year also and that the legal opinion which was called for on that occasion was not in favour of the Head Sirkar Vakil being examined as a witness. He said that the Head Sirkar Vakil could not be expected to furnish information regarding delicate matters about the Bank, firstly because he himself was a Director of the Bank and secondly he being the Legal Adviser to Government, his opinion in that capacity could not be made public.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai said that it was not his desire to ask anything about the internal affairs of the Bank or the opinion of the Head Sirkar Vakil in his capacity as the Legal Adviser to Government. His desire was only to obtain information regarding the cash credit account of the Government with the State Aided Bank, how it stood at the time, whether it was safe and whether the Government would be justified in taking it as a good asset. He also wanted to know what action had been taken by the Government Director of the Bank with regard to the suggestions made by the Government to improve the condition of the Bank.

The President allowed Mr. Kukiliya to be examined and to be asked such suggestions as would not impinge on delicate grounds.

Witness :—

Mr. U. Padmanabha Kukiliya, Head Sirkar Vakil.

17. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai wanted to know whether the Bank had paid the instalments to the Government in 1110 as specified in the agreement with them.

Mr. Kukiliya said that out of Rs. 2½ lakhs which had to be paid to Government in instalments, the Bank had defaulted two instalments in 1110.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai next enquired whether the Government Director had done anything with regard to the suggestion of Government for the reorganisation of the bank. Mr. Kukiliya answered that nothing was done so far. He further said that there was nothing for the Government Director to do. The Chairman of the Bank had even objected to the Government Director attending the extraordinary general meetings of the shareholders of the bank. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai asked whether it was not the duty of the Government Director to see that the proposals put forward by the Government were accepted by the bank so that it might tide over difficulties and that the amounts advanced by Government might be safe. To a question as to what the Government Director was doing when the bank extraordinary general meeting was being held, Mr. Kukiliya replied that he was in the adjacent room along with the member Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai then wanted to know why the Government Director was seated in the adjacent room and did not attend the meeting. Mr. Kukiliya replied that at the meeting of the Board he was told he could not attend the meeting though he said that he was ready there to give any information that the shareholders wanted of him. In answer to another question, he further stated that Government could cancel the agreement with the bank if they so desired. When asked whether they had not yet thought it necessary to do so, Mr. Kukiliya said he could not answer the question. He said that any proposal for the reorganisation of the bank must come from the share-holders themselves in the form of resolutions. The Government Director by himself was helpless either in the Directors' meeting or in the General body meeting.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai asked whether the Government had put forward certain minimum demands for the acceptance of the bank, Mr. Kukiliya answered in the affirmative. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai then asked whether Government climbed down from that position and accepted now certain proposals put forward by Mr. V. Subba Aiyar and others. Mr. Kukiliya said that there was no climb down and the change in Mr. Subba Aiyar's proposals was very slight.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai then referred to the figures relating to the State Aided Bank in the Assets column in page 26 of the Audit and Appropriation Report and enquired whether they could really be called assets. The Chairman said that until they were written off, they should be regarded as real assets.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai asked if no general meeting was allowed to be held, whether the financial interests of the bank would not be adversely affected. Mr. Kukiliya said that meetings must be held.

Lapsing of funds provided for the amelioration of the depressed classes.

18. The Committee then turned their attention to page 75 of the Audit and Appropriation Report.

Mr. Kesavan Namputiripad pointed out that out of the provision of Rs. 10,000 for the amelioration of the depressed classes a sum of Rs. 4,115 only was spent in 1110. The Chairman regretted the low expenditure and assured the Committee that during 1112 the progress of work in that Department would be better. He also stated that the suggestion to amalgamate the Protector of Depressed Classes with the Commissioner of Labour if and when created would be considered.

Witness :—

Mr. K. Paramesvaran Pillai, Director of Agriculture and Fisheries.

Marketing Officers.

19. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai asked why there was so much delay in the appointment of the Marketing Officers even though the amount required for the purpose was brought up as a supplementary grant. The Director of Agriculture said that the various applicants had to be interviewed and the best among them selected. This was one of the reasons.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai then wanted to get an idea of the work so far done by the Marketing Officers. The Director said that they were conducting marketing surveys on the lines chalked out by the Government of India and they had so far finished surveys on: eggs, wheat, linseed and ground-nut. Preliminary surveys in regard to paddy, mango, banana, pineapple, and some other articles were over and that the survey on coconut will be begun immediately.

He said that the aim of this survey was to help the producers as much as possible and also to see that only a reasonable profit was taken by middle men. The President referred to the importance of grading and packing of articles.

In answer to a question, Mr. Paramesvaran Pillai said that the duty of finding out out-side markets was also included within the scope of the marketing officers.

The Chairman pointed out the need for having co-ordination with the Central Organisation. He said that the Government of India were having their Trade Agents all over the world.

The Director said that the question of freight will also be considered by the Central Organisation.

Witness :—

Mr. C. Kumaradas, Industrial Chemist in charge of the duties of the Director of Industries.

20. Sales Depots at Trivandrum and Bombay.—In answer to a question by Mr. T. Krishna Pillai, Mr. Das gave information about the rates of commission charged on articles sold in the Sales Depot.

Mr. Das in answer to another question of Mr. T. Krishna Pillai said that giving publicity to Travancore articles, conducting exhibitions out-side the State and sale of Travancore goods, were some of the chief functions of the Trade Agent at Bombay. He also said that if we take into account only the money spent and money received on account of the Sales Depot at Bombay it was a loss.

Mr. Nampuniripad wanted to know whether articles required for the Industries Department were supplied by the Sales Depot at Trivandrum. Mr. Das said that some of the articles were supplied by it.

21. Rubber Factory.—In answer to a question by Mr. T. Krishna Pillai whether any market has been found for articles manufactured in the factory, Mr. Das said that Government had very recently appointed a firm as the sole agents for the sale of various kinds of goods made there. He said that the maximum out-put of the factory per day would be Rs. 3,000 worth of goods. He also said that there was a Testing Machine in the factory to test the quality of the articles produced there.

Mr. T. Krishna Pillai suggested the appointment of a board consisting of officials and non-officials to make periodical visits to the factory and tender their advice. The Chairman said that it was a good idea and would be considered when the Ceramic Factory also was established. The Chief Secretary made it clear that the board suggested would only be an advisory one.

22. Sugar Factory.—Mr. Das, in reply to a question said that the Factory was still working and that there was no idea of stopping it.

The Chairman said that the former contract had been cancelled and that there was no idea of giving up the Factory which was the only one of its kind in Travancore.

Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai impressed the Committee with the necessity of running the Factory as a Government concern.

Defalcations.

23. The Committee turned their attention to the question of defalcations.

Mr. Kesavan Namputiripad pointed out that punishments for defalcations were not adequate and in proportion to the amounts misappropriated.

The Financial Secretary referred to page 104 of the Audit Report and said that there were two cases of dismissal.

The Chairman said that a conference was held at Bhakti Vilas to discuss about the measures to be adopted for the prevention of defalcations, as far as possible, and to discover the same at the earliest stage and that the proposals of the conference have been taken note of by Government.

Then Mr. Namputiripad referred to para No. 48 of the Audit Report and stated that no police investigation was made. The Chief Secretary said that the Police had investigated the case.

Audit Report to be published earlier.

24. Mr. Kunjukrishna Pillai wanted to know whether it would not be possible to split up the Audit Report and Appropriation Report into two parts and give copies of the Audit Report at least to the non-official members earlier than was done at present. The Chairman said that the Audit Report would be published separately, and earlier than at present in future.

The business being over, the Committee adjourned sine die at 1 P. M.

(Approved by the members.)

Accounts Committee.*

Annexure A.

Finance Department.

Under Rule 10 of the Public Accounts Committee Supplemental Rules I beg to place before the Public Accounts Committee the following list of Supplementary grants obtained by the Government during the year 1110 for schemes of new expenditure treated as "new services" for the opinion of the Committee as to whether they are "new services" or not.

| No. of grant.                                                            | Name of Major Heads.                                                      | Particulars.                                                                                                                                     | Amount.             |

THE TRAVANCORE HINDU WIDOWS' REMARRIAGE BILL. A BILL TO REMOVE ALL LEGAL OBSTACLES TO THE MARRIAGE OF HINDU WIDOWS IN TRAVANCORE.

Whereas the removal of all legal obstacles to the marriage of Hindu widows in the State will tend to the promotion of good morals and to the public welfare and whereas it is just to hold the offspring of such marriages as legitimate; It is Preamble.
enacted as follows;

1. (i) This Regulation may be called The Travancore Hindu Widows' Re-marriage Regulation, 111.
Short title, extent and commencement.

(ii) It shall extend to the whole of Travancore.

(iii) It shall come into operation at once.

2. Notwithstanding any custom and any interpretation of Hindu Law to the contrary, no marriage contracted between Hindus shall be invalid, and no issue of any such marriage shall be illegitimate, by reason of the woman having been previously married or betrothed to any other person who was dead at the time of such marriage, provided that the parties must not be related to each other in any degree of consanguinity or affinity which would, under Hindu Law, render a marriage illegal.
Marriage of Hindu widows legalised.

3. Whatever words spoken, ceremonies performed or engagements made on the marriage of Hindu female who has not been previously married, are sufficient to constitute a valid marriage, shall have the same effect if spoken, performed or made on the marriage of a Hindu widow; and no marriage shall be declared invalid on the ground that such words, ceremonies or engagements are inapplicable in the case of a widow.
Ceremonies constituting valid marriage to have the same effect on widow remarriage.

4. A widow who has not completed her sixteenth year and whose previous marriage has not been consummated shall not re-marry without the consent of her guardian, viz., her father, her mother, or her next male relative.
Consent to the re-marriage of a widow who has not completed sixteenth year.

The consent of the guardian shall be presumed until the contrary is proved.

In the case of a widow who has completed her sixteenth year, or whose previous marriage has been consummated, her own consent shall be sufficient to constitute her re-marriage lawful and valid.

5. No right or interest which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance or by inheritance to her husband or to his lineal successors, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her only a limited interest in such property with no power of alienating the same, shall, upon her re-marriage, cease or determine or be divested.
Rights of widow not to cease on her remarriage.

6. On the re-marriage of a Hindu widow, if neither the widow nor any other person has been expressly constituted by the will or testamentary disposition of the deceased husband, the guardian of the children, she shall be entitled, during their minority, to have the care and custody of her children, or any of them, by the deceased husband, until a competent Court having original jurisdiction in civil cases in the place where the deceased was domiciled at the time of his death shall appoint some proper person other than the mother to be guardian on a petition by the father or the paternal grand-father or the mother or the grand-mother or any male relative of the deceased husband; and in making such appointment the Court shall be guided, so far as may be by the laws and rules in force touching the guardianship of children who have neither father nor mother :

Provided that, when the said children have not property of their own sufficient for their support and proper education whilst minors, no such appointment shall be made otherwise than with the consent of the mother unless the proposed guardian shall have given security for the support and proper education of the children during their minority.

Provided also that, when the widow has been expressly constituted guardian by the will or the testamentary disposition of the deceased husband, no such appointment shall be made.

7. Except as is provided in the preceding section, a widow shall not, by reason of her re-marriage, forfeit any property or any right to which she would otherwise be entitled; and every widow who has re-married shall have the same rights of inheritance as she would have had, had such marriage been her first marriage.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Though, in Travancore, the proportion of widows to the total number of females is less than in other parts of India, it is large enough to merit notice. According to the latest Census Report, there are, in Travancore, 119 widows per 1,000 females as against 155 in India. The comparatively low proportion of widows in Travancore is, no doubt, due to the fact that widow re-marriage is not prohibited among the bulk of the population in this State. But, there are several communities among whom early marriage is common and widow re-marriage is prohibited. For instance, among Brahmins other than Nambutiries and Potties, pre-puberty marriage of girls is compulsory and widows are prohibited from re-marrying. Among Nambutiries and Potties, pre-puberty marriage of girls is not compulsory, but widow re-marriage is prohibited; and, as stated by the Travancore Census Commissioner, "Owing to the paucity of available husbands, polygamy is common, and often many young women are married to old men". There are several other communities also, such as Vellalas, among whom re-marriage of widows is not allowed.

It is noteworthy that, in Travancore, widows below 45 years of age, which may be taken as the maximum age of child-bearing period, form 85·2 per cent. of the total number of widows as against 40·3 per cent in India, 21·3 per cent in the United States and 12·3 per cent. in England and Wales. These figures, in the words of the Travancore Census Commissioner, show that the proportion of women of child-bearing period who become widowed is greater in Travancore than in Western countries, though it is less than in India.

The ban on the re-marriage of widows is a source of considerable evil. Referring to the fact that "an excess of males must lead to lower the age of marriage for females since the number of females will not be enough to go round", the Census Commissioner for India says that "the ban on widow re-marriage must accentuate the evil of this vicious circle as well as contribute very largely to the excessive disparity which is apt to begin in unhappiness and conclude in sterility for marriages of this kind are undoubtedly less fertile than those between persons of more equal age".

It is with the object of preventing such social evils, and bettering, by a purely permissive legislation, the lot of many a young widow that the present Bill is drafted. This Bill is on the lines of Act XV. of 1856, except for a slight but significant change. By Section 2 of Act XV of 1856, the re-marriage of a Hindu widow brings about her civil death in so far as her husband's estate is concerned. This Section has led to a conflict of decisions in the British Indian High Courts as regards its applicability. In so far as Travancore is concerned, the trend of later decisions (vide 22 Travancore Law Journal, page 1821) is against the provisions contained in this section. That is to say, according to our Courts, an estate which has once vested in a widow will not be divested by her re-marriage. In consonance with these decisions of the Travancore High Court, Section 2 of Act XV of 1856 has been entirely recast in my Bill (Section 5). And this change accords both with reason and the law of our State. It may be pointed out that the British Indian Statute is now about 80 years old, and, further, considering the educational status of our country and the enlightenment of our women it is time that we discarded the very harsh provisions contained in Section 2 of the British Indian Act.

The Bill, as stated above, is a purely permissive measure, its aim being the removal of the legal obstacles to the remarriage of such Hindu widows as wish to remarry and the legitimising of the children born of such wedlock. It does not affect the freedom of any woman who, after the death of her husband, chooses to remain a widow. Nor does it affect the right of a Hindu widow who is allowed to remarry by the custom of her community.

28th April 1936.

Annexure II.

THE TRAVANCORE KAMMALA BILL.

Whereas it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to marriage, succession and adoption of the Malayalam speaking Kammalas ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called The Travancore Kammala Regulation, 1110
(2) It shall come into force on.....
(3) It shall apply to all Malayalam speaking Kammalas domiciled in Travancore and to such Kammalas whether so domiciled or not, as have, or shall have marital relations with Malayalam speaking Kammalas domiciled in Travancore and also to all Malayalam speaking Kammalas wherever domiciled in respect of their properties in Travancore.
2. In this Regulation unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context—
  - (1) 'Kammala' includes the members of all communities commonly known or recognised as Malayalam speaking Kammalas following the profession of carpentry, smithery, jewellery, masonry and braziers.
  - (2) 'Minor' means a person who has not completed eighteen years of age.
  - (3) 'Prescribed' means prescribed by rules made by Our Government under this Regulation.

CHAPTER II

MARRIAGE AND ITS DISSOLUTION.

3. The conjugal union of a Kammala male subject to the restrictions of consanguinity and affinity with a Kammala female openly solemnised by tying the tali around the neck of the female by the male shall be deemed to be a valid marriage for legal purposes :

Provided that no conjugal union solemnised after the date on which this Regulation comes into force shall in the case of a male who has not completed eighteen years of age or of a female who has not completed sixteen years of age, be deemed to be a legally valid marriage unless it takes place with the consent of his or her legal guardian or unless such conjugal union is recognised and continued after the attainment of eighteen or sixteen years of age, as the case may be, by the party or parties concerned.

4. The subsequent marriage of a male or a female during the continuance of a prior marriage and performed after the commencement of this Regulation is void.

5. Marriage is dissolved only in one of the following ways :—

- (i) by the death of either party, or
- (ii) by mutual consent evidenced by a registered instrument, or
- (iii) by a formal order of dissolution as hereinafter provided,

6. A husband or wife may present a petition for dissolution of the marriage under Section (5) (iii) in the Court of the District Munsiff within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the respondent resides, carries on business or personally works for gain or if the respondent resides, carries on business or personally works for gain in any place outside Travancore, in the Court of the District Munsiff within whose jurisdiction the petitioner resides and the petitioner shall in all cases offer in the petition reasonable compensation to the respondent except where such respondent has changed his or her religion:—

Provided that the wife shall herself be competent to apply for divorce if she has completed sixteen years of age.

7. What is reasonable compensation shall in case of dispute be determined by the Court after an enquiry into the position, means, and circumstances, of the parties but without going into the grounds of the proposed dissolution; and it shall in no case exceed Rs. 500 where the petitioner is the husband and Rs. 200 where the petitioner is the wife.

8. A copy of such petition as aforesaid shall be served on the respondent at the expense of the petitioner and in the manner provided for the service of summonses on a defendant in the Code of Civil Procedure.

9. Six months after the service of the copy as aforesaid, if the petition is not withdrawn in the meantime, the Court shall after determining the amount of compensation, declare in writing the marriage dissolved. The dissolution shall take effect from the date of the order declaring it.

So far as it declares payment of compensation such order shall be executable and appealable as a decree under the Code of Civil Procedure on payment of Court fee on the amount adjudged or claimed as the case may be.

CHAPTER III.

MAINTENANCE AND GUARDIANSHIP.

10. The wife and minor children except married daughters, under the guardianship of their husbands, shall be entitled to be maintained by the husband or father, as the case may be:

Provided the wife shall not be entitled to maintenance if she refuses to live with the husband without just cause or has changed her religion.

11. Save as regards married daughters under the guardianship of their husbands, the following persons in the order named shall be the legal guardians of the minor children in respect of their person and property viz., the father, the mother, the father's brothers and the major children of the father's brothers.

12. Where the wife has minor children by a former husband deceased or divorced, she shall be the legal guardian in respect of their person as also the separate properties belonging to them.

CHAPTER IV.

INTESTATE SUCCESSION.

13. The provisions of this Regulation shall not apply to any intestacy occurring before the date on which this Regulation comes into force, nor shall these provisions divest rights which have already become vested.

14. For the purpose of succession there is no distinction between ancestral property and separate or self-acquired property.

16. Unless a contrary intention is expressed in the instrument of gift, bequest or partition, a Kammala woman shall acquire absolute right in respect of property obtained by gift, devise, partition or inheritance.

18. No person shall by marriage acquire any interest in the property of the person whom he or she marries nor become incapable of doing any act in respect of his or her own property which he or she could have done if unmarried.

17. No person shall on any ground of disability be excluded from inheritance or from a share of the joint family property on partition.

18. No lineal descendant of any Kammala shall acquire by birth any interest in the property inherited or acquired by such Kammala.

19. For the purpose of this and the succeeding chapter the undivided share of a member of a joint family in joint family property determined as at the time of such member's death shall be treated as such member's separate property.

20. A person is considered to die intestate in respect of all property of which such person has not made a testamentary disposition which is capable of taking effect.

21. The self-acquired and separate property of a deceased Kammala shall pass by right of succession to his heirs hereinafter named according to the provisions contained in this Regulation.

22. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving a widow or widows and also sons or the lineal male descendants of deceased sons or both, they shall take the whole of the self-acquired and separate property left undisposed by him at his death. In the absence of the widow, the sons and the lineal male descendant of deceased sons shall take the whole, and in the absence of the widow and sons, the lineal male descendants of deceased sons shall take the whole.

23. The distribution of the estate under Section 22 shall be according to the following rules:—

- (1) The widow or widows, if there are more than one, shall each be entitled to a share equal to that of a son.
- (2) Sons shall take the property in equal shares provided that if a son shall have predeceased the intestate the lineal male descendants of such son shall take the share which such son would have taken had he survived the intestate.
- (3) Male grand-children shall take in equal shares what their father would have taken had he survived the intestate. In like manner the property shall go to the surviving lineal male descendants of the intestate where they are all in the degree of great-grand-children to him or in a more remote degree.

24. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving no sons or lineal male descendants of deceased sons but only his widow or widows and his father, one-half of his property shall devolve on his father and the other half on his widow or widows. In the absence of the widow the father shall take the whole.

25. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving neither his father nor his lineal male descendants but only his widow and his mother, one-half of his property shall devolve on his mother and the other half on his widow.

In the absence of the mother the widow shall take the whole and in the absence of the widow the mother shall take the whole.

26. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving none of the heirs mentioned in section 22, 24 and 25, but only his brother or brothers and the lineal male descendants of deceased brothers, they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by him at his death.

27. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving none of the heirs mentioned in Sections 22, 24, 25 and 26 but only his daughter or daughters and the lineal male descendants of deceased daughters, they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by him at his death.

28. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving none of the heirs mentioned in Sections 22, 24, 25, 26 and 27, but only his sister or sisters and the lineal male descendants of deceased sisters, they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by him at his death.

29. On the death of a Kammala male leaving him surviving none of the heirs mentioned in the preceding sections, the whole property left undisposed of by him at his death shall be divided equally among those of his relatives who are in the nearest degree of kindred to him in the male line.

30. On the death of a Kammala female leaving her surviving her sons or the lineal male descendants of deceased sons or both they shall take the whole of the self-acquired and separate property left undisposed of by her at her death.

31. On the death of a Kammala female leaving her surviving no sons or lineal male descendants of deceased sons, but only her daughter or daughters or the lineal descendants of deceased daughters they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by her at her death.

32. On the death of a Kammala female leaving her surviving none of her lineal descendants but only her husband, her father and her mother, the whole property left undisposed of by her at her death shall be divided equally among them. In the absence of the husband, the father and mother shall take equally and in the absence of the husband and father, the mother shall take the whole.

33. On the death of a Kammala female leaving her surviving none of the heirs mentioned in Sections 30, 31 and 32 but only her brother or brothers and the lineal male descendants of deceased brothers, they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by her at her death.

34. On the death of a Kammala female leaving her surviving none of the heirs mentioned in Sections 30, 31, 32 and 33, but only her sister or sisters and the lineal descendants of deceased sisters, they shall take the whole property left undisposed of by her at her death.

35. On the death of a Kammala female leaving her surviving none of the heirs mentioned in the preceding sections the whole property left undisposed of by her at her death shall be divided equally among those of her relatives who are in the nearest degree of kindred to her.

36. The provisions contained in Section 23, Clauses (1) and (3) shall as far as may be apply to the distribution of the estate among the heirs under Sections 26, 27, 28, 30, 33 and 34.

37. Where a distributive share in the property of a person who has died intestate is claimed by a child or any descendant of a child of such persons, no money or other property which the intestate may during his life, have paid given or settled to or for the advancement of the child by whom or by whose descendant the claim is made shall be taken into account in estimating such distributive share.

CHAPTER V.

TESTAMENTARY SUCCESSION.

38. Any Kammala may dispose of by will the whole of his or her self-acquired or separate property.

CHAPTER VI.

ADOPTION.

39. A husband may, with the consent of his wife, adopt an unmarried male child, if they have no issue, and the adopted son shall have all the rights of a natural born son.

40. A widow or widower may also take in adoption an unmarried male child, but such adopted son shall succeed only to the separate or self-acquired property of the adoptive mother or father as the case may be.

CHAPTER VII.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS.

41. Nothing in this Regulation shall :—

(a) affect rights which have accrued according to law or customs before the date on which this Regulation comes into force ; or

(b) affect the existing rules of law, customs or usage except to the extent hereinbefore expressly provided for.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Kammalas form an important community in the State. According to the recent Census the present population of Hindu Kammalas in Travancore is 2,08,441. They consist of two main classes—Malayalam speaking Kammalas and Tamil speaking Kammalas. Each of them is further divided into five sections according as they follow the profession of carpentry, smithery, braziers, jewellery and masonry. They are all makkathayis and are supposed to be governed by the rules of Hindu Law. The law of succession obtaining among Kammalas seems however to be extremely vague and unsettled. Even among the Hindus who are strict followers of the Mitakshara law, the principles of the mitakshara system are not observed in their strictness. The strict application of the principles of Hindu Law to this community is obviously unfair. Moreover customs prevailing in the community with regard to succession and other matters are mostly at variance with the mitakshara principles of law applied to them. As observed by Sir J. D. Mayne races who are Hindu by name or even Hindu by religion are not necessarily governed by any of the written treatises on law which are founded upon and developed from the Smritis. Courts are also reluctant to recognise any usage or custom modifying the ordinary principles of Hindu Law. The personal laws of almost all the important communities in the State have in recent years been modified in accordance with their changing needs and customs. The Kammala community has also been praying for legislation like the other communities. There are some of the considerations which have actuated me in framing this Bill. I have omitted to include the Tamil speaking Kammalas in this Bill as in their case the application of Hindu Law is not felt to be such a hardship as in the case of the Malayalam speaking Kammalas and as the demand for a change in the system of inheritance is not insisted on by them. If however, any section of the Tamil speaking community so desires they may also be included by adding a provision to that effect.

I shall now deal with the special features of the different provisions in this Bill.

CHAPTERS I TO III.

MARRIAGE AND ITS DISSOLUTION, MAINTENANCE AND GUARDIANSHIP ETC.

I have adopted the provisions relating to marriage and its dissolution and also maintenance and guardianship from the Nayar, the Ezhava and other Regulations. These provisions have been adopted for two reasons. In the first place the complicated rules of Hindu Law in regard to these matters are inapplicable to the Kammala community who do not as a matter of fact follow them. Secondly it is necessary and proper to conform to the provisions of law applied to other communities in the State as far as practicable.

CHAPTER IV.

INTESTATE SUCCESSION.

This is the most important chapter in the whole Bill. Drastic changes in the rules of succession have been made to suit the needs under the altered conditions of the community and also to meet their demands in this respect. Clauses 14 to 21 lay down general rules in regard to rights to property and its devolution. Clause 14 is intended to do away with the distinction between "ancestral" and "separate" "or self-acquired" property which is the cause of so much confusion in the Hindu Law. It also cuts at the root of joint ownership by birth and makes the father absolutely independent in respect of property acquired by inheritance. This radical change is agreeable to the community and as provision has been made for preventing the divesting of estates once vested, the changes cannot also work any hardship. Clauses 15 and 16 place the rights of women on an equal footing with men. Reformers of Hindu Law advocate a similar change in respect of the rights of women all over India. Clause 17 is intended to effect a reform which is so much desired by Hindu reformers i. e., removal of all disqualifications in regard to inheritance and partition. Clause 18 is only a corollary to Clause 14. Clause 19 does away with the rule of survivorship and Clause 21 only makes this clear. Clauses 22 to 36 deal with the line of succession to males and females and need no particular comment. The scheme chalked out is different from the scheme of the mitakshara law, but agrees with the view of the majority of the community so far as I know. The rules for the distribution of the estate are laid down in Clause 28 and in Clause 36. Clause 37 is intended to clear doubts which may arise in regard to cases referred to therein and is taken from the Indian Succession Act.

CHAPTER V.

TESTAMENTARY SUCCESSION.

Clause 38 calls for no particular comment. Though complete testamentary power is given to all Hindus in the Nayar Regulation there can be no objection in inserting the same provision here.

CHAPTER VI.

ADOPTION.

Clauses 39 and 40 make provision for adoption which the community desires.

CHAPTER VII.

Clause 41 is only intended to protect rights which have already accrued and to save all the rules of law and custom not expressly dealt with. Clause 13 has the effect of making Clause 41 (a) clearer.

I have made no provision for partition as under the existing Hindu Law separation from the joint family is permitted and also because the rule of survivorship which applies to mitakshara joint families has been done away with in this Bill.

Section 19 A A.

"19 A A. (1) When it appears to the Collector that any person may leave Travancore during the current year or shortly after its expiry and that he has no present intention of returning, the Collector may proceed to assess him on his total income for the period from the expiry of the last previous year for which he has been assessed to the probable date of his departure from Travancore. For each completed previous year included in this period an assessment shall be made on the total income of such person at the rate at which it would have been charged had such income been fully assessed, and for the period from the expiry of the last of such previous years to the probable date of departure the Collector shall estimate the total income of such person and assess it at the rate applicable to the income:

Assessment in case of departure from Travancore.

Provided that nothing herein contained shall authorise a Collector to assess any income, profits or gains which have escaped assessment or have been assessed at too low a rate in respect of which he is debarred from issuing a notice under Section 25.

(2) For the purpose of making an assessment under sub-section (1), the Collector may serve a notice upon such person requiring him to furnish within such time not being less than four days as may be specified in the notice, a return in the same form and verified in the same manner as a return under sub-section (2) of Section 17, setting forth, along with such other particulars as may be provided for in the notice, his total income for each of the completed previous years comprised in the period first referred to in sub-section (1) and his estimated total income for the period from the expiry of the last such completed previous year to the probable date of his departure; and the provisions of this Regulation shall, so far as may be, apply as if the notice were a notice issued under sub-section (2) of Section 17."

Amendment of Section 19 B.

16. In the said Regulation, for Section 19 B, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

" 19 B. (1) Where, at the time of making an assessment under Section 18, it is found that a change has occurred in the constitution of a firm or that a firm has been newly constituted, the assessment on the firm and on the members thereof shall, subject to the provisions of this Regulation, be made as if the firm had been constituted throughout the previous year as it is constituted at the time of making the assessment, and as if each member had made a share of the profits of that year proportionate to his interest in the firm at the time of making the assessment.

Change in constitution of a firm.

(2) Where, at the time of making the assessment under Section 18, it is found that the person carrying on any business, profession or vocation has been succeeded in such capacity by another person, the assessment shall be made on such person succeeding as if he had been carrying on the business, profession or vocation throughout the previous year, and as if he had received the whole of the profits for that year."

Insertion of a new Section 19 BB.

17. In the said Regulation, after Section 19 B and before Section 19 C, the following Section shall be inserted, namely:—

" 19 BB. (1) Where a person dies, his executor, administrator or other legal representative shall be liable to pay out of the estate of the deceased person, to the extent to which the estate is capable of meeting the charge, the tax assessed as payable by such person, or any tax which would have been payable by him under this Regulation as if he had not died.

Tax of deceased person payable by representative.

(2) Where a person dies before he is served with a notice under sub-section (3) of Section 17 or Section 25, as the case may be, the Collector may serve on his executor, administrator or other legal representative a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 or Section 25, as the case may be, and may proceed to assess the total income of the deceased person as if such executor, administrator or other legal representative were the assessee.

(3) Where a person dies without having furnished a return which he has been required to furnish under the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 17, or having furnished a return which the Collector has reason to believe to be incorrect or incomplete, the Collector may make an assessment of the total income of such person and determine the tax payable by him on the basis of such assessment, and for this purpose may require from the executor, administrator or other legal representative of the deceased person any accounts, documents or other evidence which he might under the provisions of Sections 17 and 18 have required from the deceased person."

Amendment of Section 19 C.

18. In Section 19 C of the said Regulation, for the expression "last mentioned notice" the words "last mentioned notices" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Section 21.

19. In Section 21, sub-section (1), of the said Regulation, the following shall be added as a proviso, namely :—

"Provided that no appeal shall lie in respect of an assessment made under sub-section (4) of Section 18 or under that sub-section read with Section 19 C."

Amendment of Section 22.

20. In Section 22, sub-section (3) proviso, of the said Regulation, for the word "applicant" the word "appellant" shall be substituted.

21. In Section 23 of the said Regulation, for the words "assessment proceeding" the words "proceedings under this Regulation" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Section 23.

Amendment of Section 24.

22. In the said Regulation, for Section 24, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"24. If the Collector, the Commissioner or the Chief Revenue Authority, in the course of any proceeding under this Regulation, is satisfied that an assessee has concealed the particulars of his income, or has deliberately furnished inaccurate particulars of such income and has thereby returned it below its real amount, he may direct that the assessee shall, in addition to the income tax payable by him, pay by way of penalty a sum not exceeding the amount of income tax which would have been avoided if the income so returned by the assessee had been accepted as the correct income :
 Penalty for concealment of income.

Provided that no such order shall be made, unless the assessee has been heard, or has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard :

Provided further that no prosecution for an offence against this Regulation shall be instituted in respect of the same facts on which a penal assessment is made under this Section."

Amendment of Section 25.

23. In the said Regulation, for Section 25, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"25. If for any reason income, profits or gains chargeable to income tax has escaped assessment in any year or has been assessed at too low a rate, the Collector may at any time within one year of the end of that year serve on the person liable to pay tax on such income, profits or gains, or in the case of a company, on the principal officer thereof, a notice containing all or any of the requirements which may be included in a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 and may proceed to assess or re-assess such income, profits or gains and the provisions of this Regulation shall, so far as may be, apply accordingly as if the notice were a notice issued under that sub-section :
 Income escaping assessment.

Provided that the tax shall be charged at the rate at which it would have been charged had the income, profits or gains not escaped assessment or full assessment, as the case may be."

Amendment of Section 26.

24. In the said Regulation, for Section 26, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

“ 26. (1) The Chief Revenue Authority or the Commissioner may, at any time within one year from the date of any order passed by him in appeal or, in the case of the Chief Revenue Authority, in revision or review under Section 23 and the Collector may at any time within one year from the date of any demand made upon an assessee, on his own motion, rectify any mistake apparent from the record of the appeal, revision, review or assessment, as the case may be, and shall, within the like period, rectify any such mistake which has been brought to their notice by the assessee :

Provided that no such rectification shall be made, having the effect of enhancing an assessment, unless the Chief Revenue authority, the Commissioner or the Collector, as the case may be, has given notice to the assessee of his intention so to do and has allowed him a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(2) Where any such rectification has the effect of reducing the assessment, the Collector shall make any refund which may be due to such assessee.

(3) Where any such rectification has the effect of enhancing the assessment, the Collector shall serve on the assessee a notice of demand in the prescribed form specifying the sum payable, and such notice of demand shall be deemed to be issued under Section 20, and the provisions of this Regulation shall apply accordingly.”

Amendment of Section 36.

25. In the said Regulation, for Section 36, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

36. (1) (a) If—

Refund to individual shareholders, partners and owners of securities.

(i) a shareholder in a company who has received any dividend from the company ; or

(ii) a partner in a firm on which income tax has been levied at the rate provided in Schedule I B who has received a share of the profits of the firm ; or

(iii) the owner of a security from the interest on which income tax has been deducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 15 ;

satisfies the Collector that his total income in the previous year was less than any one, as the case may be, of the amounts specified in Schedule II he shall be entitled to a refund of a sum calculated on such dividend, share of profits or interest at the rates specified in the same Schedule against each such amount.

(b) If any person, from whose salary income tax has been deducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 15, satisfies the

Refund on salary. Collector that the rate of income tax applicable to his total income of the previous year was less than the rate at which income tax has been charged in making such deduction in that year or that his total income of the previous year was below the minimum chargeable with income tax he shall be entitled to a refund on the amount of salary from which such deduction has been made calculated at the difference between those rates or at the rate at which income tax has been deducted, as the case may be.

(2) For purposes of this Section, "total income" shall include, in the case of any person not resident in Travancore, all income, profits or gains wherever arising, accruing or received which, if arising, accruing or received in Travancore, would be included in the computation of total income.

(3) Nothing in this Section shall entitle to any refund any person not resident in Travancore who is neither a British subject nor a subject of Travancore.

Explanation. - In computing the total income, no income derived from any land outside Travancore shall be deemed agricultural income."

Amendment of Section 36 A. 26. For Section 36 A of the said Regulation, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"36 A. Where, under any of the provisions of this Regulation, a refund is found to be due to any person, the Collector, the Commissioner or the Chief Revenue Authority, as the case may be, may, in lieu of payment of the refund, set off the amount to be refunded or any part of that amount against the tax, if any, remaining payable by the person to whom the refund is due."

Amendment of Section 38. 27. In Section 38 of the said Regulation,

(1) in clause (b), after the figure "15", the words and figure "or by Section 15 B" shall be inserted;

(2) in clause (c), before the word "Section", where it occurs for the first time, the words and figure "Section 15 AA" shall be inserted, and;

(3) in clause (e) before the word "Section" the following shall be inserted, namely:—Section 17 (4) or".

Amendment of Section 39. 28. In Section 39 of the said Regulation, before the word "Section" where it occurs for the first time, the words and figure "Section 15 AA or" shall be inserted.

Amendment of Section 41. 29. In the proviso to Section 41 of the said Regulation, the word "or" occurring at the end of clause (c) and clause (d) shall be omitted.

Insertion of a new Chapter VI A. 30. In the said Regulation, after Chapter VI, the following Chapter shall be inserted, namely:—

"CHAPTER VI A.

41. A. In addition to the income tax charged for any year there shall be charged, levied and paid for that year in respect of the total income of the previous year of any individual, undivided Hindu family or Marumakkathayam Tarwad, company, unregistered firm or other association of individuals, not being a registered firm, an additional duty of income tax (in this Regulation referred to as supertax) at the rate or rates laid down in Schedule III:

Provided that where the profits and gains of an unregistered firm have been assessed to supertax, supertax shall not be payable by an individual having a share in the firm in respect of the amount of such profits and gains which is proportionate to his share.

41. B. Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, the total income of any individual, undivided Hindu family or Total income for purposes of supertax.

Marumakkathayam Tarwad, company, unregistered firm or other association of individuals, shall, for the purposes of supertax, be the total income as assessed for the purposes of income tax, and where an assessment of total income has become final and conclusive for the purposes of income tax for any year, the assessment shall also be final and conclusive for the purposes of supertax for the same year.

41 C. (1) In the case of any person residing out of Travancore who is a member of a registered firm and whose share of the profits from such firm is liable to supertax, the remaining members of such firm who are resident in Travancore shall be jointly and severally, liable to pay the supertax due from the non-resident member in respect of such share.

(2) Where the Collector has reason to believe that any person who is a shareholder in a company and is liable to pay supertax on the amount of the dividends receivable by him from the company is resident out of Travancore, the Collector may by order in writing require the principal officer of that company to pay the supertax.

(3) Where the principal officer of a company has not reason to believe that a person who is a shareholder in that company and liable to pay supertax on the amount of the dividends receivable by him from the company is resident in Travancore or where the principal officer of a company has been required to pay supertax on account of any person who is a shareholder in the company as mentioned in sub-section (2), the principal officer shall be liable to pay the supertax due by such person in respect of the dividends received by him from the company and shall have power to deduct the amount of such supertax from the amount payable by the company to such person.

(4) Where any person pays any tax under the provisions of this Section on account of another person who is residing out of Travancore, credit shall be given therefor in determining the amount of tax to be payable by any agent of such non-resident person under the provisions of Sections 32 and 33.

41. D. All the provisions of this Regulation except the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 5, the proviso to Section 6, sub-section (1) of Section 11, so far as it relates to companies and firms, sub-section (2) of Section 11, and Sections 14, 15, 15 A, 15 B, 16 and 36 shall apply, so far as may be, to the charge, assessment, collection and recovery of supertax.

Amendment of Section 30.

31. In Section 50 of the said Regulation.

(1) for sub-section (2), the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) Within sixty days of the date on which he is served with notice of an order under Section 22, or Section 22 A, or of an order under Section 23 enhancing an assessment or otherwise prejudicial to him, the assessee, in respect of whom the order was passed, may, by application accompanied by a fee of one hundred rupees or such lesser sum as may be prescribed require the Chief Revenue Authority to refer to the High Court any question of law arising out of such order and the Chief Revenue Authority shall, within sixty days of the receipt of such application, draw up a statement of the case and refer it with his opinion thereon to the High Court:

Provided that a reference shall lie from an order under Section 23, only on a question of law arising out of that order itself, and not on a question of law arising out of a previous order under Section 22 or Section 22 A revised by the order under Section 23:

Provided further that if, in exercise of his power under Section 23, the Chief Revenue Authority decides the question or if the Chief Revenue Authority rejects the application on the ground that it is time-barred or otherwise incompetent, or if, in exercise of his power under sub-section (3), the Chief Revenue Authority refuses to state the case, the assessee may within thirty days from the date on which he receives notice of the order passed by the Chief Revenue Authority, withdraw his application, and if he does so, the fee paid shall be refunded";

(2) In sub-section (3), after the word "may" where it occurs for the first time, the following words shall be inserted, namely:—

"within six months from the date on which he is served with the notice of the refusal";

(3) After sub-section (3) and before sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(3 A) If on any application being made under sub-section (2), the Chief Revenue Authority rejects it on the ground that it is time-barred, the assessee may, within two months from the date on which he is served with the notice of the order of the Chief Revenue Authority, apply to the High Court, and the High Court, if it is not satisfied of the correctness of the Chief Revenue Authority's decision, may require the Chief Revenue Authority to treat the application as made within the time allowed under sub-section (2)"; and

(4) After sub-section (7), the following sub-sections shall be added, namely:—

"(8) Section 5 of the Travancore Limitation Regulation shall apply to an application to the High Court by an assessee (under sub-section 3) or (sub-section 3 a).

(9) When any person defaults to pay the costs ordered by the High Court, the Collector concerned may apply for the realisation of the amount to the District Court having local jurisdiction, and such Court shall, on receipt of the Collector's application, execute the order as if it were its own decree."

Amendment of 92. In the said Regulation, for Schedule I, the following Schedule shall be substituted namely :—

"SCHEDULE I.

THE TRAVANCORE INCOME TAX REGULATION
(AMENDMENT) BILL.

(As passed by the Sri Mulam Assembly.)

A BILL FURTHER TO AMEND THE TRAVANCORE
INCOME TAX REGULATION, VIII OF 1096, AS AMENDED
BY REGULATION, V OF 1100.

Preamble. Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1096, as amended by Regulation, V of 1100, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement. 1. (1) This Regulation may be called The Travancore Income Tax (Amendment) Regulation, 1112.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Amendment of Section 2. 2. In Section 2 of the Travancore Income Tax Regulation, VIII of 1096, as amended by Regulation, V of 1100, (hereinafter referred to as the said Regulation).

(1) in sub-section (1), clause (a), after the expression "land revenue" the words "in Travancore" shall be inserted; and

(2) for sub-section (11), the following shall be substituted, namely:—

(11) "previous year" means—

(a) the twelve months ending on the last day of Karkatakam next preceding the year for which the assessment is to be made, or, if the accounts of the assessee have been made up within the said twelve months in respect of a year ending on any date other than the said last day of Karkatakam, then, at the option of the assessee, the year ending on the day on which his accounts have so been made up:

Provided that, if this option has been once exercised by the assessee, it shall not again be exercised so as to vary the meaning of the expression "previous year" as then applicable to such assessee, except with the consent of the Collector and upon such conditions as he thinks fit; or

(b) in the case of any person, business or company or class of persons, business or company, such period as may be determined by the Chief Revenue Authority or by such authority as it may authorise in this behalf".

Amendment of Section 3. 3. In Section 3 of the said Regulation, after sub-section (1), the following shall be inserted as a sub-section, namely:—

- "1 (a) Income, profits and gains accruing or arising without Travancore to a person resident in Travancore shall, if they are received in or brought into Travancore, be deemed to have accrued or arisen in Travancore and to be income, profits and gains of the year in which they are so received or brought, notwithstanding the fact that they did not so accrue or arise in that year;

Explanation. Income, profits or gains of a business accruing or arising without Travancore shall not be deemed to be received or brought into Travancore within the meaning of this sub-section by reason only of the fact that they are taken into account in the balance sheet prepared in Travancore."

Amendment of Section 5. 4. In Section (5), sub-section (1), of the said Regulation, the following shall be inserted as an Explanation, namely:—

Explanation—The right of a person to occupy, free of rent, as a place of residence any premises provided by his employer is a perquisite for the purposes of this sub-section."

- (a) in sub-section (3),
- (b) in clause (vi), for proviso (b) the following shall be substituted namely:—

"where full effect cannot be given to any such allowance in any year owing to there being no profits or gains chargeable for that year, or owing to the profits or gains chargeable being less than the allowance, the allowance or part of the allowance to which effect has not been given, as the case may be, shall be added to the amount of the allowance for depreciation for the following year and deemed to be part of that allowance, or if there is no such allowance for that year, be deemed to be the allowance for that year, and so on for succeeding years; and" and,

(ii) In clause (ix), the words "in respect of" shall be omitted, and

(b) sub-section three shall be omitted.

7. In the said Regulation, after Section 10, the following Section

Insertion of a new Section, 10 A. shall be inserted, namely:—

"10 A. Income, profits and gains shall be computed, for the purposes of Sections 8, 9 and 10, in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed by the assessee :
Method of accounting.

Provided that, if no method of accounting has been regularly employed or if the method employed is such that, in the opinion of the Collector, the income profits and gains cannot properly be deduced therefrom, then the computation shall be made upon such basis and in such manner as the Collector may determine."

8. In section 12 of the said Regulation after the word "in", the words and figure "Section 6, proviso and in" shall be inserted.
Amendment of Section 12.

9. In Section 13, sub-section (2), of the said Regulation, the proviso shall be omitted.

Amendment of Section 14. 10. In Section 14 of the said Regulation—

(1) in sub-section (1), after the word "liable", the words "to pay income tax or" shall be inserted ; and

(2) Sub-section (2) shall be omitted.

11. In the said Regulation, after Section 15 A and before Section 15 B, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—
Insertion of a new Section 15 A A.

"15. A A. (1) The Principal officer of every company shall, on or before the 15th Thulam in each year furnish to the prescribed officer a return in the prescribed form and verified in the prescribed manner of the names and of the addresses, as entered in the register of shareholders maintained by the company, of the shareholders to whom a dividend or aggregate dividends exceeding such amount as may be prescribed in this behalf has or have been distributed during the preceding year and of the amount so distributed to each such share holder," Supply of information regarding dividends.

(2) The principal officer of any bank, firm or company responsible for paying any interest, not being interest on securities, shall, on or before the 15th day of Tulam in each year, furnish to the prescribed officer a return in the prescribed form and verified in the prescribed manner of the names and addresses of all persons to whom, during the previous financial year, he has paid interest or aggregate interest exceeding such amount not being less than Rs. 200 as may be prescribed in this behalf together with the amount paid to each such person.

12. In Section 17, sub-section (2), of the said Regulation, for the Amendment of word "taxable", the word "total" shall be substituted. Section 17.

13. In Section 19, sub-section (1), of the said Regulation, for the Amendment of figure "6", the figure "4" shall be substituted. Section 19.

14. In Section 19 A, sub-section (1), of the said Regulation, for the Amendment of words "commenced on or after the first day of Chingam 1101," the words "on which income tax was not at any time charged under the provisions of Regulation VIII of 1096" shall be substituted. Section 19 A.

15. In the said Regulation, after Section 19 A and before Section 19 B, the following Section shall be inserted namely:—

"19 AA. (1) When it appears to the Collector that any person may leave Travancore during the current year or shortly after its expiry and that he has no present intention of returning, the Collector may proceed to assess him on his total income for the period from the expiry of the last previous year for which he has been assessed to the probable date of his departure from Travancore. For each completed previous year included in this period an assessment shall be made on the total income of such person at the rate at which it would have been charged had such income been fully assessed, and for the period from the expiry of the last of such previous years to the probable date of departure the Collector shall estimate the total income of such person and assess it at the rate applicable to the income:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall authorise a Collector to assess any income, profits or gains which have escaped assessment or have been assessed at too low a rate in respect of which he is debarred from issuing a notice under Section 25.

(2) For the purpose of making an assessment under sub-section (1), the Collector may serve a notice upon such person requiring him to furnish within such time not being less than four days as may be specified in the notice, a return in the same form and verified in the same manner as a return under sub-section (2) of Section 17, setting forth, along with such other particulars as may be provided for in the notice, his total income for each of the completed previous years comprised in the period first referred to in sub-section (1) and his estimated total income for the period from the expiry of the last such completed previous year to the probable date of his departure; and the provisions of this Regulation shall, so far as may be, apply as if the notice were a notice issued under sub-section (2) of Section 17."

Amendment of Section 19 B.

16. In the said Regulation, for Section 19 B, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

" 19 B. (1) Where, at the time of making an assessment under Section 18, it is found that a change has occurred in the constitution of a firm or that a firm has been newly constituted, the assessment on the firm and on the members thereof shall, subject to the provisions of this Regulation, be made as if the firm had been constituted throughout the previous year as it is constituted at the time of making the assessment, and as if each member had made a share of the profits of that year proportionate to his interest in the firm at the time of making the assessment.

Change in constitution of a firm.

(2) Where, at the time of making the assessment under Section 18, it is found that the person carrying on any business, profession or vocation has been succeeded in such capacity by another person, the assessment shall be made on such person succeeding as if he had been carrying on the business, profession or vocation throughout the previous year, and as if he had received the whole of the profits for that year."

Insertion of a new Section 19 BB.

17. In the said Regulation, after Section 19 B and before Section 19 C, the following Section shall be inserted, namely:—

" 19 BB. (1) Where a person dies, his executor, administrator or other legal representative shall be liable to pay out of the estate of the deceased person, to the extent to which the estate is capable of meeting the charge, the tax assessed as payable by such person, or any tax which would have been payable by him under this Regulation as if he had not died.

Tax of deceased person payable by representative.

(2) Where a person dies before he is served with a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 or Section 23, as the case may be, the Collector may serve on his executor, administrator or other legal representative a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 17 or Section 23, as the case may be, and may proceed to assess the total income of the deceased person as if such executor, administrator or other legal representative were the assessee.

(3) Where a person dies without having furnished a return which he has been required to furnish under the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 17, or having furnished a return which the Collector has reason to believe to be incorrect or incomplete, the Collector may make an assessment of the total income of such person and determine the tax payable by him on the basis of such assessment, and for this purpose may require from the executor, administrator or other legal representative of the deceased person any accounts, documents or other evidence which he might under the provisions of Sections 17 and 18 have required from the deceased person."

Amendment of Section 19 C. 18. In Section 19 C of the Said Regulation, for the expression "last mentioned notice" the words "last mentioned notices" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Section 21. 19. In Section 21, sub-section (1), of the said Regulation, the following shall be added as a proviso, namely:—

"Provided that no appeal shall lie in respect of an assessment made under sub-section (4) of Section 18 or under that sub-section read with Section 19 C."

A amendment of Section 23. 20. In Section 22, sub-section (3) proviso, of the said Regulation, for the word "applicant" the word "appellant" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Section 23. 21. In Section 23 of the said Regulation, for the words "assessment proceeding" the words "proceedings under this Regulation" shall be substituted.

Amendment of Section 24. 22. In the said Regulation, for Section 24, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"24. If the Collector, the Commissioner or the Chief Revenue Authority, in the course of any proceeding under this Regulation, is satisfied that an assessee has concealed the particulars of his income, or has deliberately furnished inaccurate particulars of such income and has thereby returned it below its real amount, he may direct that the assessee shall, in addition to the income tax payable by him, pay by way of penalty a sum not exceeding the amount of income tax which would have been avoided if the income so returned by the assessee had been accepted as the correct income:

Provided that no such order shall be made, unless the assessee has been heard, or has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard:

Provided further that no prosecution for an offence against this Regulation shall be instituted in respect of the same facts on which a penal assessment is made under this Section."

Amendment of Section 25. 23. In the said Regulation, for Section 25, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"25. If for any reason income, profits or gains chargeable to income tax has escaped assessment in any year or has been assessed at too low a rate, the Collector may at any time within one year of the end of that year serve on the person liable to pay tax on such income, profits or gains, or in the case of a company, on the principal officer thereof, a notice containing all or any of the requirements which may be included in a notice under sub-section (3) of Section 17 and may proceed to assess or re-assess such income, profits or gains and the provisions of this Regulation shall, so far as may be, apply accordingly as if the notice were a notice issued under that sub-section :

Income escaping assessment.

Provided that the tax shall be charged at the rate at which it would have been charged had the income, profits or gains not escaped assessment or full assessment, as the case may be."

Amendment of Section 26.

24. In the said Regulation, for Section 26, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"26. (1) The Chief Revenue Authority or the Commissioner may, at any time within one year from the date of any order passed by him in appeal or, in the case of the Chief Revenue Authority, in revision or review under Section 23, and the Collector may at any time within one year from the date of any demand made upon an assessee, on his own motion, rectify any mistake apparent from the record of the appeal, revision, review or assessment, as the case may be, and shall, within the like period, rectify any such mistake which has been brought to their notice by the assessee:

Provided that no such rectification shall be made, having the effect of enhancing an assessment, unless the Chief Revenue authority, the Commissioner or the Collector, as the case may be, has given notice to the assessee of his intention so to do and has allowed him a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(2) Where any such rectification has the effect of reducing the assessment, the Collector shall make any refund which may be due to such assessee.

(3) Where any such rectification has the effect of enhancing the assessment, the Collector shall serve on the assessee a notice of demand in the prescribed form specifying the sum payable, and such notice of demand shall be deemed to be issued under Section 20, and the provisions of this Regulation shall apply accordingly."

Amendment of Section 26.

25. In the said Regulation, for Section 26, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"26. (1) (a) If—

Refund to individual shareholders partners and owners of securities.

(i) a shareholder in a company who has received any dividend from the company ; or

(ii) a partner in a firm on which income tax has been levied at the rate provided in Schedule I B who has received a share of the profits of the firm ; or

(iii) the owner of a security from the interest on which income tax has been deducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 13 ;

Satisfies the Collector that his total income in the previous year was less than any one, as the case may be, of the amounts specified in Schedule II, he shall be entitled to a refund of a sum calculated on such dividend, share of profits or interest at the rates specified in the same Schedule against each such amount.

(b) If any person, from whose salary income tax has been deducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 15, satisfies the Collector that the rate of income tax applicable to his total income of the previous year was less than the rate at which income tax has been charged in making such deduction in that year or that his total income of the previous year was below the minimum chargeable with income tax, he shall be entitled to a refund on the amount of salary from which such deduction has been made calculated at the difference between those rates or at the rate at which income tax has been deducted, as the case may be.

(2) For purposes of this Section, "total income" shall include, in the case of any person not resident in Travancore, all income, profits or gains wherever arising, accruing or received which, if arising, accruing or received in Travancore, would be included in the computation of total income.

(3) Nothing in this Section shall entitle to any refund any person not resident in Travancore who is neither a British subject nor a subject of Travancore.

Explanation. - In computing the total income, no income derived from any land outside Travancore shall be deemed agricultural income."

26. For Section 36 A of the said Regulation, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

Amendment of Section 36 A.

"36 A. Where, under any of the provisions of this Regulation, a refund is found to be due to any person, the Collector, the Commissioner or the Chief Revenue Authority, as the case may be, may, in lieu of payment of the refund, set off the amount to be refunded or any part of that amount against the tax, if any, remaining payable by the person to whom the refund is due."

Amendment of Section 38.

27. In Section 38 of the said Regulation,

(1) in clause (b), after the figure "15", the words and figure "or by Section 15 B" shall be inserted;

(2) in clause (c), before the word "Section", where it occurs for the first time, the words and figure "Section 15 AA" shall be inserted, and;

(3) in clause (e) before the word "Section" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"Section 17 (4) or",

Amendment of Section 39.

28. In Section 39 of the said Regulation, before the word "Section" where it occurs for the first time, the words and figure "Section 15 AA or" shall be inserted.

Amendment of Section 41.

29. In the proviso to Section 41 of the said Regulation, the word "or" occurring at the end of clause (c) and clause (d) shall be omitted.

Insertion of a new Chapter VI A.

30. In the said Regulation, after Chapter VI, the following Chapter shall be inserted, namely :—

"CHAPTER VI A.

41. A. In addition to the income tax charged for any year, there shall be charged, levied and paid for that year in respect of the total income of the previous year of any individual, undivided Hindu family or Marumakkathayam Tarwad, company, unregistered firm or other association of individuals, not being a registered firm, an additional duty of income tax (in this Regulation referred to as supertax) at the rate or rates laid down in Schedule III.

Provided that where the profits and gains of an unregistered firm have been assessed to supertax, supertax shall not be payable by an individual having a share in the firm in respect of the amount of such profits and gains which is proportionate to his share.

41. B. Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, the total income of any individual, undivided Hindu family or Marumakkathayam Tarwad, company, unregistered firm or other association of individuals, shall, for the purposes of supertax, be the total income as assessed for the purposes of income tax, and where an assessment of total income has become final and conclusive for the purposes of income tax for any year, the assessment shall also be final and conclusive for the purposes of supertax for the same year.

41 C. (1) In the case of any person residing out of Travancore who is a member of a registered firm and whose share of the profits from such firm is liable to supertax, the remaining members of such firm who are resident in Travancore shall be jointly and severally, liable to pay the supertax due from the non-resident member in respect of such share.

(2) Where the Collector has reason to believe that any person who is a shareholder in a company and is liable to pay supertax on the amount of the dividends receivable by him from the company is resident out of Travancore, the Collector may by order in writing require the principal officer of that company to pay the supertax.

(3) Where the principal officer of a company has not reason to believe that a person who is a shareholder in that company and liable to pay supertax on the amount of the dividends receivable by him from the company is resident in Travancore or where the principal officer of a company has been required to pay supertax on account of any person who is a shareholder in the company as mentioned in sub-section (2), the principal officer shall be liable to pay the supertax due by such person in respect of the dividends received by him from the company and shall have power to deduct the amount of such supertax from the amount payable by the company to such person.

(4) Where any person pays any tax under the provisions of this Section on account of another person who is residing out of Travancore, credit shall be given therefor in determining the amount of tax to be payable by any agent of such non-resident person under the provisions of Sections 32 and 33.

41. D. All the provisions of this Regulation except the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 5, the proviso to Section 6, sub-section (1) of Section 11, so far as it relates to companies and firms, sub-section (2) of Section 11, and Sections 14, 15, 15 A, 15 B, 16 and 36 shall apply, so far as may be, to the charge, assessment, collection and recovery of supertax."

Amendment of Section 50.

31. In Section 50 of the said Regulation.

(1) for sub-section (2), the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) Within sixty days of the date on which he is served with notice of an order under Section 22, or Section 22 A, or of an order under Section 23 enhancing an assessment or otherwise prejudicial to him, the assessee, in respect of whom the order was passed, may, by application accompanied by a fee of one hundred rupees or such lesser sum as may be prescribed require the Chief Revenue Authority to refer to the High Court any question of law arising out of such order and the Chief Revenue Authority shall, within sixty days of the receipt of such application, draw up a statement of the case and refer it with his opinion thereon to the High Court:

Provided that a reference shall lie from an order under Section 23, only on a question of law arising out of that order itself, and not on a question of law arising out of a previous order under Section 22 or Section 22 A revised by the order under Section 23:

Provided further that if, in exercise of his power under Section 23, the Chief Revenue Authority decides the question or if the Chief Revenue Authority rejects the application on the ground that it is time-barred or otherwise incompetent, or if, in exercise of his power under sub-section (3), the Chief Revenue Authority refuses to state the case, the assessee may, within thirty days from the date on which he receives notice of the order passed by the Chief Revenue Authority, withdraw his application, and if he does so, the fee paid shall be refunded";

(2) in sub-section (3), after the word "may" where it occurs for the first time, the following words shall be inserted, namely:—

"within six months from the date on which he is served with the notice of the refusal";

(3) after sub-section (3) and before sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(3 a) If on any application being made under sub-section (2), the Chief Revenue Authority rejects it on the ground that it is time-barred, the assessee may, within two months from the date on which he is served with the notice of the order of the Chief Revenue Authority, apply to the High Court, and the High Court, if it is not satisfied of the correctness of the Chief Revenue Authority's decision, may require the Chief Revenue Authority to treat the application as made within the time allowed under sub-section (2)"; and

(4) After sub-section (7), the following sub-sections shall be added, namely:—

"(8) Section 5 of the Travancore Limitation Regulation shall apply to an application to the High Court by an assessee (under sub-section 3) or sub-section (3 a).

(9) When any person defaults to pay the costs ordered by the High Court, the Collector concerned may apply for the realisation of the amount to the District Court having local jurisdiction, and such Court shall, on receipt of the Collector's application, execute the order as if it were its own decree."

Amendment of 32. In the said Regulation, for Schedule I, the Schedule I. following Schedule shall be substituted namely:—

(As revised by the Select Committee.)

(The words in italics indicate the amendments suggested by the Select Committee.)

A BILL TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF A BAR COUNCIL IN TRAVANCORE AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the constitution and incorporation of a Bar Council in Travancore, to confer powers and impose duties on the Bar Council and to amend the Vakil's Regulation, 1705 and the Travancore Stamp Regulation for certain purposes; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PRELIMINARY.

1. (i) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Bar Council Regulation.

Short title, extent, application, and Commencement.

(ii) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

(iii) This Section and Sections 2, 17, 18 and 20 shall come into force on.....and Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, direct that the other provisions of this Regulation, or any provision thereof specified in the notification, shall come into force on such date thereafter as Our Government may by notification appoint.

2. In this Regulation unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, —

(a) "Advocate" means an advocate entered in the roll of advocates under the provisions of this Regulation.

(b) "Advocate-General" means any Law Officer of Our Government or any advocate, declared by Our Government to be Advocate-General for the purposes of this Regulation.

(c) "Council" means the Travancore Bar Council constituted under the provisions of this Regulation.

(d) "High Court" means a Full Bench of the High Court.

(e) "Prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Regulation.

(f) "Tout" means a person (a) who procures, in consideration of any remuneration moving from any legal practitioner, the employment of the legal practitioner in any legal business, or who proposes to any legal practitioner or to any person interested in any legal business to procure, in consideration of any remuneration moving from either of them, the employment of the legal practitioner in such business; or (b) who for the purposes of such procurement frequents the precincts of Civil or Criminal Courts or of Revenue offices or railway stations, landing stages, lodging places or other places of public resort.

CONSTITUTION OF BAR COUNCIL.

3. (1) A Bar Council shall be constituted for Travancore in the manner hereinafter provided.

Constitution and incorporation of Bar Council.

(2) The Bar Council so constituted shall be a body corporate having perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire and hold property, both movable and immovable, and to contract, and shall by the name of the Taravancore Bar Council sue and be sued.

Composition of 4. (1) The Council shall consist of fifteen members of the Bar Council, whom—

(a) One shall be the Advocate-General;

(b) Four shall be persons nominated by the High Court, of whom not more than two may be judges of that Court; and

(c) Ten members shall be elected by the advocates from amongst their number.

(2) Of the elected members of the Council not less than five shall be persons who have, for not less than ten years, been entitled as of right to practise in the High Court.

(3) The Advocate-General shall be the Chairman of the Council and there shall also be a Vice-Chairman elected by the Council in such manner as may be prescribed:

Provided that Our Government may at any time direct that the Chairman also may be elected by the Council in such manner as may be prescribed.

5. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (c) of sub-section (1) of Section 4, the elected members of the first Council shall be elected by and from amongst those who are on the date of the election entitled as of right to practise in the High Court.

Special provisions regarding constitution of first Bar Council.

(2) The term of office of the nominated and elected members of the first Council shall be three years from the date of the first meeting of the Council.

6 (1) Rules, consistent with this Regulation, may be made to provide Power to make for the following matters, namely:—

rules regarding constitution and procedure of the Bar Council

(a) the manner in which elections of members of the Council shall be held; the method of determining, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 4, the candidate who shall be declared to have been elected; the manner in which the result of the elections shall be published; and the manner in which and the authority by which doubts and disputes as to the validity of an election shall be finally decided;

(b) the terms of office of nominated and elected members of the Council;

(c) the filling of casual vacancies in the Council;

(d) the convening of meetings of the Council, and the quorum necessary for the transaction of business thereat;

(e) the manner of election and the respective terms of office of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman; and

(f) any matter incidental or ancillary to any of the foregoing matters.

(2) The first rules under this Section shall be made by the High Court, but the Council may thereafter, with the previous sanction of the High Court, and to, amend or rescind any rules so made.

(3) No election of a member or members to the Council shall be called in question on the ground that due notice thereof has not been given to any person entitled to vote thereat, if notice of the date fixed for election has, not less than thirty days before that date, been published in Our Government Gazette.

(4) Rules made under clause (b) of sub-section (1) may provide for the retirement of members from office by rotation and for the manner in which the order of such retirement shall be determined.

7. The Council may make bye-laws, consistent with this Regulation and any rules made thereunder, to provide for any of the following matters, namely:—
 Power of Bar Council to make bye-laws.

(a) The appointment of such ministerial officers and servants as the Council may deem necessary, and the pay and allowances and other conditions of service of such officers and servants; and

(b) The appointment and constitution of Committees of the Council, the procedure of such Committees, and the determination of the powers or duties of the Council, which may be delegated to such Committees.

ADMISSION AND ENROLMENT OF ADVOCATES.

8. (1) No person shall be entitled as of right to practice in the High Court or in any of the Courts subordinate thereto unless his name is entered in the roll of advocates maintained under this Regulation:
 Enrolment of Advocates.

Provided that those who are enrolled before this section comes into force as Vakils of any Court subordinate to the High Court but are not eligible for enrolment as advocates shall be entitled to practise as Vakil so long as their enrolment remains in force:

Provided also that nothing in this Regulation shall be deemed to take away the power of a Criminal Court to permit any person to appear and plead in any Criminal case before that Court under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(2) The High Court shall prepare and maintain a roll of advocates in which shall be entered the names of—

(a) all persons who were entitled as of right to practise in the High Court immediately before the date on which this Regulation comes into force; and

(b) all other persons who are admitted as advocates under this Regulation:

Provided that such persons shall have paid in respect of enrolment the stamp duty, if any, chargeable under the Travancore Stamp Regulation and a fee payable to the Council, which shall be Rs. 10 in the case of persons referred to in clause (a), and in other cases such amount as may be prescribed from time to time by Our Government by notification in Our Government Gazette.

(3) The High Court shall issue a certificate of enrolment to every person enrolled under this Section.

(4) The High Court shall send to the Council a copy of the roll as prepared under the Section, and shall thereafter communicate to the Council all alterations in, and additions to, the roll as soon as the same have been made.

(5) The Council shall enter in the copy of the roll all alterations and additions so communicated to it.

Qualifications and admission of advocates. 9. (1) The Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court, make rules to regulate the admission of persons as advocates.

Provided that such rules shall not limit, or in any way affect, the powers of the High Court to refuse admission to any person at its discretion.

(2) in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules shall provide for the following matters, namely:—

(a) the qualification to be possessed by persons applying for admission as advocates;

(b) the form and the manner in which applications shall be made to the High Court for admission;

(c) the giving of notice by the High Court to the Council of all such applications;

(d) the hearing by the High Court of any objection preferred on behalf of the Council to the admission of any applicant; and

(e) the charging of fees payable to the Council in respect of enrolment.

(3) Such rules shall also provide for the first and second grade pleaders enrolled as Vakils of any Civil Court in Travancore before the first day of Chingom 1113 M. E. being qualified to apply for admission as advocates as the result of an examination held from time to time by or under the supervision of the Council.

MISCONDUCT.

Punishment of Advocate for misconduct. 10. (1) The High Court may, in the manner hereinafter provided, reprimand, suspend or remove from practice any advocate whom it finds guilty of professional or other misconduct.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint made to it by any Court or by the Council or by any other person that any advocate has been guilty of misconduct, the High Court shall, if it does not summarily reject the complaint, refer the case for enquiry either to the Council or, after consultation with the Council, to the Court of a District Judge (hereinafter referred to as the District Court) and may of its own motion so refer any case in which it has otherwise reason to believe that any advocate has been so guilty.

11. (1) Where any case is referred for enquiry to the Council under Tribunal of the Section 10, the case shall be enquired into by a Committee of the Council (hereinafter referred to as the Tribunal).

(2) The Tribunal shall consist of not less than three and not more than five members of the Council appointed for the purpose of the enquiry by the High Court and one of the members so appointed shall be appointed to be the President of the Tribunal.

12. (1) The High Court shall make rules to prescribe the procedure to be followed by the Tribunal and by District Courts respectively in the conduct of enquiries referred under Section 10.

(2) The finding of the Tribunal on an enquiry referred to the Council under Section 10 shall be forwarded to the High Court through the Council and the finding of a District Court on such an enquiry shall be forwarded direct to the High Court which shall cause a copy thereof to be sent to the Council.

(3) On receipt of the finding, the High Court shall fix a date for the hearing of the case and shall cause notice of the day so fixed to be given to the advocate concerned and to the Council and to the Advocate-General and shall afford the Advocate concerned and the Council and the Advocate-General an opportunity of being heard before orders are passed in the case.

(4) The High Court may thereafter either pass such final orders in the case as it thinks fit or refer it back for further enquiry to the Tribunal through the Council or to the District Court, as the case may be, and upon receipt of the finding after such further enquiry deal with the case in the manner provided in sub-section (3) and pass final orders thereon.

(5) In passing final orders, the High Court may pass such order as regards the payment of the costs of the enquiry and of the hearing in the High Court as it thinks fit.

(6) The High Court may, of its own motion or on application made to it in this behalf, review any order passed under sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) and maintain, vary or rescind the same as it thinks fit.

(7) When any advocate is reprimanded or suspended under this Regulation, a record of the punishment shall be entered against his name in the roll of advocates; and when an advocate is removed from practice, his name shall forthwith be struck off the roll; and the certificate of any advocate so suspended or removed shall be recalled.

18. (1) For the purposes of any such enquiry as aforesaid, the Tribunal or District Court shall have the same powers as are vested in a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1900, in respect of the following matters, namely :—

(a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath;

(b) compelling the production of documents; and

(c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses;

Provided that the Tribunal shall not have power to require the attendance of the presiding officer of any Court save with the previous sanction of the High Court.

(2) Every such enquiry shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of Sections 187 and 226 of the Travancore Penal Code and the Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for the purpose of Sections 359, 381 and 383 of the Code of Criminal Procedure."

(3) For the purpose of enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath or of compelling the production of documents or of issuing commissions, the Tribunal may send to any Civil Court any summons or other process for the attendance of a witness or the production of a document required by the Tribunal or any commission which it desires to issue, and the Civil Court shall serve such process or issue such commission as the case may be, and may enforce any such process as if it were a process for attendance or production before itself.

(4) In any such inquiry before a Tribunal or a District Court no witness shall be excused from answering any question as to any matter relevant to the matter in issue upon the ground that the answers to such questions will incriminate or may tend directly or indirectly to incriminate such witness or that it will expose, or tend directly or indirectly to expose, such witness to a penalty or forfeiture of any kind:

Provided that no such answer which a witness is compelled to give shall subject him to any arrest or prosecution or be proved against him in any criminal proceeding except a prosecution for giving false evidence by such answer.

MISCELLANEOUS.

14. (1) An advocate shall be entitled as of right, to practise —

(a) in the High Court and the Courts subordinate thereto; and
 (b) save as otherwise provided under any other law for the time being in force before any other tribunal or person legally authorised to take evidence; and

(c) before any other authority or person before whom such advocate is by or under the law for the time being in force, entitled to practise.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in this Regulation or the rules made thereunder any person, whether holding a permanent appointment or not under Government, who may be appointed under the orders of Government to be or to act as, or to be in charge of the office of, any Sirkar Vakil, shall, so long as he holds that office, be deemed to be an advocate.

Explanation.—The term "Sirkar Vakil" includes Head Sirkar Vakil, Additional Head Sirkar Vakil, and all classes of Sirkar Vakils.

15. The Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court make rules consistent with this Regulation to provide for and regulate any of the following matters, namely:—
 (a) the right and duties of the advocates and their discipline and professional conduct;

(b) The conditions subject to which advocates or practitioners of the High Courts or Chief Courts of other States or Provinces may be permitted to practise in the High Court and the Courts subordinate thereto;

(c) the giving of facilities for legal education and training and the holding and conduct of examinations by the Council;

(d) the charging of fees payable to the Council in respect of the enjoyment of educational facilities provided or of the right to appear at examinations held by the Council;

(e) the investment and management of the funds of the Council; and

(f) any other matter in respect of which the High Court may require rules to be made under this Section.

16. The High Court shall, after consulting the Council, make rules for fixing and regulating by taxation or otherwise,—

(a) the fees payable as costs by any party in respect of the fees of his adversary's advocate; and

(b) the fees payable to his own advocate in the High Court or in any Court subordinate thereto.

17. No suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the Council or any Committee, or Tribunal or member of the Council for any act in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of the provisions of this Regulation or any rules made thereunder.

18. All rules made under this Regulation shall be published in Our Government Gazette.

19. (1) The High Court, every District Judge, Sessions Judge and District Magistrate, each as regards their or his Court and the Courts, if any, subordinate thereto, may frame and publish lists of persons proved, to their or his satisfaction by evidence of general repute or otherwise, to act habitually as touts and may from time to time alter and amend such lists.

(2) No person's name shall be included in any such list until he shall have had an opportunity of showing cause against such inclusion.

(3) A copy of every such list shall be kept hung up in every Court to which the same relates.

(4) The Court or Judge may, by general or special order, exclude from the precincts of the Court any person whose name is included in any such list.

20. (1) When Sections 8 to 16 come into force, the enactments mentioned in first column of the Schedule shall be amended to the extent and in the manner specified in the second column of the Schedule.

(2) When this Regulation comes into force, any provision of any other enactment or any order, scheme, rule, form or bye-law made thereunder, which was before that date applicable to persons entitled to practise in the High Court shall, unless such a construction is repugnant to the context or to any provisions made by or under this Regulation, be construed as applying to the advocates enrolled under this Regulation.

Annexure VII.

MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF THE STANDING FINANCE COMMITTEE HELD ON THURSDAY, THE 18TH FEBRUARY 1937/7TH KUMBHAM 1112.

The second meeting of the Standing Finance Committee of the Sri Chitra State Council and the Sri Mulam Assembly was held at 12 Noon on Thursday, the 18th February 1937, in the Dewan's room, Public Offices, with Rao Bahadur Rajyasevanirata N. Kunjan Pillai, M. A., B. Sc., Ph. D., Chief Secretary to Government, in the Chair. The following members were present :

- (1) V. S. Arumukham Pillai Esq., B. A., B. L., Member, Sri Chitra State Council.
- (2) Pottayil S. Krishna Panikkar Esq., B. A., B. L., Member, Sri Mulam Assembly.
- (3) Pasode A. Narayana Pillai Esq., B. A., B. L., Member, Sri Mulam Assembly.
- (4) Rao Bahadur A. Rengasvami Aiyar, B. A., Financial Secretary to Government.
- (5) R. Nilakanta Pillai Esq., B. A., B. L., Account Officer.

Publication of Regulations and Proclamations.

1. The Committee took up for consideration the proposal to authorise Mr. M. Chockalingam Pillai, B. A., B. L., High Court Vakil, Travandrum, to publish the Regulations and Proclamations of Travancore which had been enacted since the publication in February 1935 of Vol. VII and the Supplement of the Regulations and Proclamations by the late Mr. R. Ramalingam Aiyar. The volume, which would be similar to the previous publications and consist of about 400 pages, was estimated to cost Bh. Rs. (4-8-0) four and annas eight, but the actual price would be settled only after seeing the book. The minimum number of copies required for distribution among the various departments was 620 and Government proposed to purchase 550 copies. A sum of Bh. Rs. 2,925 was required for the purpose.

The Committee accepted the proposal.

Government Mint.

2. The proposal to provide a sum of Rs. 2,05,000 under "Advances recoverable—Mint advances" for the minting of silver and copper coins of the following denominations was then considered :—

| Silver. | Face value in Sr. Rs. |
|----------------|------------------------------|
| Half rupee     | 1,00,000                     |
| Quarter rupee  | 50,000                       |
| One fanam      | 50,000                       |

|                  |          |
|------------------|----------|
| Copper.   |          |
| One chackram     | 1,00,000 |
| Half chackram    | 25,000   |
| Quarter chackram | 25,000   |
| One cash         | 25,000   |

The new coins would be of the same size and pattern as the existing ones, except that the words "Bala Ramesh Varma" are proposed to be substituted for "Rama Varma" and the figure "1112 for "1106" or 1107". Quotations had been obtained from the Birmingham Mint for manufacturing the silver coins at a cost of Rs. 98,900, and for supplying blank for the copper coins (to be pressed in the Trivandrum Mint) at a cost of Rs. 1,05,000. The total sum of Rs. 2,05,000 approximately had therefore to be paid to the Birmingham Mint towards the above cost. This was treated as an advance which would be recouped by adjustment when the coins were put into circulation. A net gain of about Rs. 1.70 lakhs, being the difference between the face value of the coins minted and the actual expenditure on account of the minting, is expected from the minting of coins now proposed.

Mr. Pacode A. Narayana Pillai suggested that the design on the present silver coins should be changed. The British Indian coins had an effigy of the King-Emperor and the Travancore coins also should have an effigy of His Highness the Maharaja. On one side should be the conch and on the other the effigy. This would in a way, be able to prevent counterfeiting.

Mr. Pottayil S. Krishna Panikkar also agreed to this view.

Mr. R. Nilakanta Pillai, Account Officer stated that the question had already been considered by the Government. If the effigy were to be struck, then either the conch or the English and Malayalam writings on the obverse side should be given up. After careful consideration, it was decided to continue the present design.

The Chairman remarked that the only method of putting a stop to counterfeiting was vigilant action on the part of the police.

The Committee agreed to the proposal.

3. The Committee next approved the proposal to provide a sum of Rs. 1,700 on account of the entertainment of a temporary staff and contingencies, for the Government Mint for the minting of copper coins to the face value of Rs. 1,75,000.

Excise staff of the Edava Railway Chowkey.

4. The question of the appointment of one fourth grade Petty Officer, one fourth grade peon and one fifth grade peon, for the chowkey recently opened at Veukulam (Edava) between Kappil and Varkala, was considered and the Committee agreed to the provision of a sum of Rs. 185 for the purpose for five months from the 1st Kumbham 1112.

Rewards to the Police.

5. The Committee next considered the proposal for granting rewards to certain police officers. Government had sanctioned, on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Police, good service entries to Messrs. V. Sivasankara Pillai and T. R. Raman Pillai, District Superintendents of Police, and a monetary reward of Rs. 25 each to Messrs. S. Bhagavathisubrahmanya Aiyar and E. Subrahmanya Pillai, Assistant Superintendents of Police, and Rs. 20 to Mr. M. Rajaraja Varma, Ag. Assistant Superintendent of Police, Rs. 125 to fourteen Inspectors, Rs. 105 to twenty-one Head constables and Rs. 300 to 300 constables, for doing good work at a number of festivities in Trivandrum, such as the Dusra, the festival in the Sri Padmanabhaswami temple, the Birthday celebrations of His Highness the Maharaja, and the celebrations connected with the Temple Entry Proclamation. The additional allotment thus required was Rs. 600.

Mr. Pottayil S. Krishna Panicker was of opinion that the grant of money rewards for doing normal duties in connection with festivals which occurred every year would set up a bad precedent for the future. The Police had to do heavy work at the time of His Excellency the Viceroy's visit, the Pallikettu ceremony, etc. But, even on such occasions, the Commissioner did not think it necessary to recommend the grant of money rewards.

Mr. Pacode A. Narayana Pillai said that these ordinary occasions recurred every year and the rewards were therefore likely to be repeated annually. Again, discrimination was shown in choosing only certain officers as recipients while every police officer had done work on these occasions.

The Chairman said that the Commissioner of Police chose a few people on the recommendation of his subordinate officers, as the rewards could be granted only to the most deserving of all ranks. This year there was a special reason. The Birthday celebrations and the celebrations connected with the Temple Entry Proclamation came together immediately after the other festivities. All these taxed the police very heavily. He said that the present rewards would not be made a precedent for the future.

The demand was passed.

Rent for the Ayurveda College and Pharmacy.

6. The Committee agreed to the provision of Rs. 3,200 for the payment of arrears of rent due for the Ayurveda College and Pharmacy from Mithunam 1109 to Mithunam 1111.

Additional accommodation in the General Hospital.

7. The Committee approved the proposal to allot a sum of Rs. 10,000 or constructing a fourth block in the General Hospital, Trivandrum, in order to provide additional accommodation to meet the growing needs of the institution.

Fee concessions in private schools.

8. The Committee accepted the proposal for the provision of a sum (Rs. 45,000 towards the payment of grants on account of fee concessions to backward and depressed class pupils in private schools which had fallen into arrears for the year 1111 M. E. for want of funds.

Prevention of malaria.

9. The continuance for six months from the 1st Dhanu 1112 of the hospitals and dispensaries opened in the Neyyattinkara and Neduman-gad taluks for combating the malaria epidemic was next considered. The Darbar Physician and the Director of Public Health had reported that malaria having become endemic in the above areas, it was necessary to continue the institutions for another six months. The allotment required for the staff and contingencies was Rs. 6,500. After discussion, the Committee agreed to the proposal.

Preparation of a catalogue of Oriental Manuscripts.

10. The provision of Rs. 2,200 for the appointment of staff, etc. for the preparation of a descriptive catalogue of the manuscripts in the Palace Grandhapura and in the Curator's Office, was considered by the Committee. This catalogue had to be ready before the Ninth Session of the All-India Oriental Conference, to be held in Trivandrum in December 1937, so that the delegates to the Conference might be aware of the manuscripts available in the State. The staff was to function for eight months from 1-8-1112 and the total grant required would come to Rs. 4,257. The grant now asked for is Rs. 2,200 for the remaining months of the year.

The Chairman explained that the question was considered by the Finance Committee which sat over the Budget for 1112 M. M. In the light of the remarks of the non-official members of the Committee, further proposals were called for from the Curator, and as a result Government now proposed to take up the preparation of this catalogue. At present, there was no index or catalogue of the manuscripts available in the Palace Grandapura or with the Curator. This catalogue would also be sold to the public. He observed that this matter would again have to be considered by the Finance Committee in connection with the Budget for 1113 as the present demand was only for the current year.

The Committee agreed to the provision of the sum of Rs. 2,200.

Revision of the State Manual.

11. The last item considered by the Committee related to the entertainment of staff for the Special Officer for the revision of the State Manual. The following allotment was approved by the Committee for the purpose :—

|                                                 |                 |
|-------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| 1 Manager on Rs. 75 per mensem for four months. |                 |
| 1 Stenographer on Rs. 30                        | do.             |
| 3 clerks on Rs. 25 each                         | do. do.         |
| 1 typist on Rs. 25                              | do. do.         |
| 5 peons on Rs. 9 each                           | do. do.         |
|                                                 | Total Rs. 2,000 |
| Contingencies for four months                   | „ 220           |
| Honorarium to expert assistants                 | „ 400           |

Mr. V. S. Arumukham Pillai expressed a fear that, since there was no Tamilian on the staff, there might not be any mention about Nanjinaid at all in the new State Manual.

The Chairman pointed out that Messrs. Sivaramakrishna Sastri and Venkatarama Sarma were Tamilians.

Mr. Pacode A. Narayana Pillai asked whether there was any time-limit for finishing the work.

The Chairman replied that the work was required to be finished in seven months and that three months had already elapsed. The Manual was expected to be ready before the Oriental Conference.

12. In pursuance of the undertaking given by the Dewan at the meeting of the Public Accounts Committee which considered the Audit and Appropriation Report for 1110, that a statement of the items of expenditure authorised by Government under Section 32 of Regulation II of 1108 would be placed before the Finance Committee, the Chairman announced that no item of expenditure was authorised by Government under Section 32 of Regulation II of 1108 since the last meeting of the Legislature.

The Committee adjourned sine die at 1 p. m.

THE TRAVANCORE BAR COUNCIL BILL.

(As passed by the Sri Mulam Assembly.)

A BILL TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF A BAR COUNCIL IN TRAVANCORE AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for the constitution and incorporation of a Bar Council in Travancore, to confer powers and impose duties on the Bar Council and to amend the Vakils Regulation, 1075 and the Travancore Stamp Regulation for certain purposes; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent, application, and Commencement.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Travancore Bar Council Regulation.

(2) It extends to the whole of Travancore.

(3) This Section and Sections 2, 17, 18 and 20 shall come into force on the 1st day of Chingom 1113 and Our Government may, by notification in Our Government Gazette, direct that the other provisions of this Regulation, or any provision thereof specified in the notification, shall come into force on such date thereafter as Our Government may by notification appoint.

2. In this Regulation unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, —

(a) "Advocate" means an advocate entered in the roll of advocates under the provisions of this Regulation.

(b) "Advocate-General" means any Law Officer of Our Government or any advocate, declared by Our Government to be Advocate-General for the purposes of this Regulation.

(c) "Council" means the Travancore Bar Council constituted under the provisions of this Regulation.

(d) "High Court" means a Full Bench of the High Court.

(e) "Prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Regulation.

(f) "Tout" means a person (a) who procures, in consideration of any remuneration moving from any legal practitioner, the employment of the legal practitioner in any legal business; or who proposes to any legal practitioner or to any person interested in any legal business to procure. In consideration of any remuneration moving from either of them, the employment of the legal practitioner in such business; or (b) who for the purposes of such procurement frequents the precincts of Civil or Criminal Courts or of Revenue Offices, or railway stations, landing stages, lodging places or other places of public resort.

CONSTITUTION OF BAR COUNCIL.

Constitution and incorporation of Bar Council.

3. (1) A Bar Council shall be constituted for Travancore in the manner hereinafter provided.

CLAUSE 5.

Substitute the following for Clause 5 :—

"All rights and interests which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance, or by inheritance to her husband or to his lineal successors, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her, without express permission to remarry, only a limited interest in such property, with no power of alienating the same, shall upon her remarriage cases and determine as if she had then died; and the next heirs of her deceased husband, or other persons entitled to the property on her death, shall thereupon succeed to the same."

The committee is of opinion that the widow should be divested of her rights in her deceased husband's property on her remarriage.

CLAUSE 6.

Substitute the following for Clause 6 :—

"On the remarriage of a Hindu widow, if neither the widow nor any other person has been expressly constituted by the will or testamentary disposition of the deceased husband the guardian of his children, the father or paternal grandfather or the mother or paternal grandmother of the deceased husband, or any male relative of the deceased husband, may petition the District Court having jurisdiction in the place where the deceased husband was domiciled at the time of his death for the appointment of some proper person to be guardian of the said children, and thereupon it shall be lawful for the said Court, if it shall think fit, to appoint such guardian, who when appointed shall be entitled to have the care and custody of the said children, or of any of them during their minority, in the place of their mother; and in making such appointment the Court shall be guided, so far as may be, by the laws and rules in force touching the guardianship of children who have neither father nor mother:

Provided that, when the said children have not property of their own sufficient for their support and proper education whilst minors, no such appointment shall be made otherwise than with the consent of the mother unless the proposed guardian shall have given security for the support and proper education of the children whilst minors."

The change is effected to bring the law into line with that in British India.

CLAUSE 7.

In Clause 7, line 1, add the word "two" between the words "the" and "preceding" and change the word "Section" into "Sections."

The Committee recommends that the Bill as settled by it be re-published. The Bill was published in the Government Gazette, dated the 1st December 1936.

(3) The High Court shall prepare and maintain a roll of advocates in which shall be entered the names of—

(a) all persons who were entitled as of right to practise in the High Court immediately before the date on which this Regulation comes into force; and

(b) all other persons who are admitted as advocates under this Regulation:

Provided that such persons shall have paid in respect of enrolment the stamp duty, if any, chargeable under the Travancore Stamp Regulation and a fee payable to the Council, which shall be Rs. 10 in the case of persons referred to in clause (a), and in other cases such amount as may be prescribed.

(3) The High Court shall issue a certificate of enrolment to every person enrolled under this Section.

(4) The High Court shall send to the Council a copy of the roll as prepared under the Section, and shall thereafter communicate to the Council all alterations in, and additions to, the roll as soon as the same have been made.

(5) The Council shall enter in the copy of the roll all alterations and additions so communicated to it.

Qualifications 9. (1) The Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court, make rules to regulate the admission of advocates, persons as advocates.

Provided that such rules shall not limit, or in any way affect, the powers of the High Court to refuse admission to any person at its discretion.

(2) in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules shall provide for the following matters, namely:—

(a) the qualification to be possessed by persons applying for admission as advocates;

(b) the form and the manner in which applications shall be made to the High Court for admission;

(c) the giving of notice by the High Court to the Council of all such applications;

(d) the hearing by the High Court of any objection preferred on behalf of the Council to the admission of any applicant; and

(e) the charging of fees payable to the Council in respect of enrolment.

(3) Such Rules shall, notwithstanding anything contained above in this Section, provide also for those second grade pleaders who are vakils of any District Munsiff's Court in Travancore on the 1st day of Chingam 1113 M. E. and continue to be such being qualified to apply for enrolment as vakils of any District Court as the result of an examination held from time to time (for which a fee may be charged) by or under the supervision of the Council and for the persons so qualified being enrolled as vakils of any district Court, and certificates of enrolment granted, by the High Court, on payment of the stamp duty, if any, chargeable under the Travancore Stamp Regulation: Provided that nothing in the rules shall limit or in any way affect the powers of the High Court to refuse enrolment to any person at its discretion.

MISCONDUCT.

10. (1) The High Court may, in the manner hereinafter provided, reprimand, suspend or remove from practice any advocate whom it finds guilty of professional or other misconduct.

Punishment of Advocate for misconduct.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint made to it by any Court or by the Council or by any other person that any advocate has been guilty of misconduct, the High Court shall, if it does not summarily reject the complaint, refer the case for enquiry either to the Council or, after consultation with the Council, to the Court of a District Judge (hereinafter referred to as the District Court) and may of its own motion so refer any case in which it has otherwise reason to believe that any advocate has been so guilty.

11. (1) Where any case is referred for enquiry to the Council under Tribunal of the Section 10, the case shall be enquired into by a Committee of the Council (hereinafter referred to as the Tribunal).

(2) The Tribunal shall consist of not less than three and not more than five members of the Council appointed for the purpose of the enquiry by the High Court and one of the members so appointed shall be appointed to be the President of the Tribunal.

12. (1) The High Court shall make rules to prescribe the procedure to be followed by the Tribunal and by District Courts respectively in the conduct of enquiries referred under Section 10.

(2) The finding of the Tribunal on an enquiry referred to the Council under Section 10 shall be forwarded to the High Court through the Council and the finding of a District Court on such an enquiry shall be forwarded direct to the High Court which shall cause a copy thereof to be sent to the Council.

(3) On receipt of the finding, the High Court shall fix a date for the hearing of the case and shall cause notice of the day so fixed to be given to the advocate concerned and to the Council and to the Advocate-General and shall afford the advocate concerned and the Council and the advocate general opportunity of being heard before orders are passed in the case.

(4) The High Court may thereafter either pass such final orders in the case as it thinks fit or refer it back for further enquiry to the Tribunal through the Council or to the District Court, as the case may be, and upon receipt of the finding after such further enquiry deal with the case in the manner provided in sub-section (3) and pass final orders thereon.

(5) In passing final orders, the High Court may pass such order as regards the payment of the costs of the enquiry and of the hearing in the High Court as it thinks fit.

(6) The High Court may, of its own motion or on application made to it in this behalf, review any order passed under sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) and maintain, vary or rescind the same as it thinks fit.

(7) When any advocate is reprimanded or suspended under this Regulation, a record of the punishment shall be entered against his name in the roll of advocates; and when an advocate is removed from practice, his name shall forthwith be struck off the roll; and the certificate of any advocate so suspended or removed shall be recalled.

13. (1) For the purposes of any such enquiry as aforesaid, the Tribunal or District Court shall have the same powers as are vested in a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1100, in respect of the following matters, namely:—

Powers of the Tribunal and Courts in enquiries.

(a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath;

(b) compelling the production of documents; and

(c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses;

Provided that the Tribunal shall not have power to require the attendance of the presiding officer of any Court save with the previous sanction of the High Court.

(2) Every such enquiry shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of Sections 187 and 226 of the Travancore Penal Code and the Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for the purpose of Sections 350, 381 and 383 of the Code of Criminal Procedure."

(3) For the purpose of enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath or of compelling the production of documents or of issuing commissions, the Tribunal may send to any Civil Court any summons or other process for the attendance of a witness or the production of a document required by the Tribunal or any commission which it desires to issue, and the Civil Court shall serve such process or issue such commission as the case may be, and may enforce any such process as if it were a process for attendance or production before itself.

(4) In any such inquiry before a Tribunal or a District Court no witness shall be excused from answering any question as to any matter relevant to the matter in issue upon the ground that the answers to such questions will incriminate or may tend directly or indirectly to incriminate such witness or that it will expose, or tend directly or indirectly to expose, such witness to a penalty or forfeiture of any kind:

Provided that no such answer which a witness is compelled to give shall subject him to any arrest or prosecution or be proved against him in any criminal proceeding except a prosecution for giving false evidence by such answer.

MISCELLANEOUS.

14. (1) An advocate shall be entitled as of right, to practise.—

(a) in the High Court and the Courts subordinate thereto; and

(b) save as otherwise provided under any other law for the time being in force before any other tribunal or person legally authorized to take evidence; and

(c) before any other authority or person before whom such advocate is by or under the law for the time being in force, entitled to practise.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE TRAVANCORE HINDU WIDOWS' RE- MARRIAGE BILL.

To

The President,
Sri Mulam Assembly,
Trivandrum.

Sir,

We, the undersigned, members of the Select Committee, appointed to consider the Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Bill, have considered its provisions clause by clause and beg to submit this our

REPORT.

CLAUSE 1.

In Clause 1, insert the following as sub-clause (iii) :—

"This Regulation shall apply to all marriage of Hindu widows contracted before the commencement of, and subsisting on the date of, this Regulation, or contracted on or after the commencement of this Regulation whether such marriages be allowed by custom or not."

The Committee is of opinion that widow marriages contracted before and subsisting at the time of the passing of this Bill should also be validated.

Renumber the existing sub-clause (iii) as sub-clause (iv).

CLAUSE 2.

In Clause 2, line 2, substitute the words "the issue of no" for the words "no issue of any" and delete the last portion of the Clause beginning with "provided that the parties."

CLAUSE 4.

Substitute the following for the first paragraph of Clause 4 :—

"A widow who has not completed her sixteenth year shall not remarry without the consent of her father, or, if she has no father, of her mother, or, if she has no mother, of her elder brother, or, failing also elder brothers, of her next male relative."

The Committee is of opinion that, in every case where the widow is under sixteen years of age, she ought to get the consent of her guardian before she remarries. The latter portion of the amendment only makes the provision clearer.

In lines 6 and 7 delete the words "or whose previous marriage has been consummated." This amendment is consequential on the amendment already made.

CLAUSE 5.

Substitute the following for Clause 5 :—

"All rights and interests which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance, or by inheritance to her husband or to his lineal successors, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her, without express permission to remarry, only a limited interest in such property, with no power of alienating the same, shall upon her remarriage cease and determine as if she had then died; and the next heirs of her deceased husband, or other persons entitled to the property on her death, shall thereupon succeed to the same."

The committee is of opinion that the widow should be divested of her rights in her deceased husband's property on her remarriage.

CLAUSE 6.

Substitute the following for Clause 6 :—

"On the remarriage of a Hindn widow, if neither the widow nor any other person has been expressly constituted by the will or testamentary disposition of the deceased husband the guardian of his children, the father or paternal grandfather or the mother or paternal grandmother of the deceased husband, or any male relative of the deceased husband, may petition the District Court having jurisdiction in the place where the deceased husband was domiciled at the time of his death for the appointment of some proper person to be guardian of the said children, and thereupon it shall be lawful for the said Court, if it shall think fit, to appoint such guardian, who when appointed shall be entitled to have the care and custody of the said children, or of any of them during their minority, in the place of their mother; and in making such appointment the Court shall be guided, so far as may be, by the laws and rules in force touching the guardianship of children who have neither father nor mother:

Provided that, when the said children have not property of their own sufficient for their support and proper education whilst minors, no such appointment shall be made otherwise than with the consent of the mother unless the proposed guardian shall have given security for the support and proper education of the children whilst minors."

The change is effected to bring the law into line with that in British India.

CLAUSE 7.

In Clause 7, line 1, add the word "two" between the words "the" and "preceding;" and change the word "Section" into "Sections."

The Committee recommends that the Bill as settled by it be republished. The Bill was published in the Government Gazette, dated the 1st December 1936.

THE TRAVANCORE HINDU WIDOW'S REMARRIAGE BILL.

(As revised by the Select Committee).

(The words in italics indicate the amendments suggested by the Select Committee).

A BILL TO REMOVE ALL LEGAL OBSTACLES TO THE MARRIAGE OF HINDU WIDOWS IN TRAVANCORE.

Preamble. Whereas the removal of all legal obstacles to the marriage of Hindu widows in the State will tend to the promotion of good morals and to the public welfare and whereas it is just to hold the offspring of such marriages as legitimate; It is enacted as follows —

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (i) This Regulation may be called The Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Regulation, 1110.

(ii) It shall extend to the whole of Travancore.

(iii) This Regulation shall apply to all marriages of Hindu widows contracted before the commencement of, and subsisting on the date of, this Regulation, or contracted on or after the commencement of this Regulation whether such marriages be allowed by custom or not.

(iv) It shall come into operation at once.

2. Notwithstanding any custom and any interpretation of Hindu Law to the contrary, no marriage contracted between Hindus shall be invalid, and the issue of no such marriage shall be illegitimate, by reason of the woman having been previously married or betrothed to any other person who has died at the time of such marriage.

Marriage of Hindu widows legalised.

8. Whatever words spoken, ceremonies performed or engagements made on the marriage of a Hindu female who has not been previously married, are sufficient to constitute a valid marriage, shall have the same effect if spoken, performed or made on the marriage of a Hindu widow; and no marriage shall be declared invalid on the ground that such words, ceremonies or engagements are inapplicable in the case of a widow.

Ceremonies constituting valid marriage to have the same effect on widow remarriage.

4. A widow who has not completed her sixteenth year shall not remarry without the consent of her father, or if she has no father, of her mother, or if she has no mother, of her elder brother, or failing also elder brothers, of her next male relative.

Consent to the remarriage of a widow who has not completed sixteenth year.

The consent of the guardian shall be presumed until the contrary is proved.

In the case of a widow who has completed her sixteenth year, her own consent shall be sufficient to constitute her remarriage lawful and valid.

5. All rights and interests which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance, or by inheritance to her husband or to his lineal successors, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her, without express permission to remarry, only a limited interest in such property, with no power of alienating the same, shall upon her remarriage cease and determine as if she had then died; and the next heirs of her deceased husband, or other persons entitled to the property on her death, shall thereupon succeed to the same.

Rights of widow to cease on her remarriage.

6. On the remarriage of a Hindu widow, if neither the widow nor any other person has been expressly constituted by the will or testamentary disposition of the deceased husband the guardian of his children, the father or paternal grandfather or the mother or paternal grandmother, of the deceased husband, or any male relative of the deceased husband, may petition the District Court having jurisdiction in the place where the deceased husband was domiciled at the time of his death for the appointment of some proper person to be guardian of the said children, and thereupon it shall be lawful for the said Court, if it shall think fit to appoint such guardian who when appointed shall be entitled to have the care and custody of the said children or of any of them during their minority in the place of their mother; and in making such appointment the Court shall be guided so far as may be by the laws and rules in force touching the guardianship of children who have neither father nor mother :

Guardianship of children of deceased husband on the remarriage of his widow

Provided that when the said children have not property of their own sufficient for their support and proper education whilst minors no such appointment shall be made otherwise than with the consent of the mother unless the proposed guardian shall have given security for the support and proper education of the children whilst minors.

7. Except as is provided in the two preceding Sections a widow shall not, by reason of her remarriage, forfeit any property or any right to which she would otherwise be entitled; and every widow who has remarried shall have the same rights of inheritance as she would have had, had such marriage been her first marriage.

Saving of rights of widows remarrying.

Annexure III.

THE TRAVANCORE HINDU WIDOWS REMARRIAGE BILL.

(As passed by the Sri Mulam Assembly.)

A BILL TO REMOVE ALL LEGAL OBSTACLES TO THE MARRIAGE OF HINDU WIDOWS IN TRAVANCORE.

Whereas the removal of all legal obstacles to the marriage of Hindu widows in the State will tend to the promotion of good morals and to the public welfare and whereas it is just to hold the offspring of such marriages as legitimate; it is enacted as follows:—

1. (i) This Regulation may be called The Travancore Hindu Widows' Remarriage Regulation.

Short title, extent and commencement.

(ii) It shall extend to the whole of Travancore.

(iii) This Regulation shall apply to all marriages of Hindu widows contracted before the commencement of, and subsisting on the date of this Regulation, or contracted on or after the commencement of this Regulation whether such marriages be allowed by custom or not.

(iv) It shall come into operation at once.

2. Notwithstanding any custom and any interpretation of Hindu Law to the contrary, no marriage contracted between Hindus shall be invalid, and the issue of no such marriage shall be illegitimate, by reason of the woman having been previously married or betrothed to any other person who was dead at the time of such marriage.

3. Whatever words spoken, ceremonies performed or engagements made on the marriage of a Hindu female who has not been previously married, are sufficient to constitute a valid marriage, shall have the same effect if spoken, performed or made on the marriage of a Hindu widow; and no marriage shall be declared invalid on the ground that such words, ceremonies or engagements are inapplicable in the case of a widow.

4. A widow who has not completed her sixteenth year shall not remarry without the consent of her father, or if she has no father, of her mother, or if she has no mother of her elder brother, or failing also elder brothers, of her next male relative.

The consent of the guardian shall be presumed until the contrary is proved.

In the case of a widow who has completed her sixteenth year, her own consent shall be sufficient to constitute her remarriage lawful and valid.

5. All rights and interests which any widow may have in her deceased husband's property by way of maintenance, or by inheritance to her husband or to his lineal successors, or by virtue of any will or testamentary disposition conferring upon her, without express permission to remarry, only a limited interest in such property with no power of alienating the same, shall upon her remarriage cease and determine as if she had then died; and the next heirs of her deceased husband, or other persons entitled to the property on her death, shall thereupon succeed to the same.

6. On the remarriage of a Hindn widow, if neither the widow nor any other person has been expressly constituted by the will or testamentary disposition of the deceased husband the guardian of his children, the father or paternal grandfather or the mother or paternal grandmother, of the deceased husband or any male relative of the deceased husband, may petition the District Court having jurisdiction in the place where the deceased husband was domiciled at the time of his death for the appointment of some proper person to be guardian of the said children, and thereupon it shall be lawful for the said Court, if it shall think fit, to appoint such guardian who when appointed shall be entitled to have the care and custody of the said children, or of any of them during their minority, in the place of their mother and in making such appointment the Court shall be guided so far as may be by the laws and rules in force touching the guardianship of children who have neither father nor mother.

Provided that, when the said children have not property of their own sufficient for their support and proper education whilst minors, no such appointment shall be made otherwise than with the consent of the mother unless the proposed guardian shall have given security for the support and proper education of the children whilst minors.

7. Except as is provided in the two preceding Section a widow shall not, by reason of her remarriage, forfeit any property or any right to which she would otherwise be entitled, and every widow who has remarried shall have the same rights of inheritance as she would have had, had such marriage been her first marriage.
